4 Becauſe of the manifolde fornication of the beautifull harlot, full of charmes, that ſelles nations by the meanes of her whoredome, and the people thrꝛough her charmynges.

5 ‖ Loe, I agaynſt thee, ſayth the Lorde of hoſtes, and wyll turne vp thy ſkirtes ouer thy face, and wyll ſhewe the Gentiles thy filth, and kyngdomes thy ſhame: ‖ Eſai.47.

6 And wyll caſt vpon thee abominable filth, and wyll bryng thee downe, and wyll make thee as vile as doung.

7 And it ſhall come to paſſe, that all that ſhal beholde thee, ſhal flee from thee, and ſhal ſay, Niniue is deſtroyed, and who is greeued therwith? from whence ſhal I ſeeke out comforters for thee?

8 Wylt thou count thee ſelf better then Alexandria the great, that was ſcituate among the riuers, compaſſed rounde about with water, whoſe fortreſſe was the ſea, and had her wal from the ſea?

9 Ethiopia & Egypt were thy ſtrength, and there was none ende of ayde: Phut and Lubim were thy helpers.

10 Notwithſtandyng, ſhe paſſed away, ſhe went into captiuitie, her chyldren alſo were daſhed in peeces in the toppe of all the ſtreetes: for her honourable men they caſt lottes, and all her great ſtates they chayned in fetters.

11 And thou alſo ſhalt be dronken with trouble, thou ſhalt be hid: thou alſo ſhalt ſeeke after ſtrength agaynſt thyne enimie. pr. enemie

12 Al thy ſtrong aydes are as figge trees with 13 Beholde, thy men are as barren women in the middeſt of thee, the gates of thy lande ſhalbe ſet wide open to thine enimies, fire hath deuoured thy barres.

14 Drawe thee water for the ſiege, ſtrengthen thy fortes, goe into the clay, treade the mortar, make ſtrong the bricke woorke.

15 There the fire ſhal deuoure thee, the ſwoorde ſhal cut thee of, it ſhall deuoure as the locuſt, though thou be multiplied as the locuſt, and though thou be as many as the graſſehopper.

16 Thou haſt encreaſed thy marchants as the ſtarres of heauen, the locuſt ſpoyleth and fleeth away.

17 Thy princes are as graſſehoppers, & thy rulers as great locuſtes, they ſwarme in hedges in colde weather, the ſunne aryſeth, and they flee, and the place where they were is not knowen.

18 Thy ſhepheardes, O kyng of Aſſur, ſlumber, thy noble men ſhal dwel in death, thy people is ſcattered vpon the mountaines, and there is none to gather them togeather.

19 Thy wounde ſhal not be healed, thy plague is great, all that heare of thee, clap their handes: for vpon whom hath not thy euyl dealing paſſed continually?

The ende of the propheſie of Nahum.

¶ The fyrſt Chapter.

A complaynt againſt the wycked that perſecute the iuſt.

THE a burden which Habacuc the prophete did ſee.

2 O Lorde, howe long ſhall I crye, and thou wylt not heare? euen crye out vnto thee for violence, and thou wylt not helpe?

3 Why doeſt thou ſhewe me iniquitie, and cauſe me to beholde ſorowe? for ſpoyling and violence are before me, and there are that raiſe vp ſtrife and contention.

4 Therefore the lawe is "diſſolued, and iudgement doeth neuer goe forth: for the wicked doeth compaſſe about the righteous, therefore wrong iudgement proceedeth.

5 ||Beholde among the heathen, and regarde and woonder, and marueyle: for I wyl woorke a woorke in your dayes, ye wyll not beleeue it, though it be tolde you.

6 For loe, I raiſe vp the Chaldeans, that bytter and furious nation, whiche ſhall "goe vppon the breadth of the lande, to poſſeſſe the dwelling places that are not theyrs.

7 They are terrible and fearefull: b their iudgement and theyr dignitie ſhall proceede of them ſelues.

8 Their horſes alſo are ſwifter then the Leopardes, and are more fierce then the woolues in the euening, and theyr horſemen are many, and ſhal come from farre: they ſhal flee as the Egle haſting to meate.

9 They came al to ſpoyle: before theyr faces ſhalbe c an Eaſt wynde, and they ſhal gather the captiuitie as the ſande.

10 And they ſhal mocke the kynges, and the princes ſhalbe a ſcorne vnto them: they ſhal deride euery ſtrong holde, for they ſhall gather d duſt, and take it.

11 Then ſhall they *take a courage, and tranſgreſſe, and doo wyckedly, impuyng this theyr power vnto their God.

12 Art not thou of olde, O Lorde my God, my holy one? we ſhal not dye, O Lorde, thou haſt ordeyned them for iudgement, and O God, thou haſt eſtabliſhed them for correction.

13 Thou art of pure eyes, and canſt not ſee euyl, thou canſt not beholde wyckednes: wherefore then doeſt thou looke vppon the tranſgreſſours, and holdeſt thy tongue, when the wycked deuoured the man that is more righteous then he,

14 And makeſt men as the e fiſhe of the ſea, and as the creeping thinges that haue no rule ouer them?

15 They take vp al with the angle, they catche it in their net, and gather it in theyr parne: whereof they reioyce, and are glad.

16 Therefore they ſacrifice vnto theyr f net, and burne incenſe vnto their parne: becauſe because by them their portion is fatte, and their meate "plenteous.

17 Shal they therefore "stretche out theyr net, and not spare continually to slay the g nations?

¶ The.ii. Chapter.

A vision against pryde, couetousnesse, drunkennesse, and idolatrie.

I Wyl stande vpon my watche, and set me vpon the towre, and wyll looke and see what he wyl say vnto me, and what I shal answeare to "hym that rebuketh me.

2 And the Lorde answeared me, & sayd, Write the vision, and make it playne vpon tables, that he may runne that a readeth it.

3 For the vision is yet for an appoynted tyme, but at the last it shal speake, and not lye: though it tarie, wayte: for it shal surely come, and shal not stay.

4 Beholde b he that lyfteth "vp hym selfe, his mynde is not vpright in him: but the iust shal lyue by his fayth.

5 Yea, in deede the proude man is as he that transgresseth by wine, therefore shal he "not endure, because he hath enlarged his desyre as the hel, and is as deathy, and can not be satisfied, but geathereth vnto hym all nations, and heapeth vnto hym al people.

6 Shal not al these take vp a parable against hym? and a "taunting prouerbe against hym, and say, Woe to him that encreaseth that which is not his? Howe long? and he that ladeth him selfe with thicke clay.

7 Shal they not rise vp sodaynely that shal byte thee? and awake, that shall skyrre thee? and thou shalt be "their pray?

8 Because thou hast spoyled many nations, all the remnant of the people shal spoyle thee, because of mens blood, and for the wrong done in the lande, in the citie, and vnto al that dwel therein.

9 "Woe to him that coueteth an euyl couetousnesse to his house, that he may set his neast on hygh, to escape from the power of "euyl.

10 Thou hast consulted shame to thine owne house, by destroying many people, and hast sinned against thine owne soule.

11 For the stone shall crye out of the wal, and the beame out of the timber shal answeare it.

12 c Woe vnto him that buyldeth a towne with blood, and "erecteth a citie by iniquitie.

13 Beholde, is it not of the Lorde of hostes, that the people shal "labour in the very d fire? the people shal euen weery themselues for very vanitie.

14 For the earth e shalbe filled with the knowledge of the glory of the Lorde, as the waters couer the sea.

15 Woe vnto him that geueth his neighbour drynke, thou ioynest thy "rage, and makest him drunken also, that thou mayest see their priuities.

16 Thou art fylled with shame for glorie, drinke thou also, "and be made naked: the cup of the Lordes right hande shalbe turned vnto thee, and shameful spuing shalbe for thy glory.

17 For the crueltie of f Libanus shall couer thee: so shall the spoyle of the beastes "which hy made afrayde, because of mens blood, and for the wrong done in the lande, in the citie, and vnto all that dwel therein.

18 What profiteth the image? for the maker thereof hath made it an image and a teacher of lyes, though he that made it, trust therein, when he maketh dumbe idols.

19 Woe vnto him that sayth to the wood, Awake: and to the dumbe stone, Rise vp, "it shal teache thee: beholde, it is layde ouer with golde and siluer, and there is no breath in it.

20 ‖ But the Lorde is in his holy temple: let al the earth keepe silence before him.

Here endeth the propheſie of Sophonia.

The booke of the Prophete Aggeus.

¶ The firſt Chapter.

1. The tyme of the propheſie of Aggeus. 8. An exhortation to buylde the temple agayne.

IN the ſeconde yeere of king Darius, in the ſixth moneth, the fyrſt day of ỹ moneth, came the woord of the Lorde by the miniſterie of the prophete Aggeus a vnto Zorobabel b the ſonne of Salathiel a prince of Iuda, & to Ioſua the ſonne of Ioledech the high prieſt, ſaying,

2 Thus ſpeaketh the Lorde of hoſtes, ſaying, This people ſayth, c The time is not yet come for the Lordes houſe to be buylded.

3 Then came the woorde of the Lorde by the miniſterie of the prophete Aggeus, ſaying, 4 Is it time for you your ſelues to dwel in ſeeled houſes, and this houſe lye waſte?

5 Nowe thus ſayth the Lord of hoſtes, Conſyder your owne waies in your hartes.

6 Ye haue d ſowen much, but ye bring litle in: ye eate, but ye haue not enough: ye drinke, but ye are not filled: ye clothe you, but ye be not warme: and he that earneth wages, putteth the wages into a broken bagge.

7 Thus ſayth the Lorde of hoſtes, Conſyder your owne waies in your hartes.

8 Get you vp vnto ỹ mountaine, & fetche wood, and buylde this houſe, and I will take pleaſure in it, and I wil be glorified, ſaith the Lorde.

9 Ye looked for muche, and loe it came to litle, and when ye brought it home, I dyd blowe vpon it: and why, ſaith the Lorde of hoſtes? becauſe of my houſe that is waſte, and you runne euery man into his owne houſe.

10 Therefore vppon you the heauen is ſtayed from deawe, and the earth is ſtayed from yeelding her encreaſe.

11 And I haue called for a drought vpon the lande, and vppon the mountaines, and vpon the corne, and vpon the wine, and vpon the oyle, and vpon all that the grounde bringeth foorth, vpon men, and vpon cattell, and vpon al the labour of the handes.

12 When Zorobabel the ſonne of Salathiel, and Ioſua the ſonne of Ioledech the high prieſt, with al the e remnant of the people, hearde the voyce of the Lorde their God, and the f woordes of the prophete Aggeus, as the Lord their God had ſent him, then the people did feare before the Lorde.

13 Then Aggeus the Lordes meſſenger ſaide in the lordes meſſage vnto the people, ſaying, I am with you, ſaith the Lorde.

14 And the Lorde ſtirred vp the ſpirite of Zorobabel the ſonne of Salathiel, a prince of Iuda, and the ſpirite of Ioſua the ſonne of Ioledech the high prieſt, and the ſpirite of al the people: and they came and did the woorke in the houſe of the Lorde of hoſtes their God.

a. Though the people tranſgreſſe: yet the prophete is ſent to ỹ prince and prieſt, whoſe negligence oftentimes is ỹ cauſe of the peoples ſinne.

b. Zorobabel was the ſonne of Phadaia, as 1. Chro. 3. 18. his fathers name is left out, and his grandfathers name ſupplied, becauſe it was not ſo obſcure as was the other.

c. And yet there were nowe ſeuentiene yeeres paſt ſince Cyrus had graunted them libertie to build.

d. God is the giuer of encreaſe, neyther may any thyng proſper without his bleſſing.

c. For ỹ great part tarried in Babylon, and would not take the libertie which Cyrus had geuen them.

f. Here is no difference made betweene the woorde of the prophete and the woorde of God, ſo that the prophete muſt ſpeake, and the people ſo heare them, as the woordes of God.

¶ The.ii. Chapter.

He ſheweth that the glory of the latter temple ſhall exceede the fyrſt.

IN the a twentie and fourth day of the ſixth moneth, in the ſeconde yeere of king Darius,

2 In the b ſeuenth moneth, in the twentie and one day of the moneth, came the woord of the Lorde by the miniſterie of the prophet Aggeus, ſaying,

3 Say nowe to Zorobabel the ſonne of Salathiel prince of Iuda, and to Ioſua the ſonne of Ioledech the high prieſt, and to the reſt of the people, ſaying,

4 Who is among you left, whiche ſawe this houſe in her firſt glory, and howe doo ye ſee it nowe? Is it not in your eyes in compariſon of it as nothing?

5 Yet nowe be of good cheare, O Zorobabel, ſaith the Lord, and be of good comfort, O Ioſua thou high prieſt ſonne of Ioledech, and be ſtrong al ye people of the lande, ſayth the Lorde, and woorke: for I am with you, ſayth the Lorde of hoſtes, 6 According to the c woorde that I couenaunted with you, when ye came out of Egypt: and my d ſpirite ſhal remaine with you, feare ye not.

a. They had ſtayed three weekes and three dayes to heare the prophete, & to prepare their tooles for the woorke, ſo diligent were they after the preaching of the prophete.

9 The syluer is myne, and the golde is mine, sayth the Lorde of hostes.

10 The glory of the latter house, shalbe greater then the glory of the fyrst, sayth the Lord of hostes: and in this place wyl I geue peace, sayth the Lorde of hostes.

11 In the twentie and fourth day of the nienth moneth, in the seconde yeere of kyng Darius, came the woorde of the Lorde vnto the prophete Aggeus, saying,

12 Thus sayth the Lorde GOD of hostes, Aske nowe ye priestes concernyng the lawe, saying, 13 If one beare holy flesshe in the skirt of his coate, and with his skirt doo touch the bread, potage, wine, oyle, or any other meate, shal it be holy? And the priestes answeared, and sayde, No.

14 And Aggeus sayde, If a polluted person touche any of these, shal he not be polluted? And the priestes answeared, and sayd, He shalbe polluted.

15 Then Aggeus answeared, and sayd, So is this people, and so is this nation before me, sayth the Lorde, and so is al the woorke of their handes: and that which they offer there is vncleane.

16 And nowe consyder, I pray you, in your myndes, from this day and vpwarde, before there was layde one stone vppon another in the house of the Lorde, 18 I smote you with blasting and with mildeawe, and with hayle, in al the woorke of your handes, and you turned not vnto me, sayth the Lorde.

19 Consyder nowe in your mindes from this day, and afore, from the foure and twentieth day of the nienth moneth, euen from the day that the fundation of the Lordes temple was layde, consyder it in your myndes:

20 Is the seede yet in the barnes, as yet the vines, and the fygge tree, and the pomegranate, and the olyue tree hath not brought foorth? from this day wyl I blesse you.

21 And f agayne the woorde of the Lord came vnto Aggei in the foure and twentieth day of the moneth, saying,

The ende of the prophesie of Aggeus.

The booke of the prophete Zacharias.

¶ The first Chapter.

1. He mooueth the people to returne to the Lorde, and eschewe the wyckednesse of their fathers. 36. He prefigureth Christe and his Apostles.

IN the eyght moneth of the second yeere of king Darius, came þ woorde of the Lorde vnto Zacharias the sonne of Barachias the sonne of Addo the prophete, saying,

2 The Lorde hath ben sore displeased with your forefathers.

3 And say thou vnto them, thus sayth the Lorde of hostes, ||Turne you vnto me, sayth the Lorde of hostes, and I wyl turne vnto you, sayth the Lorde of hostes. ||Mala. 3. 7.

4 Be ye not lyke your forefathers, vnto whom the prophetes cryed, saying, ||Thus sayth the Lorde of hostes, Turne you from your euyl wayes, & from your wicked imaginations: but they wolde not heare nor regarde me, sayth the Lorde. ||Esai. 21. 8. Iere. 3. 12. Ezec. 14. 2. Joel. 2. 12.

5 What is nowe become of your forefathers? and doo the prophetes lyue for euer?

6 But did not my woꝛdes and ſtatutes which I commaunded by my ſeruantes the pꝛophetes take holde of youꝛ foꝛefathers? and they returned, and ſayde, Like as the Lꝛd of hoſtes determined to doo vnto vs accoꝛding to our owne wayes and imaginations, euen ſo hath he dealt with vs.

7 Vppon the twentie and fourth day of the eleuenth moneth (whiche is the moneth Sebah) in the ſeconde yeere of Darius, came the woꝛde of the Lꝛde vnto Zacharias the ſonne of Barachias the ſonne of Addo the pꝛophete, ſaying,

8 I ſawe by night, and beholde, there ſate one vpon a red hoꝛſe, and ſtoode ſtyll among the Myꝛte trees that were in a bottome: and behinde him were there red, ſpeckled, and white hoꝛſes.

9 Then ſayde I, O my Lꝛde, what are theſe? And the angel that talked with me, ſayde vnto me, I wyl ſhewe thee what theſe be.

10 And the man that ſtoode among the Myꝛte trees anſwered, and ſayde, Theſe are they whom the Lꝛde hath ſent to goe thoꝛowe the woꝛlde.

11 And they anſweared the angel of the Lꝛde that ſtoode among the Myꝛte trees, and ſayd, We haue gone thꝛough the woꝛld, and beholde, all the woꝛlde ſitteth ſtyl, and is careleſſe.

12 Then the Lꝛdes angel gaue anſweare, and ſayde, O Lꝛde of hoſtes, howe long wylt thou be mercifull vnto Hieruſalem, & to the cities of Iuda, with whom thou haſt ben diſpleaſed nowe theſe threeſcoꝛe and ten yeeres?

13 So the Lꝛde gaue a louing and a comfoꝛtable anſweare vnto the angel that talked with me.

14 And the angel that communed with me, ſayde vnto me, || Cꝛye thou, and ſpeake, Thus ſayth the Lꝛde of hoſtes, I am exceeding ielous ouer Hieruſalem and Sion,

15 And ſoꝛe diſpleaſed at the careleſſe heathen: foꝛ where as I was but a litle angrie, they helped foꝛwarde the affliction.

16 Theꝛefoꝛe thus ſayth the Lꝛde, I wyl returne vnto Hieruſalem in tender mercie, ſo that my houſe ſhalbe buylded in it, ſayth the Lꝛde of hoſtes: yea and the a line ſhalbe ſtretched vpon Hieruſalem.

a. Suche as Maſons and Carpenters vſe in buyldyng.

17 Cꝛye alſo and ſpeake, thus ſayth the Lꝛde of hoſtes, My cities thꝛough pꝛoſpeꝛitie ſhalbe ſpꝛead abꝛode, the Lꝛde ſhal yet comfoꝛt Sion, and chooſe Hieruſalem.

18 Then lyft I vp mine eyes and ſawe, and beholde foure hoꝛnes.

19 And I ſayde vnto the angel that talked with me, What be theſe? He anſweared me, Theſe are the hoꝛnes which haue ſcattered Iuda, Iſrael, and Hieruſalem.

20 And the Lꝛde ſhewed me foure caꝛpenters.

21 Then ſayd I, What wyl theſe doo? He anſwered, and ſayd, Theſe are the hoꝛnes which haue ſcattered Iuda, ſo that no man dꝛeſt lyft vp his head: but theſe are come to fꝛaye them away, and to caſt out the hoꝛnes of the Gentiles whiche lyft vp theyꝛ hoꝛne ouer the lande of Iuda, to ſcatter it abꝛode.

¶ The. ii. Chapter.

The renewyng of Hieruſalem and Iuda.

I Lyft vp mine eyes agayne and looked: and beholde a man, with a meaſure line in his hande.

2 Then ſayde I, Whyther goeſt thou? And he ſayde vnto me, To meaſure Hieruſalem, that I may ſee howe long and howe bꝛode it is.

3 And beholde the angel that talked with me, went his way foꝛth: then went there out another angel to meete hym,

4 And ſayde vnto hym, Runne, ſpeake to this young man, and ſay, Hieruſalem ſhal be inhabited without any wall, foꝛ the very multitude of people and cattel that ſhall be therein.

5 Foꝛ I mee ſelfe, ſayth the Lꝛde, wyl be vnto her a wall of fyꝛe rounde about, and wyl be the gloꝛy in the middeſt of her.

6 O geat you foꝛth, O flee fꝛom the lande of the Noꝛth, ſayth the Lꝛde: foꝛ I haue ſcattered you into the foure wyndes of the heauen, ſayth the Lꝛde.

7 Saue thee ſelfe, O Sion, thou that dwelleſt with the daughter of Babylon:

8 Foꝛ thus ſayth the Lꝛde of hoſtes, After this gloꝛy hath he ſent me out to the heathen whiche ſpoyled you: foꝛ who ſo toucheth you, ſhal touche the apple of his owne eye.

9 Beholde, I wyl lyft vp myne hande ouer them, ſo that they ſhalbe ſpoyled of thoſe whiche afoꝛe ſeꝛued them: and ye ſhall knowe that the Lꝛd of hoſtes hath ſent me.

10 Be glad and reioyce, O daugher Sion: foꝛ loe I am come to dwel in the middeſt of thee, ſayth the Lꝛde.

11 At the ſame tyme there ſhall many heathen cleaue to the Lꝛde, and ſhalbe my people: thus wyl I dwel in the middeſt of thee, and thou ſhalt knowe that the Lꝛde of hoſtes hath ſent me vnto thee.

12 The Lꝛd ſhal haue Iuda in poſſeſſion foꝛ his part in the holy lande, and ſhall chooſe

AND he ſhewed me Ioſua the high prieſt ſtanding before the angel of the Lorde, and Satan ſtoode at his right hande to reſiſt him.

2 And the Lord ſaide vnto Satan, The Lorde rebuke thee thou Satan, yea the Lord that hath chosen Hierusalem rebuke thee: is not this a brand taken out of the fyre?

3 Nowe Ioſua was clothed in vncleane rayment, and ſtoode before the angel.

4 And he answered and ſaid vnto thoſe that ſtoode before him, Take away the foule clothes from him. And vnto him he ſaid, Behold, I haue taken away thy ſinne from thee, and I wyll clothe thee with change of rayment.

5 And I ſaide, Let them ſet a faire miter vpon his head. So they ſet a faire miter vpon his head, and put on clothes vpon him, and the angel of the Lorde ſtoode there.

6 Then the angel of the Lorde teſtified

10 In that day ſhall euery man call his neighbour vnder the vine, & vnder the figge tree, ſayth the Lorde of hoſtes.

¶ The.iiii. Chapter.

The viſion of the golden candelſticke, and the expoſition thereof.

AND the angel that talked with me came againe, and waked me, as a man that is raiſed out of his ſleepe,

2 And ſaide vnto me, what ſeeſt thou? And I ſaide, I haue looked, and behold a candelſticke all of golde, with a bowle vpon it, and his ſeuen lampes therein, and vpon euery lampe ſeuen pipes.

3 And two Oliue trees therby: one vpon the right ſide of the bowle, and the other vpon the left ſide.

4 So I answeared and ſpake to the angel that talked with me, ſaying, O my Lord, what are theſe?

5 The angel that talked with me answeared and ſaide vnto me, Knoweſt thou not what theſe be? And I ſaide, No my Lorde.

6 He answeared and ſaid vnto me, This is the woorde of the Lorde vnto Zorobabel, ſaying, Neither through an hoſt of men, nor through ſtrength: but through my ſpirite, ſaith the Lorde of hoſtes.

7 What art thou great mountaine before Zorobabel? thou muſt be made euen, and he ſhal bring forth the head ſtone thereof, with shoutinges, crying, Grace, grace vnto it.

8 Moreouer, the woorde of the Lorde came vnto me, ſaying,

9 The handes of Zorobabel haue layde the fundation of this houſe, his handes ſhall alſo finiſhe it: and thou ſhalt knowe that the Lorde of hoſtes hath ſent me vnto you:

10 For who hath deſpiſed the day of ſmal thinges? they ſhal reioyce, and ſhall ſee the ſtone of a tynne in the hande of Zorobabel: a. A plummet of tynne, as now men vſe plummets of lead.
theſe ſeuen are the eyes of the Lorde, whiche goe through the whole worlde.

11 Then answeared I, and ſaide vnto him, What are theſe two Oliue trees vppon the right and left ſide of the candelſticke?

12 I ſpake moreouer, and ſaid vnto him, What be theſe two Oliue branches whiche through the two golden pipes emptie them ſelues into the golde?

13 He answeared me, and ſaide, Knoweſt thou not what theſe be? and I ſayde, No my Lorde.

14 Then ſaide he, Theſe are the two Oliue branches, that ſtand with the ruler of the whole earth.

SO I turned me, lifting vp mine eyes, and looked, and behold a fleeing booke.

2 And he ſaide vnto me, What ſeeſt thou? I answeared, I ſee a fleeing booke of twentie cubites long, and ten cubites bꝛode.

3 Then ſaide he vnto me, This is the curſe that goeth fooꝛth ouer the whole earth: foꝛ all theeues ſhalbe " iudged after this booke, and al periured perſons ſhalbe iudged accoꝛding to the ſame.

4 And I wyll bꝛing it fooꝛth, ſaith the Loꝛde of hoſtes, ſo that it ſhall enter into the houſe of the theefe, and into the houſe of hym that falſly ſweareth by my name, and ſhal remayne in the middeſt of his houſe, and conſume it, with the timber and ſtones thereof.

5 Then the angel that talked with me, went fooꝛth, and ſaide vnto me, Lift vp thine eyes, and ſee what is this that goeth fooꝛth.

6 And I ſayd, What is it? He anſwered, This is a " meaſure going out. He ſayde moꝛeouer, Euen thus are they that dwel vpon the whole earth to looke vpon.

7 And behold there was lift vp a talent of lead: and loe, a woman ſate in the middeſt of the " meaſure.

8 And he ſayde, This is vngodlineſſe: ſo he caſt her into the middeſt of the " meaſure, and thꝛewe the lumpe of lead into the mouth of the " meaſure.

9 Then lift I vp mine eyes, and looked, and beholde there came out two women, and the winde was in their winges: foꝛ they had winges like the wynges of a Stoꝛke, and they lift vp the " meaſure betwixt the earth and the heauen.

10 Then ſpake I to the angel that talked with me, Whyther wyl theſe beare the meaſure?

11 And he ſaide vnto me, Into the land of Sinnaar to builde it an houſe, and it ſhalbe eſtabliſhed, and ſet there vppon her owne place.

¶ The. vi. Chapter.

1. By the foure charrets he deſcribeth the proſperitie of foure kingdomes.

MOꝛeouer I turned me, lifting vp mine eyes, & looked, and behold there came foure charrets out from betwixt two hilles, which hilles were of bꝛaſſe.

2 In the firſt charret were red hoꝛſes, in the ſeconde charret were blacke hoꝛſes,

3 In the thirde charret were white hoꝛſes, in the fourth charret were hoꝛſes of diuers colours, and ſtrong.

4 Then ſpake I, and ſaide vnto the angel that talked with me, O my loꝛd, What are theſe?

5 The angel anſweared and ſaide vnto me, Theſe are the foure ſpirites of the heauen, which he come fooꝛth to ſtand beſoꝛe the ruler of all the earth.

6 That with the blacke hoꝛſe went fooꝛth into the land of the Noꝛth, and the white followed them, and the ſpeckled hoꝛſes went fooꝛth toward the South.

7 And the " ſtrong hoꝛſes went out, and " required to goe and take their iourney ouer the whole earth: and he ſaide, Geat you hence, and goe thꝛough the woꝛlde: ſo they went thꝛoughout the woꝛlde.

8 Then cryed he vpon me, and ſpake vnto me, ſaying, Beholde, theſe that goe towarde the Noꝛth, ſhal ſtil my wꝛath in the Noꝛth countrey.

9 And the woꝛde of the Loꝛd came vnto me, ſaying,

10 Take of the pꝛiſoners that are come from captiuitie, namely, Heldai, Tobiah, and Idaia, whiche came from Babylon: and come thou the ſame day, and goe vnto the houſe of Joſiah the ſonne of Sophonia.

11 Then take golde and ſiluer, & make cꝛownes thereof, and ſet them vpon the head of Joſua the ſonne of Joſedech the high pꝛieſt,

12 And ſpeake vnto him, Thus ſayth the Loꝛde of hoſtes, || Behold the man whoſe name is the bꝛanche, and he ſhall gꝛowe vp out of his place, and he ſhal builde vp the temple of the Loꝛde.

13 Yea euen he ſhall builde vp the temple of the Loꝛde, and he ſhal beare the pꝛaiſe: he ſhal ſit vpon " the Loꝛdes thꝛone, & haue the dominion: a pꝛieſt ſhal he be alſo vppon his thꝛone, and a peaceable counſel ſhalbe betwixt them both.

14 And the cꝛowne ſhalbe to Helem, and to Tobiah, and to Idaia, and to Hen the ſonne of Zophoni, foꝛ a memoꝛial in the temple of the Loꝛde.

15 And ſuche as be farre of ſhall come and build in the temple of the Loꝛde, that ye may knowe howe that the Loꝛde of hoſtes hath ſent me vnto you: and this ſhall come to paſſe, yf ye wyll hearken diligently vnto the voyce of the Loꝛde your God.

5. The true faſting. 11. The rebellion of the people, is the cauſe of their affliction.

AND the fourth yeere of king Darius, the woꝛde of the Loꝛde came vnto Zacharia in the fourth day of the nienth moneth, which is called Caſleu,

2 What time as Saraſar and Rogommelech, and the men that were with them, ſent vnto the houſe of God foꝛ to pꝛay beſoꝛe the Loꝛde:

3 And that they ſhoulde ſpeake vnto the pꝛieſtes which were in the houſe of the Loꝛd of hoſtes, and to the Pꝛophetes, ſaying,

" Oꝛ, his.

Shoulde I weepe in the fifth moneth, and abstayne as I haue done nowe these so many yeeres?

4 Then came the woorde of the Lorde of hostes vnto me, saying,

5 Speake vnto all the people of the lande, and to the priestes, and say, || When ye fasted and mourned in the fifth and seuenth moneth nowe this threescore and ten yeeres, dyd ye fast vnto me? || Isai.58.5.

6 When ye did also eate & drinke, did ye not eate and drynke for your owne selues?

7 Are not these the woordes whiche the Lorde spake by his Prophetes aforetyme, when Hierusalem was yet inhabited and wealthie, she and the cities rounde about her, when there dwelt men both towarde the south and in the playne countreys?

8 And the woorde of the Lorde came vnto Zacharie, saying,

9 Thus sayth the Lorde of hostes, Execute true iudgement, shewe mercie and louing kyndnesse euery man to his brother.

10 || Doo the wydowe, the fatherlesse, the strangers and poore no wrong, and let no man imagine euyl agaynst his brother in his hart. || Exo.22.22. Leui.19.23. Deut.6.28.

11 Neuertheless, they would not take heede, but turned their "backes, and stopped their eares, that they should not heare. "shoulders.

12 Yea they made their hartes as an Adamant stone, lest they should heare the lawe and woordes which the Lorde of hostes sent in his holy spirite by the Prophetes aforetyme: wherefore the Lorde of hostes was very wroth at them.

13 And thus is it come to passe, that lyke as he cryed, and they would not heare: euen so they cryed, and I would not heare, sayth the Lorde God of hostes:

14 But scattered them among all the nations whom they knewe not: thus the lande was made so desolate after them, that there trauayled no man in it, neyther to nor fro: for that pleasant lande was vtterly layde waste.

¶ The. viii. Chapter.

9. Of the returne of the people vnto Hierusalem, and of the mercie of God towarde them. 16. Of good woorkes. 20. The callyng of the Gentiles.

SO the woorde of the Lorde of hostes came vnto me, saying,

2 Thus sayth the Lorde of hostes, I was in great ielousie for Sion, yea I haue ben very ielous for her with great wrath.

3 Thus sayth the Lorde, I wyl returne vnto Sion, and wyll dwel in the middest of Hierusalem: so that Hierusalem shalbe called, A faythfull and true citie, the hyl of the Lorde of hostes, an holy hyl.

4 Thus sayth the Lorde of hostes, There shal yet olde men and olde women dwel agayne in the streetes of Hierusalem: yea and suche as goe with staues in their handes for very age.

5 The streetes of the citie also shalbe ful of young boyes and damsels, playing in the streetes thereof.

6 Thus sayth the Lorde of hostes, If the residue of this people thinke it to be vnpossible in their eyes in these dayes: shoulde it therefore be vnpossible in my sight, sayth the Lorde of hostes,

7 Thus sayth the Lorde of hostes, Beholde, I wyll deliuer my people from the countreys of the East and West,

8 And wyl bring them agayne, that they may dwel in the middest of Hierusalem: they shalbe my people, and I wyl be their God in trueth and ryghteousnesse.

9 Thus sayth the Lorde of hostes, Let your handes be strong, ye that nowe heare these woordes by the mouth of the prophetes whiche are in these dayes, that the fundation of the house of the Lord of hostes is layd, that the temple may be buylded.

10 For before these dayes neyther men nor cattel coulde winne any thyng, neyther might any man come in and out in rest for trouble: but I let euery man goe agaynst his neyghbour. a. They laboured & toyled them selues and their cattel without encrease, because they cared not for Gods glory in reedifiyng of the temple, but went about their priuate gayne.

11 Neuertheless, I wyl nowe intreate the residue of this people no more as aforetyme, sayth the Lorde of hostes.

12 For the seede shal prosper, the vine shal geue her fruite, the grounde shall geue her encrease, and the heauens shall geue their deawe, and I shal cause the remnant of this people to haue all these in possession:

13 And it shal come to passe, that lyke as ye were a curse among the heathen, O ye house of Juda and ye house of Israel, euen so wyl I deliuer you, that ye shalbe a blessyng: feare not, but let your handes be strong.

14 For thus sayth the Lorde of hostes, Lyke as I thought to punish you, what time as your fathers prouoked me vnto wrath, sayth the Lorde of hostes, and spared not:

15 Euen so am I determined nowe in these dayes for to doo wel vnto the house of Juda and Hierusalem: therefore feare ye not.

17 And let none of you imagine euyl in his hart agaynſt his neyghbour, and loue no falſe othes: foz al theſe are the thinges that I hate, ſayth the Lozde.

18 And the wozde of the Lozde of hoſtes came vnto me, ſaying, 19 Thus ſayth the Lozde of hoſtes, The faſt of the fourth moneth, the faſt of the fifth, the faſt of the ſeuenth, and the faſt of the tenth, ſhalbe ioy and gladneſſe, and pzoſperous hygh feaſtes vnto the houſe of Juda: onely loue the trueth and peace.

20 Thus ſayth the Lozde of hoſtes, There ſhal yet come people, and the inhabiters of many cities:

21 And they that dwel in one citie ſhall goe to another, ſaying, Up, Let vs goe and pzay beſoze the Lozde, let vs ſeeke the Lozde of hoſtes: I wyl goe with you.

22 Yea much people and mightie nations ſhal come to ſeeke the Lozde of hoſtes at Hieruſalem, and to pzay beſoze the Lozde.

23 Thus ſayth the Lozde of hoſtes, In that tyme ſhall ten men (out of all maner of language of the Gentiles) take one Jewe by the hemme of his garment, and ſay, We wyl goe with you: foz we haue hearde that God is among you.

8 And I wyl pitche a campe a about mine houſe agaynſt the armie, agaynſt hym that paſſeth by, and agaynſt hym that returneth, and no oppzeſſour ſhal come vpon them any moze: foz nowe I haue ſeene with mine eyes.

9 Reioyce thou greatly, O daughter Sion, be glad, O daughter Hieruſalem: ‖foz loe, thy kyng commeth vnto thee, euen the ryghteous and ſauiour, lowly and ſimple is he, he rydeth vppon an Aſſe, and vppon the foale of an Aſſe.

10 I wyl roote out the charrettes from Ephzaim, and the hoꝛſe from Hieruſalem, the battayle bowes ſhalbe deſtroyed, he ſhall geue the doctrine of peace vnto the heathen: and his dominion ſhalbe from the one ſea to the other, and from the ryuer to the ende of the wozlde.

11 Thou alſo ſhalt be ſaued thzough the blood of thy couenant: I haue looſed thy pzyſoners out of the pit wherein is no water.

12 Turne you nowe to the ſtrong holde ye that be in pzyſon and long ſoze to be deliuered: euen this day I bzing thee wozde, that I wyl rewarde thee double agayne.

13 Foz Juda haue I bent as a bowe foz me, Ephzaim his hande haue I fylled, and thy ſonnes, O Sion, wyl I rayſe vp agaynſt the Greekes, and make thee as a Giantes ſwoꝛde.

14 The Lozde God ſhalbe ſeene aboue them, and his dartes ſhal goe fooꝛth as the lyghtning: the Lozde God ſhall blowe the trumpet, and ſhall come fooꝛth as a ſtoꝛme out of the ſouth.

15 The Lozde of hoſtes ſhall defende them, they ſhal conſume and deuoure, and ſubdue them with ſlyng ſtones, they ſhall dzynke and rage as it were thzough wine, they ſhalbe fylled lyke the balons, and as the hoꝛnes of the aulter.

16 The Lozde their God ſhall delyuer them in that day, as the flocke of his people: foz as pzetious ſtones of a Diademe they ſhalbe ſet vp ouer his lande.

17 O howe great is his goodneſſe, and howe excellent his beautie? Foz the coꝛne ſhal make the young men chearefull, and the newe wyne the maydens.

¶ The.x. Chapter.

1. The people is mooned to requyre the doctrine of the trueth of the Lorde. 3. The Lorde promiſeth to viſite and comfort the houſe of Iſrael.

Pray

a. God ſtrong to defende Churche gaynſt all aduerſaries.

‖Eſai. 62. Matth. 21.

PRay the Lorde then betimes to geue the latter rayne, so shal the lord make bright cloudes, and geue you rayne ynough, and to euery one grasse in the ieelde.

2 For vaine is the answeare of idolles, the soothsayers see lyes, and the dreamers tel but vaine things, the comfort that they geue is nothing worth therefore they went away like a flocke of sheepe, and were troubled, because they had no shepheard.

3 My wrathful displeasure was moued against the shepheardes, and I wyl visite the Goates: for the Lorde of hostes wyll visite his flocke the house of Iuda, and wyll make them as a goodly faire horse in the battel.

4 Out of Iuda shall come the corner, the nayle, the battel bowe, and the appointer of tribute also.

5 They shalbe as Gyantes which in the battell treade downe their enimies in the mire of the streetes: they shall fight, for the Lorde shalbe with them, and the horsemen shalbe confounded.

6 I wyl comfort the house of Iuda, and preserue the house of Ioseph, I wyll bring them againe, for I pitie them, and they shalbe like as they were when I hadde not cast them of: for I the Lorde am their God, and wyl heare them.

7 Ephraim shalbe as a Giant, and their hart shalbe chearefull as through wine: yea, their children shall see it, and be gladde, and their hart shal reioyce in the Lorde.

8 I wyl hisse for them, and gather them together, for I will redeeme them, they shal encrease, as they encreased afore.

9 I will sowe them among the people, that they may thinke vpon me in farre countreys, they shal liue with their children, and turne againe.

10 I wyl bring them agayne also from the lande of Egypt, and gather them out of Assyria: I wyl carrie them into the lande of Gilead, and to Libanus, and a place a shal not be founde for them.

The multitude shalbe so a great.

11 And affliction shal passe ouer vnto the sea, and smite the sea waues, so that all the deepe floodes shalbe dried vp, the proude boasting of Assur shalbe cast downe, and the scepter of Egypt shalbe taken away.

12 I wyl comfort them in the Lorde, that they may walke in his name, sayth the Lorde.

¶ The. xi. Chapter.

1. The destruction of the temple. 4. The care of the faythful is committed to Christe by the father. 7. A grieuous vision against Hierusalem and Iuda.

OPen the doores, O Libanus, that the fire may consume thy Cedar trees.

2 Howle ye firre trees, for the Cedar is fallen, yea, al the proude are wasted away: Howle, O ye Oke trees of Balan, for the mightie strong wood is cut downe.

3 Men may heare the shepheardes mourne, for their glory is destroyed, men may heare the Lions whelpes roare, for the pride of Iordane is wasted away.

4 Thus sayth the Lord my God, Feede the sheepe of the slaughter,

5 Whiche haue ben slayne of those that possessed them, yet they tooke it for no sinne, but they that solde them, sayde, The Lorde be thanked, for I am riche, yea, theyr owne shepheardes spare them not.

6 Therefore wyl I no more spare those that dwel in the lande, sayth the Lorde: but loe, I wyl delyuer the people, euery man into his neyghbours hande, and into the hande of his kyng, that they may smite the lande, and out of theyr handes I wyll not delyuer them.

7 I mee selfe fed the slaughter sheepe, a poore flocke verily, and tooke vnto me two staues, the one called Beautie, the other called Bandes: and so fedde the sheepe.

8 Three shepheardes I put out of office in one moneth, for I myght not away with them: neyther had they any delyght in me.

9 ‖ Then sayde I, I wyll feede you no more: the thyng that dyeth, let it dye: and that that wyll perishe, let it perishe: and let the remnant eate euery one the flesshe of his neyghbour. ‖ Iere. 15. 2.

10 I tooke also my staffe euen Beautie, and brake it, that I might disanul the couenant whiche I made with all people.

11 And so it was broken in that day, then the poore simple sheepe that had a respect vnto me, knewe thereby that it was the worde of the Lorde.

12 And I sayde vnto them, If ye thinke it good, bring hyther my wages, yf no, then leaue. ‖ So they waied downe thirtie syluer pence, the value that I was prysed at. ‖ Mat. 27. 9.

13 And the Lorde sayde vnto me, Cast it vnto the potter, a goodly price for me to be valued at of them. And I tooke the thirtie syluer pence, and cast them to the potter in the house of the Lorde.

14 Then brake I my other staffe also, namely Bandes, that I might loose the brotherhood betwixt Iuda and Israel.

15 And the Lord sayde vnto me, Take thee also the a staffe of a foolishe shepheard. a or, instrument.

16 For loe, I wyll raise vp a shepheard in the lande, whiche shall not seeke after the thynges that be lost, nor seeke the tender, lambes, lambes, he ſhall not heale the wounded, he ſhal not nourilhe the thinges that are whole: but he ſhal eate the fleſhe of fuch as be fatte, and teare their clawes in peeces.

17 O idoll ſhepheарde that leaueth the flocke, the ſwoorde ſhal come vpon his arme, and vppon his right eye: his arme ſhalbe cleane dryed vp, and his right eye ſhalbe ſore blinded.

¶ The. xii. Chapter.

Of the deſtruction, and buildyng agayne of Hieruſalem.

THE heauie burden whiche the Lorde hath deuiſed for Iſrael. Thus ſayth the Lorde whiche ſpread the heauens abrode, laide the fundation of the earth, and gaue man the breath of life.

2 Beholde, I wyll make Hieruſalem a cup of "ſurfet vnto all the people that are rounde about her: yea Juda him ſelfe alſo ſhalbe in the ſiege againſt Hieruſalem.

3 At the ſame time wyll I make Hieruſalem an heauie ſtone for al people, ſo that al ſuch as lift it vp ſhalbe torne and rent, and all the people of the earth ſhalbe geathered togeather againſt it.

4 In that day, ſayth the Lorde, I wyll make al horſes aſtonied, and thoſe that ryde vpon them to be out of their wittes: I wyll open mine eyes vpon the houſe of Juda, and ſmite al the horſes of the people with blindneſſe.

5 And the princes of Juda ſhall ſay in their hartes, The inhabiters of Hieruſalem ſhall geue me conſolation in the Lorde of hoſtes their God.

6 In that time wyl I make the princes of Juda like an hotte burning ouen with "wood, & lyke a fyrebrande among the ſtrawe, ſo that they ſhall conſume all the people rounde about them, both vppon the ryght hande, and vpon the leaft: Hieruſalem alſo ſhalbe inhabited agayne, namely in the ſame place where Hieruſalem ſtandeth.

7 The Lorde ſhall preſerue the tentes of Juda as aforetime, ſo that the glory of the houſe of Dauid, and the glory of the citizens of Hieruſalem, ſhal not be exalted agaynſt Juda.

8 In that day ſhal the Lord defende the citizens of Hieruſalem, ſo that the weakeſt then among them ſhalbe as Dauid, and the houſe of Dauid ſhalbe as Gods houſe, and as the angel of the Lorde before them.

9 At the ſame time wyl I goe about to deſtroy all ſuche people as goe agaynſt Hieruſalem.

10 Moreouer, vpon the houſe of Dauid, and vpon the citizens of Hieruſalem wyl I powre out the ſpirite of grace and compaſſion, ||ſo that they ſhal looke vpon me whom they haue pearſed, and they ſhal lament for him, as men mourne for their onely begotten ſonne: yea, and be ſory for hym, as men are ſory for their firſt chylde. ||Iohn. 19.

11 Then ſhall there be a great mourning at Hieruſalem, || lyke as the lamentation at Adadremmon in the feelde of Magedon. ||2. Chro. 35. 22.

12 And the lande ſhal bewayle, euery kynrede by them ſelues alone: the kynred of the houſe of Dauid by them ſelues, and their wyues by them ſelues: the kynrede of the houſe of Nathan them ſelues, and their wyues by them ſelues:

13 The kynrede of the houſe of Leui them ſelues alone, and their wyues by them ſelues: the kinrede of the houſe of Semei them ſelues alone, and their wyues by them ſelues.

14 In lyke maner, all the other generations euery one by them ſelues alone, and their wyues by them ſelues.

¶ The. xiii. Chapter.

1. Of the vvell of grace and trueth. 2. Of the cleane riddance of idolatrie, and of falſe prophetes.

IN that tyme ſhall the houſe of Dauid and the citizens of Hieruſalem haue an open well to waſhe of ſinne and vncleanneſſe.

2 || And then ſayth the Lorde of hoſtes, I wyll deſtroy the names of the idols out of the lande, ſo that they ſhall no more be put in remembrance: as for the falſe prophetes alſo, and the vncleane ſpirites, I wyll take them out of the lande. ||Ezec. 30. 13.

3 So that yf any of them propheſie any more, his owne father and mother that begat hym, ſhall ſay vnto him, Thou ſhalt not liue, for thou ſpeakeſt lyes vnder the name of the Lorde: yea, his owne father and mother that begate hym ſhall wounde hym when he propheſieth.

4 And then ſhal thoſe prophetes be confounded, euery one of his viſion when he propheſieth: neyther ſhal they weare heare cloth any more to deceiue men withall.

5 But he ſhalbe fayne to ſay, I am no prophete, I am an huſbandman: for ſo am I taught by man from my youth vp.

6 And if it be ſayd vnto him, Howe came theſe woundes then in thyne handes? He ſhal aunſweare, Thus was I wounded in the houſe of myne owne freendes.

7 Aryſe, O thou ſwoorde, vpon my ſhepheарde, and vpon the man that is my felowe, ſayth saith the Lorde of hostes: || smite the shepheard, and the sheepe shalbe scattered abrode: and so wyl I turne my hand to the litle ones.

8 And it shall come to passe, saith the Lorde, that in all the lande two partes shalbe rooted out and dye, but the thirde part shall remayne therein.

9 And the same thirde part wyl I bring through the fyre, and wyll cleanse them as the syluer is cleansed, yea and trye them lyke as golde is tryed: then shall they call vpon my name, and I wyll heare them, I wyl say, It is my people, and they shall say, Lorde my God.

1. The vvasting of the Church vnder the figure of Hierusalem. 9. Of the kingdome of the Lord.

BEholde, the day of the Lorde commeth, and thy spoyle shal be diuided in the middest of thee.

2 For I wyll geather togeather all the Heathen to fyght agaynst Hierusalem, so that the citie shalbe wonne, the houses spoiled, and the women defyled: the halfe of the citie shal go away into captiuitie, and the residue of the people * shal not be caried out of the citie.

3 After that the Lorde shal goe forth to fyght agaynst those Heathen, as men vse to fyght in the day of battayle.

4 Then shall his feete stande vpon the mount Oliuete that lyeth vpon the East side of Hierusalem, and the mount Oliuete shall cleaue in two, Eastwarde and Westwarde, so that there shalbe a great valley: and the halfe mount shal remoue towarde the North, and the other towarde the South.

5 And ye shall flee vnto the valley of my hylles, for the valley of the hylles shal reache vnto Asal: yea, flee shal ye lyke as ye fled for the earthquake || in the dayes of Vziah kyng of Iuda: and the Lorde my God shall come, and all the saintes with hym.

6 In that day shall there be no cleare lyght, but darke.

7 This shalbe that special day which is knowen vnto the Lord, neither day nor night: but about the euenyng time it shalbe lyght.

8 In that tyme shal there waters of lyfe runne out from Hierusalem: the halfe part of them towarde the East sea, and the other halfe towarde the vttermost sea, and shall continue both sommer and wynter.

9 And the Lorde him selfe shalbe kyng ouer al the earth: At that tyme shall there be one Lorde only, and his name shalbe but one.

10 Al the land shalbe turned as a plaine from Gibea to Remmon towardes the south of Hierusalem: She shalbe set vp, and inhabited in her place, from Beniamins port, vnto the place of the fyrst port, and vnto the corner port, and from the towre of Hananeel vnto the kynges wyne presses.

11 There shal men dwel, and there shalbe no more destruction, but Hierusalem shalbe safely inhabited.

12 This shalbe the plague wherewith the Lorde wyll smyte all people that haue fought agaynst Hierusalem, their flesche shall consume away, though they stande vpon their feete, their eyes shalbe corrupt in their holes, & their tongue shal consume in their mouth.

13 In that day shall the Lorde make a great sedition among them: so that one man shall take another by the hande, and lay his handes vpon the handes of his neyghbour.

14 Iuda shal fight agaynst Hierusalem, and the armies of all the heathen shalbe geathered togeather rounde about with gold and siluer, and a very great multitude of apparel.

15 And this plague shal go ouer horses, Mules, Cammels, Asses, and all the beastes that shalbe in the host, lyke as yonder plague was.

16 Euery one that remayneth then of al the people whiche came agaynst Hierusalem, shall goe vp yeere by yeere to woorshyp the kyng euen the Lorde of hostes, and to keepe the feast of tabernacles.

17 And looke what generation vpon the earth goeth not to Hierusalem for to woorshyp the kyng the Lorde of hostes, vpon the same shal come no rayne.

18 If the kynred of Egypt goe not vp, and come not, it shall not rayne vpon them: This shalbe the plague wherewith the Lord wyl smite al the heathen that come not vp to keepe the feast of tabernacles, 19 Yea this shalbe the plague of Egypt, and the plague of all people that goe not vp to keepe the feast of tabernacles.

20 At that tyme shall the rydyng geare of the horses be holy vnto the Lorde: the kettles in the Lordes house shalbe lyke the basons before the aulter.

21 Yea, all the kettles in Hierusalem and Iuda shalbe holy vnto the lord of hostes: and all they that slay offerynges, shall come and take of them, and seeth therein: And at that tyme there shalbe no more Chanaanites in the house of the Lorde of hostes.

¶ The firſt Chapter.

A complaynt agaynſt Iſrael, and cheefely the prieſtes.

THe a burden of the woorde of the Lorde to Iſrael, by the miniſterie of Malachi.

2 I haue loued you ſayth the Lorde: yet ye ſay, Wherinhaſt thou loued vs? b Was not Eſau Jacobs brother, ſayth the Lord, ‖ yet loued I Jacob.

3 And I hated Eſau, & made his mountaynes waſte, and his heritage a wylderneſſe for dragons.

4 Though Edom ſay, we are impouerifhed, but we wyll returne and buylde the deſolate places: yet ſayth the Lorde of hoſtes, They ſhal buyld, but I wyl deſtroy: and they ſhall call them, The border of wickednes, and the people with whom the Lord is angry for euer.

5 And your eyes ſhall ſee: and you ſhall ſay, The Lorde wyll be magnifyed vpon the borders of Iſrael.

6 A ſonne honoureth his father, and a ſeruant his maiſter: If then I be a father, where is myne honour? If I be a maiſter, where is my feare, ſayth the Lorde GOD of hoſtes, to you, O ye prieſtes that deſpiſe my name? and ye ſay, Wherein haue we deſpiſed thy name?

7 Ye offer vpon mine aulter c vncleane bread, and ſay, Wherein haue we polluted thee? In that ye ſay, The table of the Lorde is not to be regarded.

8 When ye bring the blind for ſacrifice, you ſay it is not euyll: and when ye bring the lame and ſicke, you ſay it is not euyll: offer it nowe d to thy prince, wyl he be content with thee, or accept thy perſon, ſayth the Lorde of hoſtes?

9 And now I pray you, pray before God, that he may haue mercy vpon vs (this euyl hath been doone by your meanes) wyll he regarde your perſons, ſaith the Lorde of hoſtes?

10 Who is there euen among you that wouldе ſhut the doores, and kyndle not fyre on myne aulter in vayne? e I haue no pleaſure in you, ſayth the Lord of hoſtes, neyther wyll I accept an offering at your hande.

11 From the ryſing of the Sunne vnto the goeyng downe of the ſame, my name is great among the Gentiles, and in euery place f incenſe ſhalbe offered to my name, & a pure offeryng: for my name is great among the very Heathen, ſayth the Lorde of hoſtes.

12 But ye haue g polluted it, in that ye ſay, The table of the Lorde is polluted, and the " fruite thereof, euen his meate is not to be regarded.

13 And ye ſayde, Beholde, it is a weeryneſſe, and you haue ſnuffed at it, ſayth the Lord of hoſtes, and ye haue offered the ſtolne, and the lame, and the ſicke, ye haue offered an offering: ſhould I accept this of your handes, ſayth the Lorde?

14 Curſed be the deceitfull which hath in his flocke a male, and voweth, and ſacrificeth a corrupt thyng to the Lord: becauſe I am a great king, ſaith the Lord of hoſtes, and my name is fearefull among the Heathen.

e. Againſt all thoſe that followe religion for lukers ſake.

¶ The.ii. Chapter.

Threatnynges agaynſt the prieſtes, beyng ſeducers of the people.

AND now, O ye prieſtes, this commaundement is for you.

2 ‖ If ye wyll not heare it, nor regarde it, to geue the glory to my name, ſayth the Lorde of hoſtes, I wyl ſende a curſe vpon you, and wyll curſe your bleſſinges, yea I haue curſed them alredy, becauſe ye doo not conſyder it in your hart.

3 Behold, I wyll a corrupt your ſeede, & caſt b doung on your faces, euen the doung of your ſolemne feaſtes, and you ſhalbe lyke vnto it.

4 And you ſhall knowe that I haue ſent this commaundement vnto you, that my couenant which I haue made with Leui might ſtande, ſayth the Lorde of hoſtes.

5 My couenant was with hym of lyfe and peace, and I gaue them him for the feare wherwith he feared me, and was afrayde before my name.

6 The law of trueth was in his mouth, & there was no iniquitie found in his lippes, he c walked with me d in peace & in e equitie, and he turned many from theyr iniquitie.

7 f For the prieſtes lippes ſhall keepe knowledge, and they ſhall ſeeke the lawe at his mouth: becauſe he is the meſſenger of the Lorde of hoſtes.

8 But

8 But ye haue gone out of the way, ye haue caused many to fal by the lawe, ye haue corrupted the couenant of Leui, saith the lord of hostes.

9 Therfore haue I also made you despised and vile before all the people, because you kept not my wayes, but haue ben partiall in the lawe.

10 ‖ Haue we not all one father? hath not God made vs all? why then is euery one deceiued of his brother, to violate the couenant of our fathers?

11 Juda hath offended, and abominatiō is committed in Israel and in Hierusalem: for Juda hath defyled the holynesse of the Lorde which he loued, and hath marryed the daughter of a strange God.

12 The Lorde wyl destroy the man that dooth this, both the "rayser vp, and the answeare out of the tabernacle of Jacob, and hym that offereth an offeryng vnto the Lorde of hostes.

13 g And this agayne haue ye doone in couering the aulter of the Lorde with teares, with weepyng and mournyng, and therefore there is no more respect to the offeryng, neyther acceptable receiuing of it at your hands.

14 Yet ye say, Wherein? Because the Lorde hath been witnesse betweene thee and the wyfe of thy youth, agaynst whom thou hast transgressed, yet is shee thyne owne companion, and the wyfe of thy couenant.

15 And dyd not he make one? yet had he abundance of spirite: And wherfore one? Because he sought a godly seede: therfore keepe your selues in your spirite, and let none transgresse agaynst the wyfe of his youth.

16 If thou hatest her, put her away, saith the Lorde God of Israel: yet he couereth the iniurie vnder his garment, sayth the Lorde of hostes, and be ye kept in your spirite, & transgresse not.

17 Ye haue weeried the Lord with your woordes, and you haue sayde, Wherein haue we weeryed him? Whyleſt you say, Euery one that doth euyll, is good in the sight of the Lorde, and he is pleased in them: or where is the God of iudgement?

℣ The. iii. Chapter.

Of the messenger of the Lorde Iohn Baptist, and of Christes office.

BEholde, ‖ I wyll send my messenger, and he shall prepare the way before me, and the Lorde a whom ye seeke, shal speedily come to his temple, and the messenger of the couenant whom ye desyre, beholde he commeth, sayth the Lorde of hostes.

2 But who may abyde the day of his comming? and who shall stande when he appeareth? for he is lyke a purgyng fyre, and lyke Fullers sope.

3 And he shall syt downe to trye and fine the syluer, and he shall purge the children of Leui, and purifie them as golde and syluer: and they shal bryng vnto the Lord offerynges in rygh teousnesse.

4 Then shall the b offerynges of Juda and Hierusalem be acceptable vnto the Lord as in olde tyme, and as in the yeeres afore.

5 And I wil come neare to you in iudgement, and I wil be a c swift witnesse against the d soothsaiers, and against the adulterers, and agaynst falſe swearers, and agaynst those that wrongfully keepe backe the hyrelynges wages, and vexe the wydowe and the fatherlesse, and oppresse the stranger, and feare not me, sayth the Lorde of hostes.

6 For I am the Lord, I change not: and ye sonnes of Jacob are not consumed.

7 From the dayes of your fathers ye are gone away from myne ordinances, and haue not kept them: turne you to me, and I wyll turne to you, sayth the Lord of hostes. And ye sayde, Wherin shal we returne?

8 Wyl a man e spoyle his goodes? yet ye haue spoyled me, and ye say, Wherin haue we spoyled thee? In tythes and offerynges.

9 Ye are cursed with a curse, & me haue ye spoyled, euen this whole nation.

10 Bryng euery tythe into the store house, that there may be meat in mine house, and prooue me withall, sayth the Lorde of hostes: yf I wyll not open the wyndowes of heauē vnto you, and powre you out a blessing without measure.

11 And I wyll reproue the deuourer for your sakes, and he shall not destroy the fruite of the grounde, neyther shal your vine be barren in the feelde, sayth the Lorde of hostes.

12 And al nations shall call you blessed: because you shal be a pleasant lande, saith the Lorde of hostes.

13 ‖ Your woordes haue been stoute agaynst me, sayth the Lorde: and you sayde, Wherein haue we spoken agaynst thee?

14 Ye haue sayde, It is but vayne to serue God, and what profite is it that we haue kept his commaundement, and that we haue walked humbly before the face of the Lorde of hostes?

15 And nowe we call the proude happy: yea, the workers of wickednes are set vp, and also they that tempt God, yea they are deliuered.

16 Then they that feared GOD, sayde euery one to his neyghbour, and the Lorde considered and hearde, and there was written a booke of remembrance before him, for them that that feared the lorde, and for them that thinke vpon his name.

17 And they ſhalbe to me, ſaith the Lord of hoſtes, in that day wherin I ſhall do iudgement a flocke, and I wyl ſpare them, as a man ſpareth his owne ſonne whiche ſerueth hym.

18 Then ſhall ye returne, and diſcerne betweene the iuſt and the wicked, betweene hym that ſerueth God, and hym that ſerueth hym not.

The day of the Lorde, before the vvhiche Elias ſhoulde come.

AND Ioſias held ‖ the feaſt of Eaſter in Hieruſalem vnto his lord, and offered the paſſeouer the fourteenth day of the firſt moneth. ‖ Thr. 35.1 Leuit.23.25

2 He ſet the prieſtes alſo in order accordyng to theyr dayly courſes, beyng arayed in long garmentes, in the temple of the Lorde.

3 And he ſpake vnto the Leuites the holy miniſters of Iſrael, that they ſhould hallow them ſelues vnto the Lord, to ſet the holy arke of the Lorde in the houſe that king Solomon the ſonne of Dauid had buylded,

4 And ſayde, Ye ſhall no more beare the arke vpon your ſhoulders: and now ſerue the Lorde your God, and take the charge of his people Iſrael, and prepare you after your kinrages and tribes,

5 Accordyng as king Dauid the king of Iſrael hath left in wryting, and " accordyng as Solomon his ſonne hath honourably prepared, and ſtandyng erche of you in that degree of auctho*itie which in the diſtribution was appoynted vnto your fathers the Leuites, in the preſence of your brethren the chyldren of Iſrael:

" or, according Solomon his ſonnes great liberalitie.

6 Offer the paſſeouer in order, and make redy the ſacrifices for your brethren, and keepe the paſſeouer accordyng to the commaundement of the Lorde, which was geuen vnto Moſes.

7 And vnto the people that was founde there, Ioſias gaue thirtie thouſand lammes and kiddes, & three thouſand calues. Theſe thynges were geuen of the kynges owne poſſeſſions, accordyng as he promiſed to the people, to the prieſtes, and to the Leuites.

8 And Helkias, and Zacharias, and Sielus the gouernours of the temple, gaue to the prieſts for the paſſeouer, two thouſand and fyue hundred ſheepe, & three hundred calues.

9 Moreouer Iechonias, and Samaias, and Nathanael his brother, and Sabias, and Ochiel, and Iozam, captaynes ouer thouſandes, gaue to the Leuites for the paſſeouer, fyue thouſande ſheepe, and ſeuen hundred calues.

10 And whē theſe thinges were brought to paſſe, the Prieſtes and Leuites ſtoode goodly in their order, and had the vnleauened bread throughout the tribes.

11 And after the degrees of preeminēce appoynted to their fathers, to offer to the Lorde in the ſyght of the people, accordyng as it is wrytten in the booke of Moſes: and thus dyd they in the morning.

12 And they roſted the Eaſter lambe with fire, as accordyng was: as for the offerynges, they dight them in ketles and pottes with good ſauours, 13 And ſet them before all them of the people, and afterward they prepared for thē ſelues and the prieſtes theyr brethren the ſonnes of Aaron.

14 For the prieſtes offered the fat, " vntyll the time was expired, & the Leuites prepared for them ſelues, and for the prieſtes their brethren the chyldren of Aaron.

" or, vntyl the euenyng tyme.

15 The holy ſingers alſo the chyldren of Aſaph, ſtoode in their orders accordyng as Dauid deuiſed, to wit, Aſaph, " Zacharias, and Iduthun, whiche was appoynted by the king.

" or, Azarias and Eddimus.

16 Moreouer, the porters and doore keepers ſtoode by the doores and that diligently, ſo that none went out of his " ſtandyng and ſeruice, for theyr brethren the Leuites prepared for them.

" or, his watch, or turne and courſe.

17 Thus were all thynges perfourmed that belonged to the offering of the Lord in that day, that they might holde the paſſeouer.

18 And offer ſacrifyces vppon the alter of the Lorde, accordyng to the commaundement of kyng Ioſias.

19 So the chyldren of Iſrael whiche were then preſent, helde a honorable paſſeouer, and the feaſt of ſwete bread ſeuen dayes long:

20 Yea ſuche a paſſeouer was not kept in Iſrael, from the tyme of the prophete Samuel.

21 And all the kynges of Iſrael helde not ſuch an Eaſter as this which kyng Ioſias helde, and the Prieſtes, the Leuites, the Iewes, and al Iſrael, of al them that " were at Hieruſalem.

" or, found dwellyng at Hieruſalem.

22 In the eighteenth yeere of the raigne of Ioſias was this paſſeouer kept.

23 And with an harte full of godlineſſe did king Ioſias rightly order al his woorkes before the Lorde.

24 And the thynges that came to paſſe in his tyme, they were wrytten of olde before thoſe dayes, concernyng thoſe that ſinned, and were vngodly againſt the Lorde above all people and kyngdomes, and howe they greened him in ſerupng ſenſible thinges, ſo that the wooꝛdes of the Looꝛde roſe vp agaynſt Iſrael.

25 Nowe, after al theſe acts of Ioſias, it came to paſſe that Pharao the kyng of Egypt came to Charcamis vpon Euphrates, to moue warre: and Ioſias went out againſt hym.

26 But the king of Egypt ſent to him, ſaying, What haue I to doo with thee, O kyng of Juda?

27 I am not ſent of the Looꝛde God agaynſt thee, foꝛ my warre is vpon Euphrates, and nowe the Looꝛde is with me, yea the Lord maketh diligent " ſpeede with me: depart from me, & be not againſt the Looꝛde.

28 Howebeit Ioſias woulde not turne backe his chariot from him, but vndertooke to fight with him, and hearkened not to the wooꝛdes of the pꝛophete Jeremie ſpoken by the mouth of the Looꝛde:

29 But pitched a batayle agaynſt him in the feelde of * Mageddo: and the pꝛinces pꝛeaſſed to king Ioſias.

30 Then ſayde the kyng vnto his ſeruauntes, Cary me away out of the batayle, foꝛ I am very weake. And immediatly his ſeruauntes toke hym away out of the front of the batayle.

31 Then gate he vp vpon his ſeconde charet, came to Hieruſalem, dyed, and was buryed in his fathers ſepulchre.

32 And in all Jurie they mourned foꝛ Ioſias, yea Jeremie the Pꝛophet lamented foꝛ Ioſias, & the rulers alſo with theyꝛ wiues made lamentation foꝛ him vnto this day, and it became a cuſtome to be done continually in all the kinred of Iſrael.

33 Theſe thinges are wꝛitten in the booke of the ſtoꝛies of the kinges of Juda: & all the acts of Ioſias, and his gloꝛy, and vnderſtandyng in the lawe of the Looꝛde, and the thynges whiche he had done befoꝛe, and that was now recited, are wꝛitte in the booke of the kynges of Iſrael and Juda.

34 And the people tooke Iechonias the ſonne of Ioſias, and made him king in ſtead of Ioſias his father, when he was twentie and thꝛee yeeres olde.

35 And he raigned in Juda and in Hieruſalem thꝛee monethes: and then the king of Egypt put hym bowne fꝛom raigning in Hieruſalem:

36 And rayſed vp a tare of the people, namely an hundꝛed talentes of ſiluer, and one talent of golde.

37 The kyng of Egypt alſo made Joachim his bꝛother king of Juda & Hieruſalem.

38 a And thus he " bounde Joacim and his gouernours: but Zaracen his bꝛother he appꝛehended, and led away with hym into Egypt.

39 Fiue and twentie yeeres olde was Joacim when he was made king in the lande of Juda and Hieruſalem, and he dyd euyl befoꝛe the Looꝛde.

40 Wheꝛefoꝛe agaynſt hym Nabuchodonoſoꝛ the kyng of Babylon came vp, and bound him with bandes of iron, and caryed hym vnto Babylon.

41 Nabuchodonoſoꝛ alſo toke of the holy veſſelles of the Looꝛde, caryed them away, and ſet them in his owne Temple at Babylon.

42 But al his actes, & his pꝛophanation and wꝛong, are wꝛitten in the Chꝛonicles of the kinges.

43 And Joachin his ſonne raigned in his ſteade. He was made kyng beyng eyghteene yeeres olde, 44 And raigned but thꝛee monethes and ten dayes in Hieruſalem, and dyd euyl befoꝛe the Looꝛde.

45 So after a yeere Nabuchodonoſoꝛ ſent, and cauſed hym to be bꝛought vnto Babylon with the holy veſſels of the Looꝛde, 46 And made Zedechias king of Juda and Hieruſalem when he was twentie & one yeeres olde, and he raigned a leuen yeeres.

47 || And he did euil alſo in the ſight of the Looꝛde, and cared not foꝛ the wooꝛdes that were ſpoken vnto hym by the Pꝛophete Jeremie fꝛom the mouth of the Looꝛde. || Iere.38.

48 And where he had made an othe vnto kyng Nabuchodonoſoꝛ, he foꝛſwoꝛe hym ſelfe by the name of the Looꝛde, and hardened his necke and hart, and tranſgreſſed the lawes of the Looꝛde God of Iſrael.

49 The gouernours alſo of the people and pꝛieſtes dyd many thynges agaynſt the lawes, and paſſed all the pollutions of al nations, and defiled the temple of the Looꝛde which was ſanctified in Hieruſalem.

50 Wheꝛfoꝛe the God of theyꝛ fathers ſent b his meſſenger to call them backe, because he ſpared them and his tabernacle alſo. b. Meaning Ieremie.

51 But they had his meſſengers in deriſion: and looke when the Looꝛde ſpake vnto them, they made a ſpoꝛt of his pꝛophetes.

52 This dꝛewe on ſo long tyl the Lord was wꝛoth with his people foꝛ theyꝛ great vngodlyneſſe, ſo that he cauſed the kinges of the Chaldees to come vp agaynſt them:

53 Which ſlue theyꝛ young men with the ſwoꝛde, yea " euen in the compaſſe of their holy temple, and ſpared no body, neither young man noꝛ mayden, olde man noꝛ chylde among them.

54 But they were all deliuered into theyꝛ hondes, and al the holy vessellos of the Lorde both great and smal, with the vessels of the arke of GOD: and they tooke and caryed away the kynges treasure into Babylon.

55 As for the house of the Lorde, they went vp into it, and brent it, brake downe the walles of Hierusalem, set fyre vpon her towres, 56 Destroyed al her " noble buildings, and brought them to nought, and the people that were not slayne with the sworde, he caryed vnto Babylon:

¶ The.ii. Chapter.

1. Cyrus gaue leaue to the Iewes to returne. 13. The names of them that returned. 16. Their aduersaries did let theyr buyldyng. 17. and the kinges letters for the same.

NOwe when kyng Cyrus raigned ouer the Persians in his fyrst peere, when the Lorde woulde perfourme the word that he had promysed by the mouth of the prophete Jeremie:

2 The Lord raised vp the spirite of Cyrus the kyng of the Persians, so that he caused this writing to be proclaymed throughout his whole realme,

3 Saying, Thus sayth Cyrus kyng of the Persians, The Lord of Israel, that high Lorde, hath made me kyng of the whole worlde:

4 And commaunded me to builde hym an house at Hierusalem in Jurie.

5 If there be any nowe of you that are of his people, let the Lorde, euen his Lord, be with him, and let him goe vp to Hierusalem that is in Judea, and builde the house of the Lord of Israel, that is, the Lord that dwelleth in Hierusalem.

6 And al they that dwell rounde about that place shal helpe hym, all that dwell in his place I say, whether it be with golde, with syluer,

7 With giftes, with horses, and necessarie cattell, and all other thynges that are brought with a free wyl to the " house of the Lorde at Hierusalem.

8 Then the pryncipall men out of the tribes and villages of Juda and Beniamin stoode vp: so did the priestes also and the Leuites, and al they whose minde the Lord had moued to goe vp, and to builde the house of the Lorde at Hierusalem.

9 And they that dwelt about them, helped them in al thynges, with siluer & golde, horses, and cattell, & with " many free giftes of many men, whose mindes were stirred vp thereto.

" or, sundry vowes of sundry men.

10 King Cyrus also brought forth the vessels and ornamentes that were halowed vnto the Lord, which Nabuchodonosor had caried away from Hierusalem, and consecrated them to his idol and image.

11 And hauing brought them forth, he deliuered them to Mithridates his treasurer.

12 And by hym they were deliuered to Abassar the deputie in Jurie.

13 And this was the number of them: a thousande golden cups, and a thousande of siluer, basons of siluer twentie and niene for the sacrifices, vialles of golde thirtie, and of siluer two thousande, foure hundred and ten, and a thousande other vesselles.

14 So al the vessels of golde and siluer whiche were caryed away, were fiue thousande, foure hundred, threescore and niene.

15 These were brought by Salmanasar, with them of the captiuitie, from Babylon to Hierusalem.

16 But in the tyme of Artarerres kyng of the Persians, Belemus and Mithridates, and Tabelius, and Rathumus, and Beelthmus, and Semellius the secretarie, with other that were ioyned to them, dwellyng in Samaria and other places, wrote vnto hym against them that dwelt in Judea and Hierusalem, these letters followyng: To the king Artaxerxes our Lorde.

17 Thy seruantes, Rathumus the storywriter, and Semellius the secretarie, and the rest of theyr counsel, and the iudges that are in Coelosyria and Phenice:

18 Be it now knowen vnto our lord the kyng, that the Iewes whiche are come vp from you vnto vs, into the rebellious and wicked citie, begyn to buylde the Market places, and to make vp the walles about it, and to set vp the temple a newe.

19 Nowe if this citie, and the walles thereof, be set vp agayne, they shal not only refuse to geue tributes and taxes, but also rebel vtterly against kynges.

20 And forsomuche as they take this in hande nowe about the temple, we thought it reason to thynke no scorne of it:

21 But to shewe it vnto the lorde the kyng, to the intent that if it please the kyng, he may cause it to be sought in the bookes of olde,

22 And thou shalt fynd in recordes hereof written, & shalt vnderstand that this citie hath alway ben rebellious and disobedient, that it hath troubled kynges and cities, 23 And that the Iewes were rebellious, and rayled alwayes warres therein: for the whiche cause this citie is wasted.

24 Wherfore nowe we certifie our lord the kyng, that yf this citie be buylded and occupyed agayne, and the walles thereof set vp a newe, thou canst haue no passage into Coelosyria and Phenice.

25 Then wrote the kyng to Rathumus the " storye writer, to Beeltethmus, to Semellius the scribe, and to the other officers and dwellers in Samaria, and Syria, and Phenice, after this manner.

26 I haue read the epistle which ye sent vnto me: therfore I commaunded to make diligent searche, and haue founde that this citie hath euer resisted kynges, 27 That the same people are disobedient, and haue caused muche warre, and that mightie kinges haue raigned in Hierusalem, which also haue rayled vp taxes of Coelosyria and Phenice.

28 Wherefore I haue commaunded to forbyd those men that they shal not build vp the citie, and heede to be taken that there be no more done in it:

29 And that they proceede no further in those wicked workes, forsomuche as it might be occasion of trouble vnto princes.

30 Now when Rathumus, and Semellius the scribe had read the writing of king Artaxerres, they gate them togeather, and came in al the haste to Hierusalem, with an host of horsemen, and with muche people on foote, 31 And forbad them to builde: and so they left of from buildyng of the temple, vnto the seconde yeere of kyng Darius, kyng of the Persians.

¶ The. iii. Chapter.

1. The feast of Darius. 16. The three wyse sentences.

KIng Darius made a great feast vnto his " seruantes, vnto al his courte, and to al the officers of Medea and Persia,

" or, subiectes.

2 Yea to all the gouernours and captaynes, and lieuetenauntes that were vnder hym, from India vnto Ethiopia, an hundred and twentie and seuen " countreys.

" or, prouinces.

3 So when they had eaten and dronken, being satisfied, and were gone home againe, Darius the kyng went into his chamber, layde hym downe to sleepe, and after that awaked.

4 Then the three young men that " kept " or, were of the garde.

the kynges person, and watched his bodye, communed among them selues, and spake one to another,

5 Let euery one of vs speake a sentence, and looke who shal ouercome, and whose sentence may seeme wiser then the others, vnto him shal king Darius geue great giftes, and great thinges, in token of victory:

6 As to weare purple, to dronke in gold, and to sleepe in golde, and a chariot with bridles of golde, and an " head tyre of fyne lynnen, and a chayne about his necke:

" or, a fine bonnet.

7 Yea he shal sit next to Darius, because of his wysedome, and shalbe called Darius cosin.

8 So euery one wrote his " meanyng, sealed it, and layde it vnder king Darius pelowe, " or, sentence.

9 And sayd, When the king ariseth, they woulde geue hym the writynges, and looke whose worde the kyng and the three princes of Persia shall iudge to be the most wysely spoken, the same shall haue the victory as it was appoynted.

10 One wrote, Wine is a strong thing.

11 The seconde wrote, The king is strong.

12 The thirde wrote, Women haue very much strength, but aboue all thynges, the trueth beareth away the victory.

13 Nowe when the kyng was risen vp, they tooke theyr writynges, and delyuered them vnto hym, and so he read them.

14 Then sent he foorth to call all his cheefe lords of Persia and of Medea, and the rulers, and the captaynes, & lieuetenauntes, and consuls:

15 And whē he had set him downe in the counsel, the writings were read before them.

16 And he commaunded to call for the young men, that they myght declare theyr " meanynges them selues by mouth. So they were sent for, and came in.

" or, sentences.

17 And then he sayd vnto them, Shewe vs, and make vs to vnderstande what the thynges are that ye haue written. Then began the first, which had spokē of the strength of wine, 18 And sayde thus, O ye men, howe strong is wine, that deceiueth al men which dronke it?

19 It maketh the kinges minde and the fatherlesse to be both one, the bondmans, and the free, the poore mans and the ryche.

20 It turneth also euery thought into ioy and gladnesse, so that a man remembreth neyther heauynesse nor debt.

21 And it maketh euery hart thynke in selfe rych, so that a man remembreth neyther king nor gouernour, and it maketh to speake al thynges by talentes.

22 Moreouer, when men haue dronke, they forgeat all frendlhip and brotherly faythfulneſſe, and a litle after they drawe out ſwoordes:

23 And afterwardes when they are from the wine, they remember nothyng what was done.

24 O ye men, is not wyne the ſtrongeſt, that thus enforceth men to doo? And when he had ſpoken this, he helde his peace.

The .iiii. Chapter.

1. Of the ſtrength of a king. 13. Of the ſtrength of vvomen. 34. Of the ſtrength of truth, vvhiche ſentence is approued, 47. and his petition graunted.

THen the ſeconde that had ſpoken of the ſtrength of the kyng, began to ſay,

2 O ye men, are not men the ſtrongeſt of al, that conquer both by lande and ſea, and all the thynges that are in them?

3 Nowe is the kyng ſtronger, as lord of al theſe thinges, and that hath the dominion ouer them: and looke what he commaundeth them, it is all done.

4 If he byd them the one againſt the other to make warre, they doo it: if he ſende them out againſt the enimies, they goe, and breake downe mountians, walles, & towres.

5 They ſlay and are ſlayne, and ouerpaſſe not the kinges commaundement: yf they geat the victory, they bring all to the king, ſo wel the ſpoyle as other thinges.

6 Likewiſe the other that meddle not with warres & fighting, but tyl the grounde: whē they haue ſowen and reaped, they bring to the kyng, and compel one another to pay his tribute vnto the kyng.

7 And if the kyng, though he be but one man, commaunde to kyl, they kyl, if he commaunde to "forgeue, they forgeue:

8 If he commaund to ſmite, they ſmite, yf he bydde "driue away, they driue away, yf he commaunde to builde, they builde:

9 If he commaunde to breake downe, they breake downe, if he commaund to plant, they plant.

10 "So the common people and the rulers are obedient vnto hym, and the king in the meane ſeaſon ſitteth hym downe, eateth and drynketh, and taketh his reſt.

11 And theſe keepe him rounde about, and not one of them dare geat him out of the way to do his owne buſineſſe, "but muſt be obedient vnto the king at a woorde.

12 Iudge ye nowe, O ye men, howe ſhould not the kyng goe farre aboue, when in ſuch ſort he is obeyed? And vvhen he had ſpoken thus he helde his tongue.

13 The thirde whoſe name was Zorobabel, which had ſpoken of women, and of trueth, began to ſay after this manner.

14 O ye men, it is not the great king, it is not the multitude of men, neither is it wine that excelleth. Who is it then that ruleth them, or hath the lordſhippe ouer them? is it not women?

15 Women haue borne the kyng, and all the people whiche beare rule by ſea and by lande.

16 And euen of them were they borne, and they brought thoſe vp that planted the vines, whereof the vine commeth.

17 They make garments for men, they geat honour vnto men, and without women can not men continue.

18 Yea if they haue geathered togeather gold and ſiluer, or any other pretious thing, do they not loue a woman for her comely ſhape and beautie?

19 And lettyng al thoſe thynges goe, do they not gape, and euen with open mouth fixe their eyes faſt on her? and haue not all men more deſyre vnto her, then vnto ſiluer and golde, or any manner of pretious thyng?

20 A man leaueth his owne father that brought him vp, leaueth his owne natural countrey, and cleaueth vnto his wyfe.

22 By this alſo ye muſt needes knowe, that women haue dominion ouer you: do ye not labour, and trauaile, and geue and bring al to the woman?

23 A man taketh his ſwoorde, and goeth his way to ſteale, to kil, to murder, to ſayle vpon the ſea, and vpon riuers, 24 And ſeeth a Lion, and goeth in the darkneſſe: and when he hath ſtollen, "deceiued, and robbed, he bringeth it vnto his loue. "or, ſpoyled.

25 Wherefore, a man loueth his wyfe better then father and mother:

26 Yea, many there be that runne out of their wits, and become bondmen for their "wyues ſake. "or, for vvomens ſakes.

27 Many one alſo haue periſhed, haue erred, and ſinned alſo for women.

28 And nowe do ye not beleeue me? is not the kyng great in his power? doo not al regions feare to touche hym?

29 Yet byd I ſee hym, and Apame the daughter of the great kyng Bartacus the kinges concubine, ſate beſyde the kyng vpon the ryght hande, 30 And tooke of his crowne from his head, and ſet it vpon her owne head, and ſtroke the kyng with her leaft hande.

31 And therwhile ſtedily the king loked vpon her with open mouth: if she laughed vpon hym, he laughed also: but if she tooke any displeasure with hym, the kyng was faine to flatter her & to geue her good vvords, til he had gotten her fauour agayne.

32 O ye men, are not women then stronger, that do these thynges?

33 Then ꝑ kyng and ꝑ princes loked one vpō another: so he begā to speake of ꝑ truth.

34 O ye men, are not women stronger? Great is the earth, hygh is the heauen, swift is the course of the sunne, he compasseth the heauens round about, and fetcheth his course agayne to his owne place in one day.

35 Is he not excellent that maketh these thynges? therfore great is the trueth, and stronger then al thynges.

36 All the earth calleth vpon trueth, the heauen praiseth it, al woorkes shake and trembled at it, and with it is no vnrygh-teous thyng.

37 Wine is wicked, the king is wicked, women are wicked, all the chyldren of men are wicked, yea and such are all theyr wycked woorkes, and there is no trueth in them, in theyr vnrygh teousnesse also shall they be destroyed and perysh:

38 As for the trueth it endureth, and is alway strong, it liueth, and conquereth for euermore worlde without ende.

39 With her there is no exception or difference of persons, but she doth that iust is, and refrayneth from al vniust and wicked thinges, & al men do wel like of her woorkes.

40 In the iudgement of it there is no vnrygh teous thyng, and she is the strength, kingdome, power, and maiestie of all ages. Blessed be the God of trueth.

41 And with that he held his peace: & all the people cryed, and then sayde, Great is trueth, and aboue all.

42 Then sayd the king vnto him, Aske what thou wylt, more then is appoynted in the wryting, and we shall geue it thee, for thou art found wiser then thy companions thou shalt syt next me, and shalt be called my kinsman.

43 Then sayde he vnto the kyng, Remember thy promyse and vowe which thou hast vowed and promysed in the day when thou camest to the kingdome, to buylde vp Hierusalem:

44 And to sende agayne all the vessels and iewels that were taken away out of Hierusalem, which Cyrus set apart when he vowed to destroy Babylon, and to sende them agayne thyther.

45 And thy minde was also to build vp the temple, which the Edomites burnt, whē Iuda was distroyed by the Chaldees.

46 And nowe this onely O king is the thing that I require & desire of thee, this is the princely liberalitie that I aske of thee, I desyre therefore, that thou performe the vowe, which thou with thyne owne mouth hast made vnto the king of heauen.

47 Then Darius the king stoode vp, & kissed him, wrote him letters vnto al the deputies and lieftetenantes, to all the lords and nobles, that they should conuey him forth, and al them that went vp with him, to build Hierusalem.

48 He wrote letters also vnto all the liefetenantes that were in Coelosyria and Phenices, and vnto them in Libanus, that they shoulde bring Cedar trees from Libanus vnto Hierusalem, and builde the citie with hym.

49 Moreouer, he wrote for al the Iewes that were gone out of his " realme into Iurie concernyng theyr freedome, that no officer, no ruler, no Liefetenant, nor Stewarde, shoulde enter into their doores: " or, kingdome

50 And that all their lande which they kept, shoulde be free, and not tributary: and that the Edomites shoulde geue ouer the cities and villages of the Iewes which they had taken in:

51 Yea, and that there should be yeerely geuen twentie talentes to ꝑ buylding of ꝑ temple, vntil the time that it were finished:

52 And to mainteyne the whole burnt offrings vpon the aulter euery day (as they had a commaundement to offer seuenteene) other ten talentes euery yeere.

53 And that all they whiche came from Babylon to buylde the citie, should haue free libertie, they and theyr children, and al the priestes that went away.

54 He wrote also concerning ꝑ charges, & the priestes garment wherin they minister.

55 And lykewyse for the charges of the Leuites, to be geuen them, vntil the day that the house were fynished, and Hierusalem builded vp.

56 And he commaunded, that al they that watched the cite, should haue their pen-sions and wages.

57 He sent away also al the vessels that Cyrus had separated from Babylon: and all that Cyrus had geuen in commaunde-ment, the same charged he also that it should be done, and sent vnto Hierusalem.

58 Nowe when this young man was gone forth, he lifted vp his face to heauen towarde Hierusalem, and prayed the kyng of heauen, 59 And said, Of thee commeth victorie, of thee commeth wisdome, and thine is the glory, glory, and I am thy ſeruaunt.

60 Bleſſed art thou whiche haſt geuen me wyſedome, for to thee I acknowledge it, O Lorde thou GOD of our fathers.

61 And ſo he tooke the letters, and went out, and came vnto Babylon, and tolde it all his brethren.

62 And they praiſed the God of their fathers, that he had geuen them freedome and libertie, 62 And all the people blewe out with trumpettes, and cryed with a loude voyce, prayſyng the Lord togeather for the rearyng vp of the houſe of the Lorde.

63 There came alſo from among the prieſtes and Leuites, and of the cheefeſt, accordyng to the tribes and kynredes, to wyte, the elders, which had ſeene the former houſe, prophesied vnto the Iewes, and to them in Iurie and Hierusalem, euen in the name of the Lorde God of Israel.

2 Then Zorobabel the sonne of Salathiel, and Jesus the sonne of Josedec, stoode vp, and began to build the house of the Lord at Hierusalem, when the prophetes of the Lorde were with them, and helped them.

3 At the same tyme, came Sisinnes the gouernour of Syria and Phenice, with Sathrabuzanes, and his companions, and sayde vnto them, 4 Who hath bidden and commaunded you to builde this house, to make this roose, and al other thynges agayne? and who are the "woorkemen that builde them?

8 We certifie our Lorde the kyng, that we came into the lande of Iurie, and went to Hierusalem, where we founde the auncientes of the Iewes, that were of the captiuitie, in the citie of Hierusalem, 9 Buildyng an house vnto the Lorde, great and newe, of hewen and costly stones, and the tymber alredy layd vpon the walles.

10 Yea, they make great hast with the woorke, and it goeth forth prosperously in theyr handes, and with great diligence and worshyp it is made.

11 Then asked we the elders, sayeing, By whose commaundement builde you vp this house, and laye the fundations of these woorkes?

12 Whiche we demaunded of them, to the intent that we myght geue knowledge vnto thee, and wryte vnto thee of those that gouerned it: and we requyred of them theyr names in wrytyng, that were theyr cheefe leaders to it.

13 So they gaue vs this answeare, We are the seruantes of the Lorde, which made heauen and earth.

‖3.Kin.6.2 14 ‖And as for this house, it was builded many yeeres agone, by a king of Israel, great and strong, and was finished.

17 Neuertheless, in the ‖first yere that kyng Cyrus raigned ouer the countreyes of Babylon, Cyrus the kyng wrote and commaunded to builde vp this house agayne. ‖1.Esd.

18 And the holy vesselles of golde, and of syluer, that Nabuchodonosor had caried awaye out of the house at Hierusalem, and had dedicated them in his owne Temple: those brought Cyrus forth agayne out of the temple at Babylon, and delyuered them to Zorobabel, and to Sanabassarus theruler:

19 Commaundyng him, that he shoulde carry away those same vesselles, and put them in the temple at Hierusalem, and that the temple of the Lorde shoulde be builte in his owne place.

20 Then the same Sanabassarus being come hyther, layde the fundations of the house of the Lord at Hierusalem, and from that to this, beyng styl a buildyng, it is not yet fully ended.

21 Nowe therefore, O kyng, if thou thinkest it good, let it be sought in the libraries and rolles of kyng Cyrus:

22 And if it be found then, that the buildyng of the house of the Lorde at Hierusalem hath ben done with the counsayle and consent of kyng Cyrus, and yf our Lorde the kyng be so mynded, let hym geue answeare vnto vs thereof.

23 Then commaunded kyng Darius to seeke in the kynges libraries at Babylon and so at Ecbatane, a towre in the region of Medea, there was founde a place where these thynges was layde vp for "memorye. "or, remembraunce.

26 And the holy vessells of the house of the Lorde, both of golde and of syluer, that Nabuchodonosor tooke out of the house at Hierusalem, and brought to Babylon, should be restored to the house at Hierusalem, and be set in the place where it was before.

27 And

27 And alſo he commaunded that Siſinnes the gouernour of Syria and Phenice, and Sathrabuſanes, with their companions, and other conſtituted rulers in Syria and Phenice, ſhoulde take heede not to medle with that place, but to ſuffer Zorobabel the ſeruaunt of the Lorde and gouernour of Juda, and the elders of the Iewes, to builde the houſe of the Lorde in that place.

28 I haue commaunded alſo to haue it built vp whole againe, and that they be diligent to helpe thoſe that be of the captiuitie of the Iewes, tyl the houſe of the Lorde be finiſhed.

29 And out of the tribute of Coeloſyria and Phenice, a portion diligently to be geuen thoſe men vnto the offeringes of the Lorde, and the ſame to be deliuered vnto Zorobabel the officer, that he therewithall may offeine oxen, rammes, and lambes:

31 That they may offer ſacrifyces dayly to the higheſt GOD for the king & for his chyldren, and to pray for theyr lines.

32 And he commaunded alſo, that who ſo euer ſhoulde breake any poynt of the forezayde and forededreed thinges, or make it voyde: of his owne goodes ſhoulde a tree be taken, and he thereon be hanged, and al his goodes ſealed vnto the kyng.

4 And they perfourmed all thinges through the commaundement of the Lorde God of Iſrael, and with conſent of Cyrus, Darius, and Artarerres, kings of Perſia.

5 And thus was the holy houſe finyſhed in the three & twentieth day of the moneth Adar, in the ſyxth yeere of Darius king of the Perſians.

6 And the chyldren of Iſrael, the prieſtes and the Leuites, and other that were of the captiuitie that had any charge, dyd accordyng to the thinges written in the booke of Moſes.

7 And to the dedication of the temple of the Lorde, they offered an hundred [a] oxen, two hundred rammes, foure hundred lambes, [a] or, Bullocks.

8 And twelue goates, for the ſinnes of al the people of Iſrael, after the number of the cheefe of the tribes of Iſrael.

6 The prieſtes alſo and the Leuites ſtoode arayed in their long robes, after their kinredes, in al the woorkes of the Lord God of Iſrael, accordyng to the booke of Moſes, and the porters at euery doore.

10 And the chyldre of Iſrael, with thoſe that were come out of captiuitie, helde the Paſſeouer the fourteenth day of the fyrſt moneth, after that the prieſtes and the Leuites were ſanctifyed.

11 They that were of the captiuitie, were not al ſanctifyed togeather: but the Leuites were all ſanctifyed togeather.

12 And ſo they offered the paſſeouer for all them of the captiuitie, and for their brethren the prieſtes, and for them ſelues.

13 And the chyldren of Iſrael that came out of captiuitie, dyd eate, all they that hadde ſeparated them ſelues from the abominations of the people of that land, and ſought the Lorde:

14 And they kept the feaſt of the vnleauened bread ſeuen dayes long, makyng merry before the Lorde, 9 The copie of the commiſſion whiche Artaxerxes the kyng wrote, and that was geuen to Eſdras the prieſt and reader of the lawe of the Lorde, this is it that foloweth.

10 Kyng Artaxerxes ſendeth his greetyng vnto Eſdras the prieſt and reader of the lawe of the Lorde.

11 I hauyng wayed thynges with pitie, haue ordeyned and charged, yf there be any of the Iewes, of the prieſtes and Leuites in my "Realme, whiche delyteth and is content to goe with thee vnto Iſrael, that he may doo it. "or, kingdome.

12 Therefore, ſo many as long thereafter, let them depart together, and goe with thee, lyke as I am content and my ſeuen freendes my counſaylours,

13 To ſee what they doo at Hieruſalem and in Iurie, conueniently, accordyng as thou haſt in the lawe of the Lorde:

14 And to bryng the gyftes vnto GOD the Lorde of Iſrael, that I and my freendes haue "promiſed to Hieruſalem, and all the ſyluer and golde that in the countrey of Babylon may be founde parteynyng to the Lorde in Hieruſalem, "or, vowed.

15 With the thyng that is geuen of the people to the Lord their Gods temple at Hieruſalem: that the ſame ſyluer and golde may be geathered for oxen, rammes, ſheepe, and goates, and other that belong to theſe thynges, Eſth. 8. 1.

16 That they may offer ſacrifices vnto the Lorde, vpon the aulter of the Lord their God which is at Hieruſalem.

17 And whatſoeuer thou and thy brethren wyl doo with the ſyluer and golde, that doo accordyng to the wyll of thy God.

18 And the holy veſſels of the Lorde, whiche are geuen thee for the ſeruice of the temple of thy God whiche is in Hieruſalem, thou ſhalt ſet them before thy God in Hieruſalem.

19 And what ſo euer thyng els thou ſhalt remember for the vſe of the temple of thy GOD, thou ſhalt geue it out of the kynges treaſure.

20 And I kyng Artaxerxes haue alſo commaunded the keepers of the treaſures in Syria and Phenice, that what ſo euer Eſdras the prieſt and the reader of the lawe of the hyghest God ſhall ſende for, they ſhoulde geue it hym with ſpeede:

21 Euen to the ſumme of an hundred talentes of ſyluer: of corne alſo an hundred "meaſures, and tyll an hundred "veſſels of wyne, and other thynges abundantly. "or, cor. "or, batos.

22 Let all thynges be doone after the lawe of God diligently, vnto the hyghest God, that wrath come not vppon the kyngdome of the kyng and of his ſonnes.

23 I commaunde you alſo, that ye requyre no tare nor tribute of the prieſtes, Leuites, holy ſyngers, porters, and miniſters of the temple, nor of any that haue doynges in this temple, and that no man haue authoritie to put any impoſt vpon them.

24 As for thee, O Eſdras, ſet thou Iudges and arbitrers to iudge in the whole lande of Syria and Phenice after the wyſedome of God, all ſkylfull in the lawe of God, and teache ſuch as are ignorant.

25 And let all them whiche ſhall offend againſt the lawe of God and the kyng, be diligently punished, whether it be by death or other payne, by punishyng in money, or els by banishment. Eſt. 18. 15

26 Then ſayde Eſdras the ſcribe, Bleſſed be the onely Lorde God of my fathers, that hath geuen ſo good a mynde and wyll into the hart of the kyng, to magnifye his houſe that is at Hieruſalem, 27 And hath "made me to be accepted in the ſight of the kyng, and of his counſayle, of his freendes, and of his nobles. "or, honoured me.

28 And ſo I was "ſtedfaſt in my mynde, accordyng "or, of a good courage.

arreadyng as the Lorde my God helped me, and I gathered vp men of Iſrael to goe vp with me.

29 ||And theſe are the guides after their Eſd.8.1. families and orders of dignities that went vp with me from Babylon in the raigne of kyng Artaxerxes.

30 Of the ſonnes of Phinees, Gerſom: of the ſonnes of Ithamar, Gamaliel: of the ſonnes of Dauid, Hattus the ſonne of Cechemah:

31 Of the ſonnes of Pharez, Zacharias, and with hym there returned agayne an hundred and fyftie men.

32 Of the ſonnes of Pahath, Moab, Elioenai, the ſonne of Zacharias, & with him two hundred men.

33 Of the ſonnes of Zathoe, Sechenias, the ſonne of Iezolus, and with him three hundred men: and of the ſonnes of Adin, Obed the ſonne of Ionathan, and with him two hundred and fyftie men.

34 Of the ſonnes of Elam, Ieſias, ſonne of Gotholias, and with hym ſeuentie men.

35 Of the ſonnes of Saphatias, Zarias ſonne of Machael, & with him threeſcore and ten men.

36 Of the ſonnes of Ioab, Badias ſonne of Iezelus, and with hym two hundred and twelue men.

37 Of the ſonnes of Banid, Aſſalimoth ſonne of Iolaphias, and with hym an hundred and three ſcore men.

38 Of the ſonnes of Babi, Zacharias ſonne of Bebai, and with him twentie and eight men.

39 Of the ſonnes of Aſtath, Johannes ſonne of Acatan, and with him an hundred and ten.

40 Of the ſonnes of Adonicam the laſt: and theſe are the names of them, Eliphalet, Ieuel, and Maias, and with them ſeuentie men.

41 Of the ſonnes of Bagouthi, ſonne of Iſtacourus, and with him ſeuentie men.

42 All theſe called I together by the water Thia, where we pytched our tentes three dayes, and there I muſtred them.

Ezr.8.15 43 ||As for the ſonnes of the prieſts and Leuites, I founde none there.

44 Then ſent I vnto Eleazar, and behold there came Maaſman, and Maloban, 45 And Anathan, and Samaian, and Joribon, and Nathan, Ennatan, Zacharian, and Moſollamon the cheefe & beſt learned:

46 And I had them that they ſhould goe vnto Daddeus the captayne, whiche was in the place of the treaſurie:

47 And commaunded them that they ſhoulde ſpeake vnto Daddeus, and to his brethren, and to thoſe that were the treaſurers, to ſende vs ſuche men as myght execute the prieſtes office in the houſe of our Lord.

48 And with the myghtie hande of our Lorde God, they brought vnto vs men of good "experience, from among the ſonnes of Moſi, the ſonne of Leui, the ſonne of Iſrael, Seredia, and his ſonnes, and his brethren, whiche were eyghteene. " Or, learning.

49 And Alebia, and Amon, and Oſaian his brethren, of the ſonnes of Canaineus, their ſonnes were twentie men.

50 And of them that ſerued in the temple, whom Dauid had ordeyned, & the principall men to the worke of the Leuites, that were miniſters in the temple, two hundred & twentie, whoſe names are al ſigned vp in writyng.

51 And then ||commaunded I a faſtyng vnto the young men before the Lorde, that I myght deſyre of him a proſperous iourney, and a good way both for vs & them that were with vs, for our chyldren, and for the cataple. ||1.Eſd.8.21

52 For I feared to deſyre of the kyng men of horſe & of foote, to conueygh vs ſafely agaynſt our enimies.

53 For we haue ſayde vnto the kyng, that the power of the Lorde our God ſhoulde be with them that ſeeke him, to directe them in al thynges.

54 And therefore we beſought our Lord agayne, as touching theſe thyngs, and found hym fauourable vnto vs.

55 Then I ſeparated from among the cheefe of the tribes, and from the prieſtes, twelue men, to wyt, Eſebrias, and Aſſanias, and ten men of their brethren with them.

56 And I weyghed them the golde, and the ſyluer, and the holy veſſelles of the houſe of our Lorde, whiche the kyng, and his counſayle, and his princes, and whole Iſrael had geuen.

57 And when I had weyghed it, I deliuered vnto them fyue hundred and fyftie talentes of ſyluer, and an hundred talentes in ſyluer veſſelles, and an hundred talentes of golde, 58 And twentie golden balons, & twelue veſſelles of braſſe, euen fyne braſſe, lyke ſhynyng golde.

59 And I ſayde vnto them, Ye are holy vnto the Lord, and the veſſelles are holy, and the gold and the ſyluer is "promiſed vnto the Lord God of our fathers. " Or, vowed.

60 "Be diligent nowe, and keepe it, vntil the time that ye deliuer it to the cheefe of the prieſtes and Leuites, & to the principall men of the families of Iſrael in Hieruſalem, in the chambers of the houſe of our God. " Or, watche.

61 So the Prieſtes & the Leuites whiche receyued of me the golde, the ſyluer, and the veſſelles, brought it vnto Hieruſalem vnto the temple.

62 And from the || riuer Thia we brake vp the twelfth day of the fyrſt moneth, accordyng to the myghtie hande of our Lorde whiche was with vs: and from the begynnyng of our iourney, the Lorde delyuered vs from euery enimie, ſo that we came vnto Hieruſalem.

63 And when the thyrde day was paſt, the weighed golde and ſyluer was delyuered in the houſe of the Lorde, on the fourth day, vnto Marimoth the Prieſt, & ſonne of Jozi:

64 And with hym was Eleazar the ſon of Phinees, and with them were Joſabdus the ſonne of Jeſu, and Moeth the ſonne of Sabbanus, Leuites: al was delyuered them by number and weyght.

65 And all the weyght of them was wrytten vp the ſame houre.

66 After that, they that were come out of captiuitie, offred ſacrifice vnto the Lorde God of Iſrael, euen twelue Oxen for all Iſrael, foure ſcore and ſyxteene Rammes, 67 Threeſcore & twelue ſheepe, twelue Goates for ſaluation, all in ſacrifice to the Lorde.

68 And the kynges commiſſion delyuered they vnto the kynges Stewardes, and to the gouernours of Coelolyria and Phenice, who honored the people & the temple of god.

69 Nowe when theſe thynges were doone, the rulers came vnto me, and ſayde,

70 The || nation of Iſrael, the princes, the Prieſts and Leuites, haue not put away from them the ſtrange people of the lande, nor the vncleanneſſe of the Gentiles: to wit, of the Chanaanites, Hethites, Pherezites, Jebuſites, and the Moabites, Egyptians, and Edomites:

71 For both they and their ſonnes haue myngled them ſelues with the daughters of them, and the holye ſeede is myxt with the ſtrange people of the lande: and ſince the begynnyng of the aſſayres, the rulers and head men haue been partakers of this wickednelle.

72 And as ſoone as I had heard theſe thynges, immediatly I rent my clothes and the holy garment, and pulled of the heare of my head and my beard, and ſate me downe ſorowfull and heauie.

73 So all they that were moued thorowe the worde of the Lorde God of Iſrael, came vnto me whileſt I wept for the iniquitie: but I ſate ſtyll full of heauineſſe vntyll the euenyng ſacrifice.

74 Then ſtoode I vp from faſtyng, hauyng rent clothes, and the holy garment, and kneeled downe vpon my knees, and held out my handes vnto the Lorde,

75 And ſayde, O Lord, || I am confounded and aſhamed before thy face.

76 For our ſynnes are become many, euen aboue our heades, and our ignorances are lyfted vp, euen vnto heauen:

77 For ſince the tyme of our fathers, we are in great ſinne vnto this day.

78 And for the || ſinnes of vs, and our fathers, we, with our brethren, and with our kynges, and with our prieſtes, haue been geuen vp vnto the kynges of the earth, into the ſworde, and into captiuitie, and became a ſpoyle with confuſion and ſhame vnto this day.

79 And nowe, O Lord God, howe great is the mercie that we haue gotten of thee, in that thou haſt left vs a roote and a name in the place of thy ſanctuarie, 80 And that thou haſt diſcouered to vs a lyght in the houſe of the Lorde our God, and haſt geuen vs meate in the tyme of our ſeruitude?

81 And when we were in captiuitie, we were not forſaken of the Lorde our God: but he made the kynges of Perſia gracious and fauourable vnto vs, ſo that they gaue vs victualles and meate, 82 Yea and honoured the temple of our Lord, and repayred the waſted places of Sion, and gaue vs aſſurance in Jurie and Hieruſalem.

83 And nowe, O Lorde, what ſhall we ſay, hauyng all theſe thynges in poſſeſſion? For we haue broken thy commaundementes, whiche thou gaueſt vnto vs by the handes of thy ſeruauntes the prophetes, ſaying,

84 || Becauſe the land, which ye goe to poſſeſſe as an heritage, is a land defiled with the vncleanneſſe and fylthineſſe of the ſtrangers of the land, and with their abomination they haue polluted it altogether:

45 Therfore nowe ſhall ye not ioyne their daughters vnto your ſonnes, neyther marrie your daughters to their ſonnes.

86 Moreouer, ye ſhal neuer ſeeke to make peace with them, that ye may "encreaſe & eate the beſt in the land, and that ye may leaue the inheritance of the lande vnto your chyldren for euermore.

87 As for the thynges that are come to paſſe, they come all for our wicked woorkes and great ſynnes: for thou, O Lorde, haſt made our ſynnes lyght,

88 And geuen vs ſuch a roote: but we haue turned backe agayne, ſo that we haue broken thy lawe, and myngled our ſelues with with the vnclenneſſe of the outlandiſhe heathen.

89 Wyghteſt not thou be angry with vs to deſtroy vs, ſo that thou ſhouldeſt leaue vs neyther roote, ſeede, nor name?

90 O Lorde God of Iſrael, thou art true: for our roote endureth yet vnto this preſent day.

91 And behold, nowe are we before thee in our ſinnes, neyther can we ſtande before thee for them.

Eſay. 10.1 92 And when Eſdras with this prayer had knowledged the ſinne, weepyng, and lying flat vpon the grounde before the temple, there gathered vnto hym from Hieruſalem, a great multitude of men and women, of young men and maidens: for there was a very great weepyng and mournyng among the multitude.

93 Then Iechonias the ſonne of Iſcheli, one of the childzen of Iſrael, cryed out, and ſaid, O Eſdras, we haue ſinned againſt the Lorde GOD, becauſe we haue maried ſtrange women of the nations of the lande.

94 And nowe all Iſrael hangeth in doubt: We wyl ſweare an oth therfore vnto the Lord, that we ſhal put away al our wiues " ſtrangers. which we haue taken of the " heathen, with theyr childzen:

95 Like as it may ſeeme good to thee, & to al thoſe that obey the lawe of the Lorde.

96 Stande vp, and put it in execution: for to thee doth this matter appartayne, and we are with thee to adde thee ſtrength.

97 So Eſdras arose, and tooke an othe of the cheefe of the prieſtes and Leuites of al Iſrael, to do after theſe thynges: and they ſware.

The.ix. Chapter.

1. After Eſdras had read the lawe for the ſtrange wiues, 18. they promyſed to put them away.

1.Eſd.10.6 THen Eſdras ||ryſyng from the court of the temple, went to the chamber of Joannan, the ſonne of Eliaſib,

2 And remayned there, and dyd eate no meate, nor dzonke " dzinke, weepyng for the great wyckedneſſe of the people.

3 And there was made a proclamation in al Iurie, and at Hieruſalem, for all them that were of the captiuitie, that they ſhoulde geather togeather at Hieruſalem,

4 And that who ſo euer met not there within two or three dayes, accordyng as the elders that bare rule appoynted, their cattel ſhould be ſealed to the vſe of the temple, & he be excluded from them that were of the captiuitie.

5 And in three dayes were al they of the tribe of Iuda and Beniamin geathered togeather at Hieruſalem, the twentieth day of the nienth moneth.

6 And the whole multitude ſate trembling in the " court of the temple, for it was wynter.
" or, the large roome.

7 So Eſdras arose vp, and ſaide vnto them, Ye haue done vnryghteouſly, in that ye haue taken " outlandyſhe wyues to mariage, and ſo to encreaſe the ſinnes of Iſrael.
" or, ſtrange.

8 And nowe knowledge the ſame, and geue praiſe vnto the lord God of our fathers:

9 And perfourme his wyll, departyng from the heathen of the lande, and from the " or, ſtrange. " outlandyſhe wyues.

10 Then cryed the whole multitude, and ſayde with a loude voyce, Lyke as thou haſt ſpoken, ſo wyl we do.

11 But foraſmuche as the people are many, and wynter ſeaſon, ſo that we may not ſtande without the houſe, and becauſe this worke is not a thyng that can be finiſhed in a day or two, ſeeyng we be many that haue ſinned in theſe thynges:

12 Dzdeine therefore that the rulers of the multitude, and they of our families that haue ſtrange wiues, tary.

13 And let the prieſtes and iudges come out of euery place in theyr time appoynted, tyl they ſwage the wzath of the Lord in this buſineſſe.

14 Then Jonathas the ſonne of Azaiel, and Ezechias the ſonne of Thecan, receiued the charge of this matter: and Moſollam, and Leuis, and Sabatheus helped them thereto.

15 And they that were of the captiuitie, dyd accordyng to all theſe thynges.

16 And Eſdras the prieſt chose vnto hym the principall men from among the fathers, and them all by name: and in the fyrſte day of the tenth moneth, they ſate togeather, to examine this matter.

17 And ſo the matter was a determinyng concernyng the men that had maryed ſtrange wyues, vntyl the newe moone of the firſt moneth.

18 And of the prieſtes that had myxte themſelues with " outlandiſhe wyues, there " or, ſtrange. were founde,

19 Of the ſonnes of Jeſu the ſonne of Joſedec, and his bzethzen, Mathelas, Eleazar, Joziibus, and Joadanus:

20 Whiche offered them ſelues to put away theyr wyues, and to offer a ramme vnto reconcilement for theyr purgation.

21 And of the ſonnes of Emmer, Ananias, and Jabdeus, and Canes, and Samaius, and Hiereel, and Azarias.

22 And of the ſonnes of Phaſu, Elionas, Maſſias, Elmaelus, and Nathanael, and Oſidelus, and Tallas.

23 And of the Leuites, Jozabadus, and Semis, and Colius, who was called Calitas, and Patheus, and Oudas, and Jonas.

24 Of the holy ſingers, Eleazarus, Bacchurus.

25 Of the porters, Sallumus, and Tolbantes.

26 Of them of Iſrael, of the ſonnes of Phozus, Hiermas, and Eddias, and Melchias, and Maelus, and Eleaſar, and Allbias, and Banaias.

27 Of the ſonnes of Ela, Mathanias, Zacharias, and Hierelias, and Hieremoth, and Aedias.

28 And of the ſonnes of Zamoth, Eliadas, Eliſimus, Othonias, Jarimoth, and Sabatus, and Sardeus.

29 Of the ſonnes of Bebai, Joannes, and Ananias, and Joſabad, and Ematheas.

30 Of the ſonnes of Mani, Olamus, Mamuchus, Jedaias, Jaſubus, Jaſael, and Jeremoth.

31 And of the ſonnes of Addi, Naathus, Mooſias, Caleus, and Naidus, and Mathanias, and Selchel, and Balmuus, and Mananleas.

32 And of the ſonnes of Annas, Elionas, and Aleas, & Melchias, and Sabbeus, and Simon a Cholamite.

33 And of the ſonnes of Alom, Altaneus, and Matthias, and Banaias, Eliphalet, and Manaſſes, and Semi.

34 And of the ſonnes of Maani, Jeremias, Momdis, Omairus, Jnel, Manai, and Paclias, and Amos, Carabaſion, and Euaſibus, and Mammimata, Naius, Eliſiaſis, Uarus, Eliali, Samis, Selemias, Nathanias: and of the ſonnes of Ozoras, Sebis, Elpil, Ezailus, Samatas, Sambis, Joſiphus.

35 And of the ſonnes of Ethna, Mazitias, Zabadias, Ethes, Jnel, Banaias.

36 All theſe had taken " outlandyſhe women to mariage, and they put them away with theyr chyldren. " or, ſtrange.

37 And the prieſtes and Leuites, and all they that were of Iſrael, dwelt at Hieruſalem, and throughout all the lande, in the " newe moone of the ſeuenth moneth: and the chyldren of Iſrael were in their " dwellynges. " or, first day. " or, owne houſes.

38 And the || whole multitude came togeather with one accorde, into the wyde place before the eaſt gate of the temple. ||.2.Eſdr.9.1

39 And they ſpake vnto Eldras the high prieſt and reader, that he would bryng the lawe of Moſes, whiche had ben geuen of the Lorde God of Iſrael.

40 So Eldras the high prieſt brought the lawe vnto the whole multitude, to man, and woman, and to al the prieſtes, that they myght heare the lawe in the " newe moone of the ſeuenth moneth. " or, begyn nyng.

41 And he read in the ſtrete wyde place that is before the porte of the temple, from the morning early vnto myddaye, before men and women: and they applyed theyr mynde all vnto the lawe.

42 And Eldras the prieſt, and reader of the lawe, ſtoode vp vpon a pulpyt of wood, whiche was made therefore.

43 And vpon his ryght hande, there ſtoode by him Mathathias, Samus, Ananias, Azarias, Urias, Ezechias, and Balaam:

45 Then tooke Eldras the booke of the law before the whole multitude (for he was the principal, & had in moſt honor of thē al.)

46 And when he expounded the lawe, they ſtoode al ſtrayght vpon theyr feete. So Eldras " prayſed the Lorde the moſte hygh God, the almightie God of hoſtes. " or, bleſſed.

47 And al the people aunſwered, Amen.

48 And Jeſus, Amus, Sarabias, Adinus, Jacobus, Battaias, Autamas, Maianias, Calitas, Azarias, Joſabadus, Ananias, and Biatas the Leuites, lyft vp theyr handes, and fell downe on the grounde, and worſhypped the Lorde, 49 And taught the lawe of the Lorde, and were earneſtly occupied togeather in the readyng thereof.

50 Then ſpake Atharates vnto Eldras the high prieſt and reader, and to the Leuites that taught the multitude, ſaying, 51 This day is holy vnto the Lord: and al when they hearde the lawe, wept.

52 So Eſdras ſayde, || Depart your way therfore: and eate the fat meates, and drinke the ſweete drynkes, and ſende gyftes vnto them that haue nothyng. ||2.Eſd.8.

53 For this day is holy vnto the Lorde, and be not ye ſory: for the Lorde will bryng you to honour.

54 So the Leuites " publiſhed al theſe thynges to the people, ſaying, This day is holy to the Lorde, be not ſory. " or, commaunded.

55 Then went they their way euery one to eate and drynke, and were mery, and ſent preſentes to them that had nothyng, and made very good cheare.

56 For they were as yet " fylled with the wordes that had ben taught them, and for the which they had ben aſſembled. " or, inſtructed.

¶ The ende of the thirde booke of Eſdras.

The fourth booke of Esdras.

The first Chapter.

1. The people is reproued for their vnthankefulnesse. 30. God wyl haue another people, if these wyl not be reformed.

3 The sonne of Aaron, of the tribe of Leui, which Esdras was prysoner in the land of Medes, in the raigne of Artaxerxes king of Persia.

4 And the woord of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

5 || Goe thy way, and shewe my people their sinful deedes, and their chyldren theyr wickednesse which they haue done agaynst me, that they may tell theyr chylders chyldren the same: Esai. 58. 5.

17 Where are the benefites that I haue done for you? When ye were hungry in the wyldernesse, dyd ye not crye vnto me, 23 I gaue you not " fyre for your blasphemies, but cast a tree into the water, and made the ryuer sweete. " or, vvood.

24 What shall I doo vnto thee, O Iacob? thou Iuda wouldest || not obey me: I wyl turne me to the other nations, and vnto those wyl I geue my name, that they may keepe my statutes. || Exod. 32. 8.

26 ||When ye call vpon me, I will not heare you: for ye haue defyled your handes with blood, and your feete are swifte to commit manslaughter. || Esai. 1. 25.

27 Ye haue not as it were forsaken me, but your owne selues, sayth the Lorde.

28 Thus sayth the almightie Lorde, Haue I not prayed you, as a father his sonnes, as a mother her daughters, and a nurse her young babes, 29 That ye wouldbe my people, and I shoulde be your God, that ye wouldbe my children, and I shoulde be your father?

‖ Mat.23.37 30 ‖ I gathered you togeather, as a henne gathereth her chickens vnder her winges: but nowe, what shal I do vnto you? I wyl cast you out from my face.

‖ Esai.66.3. 31 ‖ When you offer vnto me, I wyll turne my face from you: for your solemne feaste dayes, your newe moones, and your circumcisions haue I forsaken.

32 I sent vnto you my seruantes the prophetes, whom ye haue taken and slayne, and torne their bodies in peeces, whose blood I wyll " require of your handes, sayth the Lorde.

33 Thus sayth the almightie Lorde, Your house shalbe desolate, I wyll cast you out, as the winde doth stubble:

34 Your children shal not be " fruitful, for they haue dispised my commaundement, and done the thing that is euyl before me.

" or, haue procreation.

35 Your houses wyll I geue to a people that shal come, which not hauyng hearde of me, yet shall beleeue me: to whom I haue shewed no signes, yet they shall doo that I haue commaunded them.

36 They haue seene no Prophetes, yet shal they " call their sinnes to remembrance, and knowledge them.

" or, hate theyr iniquities.

37 I wyl declare the grace that I wyl do for the people that is to come, whose children reioyce in gladnesse: and though they haue not seene me with bodyly eyes, yet in spirite they beleeue the thing that I say.

38 And nowe brother, beholde what great " worshipe and see the people that commeth from the east.

" or, glory.

¶ The.ii. Chapter.

The synagogue findeth faulte with her owne children.18. The Gentiles are called.

THus sayth the Lorde, I brought this people out of bondage, I gaue them my commaundements by my seruantes the prophetes, whom they wouldbe not heare, but despised my counsayles.

2 The mother that bare them, saith vnto them, Goe your way ye children, for I am a widowe and forsaken.

3 I brought you vp with gladnesse, but with sorowe and heauinesse haue I lost you, for ye haue sinned before the Lorde your God, and done that thing that is euyl before hym.

4 But what shal I nowe do vnto you? I am a widowe and forsaken: goe your way, O my children, and aske mercy of the Lord.

5 As for me, O father, I call vpon thee for a witnesse ouer the mother of these children, which wouldbe not keepe my couenant:

6 That thou bryng them to confusion, and theyr mother to a spoyle, that she beare no more.

7 Let their names be scattered abroade among the Heathen, let them be put out of the earth: for they haue " thought scorne of my couenant.

" or, despised.

8 Wo be vnto thee Assur, thou that hydest the vnrighteous in thee: thou wicked people, remember what I did vnto ‖ Sodome and Gomorrhe,

‖ Gen.19.

9 Whose lande is turned into cloddes of pitche, and heapes of ashes: euen so also, wyll I doo vnto al them that heare me not, sayth the almightie Lorde.

10 Thus sayth the Lorde vnto Elizas, Tel my people that I wyll geue them the kyngdome of Hierusalem, whiche I wouldbe haue geuen vnto Israel.

11 Their glory also wil I take vnto me, and geue them the euerlasting Tabernacles, whiche I had prepared for those.

12 They shal haue the tree of lyfe at wyl, as in the sweete sauour of oyntment, they shall neyther labour, nor be weery.

13 Goe ye your way, and ye shal receiue it: pray that there may be fewe dayes, and the long tyme may be shortened for thee: the kingdome is already prepared for you, therefore watche.

14 Take heauen and earth to witnesse, for I haue broken the euyl in peeces, and created the good: for I liue, saith the Lorde.

15 Mother embrace thy children, and bryng them vp with gladnesse, make their feete as fast as a piller: for I haue chosen thee, sayth the Lorde.

16 And those that be dead, will I rayse vp againe from theyr places, and bring them out of the graues: for I haue knowen my name in Israel.

17 Feare not thou mother of the children: for I haue chosen thee, saith the Lorde.

18 And for thy helpe I shall sende thee my seruantes Esai and Jeremie, after whose counsayle I haue sanctified and prepared for thee twelue trees, laden with dyuers fruites.

19 And as many fountaynes, flowyng with mylke and hony: and seuen myghtie mountaynes, whereupon there grewe roses and lylies, whereby I will fyll thy chyldren with ioy.

20 Execute iustice for the wyddowe, iudge for the fatherlesse, geue to the poore, defende the fatherlesse, clothe the naked, 21 Heale the wounded and sycke, laugh not a lame man to scorne, defend the creeple, and let the blinde come into the lyght of my clearenesse.

22 Keepe the olde and young that are within thy walles.

Lob.10.22 23 ‖ Whersoeuer thou findest the dead, take them, and bury them, and I shall geue thee the first place in my resurrection.

24 Abyde styll, O my people, and take thy rest, for thy quietnesse shal come.

25 Feede thy chyldren, O thou good nurse, stablyshe theyr feete.

26 As for the seruantes whom I haue geuen thee, there shall not one of them perysshe: for I wyll seeke them from among thy number.

27 Be not weery: for when the day of trouble and heauynesse commeth, other shal weepe and be sorowful, but thou shalt be mery and plenteous.

28 The heathen shalbe ielous at it, but they shalbe able to do nothyng agaynst thee, sayth the Lorde.

29 My hands shal couer thee, so that thy chyldren shal not see the " fyre euerlastyng.

30 Be ioyful, O thou mother, with thy chyldren, for I wyll deliuer thee, sayth the Lorde.

31 Remember thy children that sleepe, for I shal bryng them out of the tydes of the earth, and shewe mercy vnto them: for I am mercyful, sayth the Lorde almyghtie.

32 Imbrace thy children vntil I come, and shew mercy vnto them: for my " welles runne ouer, and my grace shal not fayle.

33 ‖ Esdras receiued a charge of the Lord vpon the mount Oreb, that I shoulde goe vnto Israel: but when I came vnto them, they set me at nought, and despised the commaundementes of the Lorde.

34 And therefore I say vnto you, O ye heathen that heare and vnderstand, "Looke for your shephearde, he shall geue you euerlastyng rest: for he is nigh at hand that shal come in the ende of the worlde.

35 Be redy to the rewarde of the kyngdome, for the euerlastyng lyght shall shyne vpon you for euermore.

36 Flee the shadowe of this worlde, receiue the ioyfulnesse of your glory: I testifie my sauiour openly.

37 O receiue the gift that is geuen you, and be glad, geuing thankes vnto hym that hath called you to the heauenly kyngdome.

38 Arise vp, and stande fast, beholde the number of those that be sealed " in the feast of the Lorde, " or, for.

39 Whiche are departed from the shadowe of the worlde, & haue receiued glorious garmentes of the Lorde.

40 Take thy number, O Sion, & shutte vp " thy purified, whiche haue fulfylled the lawe of the Lorde.

" or, those of thine that are clothed in white.

41 The number of thy chyldren whom thou longedst for, is fulfilled: beseeche the power of the Lorde, that thy people whiche haue ben called from the begynnyng, may be halowed.

42 ‖ I Esdras saw vpon the mount Sion a great people, whom I coulde not number: and they al praysed the lord with songes of thankes geuyng.

‖ Apoc.7.9.

43 And in the middest of thē there was a young man of an hygh stature, more excellyng then al they, and vpon euery one of theyr heades he set crownes, and was euer " higher and higher, whiche I marueyled at greatly.

" or, and was hygher then the other.

44 So I asked the angel, and said, Syr, what are these?

45 He aunswered, and sayde vnto me, These be they that haue put of the mortall clothing, and put on the immortal, and haue " testified and knowledged the name of God: nowe are they crowned, and receiue the " rewarde.

" or, haue confessed.

" or, the Palmes.

46 Then sayd I vnto the angel, What young person is it that crowneth them, and geueth them the Palmes in theyr handes?

47 So he aunswered and sayd vnto me, It is the sonne of GOD, whom they haue " knowledged in the worlde: then began I greatly to commend them that stoode so stifly for the name of the Lorde.

" or, confessed.

48 Then the angel sayd vnto me, Goe thy way, and tel my people what manner of thynges, and howe great wonders of the Lorde thy God thou hast seene.

The .iii. Chapter.

4. The vvonderous vvoorkes vvhich God did for the people are recited. 31. Esdras marueyleth that god suffereth the Babylonians to haue rule ouer his people, vvhich yet are sinners also.

IN the thirtieth yeere after the fal of the citie, I was at Babylon, and lay troubled vpon my bedde, and my thoughtes came vp ouer my hart.

2 For I saw the desolation of Sion, and the plenteous wealth of them that dwelt at Babylon.

3 And my spirite was soare moued, so that I began to speake fearefull wordes to the most highest, and sayde,

4 O Lord, Lord, thou spakest at the beginning, when thou plantedst the earth (and that thee selfe alone) and gauest commaundement vnto the people,

|| Gene. 2. 7. or, vvorkmanship.

5 And a || body vnto Adam without soule, which was a " creature of thy hands, and hast breathed in hym the breath of lyfe, and so he liued before thee:

6 And thou leddest hym into paradise, which thy right hande had planted or euer the earth brought fruites:

7 And vnto him thou gauest commaundement to loue thy way, whiche he transgressed, and immediatly thou appoyntedst death in hym, and in his generations: of whom came nations, tribes, people, and kynredes out of number.

|| Gene. 6. 12.

8 And euery people || walked after their owne wil, and did wonderful thynges before thee: and as for thy commaundementes, they despised.

|| Gene. 7. 10. " or, at tyme appoynted.

9 || But ", in processe of tyme thou broughtest the water flood vpon those that dwelt in the worlde, and destroyest them.

10 So that by ꝑ flood, that was wrought in each of them, that was by death in Adam.

11 Neuertheless, one of them thou lefte st, namely Noah, with his houshold, of whom came al ryghteous men.

12 And it " happened that when they that dwelt vpon the earth began to multiplie, and had gotten them many chyldren, and were a great people, they began to be more vngodly then the first.

13 Nowe when they liued so wickedly before thee, thou diddest || choose thee a man frō among them, whose name was Abraham.

14 Hym thou louedst, and vnto hym only thou shewedst thy wyl:

15 And madest an euerlasting couenant with him, promising him that thou wouldest neuer forsake his seede.

|| Gen. 21. 2.

16 And vnto him thou gauest || Isahac, vnto Isahac also thou gauest Jacob and Esau. As for Jacob, thou diddest choose hym to thee, and || put backe Esau: and so Jacob became a great multitude.

17 And it came to passe, that when thou leddest his sede out of Egypt, thou || broughtest them vp to the mount Sina,

|| Deut. 4. 10

" or, abasing.

18 Bowing downe the heauens, " setting fast the earth, mouing the grounde, making the deapthes to shake, and " troublyng the worlde.

" or, astonishing.

19 And thy glory went through foure " portes, of fyre, and earthquakes, and windes, and colde, that thou myghtest geue the lawe vnto the seede of Jacob, and " diligence vnto the generation of Israel.

" or, and that which the generation of Israel should keepe with diligence.

20 And yet tookest thou not away from them that wycked hart, that thy lawe might bring forth fruite in them.

21 For the first Adam bearing a wicked || hart, transgressed, and was ouercome: and so be al they that are borne of hym.

|| Gen. 3. 6.

22 Thus remained weakenesse stil: and the lawe in the hartes of the people, with the wyckednesse of the roote, so that the good departed away, and the euyl abode styl.

23 So the times passed away, and the yeeres were brought to an ende: then diddest thou || rayse thee vp a seruant called Dauid,

|| 1. Re. 16. 2. Reg. 5.

24 Whom thou commaundedst to build a citie vnto thy name, and to offer vp incense and sacrifice vnto thee therein.

25 Whē this was done now many yeres, then the inhabiters of the citie forsoke thee, 26 And in al thinges did euen as Adam and al his generations had done: for they also had a wycked hart.

27 And so thou gauest the citie ouer into the handes of thyne enimies.

28 But do they of Babylon then any thing better, that they should therefore haue the dominion in Sion?

29 For when I came thither, and sawe there so great wickednesse that it could not be numbred: then my soule sawe many euyl doers in this thirtieth yeere, so that my hart fayled me:

30 For I saw how thou sufferedst them in such vngodlynesse, and sparedst the wycked doers: but thine owne people hast thou rooted out, and preserued thyne enimies, and this hast thou not shewed " me.

" or, it.

31 I can not perceiue howe this " happeneth. Do they of Babylon then better then they of Sion?

" or, commeth to passe.

32 Or is there any || other people that knoweth thee, sauing the people of Israel? or what generation hath so beleeued thy " couenantes, as Jacob?

|| Jer. 10.

" or, testimonies.

33 And yet their reward appeareth not, and their labour hath no fruite: for I haue gone here and there through the heathen, and I see that they be " rich and wealthie, and thinke not vpon thy commaundements.

" or, flowing in wealth.

34 Weygh thou therefore our wickednesse nowe in the ballance, and theyrs also that dwell in the worlde: and so shall thy name be no where founde, but in Israel.

35 Or whē was it that they which dwel vpon earth, haue not sinned in thy sight? or what people hath so kept thy commaundementes?

36 Thou shalt find that Israel by name hath kept thy preceptes; but not the other people

The.iii. Chapter.

The angel reproueth Eſdras, becauſe he ſeemeth to enter into the profounde iudgementes of God.

AND the angel that was ſent vnto me, whoſe name was Uriel, gaue me an anſweare,

2 And ſayde, Thy hart hath taken to much vpon it in this worlde, and thou thinkeſt to comprehende the way of the highеſt.

3 Then ſayd I, Yea my Lorde. And he anſwered me, and ſayde, I am ſent to ſhewe thee three wayes, and to ſet fourth three ſimilitudes before thee:

4 Whereof, if thou canſt declare me one, I will ſhewe thee alſo the way that thou deſireſt to ſee: and I ſhall ſhewe thee from whence the wycked hart commeth.

5 And I ſayd, Tel on my Lorde. Then ſayde he vnto me, Goe thy way, weygh me the weyght of the fyre, or meaſure me the blaſte of the winde, or cal me againe the day that is paſt.

6 Then anſwearedſt I, and ſayde, What man borne, is able to do that, that thou ſhouldeſt aſke ſuch thinges of me?

7 And he ſayd vnto me, If I ſhould aſke thee howe deepe dwellinges are in the middeſt of the ſea, or howe great water ſpringes are in the beginning of the deepe, or howe great water ſpringes are vppon the ſtretching out of the heauens, or which are the outgoynges of paradiſe:

8 Peraduenture thou wouldeſt ſay vnto me, I neuer went downe yet into the deepe, nor hel, neyther dyd I euer clymbe vp into heauen.

9 Neuertheleſſe, now haue I aſked thee but onely of fyre, and wynde, and of the day wherethrough thou haſt trauayled, and from the whiche thou canſt not be ſeparated, and yet canſt thou geue me no anſwere of them.

10 He ſayd moreouer vnto me, Thyne owne thynges, and ſuch as are growen vp with thee, canſt thou not knowe:

11 Howe ſhoulde thy veſſell then be able to comprehende the way of the hyghеſt, and nowe outwardly in the corrupt worlde to vnderſtande the corruption that is euident in my ſight?

12 Then ſayde I vnto hym, It were better that we were not at al, then that we ſhould lyue in wyckednеſſe, and to ſuffer, and not to knowe wherefore.

13 He anſwearedſt me, and ſaid, I || came to a forreſt in a playne, and the trees tooke ſuch a deuice,

14 And ſayde, Come, let vs goe, and fight againſt the ſea, that it may depart away before vs, and that we may make yet more woods.

15 The flooddes of the ſea alſo in lyke maner tooke counſayle, and ſayde, Come, let vs goe vp, and fight againſt the trees of the wood, that there we may make vs another countrey.

16 The thought and deuice of the wood was but vayne and nothyng worth, for the fyre came and conſumed it.

17 The thought of the flooddes of the ſea, came lykewyſe to nought alſo: for the ſande ſtoode vp and ſtopped them.

18 If thou were iudge nowe betwixt theſe two, whom wouldeſt thou iuſtifie, or whom wouldeſt thou condemne?

19 I anſwearedſt, and ſayd, Verily it is a fooliſhe thought that they both haue deuiſed: for the ground is geuen vnto the wood, and the ſea alſo hath his place to beare his flooddes.

20 Then anſwearedſt he me, and ſayde, Thou haſt geuen a right iudgement: but why iudgeſt thou not thee ſelfe alſo?

21 For lyke as the grounde is geuen vnto the wood, and the ſea to his flooddes: || euen ſo they that dwel vppon earth, may vnderſtande nothyng but that which is vppon earth: and he that dwelleth aboue the heauens, may onely vnderſtand the thinges that are aboue the heauens. || Eſai.55.8. Iohn.3.32. 1 Cor.2.13.

22 Then anſwearedſt I, and ſayd, I beſeeche thee, O Lorde, let me haue vnderſtandyng, 23 For it was not my mynde " to be curious of thy high thinges, but of ſuche as we dayly meddle withal, namely, as wherefore Iſrael is geuen vp as a reproche to the heathen, and for what cauſe the people whom thou haſt loued is geuen ouer vnto vngodly nations, and why the lawe of our forefathers is brought to nought, and the written " couenantes come to none effect: " or, to enquire. " or, ordinances.

24 And we paſſe away out of the world as the graſſhoppers, and our lyfe is a very feare, and we are not worthy to obteyne mercie.

25 What wyl he do then vnto his name which is called vppon ouer vs? Of theſe thinges haue I aſked queſtion.

26 Then anſwearedſt he me, and ſayde, The more thou ſearcheſt, the more thou ſhalt marueyle: for the world haſteth faſt to paſſ away, 27 And can not comprehende the things that are promiſed to the righteous in tyme to come: for this worlde is full of vnrighteouſneſſe and weakneſſe.

28 But as concernyng the thynges whereof thou askest me, I wyl tel thee: The euyll is sowen, but the destruction thereof is not yet come.

29 If the euyll nowe that is sowen, be not turned vpside downe, and if the place where the euyl is sowen passe not away: then can not the thyng come that is sowen with good.

30 For the corne of euil seede hath ben sowen in the hart of Adam from the beginning: and howe much vngodlynesse hath he brought vp vnto this tyme? and howe much shal he yet bryng foorth vntyll he come into the barne?

31 Ponder nowe by thee selfe howe great fruite of wickednesse the corne of euyl seede bryngeth foorth.

32 And when the stalkes shalbe cut downe, which are without number, howe great a barne shal it fyl?

33 Then I answeared, and said, Howe, and when shal these thynges come to passe? wherefore are our yeeres fewe and euyl?

34 And he answeared me, saying, Haste not thou to much aboue the most highest: for thy hastinesse to be aboue him, is but vayne, though thou doo all that thou canst for it.

35 Dyd not the soules also of the righteous aske question of these thynges in their chambers, saying, Howe long shal I hope on this fashion? when commeth the fruite of my barne, and our rewarde?

36 And vppon this, Jeremiel the archangel gaue them answeare, & sayd, Euen when the number of the seedes is filled in you, for he hath weighed the world in the ballance.

37 In measure and number hath he measured the times, and moueth it not, nor shaketh it, vntyl þ sayd measure be fulfilled.

38 Then answeared I, and sayde, O Lorde, Lorde, now are we al full of sinne:

39 And for our sake peraduenture it is that the barne of the righteous is not fulfilled, because of the sinnes of them that dwel vpon the earth.

40 So he answeared me, and sayd, Goe thy way to a woman with childe, and aske of her, when she hath fulfilled her niene monethes, if her wombe may keepe the birth any longer within her?

41 Then sayd I, No Lord, that can she not. And he sayde vnto me, In the graue, the secrete places of soules are lyke the wombe of a woman:

42 For lyke as a woman that trauayleth, maketh haste to escape the necessitie of the trauayle: euen so do these places haste to deliuer those things that are committed vnto them.

43 Looke what thou desyrest to see, it shalbe shewed thee from the beginning.

44 Then answeared I, and sayde, If I haue founde fauour in thy sight, and if it be possible, and if I be meete therefore, 45 Shewe me then whether there be more to come then is past, or more past then is for to come.

46 What is past, I knowe: but what is for to come, I knowe not.

47 And he sayde vnto me, Stande vp vpon the ryght syde, and I shal expounde the similitude vnto thee.

48 So I stoode, and beholde an hot burnyng ouen passed by before me: and it happened, that when þ flame was gone by, I loked, & behold, the smoke had þ vpper hand:

49 After this there passed by before me a waterie cloud, and sent downe much rayne with a storme: and when the stormie rayne was past, [a] the droppes remayned styl.

50 Then sayde he vnto me, Consyder with thee selfe: lyke as the rayne is more then the droppes, and as the eye exceedeth the smoke: euen so, the measure of the things that are past hath the vpper hande, and the droppes and smoke woorke muche in quantitie.

51 Then I prayed, and sayde, May I liue thynkest thou vntyl that tyme? or what shal happen in those dayes?

52 He answeared me; and sayd, As for the tokens whereof thou askest me, I may tel thee of them in part: but as touchyng thy lyfe, I am not sent to shewe thee: for I dos not knowe it.

[a] or, the lyd droppes came after.

The.v.Chapter.

1. In the latter tymes trueth shalbe hydde, vnrighteousnesse and al vvickednesse shal raigne in the vvorlde.

NEuertheleſſe, as concernyng the tokens marke this: beholde, the dayes shall come, that they whiche dwel vpon earth shalbe taken in a great number, and the way of the trueth shalbe hyd, and the lande shalbe barren from fayth:

2 But || iniquitie shalbe encreased aboue that which nowe thou seest, or that thou hast hearde long agoe. || Mat.24.

3 And the lande that thou seest nowe to haue rule, shalt thou shortly see wast.

4 But if God graunt thee to lyue, thou shalt see after the thirde trumpet, that the sunne shal sodainly shine againe in the night, and the moone three tymes in the day:

5 And blood shall droppe out of wood, and the stone shall geue his voyce, and the people shalbe vnquieted:

6 And euen he shal rule, whom they hope not that dwel vpon earth, and the soules shall shall flitter.

7 And the Sodomitishe sea shall cast out fishe, and make a noyse in the nyght, whiche many haue not knowen: but they shal all heare the voyce thereof.

8 There shalbe a confusion also in many places, and the fire shalbe oft sent out agayne: and the wild beastes shal change their places, and monstrous women shall beare monsters,

9 And salte waters shalbe founde in the sweete, & al freendes shal fight one against another: then shal al wit and vnderstanding be hyde, and put aside into their secret places:

10 And shalbe sought of many, and yet not be founde: then shall vnryghteousnesse and "voluptuousnesse haue the vpper hande vpon earth.

11 One lande also shall aske another, and say, Is ryghteousnesse that "maketh a man ryghteous gone through thee? And it shall say, No.

12 At the same tyme shall men hope, but nothyng obteyne: they shall labour, but theyr wayes shall not prosper.

13 To shewe thee suche tokens I haue leaue: and yf thou wylt pray agayne, and weepe as nowe, and fast seuen dayes, thou shalt heare yet greater thynges.

14 Then I awaked, & a fearefulnesse went through al my body, and my mynd was feeble, so that I almost sowned withall.

15 So the angel that was come to talke with me, helde me, comforted me, and set me vp vpon my feete.

16 And in the seconde nyght it came to passe, that Salathiel the captayne of the people came vnto me, sayeing, Where hast thou been? and why is thy countenance so heauie?

17 Knowest thou not that Israel is committed vnto thee in the lande of theyr captiuitie?

18 Up then, and eate, and forsake vs not as the shepheard that leaueth his flocke in the handes of "wycked woolues.

19 Then sayde I vnto hym, Goe thy wayes fro me, and come not nigh me. And he hearde it, and as I sayde, so he went his way from me.

20 And so I fasted seuen dayes, mourning and weepyng, like as Uriel the angel commaunded me.

21 And after seuen dayes so it was, that the thoughtes of my harte were very greeuous vnto me agayne:

22 And my soule receyued the spirite of vnderstandyng, and I begamne to talke with the most highest agayne,

23 And sayde, O Lorde, Lorde, of euery wood of the earth, and of all the trees thereof, thou hast chosen thee one onely vyneyarde:

24 And of all lands of the whole world, thou hast chosen thee one pyt: and of al flowers of the ground, thou hast chosen thee one Lillie:

25 And of all the deapthes of the sea, thou hast fylled thee one ryuer: and of all buylded cities, thou hast halowed Sion vnto thee selfe:

26 And of al the foules that are created, thou hast named thee one doue: and of all the cattel that are made, thou hast prouided thee one sheepe:

27 And among all the multitudes of peoples, thou hast gotten thee one people: and vnto this people whom thou louedst, thou gauest a lawe that is proued of al.

28 And nowe, O Lorde, why hast thou geuen this one people ouer vnto many? and vppon the one roote thou hast "prepared others, and why hast thou scattered thy one onely people among many?

29 Whiche treade them downe, yea whiche haue euer withstande thy promises, and neuer beleeued thy couenauntes.

30 If thou diddest so muche hate thy people, yet shouldest thou punishe them with thyne owne handes.

31 Nowe when I hadde spoken these woordes, the angel that came to me the nyght afore, was sent vnto me, 32 And sayde vnto me, Heare me, and I wyll instruct thee, hearken to the thing that I say, and I shall tell thee more.

33 And I sayde, speake on my Lorde. Then saide he vnto me, Thou art sore troubled in minde for Israels sake: louest thou that people better then he that made them?

34 And I saide, No Lorde, but of very greefe and compassion haue I spoken: for my reynes payne me euery houre, because I woulde "haue experience of the way of the most highest, and seeke out part of his iudgement.

35 And he saide vnto me, That thou "mayest not. And I sayde, Wherefore Lorde? wherevnto was I borne then? or why was not my mothers wombe then my graue, that I might not haue seene the miserie and trouble of Iacob, and the wearing out of the flocke of Israel?

36 And he said vnto me, Number me the thinges that are not yet come, gather me together the drops that are scattered abroade, make me the flowres greene agayne that are withered,

37 Open me the places that are closed, and bring me forth the windes that in them are shut vp, shewe me the image of a voyce: and then I wyll declare to thee the thyng that that thou labourest to knowe.

38 And I sayde, O Lorde, Lorde, who may knowe these thynges, but he that hath not his dwellyng with men?

39 As for me, I am vnwise: how may I then speake of these things whereof thou askest me?

40 Then sayd he vnto me, Like as thou canst doo none of these thynges that I haue spoken of: euen so canst thou not finde out my iudgement, or in the ende the loue that I haue promised vnto my people.

41 And I sayde, Beholde, O Lorde, yet art thou nigh vnto them that be reserued tyll the ende: and what shal they doo that haue been before me, or we that be nowe, or they that shal come after vs?

42 And he sayde vnto me, I wyl liken my iudgement vnto a ryng: Lyke as there is no slackenesse of the last, euen so there is no swiftnesse of the first.

43 So I answeared, and sayd, Couldest thou not make those that haue been made, & be now, and that are for to come, at once, that thou mightest shew thy iudgemēt the sooner.

44 Then answeared he me, and sayde, The creature may not haste "aboue the maker, neither may the worlde hold them at once that shalbe created therein.

45 And he sayd, As thou hast sayd vnto thy seruant, that thou whiche quickenest all things, hast geuen lyke at once to the creature or vvoorke that thou hast created, and the creature bare it: euen so might it nowe also beare them that nowe be present at once.

46 And he sayde vnto me, Aske the wombe of a woman, and say vnto her, If thou bryngest foorth chyldren, why doest thou it not togeather, but one after another? Pray her therefore to bring foorth tenne children at once.

47 And I sayd, Shee can not: but must doo it by distance of time.

48 Then sayde he vnto me, Euen so haue I diuided the distance of time the childbedde of the earth, for those that be sowen vppon her.

49 For lyke as a young chylde may not bryng foorth the thynges that belong to the aged, euen so haue I ordeyned "the worlde whiche I created.

50 And I asked, and sayde, Seeyng thou hast now geuen me the way, I wyl proceede to speake before thee: for our mother, of whom thou hast told me that she is young, byideth she nowe nigh vnto age?

51 He answeared me, and sayde, Aske a woman that beareth children, and she shal tel thee, 35 Say vnto her, Wherefore are not they whom thou hast nowe brought foorth, lyke those that were before thee, but lesse of stature?

53 And she shall answeare thee, They that be borne in the youth of strength, are of one fashion: and they that are borne in the tyme of age (when the wombe fayleth) are otherwyse.

54 Consyder nowe thee selfe, howe that ye are lesse of stature, then those that were before you:

55 And so are they that come after you lesse then ye, as the creatures whiche nowe begyn to be olde, and haue passed ouer the strength of youth.

56 Then sayd I, Lord, I beseeche thee, yf I haue founde fauoure in thy sight, shewe thy seruant by whom thou visitest thy "creature?

¶ The.vi. Chapter.

1. God hath foreseene al things in his secrete counsayle, and is authour thereof, and hath created them for his chyldren. 25. The felicitie of the age to come.

AND he sayde vnto me, In the begynnyng when the "grounde was made, before the borders of the worlde stood, or euer the wyndes blewe,

2 Before it thundred and lightened, or euer the fundations of Paradise were layde,

3 Before the fayre flowers were seene, or euer the moueable powers were established, before the innumerable "multitude of angels were geathered togeather,

4 Or euer the highnesse of the ayre were lyfted vp, afore the measures of the firmament were named, or euer the chymneyes in Sion were hot,

5 And or the present yeeres were sought out, and or euer the inuentions of them that nowe sinne were "put aside, before they were sealed that haue geathered sayth for a treasure:

6 Then did I consyder & ponder al these thinges, and they all were made through me alone, and through none other: by me also they shalbe ended, and by none other.

7 Then answeared I, and sayd, What shalbe the "partyng asunder of the tymes: or when shalbe the ende of the first, and the begynnyng of it that followeth?

8 And he sayd vnto me, From Abraham vnto Isahac, when Iacob and Esau were borne of hym, Iacobs || hande helde first the heele of Esau:

|| Gen. 25.

Jacob is the begynnyng of it that followeth.

10 The hand of man, betwixt the heele and the hande: Other question Esdras aske thou not.

11 I answeared then, & sayd, O Lorde, Lord, yf I haue founde fauour in thy syght, 12 I beseeche thee "shewe thy seruant the ende of thy tokens, wherof thou shewedst me part the last nyght.

13 So he answeared, and sayd vnto me, Stande vp vpon thy feete, and heare "a perfect voyce and sounde.

14 There shall come a "great motion, but the place where thou standest, shall not be mooued.

15 And therefore when "thou hearest the woordes, be not afrayde, for of the ende shal the woorde be, and of the fundation of the earth shal it be vnderstande.

16 And why? the woorde therof trembleth & quaketh: for it knoweth that it must be changed at the ende.

17 And it happened, that when I had hearde it, I stoode vp vpon my feete, & harkened: and beholde, there was a voyce that spake, and the sound of it, was lyke the sound of many waters,

18 And it sayde, Beholde, the dayes come, that I wyl begyn to drawe nygh, and to visite them that dwel vpon earth:

19 And wyl begyn to make inquisition of them, what they be that haue hurt vniustly with their vnrighteousnesse, and when the lowe estate of Sion shalbe fulfylled.

20 And when the worlde that shall vanishe away shalbe ouersealed, then wyl I doo these tokens: the bookes shalbe opened before the "fyrmament, and they shal see altogeather:

21 And the chyldren of a yeere olde shal speake with their voyces, the women with chylde shal bryng foorth vntymely chyldren of three or foure monethes old, and they shal lyue, and be rayled vp.

22 And sodainely shal the sowen places appeare as the vnsowen, the ful store houses shal sodaynely be founde emptie:

23 And the trumpet shal geue a sound, whiche when euery man heareth, they shalbe hastyly afrayde.

24 At that tyme shall frendes fyght one agaynst another lyke enimies, and the earth shal stande in feare with them: the fyrynges of the welles shall stande styll, and in three houres they shal not runne.

25 Whosoeuer remaineth from al these thynges that I haue told thee, "shal escape, and see my saluation, and the ende of your worlde.

26 And the men that are receyued, shal see it, they that haue not tasted death from their byrth: and the hart of the "indwellers shalbe changed, and turned into an other meanyng.

27 For euyl shalbe put out, and deceite shalbe quenched.

28 As for sayth, it shal flourysshe, corruption shalbe ouercome, and the trueth whiche hath been so long without fruite, shalbe "declared.

29 And when he talked with me, beholde, I looked a litle and a litle vpon hym, before whom I stoode:

30 And these woordes sayd he vnto me, I am come to shewe thee the time of the nyght for to come.

31 Yf thou wylt pray yet more, and fast seuen dayes agayne, I shall tell thee more thynges, and greater then before, whiche I haue hearde by the day.

32 For thy voyce is hearde before the hyghest: for why? the myghtie hath seene thy righteous dealyng, he hath seene also thy chastitie whiche thou hast had euer since thy youth:

33 And therefore hath he sent me to shewe thee all these thynges, and to say vnto thee, Be of good comfort, and feare not:

34 And haste not with the tymes that are past, to thynke vayne thynges, that thou mayest not hasten from the latter tymes.

35 And it came to passe after this, that I wept againe, and fasted seuen daies in like maner, that I might fulfyl the three weekes whiche he tolde me.

36 And in the eight night was my hart vexed within me agayne, and I beganne to speake before the hyghest.

37 For my spirite was greatly set on fyre, and my soule was in distresse:

38 And I sayde, O Lorde, thou spakest vnto thy creature from the beginnyng, euen the first day, & saydest, Let || heauen & earth be made: & thy woorde was a perfect worke. || Gene. 1. 1.

39 And then was there the spirite, and the darkenesses were yet on euery syde, and scilence: there was no mans voyce as yet from thee.

40 Then commaundedst thou a "fayre lyght to come foorth of thy treasures, that thy woorke myght appeare and be seene.

41 Vppon the seconde day thou madest the spirite of the fyrmament, and commaundest it to parte asunder, and to make a diuision betwixt the waters, that the one parte might remayne aboue, & the other beneath.

42 Vpon the third day thou broughtest to passe that the waters were geathered in the seuenth part of the earth: fiue partes hast thou dryed vp, and kept them, "to the intent that that men myght lowe and occupie hul bandry therein.

"or, bryght.

43 As soone as thy woorde went foorth, the worke was made:

44 For immediately there was great & innumerable fruite, and many diuers pleasures for the taste, & floures of vnchangeable colour, and odours of woonderfull smell: And this was doone the thyrde day.

45 Upon the fourth day thou cõmaundedst that the Sunne shoulde geue his shine, and the Moone her lyght, the Starres ordeyned thou set in order:

||Deut.4.9. 46 And ||gauest them a charge to doo seruice, euen vnto man that was to be made.

||Gene.1.21. 47 ||Uppon the fyfth day, thou saydest vnto the seuenth part where the waters were geathered, that it shoulde bryng foorth diuers beastes, foules, and fyshes: and so it came to passe.

48 For the dumbe water and without soule, brought foorth lyuyng thynges at the commaundement of God, that all 'people myght prayse thy woonderous woorkes.

49 Then ordeynedst thou ordeyne two soules, the one thou calledst "Enoch, and the other Leuiathan,

"or, Behemoth

50 And dyddest separate the one from the other: for the seuenth parte (namely, where the water was geathered togeather) myght not holde them both.

"or, Behemoth

51 Unto "Enoch thou gauest one part, whiche was dryed vp the thyrde day, that he shoulde dwel in the same part, wherein are a thousande hylles.

52 But vnto Leuiathan thou gauest the seuenth part, namely the moyst, and hast kept hym to deuoure what thou wylt, and when.

53 Upon the fifth day thou gauest commaundement vnto the earth, that before thee it shoulde bryng foorth beastes, cattel, and al that creepe:

54 And besydes this, Adam also, whom thou madest lorde of al thy creatures, of hym come we all, and the people also whom thou hast chosen, specially vnto thee selfe.

55 All this haue I spoken before thee, O Lorde, that I myght shewe howe that the worlde is made for our sakes.

56 As for the other people whiche also come of Adam, thou hast sayde that they are nothyng, but be lyke vnto spyttle, and hast lykened the abundance of them vnto a drop that falleth from a vessel.

57 And nowe, O Lorde, beholde, the Heathen whiche haue euer been reputed as nothyng, haue beguune to be lordes ouer vs, and to deuoure vs:

58 But we thy people (whom thou hast called thy fyrst borne, thy only begotten, and thy feruent louer) are geuen into their handes and power.

59 If the worlde nowe be made for our sakes, why haue we not the inheritaunce of the worlde in possession? Howe long shall this endure?

¶ The.vii. Chapter.

1. Without tribulation none can come to felicitie. 12. God aduertiseth al in tyme. 28. The commyng and death of Christ. 32. The resurrection and last iudgement.

AND when I had made an end of speakyng these woordes, there was sent vnto me an angell, whiche had been sent vnto me also the nyghtes afore:

2 And he sayde vnto me, Up Esdras, and heare the woordes that I am come to tel thee.

3 And I sayd, Speake on Lord my God. Then sayde he vnto me, The sea is set in a wyde place, that it myght be deepe and great.

4 But put case the entrance is narowe and smal, lyke a ryuer.

5 Who then could goe into the sea to looke vpon it, and to rule it? If he went not through the narowe, howe myght he come into the brode?

6 Item "another. A citie is buylded, and set vpon a brode fielde, and is full of all good thynges:

"or, ager

7 The entrance thereof is narowe, and is set in a dangerous place to fall, lyke as yf there were a fyre at the ryght hande, and a deepe water at the left,

8 And as it were only one strayght path betwixt them both, euen betweene the fyre & the water, so small that there could but one man goe there at once:

9 If this citie nowe were geuen to a man for an inheritaunce, and he neuer went through the perylous way before, howe woulde he receyue his inheritaunce?

10 And I sayde, It is so Lorde. Then sayde he, Euen so also is Israels portion.

11 And why? for their sakes haue I made the world: and when Adam transgressed my statutes, then was the thyng so appointed as nowe is doone.

12 Then were the entrances of the worlde made narowe, ful of sorowe and trauayle: they are but fewe and euyll, full of perylles and labour.

13 For the entrances of the fore worlde were wyde and sure, and brought immortall fruite.

14 If then they which are lyuyng, enter not not diligently throughe these straite and brittle thynges, they can not receyue the thinges so layde vp in secrete.

15 Why disquietest thou thee selfe then, seeyng thou art but a corruptible man? And why art thou moued, whereas thou art but mortal?

16 And why hast thou not receyued into thyne hart, the thynges that are to come, rather then them that are present?

17 Then sayde ‖ I, O Lorde, Lord, thou hast ordeyned in thy lawe, that the ryghteous shoulde inherite these thynges, but that the vngodly shoulde perishe? ‖ Mat.8.1.

18 Neuertheless, the ryghteous shall suffer straite thynges, and hope for wyder for they that haue lyued vngodly, and suffered straite thynges, shal not see the wyde.

19 And he sayde vnto me, There is no iudge aboue God, and none that hath vnderstandyng aboue the hyghest.

20 For there be many that perishe in this lyfe, because they despise the lawe of God that is "set before them: "oppynd

21 For GOD hath geuen straite commaundement to suche as came, so oft as they came, what they shoulde doo to haue lyfe, and what they shoulde keepe to auoyde punishment.

22 Neuertheless, they were not obedient vnto him, but spake agaynst hym, and imagined vayne thynges:

23 And deceyued them selues by wicked deedes, and denyed the power of the most hygh, and regarded not his wayes, 24 But his lawe haue they despised, and denyed his promises: in his statutes and ordinaunces haue they not been faythfull and stedfast, and haue not performed his woorkes.

25 And therefore Esdras, for the empty, are the emptie thynges, and for the ful, are the ful thynges.

26 Beholde, the tyme shal come, that these tokens whiche I haue tolde thee, shall come to passe, and the bride shal appeare, and the commyng forth shalbe seene, that nowe is vnder the earth:

27 And who so euer is deliuered from the foresayde euyls, shall see my woonders.

28 For my sonne Iesus shalbe openly declared, with those that be with him, and they that remayne, shalbe merry within foure hundre dyeeres.

29 After these same yeeres shal my sonne Christe dye, and al men that haue lyfe.

30 And the worlde shalbe turned into the olde silence seuen dayes, lyke as in the fore iudgementes, so that no man shall remayne, 31 And after seuen dayes the worlde that yet awaketh not, shalbe rayled vp, and that shal dye that is corrupt.

32 And the earth shal restore those that haue slept in her, and so shall the dust those that dwell therein in silence, and the secrete places shal deliuer those the soules that were committed vnto them.

33 And the most highest shalbe openly declared vpon the seate of iudgement, and al miserie shal vanishe away, and long sufferyng "shalbe geathered togeather. "or, haue an ende.

34 But the iudgement shall continue, the trueth shal remayne, and fayth shal waxe strong, 35 The woorke shal folowe, and the rewarde shalbe shewed, the" ryghteousnesse shal watche, and the vnryghteousnesse shal beare no rule. "or, the good deedes shalbe of force.

36 Then said I, Abraham prayed ‖ first for the Sodomites, and ‖ Moses for the fathers that sinned in the wylderneſſe, ‖ Gen.18.13 ‖ Exo.23.11.

37 And they that came after hym, for Israel, in the tyme of Achas and Samuel,

38 And ‖ Dauid for the destruction, and ‖ Solomon for them that came into the sanctuarie, ‖ 2 Re.24.17 ‖ 2. Chr.6.14

39 And ‖ Helias for those that receyued rayne, and for the dead, that he myght lyue. ‖ 3.kin.17.21

40 And ‖ Ezechias for the people in the tyme of Sennacherib, and diuers other in lyke maner, whiche haue prayed for many. ‖ 4.Kin.9.15

41 Euen so nowe, seeing the" corrupt is growen vp, and wickednesse encreased, and the ryghteous haue prayed for the vngodly: wherefore shal it not be so nowe also? "or, vice.

42 He answeared me and sayde, This present lyfe is not the ende, oft tymes honour is reteyned in it: therefore haue they prayed for the weake.

43 But the day of dome shalbe the ende of this tyme, and the begynnyng of the immortalitie for to come, wherein all corruption shalbe vanished.

44 Intemperancie shalbe loosed, infidelitie be cut of, ryghteousnesse growe, and the veritie spring vp.

45 Then shall no man be able to saue hym that is destroyed, nor to oppresse hym that hath gotten the victorie.

46 I answeared then, and sayde, This is my first and last saying, that it hadde been better not to haue geuen the earth vnto Adam: or els when it was geuen hym, to haue kept hym that he shoulde not haue sinned.

47 For what profite is it for men nowe in this present tyme to lyue in heauinesse, and after death to "looke for punishment? "or, feare.

48 O thou Adam what hast thou done? For ‖ though it was thou that sinned, thou ‖ Rom.5.15 art

art not fallen alone, but we al that come of thee.

49 For what profite is it vnto vs, yf there be promised vs an immortall "tyme, wheras we doo the workes that bring death:

50 And that there is promised vs an euerlastyng hope, whereas our selues are empl and vayne:

51 And that there is layde vp for vs dwellings of health and saftie, whereas we haue lyued wickedly:

52 And that the glory of the hyghest is kept to defende them whiche haue led a patient life, whereas we haue walked in the most wicked wayes of al?

53 And that there shoulde be shewed a paradise, whose fruite endureth for euer, wherein "is freedome and medicine, wheras we shal not goe in?

54 For we haue walked in vnpleasant places.

55 And that the faces of them whiche haue ablteyned, shal shine aboue the starres: whereas our faces shalbe blacker then darknesse?

56 For while we lyued and did vnrighteously, we consydered not that we shoulde suffer therefore after death.

57 Then answeared he me, and sayde, This is the maner of the battaile, whiche man that is borne vpon the earth shall fyght, 58 That if he be ouercome, he shal suffer as thou hast sayde: but yf he geat the victory, he shal receyue the thyng that I saye.

59 For this is the lyfe whereof Moses spake vnto the people while he lyued, saying, Choose thee ‖ life, that thou mayest lyue.

60 Neuertheless they beleeued hym not, neyther the prophetes after hym, no nor me whiche haue sayde vnto them, 61 That heauinesse should not so be vnto theyr destruction, lyke as ioy is for to come ouer those "that haue suffered them selues to be enfourmed in saluation.

62 I answeared then, and sayde, I knowe Lorde, that the hyghest is called mercifull, in that he hath mercy vppon them whiche are not yet come vnto that worlde, 63 And vpon those also that walke in his lawe.

64 And that he is ‖ patient, for he long suffereth those that haue sinned, as his creatures.

65 And that he is liberal to geue, wheras neede requyreth.

66 And that he is of great mercy: for he passeth in mercy muche both those that are present, and that are past, and also them whiche are for to come.

67 For if he multiplied not his mercies, the worlde could not continue his being with those that haue inheritance therein.

68 He "geueth also: for if he gaue not of his goodnes, that they which haue doone euil, might be eased from theyr wickednes, the ten thousandth part of men shoulde not remayne lyuyng.

69 And if he, being iudge, forgaue not those that be healed with his woorde, and tooke not away the multitude of contentions, 70 There should be very fewe least, peraduenture in an immmerable multitude.

¶ The. viii. Chapter.

6. The vvorkes of God are excellent. 20. Esdras prayeth for hym and for his people. 39. The promise of saluation vnto the iust.

AND he answeared me, saying, The most hyghest made this worlde for many, but the worlde to come for fewe.

2 I wyl tel thee a similitude Esdras. As when thou askest the earth, it shall say vnto thee that it geueth muche "moulde whereof earthen vessels are made, but litle of it that golde commeth of: euen so is it with the woorke of this worlde.

3 There be ‖ many created, but fewe shalbe saued.

4 Then answeared I, and sayd, Then swalowe vp the wit (O my soule) and deuoure the vnderstandyng:

5 For thou art agreed to hearken and to geue eare, and willing to prophesie: for thou hast no longer space but this life geuen thee.

6 O Lord, if thou suffer not thy seruant to entreate thee, that thou mayest geue seem vnto our hart, and build our vnderstandyng, that there may come fruit of it, whereby eche man may line that is corrupt: then who shall step foorth in the place of man?

7 For thou art alone, and we all one workmanship of thy handes, like as thou hast sayd.

8 For when the body is fashioned nowe in the mothers wombe, and thou geuest the members, thy creature is preserued in fire & water, and niene monethes dooth thy woorke suffer thy creature which is fashioned in her.

9 But the things that keepeth, & that is kept, shal both be preserued: & when the time commeth, the wombe preserued delivereth vp the thinges that grewe in it.

10 For thou hast commaunded the partes of the body, euen the brestes, to geue milke vnto the fruite of the brestes:

11 That the thing which is created and fashioned, may be nourished for a time, til thou disposest & ordereste it with thy mercy.

12 And then thou bringest it vp with thy righteousnesse, nurturest it in thy lawe, and and rebounded it with thy vnderſtandyng,

13 "Moſt perfect it as thy creature, and maked it lyuyng as thy woorke.

14 Seeyng then that thou deſtroyeſt hym whiche with ſo great labour is created and faſhioned through thy commaundement, thou couldeſt lightly ordeyne alſo that the thyng whiche is made, myght be preſerued.

15 Nowe therfore Lord, I wyl ſpeake, (for concerning al men in general thou ſhalt rather prouide) but touchyng thy people, for whole ſake I am ſory,

16 And thyne inheritaunce, for whoſe cauſe I mourne, and Iſrael, for whom I am woful, and Iacob, for whoſe ſake I am greeued:

18 But I haue hearde the "ſwyftneſſe of the iudge whiche is to come.

19 Therefore heare my voyce, and vnderſtande my woordes, and I ſhal ſpeake before thee. This is the begynnyng of the woordes of Eldras, before he was taken vp:

20 O Lorde, thou that dwelleſt in euerlaſtyngneſſe, whiche beholdeſt from aboue thynges in the heauen and in the ayre:

21 Whoſe throne is inestimable, whoſe glory and maieſtie may not be comprehended, before whom the hoſtes of angelles ſtande with tremblyng,

22 Whoſe keepyng is turned in wynde and fyre, whoſe woorde is true, whoſe ſayinges are ſtedfaſt, whoſe commaundement is ſtrong, whoſe ordinaunce is feareful,

23 Whoſe looke dryeth vp the depthes, whoſe wrath maketh the mountaynes to melte away, "and whoſe trueth beareth witneſſe:

24 O heare the prayer of thy ſeruant, & marke with thyne eares the petition of thy creature.

25 For whyle I lyue, I wyll ſpeake, and ſo long as I haue vnderſtandyng, I wyl anſweare.

26 O looke not vpon the ſynnes of thy people, rather then on them whiche ſerue thee in trueth.

27 Haue no reſpecte vnto the wicked ſtudies of the Heathen: but to the deſyre of thoſe that keepe thy teſtimonies with afflictions.

28 Thynke not vppon thoſe that haue walked faignedly before thee: but remember them whiche accordyng to thy wyl haue knowen thy feare.

29 Let it not be thy wyl to deſtroy them which haue had beaſtly maners: but to loke vppon them that haue clearely taught thy lawe.

30 Take thou no indignation at them whiche "are woorſe then beaſtes: but loue them that alway put their truſt in thy rygh-teouſneſſe and glorie.

31 For we and our fathers haue all the ſame ſickeneſſe and diſeaſe, but becauſe of vs ſinners, thou ſhalt be called merciful.

32 For if thou haſt mercy vpon vs, thou ſhalt be called mercyfull to vs that haue no woorkes of rygh-teouſneſſe.

33 For the righteous which haue laide vp many good woorkes togeather, ſhall out of their deedes receyue rewarde.

34 But what is man that thou ſhouldeſt take diſpleaſure at him: Or what is this corruptible and mortal generation, that thou ſhouldeſt be ſo rough towarde hym:

35 For of a || trueth there is no man among them that be borne, but he hath dealt wickedly, and among the "faythfull, there is none whiche hath not doone amiſſe.

36 For in this, O Lorde, thy rygh-teouſneſſe and thy goodneſſe ſhalbe prayſed and declared, yf thou be mercyfull vnto them which "are not riche in good woorkes.

37 Then anſweared he me, and ſayde, Some thinges haſt thou ſpoken aryght, and accordyng vnto thy woordes it ſhalbe.

38 For I wyll not verely conſyder the woorkes "of them which haue ſinned before death, before iudgement, before deſtruction:

39 || But I wil reioyce ouer the worke and thought of the rygh-teous, I wil remember alſo the pylgrimage, the ſaluation, and the rewarde that they ſhal haue.

40 Like as I haue ſpoken nowe, ſo ſhal it come to paſſe.

41 For as the Huſbandman ſoweth muche ſeede vpon the grounde, and planteth many trees, and yet alway the thyng that is ſowen or planted, is not al kept ſafe, neyther doeth it al take roote: euen || ſo is it of them that are ſowen in the worlde, they ſhall not all be ſaued.

42 I anſweared then, and ſayde, If I haue founde grace, then let me ſpeake.

43 Lyke as the Huſbandmans ſeede periſheth, yf it come not vp, and receyue not thy rayne in due ſeaſon, or yf there come too muche rayne vpon it, and corrupt it:

44 Euen ſo periſheth man alſo, whiche is created with thy handes, and is lyke vnto thyne owne image, & to thee ſelfe, for whoſe ſake thou haſt made al thynges, and lykened hym vnto the Huſbandmans ſeede:

45 Be not wroth with vs, O Lorde, but ſpare thy people, and haue mercy vpon thine owne inheritaunce: for thou wylt be merciful rifull vnto thy creature.

46 Then answeared he me, and sayde, Thynges present, are for the present, and thynges to come, for suche as be to come.

47 For thou lackest yet muche, seeyng thou canst loue my creature aboue me: but I haue oft tymes drawen nygh vnto thee, & vnto it, but neuer to the vnryghteous.

48 In this also thou art marueylous before the hyghest, 49 In that thou hast humbled thee self as it becommeth thee, and hast not iudged thee selfe woorthye to be muche glorified among the ryghteous.

50 For many & great miseries remayne for them that in the latter tyme shal dwel in the worlde, because they "haue walked in great pryde.

51 But vnderstande thou for thee self, and seeke out the glorye for suche as be lyke thee.

52 For vnto you is paradise opened, the tree of lyfe is planted, the tyme to come is prepared, plenteousnesse is made redie, the citie is buylded for you, and rest is prepared, yea perfect goodnesse and wysedome.

53 The roote of euyl is "marked from you, the weakenesse and moth is hyd from you, and vnto hel fleeth corruption in forgetfulnesse.

54 Sorowes are vanished away, and in the ende is shewed the treasure of immortalitie.

55 And therefore aske thou no more questions concerning the multitude of them that perysshe.

56 For when they had taken libertie, they despised the hyghest, thought scorne of his lawe, and forsooke his wayes.

57 Moreouer, they haue troden downe his ryghteous,

58 And sayde in their ||hart, that there is no GOD, "yea and that wyttyngly, for they dye.

59 For lyke as the thyng that I haue spoken of, is made redie for you, euen so is thyrste and payne prepared for them: for it was not "his wyll that man shoulde "come to nought.

60 But they which be created, haue defyled the name of hym that made them, and are vnthankefull vnto hym whiche prepared lyfe for them.

61 And therfore is my iudgement nowe at hande.

62 These thynges haue I not shewed vnto all men, but vnto fewe, namely vnto thee, & to suche as be lyke thee. Then answeared I, and sayde, 63 Beholde, O Lorde, nowe hast thou shewed me the multitude of the woonders whiche thou wylt begynne to doo in the last tymes: but at what tyme, and when, thou hast not shewed me.

¶ The.ix. Chapter.

5. All thynges in this vvorlde haue a begynnyng and an ende. 10. Tormentes for the vvicked after this lyfe. 15. The number of the vvicked is more then of the good.

HE answeared me then, and sayde, Measure thou the time diligently in it selfe: and when thou seest that one parte of the tokens come to passe, which I haue told thee before,

2 Then shalt thou vnderstande, that it is the very same tyme wherein the hyghest wyll begynne to visite the worlde which he made.

3 Therfore when there shalbe seene an earthquake, and vproare of the people in the worlde,

4 Then shalt thou wel vnderstand that the most highest spake of those thinges from the dayes that were before thee, euen from the begynnyng.

5 For lyke as all that is made in the worlde, hath a begynnyng and ende, and the ende is manyfest:

6 Euen so, the times also of the highest haue playne begynnynges in woonders and signes, and ende in "woorkyng & in tokens.

7 And euery one that shalbe saued, and shalbe able to escape by his woorkes, and by fayth, wherein ye haue beleeued,

8 Shalbe preserued from the sayde perylles, and shal see my "sauiour in my lande, and within my borders: for I haue halowed "me from the worlde.

9 Then shall they pitie them selues, whiche nowe haue abused my wayes: and they that haue cast them out despitefully, shall dwell in paynes.

10 For such as in their lyfe haue receyued benefytes, and haue not knowen me:

11 And they that haue abhorred my lawe, whyle they had yet "freedome, and when they had yet open leysure of amendement and conuersion, vnderstoode not, but despised it:

12 The same must know it after death in payne.

13 And therfore be thou no more "carefull howe the vngodly shalbe punyshed: but enquyre howe the ryghteous shalbe saued, and whose the worlde is, and for whom the worlde is, and when it is.

speake, and wil speake it also hereafter: that there be many mo of them whiche perishe, then of them which shalbe saued:

16 Lyke as the flood is greater then a boyne.

17 And he answered me, saying, Lyke as the feelde is, so is also the seede: as the floures be, suche are the colours also: suche as the workman is, suche is also the worke: and as the husbandman is hym selfe, so is his husbandry also: for it was the tyme of the worlde.

18 And when I prepared for them that are nowe, or euer the worlde was made, wherein they shoulde dwel: then was there no man that spake agaynst me.

19 For then euery one obeyed, but nowe the manners of them whiche are created in this worlde that is made, are corrupted by a perpetual seede, and by a lawe wherout they can not ryd them selues.

20 So I consydered the world, and beholde, there was peryll, because of the " thoughtes that were come into it.

21 And I sawe, and spared them greatly, & haue kept me a " winebery of grapes, and a plant of a great people.

22 Let the multitude perishe then whiche are growen vp in vaine, and let my grape and vinebery be kept, and my plant: for with great labour haue I made it vp.

23 Neuertheleſſe, yf thou wylt ceasse yet seuen dayes moe, but thou shalt not fast in them:

24 Goe thy way then into a feelde of flowres, where no house is buylded, and eate only of the flowres of the feeld, taste no flesh, drinke no wine, but eate flowres only,

25 And pray vnto the highest continually, so wyl I come and talke with thee.

26 So I went my way, and came into the feelde which is called Ardath, lyke as he commaunded me, and there I sate among the flowres, and did eate of the herbes of the feeld, and the meate of the same satisfied me.

27 After seuen dayes I sate vppon the grasse, and my hart was vexed within me lyke as before.

28 And I opened my mouth, and began to talke with the most highest, and sayde,

29 ||O lord, thou that shewest thee selfe vnto vs, thou hast declared and opened thee selfe vnto our fathers in the wyldernesse, in a place where no man dwelleth, in a barren place, when they came out of Egypt:

30 And thou spakest, saying, Heare me, O Israel, and marke my wordes thou seede of Jacob.

31 For beholde, I sawe my law in you, and it shal bryng fruite in you, and ye shalbe honoured in it for euer.

32 But our fathers which receiued the lawe, kept it not, and obserued not thy ordinances and statutes, and the fruite of thy lawe did not appeare, neyther coulde it: for why? it was thine.

33 For ||they that receiued it, perished, because they kept not the thyng that was sowen in them. ||Deu.32.28

34 And loe, it is a custome when the grounde receiueth seede, or the sea a shyp, or a vessel meate and drynke: that when it perisheth, or is broken, wherin a thyng is sowen, or wherein any thyng is put,

35 The thinges also perishe and are broken whiche are sowen or put therein and receiued, and the thinges that are receiued, remayne not then with vs: but in vs it hath not happened so.

36 For we that haue receiued the lawe, perishe in sinne, and our hart which also receiued the lawe:

37 Notwithstanding, the ||lawe perisheth not, but remayneth in his force. ||Esai. 48.3. 2.Tim.2.2.

38 And when I spake these thynges in my hart after this manner, I looked about me with mine eyes, and vpon the ryght syde I sawe a || woman which mourned sore, made great lamentation, and wept with loude voyce, and was greeued in hart, and rent her clothes, and she had ashes vpon her head. ||4.Esr.10.44

39 Then let I my thoughtes goe that I was in, and turned me vnto her, 40 And sayde, Wherfore weepest thou? why art thou so sory in mynde?

41 And she sayd vnto me, Syr, let me alone, that I may bewayle mee selfe, and take yet my sorowe, for I am sore vexed in my minde, and brought very lowe.

42 And I sayd vnto her, What ayleth thee? Or who hath done any thyng to thee? tell me.

43 She sayde vnto me, I thy seruant haue ben vnfruiteful, and barren, and haue had no childe, though I haue had an husbande thirtie yeeres.

44 And these thirtie yeeres I doo nothyng els day and nyght, and all houres, but make my prayer to the hyghest.

45 After thirtie yeeres God hearde me thy handmayden, looked vpon my miserie, consydered my trouble, & gaue me a sonne: and I was glad of hym, so was my husband also, and al my neyghbours, and we gaue great honour vnto the almyghtie.

46 And I nourished hym with great trauayle.

Eſdras and the vvoman that appeareth vnto hym, commune togeather.

AND it ſo came to paſſe, that when my ſonne went into his chamber, he fell downe, and died.

2 Then ouerthrewe we all the lightes, and all my neighbours roſe vp to comforte me, then tooke I my reſt vnto the ſecond day at night.

3 And when they had al left of to comforte me, that I ſhoulde be quiet: then I roſe vp by night, and fledde, and am come hyther into this feelde, as thou ſeeſt,

4 And am purpoſed not to returne into the citie, but to remayne here, and neither to eate nor drinke, but continually to mourne, and to faſt vntil I dye.

5 Then let I my meditation & thoughtes fal that I was in, and ſpake to her in diſpleaſure, ſaying,

6 Thou fooliſh woman aboue al other, ſeeſt thou not our heauineſſe and mourning, and what happeneth vnto vs?

7 Howe Sion our mother is all wofull and ſory, and howe ſhe is cleane brought downe, and mourneth extremely?

8 Seeyng we be al nowe in heauineſſe, and make our mone, for we al be ſorowfull: art thou ſo heauie for one ſonne?

9 Demaunde the earth, and ſhe ſhal tel thee, that it is ſhe whiche ought by reaſon to mourne for the fall of ſo many that growe vpon her.

10 For from the beginning al men are borne of her, and other ſhal come: and behold, they walke almoſt all into deſtruction, and the multitude of them ſhalbe rooted out.

11 Who ſhoulde then by reaſon make more mourning, then ſhe that hath loſt ſo great a multitude, and not thou whiche art ſory but for one?

12 But yf thou wouldeſt ſay vnto me, My mourning is not like the mourning of the earth: for I haue loſt the fruite of my * body, which I brought forth with heauyneſſe, and bare with ſorowes:

13 But the earth is accordyng to the manner of the earth, and the preſent multitude goeth agayne into her, * as it is come to paſſe:

14 Then ſay I vnto thee, Lyke as thou haſt borne with trauaile and ſorowe, euen ſo the earth alſo from the beginnyng geueth her fruite vnto man, euen to hym that laboureth her.

|| Hebr. 12.2. 15 ||And therfore withholde thy ſorow and heauineſſe by thee ſelfe, and looke what happeneth vnto thee beare it * ſtrongly.

16 For if thou iudgeſt the worke and ende of God to be righteous and good, and receiueſt his counſaile in time, thou ſhalt be commended herein.

17 Goe thy way then into the citie, to thy huſbande.

18 And ſhe ſayd vnto me, That wyll I not do: I wyll not goe into the citie, but here wyl I dye.

19 So I communed more with her, and ſayde,

20 Doo not ſo, but be counſelled, & folowe me: for howe many falles hath Sion: Be of good comfort, becauſe of the ſorowe of Hieruſalem.

21 For thou ſeeſt that our ſanctuary is laid waſte, our auiter broken, our temple deſtroyed,

22 Our playing of inſtrumentes is laid downe, and longes are put to ſcilence, our mirth is vaniſhed away, the light of our candelſticke is quenched, the arke of our couenaunt is taken from vs, al our holy thynges are defiled, and the name that is called vpon ouer vs, is almoſt diſhonoured: our children are put to ſhame, our prieſtes are brent, our Leuites are caried away into captiuitie, our virgins are defiled, and our wiues rauiſhed, our righteous men ſpoyled, and our children deſtroyed, our young men are brought in bondage, and our ſtrong worthies are become weake:

23 And Sion our ſeale, whiche is the greateſt of al, is looſed vp from her worſhip: for ſhe is deliuered into the handes of them that hate vs.

24 And therfore ſhake of thy great heauineſſe, and put away the multitude of ſorowes, that the mightie may be mercyfull vnto thee, and that the higheſt may geue thee reſt and eaſe from thy labour and trauayle.

25 And when I was talkyng with her, her face and beautie ſhined ſodaynely, and her countenance gliſtered, ſo that I was afrayde of her, and muſed what it might be.

26 And immediatly ſhe cald out a great voyce, very fearefull, ſo that the earth ſhooke at the noyſe of the woman.

27 And I looked, & beholde, the woman appeared vnto me no more: but there was a citie builded, & a place was ſhewed from the grounde and fundation: then was I afraide, and cryed with a loude voyce, and ſayde, ||4. Eſd.

31 What ayleth thee? and why is thine vnderstandyng vexed, and the vnderstanding of thy hart? and wherefore art thou sory?

Eld. 5.20 32 And I sayd, || Because thou hast forsaken me, and I haue done accordyng vnto thy woordes, I went into the feelde, and there haue I seene thinges, and see that I am not able to expresse.

33 He sayd vnto me, Stande vp, and be manly, and I shal geue thee exhortation.

34 Then sayde I, Speake on to me, my Lorde, forsake me not, lest I dye thorowe my rashnesse:

35 For I haue seene that I knewe not, and heare that I doo not knowe:

36 Or is my vnderstandyng deceyued, or doth my soule dreame?

37 Nowe therefore I beseech thee, that thou wilt shewe thy seruant of this wonder.

38 He answeared me then, and sayde, Heare me, and I shal enfourme thee, and tel thee wherefore thou art afrayde: for the highest hath opened many secrete thinges vnto thee, 39 He hath seene that thy "way is right, for that thou takest sorowe continually for thy people, and makest great lamentation for Sion.

40 And therefore vnderstande the vision whiche thou sawest a litle while agoe, after this maner.

41 Thou sawest a woman mournyng, and thou begannest to comfort her.

42 Neuertheless, nowe seest thou the lykenesse of the woman no more, but there appeared vnto thee a citie buylded:

43 And where she tolde thee of the fall of her sonne, so is this the solution of it:

44 This woman whom thou sawest, is Sion: and whereas she tolde thee, euen she whom thou seest nowe as a citie buylded.

45 And as touchyng that she sayd vnto thee, that she hath ben thirtie yeres vnfruiteful and barren: those are the thirtie yeeres wherein there was no offering made in her.

46 But after thirtie yeeres, Solomon builded the citie, and offered offeringes: and then bare the barren a sonne.

47 And whereas she tolde thee, that she nourished him with labour: that was the dwellyng in Hierusalem.

48 But whereas she tolde thee, that her sonne died as his chaunce was, whē she came into her chamber: that is the fall that is come to Hierusalem.

49 And beholde, when thou sawest her lyke one that mourned for her sonne, and begannest to comfort her: of these thinges whiche haue chaunced, these are to be opened vnto thee.

50 For nowe the most highest seeth that thou art sory in thy minde, and sufferest from thy whole hart for her, and so hath he shewed thee her clearenesse, and the fayrenesse of her beautie.

51 And therefore I bade thee remayne in the feelde, where no house was builded.

52 For I knewe that the highest would shewe this vnto thee.

53 Therefore I commaunded thee to goe into the fielde where no fundation nor buildyng is.

54 For in the place where the hyghest beginneth to shewe his citie, there can no mans buildyng be hable to stande.

55 And therefore feare not, and let not thyne harte be afrayde, but goe thy way in, and see the beautie and greatnes of the buildyng, as much as thine eyes be able to see.

56 And then shalt thou heare as muche as thine eares may comprehende.

57 For thou art blessed aboue many other, & art called with the highest as the few.

58 But to morowe at nyght thou shalt remayne here:

59 And so shall the highest shewe thee visions of the high thinges, which he wil do vnto them that dwell vpon earth in the last dayes. So I sleapt the same night and another, lyke as he commaunded me.

The.xi. Chapter.

1. The vision of an Eagle comming foorth of the sea, and of her feathers. 37. Of a Lion comming out of the forrest.

THen sawe I a dreame, and beholde there came vp from the sea an Eagle, whiche had twelue feathered wynges, and three heades:

2 And I sawe, and beholde, she spread her wynges ouer al the earth, and all the windes of the ayre blewe on her, and gathered them togeather.

3 And I beheld, and out of her feathers there grewe other contrary feathers, and they became litle feathers, and smal.

4 But her heades remayned stil, the head in the middest was greater then the other, yet rested it with the residue.

5 Moreouer, I sawe that the Eagle flewe with her winges, & raigned vpon earth, & ouer al them that dwelt vppon the earth.

6 And I sawe that al thinges vnder heauen were subiect vnder her, & no man spake againſt her, no not one creature vpon earth.

7 I ſawe alſo that the Egle ſtoode vp vppon her clawes, and " gaue a ſounde with her fethers, & a voice, ſaying after this maner,

8 Watch not altogeather, ſleepe euery man in his owne place, and watch by courſe.

9 But let ꝑ heads be preſerued for ꝑ laſt.

10 Neuertheleſſe, I ſawe that the voice went not out of her heades, but from the middeſt of her body.

11 And I numbred her contrary fethers, and beholde there were eyght of them.

12 And I looked, and beholde, vppon the ryght ſyde there aroſe one fether, and raigned ouer al the earth.

13 And ſo it was that when it raigned, the ende of it came, and the place thereof appeared no more: ſo the next folowyng ſtoode vp, and raigned, and had a great tyme.

14 And it happened that when it raigned, the ende of it came alſo lyke as the firſt, ſo that it appeared no more.

15 Then came there a voice vnto it, & ſaid,

16 Heare thou that haſt keapt the earth ſo long, this I ſay vnto thee before thou beginneſt to appeare no more.

17 There ſhall none after thee atteyne vnto thy tyme, neyther vnto the halfe therof.

18 Then aroſe the thirde, and raigned as ꝑother afore: & appeared no more alſo.

19 So went it with al the reſidue, one after another, ſo that euery one raigned, and then appeared no more.

20 Then I looked, and beholde in proceſſe of tyme the fethers that folowed ſtoode vpon the ryght ſyde, that they might rule alſo, and ſome of them ruled: but within a whyle they appeared no more.

21 For ſome of them were ſet vp, but ruled not.

22 After this I looked, and beholde, the twelue fethers appeared no more, nor the two wynges:

23 And there was no more vpon the Eagles body, but two heades that reſted, and fyue wynges.

24 Then ſawe I alſo that two wynges diuided them ſelues from the fyue, and remained vnder the head that was vpon the ryght ſide: for the foure continued in theyr place.

25 So I looked, and beholde the fethers that were vnder the wyng, thought to ſet vp them ſelues, and to haue the rule.

26 Then was there one ſet vp, but ſhortly it appeared no more.

27 And the ſeconde was ſooner away then the fyrſt.

28 And I beheld, and loe, the two that remayned, thought alſo in them ſelues to raigne:

29 And when they ſo thought, beholde, there awaked one of the heads that were at reſt, namely it that was in the middeſt: for that was greater then the two other heades.

30 And then I ſawe that the two heads were ioyned with him:

31 And the head was turned with them that were with him, and did eate vp the two vnder wynges that would haue raigned.

32 But this head put the whole earth in feare, and haue rule in it ouer al thoſe that dwelt vpon the earth, with much labour: and he had the gouernance of the worlde ouer all the wynges that had ben.

33 After this I looked, and beholde, the head that was in the middeſt, ſodainly appeared no more, lyke as the wynges.

34 But there remayned the two heades whiche ruled vppon earth, and ouer thoſe that dwelt therein.

35 And I beheld, and loe, the head vpon the ryght ſyde, deuoured it that was vpon the leaft ſyde.

36 Then I heard a voyce which ſayde vnto me, Looke before thee, and conſyder the thing that thou ſeeſt.

37 Then I ſawe, and behold as it were a Lion that roareth, rumpng haſtyly out of the wood: and I ſaw that he ſent out a mans voyce vnto the Eagle, and ſayde,

38 Heare thou, I wyll talke with thee, and the hygheſt ſhal ſay vnto thee, 39 " Is it not thou that haſt the victorie of the foure beaſtes whom I made to raigne vpon earth and in my worlde, that the ende of theyr tymes might come through them?

40 And the fourth came, and ouerran al the beaſtes that were paſt, & had power ouer the worlde with great fearfulneſſe, and ouer the whole compaſſe of the earth with moſte wicked oppreſſion, and ſo long tyme dwelt he vpon the earth with deceipt.

41 For the earth haſt thou not iudged with trueth.

42 For thou haſt troubled the meeke, thou haſt hurt the peaceable and quiet, thou haſt loued lyers, and deſtroyed the dwellings of them that brought foorth fruite, and haſt caſt downe the walles of ſuche as dyd thee no harme.

43 Therefore is thy wrongfull dealing and blaſphemie come vp vnto the hygheſt, and thy pryde vnto the mightie.

44 The hygheſt alſo hath looked vpon the proude tymes, and beholde they are ended, and theyr abominations are fulfilled.

45 And therefore appeare no more thou Eagle, and thy horrible wynges, and thy wicked feathers, and thy vngratious heads, and thy ſinfull clawes, and al thy vayne body:

46 That

" or, ſpeake to her fethers, ſaying.

" or, art not he that made the ſeruice of theſe beaſtes.

46 That the earth may be refreſhed, and come agayne to her ſelfe, when ſhe is deliuered from thy violence, and that ſhe may hope for the iudgement and mercy of hym that made her.

The xii. Chapter.
The declaration of the former viſions.

AND it happened when the Lion ſpake theſe wordes vnto the Eagle, I ſawe:

2 And beholde, the head that afore had the vpper hande appeared no more, neyther did the foure winges appeare any more that came to him, and were ſet vp to raigne, & their kingdome was ſmall & ful of vproze.

3 And I ſaw, and beholde they appeared no more, and the whole body of the Eagle was burnt, ſo that the earth was in great feare: then awaked I out of the trouble and traunce of my minde, and from great feare, and ſayd vnto my ſpirite,

4 Loe, this haſt thou geuen me, in that thou ſearcheſt out the wayes of the higheſt.

5 Loe, yet am I weery in my mind, and very weake in my ſpirite: and litle ſtrength is there in me, for the great feare that I receiued this night.

6 Therfore wil I now beſech the higheſt, that he wyl comfort me vnto the ende.

7 And I ſayde, Lorde, Lorde, yf I haue founde grace before thy ſight, and yf I am iuſtified with thee before many other, & if my prayer in deede be come vp before thy face:

8 Comfort me then, and ſhewe me thy ſeruant the interpretation and playne difference of this horrible ſight, that thou mayeſt perfectly comfort my ſoule:

9 For thou haſt iudged me woorthy to ſhewe me the laſt of times.

10 And he ſaid vnto me, This is the enterpretation of this ſight:

11 The Eagle whom thou ſaweſt come vp from the ſea, is the kingdome which was ſeene in the || viſion of thy brother Daniel:

12 But it was not expounded vnto him, therfore now I declare it vnto thee.

13 Beholde, the dayes wyl come, that there ſhall riſe vp a kingdome vppon earth, and it ſhalbe feared aboue al the kingdomes that were before it.

14 In "the ſame kingdome ſhal twelue kinges raigne one after another.

15 Wherefore the ſeconde ſhal begin to raigne, and ſhall haue more tyme then the other twelue.

16 And this do the twelue wynges ſignifie whiche thou ſaweſt.

17 As for the voyce that thou heardeſt ſpeake, and that thou ſaweſt not to goe out from the heads, but from the mids of the body thereof, it betokeneth, 18 That after the time of that kyngdome, there ſhal ariſe great ſtriuinges, and it ſhal ſtande in peril of falling: neuertheleſſe it ſhal not then fall, but ſhalbe reſtored againe into his beginning.

19 And the eyght feathers vnder the winges, whiche thou ſaweſt hang vnto her winges, betoken, 20 That in him there ſhall aryſe eyght kings, whoſe time ſhalbe but ſmal, and their yeeres ſwift, and two of them ſhal peryſhe.

21 But when the middeſt time commeth, there ſhalbe foure kept for a tyme, whiles "his tyme begynneth to come, that it may be ended: but two ſhalbe kept vnto the ende.

22 And whereas thou ſaweſt three heads reſtyng, this is the interpretation:

23 In his laſt dayes ſhal the moſt high rayſe vp three kyngdomes, and call many thinges againe into them, and they ſhal haue the dominion of the earth, 24 And of thoſe that dwel therein, with muche "labour, aboue all thoſe that were before them: therfore are they called the heades of the Eagle.

25 For it is they that ſhal "bring forth his wyckednes agayne, and that ſhall perfourme and finiſhe his laſt.

26 And whereas thou ſaweſt that the great head appeared no more, it ſignifieth that one of them ſhall dye vpon his bed, and yet with payne.

27 For the two that remaine ſhalbe ſlaine with the ſworde.

28 For the ſworde of the one ſhal deuour the other: but at the laſt ſhal he fal through the ſworde him ſelfe.

29 And whereas thou ſaweſt two feathers vnder the wynges, paſſyng toward the head that is on the ryght ſyde, 30 It ſignifieth, that it is they whom the higheſt haue kept vnto theyr ende: this is the ſmal kyngdome, and ful of trouble, as thou ſaweſt.

31 And the Lion, whom thou ſaweſt ryſing vp out of the wood, and roring, and ſpeaking to the Eagle, and rebukyng her for her vnryghteouſneſſe, with al the wordes whiche thou haſt heard, 32 Is the winde which the higheſt hath kept for them and for theyr wyckednes vnto the ende: he ſhal reproue them, and caſt before them their owne ſpoylynges.

33 For he ſhal ſet them aliue in iudgement, and ſhal rebuke them, & correct them.

34 For the reſidue of my people ſhal be deliuer by trouble, thoſe that be preſerued "or, he that was firſt of the beaſtes.

m. 7. 7.

"or, he is.

"or, echo his time beginneth.

vpon my borders, and he shall make them ioyful vntil the comming of the day of iudgment, wherof I haue spoken vnto thee from the beginning.

35 This is the dreame that thou sawest, and these are the interpretations.

36 Thou only hast ben meete to know this secrete of the highest.

37 Therfore write al these things that thou hast seene in a booke, and hide them, 38 And teache them to the wise of the people, whose harts thou knowest may comprehende and kepe these secretes.

39 But wayte thou here thee selfe yet seuen dayes mo, that it may be shewed thee whatsoeuer it pleaseth the highest to declare vnto thee. And with that he went his way.

40 And when all the people perceiued that the seuen dayes were past, & I not come agayne into the citie, they geathered them altogether, from the least vnto the most, and came vnto me, and sayde, 41 What haue we offended thee? and what euill haue we done against thee, that thou forsakest vs, & sittest here in this place?

42 For of all the people thou only art left vs, as a grape of the vine, and as a candel in a darke place, and as an hauen or shyp preserued from the tempest.

43 Haue we not els aduersitie ynough?

44 If thou shalt forsake vs, were it not better for vs that we had ben burnt with Sion?

45 For we are not better then they that dyed there. And they wept with loude voyce. Then answeared I them, and saide, 46 Be of good comfort, O Israel, and be not heauie, thou house of Iacob.

47 For the highest hath you in remembrance, and the mightie hath not forgotten you in temptation.

48 As for me I haue not forsaken you, neither am I departed from you: but am come into this place to pray, because of the miserie of Sion, that I might seeke mercy for the lowe estate of your sanctuarie.

49 And nowe goe your way home euery man, and after these dayes wil I come vnto you.

50 So the people went their way into the citie, like as I commaunded them:

51 But I remayned styll in the feelde seuen dayes, as " the angel had me, and dyd eate only of the flowres of the feeld, and had my meate of the hearbes in those dayes.

" or, he.

¶ The.xiii. Chapter.

1. The vision of a vvinde comming foorth of the sea, 3. vvhiche became a man. 5. His propertie and powver against his enimies. 21. The declaration of this vision.

AND after the seuen dayes, I dreamed a dreame by nyght.

2 And beholde, there arose a winde from the sea, that it moued al the waues thereof.

3 And I loked, and beholde, there was a strong man with the thousandes of heauen & when he turned his countenance to looke, al the thinges trembled that were seene vnder hym:

4 And when the voyce went out of his mouth, al they burnt that hearde his voyce, lyke as the earth fayleth when it feeleth the fyre.

5 After these I sawe, and beholde there was geathered togeather a multitude of men out of number, from the foure windes of the heauen, to fight agaynst the man that came out of the sea.

6 And I looked, and beholde he grauen hym selfe a great mountayne, and flewe vp vpon it.

7 But I woulde haue seene the region or place wherout the hyl was grauen, and I coulde not,

8 And I sawe after these, that all they which came to fight agaynst hym, were lore afrayde, and yet durst they fyght.

9 Neuertheless, when he saw the fiercenesse and violence of the people that came, he neither lift vp his hande, " nor helde swoorde, nor any weapon:

" or, for he held no swoorde nor any instrument of warre.

10 But only, as I sawe, he sent out of his mouth as it had ben a blast of fyre, and out of his lippes the winde of the flame, and out of his tongue he cast out sparkes and stormes.

11 And they were al mixt togeather the blast of fyre, the winde of the flame, and the great storme: and fel with " a rushe vpon the people whiche was prepared to fyght, and burnt them vp euery one, so that of the innumerable multitude, there was nothyng seene but only dust and smel of smoke: When I sawe this, I was afrayde.

" or, violence.

12 Afterwarde sawe I the same man come downe from the mountayne, & calling vnto hym another peaceable " people.

" or, multitude.

13 And there came muche people vnto him, some were glad, some were sory, some of them were bounde, and other some brought of them that were offered: then was I sicke through great feare, and I awaked, and said,

14 Thou hast shewed thy seruant these woonders from the begynnyng, and hast counted me woorthy that thou myghtest receiue my prayer:

15 Shewe me nowe yet the interpretation of this dreame.

16 For thus I conlyder in my vnderstandyng t byng: wo vnto them that shalbe left in those dayes, and much more wo vnto them that are not left behinde.

17 For they that were not left, were in heauinesse.

18 Now vnderstand I the thinges that are layde vp in the latter dayes, which shall happen vnto them, and to those that are left behynde.

19 Therefore are they come into great perils, and many necessities, lyke as these dreames declare.

20 Yet is it easier that he which is in danger, fall into these, and nowe to see that which shal chaunce hereafter, then to passe out of this worlde as a cloude. Then answeared he me, and sayde, 21 The interpretation of the sight shal I shewe thee: and I wyl open vnto thee the thing that thou hast required.

22 Wheras thou hast spoken of them that are left behinde, this is the interpretation, 23 He that heareth the peryll in that tyme, hath kept him selfe: they that be fallen into danger, are such as haue workes and fayth vnto the most mightie.

24 Knowe this therefore, that they which be left behinde, are more blessed then they that be dead.

25 "This is the meanyng of the vision, Whereas thou sawest a man commyng vp from the "deepe of the sea, 26 The same is he whom God the highest hath kept a great season, whiche by his owne selfe shal deliuer his creature: and he shal order them that are left behynde.

27 And wheras thou sawest, that out of his mouth there came as a blast of winde, fire, and storme:

28 And howe that he lyft vp neither swoorde nor weapon, but that the "rushing in of him destroied the whole multitude that came to fight agaynst him: it signifieth,

29 That the daies come, when the most hyghest wyll begin to deliuer them that are vpon earth:

30 And "in a traunce of minde shall he come vpon them that dwel in the earth.

31 And one shall vndertake to || fight agaynst another: one citie against another, one place against another, one people agaynst another, and one realme against another.

32 When this commeth to passe, then shall the tokens come that I shewed thee before: and then shal my sonne be "declared, whom thou sawest climbe vp as a man.

33 And when all the people heare his voyce, euery man shall in their owne lande, leaue the battayle they haue one agaynst another:

34 And an innumerable multitude shalbe geathered togeather, as they that be wyllyng to come, and to ouercome hym by fyghting.

35 But he shal stande vppon the toppe of the mount Sion.

36 And Sion shal come, and shalbe shewed to all men, beyng prepared and buylded, lyke as thou sawest the hyll grauen foorth without any handes.

37 And this my sonne shal rebuke those nations which are fallen into the tempest, for their wickednes and euil imaginations, 38 And into tormentes lyke to flame, wherwith they shalbe punished: and without any labour shall he destroye them, euen by the lawe, whiche is compared vnto the fyre.

39 And wheras thou sawest, that he geathered another peaceable people vnto hym,

40 Those are the ten tribes which were caryed away prisoners out of theyr owne lande in the tyme of Oseas the king, whom || Salmanasar the king of Assyria tooke prisoners, and caryed them "ouer the water, and so came they into another lande. || 4. Reg. 17. 3 "or, beyonde the ryuer.

41 But they tooke this counsail among them selues, that they would leaue the multitude of the heathen, and to goe foorth into a further countrey, where neuer mankinde dwelt:

42 That they might there keepe their statutes, which they neuer kept in their own lande, 43 And so they entred in at the narowe passages of the riuer of Euphrates.

44 For the most hyghest then shewed || tokens for them, and held styl the flood tyl they were passed ouer. || Iosue. 3. 15

45 For thorowe the countrey there was a great way, namely of a yeere and a halfe iourney: e the same regiõ is called Arsareth.

46 Then dwelt they there vntil the latter tyme: and when they come foorth againe, 47 The hyghest shal holde stil the springes of the streame againe, that they may go through: therefore sawest thou the multitude with peace.

48 But they that be leaft behind of thy people, are those that are founde within my borders.

49 Now when he destroyeth the multitude of the nations that are geathered togeather, he shal defend his people that remaine:

50 And then shall he shewe them great woonders.

51 Then sayde I, O Lorde, Lord, shewe me this: Wherefore haue I seene the man commyng vp from the "deepe of the sea? "or, middest.

52 And he said vnto me, Like as thou canst neyther seeke out nor knowe the thynges that are in the deepe of the sea: euen so can no man vpon earth see my sonne, or those that be with hym, but in the tyme of [a] the day.

[a] or, that day.

53 This is the interpretation of the dreame which thou sawest, and whereby thou onely art here lyghtned.

54 For thou hast forsaken thyne owne lawe, and applyed thy diligence vnto mine, and sought it.

55 Thy lyfe hast thou ordered in wysdome, and hast called vnderstanding thy mother:

56 And therfore haue I shewed thee the treasures of the hyghest. After other three dayes I wyll shewe thee more, and talke with thee more at large, yea heauie and woonderous thinges wil I declare vnto thee.

57 Then went I forth into the feelde, geuing praise and thankes greatly vnto god, because of his woonders whiche he dyd in tyme, 58 And because he gouerneth the same, and such thynges as fal in their seasons: and there I sate three dayes.

¶ The.xiiii. Chapter.

1. Howe God appeared to Moses in the bushe. 10 All thynges decline to age. 16 The latter age vvorse then the former. 29. The ingratitude of Israel. 35. The resurrection and iudgement.

VPon the thirde day I sate vnder an oke tree, then came there a voyce vnto me out of the bushe, and sayde, Esdras, Esdras.

2 And I sayde, Here am I Lorde: and stoode vp vpon my feete.

‖ Exod.3.1. 3 Then sayd he vnto me, In the ‖ bushe did I appeare vnto Moses, and talked with him when my people serued in Egypt.

4 And I sent hym, and led my people out of Egypt, and brought him vp to the mount Sinai, where I helde him by me a long season:

5 And told him many woonderous woorkes, & shewed him the secretes of the times, and the ende, and commaunded him, saying,

6 These woordes shalt thou declare, and these shalt thou hyde.

7 And nowe I say vnto thee,

8 That thou lay vp in thyne hart the signes that I haue shewed, and the dreames that thou hast seene, and the interpretations which thou hast heard.

9 For thou shalt be taken away from among all, and hencefoorth thou shalt remayne with my counsayle, and with suche as be lyke thee, vntyl the tymes be ended.

10 For the woorlde hath lost his youth, and the times begin to waxe olde.

11 For the woorld is diuided into twelue partes, and the ten partes of it are gone alredy, and halfe of a tenth part.

12 And there remayneth there that which is after the halfe of [a] the tenth part.

[a] or, the.

13 Therefore set thyne house in order, and reforme thy people, comfort suche of them as be in trouble, and nowe renounce corruption,

14 Let goe from thee mortal thoughtes, cast away the burdens of men, put of the weake nature,

15 And set aside the thoughtes that are most heauy vnto thee, and haste thee to flee from these tymes:

16 ‖ For as for such euyll and vvickednesse as thou hast nowe seene happen, they shal doo yet much woorse. ‖ Mat. 24.

17 For the weaker that the woorlde is by reason of age, the more shal euilles encrease vpon them that dwel therein.

18 For the trueth is fled farre away, and leasyng is harde at hande: For nowe hasteth the visiõ to come that thou hast seene.

19 Then answeared I before thee, & said,

20 Beholde Lorde, I wyll goe as thou hast commaunded me, & reforme the people which are present: but they that shalbe borne afterwarde, who wyl admonishe them? Thus the woorlde is set in darkenesse, and they that dwel therein are without lyght.

21 For thy lawe is burnt, therefore no man knoweth the thinges that are done of thee, or the woorkes that shalbe done.

22 But yf I haue founde grace before thee, sende the holy ghost into me, and I shal write al that hath ben done in the woorlde since the beginning, which was written in thy law, that men may finde the path, and that they which wyl lyue in the latter dayes, may lyue.

23 And he answeared me, saying, Go thy way, geather the people togeather, and say vnto them, that they seeke thee not for fourtie dayes.

24 But looke thou geather thee many bare trees, and take with thee Sarea, Dabria, Selemia, Ecanus, and Asiel, these fyue, which are redy to write swiftly:

25 And come hither, and I shal lyght a candel of vnderstandyng in thine hart, which shall not be put out, til the thinges be performed which thou shalt begin to write.

26 And then shalt thou declare some thinges openly vnto the perfect, & some thinges shalt thou shew secretely vnto the wise: To morow this houre shalt thou begin to write.

27 Then

27 Then went I forth as he commaũded me, and gathered all the people together, and ſayde,

28 Heare theſe woordes O Iſrael,

29 Our || fathers at the beginning were ſtrangers in Egypt, from whence they were deliuered, Exo.1.2.

30 And receyued the || lawe of lyfe, which they kept not, whiche ye alſo haue tranſgreſſed after them. Deut.4.5.

31 Then was the lande, euen the lande of Sion, parted among you by lot, to poſſeſſe: but your fathers, and ye your ſelues alſo, haue doone vnrighteouſneſſe, and haue not kept the wayes which the higheſt commaunded you:

32 And for ſo muche as he is a righteous iudge, he tooke from you in tyme, the thyng that he had geuen you.

33 And now are ye heere, and your brethren among you.

34 Therefore, yf ſo be that ye wyl ſubdue your owne vnderſtandyng, and refourme your hart, ye ſhalbe kept alyue, and after death ſhal ye obteyne mercy.

35 For after death ſhall the iudgement come when we ſhall lyue agayne: and then ſhal the names of the rygh teous be manifeſt, and the woorkes of the vngodly ſhal be declared.

36 Let no man therefore come now vnto me, nor ſeeke after me theſe fourtie dayes.

37 So I tooke the fiue men, as he commaunded me, and we went into the fielde, and remayned there.

38 The next day a voyce called me, ſaying, Eſdras, open thy mouth, and || drinke that I geue thee to drinke. Ezech.3.2.

39 Then opened I my mouth, and behold, he reached me a ful cuppe, which was ful as it were with water, but the colour of it was lyke fire.

40 And I tooke it, and dranke: and when I had dronke it, my hart had vnderſtanding, and wyſedome grewe in my breſt: for my ſpirite was ſtrengthened in remembrance.

41 And my mouth was opened, and ſhut no more.

42 The higheſt gaue vnderſtanding vnto the fiue men, that they wrought the high things of the night, whiche they vnderſtood not.

43 But in the night they did eate bread: as for me I ſpake in the day, and held not my tongue by night.

44 In fourtie dayes they wrote two hundred and foure bookes.

45 And it came to paſſe, when the fourtie dayes were fulfilled, that the higheſt ſpake ſaying, The firſt that thou haſt written, publiſhe openly, that the worthy and vnworthy may reade it:

46 But kepe the ſeuentie laſt, that thou mayeſt deliuer them only to ſuch as be wiſe among the people.

47 For in them is the ſpring of vnderſtanding, the fountaine of wiſedome, and the ſtreame of knowledge.

48 And I dyd ſo.

¶ The.xv. Chapter.

1. The propheſie of Eſdras is certayne. 5. The euyls that ſhall come on the vvorlde. 9. The Lorde vvyl auenge the innocent blood.

BEholde, ſpeake thou in the eares of my people the woordes of propheſie, whiche I wyl put in thy mouth, ſayth the Lord,

2 And cauſe them to be written in a letter: for it * is the trueth. * or, they are faythful and true.

3 Feare not the imaginations agaynſt thee, let not the vnfaithfulneſſe of them trouble thee, that ſpeake againſt thee:

4 For al the vnfaythful, ſhal dye in their vnfaythfulneſſe.

5 Beholde (ſayth the Lord) I wyl bring plagues vpon the worlde, the ſworde, hunger, death, and deſtruction:

6 For wickednes hath the vpper hande in al the earth, and their ſhamefull woorkes are fulfylled:

7 Therefore ſayth the Lorde,

8 I wyl hold my tongue no more of their wickednes, whiche they do ſo vngodly, neyther wyll I ſuffer them in the thinges that they deale withal ſo wickedly: behold, the innocent & righteous blood crieth vnto me, and the ſoules of the iuſt complayne continually. || Apoc. 6.10. and.19.2.

9 And therefore, ſayth the Lord, I wyll ſurely auenge, and receiue vnto me al the innocent blood from among them.

10 Beholde, my people is ledde as a flocke of ſheepe to be ſlayne, I wyl not ſuffer them nowe to dwel in the lande of Egypt:

11 But wyll bring them out with a mightie hand, and a ſtretched out arme, and ſmite it with plagues as afore, and wyll deſtroy al the land of it.

12 Egypt ſhal mourne, and the fundations of it ſhalbe ſmitten with the plague and punyſhment that God ſhal bring vpon it.

13 They that tyll the ground ſhall mourne, for their ſeedes ſhalbe deſtroyed through the blaſting and hayle, and by an horrible ſtarre.

14 Woe worth the worlde, and them that dwel therein:

15 For the ſword and their deſtruction draweth nigh, and one people ſhal ſtand vp to fyght agaynſt another, and ſwordes in their handes.

16 " For men shalbe vnstedfast, and some shal doo violence vnto other, they shal not regarde theyr kyng, and the princes shal measure the way of theyr dooynges by theyr power.

17 A man shall desire to goe into a citie, and shal not be able.

18 For because of theyr pryde, the cities shalbe troubled, the houses shall tremble, and men shalbe afrayde.

19 A man shall haue no pitie vpon his neighbour, but shall destroy theyr houses with the swoorde, and spoyle theyr goodes, because of the " hunger of bread, and because of the great trouble.

20 Beholde, saith God, I cal togeather all the kynges of the earth to reuerence me, whiche are from the "vprysyng, from the south, from the east, and Libanus, to turne vpon them, and restore the thynges that they haue done to them:

21 Lyke as they doo yet this day vnto my chosen, so wyl I doo also, and recompence them in theyr bosome: Thus saith the Lorde God.

22 My ryght hande shall not spare the sinners, and my swoorde shall not ceasse ouer them that shedde the innocent blood vpon earth.

23 The fire is gone out from his wrath, and hath consumed the fundations of the earth, & the sinners like the straw that is kindled.

24 Woe wooth them that sinne, and keepe not my commaundementes, sayth the Lorde.

25 I wyl not spare them: goe your way ye children from the power, defile not my sanctuarie:

26 For the Lord knoweth al them that sinne agaynst hym, & therefore deliuereth he them vnto death and destruction.

27 For now are the plagues come vpon the world, & ye shal remayne in them: for god shal not deliuer you, because ye haue sinned agaynst hym.

28 Behold, an horrible vision commeth from the east,

29 Where generations of dragons of Arabia, shall come out with many charrets, and the multitude of them shalbe carried as the wind vpon earth, that all they whiche heare them, may feare and tremble,

30 Euen the Carmanies ragyng in wrath, shal goe forth as the wilde boores of the forest, and with great power shal they come, and stand fighting with them, and shal waste a portion of the lande of the Assyrians.

31 And then shall the dragons haue the vpper hande, and remembryng their nature, shal turne about, conspiring togeather in great power to persecute them.

32 Then these shalbe troubled, and keepe silence in their power, and shal flee.

33 And from the lande of the Assyrians shal the enimie besiege them, and consume some of them, and in their host shalbe feare & dread, and stryfe among theyr kynges.

34 Behold cloudes from the east, and from the north vnto the south, & they are very horrible to looke vpon, ful of wrath & storme:

35 They shal smite one vpon another, & they shall smite downe a great multitude of starres vppon the earth, euen their owne starre: and the blood shalbe from the swoord vnto the belly,

36 And the doung of man vnto the camels litter,

37 And there shalbe great fearefulnesse and tremblyng vpon earth: and they that see the wrath shalbe afrayd, and trembling shal come vpon them:

38 And then shal there come great rapnes from the south, and from the north, and part from the west:

39 And strong windes shall aryse from the east, and shal open it, and the cloud which he rayled vp in wrath, and the starre styred to cause feare toward the east and west wind, shalbe destroyed:

40 The great cloudes shalbe lift vp, and the mightie cloudes ful of wrath, and the starre, that they may make al the earth afrayde, and them that dwel therein, and that they may powre out ouer euery high place an horrible starre,

41 Fire, and hayle, and fleeing swoordes, and many waters: that al fieldes may be ful, and al ryuers, with the abundance of great waters.

42 And they shal breake down the cities, and walles, mountaynes, and hylles, trees of the wood, and the grasse of the meddowes, and al theyr corne.

43 And they shall goe stedfast vnto Babylon, and make her afrayde.

44 They shal come to her, and besiege her, the " starre and al wrath shall they powre out vpon her, then shal the dust and smoke goe vp vnto the heauen, and all they that be about her, shal bewayle her:

45 And they that remayne vnder her, shal doo seruice vnto them that haue put her in feare.

46 And thou Asia, that comfortest thee selfe also vpon the hope of Babylon, and art the glory of her person:

47 Woe be vnto thee thou wretche, because thou hast made thee selfe like vnto her, and hast deckt thy daughters in whoordome,

that

* or, for there shalbe sedition among men.

* or, lacke.

* or, west.

* or, consultation and tempest.

that they myght [a] triumphe, and pleate thy louers, whiche haue alway delyted to commit whoredome with thee.

48 Thou hast folowed the abominable citie in al her workes and inuentions: therefore sayth God, 49 I wyl send plagues vpon thee, wyddowhood, pouertie, hunger, warres, and pestilence, to waste thy houses with destruction and death.

50 And the glorye of thy power shalbe dyed vp as a floure, when the heate ryseth that is sent [b] ouer thee:

51 Thou shalt be sicke as a poore wyfe that is plagued and beaten of women, so that the myghty and louers shal not be able to receyue thee.

52 Would I so hate thee, saith the lord,

53 If thou hadst not alway flayne my chosen, exalting the stroke of thy handes, and sayd ouer their death when thou wast dronke,

54 Set foorth the beauty of thy countenaunce:

55 The reward of thy whoredome shalbe recompenced thee in thy bosome, therfore shalt thou receyue rewarde.

56 Like as thou hast done vnto my chosen, saith the Lord, euen so shal God doo vnto thee, and shal delyuer thee into the plague.

57 Thy chyldren shall dye of hunger, & thou shalt fal through the swoorde: thy cities shalbe broken downe, and all thyne shall perysshe with the swoorde in the fielde.

58 They that be in the mountaynes, shal dye of hunger, and eate their owne fleshe, and drynke their owne blood, for very hunger of bread, and thyrst of water.

59 Thou as vnhappye shalt come thorowe the sea, and receyue plagues agayne.

60 In the passage they shal cast downe the slayne citie, and shal roote out one part of the land, & consume the portion of thy glory, and shal returne to her that was destroyed.

61 They shall treade thee downe like stubble, and they shalbe thy fyre:

62 And shal consume thee, thy cities, & thy land, and thy mountaynes, al thy woods and thy fruitefull trees shall they burne vp with the fyre.

63 Thy chyldren shall they carry away captiue, and looke what thou hast, they shall spoyle it, and marre the beauty of thy face.

The.xvi.Chapter.

1. 38. Of the euylles that shall come vppon the worlde, with admonition howe to gouerne them selues in afflictions.

WOE be vnto thee Babylon & Assia, woe be vnto thee Egypt and Syria:

2 Gyrde vp your selues with clothes of sacke and heare, and mourne your chyldren, be sorie: for your destruction is at hande.

3 A swoorde is sent vppon you, and who wyl turne it backe?

4 A fyre is sent among you, & who wyll quenche it?

5 Plagues are sent vnto you, and what is he that wil dryue them away?

6 May any man dryue away an hungry Lion in the wood? or may any man quenche the fyre in stubble when it hath begunne to burne?

7 May one turne agayne the arrow that is shot of a strong Archer?

8 The mighty lord sendeth the plagues, and what is he that wil driue them away?

9 The fyre is kindled and gone foorth in his wrath, & what is he that may quenche it?

10 He shal cast lyghtnynges, and who shal not feare? he shal thunder, and who shal not be afrayde?

11 The Lorde shal threaten, and who shal not vtterly be beaten to powder at his presence?

12 The earth quaketh, and the fundations thereof, the sea arryseth vp with waues from the deepe, and the waues of it are vnquiet, and the fishes thereof also, before the Lord, and before the glory of his power:

13 For strong is his ryght hande that bendeth the bowe, his arrowes that he shooteth are sharpe, and shal not mysse when they begyn to be shot into the endes of the world.

14 Behold, the plagues are sent, & shal not turne agayne tyll they come vpon earth.

15 The fyre is kindled, and shall not be put out, tyl it consume the fundations of the earth.

16 Lyke as an arrowe which is shot of a myghty Archer, returneth not backwarde: euen so the plagues that shalbe sent vpon the earth, shal not turne agayne.

17 Woe is me, woe is me, who wyl delyuer me in those dayes?

18 The begynnyng of sorowes & great mournyng, the begynnyng of dearth & great death, the begynnyng of warres, and the powers shall stande in feare: the begynnyng of euylles, and they shal tremble euery one.

19 What shall I doo in these thynges, when the plagues come?

20 Beholde, hunger, and plague, trouble, and anguyshe, are sent as scourges for amendement:

21 But for all these thynges, they shall not turne from their wickednesse, nor be alway myndeful of the scourges.

22 Beholde, victualles shalbe so good cheape vpō earth, that they shal thinke them

selues

selues to be in good case: and euen then shal mischeefe growe vpon earth, warres, dearth, and great * disquietnesse.

* Or, confusion.

23 For many of them that dwell vpon earth, shal perysshe of hunger, & the other that escape the hunger, shal the swoorde destroy:

24 And the dead shalbe caste out as doung, and there shalbe no man to comforte them: For the earth shalbe wasted, and the cities shalbe cast downe.

25 There shalbe no man left to tyll the earth, and to sowe it.

26 The trees shall geue fruite, & who shal plucke them of, and geather them?

27 The grapes shalbe ryppe, & who shal treade them? For al places shalbe desolate of men:

28 So that one man shall desyre to see an other, or to heare his voyce.

29 For of one whole citie, there shalbe ten left, & two of the fielde, whiche shal hyde them selues in the thycke * bushes, and in the clyftes of stones,

* Or, woodes.

30 Lyke as when there remayne three or foure Olyues, in the place where Olyues growe, or among other trees,

31 Or as when a Vineyarde is geathered, there are left some grapes of them that diligently sought throughe the Vineyarde:

32 Euen so, in those dayes, there shalbe three or foure left, by them that searche their houses with the swoorde.

33 And the earth shalbe layd waste, and the fieldes thereof shall waxe olde, and her wayes, & al her pathes shal grow ful of thornes, because no man shal trauel therthrough.

34 The virgins shal mourne, hauyng no bydegromes, the women shall make lamentation, hauyng no husbandes, their daughters shal mourne, hauyng no helpers, 35 In the warres shall their bydegromes be destroyed, and their husbandes shall perysshe of hunger.

36 But ye seruantes of the Lord, heare these thynges, and marke them.

37 Beholde the woorde of the Lord, O receyue it: beleeue not the goddes of whom the Lorde spake, 38 Beholde, the plagues drawe nygh, and are not slacke in tarrying.

39 Lyke as a trauaylyng woman, whiche in the nienth moneth bryngeth foorth a sonne, when the houre of the byrth is come, an houre two or three afore that, the paynes come vppon her body, and when the chylde commeth to the byrth, they tarry not the twynckelyng of an eye:

40 Euen so shall not the plagues be slacke to come vpon the earth, and the world shal mourne, and sorowes shall come vpon it on euery syde.

41 O my people, heare my woorde, make you redie to the battaile, and in al empl be euen as pylgrymes vpon earth.

42 He that selleth, let him be as he that fleeth away: and he that bupeth, as one that wyl leese:

43 Who so occupieth marchandize, as he that wynneth not: and he that buyldeth, as he that shal not dwel therein:

44 He that soweth, as they that shal not reape: he that cutteth the Vineyarde, as he that shal not geather the grapes:

45 They that marrie, as they that shal geat no chyldren: and they that marrie not, as the wyddowes.

46 And therefore they that labour, labour in vayne.

47 For strangers shall reape their fruites, & spoyle their goodes, ouerthrowe their houses, and take their chyldren captiues: for in captiuitie and hunger shall they geat chyldren.

48 And they that occupie their marchandize with robberie, the more they decke their cities, their houses, their possessions, and their owne persons, 49 The more wyll I punyshe them for their synnes, sayth the Lorde.

50 Lyke as an whore enuieth an honest and vertuous woman:

51 So shal ryghteousnesse hate iniquitie, when she decketh her self, and shal accuse her to her face, when he commeth that shall byrdle the aucthour of all sinne vpon earth.

52 And therefore be not ye lyke thereunto, nor to the woorkes thereof:

53 For or euer it be long, iniquitie shal be taken away out of the earth, and ryghteousnesse shall raigne among you.

54 Let not the sinner say that he hath not sinned: for coales of fyre shal burne vpon his head, whiche sayth, Before the Lorde God and his glory, I haue not sinned.

55 Beholde, the Lord || knoweth al the woorkes of men, their imaginations, their thoughtes, and their hartes. || Luk. 16.

56 For he spake but the woorde, || Let the earth be made: and it was made, Let the heauen be made: and it was created. || Gen. 1.

57 In his woord were the starres made, and he knoweth the || number of them. || Psal. 14[illegible] Esa. 17.3.

58 He searcheth the grounde of the deepe, and the treasures therof, he hath measured the sea, and what it conteyneth.

59 He hath shut the sea in the myddest of the waters, and with his woorde hath he hanged the earth vpon the waters.

60 He spreadeth out the heauens lyke a vault, vpon the waters hath he founded it.

61 In

61 In the desart and dyre wyldernesse hath he made dyuinges of water, and pooles vpon the toppes of the mountaynes, that the floodes myght poure downe from the stonye rockes to water the earth.

62 He made man, and put his hart in the myddes of the body, and geaue him breath, lyfe, and vnderstandyng.

63 Yea, and the spirite of the almighty God whiche made al thynges, and hath searched the ground of al the secretes of the earth.

64 He knoweth your imaginations and inuentions, & what ye thinke when ye sinne, and wolde hyde your sinnes.

65 Therefore hath the Lorde searched and sought out al your wourkes, and he shal bewray you al:

66 And when your sinnes are brought forth, ye shalbe ashamed before men, and your owne sinnes shalbe your accusers in that day.

67 What wyll ye doo? or howe wyl ye hide your sinnes before God and his angels?

68 Beholde, GOD him selfe is the iudge, feare hym: leaue of from your sinnes, and forgeat your vnrighteousnesse, and meddle no more with them: so shal God leade you forth, and deliuer you from al trouble.

69 For behold, the heate of a great multitude is kindled ouer you, and they shal take away certayne of you, & shal slay for meate to the Iudges.

70 And they that consent vnto them, shalbe had in derision, laughed to scorne, and troden vnder foote.

71 For there shalbe in euery place, and in the next cities, a great insurrection vpon those that feare the Lorde.

72 They shalbe lyke madde men, they shal spare no man, they shal spoyle and wast suche as yet feare the Lorde.

73 For their goodes shal they take from them, and shut them out of their houses.

74 Then shal it be knowen who are my chosen, and they shalbe tryed as the golde in the fire.

75 Heare, O ye my beloued, sayth the Lord: behold, the dayes of trouble are at hand, but I wyl deliuer you from the same.

76 Be not ye afrayde, dispayre not: for God is your captayne.

77 Who so keepeth my commaundements and precepts, sayth the Lorde God, let not your sinnes waygh you downe, and let not your vnrighteousnesse be lyft vp.

78 Woe be vnto them that are bounde with theyr sinnes, and couered with theyr wickednesse, like as a fielde is hedged in with bushes, and the pathe thereof couered with thornes, that no man may trauaile throughe it is shut vp, and is cast into the fire for euer, to be consumed therewith.

1. Tobias parentage. 3. His godlinesse. 6. His equitie. 8. His charitie and prosperitie. 23. He sleeth, and his goodes are confiscate, 25. and after restored.

TObias was of the tribe & citie of Nepthali, whiche lyeth in the high countries of Galilee aboue Naasson, beside the waye that leadeth to the Weste, hauyng the citie of Sephet vpon the leaste side.

2 Though he was taken || prisoner in the dayes of Salmanasar king of the Assyrians, neuertheles beyng in captiuitie, he forsooke not the way of trueth:

3 Insomuch that what so euer he might gat, he parted it dayly with his felow prisoners and brethren that were of his kinrede.

4 And though he were younger then all the tribe of Nepthali, yet did not he behaue him selfe childishly in his wourkes.

5 And when all the other went to the golden calues, which || Ieroboam the kyng of Israel had made, he alone fledde al theyr companies:

6 And gate him to Hierusalem vnto the temple of the Lord, and there worshipped the Lorde God of Israel, faythfully offeryng of || all his first fruites and tythes:

7 So that in the third yere, he ministred al the tithes vnto the strangers & conuertes.

8 These and such like thinges did he obserue, accordyng to the lawe of God, when he was yet but young.

9 But when he was a man, he tooke out of his owne tribe a wife called || Anna: and of her he begate a sonne, whom he called after his owne name.

11 Now when he, with his wyfe, his sonne, and with al his * kynred, was come in captiuitie vnto the citie of Niniue:

12 ‖ What time as they al did eate of the meates of the heathen, he kept his soule, and was neuer defyled in theyr meates.

13 And for so much as he was mindeful of the Lord in al his hart, God gaue him fauour in the sight of Salmanasar the king:

14 Whiche gaue him power to goe where he would, and so had he libertie to doo what so euer he would.

15 So went Tobias vnto al them that were in captiuitie and comforted them, and gaue them wholesome exhortations.

16 And when he came to Rages, a citie of the Medes, hauyng ten talentes of syluer (of the thynges wherewith the king had honoured hym,)

17 And sawe among a great companie of people of his kinrede, one Gabelus which was of his owne tribe being in necessitie, he gaue him the sayd weight of syluer, vnder an hand writyng.

18 After a long season, whē Salmanasar the kyng was dead, and Sennacherib his sonne raigned in his steede, whiche hated the chyldren of Israel:

19 Tobias went dayly throughout all his kinred, and comforted them, and gaue of his goodes to euery one of them, as muche as he might.

20 He fedde the hungry, clothed the naked, and buried the dead and slayne, and that diligently.

21 And when ‖ Sennacherib the kyng came againe, and fledde out of Iurie (what tyme as God punished hym for his blasphemie) & in his wrath slue many of the chyldren of Israel, Tobias buried their bodyes.

22 But when it was told the kyng, he commaunded to slay hym, and tooke away all his goodes.

23 Neuertheleſſe, Tobias with his sonne, and with his wife, fledde away naked, and was hidde: for there were many that loued hym.

24 But after fourtie and fiue dayes, the king was slayne of his owne sonnes:

25 Then came Tobias agayne to his houſe, & al his goods were restored vnto him.

¶ The.ii. Chapter.

1. Tobias calleth the faythfull to his table. 3. He leaueth the feaſte to burye the dead. 10. Howe he became blynde. 13. His wyfe laboureth for his lyuyng. 16. Shee reproacheth hym bytterly.

AFter those thynges, vpon a solemne day of the Lorde, Tobias made a good feast in his houſe,

2 And said vnto his sonne, Goe thy way, and bryng hyther some of our tribe, suche as feare God, that they may make meery with vs.

3 And when he was gone, he came agayne, & tolde his father that one of the chyldren of Israel lay slaine vpon the streete.

4 And immediatly he leapt from his table, left the feast, came fastyng to the dead coarse, tooke hym, and bare him priuily into his houſe, that when the sunne was downe, he might safely bury hym.

5 And when he had hid the coarse, he did eate his meate with mournyng and feare,

6 Remembryng the wordes that the lord said by the prophete Amos, Your ‖ high feastes shalbe turned to sorowe and heauineſſe.

7 But when the sunne was downe, he went his way, and buryed hym.

8 Then all ‖ his neighbours reuyled him, saying, It is not long since it was commaunded to slay thee, because of this matter, and hast scarce escaped the danger of death, and hurieſt thou the dead agayne?

9 Neuertheleſſe, Tobias fearyng God more then the king, tooke the bodies of the slayne, and hyd them in his houſe, and buried them at midnightes.

10 It happened vpon a day, that he had buryed the dead, and was weery, came home, and layde hym downe by the wal, and sleapt.

11 And whyle he was a sleepe, there fell downe vpon his eies warme doung out of the swalowes nest, so that he was blynde.

12 This temptation dyd God suffer to happen vnto hym, that they whiche came after, myght haue an example of his patience, lyke as of holy Job.

13 For inſomuch as he euer feared God from his youth vp, and kept his commaundementes, he grudged not agaynſt God, that the plague of blyndneſſe chaunced vnto him:

14 But remained stedfast in the feare of god, & thanked god al the dayes of his life.

15 For like as blessed Job was had in derision of kinges: euen so was he laughed to scorne of his elders and kinſfolkes, whiche sayde vnto hym, 16 Where is the hope for the whiche thou hast doone almes, and buryed the dead?

17 But Tobias rebuked them, and spake, Say not so:

a Or, sighed.

2 Saying, O Lord, thou art righteous, and al thy iudgementes are true: yea, al thy wayes are mercy, & faythfulnesse, and iudgement.

3 And nowe, O Lorde, be myndeful of me, and take no vengeaunce of my synnes, neyther remember my misdeedes, neyther the misdeedes of my forefathers.

4 For we haue not been obedient vnto thy commaundementes, || therefore are we spoyled, brought into captiuitie, into death, into derision & shame vnto al nations, among whom thou hast scattered vs.

Deut.28.15

5 And nowe, O Lorde, thy iudgementes are great: for we haue not doone accordyng to thy commaundementes, neyther haue we walked innocently before thee.

6 And nowe, O Lorde, deale with me accordyng to thy wyll, and commaunde my spirite to be receyued in peace: for more expedient were it for me to dye, then to lyue.

7 At the same tyme it happened that Sara the daughter of Raguel, at Rages a citie of the Medes, was also reproched by one of her fathers handmaydes, 8 That she had seuen husbandes, whiche as soone as they were gone in vnto her, were slayne of the deuyl, called Asmodeus.

9 Therefore when she reproued the mayden for her faulte, she answeared her, saying, GOD let vs neuer see sonne nor daughter of thee more vpon earth, thou kyller of thy husbandes.

10 Wilt thou slay me also, as thou hast slayne seuen men? At this woyce went Sara into an high chamber of her house, & three dayes and three nyghtes she neyther ate, nor dranke:

11 But continued in prayer, & besought God with teares, that he would deliuer her from this rebuke.

12 Upon the thyrd day it came to passe, that when she had made an end of prayer, she praysed the Lorde, 13 Saying, blessed be thy name, O God of our fathers, whiche when thou art wroth, shewest mercy, & in time of trouble thou forgeuest the sinnes of them that cal vpon thee.

14 Unto thee, O Lorde, turne I my face, vnto thee lyft I vp myne eyes:

15 I beseeche thee, O Lorde, loose me out of the bondes of this rebuke, or els take me vtterly away from the earth.

16 Thou knowest Lorde, that I neuer had desyre vnto man, and that I haue kept my soule cleane from al vncleanly lust:

17 I haue not kept company with those that passe their tyme in sporte, neyther haue I made me selfe partaker with them that walke in lyght behauiour.

18 An husbande haue I consented to take, not for my pleasure, but in thy feare.

19 Nowe peraduenture, eyther I haue been vnworthy of them, or els were they vnmeete for me: for thou happyly hast kept me to an other husbande.

20 For why? thy counsayle is not in the power of man.

21 But euery one that serueth thee, is sure of this, that if his lyfe be in trying, it shalbe crowned, and if it be in trouble, that God no doubt shal deliuer him: and if his life be in chastening, that he shall haue leaue to come vnto thy mercy.

22 For thou hast no pleasure in our "damnation: and why? after a storme, thou makest the weather fayre and styl, after weeping and heauinesse, thou geuest great ioy.

b Or, destruction.

23 Thy name, O GOD of Israel, be praysed for euer.

24 At the same tyme were both their prayers hearde, in the syght of the maiestie of the hyghest God.

25 And Raphael the holy angel of the Lorde, was sent to helpe them both, whose prayers "came at one time togeather before God.

c Or, were recited at one tyme togeather.

¶ The.iiii. Chapter.

Preceptes and exhortations of Tobias, to his sonne.

SO when Tobias thought his prayer to be heard, that he myght dye, he called vnto hym his sonne Tobias:

2 And sayde vnto hym, My sonne, heare the the wordes of my mouth, and laye them in thyne hart as a fundation.

‖ Exo. 20. 12 3 When GOD taketh away my soule, bury thou my body: and ‖ honour thy mother in honour, al the dayes of her lyfe.

4 For thou oughtest to remember, what, and howe great perylles she suffered for thee in her wombe.

5 And when she also hath fulfylled the tyme of her lyfe, bury her "helyde me. *or, about.

6 Haue God in thy thought al the daies of thy lyfe, and beware, lest at any time thou consent vnto sinne, and lest thou let slyp the commaundementes of the Lorde our God.

‖ Pro. 3. 9. 7 ‖ Geue almes of thy goodes, and turne neuer thy face from the poore: and so shall it come to passe, that the face of the Lorde shal not be turned away from thee.

‖ Eccle. 35. 4 8 ‖ Be mercyful after thy power.

9 If thou haue muche, geue plenteously: if thou hast litle, doo thy diligence gladly, to geue of that litle:

10 For so gatherest thou thee selfe a good reward in the day of necessitie.

‖ Eccl. 29. 15 11 For ‖ mercy deliuereth from al sinne, and from death, and suffereth not the soule to come into darknesse.

12 A great comfort is mercy before the hygh God, vnto al them that shewe it.

‖ 1. Thes. 4. 3 13 My sonne, ‖ keepe thee well from al whoredome: and helyde thy wyfe, suffer not thee selfe to knowe of sinne.

14 Let neuer pryde haue rule in thy mynde, nor in thy woorde: for in ‖ pryde began al destruction.

‖ Leui. 19. 13 15 Whosoeuer woorketh any thyng for thee, ‖ immediately geue hym his hyre, and looke that thy hyred seruauntes wages remayne not at al with thee.

‖ Math. 7. 12 16 Looke that thou neuer doo vnto ‖ an other man, the thyng that thou wouldest not an other man shoulde doo vnto thee.

17 Eate thy bread with the hungrye & poore, & ‖ couer the naked with thy clothes.

‖ Luk. 14. 13 18 Set thy head and wine vppon the buryall of the ryghteous, and doo not thou eate and drynke therof with the sinners.

19 Alke euer counsayle at the wyse.

20 Be alwoy prayeyng of God, and beseeche hym that he wyl "order thy wayes, & that whatsoeuer thou deuisest or takest in hande, it may remayne in hym. *or, direct.

21 I certifie thee also my sonne, that when thou wast yet but a babe, I delyuered ten talentes of syluer vnto Gabelus at Rages a citie of the Medes, and his hand wryting haue I by me:

22 And therefore seeke some meanes, howe thou mayest come by hym, and receyue of hym the sayde weyght of syluer, and geue hym his hande wryting agayne.

23 My sonne, be not afrayde: truely it is, we leade here a poore lyfe, but great good shall we haue yf we feare God, and departe from all sinne, and doo well. Rom. 8. 13

The. v. Chapter.

2. Tobias is sent to Rages. 3. He meeteth with the angel Raphael, whiche dyd conduct hym.

THen Tobias answeared his father, and sayde, Father, all that thou hast commaunded me, wyll I doo, and that diligently.

2 But howe shal I requyre this money, I can not tel, neyther doeth he knowe me, nor I hym: what token shall I geue hym? And as for the way thyther, I neuer knewe it.

3 Then his father answeared hym, and sayd, I haue his hande wryting by me, whiche when thou shewest hym, immediately he shal pay thee.

4 But goe thy way nowe, and get thee some faythfull man to goe with thee for an hyre, that thou mayest receyue the money whyle I am yet lyuyng.

5 Then went Tobias out, and vppon the streete he founde a fayre young man standyng, gyrded vp, and as it were one redie to take his iourney.

6 And he knewe not that it was an angell of GOD, but saluted hym, and sayde, From whence art thou, thou good young man? Luk. 10

7 He answeared, Of the chyldren of Israel. And Tobias sayd vnto hym, Knowest thou the way that leadeth vnto the country of the Medes?

8 He answeared, I knowe it well, and all those "streetes haue I gonne ofte tymes, and haue lodged with our brother Gabelus that dwelleth in Rages a citie of the Medes, whiche lyeth vppon the mount Ecbatanis. *or, ways.

9 Tobias sayde vnto hym, I pray thee tarry for me, tyl I haue told my father these thynges.

10 Then went Tobias in, and tolde his father all: at the whiche his father marueyled, and prayed that he woulde come in vnto hym.

11 Nowe when he came in, he saluted hym, and sayde, Joy be with thee for euermore.

12 And olde Tobias sayde, What ioy can I haue, that sit here in darknesse, and see not the lyght of heauen?

13 The young man sayde vnto hym, Be of good cheare, god shal helpe thee shortly.

14 And Tobias sayde vnto hym, Canst thou thou bring my sonne to Gabelus vnto the citie of Rages in Medea: and when thou comest againe, I shal pay thee thy hyre:

15 And the angel sayd vnto him, I shal leade thy sonne, and bring him to thee agayne.

16 Then Tobias answeared him, Tel me, I pray thee, of what house, or of what tribe art thou?

17 The angel Raphael sayd vnto him, Seekest thou after the kinrede of an hireling, or an hyred man him selfe, for thy sonne to goe with him?

18 But that I make thee not careful, I am Azarias, the sonne of great Hananias.

19 And Tobias answeared, Thou art come of a great kinrede: but I pray thee, be not displeased, that I desyre to knowe thy kinrede.

20 The angel saide vnto him, Thy sonne shal I leade foorth safely, & bring him whole and sounde to thee agayne.

21 Then answeared Tobias, and saide, Wel, goe on your way, and God be in your iourney, and his angel beare you company.

22 So when they had prepared al things that they would take with them in their iourney, Tobias bade his father and his mother farewell: and they went on their way both togeather.

23 Now when they were gone, his mother began to weepe, and sayd, The || staffe Tob. 10.4.
of our age hast thou taken away, and sent him from vs.

24 Would God that money had neuer ben, for the which thou hast sent him away.

25 For our pouertie was sufficient for vs, why we shoulde haue counted it riches that we sawe our sonne here.

26 Then said Tobias vnto her, Weepe not, our sonne shal goe safely, and come to vs agayne sounde, and thine eyes shall see him.

27 For I truste that the good angel of God shal beare him company, and order wel al the thinges that he doth, so that he shall come to vs againe with ioy.

28 At these wordes his mother left of from weeping, and helde her peace.

¶ The. vi. Chapter.

Tobias deliuered from the fishe. 8. Raphael sheuweth hym certayne medicines. 19. He conducketh hym towarde Sara.

SO Tobias went on his way, and a dogge followed hym: and the fyrst nyght they abode by the water of Tigris.

2 Then went he out to washe his feete, and beholde, there came foorth an horrible fishe to deuour hym.

3 Of whom Tobias was afrayde, and cryed with a loude voyce, saying, Lorde, he commeth vpon me.

4 And the angel saide vnto him, Take him by the gyl, and drawe hym to thee. And he did so, and drewe him vnto the lande: and the fishe began to leape at his feete.

5 Then said the angel vnto him, Take out the bowelles of this fishe: and as for the hart, the gall, and the liuer, keepe them by thee: for these things are necessary and good for medicines.

6 Tobias did so, and rosted the flesshe, and they tooke it with them in their iourney: the residue they salted, as muche as was sufficient for them, tyll they came to Rages a citie of the Medes.

7 Then Tobias asked the angel, and said vnto him, I pray thee brother Azarias, tel me, wherto are these thinges good of the fishe that thou hast bidden me keepe?

8 The angel answeared him, and sayde, If thou layest a peece of the hart vpon the coales, the smoke thereof driueth away al euil spirites, whether it be from man or from woman, so that from thenceforth the same shal come no more vnto them.

9 The gal is good to annoint or to strike the eyes withall, where as there is any blemishe in them, so that they shalbe whole.

10 And Tobias said vnto him, Where wilt thou that we remaine? The angel answered,

11 And said, || Here is a nigh kinsman || Num. 27.8
of thine, and of thy tribe, one Raguel by name, which hath a daughter called Sara, and hath neither sonne nor daughter but her.

12 Al his good belongeth vnto thee, and thou must mary her.

13 And therefore desyre her of her father, and he shal geue her thee to wyfe.

14 Then answered Tobias, and said, As I vnderstande she hath ben maryed vnto seuen husbandes, and they all are dead: and I haue hearde say that the deuyll slue them.

15 I am afrayde therefore, lest suche thinges happen vnto me also: whiche if it come to passe, seeing I am the only sonne of my father & my mother, I should bring them in their age with sorowe to their graues.

16 Then sayd the angel Raphael vnto him, Heare me, and I wil tel thee what they be of whom the deuyl hath power.

17 Namely, they that receiue mariage after suche a fashion, that they shutte GOD out from them, and from their harte, and geue them selues to their owne lust, euen as it were || an Horse and Mule which haue || Psal. 31.9

deuil power.

18 But when thou takeſt her, and art come into the chamber, withholde thee ſelfe from her three dayes, and geue thy diligence vnto nothing but vnto prayer with her.

19 And in the firſt night roſte the liuer of the fiſhe, and the deuil ſhalbe driuen away.

20 The ſeconde night ſhalt thou be receiued into the company of the holy patriarches.

21 The thirde night ſhalt thou obteine the bleſſyng of God, ſo that " whole chyldren ſhalbe borne of you.

" or, ſounde.

22 After the third night, take the mayden in the feare of God, and more for the deſyre of children, then for any fleſhly luſt, that in the ſeede of Abraham thou mayeſt obteyne the bleſſing in children.

¶ The. vii. Chapter.

Tobias maryeth Sara Raguels daughter.

THen went they in vnto Raguel, whiche receiued them ioyfully.

2 And when Raguel looked vpon Tobias, he ſayde vnto Anna his wife, Howe like is this young man vnto my ſiſters ſonne?

3 And when he had ſpoken this, he ſaid, Whence be ye, ye young men, and our brethren? They ſayde, Of the tribe of Nephthali, out of the captiuitie of Niniue.

4 Then ſaid Raguel vnto them, Know ye my brother Tobias? They ſayde, Yea we knowe him well.

5 And when he had ſpoken muche good of him, the angel ſaid vnto Raguel, Tobias of whom thou aſkeſt, is this young mans father.

6 Then Raguel bowed him ſelfe downe, and wept, and tooke him about the necke, and kiſſed him:

7 And ſayde, Gods bleſſyng haue thou my ſonne, for thou art the ſonne of a good vertuous man.

8 And Anna his wife, and Sara his daughter wept alſo.

9 Nowe when they had talked together, Raguel bade kyll a Weather, and to make a feaſt: and when he had exhorted them to ſitte downe to dinner,

10 Tobias ſayd, I wil neyther eate nor drinke here this day, except thou firſt graunt me my petition, and promiſe me to geue me thy daughter Sara.

11 When Raguel hearde this, he was aſtonied, for he knewe what had happened vnto the other ſeuen men that went in vnto her: and he began to feare that it ſhoulde chaunce vnto him in like manner. And while he ſtoode ſo in a doubt, and gaue the young man no anſweare, 12 The angel ſaid vnto him, Feare not to geue him thy daughter, for vnto this man that feareth God, belongeth thy daughter to wife: therefore might none other haue her.

13 Then ſaid Raguel, I doubt not but God hath accepted my prayers and teares in his ſight:

14 And I beleeue he cauſed you to come vnto me for the ſame intent, that this daughter of mine might be maried in her owne kinrede, accordyng to the || lawe of Moſes: and nowe doubt thou not, but I wyll geue her vnto thee.

|| Num. 36.

15 So he tooke the right hande of his daughter, and gaue her into the right hande of Tobias, and ſaid, The God of Abraham, the God of Iſahac, and the God of Iacob be with you, ioyne you together, and fulfyl his bleſſyng in you.

16 And they tooke a letter, and made a writing of the mariage.

17 And then made they merry, and praiſed God.

18 And Raguel called Anna his wife vnto hym, and bade her prepare another chamber.

19 And thyther he brought Sara his daughter, and ſhe wept.

20 Then ſayde he vnto her, Be of good cheare my daughter: the Lorde of heauen geue thee ioy, for the heauineſſe that thou haſt ſuffered.

¶ The viii. Chapter.

2. Tobias driueth away the euyl ſpirite. 4. He praieth to God with his wife. 11. Raguel prepareth a graue for his ſonne in lawe. 16. Raguel bleſſeth the Lorde.

NOwe after that they had ſupped, they brought the young man in to her.

2 Then thought Tobias vpon the wordes of the angel, and tooke out of his bagge a peece of the liuer of the fiſhe, and layde it vpon the hotte coales.

3 So the angel Raphael tooke holde of the deuil, and ſent him away, and bound him in the wildernelle of the higher Egypt.

4 Then ſpake Tobias vnto the virgin, and ſaid, Vp Sara, let vs make our prayer vnto God to day, to morowe, and " ouermorowe: for thele three nightes wil we " reconcile our ſelues with GOD: and when the third holy night is paſt, we ſhal ioyne together in the duetie of mariage.

" or, the third day.

" or, ioyne our ſelues to God.

5 For we are the children of holy men, and we may not come together as the heathen that knowe not God.

6 Then

6 Then stoode they vp both togeather, and besought God earnestly [a] that he would preserue them.

7 And Tobias sayde, O Lorde God of our fathers, prayse be thou of heauen and earth, of the sea, welles, and flooddes, and of all thy creatures that be therein.

8 Thou || madest Adam of the moulde of the earth, & gauest him Eua for an helper.

9 And nowe Lorde, thou knowest that it is not because of voluptuousnesse that I take this siluer of myne to wyfe, but onely for the loue of chyldren, in whom thy name may be blessed for euer.

10 And Sara sayde, Haue mercy vppon vs, O Lorde, haue mercy vpon vs, and let vs both come whole and sounde togeather to a good age.

11 And about the cocke crowing it came to passe, that Raguel called his seruantes:

12 And they went with him to make a graue.

13 For he said, It is chanced nowe vnto hym peraduenture, as it did vnto the other seuen men that went in vnto her.

14 Nowe when they had made the graue, Raguel came agayne to his wyfe, and sayd vnto her, Sende one of thy maydens to looke if he be dead, that I may bury hym afore it be light day.

15 So she sent a mayden to see: whiche when she came into the chamber, found them whole and sounde, sleepyng togeather.

16 And so she came agayne, and brought good tydinges: then Raguel and Anna his wyfe praysed the Lorde, 17 And said, Praysed be thou, O Lorde God of Israel, that it is not happened vnto vs as we thought.

18 For thou hast dealt mercifully with vs, and put away from vs the enmie that persecuted vs, 19 And hast shewed mercy vnto ponder two, the onely borne chyldren of their parentes: O Lorde, cause them to magnifie thee more perfectly, and to offer the sacrifyce of thy prayse and of their health: that al people may knowe that thou onely art God in all the earth.

20 And immediatly Raguel commaunded his seruantes to fyl the graue, that they had made, with earth, afore it was lyght:

21 And bade his wyfe prepare a feast, and to make redy all thinges that were necessary for meat to such as went by the way.

22 He caused two fat kyne also & foure weathers to be slayne, and meates to be prepared for al his neighbours and freendes.

23 And Raguel charged Tobias to remaine with him two weekes.

24 As for al the good that he had, he gaue Tobias the halfe of it, and made this writing, that the halfe which remayned, shoulde fal vnto Tobias after their death.

The.ix. Chapter.

The angel goeth to Gabelus at the desire of Tobias: vvhiche deliuereth the letter, and receyueth the money.

THen Tobias called vnto him the angel, whom he thought to haue ben a man, and sayde vnto hym, Brother Azarias, I pray thee hearken vnto my woordes.

2 If I shoulde geue mee selfe to be thy seruant, I shall not deserue thy prouidence.

3 Neuertheless, I beseech thee that thou wylt take the beastes, and the seruantes, and goe vnto Gabelus in Rages the citie of the Medes, and deliuer him his hande writing, and receiue the money of hym, and pray him to come to my marryage.

4 For thou knowest thee selfe that my father doth number the dayes: and if I tary one day to long, he wyl be sory in his minde.

5 Nowe seest thou howe earnestly Raguel hath required me, so that I can not say him nay.

6 Then tooke Raphael foure of Raguels seruantes, and two Cammels, and went vnto Rages the citie of the Medes: & when he had founde Gabelus, he gaue hym his hande writyng, and receyued al the money.

7 He told hym also of Tobias the sonne of Tobi, howe al thinges had happened: and caused him to come with him to the mariage.

8 Nowe when he came into the house of Raguel, he founde Tobias sitting at the table: and he leaped vp, and they kyssed one another, and Gabelus wept, & prayed God,

9 And sayd, The blessing of the GOD of Israel haue thou, for thou art the sonne of a ryght vertuous and iust man, and of one that feareth God, and geueth great almes:

10 And blessyng haue thy wife, and your elders,

11 That ye may see your children, and your childrens children vnto the thirde and fourth generation: and your seede be blessed of the GOD of Israel, whiche raigneth worlde without ende.

12 And when they all had sayde Amen, they went to the feast: but with the feare of the Lorde helde they the feast of the marriage.

The.x. Chapter.

1. Tobias and his vvyfe thinke long for theyr sonne. 10. Raguel sendeth avvay Tobias and Sara.

Nowe whyle yonng Tobias made long tarying, by reason of the maryage, his father was full of care and heauinesse, saying, Canst thou thinke what shoulde be the cause that my sonne taryeth so long? or why he shoulde be kept so long there?

2 Thynkest thou Gabelus is dead, and no man wyl geue him the money?

3 Thus began he to be very sorowful, he and Anna his wyfe with him: and began to weepe both togeather, because theyr sonne was not come agayne vnto them at the day appoynted.

4 As for his mother, she weapt with discomfortable teares, and sayde, Wo is mee my sonne, Oh what ayled vs to sende thee away into a strange countrey, thoulight of our eyes, thou || staffe of our age, thou com- ‖ Tob.5.19.
fort of our life, thou hope of our generation?

5 Seeing all the thinges that we haue are onely in thee, we shoulde not haue sent thee away from vs.

6 Then Tobias comforted her and sayd, Holde thy peace, and be not discomforted, our sonne is whole and sounde: the man that we sent him withall, is faythfull ynough.

7 Neuertheless, she might in no wyse be comforted: but dayly went out, looked about, and went about al the streetes whereby she thought he shoulde come agayne, that if it were possible, she might see hym comming a farre of.

8 But Raguel sayde vnto his sonne in lawe, O tary here, and I shal sende a messenger vnto thy father Tobias, to tell him that thou art in good health.

9 Tobias sayde vnto him, I am sure that my father and my mother count euery day, and that their hartes are sory.

10 So when Raguel had prayed Tobias with many wordes, and he woulde in no wise heare him, he deliuered Sara vnto him, and the halfe part of al his goodes, in seruantes, and handmaidens, in sheepe, in cammels, and in kyne, and muche money: and so sent hym away from hym with health and ioy, 11 And sayde, The holy angel of the Lord be with you in your iourney, and bryng you foorth safe and sound: that ye may fynde all thynges in good case with your elders, and that myne eyes may see your children afore I dye.

12 So the elders imbraced their daughter, kyssed her, and let her goe:

13 Exhorting her to honour her father and mother in lawe, to loue her husband, to rule wel her houshold, to keepe her house in good order, and to shew her selfe faithfull.

The. xi. Chapter.

The returne of Tobias to his father. 11. How he was receyued. 15. His father hath his sight restored, and praiseth the Lorde.

AS they nowe were goyng homeward agayne, vppon the eleuenth day they came to Charran, whiche lyeth in the halfe way towarde Ninine.

2 And the angel sayd, Brother Tobias, thou knowest how thou hast leaft thy father.

3 Therefore if it please thee, we two wyl goe before, and let the housholde, with thy wyfe and the catel, come fayre and softly after vs.

4 And when Tobias was content that they shoulde goe before, Raphael sayde vnto him, Take of the gal of the fyshe with thee for it shalbe necessarie. So Tobias tooke of the gal, and they went theyr way:

5 But Anna the mother of Tobias sate dayly by the way side vpon the top of an hyl, from whence she might see farre about her.

6 And whyle she was wayting there for his comming, she loked a farre of, and anone she perceiued her sonne comming, and ran and tolde her husbande, saying, Beholde, thy sonne commeth.

7 And Raphael sayd vnto Tobias, As soone as thou commest into the house, immediatly worshyp the Lord thy God, and geue thankes vnto hym: then goe to thy father, and kysse hym.

8 And strayghtwayes stryke his eyes ayer with the gal of the fyshe that thou hast brought with thee: for be sure that his eyes shall strayghtway be opened, and thy father shal see the light of heauen, and shall reioyce at the sight of thee.

9 Then the dogge that had ben with them in theyr iourney ran before, and came as a messenger, and wagged his taile for gladnesse.

10 So the blynde father arose, and began to runne, and stumbled with his feete and gaue a seruant his hande, and ran to meete his sonne, 11 Receiued hym, and kyssed hym, he and his wife, & they both began to weepe for ioy.

12 Nowe when they had worshipped and thanked God, they sate downe.

13 Then tooke Tobias of the fishe gal, and annoynted his fathers eyes:

14 And taryed halfe an houre, and then began the blemishe to goe out of his eyes, like as it had ben the white skin of an egge.

15 Which Tobias tooke & drew from his eies, & immediatly he receiued his sight.

16 Then

16 Then they praised God, he and his wife, and al they that knewe him.

17 And Tobias saide, O Lorde God of Israel, I geue thee praise and thankes, for thou hast chastened me, and made me whole: and loe, nowe do I see my sonne Tobias.

18 After seuen dayes came Sara his sonnes wife also whole and sounde, with all the houshold and cattel, with Cammels, and much money of his wiues, and with the money that he had receiued of Gabelus.

19 And he tolde his father and his mother, al the benefites which God had done for him by the man that led him.

20 Achior also and Nabath, Tobias sisters sonnes came, and were glad, and reioyced with hym, by reason of all the good thinges that God had shewed vnto him: and so for the space of seuen dayes they made merie, and were right ioyful euery one.

¶ The.xii. Chapter.

2. Tobias declareth to his father, the pleasures that Raphael had done hym. 5. The vvhiche he vvoulde recompence.

THen Tobias called his sonne vnto him, and sayd, What may we geue this holy man that " went with thee?

2 Tobias answered his father, & said, Father, what rewarde shal we geue him? or what thing can deserue his benefites?

3 He hath ben my guide, and brought me safe againe, he receiued the money from Gabelus, he caused me to wed my wife, he drowe the euil spirite from her, he hath ben an occasion of gladnesse to her father and mother, he deliuered me that I was not deuoured of the fyshe, he hath made thee to see the light of heauen: yea, we all haue receiued great good of hym.

4 Howe shoulde we worthyly deserue these thinges vnto him? But, I pray thee my father, that thou wylt desyre him, yf happily he will vouchsafe, to take with hym the halfe of al that we haue brought.

5 So the father and the sonne called him, tooke him aside, and began to pray him, that he woulde be content to take in good worthy, the halfe part of all that they had brought.

6 Then sayde he secretely vnto them, Praise ye the God of heauen, & geue thanks vnto him before al men liuing: for he hath shewed his mercy vnto you.

7 It is good to hide the kynges secrete: but to shew and to praise the works of God, it is an honourable thing.

8 Prayer is good with fasting, and mercye is better then to hoorde vp treasures of golde.

9 For mercye deliuereth from death, cleanseth sinne, and causeth to finde mercy and life euerlasting.

10 But they that do sinne and vnrighteousnesse, are the enimies of their owne soule.

11 Wherefore I tel you the trueth, and wyl hyde no secrete thyng from you.

22 When thou prayedst with teares, and buriedst the dead, and leaftest thy dinner, and hyddest the dead in thyne house vppon the day time, that thou mightest bury them in the night, I offered thy prayer before the Lorde.

13 And because thou wast accept and beloued of God, it was necessary that temptation shoulde trye thee.

14 And nowe hath the Lord sent me to heale thee, and to deliuer Sara thy sonnes wife from the euil spirite.

15 For I am Raphael an angel, one of the seuen that stande before the Lorde.

16 When they heard this, they were sore afrayde, and trembled, and fell downe vpon theyr faces vnto the grounde.

17 Then said the angel, Peace be with you, feare not.

18 For whereas I haue ben with you, it is the wil of God: geue prayse and thanks vnto him.

19 || You thought that I dyd eate and drinke with you, but I vse meate that is inuisible, & drinke that can not be seene of men. || Gene. 18. 7. Iudi. 13. 16.

20 Nowe therefore is the tyme that I must turne agayne vnto hym that sent me: but be ye thankful vnto God, and tel out all his wonderous woorkes.

21 And when he had spoken these wordes, he was taken away out of theyr sight, so that they coulde see hym no more.

22 Then fel they downe flat vpon their faces, by the space of three houres, and prayed God: and when they rose vp, they tolde al his wonderous woorkes.

¶ The.xiii. Chapter.

A thankesgeuyng of Tobias, vvho exhorteth al to prayse the Lorde.

THen olde Tobias opened his mouth, and prayed the Lord, and sayde, Great art thou, O Lorde, for euermore, and thy kingdome worlde without ende.

2 For thou || scourgest and healest, thou leadest vnto hell, and bringest out agayne: and there is none that may escape thyne hande. || Deu. 32. 39. Sapi. 16. 13.

3 O geue thanks vnto the Lord, ye children of Israel, and prayse him in the sight of the heathen:

4 For among the heathen whiche knowe him not, hath he scattered you, to the intent that ye shoulde shewe forth his marueylous workes, and cause them for to knowe, that there is none other God almightie but he.

5 He hath chastened vs for our misdeedes, and for his owne mercies sake shal he saue vs.

6 Consyder then howe he hath dealt with you, and prayse him with feare & dread: and magnifie the euerlastyng kyng in your workes.

7 I wyl prayse him euen in the lande of my captiuitie, for he hath shewed his maiestie vnto a sinful people.

8 Turne you therefore, O ye sinners, and do righteousnesse before God, and be ye sure that he wyl shewe his mercy vpon you.

9 As for me and my soule, we wyll reioyce in God.

10 O prayse the Lorde al ye his chosen: holde the dayes of gladnesse, and be thankful vnto him.

11 O Hierusalem thou citie of God, the Lorde hath punished thee for the workes of thine owne handes.

12 O prayse the Lord in thy good thinges, & geue thankes to the euerlastiug God, that he may builde vp his tabernacle againe in thee, that he may cal agayne vnto thee all such as be in captiuitie, and that thou mayest haue ioy for euermore.

13 With a fayre light shalt thou shine, & al the endes of the world shal honour thee.

|| Esai.49.18 Actes.2.5. 14 The || people shall come vnto thee from farre, they shall bring giftes, & worship the Lord in thee, and thy land shal they haue for a sanctuarie: for they shall call vpon the great name in thee.

16 As for thee, thou shalt reioyce in thy children: for they al shalbe blessed, and gathered togeather vnto the Lorde.

17 Blessed are all they that loue thee, and that be glad of thy peace.

18 Prayse thou the Lorde, O my soule: for the Lorde our God hath deliuered his citie Hierusalem from al her troubles.

19 I wil count mee selfe happie, yf my seede remaine to see the clearenesse of Hierusalem.

¶ The.xiiii. Chapter.

5. Lessons of Tobias to his sonne. 6. He prophesieth the destruction of Nineue, 7. and the restoryng of Hierusalem and the temple.

AND so Tobias made an ende of speaking: and after that Tobias had gotten his sight againe, he liued fourtie and two yeeres, & saw his childers children.

2 Nowe when he was an hundred and two yeeres olde: he dyed, and was buried honourably in Nineue.

3 For when he was fyue and fiftie yeeres of age, he lost the sight of his eyes: and when he was threescore yeeres olde, he gate his sight agayne.

4 The residue of his life ledde he in ioy, and increased well in the feare of God, and departed in peace.

5 But in the houre of his death, he called vnto him his sonne Tobias, and seuen young "sprygingalues his sonnes children, and sayd vnto them,

" or, Tong impes.

6 The destructiō of Nineue is at hand, (for the worde of the Lord can not faile) and our brethren that are scattered out of the lande of Israel, shal come thyther agayne.

7 And the whole lande of it that hath ben waste, shalbe filled, and the house of God that was || brent in it, shalbe builded againe: and al such as feare God, shal returne thyther.

|| 1.Esd.3.4. amn.6.14.

8 The heathen then also shall forsake theyr idolles, and come to Hierusalem, and dwel there:

9 And all the kinges of the earth shalbe glad in her, & worship the lord god of Israel.

10 And therefore my children, heare your father, || serue the Lord in the trueth, seeke after his wil to do the thing that pleaseth hym:

|| Deut.6.1 Iosu.24.1 1.Reg.7.3

12 Heare me nowe therefore my children, and abyde not here: but in what day soeuer ye haue buryed your mother by me in one sepulchre, geat you from hence:

13 For I see that the wyckednesse of it shal bryng it to destruction and ende.

14 After the death of his mother, Tobias departed away from Nineue, with his wyfe and and children, and with his children children, and came agayne to his father and mother in lawe, 15 And founde them whole, and in a good age, and tooke the care of them: and he closed their eyes, and was heyre vnto al Raguels goodes, and sawe the fifth generation, and his children children.

16 And ninetie and nine yeeres beyng ended in the feare of God, they buryed hym with ioy.

17 And al his kinrede and posteritie continued in a good life and holy conuersation: so that they were loued and accepted both of GOD and men, and of al the people of the lande.

The ende of the booke of Tobias.

The booke of Iudith.

The fyrst Chapter.

1. The buyldyng of Ecbatanis. 5. Nabuchodonosor made warre agaynst Arphaxad, and ouercame him. 12. He threatneth them that would not helpe him.

ARpharad the king of the Medes, subdued many people vnto his dominion, and builded a strong citie, whiche he called Ecbatanis.

2 The walles of it made he of free stone, foure square, seuentie cubites high, & thirtie cubites broade: he made towres thereupon an hundred cubites high.

3 But along the foure corners, euery side was twentie foote brode: he made the portes in the heigth, lyke as the towres.

4 This king trusted in his mightie hoast, and in his glorious charrets.

5 So in the twelfth yeere of his raigne, it happened that Nabuchodonosor the king of the Assyrians, whiche raigned in the great citie of Niniue, fought agaynst Arpharad:

6 And ouercame him in the great fielde called Ragau, beside Euphrates, and Tigris, and Jadalon, in the field of Erioth the king of the Elikes.

7 Then was the kingdome of Nabuchodonosor exalted, and his hart was lyft vp: & he sent vnto al them that dwelt in Cilicia, in Damascus, and Libanus:

8 And vnto the heathen that dwelt in Carmel and Cedar, and to such as dwelt in Galilee in the great fielde of Esdrelon:

9 To all them that dwelt in Samaria, and beyonde the water of Jordane vnto Hierusalem, and the whole lande of Jesse, vnto the borders of Ethiopia:

10 Vnto all these did Nabuchodonosor the king of the Assyrians sende messengers.

11 But they all with one consent would not agree vnto hym, and sent the messengers agayne emptie, and put them away without honour.

12 Then Nabuchodonosor the kyng toke indignation at al those landes, and sware by his throne and by his kingdome, that he would be auenged of all those countreys.

The .ii. Chapter.

Nabuchodonosor commaunded presumptuously that al people shoulde be brought in subiection.

IN the thirtienth yeere of king Nabuchodonosor, vppon the twentie and two day of the first moneth, it was deuised in the court of Nabuchodonosor the king of the Assyrians, that he would reuenge hym selfe.

2 So he called vnto hym al the elders, al his captaynes and men of warre, and shewed them his secrete counsel,

3 And tolde them that his purpose was to bring the whole earth vnder his dominiō.

4 Nowe when they were al content with this saying, Nabuchodonosor the kyng called Holophernes the cheefe captayne of his warres,

5 And sayde vnto him, Goe thy way forth against all ꝑ kingdomes of the West, & specially against those that haue despised my commaundement.

6 Thou shalt spare no realme, al strong cities shalt thou bring in subiectiō vnto me.

7 Then Holophernes called togeather al the captaynes and rulers of all the power in Assyria, & mustred the souldiers vnto the hoast, like as the king commaunded hym, namely an hundred and twentie thousande fyghtyng men vpon foote, and twelue thousand archers vpon horsebacke.

8 Al his ordinance sent he before with an innumerable multitude of Cammelles, so that the hoast was wel prouided for with oxen and smal cattel, and that without number.

9 He appoynted to prepare corne out of al Syria in his passage.

10 Much golde and siluer also tooke he out of the kinges house.

11 So he tooke his iourney, and all his hoast, with charettes, horsemen, and archers: of whom there were so many, that they couered the grounde of the lande, lyke the grashoppers.

12 And when he was come past the borders of the Assyrians, he came towarde the great mountaines of Ange, which lye vpon the leaft side of Cilicia: and so he went vp into all their castles, and wonne euery strong holde.

13 As for the wealthy citie of Melothus he brake it downe, and spoyled all the children of Tharsis, & the Ismaelites, which laye towarde the wyldernesse, and vppon the south syde of the lande of Chellon.

14 He went ouer Euphrates also, and came into Mesopotamia, and brake downe all the high cities that were there, from the broke of Mambre, tyl a man come to the sea.

15 And he tooke the borders in, from Cilicia vnto the coastes of Japhet, towarde the south.

16 He caryed away al the Madianites, and spoyled al theyr goodes, and whosoeuer withstood him, he slue them with the sworde.

17 After this, he went downe into the fielde of Damascus in the tyme of haruest, and burnt vp all the corne, and all the trees and vines he caused to be cut downe:

18 And the feare of him fell vppon all them that dwelt on the earth.

¶ The .iii. Chapter.

1. The people subiect to Holophernes, 12. He destroied their gods, that Nabuchodonosor might only be vvorshipped.

SO the kinges and princes of al the cities and landes, sent their ambassadours, namely, they of Siria and Mesopotamia, Syria Sobal, and Libia, and Cilicia, which came to Holophernes, and sayde,

2 Let thy wrath cease toward vs: it is better for vs to serue the great kyng Nabuchodonosor with our lyues, and to be subiect vnto thee, then that we should dye, and with our slaughter suffer the euylles of our bondage.

3 Al our cities and possessions, al mountaynes and hilles, all feeldes, great & smal, cattel, sheepe, goates, horses, and cammels, al our goodes and housholdes, be in thy power.

4 Order thy subiection be all that we haue.

5 We our selues, and also our children, wyl be thy seruauntes.

6 Come vnto vs, peaceable Lorde, and vse our seruice at thy pleasure.

7 Then came Holophernes downe from the mountaynes, with horsemen and great power, and conquered all strong fensed cities, and al that dwelt in the lande.

8 And out of al cities he tooke strong men, and such as were meete for the warre to helpe hym.

9 And there came suche a feare vppon those countreyes, that the indwellers of all the cities, the princes and rulers, and the people togeather, went forth to meete him as he came:

10 And receyued hym honourably with garlandes and torches, with daunces, tabrets, and pypes.

11 Neuertheleſſe though they did this, yet might they not swage his rigorous stomacke.

12 But he destroyed their cities, and hewed downe their woodes.

13 For Nabuchodonosor the king had commaunded him that he should roote out al the goddes of the land, to the intent that he onely myght be called and taken for god of the nations, which Holophernes with his power might bryng vnder hym.

14 So went he through Syria Sobal, and through al Appamea, and al Mesopotamia, and came to the Iduimeans in the lande of Gabaa, 15 And tooke theyr cities, and remained there thirtie dayes, in which space he caused all the whole multitude of his hoast to be geathered togeather.

The .iiii. Chapter.

5. Eliacim the priest vvriteth to Bethulia, that they shoulde fortifye them selues. 8. they cryed to the Lorde, and humbled them selues before him.

WHen the children of Israel that dwelt in Iurie heard this, they were sore afrayde of him.

2 There came such tremblyng also and feare vppon them, lest he shoulde doo vnto the citie of Hierusalem and the temple of the Lorde, as he had done to other cities and theyr temples.

3 So they sent into all Samaria round about vnto Iericho, tooke in and occupied all the toppes of the mountaynes:

4 And

4 And made fast the townes with walles, and prepared corne for them agaynst the battayle.

5 Eliacim also the prieste wrote vnto al them that dwelt towarde Esdrelon, whiche lyeth ouer against the great fielde by Dothain, and vnto al thole by whom men might haue passage vnto them,

6 That they shoulde take in the wayes of the mountaynes, whereby there myght be any way and passage vnto Hierusalem, and that they shoulde holde diligent watche where any straÿte was betwixt the mountaines.

7 And the children of Israel did as Eliacim the prieste of the Lorde had commaunded them.

8 And all the people cryed vnto the Lorde earnestly, and humbled theyr soules with fastyng and prayers, they and theyr wyues:

9 The prieftes put on heary clothes, & layde the young babes before the temple of the Lord, and couered the aulter of the Lord with an heary cloth:

10 And with one accorde they cryed vnto the Lorde God of Israel, that theyr chyldren shoulde not be geuen into a pray: and theyr wyues into a spoyle, that theyr cities shoulde not be layde waste, and that their * sanctuarie should not be vnhalowed, and so they to be a shame and rebuke vnto the heathen. * Or, holy things.

11 Then Eliacim the high prieste of the Lorde, went round about all Israel, and spake vnto them, 12 Sayeing, Be ye sure that the Lorde wyl heare your petitions, yf ye continue stedfast in fastynges and prayers in the sight of the Lorde.

Exod.17.12 13 Remember || Moses the seruaunt of the Lorde, whiche ouerthrewe the Amalekites that trusted in their myght and power, in their host, in their shields, in their charets, and horsemen, not with weapons, but with holy prayers.

14 Euen so shal al the enimies of Israelbe, if ye continue in this worke that ye haue begunne.

15 So vpon this exhortation, they continued in prayer before the Lorde.

16 Insomuche that they which offered burnt sacrifices vnto the Lorde, offered the offerynges vnto the Lorde, beyng arayed in heary clothes, and had ashes vppon theyr heades.

17 And they all besought GOD from their whole hart, that he woulde visite his people of Israel.

¶ The.v. Chapter.

Achior the Ammonite doth declare to Holophernes of the maner of the Israelites.

AND woorde came to Holophernes the prince of the warre of the Assyrians, that the children of Israel prepared them selues to make resistance, and howe they hadde stopped the wayes betwixt the mountaynes.

2 Then was he exceedyng wroth, and called al the princes of Moab, and the captaynes of Ammon,

3 And sayd vnto them, Tel me, what people is this that kepeth in the mountaines? Or what maner, and how great cities theirs are? What is theyr power? Or what maner of hoast haue they? Who is theyr captayne?

4 And why do they despise vs more then al thole that dwel in the east, and come not forth to meete vs, that they myght receyue vs with peace?

5 Then || Achior the captayne of all the Ammonites, answeared, and sayde, Syr, yf it please thee to heare, I wyll tel the trueth before thee, concernyng this people that dwell in the mountaynes, and there shall no vntrueth goe out of my mouth. || Iud.11.7.

6 This people is of the generation of the Chaldees:

7 They dwelt first in || Mesopotamia, for they woulde not folow the Gods of their fathers that were in the lande of the Chaldees: || Gen.11.31

8 And so forsooke they the custome of theyr forefathers which had many Goddes, & woorshipped one God that made heauen and earth: whiche also || commaunded them that they shoulde goe from thence, and dwell at Charran. || Gene.12.1

9 || Nowe when there came a dearth into the whole lande, they went downe to Egypt, and there they dwelt foure hundred yeeres, in the which they multiplyed greatly, that theyr host might not be numbred. || Gen.41.54. Gen.46.6.

10 || And when the kyng of Egypt oppressed them, and yoked them in buyldyng of his cities, with makyng of claye and bricke, they cryed vnto God theyr lord, which punished the whole lande of Egypt with diuers plagues. || Exod.1.8.

11 || And when the Egyptians had cast them out, and the plague ceassed from them, and they folowyng after them to take them, & to bring them agayne into theyr bondage: || Exod.14.4

12 Whyle they were sleeyng away, the God of heauen opened the sea, so that the waters stoode fast vpon both the sides as a wall: and these went through the bottome of the sea drye shod.

13 In

13 In the whiche place when an innumerable people of the Egyptians folowed vpon them, they were so ouerwhelmed with the waters, that there remayned not one to tell them that came after howe it happened.

14 So when this people was passed
‖ Exo.16.1 throughe the ‖ red sea, they came into the wildernesse of mount Sina, where neuer man myght dwel afore, and where the sonne of man had neuer reked.

15 There were the bitter ‖ waters made
‖ Exo.15.25 sweete for them, that they myght drinke, and fourtie yeeres had they meate from heauen.

16 Whereseuer they went, without bowe and arrowe, without buckler or swoord, they God fought for them, and caused them to haue the victory.

17 Yea, no man was able to hurt this people, except it were when they departed vnfaythfully from the woorshipping of the lord their God.

18 But as oft as they woorshipped any other beside their God, he gaue them ouer to be spoyled, to be slayne, and to be put to confusion.

18 Neuertheless, as oft as they were sory for their departyng from the woorshyp of their God: the same God of heauen gaue them power and strength to withstande their enimies.

‖ Iosu.12.21. 20 Moreouer, they ‖ slue the king of the Chanaanites, Iebusites, Pherezites, Hethites, Heuites, and Amorites, & al the mightie in Hesebon, and tooke their landes and cities in possession:

21 And so long as they sinned not in the sight of their God, it went wel with them: for their God hateth vnrighteousnesse.

‖ Iudi.2.11 4.king.25.1 22 ‖ For in tymes past, when they went out of the way whiche God had geuen them, that they shoulde walke in it, they were destroyed in diuers battayles of many nations, and many of them were caryed away prisoners vnto a strange countrey.

‖ 1.Esd.1.1 23 ‖ But nowe lately they haue turned them selues againe vnto the Lord their God, and are come togeather agayne out of the countreys where they were scattered abrode: and thus haue they conquered these mountaynes, and dwel therein: and as for Hierusalem where their sanctuarie is, they haue it agayne in possession.

24 And therefore my Lorde, make diligent inquisition, if this people haue doone wickednesse in the sight of their God, then let vs goe vp agaynst them: for doubtlesse their god shal deliuer them into thine handes, and subdue them vnto thy power.

25 But if this people haue not displeased their god, we shal not be able to withstand them: for their God shall defende them, and so shal we be a shame to al the worlde.

26 Nowe when Achior had spoken out these woordes, al the great men of Holophernes were wroth, and thought to slaye him, & sayde one to another, 27 What is he this which dare saye that the children of Israel are able to withstand Nabuchodonosor the kyng, and his hoastes? whereas they are an vnweaponed people, without strength or vnderstanding of the feates of warre.

28 That Achior therefore may knowe that he hath deceyued vs, we wyll goe vp into the mountaynes: and when the mightie men of them are taken, he with them shalbe stickt with the swoorde:

29 That al the people may knowe that Nabuchodonosor is the god of the earth, and that there is none other beside hym.

¶ The.vi. Chapter.

Holophernes blasphemeth God vvhom Achior confessed.

SO when they had left of speakyng, Holophernes tooke sore indignation, and sayd vnto Achior,

2 For so muche as thou hast prophesied vnto vs, saying that the people of ‖ Israel ‖ Iud.5.4
shalbe defended of their God: I wyll shewe thee that there is no God but Nabuchodonosor.

3 Yea, when we slaye them all as one man, thou also shalt perishe with them throughe the swoorde of the Assyrians, and all Israel shalbe destroyed with thee:

4 And then shalt thou feele that Nabuchodonosor is the Lorde of the whole earth: then shall the swoorde of my myghthood goe throughe thy sydes, and thou shalt fal downe stickt among the wounded of Israel, and " shalt not come to thee selfe agayne, but be vtterly destroyed with them. " or, shal not be drawne backe agayne.

5 Furthermore, if thou thinkest thy prophesie to be true, why dost thou thē change thy colour? why art thou afrayde? Thinkest thou that my woordes are not able to be performed?

6 But that thou mayest knowe that thou shalt feele these thynges with them, behold, from this houre foorth, wyll I sende thee vnto ponder people, that when the punishment of my swoorde (whiche they haue worthyly deserued) falleth vpon them, thou mayest be punished with them.

7 So Holophernes commaunded his seruantes to take Achior, and to cary hym vnto Bethulia, and to deliuer hym into the handes of the children of Israel.

8 Then

8 Then Holophernes ſeruantes tooke him, and went through the playne fielde: but when they drue nygh vnto the mountaynes, the ſlyng caſters came out agaynſt them.

9 Neuertheleſſe, they gate them awaye by the ſyde of the mountayne, and bounde Achior hande & foote to a tree, and ſo left him bounde with wythes, and turned agayne vnto their lorde.

10 After that, the chyldren of Iſrael went downe from Bethulia, came vnto him, loſed him, brought him into Bethulia, ſet him in the middeſt of the people, and aſked him what the matter was that the Aſſyrians had left him bounde?

11 Oſias the ſonne of Micha, of the tribe of Simeon and Charmi, whiche is alſo called Gothoniel, were the principal rulers at the ſame tyme.

12 Nowe when Achior ſtoode in the myddeſt of the Senatours, and before them al, he told them what anſweare he gaue Holophernes to the thyng that he aſked him, & how Holophernes people would haue ſlayne him for ſo ſaying, 13 And howe Holophernes him ſelfe was wroth, and commaunded him for the ſame cauſe to be delyuered vnto the Iſraelites: that when he ouercame the chyldren of Iſrael, he myght commaunde Achior alſo to be put to death with diuers tormentes, becauſe he ſayde, The God of heauen is their defender.

14 And when Achior had playnely told out al theſe thynges, al the people fel downe vpon their faces, prayſyng the Lorde, and powred out their prayers together vnto the Lorde, with a generall complaynt and weepyng, 15 And ſayde, O Lorde God of heauen and of earth, beholde their pryde, and looke vppon our lowlyneſſe, and conſyder howe it ſtandeth with thy ſaintes, and make it to be knowen that thou forſakeſt not thoſe whiche holde them faſt by thee, and howe that thou bryngeſt them lowe that preſume of them ſelues, and make their boaſte in their owne ſtrength.

16 So when the weeping and prayer of the people (whiche they had made the whole day long, was ended, they comforted Achior, 17 Saying, The God of our fathers, whoſe power and ſtrength thou haſt prayſed, ſhal ſo reward thee, that thou ſhalt rather ſee their deſtruction.

18 When the Lorde our God then ſhal geue his ſeruantes this libertie, GOD be alſo with thee among vs: ſo that as it ſhal pleaſe thee, ſo thou with al thyne mayeſt dwel with vs.

19 Nowe when Oſias had ended the counſel, he tooke him into his houſe, and made a great ſupper, 20 Called the elders to it: and ſo they refreſhed them ſelues after the faſtyng.

21 And afterwarde was al the people called together, whiche made their prayers al the nyght long "in the congregation, and beſought the God of Iſrael for helpe.

" or, within the Churches.

¶ The. viii. Chapter.

Holophernes doeth beſiege Bethulia.

THE next day Holophernes commaunded his hoſt to go vp agaynſt Bethulia.

2 There were an hundred & twenty thouſand fyghtyng men on foote, and two and twenty thouſande horſemen, beſide the prepareyng of them that were wonne, & came to them on euery ſide out of the countreys and cities whiche he had taken.

3 All theſe prepared them ſelues vnto the battaile againſt the Iſraelites, and came on by the hyl ſide, vnto the top that looketh ouer againſt Dothain, from the place which is called Belma, vnto Chelmon, that lieth towarde Eſdrelon.

4 Nowe when the chyldren of Iſrael ſawe ſo great a multitude of the Aſſyrians, they fel downe flat vpon the ground, ſtrawed aſhes vpon their heades, and prayed with one accorde that the God of Iſrael would ſhewe his mercy vpon his people.

5 And ſo they tooke their weapons, and ſate betwixt the mountaynes in the narowe place, and kept the way day and nyght.

6 But whyle Holophernes was goyng rounde about, he founde the water ſpryng, whiche from the South ſide was conueyed into the citie by a conduite, & he commaunded their conduite to be cut in ſunder.

7 There were welles alſo not far from the walles, whiche they vſed ſecretely, more for pleaſure "then for neceſſitie.

" or, then to drinke them.

8 Then went the Ammonites and the Moabites vnto Holophernes, and ſayde, The chyldren of Iſrael truſt neyther in ſpeare nor arowe, but haue taken in and kept the mountaynes, and ſteepe hylles defende them.

9 That thou mayeſt ouercome them therfore without the ſtriking of any battaile, ſet men to keepe the welles, that they drawe no water out of them, ſo ſhalt thou deſtroye them without ſworde: or at the leaſt they ſhalbe ſo feeble, that they muſt be fayne to geue ouer the citie; whiche they thynke not able to be wonne, for ſo muche as it lyeth in the mountaynes.

10 Theſe wordes pleaſed Holophernes wel, and al his men of warre, and he ſet an hundred at euery wel rounde about.

11 And when this watche had endured twenty dayes, the ceriternes and al that had water, fayled them that dwelt in the citie of Bethulia, ſo that in the whole citie they had not drynke ynough for one day, for the people had water geuen them daylye in a meaſure.

12 Then came the men and women, young perſons and chyldren, al vnto Oſias, and layde al with one voyce, 13 God be ‖ iudge betwixt vs and thee, for thou haſt dealt euyl with vs: thou wouldeſt not ſpeake peaceablye with the kyng of the Aſſyrians, therefore hath God ſolde vs into their handes. ‖ Exod. 5. 21.

14 And there is no man to helpe vs, whereas we are brought downe before their eyes in thyrſt and great deſtruction.

15 Therefore geather nowe togeather all the people that be in the citie, that we may al yeelde our ſelues wyllyngly vnto the people of Holophernes, 16 For better it is that we be captiue, and prayſe the Lorde with our lyues, then to be ſlayne and perylhe, and to be laughed to ſcorne, and ſhamed of euery man, when we ſee our wyues and chyldren dye before our eyes.

17 We take heauen and earth this day to record, and the God of our fathers, which puniſheth vs accordyng to the deſeruyng of our ſynnes, and geue you vvarning that ye geue vp the citie nowe into the power of Holophernes hoſt, that our ende may be ſhort with the ſworde, which els ſhal endure long for want of water, and for thyrſt.

18 When they had ſpoken out theſe wordes, there was a great weepyng & howlyng in the whole congregation, and that of euery man, & they cried a " whole houre long vnto God with one voyce, " or, many houres.

19 Saying, ‖ We haue ſinned with our fathers, we haue doone amiſſe, we haue dealt wickedly: ‖ Pſa. 105. 6.

20 Thou that art gracious, haue mercy vpon vs, or punyſhe our vnrighteouſneſſe with thyne owne ſcourge, and geue not thoſe ouer that knowledge thee, vnto a people whiche knowe thee not:

21 That they may not ſay among the heathen, where is their God?

22 And when they were ſo weery with this crying and weepyng, that they helde their peace, 23 Oſias ſtood vp with watry eyes, and ſayde, O take good hartes vnto you, deare brethren, and be of good cheare, and let vs waite yet theſe fyue dayes for mercy of the Lorde.

24 Peraduenture he ſhal put away his indignation, and geue glory vnto his name.

25 But yf he helpe vs not when the fyue dayes are paſt, we ſhall doo as ye haue ſayde.

¶ The. viii. Chapter.

The parentage, lyfe, and converſation of Iudith.

AND it happened when theſe wordes came to the eares of Judith, a wydowe, which was the daughter of Merari the ſonne of Idor, the ſonne of Joſeph, the ſonne of Oſia, the ſonne of Elai, the ſonne of Jamnor, the ſonne of Gedeon, the ſonne of Raphaim, the ſonne of Achitob, the ſonne of Melchia, the ſonne of Enan, the ſonne of Nathania, the ſonne of Salathiel, the ſonne of Simeon, the ſonne of Ruben:

2 And her huſband was called Manaſſes, whiche dyed in the dayes of the barley haruelt.

3 For whyle he was bindyng the ſheaues togeather in the fielde, the heate came vppon his head, and he dyed at Bethulia his citie, and there was he buryed beſyde his fathers.

4 Nowe was Judith his deſolate wydowe three yeeres and ſixe monethes.

5 And in the higher partes of her houſe ſhe made her ſelfe a pryuie chamber, where ſhe dwelt, being cloſed in with her maidens:

6 She ware a ſmocke of heare, and faſted all the dayes of her lyfe, except the ſabbothes, and newe moones, and the ſolemne dayes that the people of Iſrael kept.

7 She was a very fayre and beautifull perſon, her huſbande alſo had left her great richeſſe, a plenteous houſholde, great vnmoueable poſſeſſions, and many cattayle.

8 This Judith was a woman of a very good report with euery one, for ſhe feared the Lorde greatly: and there was no body that ſpake an euyl worde of her.

9 When this Judith hearde howe Oſias had promyſed the people, that after the fyfth day he woulde geue vp the citie vnto the Aſſyrians, ſhe ſent for the elders, Chabri and Charmi.

10 And when they came to her, ſhe ſayde, What thyng is this, wherein Oſias hath conſented, that yf God helpe not within fyue dayes, he wyll geue ouer the citie to the Aſſyrians?

11 What are ye, that ye tempt the lorde?

12 This deuice obteyneth no mercy of God, but prouoketh hym vnto wrath and diſpleaſure.

13 Wyl

13 Wyl ye let the mercy of the Lorde a lyne, & appoint him a day after your wyl?
14 Neuertheleſſe, for ſo muche as the Lorde is patient, let vs rather repent in this, powryng out teares, and beſeechyng hym of grace.
15 For God threateneth not as man, neyther wyl he be prouoked vnto wrath, as the children of men.
16 And therfore let vs hartily fal downe before him, and ſerue him with a meeke ſpirite,
17 And with weeping eyes, ſay vnto the Lord, that he deale with vs according to his owne wyl ſpeedily in mercy: that like as our hart is now vexed and brought lowe through the pride of them, it *may ſo be comforted through his grace.
18 In ſo muche as we folowe not the ſinnes of our fathers, whiche forſooke theyr
God, and worſhipped other Gods:
19 For the whiche ſinne they periſhed with the ſwoorde, were ſpoyled, and brought to ſhame of al theyr enimies: as for vs, we knowe none other God but only hym.
20 For whose comfort let vs tarry with meekeneſſe, and he ſhal require and make inquiſition for our blood from the vexations of our enimies: he ſhal bring downe al the heathen that riſe vp againſt vs, and put them to dishonour, euen the Lorde our GOD.
21 Therefore deare brethren, ſeeyng ye are the honourable and elders in the people of God, and their life hangeth al vpon you, lift vp their hartes with your exhortation, that they may call to remembrance howe our fathers alſo in times paſt were tempted, that they might be proued if they worſhipped their God aright.
22 They ought to remember || howe our father Abraham beyng tempted, and try-ed through many tribulations, *was found a louer and freende of God.
23 So was Iſahac, ſo was ||Iacob, ſo was Moſes: and al they that pleaſed God, paſſed ſtedfaſt in fayth through manyfolde troubles.
24 Agayne, they that receyued not their temptations with the feare of god, but put them ſelues forth with impatiencie and murmuryng againſt God,
25 ||Periſhed of the deſtroyer, and were ſlayne of ſerpentes.
26 And therefore ſhoulde we not vnder-take to be auenged for the thynges that are doone vnto vs:
27 ||But to conſyder that all theſe pu-niſhments are farre leſſe then our ſinnes and miſdeedes, and beleeuing that this correction commeth vnto vs as to the ſeruauntes of God, for amendement, and not for our de-ſtruction.
28 Then ſaid Oſias and the elders vnto
Iudith, Al that thou ſpeakeſt is true, and no man can reproue thy woordes.
29 Pray thou for vs nowe therfore vnto
God, for thou art an holy woman, and feareſt
God.
30 And Iudith ſaid vnto them, Seeyng ye knowe that my woordes are of God, 31 Then prooue my counſayle and de-uice if it be of God: and beſeech God that he wyl bring my counſayle to good ende.
32 Thus haue I deuiſed, Ye ſhal ſtande this nyght before the porte, and I wyl goe forth with Abra my mayden: and pray ye therefore vnto God, that he wyl gratiouſly remember his people of Iſrael within fiue dayes, as ye haue ſayde.
33 As for the thing that I goe in hande withal, aſke ye no queſtions of it: and tyll I bring you woorde agayne of it, doo ye nothyng els but pray vnto the Lorde our God for me.
34 Then Oſias the prince of the people of Iuda ſayde vnto her, Goe thy way in peace, the Lorde be with thee, that we may be auenged of our enimies. And ſo they went from her agayne.

¶ The.ix. Chapter.

Iudith humbleth her ſelfe before the Lord, and maketh her prayers for the deliuerance of her people.

NOwe when they were *gone theyr way, Iudith went into her cloſet, put on a hearey ſmocke, ſtrawed aſhes vpon her head, fel downe before the Lorde, and cryed vnto hym, ſaying, *or, gone vp.

2 O Lorde God of my father Simeon, ||Gene.34.12
whiche gaueſt hym a ſwoorde for *a defence againſt the enimies that vſed violence in theyr vnclenneſſe, and that rauiſhed the virgin, and put her to ſhame and confuſion:

*or, to re-uengement of the ſtrangers.

3 Thou that gaueſt theyr wiues into a pray, and theyr daughters into captiuitie, and all theyr pray for a ſpoyle vnto thy ſer-uantes whiche bare a zeale vnto thee: helpe me widowe, O Lorde my God, I beſeeche thee.
4 For thou haſt made the fyrſt thinges:
and after that, looke what thou haſt taken in hande and deuiſed, it came euer to paſſe.
5 For al thy wayes are prepared, and thy iudgementes are put in thy euerlaſtyng foreknowledge.
6 O looke now vpon the *armies of the Aſſyrians,

*or, tents

Assyrians, lyke as it was thy pleasure sometyme to looke vpon the hoast of the Egyptians, when they beyng weaponed persecuted thy seruantes, and put theyr trust in theyr charrets, horsemen, and in the multitude of theyr men of warre.

7 But thou lookedst vpon theyr hoast, castyng a thycke darkenesse before them.

8 And when they came into the deepe, the waters ouerwhelmed them.

9 Euen so Lorde, let it goe with these that trust in the power and multitude of theyr men of warre, in theyr charrettes, arrowes, and speares,

10 And knowe not that thou onely art our God, whiche destroyest warres from the begynnyng, and "that thou art the Lorde.

" Or, and that it apparteyneth to thee to be called Lorde.

11 O lift vp thyne arme nowe lyke as euer from the begynnyng, and in thy power bryng theyr power to nought: cause theyr myght to fal in thy wrath, which make their boast that they wyll vnhalowe and defile thy sanctuarie, and to waste the tabernacle of thy name, and to cast downe the horne of thyne aulter with theyr swoorde.

12 Bryng to passe, O Lorde, that the pryde of "the enimie may be cut downe with his owne swoorde.

" Or, of this man

13 That he may be taken with the snare of his eyes in me, and that thou mayest smite hym with the lippes of my loue.

14 O geue me a stedfast mynde, that I may despise hym and his strength, and that I may destroy hym.

15 This shall bryng thy name an euerlastyng remembrance, yf the || hande of a woman ouerthrowe hym.

|| Iudi. 4. 21.

16 || For thy power, O Lorde, standeth not in the multitude of men, neyther hast thou any pleasure in the strength of horses, neither was there from the begynnyng any proude persons that pleased thee: but in the prayer of the humble and meeke hath thy pleasure been euermore.

|| Judith. 7. 2. 2. Chr. 14. 11

17 O thou GOD of the heauens, thou maker of the waters, and lord of al creatures, heare me poore woman callyng vppon thee, and puttyng my trust in thy mercy,

18 Remember thy couenant, O Lorde, and minister woordes in my mouth, and stablishe this deuice in my hart, that thy house may continue styl in holinesse:

19 And that all the heathen may knowe that thou art God, and that there is none other but thou.

¶ The. x. Chapter.

1. Iudith decketh her selfe, and goeth foorth of the citie. 11. Shee is taken of the watch of the Assyrians, and brought to Holophernes.

AND when she had left of cryng vnto the Lorde, she rose vp from the place where she had lien flat before the Lorde,

2 And called her maiden Abra, went downe into her house, laid the heary cloth frō her, put of the garments of her widowhood,

3 Washed her body, annoynted her selfe with precious thinges of sweete sauour, brayded and platted her heare, set a coyffe vppon her head, and put on suche apparell as belonged vnto gladnesse, slyppers vppon her feete, bracelettes, spanges, eare ringes, fynger ringes, and decked her selfe with all her best arap.

4 The Lorde gaue her also a speciall beautie and fayrenesse, for all this decking of her selfe was not doone for any voluptuousnesse, but of a right discretion and vertue: therefore did the Lorde encrease her beautie, so that she was exceeding amiable and well fauoured in all mens eyes.

5 She gaue her maydent Abra also a bottel of wyne, a pot with oyle, pottage, cake bread, and cheese, and went her way.

6 Nowe when they came to the porte of the citie, they founde Ozias and the elders of the citie wayting there.

7 Which when they sawe her, they were astonyed, & marueiled greatly at her beautie.

8 Neuertheles, they || asked no question at her, but let her goe, saying, The God of our fathers geue thee grace, and with his power perfourme al the deuice of thy hart, that Hierusalem may reioyce ouer thee, and that thy name may be in the number of the holy and righteous.

9 And al they that were there, said with one voyce, So be it, so be it.

10 Judith made her prayer vnto the lord, & went out at the port, she and her mayd Abra.

11 And as she was goyng downe the mountaine, it happened that about the spying of the day, the spies of the Assyrians mette with her, & tooke her, saying, Whence commest thou? or whyther goest thou?

12 She answeared, I am a daughter of the Hebrues, and am fledde from them: for I knowe that they shalbe geuen vnto you to be spoyled, because they thought scorne to yeeld them selues vnto you, that they myght fynde mercy in your sight.

13 Therefore haue I deuised by mee selfe after this maner, I wyll goe before the prince Holophernes, and tel hym al theyr secretes, & wyll shew him how he may come by them, & wyn them: so that not one man of his hoast shal perishe.

14 And when these men had heard her woordes, & considered her fayre face, they were were astonied (for they wondred at her excellent beautie,)

15 And sayd vnto her, Thou hast saued thy lyfe by finding out this deuice, that thou wouldest come downe to our lorde.

16 And be thou sure, that when thou commest vnto him, he shal entreate thee wel, and thou shalt please hym at the hart. So they brought her in to Holophernes pauilion, and tolde hym of her.

17 Nowe when she came in before him, immediately he was ouercome & taken with her beautie.

18 Then sayde his seruantes, Who woulde despise the people of the Iewes, that haue so fayre women? shoulde we not by reason fyght agaynst them for these?

19 So when Iudith sawe Holophernes sitting in a canapie, that was wrought of purple silke, golde, smaragde, and precious stones, 20 She looked fast vppon him, bowed her selfe, and fel downe vpon the earth: and Holophernes seruantes tooke her vp againe at their lordes commaundement.

The.xi. Chapter.

1. Holophernes comforteth Iudith, 3. and asketh the cause of her comming. 5. She deceiueth hym by her fayre vvordes.

THen sayde Holophernes vnto her, Be of good cheare, and feare not in thine hart: for I neuer hurt man that woulde serue Nabuchodonosor the kyng.

2 As for thy people, yf they had not despised me, I shoulde not haue lyft vp my speare against them.

3 But tell me nowe, what is the cause that thou art departed from them, and wherfore art thou come vnto vs?

4 And Iudith sayd vnto him, Syr, vnderstande the wordes of thy handmayden: for if thou wylt doo after the words of thy handmayden, the Lorde shall bryng thy matter to a prosperous effect.

5 As Nabuchodonosor the kyng of the earth lyueth, and as his power lyueth, which is in thee to the punishment of all men that goe wrong: al men shal not onely be subdued vnto him through thee, but al the beastes also of the fielde.

6 For all people speake of thy prudent actinitie, and it hath euer been reported how thou onely art good and myghtye in all his kingdome, and thy "discretion is commended in al landes.

7 The thyng is manyfest also that ‖ Achior spake, and it is wel knowen what thou commaundedst to doo vnto hym.

8 For this is playne, and of a suretie, that our God is so wroth with vs by the reason of our synnes, that he hath shewed by his prophetes vnto the people, howe that for their synnes he wyll deliuer them ouer vnto the enmie.

9 And for so muche as the children of Israel knowe that they haue so displeased their God, they are sore afrayde of thee.

10 They suffer great hunger also, and for want of water, they are dead nowe in a maner.

11 Moreouer, they are appoynted to slay al their cattel, that they may drynke the blood of them:

12 And are purposed to spende the holy thinges of their God, whiche he hath forbidden them to touche, as of corne, wyne, and oyle, and they wyll consume those thynges whiche they ought not to touche with their handes: Seeyng nowe that they doo these thynges, it is a playne case that they must needes be destroyed.

13 Whiche when I thy handmayden perceyued, I fled from them, and the Lorde hath sent me to shewe thee these thynges.

14 For I thy handmaiden worship god, euen now here beside thee, and thy handmaiden shal goe forth, and I wyl make my praier vnto God.

15 And he shall tell me when he wyl reward them their synne, then shal I come and shewe thee, and bryng thee through the middest of Hierusalem, so that thou shalt haue all the people of Israel as sheepe without a shepheard, and there shal not so muche as one dogge barke agaynst thee.

16 For these thynges are shewed me by the prouidence of God.

17 And for so muche as God is displeased with them, he hath sent me to tel thee the same.

18 These wordes pleased Holophernes, and al his seruantes: whiche marueyled at the wysedome of her, and sayde one to an other.

19 There is not suche a woman vpon earth, in fauour, in beautie, and discretion of wordes.

20 And Holophernes sayde vnto her, God hath doone wel that he hath sent thee hyther before thy people, that thou mayest geue them into our handes.

21 And for so muche as thy promise is good, yf thy God performe it vnto me, he shalbe my God also, and thou shalt be excellent, & great in the court of Nabuchodonosor, and thy name shalbe spoken of in all the lande.

Ecclus. 45.

Iudith vvoulde not pollute her ſelfe vvith the meate of the Gentiles.

THEN commaunded he her to goe in where his treaſure laye, and charged that ſhe ſhould haue her dwelling there, and appoynted what ſhoulde be geuen her from his table.

2 Iudith anſweared hym, and ſayde, As for the ||meate that thou haſt commaunded to geue me, I may not eate of it as nowe, leſt I diſpleaſe my God: but wyl eate of ſuch as I haue brought with me. ‖ Gen.43.32

3 Then ſayd Holophernes vnto her, Of theſe thynges, that thou haſt brought with thee, ſayle, what ſhall we doo vnto thee?

4 And Iudith ſayd, As thy ſoule liueth, my lord, thy handmayden ſhal not ſpende al this, tyll God hath brought to paſſe in my hande the thynges that I haue deuiſed. So his ſeruants brought her into the tent wherein he had appoynted.

5 And as ſhe was goyng in, ſhe deſyred that ſhe myght haue leaue to goe forth by night, and before day to her prayer, & to make interceſſion vnto the Lorde.

6 Then commaunded Holophernes his chamberlaynes, that ſhe ſhoulde goe out and in at her pleaſure, to pray vnto God thoſe three dayes.

7 And ſo in the myght ſeaſon ſhe went forth into the valley of Bethulia, and waſhed her ſelfe in the wel water.

8 And commyng vp, ſhe beſought the Lorde God of Iſrael that he would proſper her way, for the delyueraunce of his people.

9 And ſo ſhe went in, & remayned cleane in her tent, tyl ſhe tooke her meate in the euenyng.

10 Vppon the fourth day it came to paſſe, that Holophernes made a ſupper vnto his ſeruantes, & ſayd vnto Vagao his chamberlayne, Goe thy way, and counſayle this Hebrueſſe, that ſhe maye be wyllyng to conſent to keepe company with me.

11 For it were a ſhame vnto all the Aſſyrians, that a woman ſhould ſo laugh a man to ſcorne, that ſhe were come from hym vnmedled withal.

12 Then went Vagao vnto Iudith, and ſayde, Let not the good daughter be afraide to come in to my lord, that ſhe may be honoured before hym, that ſhe may eate and drynke wyne, and be mery with hym.

13 Vnto whom Iudith anſwered, Who am I that I ſhoulde ſay nay?

14 Whatſoeuer is good and beſt before his eyes, I ſhal doo it: and looke what is his pleaſure, that ſhall I thynke well doone as long as I lyue.

15 So ſhe ſtoode vp, and deckt her ſelfe with her apparel, and went in, and ſtood before hym.

16 And Holophernes hart was whole moued: for he brent in deſyre towarde her.

17 And Holophernes ſayde vnto her, Drynke nowe, and ſyt downe, and be mery, for thou haſt founde fauour before me.

18 Then ſayde Iudith, Yea, I wyll drynke, for my mynde is meryer to day then euer it was in al my lyfe.

19 And ſhe tooke, and did eate, & dranke before hym the thynges that her maiden had prepared for her.

20 And Holophernes was mery with her, and dranke more wyne then euer he dyd afore in his lyfe.

7. Iudith prayeth for ſtrength. 10. She ſmyteth of Holophernes head. 12. She returneth to Bethulia, and reioyceth her people.

NOwe when it was late in the myght, his ſeruantes made haſte euery man to his lodgyng, and Vagao ſhut the chamber doores, and went his way:

2 ||For they were all ouerladen with wyne. ‖ Eſd.3.

3 So was Iudith alone in ỹ chamber.

4 As for Holophernes, he lay vppon the bed al drunken, and of very drunkenneſſe fell a ſleepe.

5 Then commaunded Iudith her maiden to ſtand without before the doore, and to wayte.

6 And Iudith ſtood before the bed, making her prayers with teares, and moued her lyppes ſecretly,

7 And ſayde, Strengthen me, O Lord God of Iſrael, and haue reſpecte vnto the woorkes of myne handes in this houre, that thou mayeſt ſet vp thy citie of Hieruſalem, lyke as thou haſt promyſed: and graunt that I may perfourme the thyng, whiche in hope that it may be doone by thee, I haue deuiſed. Pſal.105.

8 And when ſhe had ſpoken this, ſhe went to the pyller that was at Holophernes beds head, and looſed his ſwoorde that hanged vpon it, and drewe it out:

9 And when ſhe had taken it out of the ſcabberd, ſhe tooke holde of the heary lockes of his head, and ſayde, Strengthen me, O Lorde God in this houre.

10 ||And with that ſhe gaue hym two ſtrokes vpon the necke, & ſmote of his head, then tooke ſhe the canapie away from the ‖1. Sa.17.

pyllers,

pyllers, and rolled the dead body aside.

11 Immediatly she gate her foorth, and deliuered the head of Holophernes vnto her mayden, and bade her put it in her wallet.

12 And so these two went foorth togeather after their custome, as though they would pray: and so passed by the host, and came about through the valley vnto the port of the citie.

13 And Judith cryed a farre of vnto the watchmen vpon the walles, Open the gates sayde she, for God is with vs, which hath shewed his power in Israel.

14 And when they heard her voyce, they called the elders of the citie togeather.

15 And they came al to meete her, lytle and great, young and olde: for they thought not that she shoulde haue come so soone.

16 So they lighted candelles, and gathered about her euery one: but she went vp into an high place, and caused scilence to be proclaymed.

17 And when euery man nowe held his peace, Judith sayde, O prayse the Lord our GOD, for he hath not despised nor forsaken them that put their trust in him:

18 And in me his handmayden he hath performed his mercy, whiche he promysed vnto the house of Israel: Yea, in my hande this same night hath he slayne the enimie of his people.

19 And with that she tooke foorth the head of Holophernes out of the wallet, and shewed it them, saying, Beholde the head of Holophernes the captayne of the armie of the Assyrians, and this is his canapy wherin he lay in his drunkennesse, where the lord our God hath slayne hym by the hande of a woman.

20 But as the Lorde lyueth, his angel hath kept me, goeing thither, remaynyng there, & comming hither againe from thence: and the Lord hath not suffered me his handmaiden to be defiled, but without any defiling of sinne hath he brought me agayne vnto you, and that with great victory, so that I am escaped, and ye deliuered.

Psal.105.2 21 || O geue thankes vnto hym euery one, for he is gracious, and his mercy endureth for euer.

22 So they praysed the Lorde altogether, and gaue thankes vnto hym, and to her they said, The Lord hath blessed thee in his power, for through thee he hath brought our enimies to nought.

23 And Ozias the cheefe ruler of the people of Israel, sayd vnto her, O daughter, blessed art thou of the Lord the high God, aboue al women vpon earth.

24 Blessed be the Lorde the maker of heauen and earth, whiche hath guided thee aright to wounde and to smyte of the head of the captayne of our enimies.

25 For this day he hath made thy name so honourable, that thy prayse shall neuer come out of the mouth of men, which shal alway remember the power of the lord, seeing thou hast not spared thyne owne selfe, but put thee in ieopardie, considering the anguishe and trouble of thy people, and so hast helped their fal before God our Lorde.

26 And al the people said, Amen. Amen.

27 Achior also was called, and he came: then said Judith vnto him, The God of Israel, vnto whom thou gauest witnesse that he woulde be auenged of his enimies, euen he hath this night through my hande smitten of the head of al the vnfaythful.

28 And that thou mayest see that it so is, beholde this is the head of Holophernes, whiche in his presumptuous pryde despised the God of Israel, and threatned thee with destruction, saying, When the people of Israel is taken, I shall cause thee also to be stickt with the sworde.

29 When Achior saw Holophernes head, he fell downe vpon his face to the grounde, for very anguishe and feare, so that he sowned withal.

30 But after that he was come agayne to him selfe, he fell downe before her, and prayed her, saying, 31 Blessed art thou of thy GOD in al the tabernacles of Jacob: for all the people that heare of thy name, shall prayse the God of Israel, because of thee.

¶ The. xiiii. Chapter.

1. Iudith causeth to hang vp the head of Holophernes. 6. Achior ioyneth hym selfe to the people of GOD. 7. The Israelites goe out agaynst the Assyrians.

IUdith sayd vnto all the people, Brethren heare me, || Stycke vp his head vpon our walles: || 2. Mach. 15.35.

2 And when the sunne ariseth, take euery man his weapon, and fall out violently: not as though ye woulde goe before them, but to runne vpon them with violence.

3 When they see this, they shall of necessitie be compelled to flee backwarde, and to raise vp their captaine to the battaile.

4 So when their captaynes come into Holophernes pauilion, and find the dead body wrapped in the blood, fearefulnesse shal fal vpon them.

5 And when ye perceiue that they flee, || or, the Lorde shal breake them vnder your feete

folowe them without al care, for GOD shal || deliuer them vnto you to be destroyed.

6 Then Achior seeing the power of god, whiche he had shewed vnto the people of Israel, fel of from his heathenishe beleefe, and put his trust in GOD; and let hym selfe be circumcised, and so was he numbred among the people of Israel, he and al his posteritie vnto this day.

7 Now assoone as it was day, they stickt vp Holophernes head vpon the walles, and euery man tooke his weapon, and so they went out with an horrible crye.

8 When the spyes sawe that, they ran vnto Holophernes tent.

9 And they that were within the tent, came before his chamber, and made a great rustling, that Holophernes might awake, not by stirring him vp, but by theyr noyse.

10 For there durst not one of the Assyrians knocke, goe in, or open.

11 But when the captaynes, and prynces, and al the cheefe in the kyng of the Assyrians host came togeather, they sayde vnto the chamberlaynes:

12 Goe your way in, and wake him vp: for the mice are crept out of their holes, and dare prouoke vs vnto battayle.

13 Then Bagao went into his chamber, stoode before the [a] hedde, and clapped with his handes: for he thought he had ben sleepyng with Judith.

[a] or, curtayne.

14 But when he hearkened perfectlye with his eares, and could perceiue no stirring, he went nigher to the [b] bed, and lyft it vp, and when he sawe the dead body of Holophernes lying there without a head, welteryng in his blood vpon the earth, he cryed with a loude voyce, and with weepyng, rent his clothes,

[b] or, curtayne.

15 And went into Judithes tent, and founde her not.

16 And so he leapt out vnto the people, and sayde, One woman of the Iewes hath brought all Nabuchodonosors people to shame: for loe, Holophernes lyeth vpon the grounde, and hath no head.

17 When the cheefe of the Assyrians host hearde that, they rent theyr clothes, and there fell an intollerable feare and tremblyng vpon them: so that theyr mindes were sore afrayde.

18 And there was an exceedyng great crye in [c] the whole host.

[c] or, middest of the host.

¶ The.xv. Chapter.

1. The Assyrians are afrayde and flee. 6. The Israelites pursue them.

NOwe when all the host hearde that Holophernes was beheaded, theyr mynde and counsayle fel from them: and beyng amased with feare only and trembling, they saued them selues by fleeyng away.

2 One spake not to another, but hanged downe theyr heades, left all behinde them, and made haste to escape from the Hebrues: for they hearde that they were hastyng to come after with theyr weapons, and so they fledde by the wayes of the feeldes, & through al the footepathes of the [d] dales.

3 And when the children of Israel sawe that they fled, they followed vpon them, and went downe with trumpettes, blowing, and making a great crye after them.

4 As for the Assyrians, they had no order, and kept not them selues togeather, but fled theyr way: neuertheles, the children of Israel fel vpon them with one company and order, and discomfited as many as they might geat.

5 And Ozias sent messengers vnto all the cities and countreys of Israel.

6 So al the region and euery citie sent out their best men after them in harnesse, and smote them with the sword, til they came to the vttermost part of theyr borders.

7 And the other that were in Bethulia, came into the tentes of the Assyrians, & take al that they which were fled had left behinde them, and so they founde great good.

8 And they that came againe to Bethulia from the battaile, tooke with them suche thinges as had ben theirs: there was no number of the cattayle, and of al costly iewels, so that from the lowest vnto the hyghest, they were all made ryche of the spoyles of them.

9 And Joachim the high priest, came from Hierusalem to Bethulia, with al the elders, that they myght see Judith.

10 Now when she came out vnto them, they began all to prayse her with one voyce, saying, Thou worthyp of the citie of Hierusalem, thou ioy of Israel, thou honour of our people.

11 Because thou hast doone manly, and thy hart is comforted, and for that thou hast loued cleanlinesse and chastitie, and hast knowen no man but thyne owne husband: therefore hath the hande of the Lorde comforted thee, and blessed thou shalt be for euer.

12 And al the people sayde, So be it, so be it.

13 In thirtie dayes could the people of Israel scarse geather vp the spoyles of the Assyrians.

14 But all that belonged vnto Holophernes, and had ben his specially, whether it were of golde, of siluer, pretious stone, clothyng, and al ornamentes, they gaue it vnto Judith, and it was delyuered vnto her of the the people.

15 And al the people reioyced, both women, maidens, and young people, with pipes, and harpes.

The .xvi. Chapter

Iudith prayseth God with a song. 25. She offereth to the Lorde Holophernes stuffe. 26. Her continencie, lyfe, and death. 29. Al Israel lamenteth her.

THen sang Iudith this song vnto the Lorde, saying,

2 Begin vnto the Lorde vpon the tabrettes, sing vnto the Lord vpon the Cymbales, O sing vnto him a new song of thankesgeuing, be ioyful, and call vpon his name.

3 It is the Lord that destroieth warres, euen the Lorde is his name:

4 Which hath pitched his tentes in the middest of his people, that he might deliuer vs from the hande of al our enimies.

5 Assur came out of the mountaynes of the nouth in the multitude of his strength: his people stopped the water brookes, & their hoples couered the valleyes.

6 He purposed to haue brent vp my " land & to slay my young men with the sword.

7 He would haue carped away my children and virgins into captiuitie, but the almightie Lorde hindred him, and deliuered him into the handes of a woman " whiche brought him to confusion.

8 For theyr mightie was not destroyed of the young men, it was not the sonnes of Titan that slue him, neither haue the great gaintes set them selues against him: but Iudith the daughter of Merari, with her fayre beautie hath discomfyted hym, and brought hym to nought.

9 For she layde away her widowes garment, and put on the apparel of gladnesse, to the reioycing of the children of Israel.

10 She annoynted her face with oyntment, and bounde vp her heare in a coyffe, and tooke a newe " stole to beguyle him.

11 Her slippers rauished his eies, her beautie captiuated his mynde, with the sworde smote she of his necke.

12 The Persians were astonied at her stedfastnesse, and the Medes at her boldnes.

13 Then howled the armies of the Assyrians, when my simples appeared drye of thirst.

14 The sonnes of the daughters haue pearced them through, and slaine them as fugitiue children, they perished in the battaile, " for the very feare of the Lorde my God.

15 Let vs sing a song of thankesgeuing vnto the Lorde, a newe song of praise wil we sing vnto our GOD.

16 Lord, Lorde, thou art a great GOD, mightie in power, whom no man may ouercome.

17 Al thy creatures must serue thee: || for || Gene. 1. 1. thou spakest but the worde, and they were Psal. 32. 9. made, thou sentest thy spirite, and they were created, & no man can withstand thy voyce.

18 The mountaynes shall mooue from the fundations with the waters, the stonie rockes shal melt before thee lyke ware.

19 But they that feare thee, shalbe great with thee in al thinges.

20 Wo vnto the people that rose vp against my generation: for the almighty Lord wil auenge him selfe of them, and in the day of iudgement wyl he visite them.

21 For he shal geue fire and wormes in their flesh, that they may burne and feele it for euermore.

22 After this it happened, that after the victorie, all the people came to Hierusalem, to geue prayse and thankes vnto the Lorde: and when they were purified, they offered al theyr whole burnt sacrifices, and their vowes, and theyr promised offerynges.

23 And Iudith offered al Holophernes weapons, and al the iewels that the people had geuen her, and the canapie that she tooke from his bed, and hanged them vp " vnto the Lorde. " The olde interpreter hath 24 The people were ioyful as the vse is: In anathema and this ioy with Iudith, by reason of the obliuionis, victorie, endured three monethes.

25 So after these dayes, euery man went home agayne, and Iudith was in great reputation at Bethulia, and vpright honourably taken in al the lande of Israel.

26 Unto her vertue also was chastitie ioyned, so that after her husbande Manasses dyed, she neuer knewe man all the dayes of her lyfe.

27 Upon the high solempne dayes, she went out with great worship.

28 She dwelt in her husbandes house an hundred and fyue yeeres, and left her handmayden Abra free, 29 And died, and was buryed beside her husbande in Bethulia: and all the people mourned for her seuen dayes.

30 So long as she liued, there was none that troubled Israel, and many yeeres also after her death.

31 The day wherein this victory was gotten, was solemnly holden, and reckened of the Iewes in the number of the holy daies, as it is yet greatly holden of the Iewes euer since, vnto this day.

The dreame of Mardocheus.

MArdocheus the ſonne of Iari, ꝑ ſonne of Semei, the ſonne of Cis, of the tribe of Beniamin,

2 A Iewe, which had his dwelling in the citie of Suſis, a man of great reputation, and excellent among all them that were in the kinges court:

3 Neuertheleſſe, he was one of the priſoners whom || Nabuchodonoſor the kyng of Babylon had caried away from Hieruſalem vnto Babylon, with Iechonias the king of Iuda.

4 In the ſecond yeere of the raigne of great Artaxerxes, in the fyrſt day of the moneth Niſan, had this Mardocheus ſuche a dreame.

5 He thought he hearde a great tempeſt, horrible thunderclappes, earthquakes, and great vproze in the lande,

6 And that he ſawe two great dragons, redy to fyght one agaynſt another.

7 Their crye was great: at the whiche roaryng and crye, al the heathen were vp to fyght agaynſt the ryghteous people.

8 And the ſame day was ful of darknes, and very vncleare, ful of trouble & anguiſhe, yea a great fearfulnes was there in the land.

9 The ryghteous were amaſed, for they feared the plague and euyl that was deuiſed ouer them, and were at a poynt with them ſelues to dye: So they cryed vnto God.

10 And whyle they were crying, the litle wel grewe into a great riuer, and into many waters.

11 And with that it was day, and the ſunne roſe vp agayne: and the lowly were exalted, and deuoured the glorious and proude.

12 Nowe when Mardocheus had ſeene this dreame, he awoke, and muſed ſtedfaſtly in his hart what God woulde doo: and ſo he deſired to knowe al the matter, and his mind was thereupon vntyl night.

The.xii. Chapter.

Mardocheus vttereth the treaſon deuiſed againſt the king, & is therfore rewarded of him.

AT the ſame tyme dwelt Mardocheus with Bagatha and Thara in the kinges court, the kinges chamberlaynes and porters of the palace.

2 But when he heard theyr deuiſe, & had diligently conſydered their imaginations, he perceiued that they went about to lay their cruel handes vpon the king Artaxerxes, and ſo he certifyed the king thereof.

3 Then cauſed the king to examine the two "gelded with tormentes: and when they had graunted it, they were put to death.

" Or, chamberlaynes.

4 This the king cauſed to be put in the Chronicles for an euerlaſting remembrance, and Mardocheus wrote vp the ſame matter.

5 So the king commaunded that Mardocheus ſhould remayne in the court, and for this faythfulneſſe of his he gaue hym a reward.

6 But Aman, the ſonne of Amadathi the Agagite, which was holden in great honour and reputation in the kinges court, vndertooke to hurte Mardocheus and his people, becauſe of the two chamberlaynes that were put to death.

¶ The.xiii. Chapter.

I. The copie of the letters of Artaxerxes againſt the Iewes. 9. The prayer of Mardocheus.

THE great king Artaxerxes, which raigneth from India vnto Ethiopia, ouer an hundred and twentie and ſeuen landes, ſendeth his freendly ſalutation vnto all the pynces and deputies of the countrey, whiche be ſubiect vnto his dominion.

2 When I was made lorde ouer many people, and had ſubdued the whole earth vnto my dominion, my mynde was not with crueltie and wrong to exalt mee ſelfe, by the reaſon of my power: but purpoſed with equitie alway and gentleneſſe, to gouerne thoſe that be vnder my iuriſdiction, and wholy to ſet them in a peaceable lyfe, and therehy to bryng my kingdome vnto tranquillitie, that men might ſafely goe throughe in euery ſide, and to reuue peace againe, whyche al men deſyre.

3 Nowe when I asked my counsellers howe these thinges might be brought to a good ende, there was one by vs excellent in wisedome, whose good will, trueth, and faithfulnesse hath oft ben shewed and proued, (which was also the principall and next vnto the king) Aman by name,

4 Whiche certified vs, howe that in all landes there was scattered abroade a rebellious folke, that made statutes and lawes against al other people, and haue alway despised the proclaymed commaundementes of kinges, and howe that for this cause it were not to be suffered, that such rule shoulde continue by you, and not to be put downe.

5 Seeyng nowe we perceiue the same, that this people alone are contrary vnto euery man, vsyng strange and other manner of lawes, and withstande our statutes and doynges, and goe about to stablyshe shrewde matters, that our kingdome shoulde neuer come to good estate and stedfastnesse,

6 Therfore haue we commaunded that all they that are appoynted in writyng, and shewed vnto you by Aman, whiche is ordeyned and set ouer al our landes, and the most principal next vnto the king, and in manner as a father, shall with theyr wiues and chyldren be destroyed and rooted out with the swoorde of theyr enimies and aduersaries, and that there shalbe no mercy shewed, and no man spared: and this shalbe done the fourtienth day of the moneth called Adar, of this yeere.

7 That they which of olde, and now also haue euer ben rebellious, may in one day with violence be thrust downe into the hel, to the intent that after this manner our empire may haue peace and tranquilitie.

8 But Mardocheus thought vpon all the workes and noble actes of the Lorde, and made his prayer vnto hym, 9 Saying, O Lord, Lord, thou valiant and almightie king, for al thynges are in thy power: and if thou wylt helpe and deliuer Israel, there is no man that can withstande nor let thee.

10 For thou hast made heauen & earth, and what wonderous thyng soeuer is vnder the heauen.

11 Thou art Lord of al things, & there is no man that can resist thy maiestie, O lord.

22 Thou knowest al things, thou wotest Lord that it was neither of malice nor presumption, nor for any desyre of glory, that I would not bowe downe mee selfe, nor worshyp yonder proude presumptuous Aman:

13 (For I would haue ben content, and that with good will, if it might haue done Israel any good, to haue kyst euen his foote-steppes.)

14 But that I did it because I would not set the honour of a man in the steede of the glory of God, and because I would worshyp none but only thee, my Lorde: and this haue I done in no pride nor presumption.

15 And therefore, O Lorde, thou God and kyng, haue mercy vpon thy people, for they imagine howe they may bryng vs to nought, yea, their minde and desire is to destroy and to ouerthrowe thy people that hath euer ben thine inheritance of olde.

16 O despise not thy portion, which thou hast deliuered and brought out of Egypt for thine owne selfe.

17 Heare my prayer, and be mercyfull vnto thy people whom thou hast chosen for an heritage vnto thee selfe, turne our complaynt and sorow into ioy, that we may liue, O Lorde, and prayse thy name: O Lorde, suffer not the mouthes of them that prayse thee, to be destroyed.

18 Al the people of Israel in like manner cried as earnestly as they coulde vnto the Lord, for theyr death and destruction stoode before theyr eyes.

¶ The. xiiii. Chapter.

The prayer of Esther for the deliuerance of her and her people.

QVeene Esther also being in the "battayle of death, reloyned vnto the Lorde, " or, perill

2 Laide away her glorious apparel, and put on the garments that serued for sighing and mourning: In the steede of precious ointment, she scattered ashes and doung vpon her head: and as for her body, she humbled it with fastyng, and brought it very lowe: Al the places where she was woont to haue ioy afore, those filled she with her owne heare that she pluckt of.

3 She prayed also vnto the Lorde God of Israel with these wordes, O my Lorde, thou only art our kyng, helpe me desolate woman, whiche haue no helper but thee:

4 For my miserie and destruction is harde at my hande.

5 ‖ From my youth vp, I haue heard out of the kinrede of my father, that thou tookest Israel from among al people, and so haue our fathers of theyr fore elders, that they shoulde be thy perpetuall inheritance, and looke what thou diddest promise them, ‖ Deut. 4. 20 thou haſt made it good vnto them.

6 Nowe Lorde, we haue ſinned before thee, therefore haſt thou geuen vs into the handes of our enimies.

7 Becauſe we worſhipped their gods: Lord thou art righteous.

8 Neuertheleſſe, it ſatisfieth them not that we are in bitter & heauie captiuitie, and oppreſſed among them, but they haue layde their handes vpon the handes of their gods.

9 So that they begin to take away the thyng that thou with thy mouth haſt ordeyned and appoynted, to deſtroy thyne inheritance, to ſhut & to ſtop the mouthes of them that praiſe thee, to quench the glory and worſhip of thy houſe and thyne aulter:

10 And to open the mouthes of the heathen, that they may praiſe the power and vertue of the goddes, and to magnifie the fleſhly king for euer.

11 O Lorde, geue not thy ſcepter vnto them that be nothyng, leſt they laugh vs to ſcorne in our miſery and fal: but turne their deuice vpon them ſelues, and puniſhe hym that hath begun the ſame ouer vs, and ſet him to an example.

12 Thinke vpon vs, O Lord, and ſhew thee ſelfe vnto vs in the time of our diſtreſſe, and of our trouble: ſtrengthe me, O thou king of gods, thou Lord of al power:

13 Geue me an eloquent and pleaſant ſpeache in my mouth before the Lion: turne his hart into the hate of our enimies, to deſtroy hym, and al ſuche as conſent vnto hym.

14 But deliuer vs with thy hande, and helpe me thy handmayde, which haue no defence nor helper, but only thee Lord.

15 Thou knoweſt al thinges, thou woteſt that I loue not the glory and worſhyp of the vnrighteous, and that I hate and abhorre the bedde of al the vncircumciſed, and of all heathen.

16 Thou knoweſt my neceſſitie, that I hate the token of my preeminence and worſhyp, whiche I beare vpon my head what time as I muſt ſhew mee ſelfe and be ſeene, and that I abhorre it as an vncleane cloth, and that I weare it not when I am quiet and alone by mee ſelfe.

17 Thou knoweſt alſo that I thy handmayden haue not eaten at Amans table, and that I haue had no pleaſure nor delyght in the kinges feaſt, that I haue not dronke the wine of the drinke offerynges, 18 And that I thy handmayden haue no ioy, ſynce the day that I was brought hyther, vnto this day, but only thee, O Lord, O thou God of Abraham.

19 O thou mightie God aboue al, heare the voyce of them that haue no other hope, and delyuer vs out of the hande of the wycked, and deliuer me out of my feare.

¶ The .xv. Chapter.

1. Mardocheus moueth Eſther to goe in vnto the king, and make interceſſion for her people. 9. And ſhe performed his requeſt.

MArdocheus alſo bade Eſther goe in vnto the king, and pray for her people, and for her countrey.

2 Remember (ſayth he) the dayes of thy lowe eſtate, how thou waſt nouriſhed vnder my hande: for Aman which is next vnto the king, hath geuen ſentence of death againſt vs:

3 Call thou therefore vpon the Lorde, and ſpeake for vs vnto the kyng, and delyuer vs from death.

4 And vpon the thirde day it happened, that Eſther layde away the mourning garmentes, and put on glorious apparel,

5 And deckt her ſelfe goodly (after that ſhe had called vpon God, whiche is the beholder and ſauiour of al thynges) and tooke two maydens with her:

6 Vpon the one ſhe leaned her ſelfe, as one that was tender:

7 The other folowed her, and bare the trayne of her veſture.

8 The ſhine of her beautie made her face roſe coloured, the ſimilitude of her face was cheareful and amiable: but her hart was ſorowful for great feare.

9 She went in through all the doores, and ſtoode before the kyng: the kyng ſate vpon the throne of his kyngdome, and was clothed in his goodly aray, all ſhyning with golde, and ſet with precious ſtones, and he was very terrible.

10 He lyft vp his face that ſhone in the cleareneſſe, and loked grimly vpon her: then fell the queene downe, was pale and faynt, leaned her ſelfe vpon the head of the mayde that went with her.

11 Neuertheleſſe, GOD || turned the kinges minde that he was gentle, that he leaped out of his ſeate for feare, and gate her in his armes, and helde her vp tyll ſhe came to her ſelfe agayne, he gaue her louyng wordes alſo, and ſayde vnto her, || Prou.21.

12 Eſther, what is the matter? I am thy brother, be of good cheare:

13 Thou ſhalt not dye, for our commaundement toucheth the commons, and not thee: Come nigh.

14 And with that he held vp his golden rod, and layde it vpon her necke,

15 And imbraced her freendely, and sayde, Talke with me.

Gen.33.10 Reu.19.27 16 Then sayde she, || I sawe thee O Lorde as an angel of God, and my hart was troubled for feare of thy maiestie & clearnes.

17 For excellent and woonderfull art thou, O Lorde, and thy face is ful of amitie.

18 But as she was thus speakyng vnto him, she fel downe agayne for fayntnesse:

19 For the which cause the king was afrayd, and al his seruantes comforted her.

¶ The.xvi. Chapter.

The copy of the letters of Artaxerxes, vvhereby he reuoketh those vvhich he first sent foorth.

Esther.1.1. THe great king Artaxerxes, || which raigneth from India vnto Ethiopia, ouer an hundred & twentie and seuen landes, sendeth vnto the princes and rulers of the same landes, such as loue him, his freendely salutation.

Eccl.3.10. 2 There || be many that for the sundry frendshippes and benefites whiche are diuersly done vnto them for their worshipp, be euer the more proude and high minded:

3 And vndertake not onely to hurt our subiectes (for plenteous benefites may they not suffer, and begin to imagine some thing agaynst those that doo them good,

4 And take not onely all thankfulnesse away from men) but in pride and presumption, as they that be vnmindfull and vnthankful for the good deedes, they goe about to escape the iudgement of God that seeth all thinges, whiche iudgement hateth and punisheth al wickednesse.

5 It happeneth oft also, that they whiche be set in office by the higher power, and vnto whom the businesse and causes of the subiectes are committed to be handled, ware proude, and defile them selues with shedding of innocent blood, which bryngeth them to intollerable hurt.

6 Which also with false and deceptfull woordes, and with lyeing tales, deceiue and betray the innocent goodnesse of princes.

7 Nowe is it profytable and good that we take heede, make search thereafter, and consyder not onely what hath happened vnto vs of olde, but the shamefull, vnhoneft, and noisome thinges that the deputies haue nowe taken in hande before our eyes.

8 And thereby to beware in tyme to come, that we make the kingdome quiet and peaceable for all men, and that we might some tyme drawe it to a change,

9 And as for the thing that nowe is present before our eyes, to withstande it, and to put it downe after the most freendely maner

10 What time nowe as || Aman the sonne of Amadathu the Macedonian, a stranger verely of the Persians blood, and farre from our goodnesse, was come in among vs as an aliant, || Esth.3.1.

11 And had obteyned the freendship that we beare towarde all people, so that he was called our father, and had in high honour of euery man, as the next and principall vnto the kyng:

12 He could not forbeare him selfe from his pryde, hath vndertaken not only to rob vs of the kyngdome, but of our lyfe:

13 With manifolde decept also hath he desyred to destroye Mardocheus our helper and preseruer, whiche hath doone vs good in al thinges, and innocent Esther the like partaker of our kyngdome, with all her people.

14 For his mynd was (when he had taken them out of the waye, and robbed vs of them) by this meanes to translate the kingdome of the Persians, vnto them of Macedonia.

15 But we find that the Iewes (which were accused of the wicked, that they might be destroyed) are no euyl doers, but vse reasonable and ryght lawes:

16 And that they be the children of the most high lyuing God, by whom the kingdome of vs, and of our progenitours, hath been wel ordered hytherto.

17 Wherefore, as for the letters and commaundementes that were put footh by Aman: the sonne of Amadathu, ye shal do wel if ye holde them of none effect.

18 For he that set them vp and inuented them, hangeth at Susis before the porte, with all his kinrede: and God, which hath all thinges in his power, hath rewarded him after his deseruyng.

19 And vpon this ye shall publishe and set vp the coppie of this letter in all places: that the Iewes may freely and without hinderance holde them selues after their owne statutes:

20 And that they may be helped, and that vpon the thirteenth day of the twelfth moneth Adar, they may be auenged of them, which in the tyme of their anguishe and trouble woulde haue oppressed them.

21 For the God that gouerneth al thinges, hath turned to ioy the day wherein the chosen people shoulde haue perished.

22 Moreouer, among the hygh solempne daies that ye haue, ye shal holde this day also with al gladnesse:

23 That nowe, and in tyme to come, this day may be a remembrance of good, for all such as loue the prosperitie of the Persians: but a remembrance of destruction to those that be seditious vnto vs.

24 All cities and landes that doo not this, shal horribly perishe, and be destroyed with the swoorde and fyre, and shall not onely be no more inhabited of men, but be abhorred also of the wylde beastes and foules.

The first Chapter.

1. Howe we ought to enquire and searche after God. 3. who they are that finde him.

LOue ryghteousnesse, ye that be ‖ iudges of the earth: conceyue deepely of the Lord in goodnesse, and seeke him in singlenesse of hart. ‖3.Reg.3.3. Esai. 56.1.

2 ‖ For he wyl be found of thē that tempt him not, and appeareth vnto suche as put no distrust in hym. ‖Deut.4.29.

3 For wicked thoughtes seperate from god, and his power when it is *tryed, reproueth the vnwyse. *or, tempted

4 For wyse wisdome shal not enter into a wicked soule, nor dwel in the body that is subiect vnto sinne.

5 ‖ For the holy spirite of discipline fleeth from deceyt, and withdrawyth him selfe from thoughtes that are without vnderstanding, and is declared when wickednesse commeth. ‖Iere.4.22.

6 ‖ For the spirite of wisdome is louing, and wyll not absolue him that blaspheməth with his lippes, for God is witnesse of his reynes, and a true beholder of his hart, and an hearer of his tongue. ‖Gal.5.22.

7 For the spirite of the Lorde filleth the rounde compasse of the worlde, and the same that vpholdeth all thinges, hath knowledge also of the voyce.

8 Therefore he that speaketh vnryghteous thinges, can not be hyd, neyther shal the iudgement of reproofe let hym escape.

9 And why? inquisition shalbe made for the thoughtes of the vngodly, and the sound of his wordes shal come vnto GOD, so that his wickednesse shalbe punished.

10 For the eare of ielousie heareth al thinges, and the noise of the grudgynges shal not be hid.

11 Therefore beware of murmuring, which is nothing worth, and refraine your tongue from slaunder: For there is no word so secrete that it shal goe for nought, and the mouth that speaketh lyes, slayeth the soule.

12 O seeke not your owne death in the errour of your lyfe, ‖ destroy not your selues through the woorkes of your owne handes: ‖Deut.4.25.

13 ‖ For God hath not made death, neither hath he pleasure in the destruction of the lyuyng: ‖Ezec.18.32.

14 For he created al thynges, that they might haue their being, and "the generations of the world were healthfull, and there is no poyson of destruction in them, nor the kingdome of hel vpon the earth. "or, beginnings

15 For ryghteousnesse is euerlastyng and immortal: but vnryghteousnesse bringeth death.

16 Neuertheles, the vngodly ‖ call a it vnto them both with woorkes and woordes: & while they thinke to haue it their freende, they come to nought, and they haue made an agreement with it, for they are worthy to be of her part. ‖Wisd.15.6. 2. To wit, death.

The.ii. Chapter.

The imaginations and desires of the vvicked, and their counsel agaynst the faythful.

FOR the vngodly say, reasonyng with them selues, but not aright, Our lyfe is short & tedious, and in the death of a man there is no remedie, neyther is there any man knowen to haue returned from the graue.

2 For we are borne at al aduenture, and we shalbe hereafter, as though we had neuer been: for our breath is as a smoke in our nosethrilles, and woordes as a sparke raysed out of our hartes:

3 Which beyng extinguished, our body shalbe turned into asshes, and our spirite shal vanishe as the soft ayre.

4 Our lyfe shal passe away as the trace of a cloude, and come to nought as the mist that is dryuen away with the beames of the sunne, and put downe with the heate thereof:

of: our name also shalbe forgotten by litle and litle, and no man shall haue our woorkes in remembrance.

5 ||For our tyme is a very shadowe that passeth away, and after our ende there is no returnyng: for it is fast sealed, so that no man commeth agayne,

6 ||Come on therefore, let vs enioy the pleasures that are present, and let vs chearefully vse the creatures lyke as in youth:

7 Let vs fyl our selues with good wyne and oyntment, and let there no flowre of the tyme escape vs.

8 Let vs crowne our selues with rose buddes, afore they be wythered.

9 aLet there be no fayre meddowe, but our lust goe throughout. Let euery one of vs be partakers of our voluptuousnesse, let vs leaue some token of our pleasure in euery place: for that is our portion, and this onely our lot.

10 Let vs oppresse the poore righteous, let vs not spare the widowe nor olde man, let vs not regard the heades that are gray for age.

11 Let the lawe of vnrighteousnesse be our strength: for the thing that is feeble is nothyng worth.

12 Therefore let vs defraude the righteous, and why? he is not for our profite, yea, he is cleane contrary to our doings, he checketh vs for offending against the lawe, & slaundereth the faultes of our maner of liuyng.

13 ||He maketh his boast to haue the knowledge of God, yea, he calleth him selfe Gods sonne.

14 ||He is made vnto vs for reproofe of our thoughtes.

15 ||It greeueth vs also to looke vpon him; for his life is not like other mens, his wayes are of another fashion.

16 He counteth vs but "vayne persons, he withdraweth him selfe from our wayes as from filthynesse, he commendeth greatly the latter ende of the iust, and maketh his boast that God is his father.

17 Let vs see then if his woordes be true, let vs proue what shal happen in the end of hym.

18 ||For if the iust man be the sonne of God, he wil receiue him, and deliuer him from the handes of his enimies.

19 Let vs examine hym with ||despiteful rebuke and tormentyng, that we may knowe his meekenes, and prooue his patience.

20 Let vs condemne him with the most shamefull death: for as hym selfe sayth, he shalbe rewarded of God.

21 Such thynges do they imagine, and goe astray, for their owne wickednesse hath blynded them.

22 As for the mysteries of God, they vnderstand them not, they neyther hope for the rewarde of righteousnesse, nor regarde the woorshyp that holy soules shal haue.

23 ||For God created man to be vndeskroyed, yea, after the image of his owne likenesse made he hym. ||Gen.1.27

24 ||Neuertheless thorow enuie of the deuil came death into the worlde, and they that helde of his side doo finde it. ||Gen.3.1.

¶ The iii. Chapter.

1. The conseruation and assurance of the ryghteous. 7. The rewarde of the faythful. 11. VVho are miserable.

BVt the ||soules of the ryghteous are in the handes of God, and there shall no torment touche them. ||Deut.33.3

2 ||In the syght of the vnwyse they appeared to die, & their ende is taken for misery. ||Heb.11.34

3 And their departyng from vs to be vtter destruction: but they are in rest.

4 For though they suffer payne before men, yet ||is their hope ful of immortalitie. ||Rom.8.24

5 They are punished but in few thyngs, neuertheless in many thyngs shall they be wel rewarded, for ||God proueth them, and findeth them meete for him selfe. ||Exo.16.2. Deut.8.2.

6 As gold in the furnace doth he tryе them, & receiueth them as a burnt offeryng: and when the tyme commeth they shalbe looked vpon.

7 ||They shal shine and runne throughout, as the sparckles among the stubble, ||Mat.13.43

8 ||They shall iudge the nations, and haue dominion ouer the people: and their lord shal raigne for euer. ||Mat.19.28

9 They that put their trust in him, shall vnderstand the truethand suche as be faythful, shal perseuer with hym in loue: for his Saintes haue grace and mercy, and he hath care for his elected.

10 ||But the vngodly shalbe punished according to their owne imaginations, for they haue despised the righteous, & forsaken the Lorde. ||Mat.25.41

11 For who so despiseth wisedome and "nurture, he is "vnhappy, and as for the hope of suche it is but vayne, their labours vnfruitful, and theyr woorkes vnprofitable. "or, discipline. "or, he is miserable.

12 Theyr wiues are vndiscreete, and theyr children most vngodly.

13 Theyr offspryng or progenie is cursed: wherefore blessed is the barren that is vndefiled, ||which hath not knowen the sinful bed, she shal haue fruite in the visitatiō of soules: ||Esai.56.3

14 And the gelded whiche with his handes

handes hath wrought no vnrighteousnesse, nor imagined wicked thynges agaynst God: for vnto hym shalbe geuen the speciall gyft of fayth, and the most acceptable portion in the temple of God.

15 For glorious is the fruite of the good labour, and the roote of wisedome shall neuer fade away.

16 As for the chyldren of adulterers, they shal not come to a perfect ende, and the seede of an vnrighteous bed shalbe rooted out.

17 And though they lyue long, yet shall they be nothing regarded, and theyr last age shalbe without honour.

18 If they dye quickly, they haue no hope, neyther comfort in the day of iniquitie.

19 For horrible is the ende of the vnrighteous generation.

¶ The.iiii. Chapter.

1. Of vertue, and the commoditie thereof, 10. The death of the righteous, and the condemnation of the vnfaythful.

O Howe fayre is a chaste generation with vertue? the memorial therof is immortal: for it is knowen with God and with men.

2 When it is present, men take example at it, and if it goe away, yet they desire it: it is crowned, and euer triumpheth, when it hath wonne the reward of the vndefiled battayles.

3 But the multitude of the vngodly aboundyng in chyldren, shall profite nothyng, nor geue deepe roote by the seed of adulterie, nor lay any fast fundation.

4 For ‖ though they bud foorth in the branches for a tyme, yet shall they be shaken with the winde, for they stande not fast, and through the vehemencie of the wynde they shalbe rooted out. ‖Ier.17.6 Matth.7.19

5 The vnperfect branches shalbe broken, theyr fruite shalbe vnprofitable, & sowre to eate, yea, meete for nothyng.

6 And why? all the chyldren that are borne of the wicked bed, must beare recorde of the wickednesse agaynst theyr fathers and mothers when they be asked.

7 But though the righteous be ouertaken with death, yet shal he be in rest.

8 For honorable age is not that whiche standeth in length of tyme, nor that that is measured by number of yeeres:

9 But a mans wysedome is the gray heare, and an vndefiled life is the old age.

10 He ‖ pleased God, and was beloued of him, so that whereas he lyued among sinners, he translated hym, ‖Gen.5.24 Heb.11.5

11 Yea, speedyly was he taken away, to the intent that wickednesse shoulde not alter his vnderstandyng, and that deceite shoulde not beguyle his soule.

12 For wickednesse with bewitching, dooth darken the honest thynges: and the lightnesse of "voluptuous desyre," turneth aside the single mynde. "Or, concupiscence.

13 Though he was soone dead, yet fulfilled he much tyme: "Or, changyng or alteryng.

14 For his soule pleased God, therefore hasted he to take hym away "from among the wycked. "Or, from out of the myddest of wickednesse.

15 This the people see, and vnderstand it not, they lay not vp suche thynges in their hartes, howe that the louyng fauour and mercy of God is vpon his saintes, and that he hath respect vnto his chosen.

16 Thus the righteous that is dead, condemneth the vngodly whiche are lyuyng: and the youth that is soone brought to an ende, the long lyfe of the vnrighteous.

17 For they see the ende of the wise: but they vnderstande not what God hath deuised for him, and wherefore the Lorde hath taken hym away to be in safetie.

18 And why? they see hym, and despise hym, therefore shall god also laugh them to scorne.

19 So that they them selues shall dye hereafter without honour, yea in shame among the dead for euermore: for without any voyce shal he burst those that be put vp, and shake them from the fundations, so that they shalbe layd as vtterly wasted: they shalbe in sorowe, and theyr memorial perishe.

20 So they shal come afraid in remembrance of theyr sinnes, and theyr owne iniquities before their face shal conuince them.

1. The constantnesse of the righteous before theyr persecutours. 14. The hope of the vnfaythful is vayne. 15. The blessednesse of the Saynctes and godly.

THen shall the righteous stande in great boldnesse before the face of such as haue dealt extreemely with them, and taken away theyr labours.

2 When they see it, they shalbe vexed with horrible feare, and shall woonder at his health, so farre beyond al that they loked for.

3 And changing their opinion, with groning for the rednesse of mynde, they shall say, This is he whom sometyme we had in derision, and iested vpon.

4 ‖ We fooles thought his life very madnesse, and his ende to be without honour: ‖Wil.3.3

5 But

5 But loe howe he is counted among the chyldren of God, and his portion is among the ſaintes.

6 Therefore haue we erred from the way of trueth, the lyght of ryghteouſneſſe hath not ſhyned vnto vs, and the ſonne of vnderſtandyng roſe not vp vpon vs.

7 We haue weeried our ſelues in the way of wickednesſe and deſtruction, yea we haue gone through tedious deſartes, but as for the way of the Lorde, we haue not knowen it.

8 What good hath pride doone vnto vs? or what profyte hath the pompe of richeſſe brought vs?

9 ||All thoſe things are paſſed away like a ſhadowe, and as a Poaſte that haſteth by: Chron. 29.15.

10 As a ſhyp that paſſeth ouer the waues of the water, whiche when it is gone by, the trace therof can not be found, neither the path of it in the flooddes:

11 ||Or as a byrde that fleeth through in the ayre, and no man can ſee any token where ſhe is flowen, but onely heareth the noyſe of her wynges, beatyng the lyght wynde, partyng the ayre through the vehemencie of her goyng, and fleeth on ſhakyng her wynges, whereas afterwarde no token of her way can be founde: Hyn. 30.19.

12 Or like as when an arrowe is ſhot at a marke, it parteth the ayre, which immediatly commeth togeather agayne, ſo that a man can not knowe where it went through:

13 Euen ſo we in lyke maner, as ſoone as we were borne, beganne immediately to drawe to our ende, and haue ſhewed no token of vertue, but are conſumed in our owne wickednesſe.

14 Such wordes they that haue ſinned ſpeake in the hel:

15 For the hope of the ||vngodly is like a "drye thyſtle flowre that is blowen away with the wynde, lyke a thynne "ſcumme that is ſcattred abrode with the ſtorme, lyke as the ſmoke whiche is diſpearſed here and there with the wynde, and as the remembrance of a ſtranger that tarrieth but a day, and then departeth. "dyſt. "ſame. Iob.8.9.

16 But the ||ryghteous ſhall liue for euermore, their rewarde alſo is with the lord, and the care for them is with the hyghest. Pſal.39.5.

17 Therefore ſhal they receyue a glorious kyngdome, and a beautifull crowne of the Lordes hande: for with his ryght hande ſhal he couer them, and with his arme ſhall he defende them.

18 ||His ielouſie alſo ſhall take on harneſſe, and he ſhal arme the creature to be reuenged of his enimies. Pſal.17.9. Miſ.3.3

19 ||He ſhall put on ryghteouſneſſe for a breſtplate, and take vnfaigned iudgement in ſteade of an helmet. Eph.6.13.

20 The inuincible ſhield of equitie ſhal he take.

21 His fierce wrath ſhall he ſharpen for a ſworde, and the whole compaſſe of the worlde ſhal fyght with him agaynſt the vnwyſe.

22 Then ſhall the thunder boltes goe "ryght out of the lyghtenynges, and come as out of the well bent bowe of the cloudes, to the place appoynted. "or, ſtrayght.

23 And as from an angry caſter of ſtones, there ſhal fal thicke hayles, and the water of the ſea ſhalbe wroth agaynſt them, and the flooddes ſhal runne roughly togeather.

24 Yea a myghty wynde ſhal ſtande by agaynſt them, and a ſtorme ſhal ſcatter them abrode: thus vnrighteous dealyng ſhal bring al the lande to a wyldernesſe, and wickednes ſhal ouerthrowe the royall "ſeates of the myghtie. "or, thrones.

1. The callyng of Kinges, Princes, and Iudges, vvhich are alſo exhorted to ſearch vviſdome.

WYſedome is ||better then ſtrength: and a man of vnderſtanding is more worth then one ſtrong. This vearſe is onely in the old interpreter.

2 Heare therefore (O ye kynges) and vnderſtande, O learne, ye that be iudges of the endes of the earth. ||Pro.16.32.

3 Geue eare, ye that rule the multitudes, and glory in the number of peoples.

4 ||For the power is geuen you of the Lorde, and the ſtrength from the hyghest, whiche ſhal trye your workes, and ſearch out your imaginations: ||Rom.13.1.

5 Howe that ye being officers of his kyngdome, haue not geuen true iudgement, haue not kept the lawe of righteouſneſſe, nor walked after the wyl of God.

6 Horribly, and that ryght ſoone, ſhall he appeare vnto you: for an hard iudgement ſhal they haue that beare rule.

7 Mercy is graunted vnto the loweſt: but they that be in auctoritie ſhalbe ſore punyſhed.

8 ||For he whiche is lorde ouer al, ſhall "accept no mans perſon, neyther ſhall he ſtande in awe of any mans greatneſſe: for he hath made the ſmall and great, and careth for al alyke. ||Deu. 10.17 "or, feare, or, ſpare.

9 But the myghtie ſhal haue the ſorer tryall.

10 Unto you therefore (O ye kynges) doo I ſpeake, that ye may learne wyſedome, and not goe amyſſe.

11 For they that keepe holyneſſe "holyly, ſhalbe iudged holy: and they that haue learned ſuche thynges, ſhal fynde defence. "or, holy thynges.

12 Wherefore

12 Wherefore *set your delyght vpon my wordes, and desyre them, so shal ye *come by nurture.

13 Wysedome is a noble thing, & neuer fadeth away: yea she is easily seene of them that loue her, and found of such as seeke her.

14 She preuenteth them that desyre her, that she may shewe her selfe vnto them.

15 Who so awaketh vnto her betymes, shal haue no great trauayle: for he shal fynde her sittyng redy at his doores.

16 To thinke therfore vpon her, is perfect vnderstandyng: and who so watcheth for her, shall quickly be dispatched of care.

17 For she goeth about seekyng such as are meete for her, sheweth her selfe cheerefully vnto them in *their goynges, and meeteth them with *al diligence.

18 For the vnfaigned desyre of *reformation is her begynnyng: to care for nurture, is loue.

19 And loue is the keping of her lawes, and the keping of her lawes, is the assurance of immortalitie:

20 And immortalitie maketh a man familier with God.

21 And so the desyre of wysedome leadeth to the kyngdome euerlastyng.

|| Mat.27.16. 22 || If your delyght be then in royall seates and scepters (O ye kynges of the people) set your *lust vppon wysedome, that ye may raigne for euermore.

23 O loue the lyght of wysedome, al ye that be rulers of the people.

24 As for wysedome, what she is, and howe she came vp, I wyl tel you, and wyl not hyde the mysteries of God from you: but wyll seeke her out from the begynnyng of her natiuitie, and bryng the knowledge of her into lyght, and wyll not keepe backe the trueth, 25 Neyther wyll I haue to doo with consumyng enuie: for such a man shal not be partaker of wysedome.

26 But the multitude of the wise is the welfare of the worlde: and a wyse kyng is the *vpholdyng of the people.

27 O receyue nurture then through my wordes, and it shal doo you good.

The.vii.Chapter.

VVysedome ought to be preferred aboue al thynges.

I Wee selfe also am a mortal man, lyke as all other, and am come of the earthly generation of him that was firste made,

|| Iob.10.10. 2 And in my || mothers wombe was fashioned to be flesshe in the tyme of tenne monethes, being brought together in blood, through the seede of man, and the pleasure that came with sleepe,

3 And when I was borne, I receyued lyke ayre as other men, and fel vpon the earth whiche is of like nature, crying and weepyng at the fyrst as al other doo.

4 I was wrapped in swadling clothes, and brought vp with cares.

5 For there is no kyng that hath had any other begynnyng of byrth:

6 || Al men then haue one entrance vnto lyfe, and one goyng out in lyke maner. || Iob.1.21. 1.Tim.6.7.

7 Wherefore I desyred, and vnderstanding was geuen me: I called, and the spirite of wysedome came into me.

8 I set more by her, then by kingdomes and royal seates, and counted rychesse nothing in comparison of her.

9 || As for precious stone, I compared it not vnto her, for al golde is but a litle grauel vnto her, and syluer shalbe counted but clape before her syght. || Iob.28.

10 I loued her aboue *welfare and beautie, and purposed to take her for my light: for her lyght cannot be quenched. *or,health.

11 || Al good thinges together came to me with her, and innumerable rychesse through her handes. || 3.Re.3.

12 And I was glad in al thynges, because wysedome went before them: and I knewe not that she was the mother of them.

13 And I me selfe learned vnfaignedly, and make other men partakers of her without enuie, and hide her ryches from no man.

14 For she is an infinite treasure vnto men: which who so vse, become partakers of the loue and frendshyp of God, and are accepted vnto him for the giftes of *wysdome. *or, knowledge, 15 GOD hath graunted me to speake what my mynde conceyueth, and to thynke as is meete for the thynges that are geuen me: for it is he that leadeth vnto wysedome, and teacheth to vse wysedome aryght.

16 For in his hand are both we and our wordes, yea al our wysedome and knowledge of his workes.

17 For he hath geuen me the true science of the thynges that are, so that I know howe the worlde was made, and the powers of the elementes:

18 The begynnyng, endyng, and myddest of the tymes, howe the times alter, howe one goeth after another, and howe they are fulfylled,

19 The course of the yeere, the ordinances of the starres,

20 The natures of lyuyng thyngs, the furiousnes of beastes, the power of the windes, the imaginations of men, the diuersities of young plantes, the vertues of rootes:

21 And all suche thynges as are eyther secrete or manyfest, them haue I learned.

22 For

*or, be instructed & learned.
*or, in their wayes.
*or, euery thought.
*or, discipline.
This vearse is onely in the old interpretes.

22 For wysedome, which is the wooꝛker of al thynges, hath taught me: foꝛ in her is the spirite of vnderstandyng, whiche is holy, one only, manyfolde, subtile, "quicke, mouyng, cleare, vndefiled, playne, sweete, louyng the thyng that is good, sharpe, whiche can not be letted, dooyng good,

23 Kind to man, stedfast, sure, free from care, hauyng all "vertues, "circumspect in all thynges, and passyng thꝛough al vnderstandyng, cleane, and subtile spirites.

24 For wysedome is nimbler then all nimble thynges, she goeth thꝛough, and attayneth to al thynges, because of her cleannesse.

25 For she is the breath of the power of God, and a pure influence flowyng from the glory of the almightie God: therefoꝛe can no defyled thyng come vnto her.

26 For || she is the bryghtnesse of the euerlastyng light, the vndefiled mirrour of the maiestie of God, & the image of his goodnesse.

27 And beyng but one, she can doo all thynges: and remaynyng in her selfe, she renueth al, and in al ages of tymes entryng into holy soules, she maketh Gods freends, and prophetes:

28 For God loueth none, if he dwel not with wisedome.

29 For she is more beautifull then the sunne, "& geueth more light then the starres, and the day is not to be compared vnto her.

30 For vppon "the day commeth night: but wickednesse can not ouercome wysdome.

The effectes of vvisedome.

WIsedome reacheth from one ende to another mightilie, and "louingly doeth she order al thinges.

2 I haue loued her, and "laboured for her from my youth vp: I did my diligence to marrie mee selfe with her, suche loue had I vnto her beautie.

3 That she hath the company of God, it commendeth her nobilitie: yea, the Lorde of al thynges hym selfe loueth her.

4 For she is the scoolemaistresse of the knowledge of God, and the chooser out of his wooꝛkes.

5 If "a man would desire riches in this life, what is richer then wisedome that wooꝛketh al thinges?

6 For if prudencie wooꝛke, what is it among al thynges that wooꝛketh better?

7 And if a man loue righteousnesse, her labours are but vertues: For why? she teacheth sobernesse & prudence, "righteousnesse and strength, which are such thyngs as men can haue nothyng more profitable in their life.

8 If a man desire much "knowledge, she can tel the thinges that are past, and discerne things for to come: she knoweth the subtilties of wordes, & can expound darke sentences: she foreseeth signes & wonders oꝛ euer they come to passe, and the "endes of al times and ages.

9 Therefore I purposed after this maner: I wyl take her into my cõpanie, that she may liue with me, knowing for certaintie she shall geue me good counsaile, and speake comfoꝛtably vnto me in my carefulnesse and greefe.

10 For her sake shal I be wel and honestly taken among the commons, and with honoꝛ among the elders though I be young.

11 I shalbe found to be of sharpe iudgement, so that I shalbe marueylous in the sight of great men: * and the faces of pꝛinces shal woonder at me.

12 When I holde my tongue, they shal bide my leysure, and when I speake, they shal geue good eare vnto me, and if I talke much, they shal lay theyr handes vpon their mouth.

13 Moreouer, by the meanes of her, I shal obteyne immoꝛtalitie, and leaue behynde me an euerlastyng memoꝛial among them that come after me.

14 I "shall set the people in oꝛder, and the nations shalbe subdued vnto me.

15 Hoꝛrible tyrantes shalbe afrayde when they doo but heare of me, among the multitude I shalbe counted good, & mightie in battayle.

16 When I come home, I shal find rest with her: foꝛ her companie hath no bitternesse, and her felowshyp hath no tediousnesse, but mirth and ioy.

17 Nowe when I consydered these thinges by me selfe, and pondered them in my hart, howe that to be ioyned vnto wisedome is immoꝛtalitie, 18 And great pleasure to haue her frendshyp, & that in the wooꝛkes of her handes are infinite riches, and that who so "keepeth companie with her shalbe wyse, and that he which talketh with her shal come to honour: I went about seekyng howe to geat her vnto me.

19 For I was a lad of ripe wit, and had a good "vnderstandyng.

20 || But when I grewe to more vnderstandyng, I came to an vndefiled body.

21 Neuertheleſſe when I perceiued that I could not enioy it, except god gaue it me, and that was a poynt of wisedome also, to knowe whose gyft it was, I stepped vnto the Lorde, and besought hym, and with my whole hart I sayd after this maner.

A prayer of Solomon to obteyne vvisedome.

O God of *my fathers, and Lorde of mercy, thou hast made al thynges with thy woorde,

2 And ordeyned man through thy wisedome, that he shoulde haue dominion ouer the creatures whiche thou hast made,

3 That he shoulde order the worlde accordyng to equitie and ryghteousnesse, and execute iudgement with a true hart:

4 ‖ Geue me wisedome, whiche is euer syttyng about thy seate, and put me not out from among thy chyldren:

5 ‖ For I thy seruant and some of thy handmayden am a feeble person, and of a short tyme, and to young to the vnderstandyng of iudgement and lawes.

6 And though a man be neuer so perfect among the chyldren of men, yet if thy wysedome be not with hym, he shalbe nothyng regarded.

7 Thou hast chosen me to be a kyng vnto thy people, and the iudge of thy sonnes and daughters:

8 Thou hast commaunded me to buylde a temple vpon thy holy mount, and an aulter in the citie wherein thou dwellest, a lykenesse of thy holy tabernacle, whiche thou hast prepared from the begynnyng:

9 ‖ And thy wysedome with thee, which knoweth thy woorkes, whiche also was with thee when thou madest the worlde, and knewe what was acceptable in thy syght, and right in thy commaundementes.

10 O send her out of thy holy heauens, and from the throne of thy maiestie, that she may be with me, and labour with me, that I may knowe what is acceptable in thy syght.

11 For she knoweth and vnderstandeth all thynges, and she shal leade me soberly in my woorkes, and preserue me *in her power.

12 So shal my woorkes be acceptable, & then shall I gouerne thy people righteously, and be woorthy to syt in my fathers seate.

13 ‖ For what man is he that can knowe the counsaile of god? or who can thinke what the wyl of God is?

14 For the thoughts of mortal men are *milerable, and our forecastes are but vncertayne.

The deliuerance of the righteous, and destruction of the enimies commeth through vvisedome.

SHe preserued the first fourmed father of the worlde that was created alone, and brought hym out of his fal:

2 ‖ And gaue him power to rule all thinges. ‖ Gen. 3.

3 But when the vnrighteous went away in his wrath from her, ‖ he perished by the furious desire to murder his brother. ‖ Gen. 4.

4 For whom when the water ‖ destroyed the whole worlde, wisedome agayne preserued it, her selfe gouernyng the iust man by no costly woorke of wood. ‖ Gen. 7.

5 ‖ Moreouer, when the nations were confounded or ioyned togeather in their malicious confederacie, she found out the righteous, & preserued him faultlesse vnto god, and kept him strong againste the loue of his sonne. ‖ Gen. 11.

6 ‖ She preserued the righteous when he fled frō the vngodly that perished, what time as the fire fell downe vppon the fiue cities. ‖ Gen. 19.

7 Like as yet this day the vnfruitful waste and smokyng lande geueth testimony of their wickednesse: yea the *vnrype and vntymely fruites that growe vpon the trees, and for a token of a remembrance of the vnfaythfull soule, there standeth a pyller of salt.

8 For al such as regarded not wisedome, gat not onely this hurt, that they knewe not the thynges which were good: but also left behinde them vnto men a memorial of their foolishnesse, so that in the thynges wherein they sinned, they coulde not be hyd.

9 But as for suche as tooke heede vnto wisedome, she hath deliuered thē from sorow.

10 ‖ When the righteous fled because of his brothers wrath, *wisedome ledde him the ryght way, shewed him the kyngdome of god, gaue hym knowledge of holy thinges, made him rich in his labours, and brought to passe the thynges that he went about. ‖ Gen.

fauoured him, she stood by him, and made him riche.

12 She saued him from the enimies, & defended him from the "deceyuers: in a strong battaple she gaue him ꝑ victorie, that he myght knowe howe that the feare of God is stronger then al thynges.

13 ||When the ryghteous was sold, she forsooke him not, but delyuered him from sinne: she went downe with him into the "dungeon,

14 ||And sayled him not in the bandes, tyll she had brought him the scepter of the realme, and power agaynst those that oppressed him: as for them that had accused him, she declared them to be liers, & brought him to perpetual "worshyp.

15 ||She delyuered the righteous people, and faultlesse seede, from the nations that oppressed them.

16 ||She entred into the soule of the seruant of the Lorde, and stoode by him in woonders and tokens agaynst the dreadfull kynges.

17 She gaue the "ryghteous the reward of their labours, and led them foorth a marueylous way: on the day time she was a shadowe vnto them, and a lyght of starres in the nyght season.

18 ||She brought them through the red sea, and carried them through the great water.

19 But she drowned their enimies in the sea, but brought them out of the bottome of the deepe.

20 ||So the righteous toke the spoyles of the vngodly, and ||praysed thy holy name, O Lord, and magnified thy victorious hand with one accorde.

21 For wysdome openeth the mouth of the dumbe, & maketh the tongues of babes to be eloquent.

5 For by the thynges wherthrough their enimies were punished, were the "chyldren of Israel helped in their neede.

6 For in steede of a fountaine of the perpetual runnyng flood, al troubled with goule blood,

7 In reproche of the commaundement published to murder the infantes, thou gauest vnto them abundance of water, and that not looked for neyther:

15 But for the foolyshe deuises of their wickednesse, wherwith beyng deceyued, they worshypped serpentes that had not the vse of reason, and vile beastes, thou sentest a multitude of vnreasonable beastes vppon them for reuengeaunce:

4 Or yf they marueiled at the power and worke of them, they shoulde haue perceiued thereby, how much he which made these thinges is mightier then they.

5 For by the greatnesse of the beautie & of the creatures, the maker therof, compared with them, may playnely be " knowen.

6 Notwithstanding they are the lesse to be blamed that seeke God, and woulde fynde hym, and yet peraduenture " mysse:

7 || For they being occupied in his workes, do seeke him diligently, and are perswaded by the sight, because the things are beautiful that are seene.

8 Howbeit, yet neyther are they to be excused.

9 For yf theyr vnderstandyng & knowledge be so great, that they can " discerne the worlde and the creatures, why do they not rather finde out the Lord thereof?

10 But miserable are they, & " among the dead is theyr hope, that cal them goddes whiche are but the workes of mens handes, golde, syluer, and the thyng that is founde out by ° cunning, the similitude of beastes, or any vayne stone that hath ben made by hande of olde.

11 || Or as when a Carpenter cutteth downe a tree meete for the purpose, and pareth of al the barke cunnyngly, and so by art comely maketh a vessel profitable to the vse of lyfe:

12 And with that whiche is cut of from his worke, doth dresse his meate to fyll his belly:

13 And as for the other parte that is left, whiche is profitable for nothing (for it is a crooked peece of wood and ful of knobbes) he carueth it diligently by leisure, and accordyng to the knowledge of his cunning, he gueth it some proportion, fashioneth it after the similitude of a man, 14 Or maketh it lyke some vile beast, straketh it ouer with red, and painteth it, and looke what foule spot is in it, he casteth some colour vpon it.

15 Then maketh he a " conuenient tabernacle for it, setteth it in a wal, and maketh it fast with iron:

16 Prouiding so for it, lest it happen to fal, " for it is well knowen that it can not helpe it selfe: for why? it is but an image, and must of necessitie be helped.

17 Then making prayer for his goods, for his mariage, and for children, he is not ashamed to speake to that whiche hath no soule.

18 For health, he maketh his petition vnto him that is "sicke: for lyfe, he humbly prayeth vnto him that is dead: he "calleth vpon him for helpe, that hath no experience at all: and to sende hym a good iourney, he prayeth hym that may not goe.

The voyce of the faythfull prayſing the mercy of God, by vvhoſe grace they ſerue not idols.

2 Though we ſinne, yet are we thine, for we knowe thy ſtrength: but we wyl not ſinne, becauſe we knowe we are counted thyne.

3 For to knowe thee, is perfect righteouſneſſe: yea to know thy power, is the roote of immortalite.

4 As "for the thing that men haue founde out through theyr euyl ſcience, it hath not deceyued vs, nor the paynters vnprofytable labour to wit an image "ſpotted with diuers colours,

5 Whoſe ſight entiſeth the ignorant to luſt after it, and he deſyreth the "picture of a dead image that hath no breath.

6 Both they that make them, they that deſire them, and they that woorſhip them, loue euyls, and are wooꝛthy to haue ſuche thinges to truſt vpon.

Wiſ.9.20 7 ||For the potter tempereth ſoft earth, laboureth it, & geueth it the faſhion, of what ſoeuer veſſel ſerueth for our vſe: and of the ſelfe ſame clay he maketh both the veſſels that ſerue for cleane vſes, and alſo ſuch as ſerue to the contrary: wherunto euery veſſel ſerueth, the potter him ſelfe beyng the iudge.

8 So by his wycked labour he maketh a vayne God of the ſame clay, this doth euen he whiche a litle before was made of earth him ſelfe, and within a litle while after returneth to the ſame out of whiche he was taken, when the lone of his lyfe ſhalbe demaunded from hym agayne.

9 Notwithſtandyng he careth not the more for this that he muſt labour, nor that his lyfe is ſhort: but ſtriueth to excel goldſmythes and ſiluerſmithes, and endeuoureth to doo lyke the copperſmithes, and taketh it for an honour to make "deceyuable thinges.

12 But they counted our lyfe but a paſtime, and our conuerſation to be but a market for gayne, and that men ſhoulde euery way be geatting, yea though it were by euyl meanes.

13 Nowe he that of earth maketh fraile veſſels and images, knoweth him ſelfe to offende aboue al other.

16 For man made them, and he that borowed his owne ſpirite faſhioned them: but no man can make a God like vnto him ſelfe.

17 For ſeeing he is but mortal, it is but mortal that he maketh with vnrighteous hands: he him ſelfe is better then they whom he woorſhippeth, for he lyued, as they dyd neuer.

18 Yea they woorſhipped ſuch beaſtes alſo as are "moſt hatefull: for yf they were compared, for "madneſſe they are woorſe then others.

Exod.10.4 Apoc.9.7. 9 || For then when they were bitten with grashoppers and flyes, they died, neyther was there any remedie founde for their lyfe, for they were woorthy to be punyshed by suche.

10 But not the very teeth of venemous dragons dyd ouercome thy chyldren: for thy mercy was euer by them, and healed them.

11 For they were pricked, because they should remember thy wordes, but speedily were they healed agayne, lest they should fal into so deepe forgetfulnesse, that they might not be called backe by thy benefite.

12 For it was neyther hearbe nor plaster that restored them to health: but thy woorde, O Lorde, which healeth al thinges.

Exod.9.23. 16 || For the vngodly that woulde not knowe thee, were punished by the strength of thyne arme: with strange raynes, hayles, and showres were they persecuted that they could not auoyde, and through fyre were they consumed.

17 For it was a woonderous thing that fire might do more then water which quencheth al thinges: but the worlde is the auenger of the ryghteous.

18 For sometimes was the fyre so tame, that the beastes which were sent to punishe the vngodly brent not, and that because they shoulde see and knowe that they were persecuted with the punishment of God,

Exod.16.14 20 In steede whereof, thou hast fedde thine owne people with angels foode, and sent them bread redy from heauen without their labour, * beyng very pleasant and of good taste.

21 For this thy substance vnto thy children declared thy sweetenesse, and seruyng to his appetite that tooke it, tempered it selfe according to his delyre.

23 The fire also forgat his owne strength againe, that the ryghteous might be nourished.

24 For the creature that serueth thee whiche art the maker, is fierce in punishing the vnryghteous, but is easie and gentle to doo good vnto suche as put theyr trust in thee.

25 Therefore did it alter at the same tyme into al fashions, and was obedient vnto thy grace, which is the nurse of all thinges, accordyng to the delyre of them that had neede thereof:

FOr great are thy iudgementes O Lorde, and can not be expressed: therefore men doo erre that wyl not be reformed by thy wysedome.

2 For when the vnryghteous thought to haue thy holy people in subiection, they were bound with the bondes of || darknesse and long night, shut vp vnder roofes, and lay there to escape the eternal prouidence. ||Exod.10.

5 No power of the fyre might gene them lyght, neyther might the cleare flames of the starres lighten the horrible nyght:

6 But there appeared vnto them sodayne fyre only, very dreadful: at the which sight, wherein they sawe nothing throughly, they were so afrayde, that they thought the thing whiche they sawe to be " the moze feareful.

7 ‖ As for the illusions of the magicall Art, they came to nought, and it was a moste shameful reproch of the pryde that they had of theyr owne wisedome.

8 For they that promised to driue away the feares and troubles from the sicke soule, were sycke them selues with feare, worthy to be laughed at.

9 For though no terrible thyng dyd feare them, yet were they afrayde at the beastes which passed by them, and at the hyssyng of the serpentes.

10 In so muche that with trembling, they " sowned, and " sayde they sawe not the ayre, whiche no man yet may escape.

11 For malice is a dreadful thyng that is condemned by his owne wytnesse: and being pressed with conscience, it euer " suspecteth cruel thinges.

12 For feare is nothing els but a " betraying of the succours which reason offreth.

13 And looke howe muche the lesse his hope is within, the greater doth he recount his ignorance of that cause that bryngeth the torment.

14 But they that did endure the night that in deede was intollerable, & that came from the dungeons of intollerable hell, sleepyng the same sleepe, 15 Were sometimes chased with monsterous apparitions, and sometymes they sowned as theyr owne soules had betrayed them: for an hastie feare, and that was not looked for, came vpon them.

16 And thus who so euer was there fallen, he was in prison, but without chaynes.

17 For whether a man had occupyed husbandry, or had ben an heardman, or labourer in the " woods, if he were taken, he suffered " intollerable necessitie.

18 For they were all bounde with one chayne of darkenesse: whether it were a blasing winde, or a sweete song of the byrdes among the thicke branches of the trees, or the vehemencie of hastie running water, 19 Or great noyse of the falling downe of stones, or the runnyng of playing beastes, whiche they sawe not, or the mightie noyse of royng wilde beastes, or " the sounde that answered agayne in the holownesse of mountaynes: these terrible thynges made them sowne for very feare.

20 For al the " earth shined with cleare lyght, and no man was hyndered in his labour.

NEuertheless thy ‖ saintes had a very great light, whose voyce they hearing, and not seeyng theyr figure, for that they suffered not the same thinges, they thought them blessed. ‖ Exo. 10.23

2 And for that they did not hurte them nowe of whom they had ben wronged before, they thanked them, and beseought them pardon of that they had ben enimies.

3 ‖ Therefore thou gauest them a burning pyller of fyre to leade them in the vnknowen way, and the sunne not to hurt them in theyr honourable iourney. ‖ Exod. 13.21 Psal. 77.14.

4 But reason it was that they shoulde leese the light, and be put in the pryson of darknesse, which had kept thy children "shut vp, by whom the vncorrupt light of the lawe was to be geuen vnto the worlde. " or, in bondage.

5 ‖ After when they thought to slay the babes of the saintes, one child being cast out, and preserued to reproue them, thou tookest away the whole multitude of theyr children, and destroyedst them altogether in a mightie water. ‖ Exod. 1.16. and. 2.3.

6 ‖ Of that night were our fathers certified afore, that they knowyng vnto what othes they had geuen credence, might be of good cheare. ‖ Exo. 14.24

7 Thus thy people receiued the health of the ryghteous, but the vngodly were destroyed.

8 For lyke as thou hast " reuenged our enimies, so hast thou promoted vs whom thou hast called. " or, punished.

9 For the ryghteous children of the good men offered secretely, and made a godly law with one consent, that the saintes should in lyke manner, receiue togeather both good and euyl, and that the fathers nowe shoulde first syng prayses.

10 But there was heard a disagreeing voyce of the enimies, and there was a miserable lamentation for children that were bewayled.

11 ‖ The maister and the seruant were punished after one manner: and like as the kyng, so suffered the common people. ‖ Exo. 12.27

12 So they had innumerable that dyed with one kinde of death altogether, neither were the liuing sufficient to bury " the dead: for in the twinckling of an eye the noblest ofspryng of them was destroyed. " or, them.

13 For whereas they would discredite al

chynges by reason of the enchauntmentes, in the destruction of the fyrste borne, they acknowledged that this people was the children of God.

14 For while all thynges were styll in scilence, and when the night was in the middest of her course, thy almightie worde, O Lorde, leapt downe from heauen out of thy royal throne,

15 As a " rough man of warre in the myddest of the lande that was destroyed, 16 And brought thine vnfaigned commaundement as a sharpe sworde, and standing vp, fylled al thinges with death, yea it stoode vpon the earth, and reached vnto the heauen.

17 Then the sightes of the euil dreames vexed them sodainely, and fearefulnesse came vpon them vnawares.

18 Then lay there one here, another there, halfe dead halfe quicke, and shewed the cause of his death.

19 For the visions that vexed them, shewed them these thinges afore, that they myght not be ignorant wherefore they perished.

20 Yea the temptation of death touched the ryghteous also, and " among the multitude in the wyldernesse there was " inlurrection: but thy wrath endured not long.

21 || For the blamelesse man went in al the haste, and tooke the battayle vpon hym, brought forth the weapon of his ministration, euen prayer, and the reconciliation of incense, set him selfe against the wrath, and so brought the miserie to an ende, declaryng thereby that he was thy seruant.

22 For he ouercame not the " multitude with bodyly power or force of weapons: but with the worde he subdued hym that " vexed, alleagyng the othe and couenaunt made vnto the fathers.

23 For when the dead were fallen downe by heapes one vpon another, he stoode in the myddest, " pacified the wrath, & " parted the way that it myght not come to the lyuyng.

24 || And why? in his long garment was al the beautie, and in the foure rowes of the stones was the glory of the fathers grauen, and thy maiestie was wrytten in the " crowne of his head.

25 Vnto these the destroyer gaue place, and was afrayd of them: for it was ynough that they only tasted of the wrath.

1. The death of the Egiptians, and the great ioy of the Hebrues.

AS for the vngodly, the wrath came vpon them without mercy vnto the ende: for he knewe before what shoulde happen vnto them:

2 Howe that when they had consented to let them goe, and had sent them out with great diligence, they woulde repent, and " followe vpon them.

3 || For whiles they were yet mourning and making lamentation by the graues of the dead, they deuised another foolyshnesse, so that they persecuted them in theyr fleeyng, whom they had a cast out afore with prayer.

4 For the " necessitie whiche they had deserued, brought them vnto this ende, and made them forgeat the thynges that had alredy happened, that they might by tormentes fulfyl theyr punishment whiche remayned:

5 And that thy people myght passe a marueilous passage: and these might finde a strange death.

6 For euery creature in his kynde was fashioned agayne of newe, seruyng the peculier offices, as was commaunded them, that thy children myght be kept without hurt:

7 For the cloude ouershadowed theyr tentes, and the dry earth appeared where afore was water: so that in the red sea there was a way without impediment, and the great deepe became a greene feelde:

8 Wherthrough al the people went that were defended with thy hande, seeyng thy marueylous strange woonders.

9 For as the horses, right so they neighed, and leaped like lambes, prayslyng thee (O Lorde) whiche hadst delyuered them.

10 And why? they were yet myndful of the thinges that were done while they dwelt in the strange lande, howe the grounde brought forth flyes in stede of cattel, and howe the riuer scrawled with the multitude of frogges in stede of fyshes.

11 || But at the last they sawe a newe generation of byrdes, what tyme as they were styrred with lust, and desyred delicate meates.

12 For why? the Quayles came vp to them from the sea for theyr comfort: but punishment came vpon the sinners, not without the signes whiche came before to passe by vehemencie of the thicke lyghtnynges: for they suffered worthyly accordyng to theyr wickednesse, because they dealt so churlyshly and with an hate of strangers.

13 For some woulde not receiue " men that came vnto them, and were vnknowen: and some brought the strangers into bon-

14 Not onely so, but if they had ben any where regarded, they could not suffer it: for they entreated strangers very dispitefully.

15 Others that had receiued them with great " solemnitie, when they were admitted into their societie, they afflicted them with greeuous labours.

16 ‖ Therefore were they stricken with blindnesse, like as when they that were couered with lowayne darkenesse at the doores of the ryghteous, sought euery one of them the entrance of his doores.

17 Thus the elementes being changed, agreed among them selues, like as when tunes are changed vppon an instrument of musicke, and yet keepe stil a melodie: which may easyly be perceiued by the sight of the thinges that are come to passe.

18 For the earthly things were turned into wattre: & the thing that before swamme in the water, nowe went vpon the grounde.

19 The fyre hadde power in the water, forgetting his owne vertue: and the water forgat his owne kynde to quenche the fyre.

20 Agayne, thy flames hurted not the fleshe of the corruptible lyuing thinges, though they walked therein, neyther melted they that icye kinde of immortal meate, that was of nature apt to melt.

The ende of the booke of vvysedome.

The booke of Iesus the sonne of Sirach, which is called in Latine Ecclesiasticus.

The prologue of Iesus the sonne of Sirach vnto his booke.

MAN Y and great men haue declared wysedome vnto vs out of the lawe, out of the prophetes, & out of other that folowed them, in the which thynges, Israel ought to be commended, by the reason of doctrine and wisedome: therefore they that haue it, and reade it, shoulde not only them selues be wyse therthrough, but serue other also with teaching and wrytyng. After that my grandfather Iesus had geuen diligent labour to reade the law, the prophetes, and other bookes that were leaft vs of our fathers, and had wel exercised him selfe therein: he purposed also to wrote some thing of wysedome and good manners, to the intent that they which were wyllyng to learne, and to be wyse, might haue the more vnderstandyng, and be the more apt to leade a good conuersation. Wherefore, I exhort you to reeyue it louyngly, to reade it with diligence, and to take it in good worth, though our wordes be not so eloquent as the famous oratours. For the thing that is written in the Hebrue tongue, soundeth not so wel when it is translated into another speach: not onely this booke of mine, but also the lawe, the prophetes, and other bookes, sounde farre otherwyse then they doo, when they are spoken in theyr owne language.

Nowe in the thirtie and eight yeere, when I came into Egypt, in the tyme of Ptolome Euerges, and continued there a long season, I founde bookes there leaft ful of great and profounde learnyng. Wherefore, I thought it good and necessary to bestowe my diligence and trauaile to interprete this booke: and considering that I had tyme, I laboured and did my best to perfourme this booke, and to bryng it vnto lyght, that the straungers also which are disposed to learne, might apply them selues vnto good manners, and lyue accordyng to the lawe of the Lorde.

The fyrst Chapter.

1. VVysedome commeth of God. 11. A prayse of the feare of God. 29. The meanes to come by vvysedome.

ALL wysdome commeth of GOD the Lorde, and hath been euer with him, and * is before all tyme.

* or, and is with hym for euer.

2 Who hath numbred the sand of ꝑ sea, the droppes of the rayne, & the dayes of * time? Who hath measured the height of heauen, the breadth of the earth, and the deepenesse of the sea?

* or, the worlde.

3 Who hath sought out the grounde of Gods wysedome, which hath been before all thinges?

4 Wysedome hath been created before al thinges, and the vnderstandyng of prudence from euerlastyng.

5 (Gods woord in the height is the wel of wysedome, and the euerlastyng commaundementes are the entrance of her.)

‖ Ro. 11. 34. 6 ‖ Vnto whom hath the roote of wysedome ben declared? or who hath knowen her wit?

7 Vnto whom hath the doctrine of wisedome been discouered and shewed? and who hath vnderstande the manyfolde entrance of her?

8 There is one, euen the highest, the maker of al thinges, the Almightie, the king of power, of whom men ought to stande greatly in awe, whiche sitteth vppon his throne, being a God of dominion.

9 He hath created her through the holy ghost, he hath seene her, numbred her, and measured her.

10 He hath powred her out vpon al his woorkes, and vppon al flesshe, according to his gyft he geueth her richely vnto them that loue him.

11 The feare of the Lorde is woorshipp and triumphe, gladnesse, and a ioyful crowne.

12 The feare of the Lord maketh a merry hart, geueth gladnesse, ioy, and long lyfe.

13 Who so feareth the Lord, it shal goe wel with hym at the last, and in the daye of his death he shalbe blessed.

14 The loue of God is honorable wisedome: looke vnto whom it appeareth, they loue it, for they see what woonderous thynges it dooth.

‖ Pro. 1. 7. Psal. 110. 10. 15 ‖ The feare of the Lorde is the beginning of wisedome, and was made with the faythful in the mothers wombe, it shal goe with the chosen women, and shalbe knowen of the righteous and faythful.

16 ‖ The feare of the Lord is the right gods seruice, 17 That preserueth and iustifieth the hart, and geueth myrth and gladnesse.

18 Who so feareth the Lorde shalbe happy, and when he hath neede of comfort, he shalbe blessed, 19 She hath buylt her euerlasting fundations with men, and is geuen to be with their seede.

20 To feare God is the wysedome that maketh rich, and bringeth al good with her.

21 She fylleth the whole house with her gyftes, & the garners with her treasure.

22 The feare of the Lorde is the crowne of wysedome, and geueth plenteous peace and health: he hath seene her, and numbred her: both these are the gyftes of God.

23 Knowledge and vnderstandyng of wysedome hath he powred out as rayne, and them that held her fast hath he brought vnto honour.

24 The feare of the Lorde is the root of wysedome, and her branches are long lyfe.

25 In the treasures of wysedome is vnderstandyng and deuotion of knowledge, but wysedome is abhorred of sinners.

26 The feare of the Lorde driueth out sinne, and when she is present, she driueth away anger.

27 For he that is without feare can not be made righteous, and his wylful boldenesse is his owne destruction.

28 A patient man wyl suffer vnto the time, and then shal he haue the reward of ioy.

29 A good vnderstanding wil hide his woordes for a tyme, and many mens lippes shal speake of his wysedome.

30 In the treasures of wysedome is the declaration of doctrine: but the sinner abhorreth the woorshipp of God.

31 My sonne, if thou desyre wysedome, keepe the commaundement, and God shall geue her vnto thee.

32 For the feare of the Lorde is wysedome and nurture: he hath pleasure in fayth and louyng meekenesse, and he shall fyll the treasures thereof.

33 Be not obstinate and vnfaythful to the feare of the Lorde, and come not vnto hym with a double hart.

34 Be not an hypocrite in the sight of men, and take good heed what thou speakest.

35 Exalt not thee selfe, lest thou happen to fal, and bring thy soule to dishonour and so discouer thy secretes, and cast thee

downe

bowne in the myddest of the congregation, because thou wouldest not receiue the feare of God, and because thy hart is full of faignednesse and deceite.

¶ The. ii. Chapter.

1. He exhorteth the seruantes of god to righteousnesse, loue, understandyng and patience, 11. To trust in the Lorde. 13. A curse vppon them that are faynt harted and impatient.

Matth. 4. 1. 1. Tim. 3. 12. Act. 4. 12.

MY sonne, yf ||thou wylt come into the seruice of God, stande fast in righteousnesse and feare, and arme thy soule to temptation.

2 Settle thine hart, and be pacient, bowe downe thyne eare, receiue the woordes of vnderstandyng, and shrinke not away when thou art assaulted.

3 Holde thee fast vpon God, ioyne thee selfe vnto hym: and suffer, that thy lyfe may encrease at the last.

4 Whatsoeuer happeneth vnto thee, receiue it: suffer in heauinesse, and be patient in thy trouble.

Ecclus. 3. 6. Wisd. 17. 3. 5 ||For like as golde and syluer are tryed in the fyre, euen so are acceptable men in the furnace of aduersitie.

6 Beleeue in God, and he shall helpe thee: order thy way aryght, and put thy trust in him: hold fast his feare, and growe therin.

7 Ye that feare the lord, take sure hold of his mercy, shrinke not away from him, that ye fal not.

8 Ye that feare the lord, beleeue him, and your rewarde shal not be emptie.

That is, hope for good things, and trust to haue the reward of euerlasting life, promised to them that with patience continue in his seruice.

9 Ye that feare the Lorde, a trust in good thynges, and mercy shal come vnto you for pleasure.

10 Ye that feare the Lorde, set your loue vpon him, & your harts shalbe lightned.

11 Consyder the old generations of men (O ye children) and marke them well: was there euer any one confounded that put his trust in the Lorde? who euer continued in his feare, and was forsaken? or whom dyd he euer despise that called faythfully vppon hym?

Psal. 37. 25. 12 ||For God is gracious and mercyful, he forgeueth sinnes in the time of trouble, and is a defender for all them that seeke him in the trueth.

a double, 13 Wo be vnto them that haue a [a] fearful harte, wicked lyppes, and euyl occupyed handes, and to the sinner that goeth two maner of wayes.

14 Woe be vnto them that are faynt harted, which put not their trust in God, and therfore shall they not be defended of hym.

15 Wo be vnto you that haue lost pacience, forsaken the ryght wayes, & are turned backe into frowarde wayes: what wyll you doo when the Lord shal begyn to visyte you? [a] or, thorow.

16 ||They that feare the Lord, wyl not disobey his woorde: and they that loue hym, wyll keepe his commaundementes. ||Joh. 14. 24.

17 They that feare the Lord, wyl seeke out the thynges that are pleasant vnto hym: and they that loue hym, bee fulfylled with his lawe.

18 They that feare the Lorde, wyl prepare their hartes, and humble their soules in his syght.

19 They that feare the Lord, keepe his commaundementes, and wyll be pacient tyll they see hym selfe, 20 Saying, ||If we doo not repent, we shall fall into the handes of the Lorde, and not into the handes of men. ||2. Sa. 24. 14.

21 For his mercy is as great as hym selfe.

¶ The. iii. Chapter.

1. To our father and mother ought vve to gyue double honour. 10. Of the blessyng and curse of the father and mother.

THe children of wisedome are a congregation of the righteous, and their obeysing is obedience and loue.

2 Heare your fathers iudgement (O my deare children) and doo thereafter, that ye may be safe.

Exo. 20. 6. Deut. 5. 10. 3 ||For the Lorde wyll haue the father honoured of the children: and looke what a mother commaundeth her children to doo, he wyl haue it kept.

4 Who so honoureth his father, his sinnes shalbe forgeuen hym: and he shall absteine from them, and shal haue his dayly desires.

5 And he that honoureth his mother, is like one that geathereth treasure togeather.

6 Who so honoureth his father, shall haue ioy of his owne children: and when he maketh his prayer, he shalbe heard.

7 He that honoureth his father, shall haue a long lyfe: and he that is obedient vnto the Lorde, shal comfort his mother.

8 He that feareth the Lorde, honoureth his father and mother, and dooth them seruice as it were vnto Lordes.

Exo. 20. 12. Deut. 5. 10. 9 ||Honour thy father and mother in deede, in woorde, and in al patience, that thou mayest haue Goddes blessing: and his blessyng shal abyde with thee at the last.

Gen. 27. 27. Deut. 33. 1. 10 ||The blessyng of the father stablisheth the houses of the children: but the mothers curse rooteth out the fundations.

11 Reioyce

11 Reioyce not when thy father is reproued: for it is not honour vnto thee, but a shame.

12 For the worshyp of a mans father, is his owne worshyp: and the reproche of the mother, is the dishonestie of the sonne.

13 My sonne, make much of thy father in his age, and greeue him not as long as he liueth.

14 And if his vnderstanding fayle, haue patience with him, and despise not him in thy strength.

14 For the good deede that thou shewest vnto thy father, shall not be forgotten: and when thou thee selfe wantest, it shalbe rewarded thee: and for thy mothers offence thou shalt be recompenced with good, yea, it shalbe founded for thee in righteousnesse.

16 And in the day of trouble thou shalt be remẽbred: thy sinnes also shal melt away, lyke as the yce in the fayre warme weather.

17 He that forsaketh his father shal come to shame: and he that defieth his mother, is cursed of God.

18 My sonne, perfourme thy woorkes with louyng meeknesse, so shalt thou be loued aboue other men.

19 ‖ The greater thou art, the more humble thee selfe in al things, and thou shalt finde fauour in the sight of God. ‖ Phil.2.3.

20 Many are excellent and of renowme: but the secrets are reuealed vnto the meeke.

21 For great power belongeth only vnto God, and he is honoured of the lowly.

22 ‖ Seeke not out the thynges that are aboue thy capacitie, & search not the grounde of suche thynges as are to mightie for thee. ‖ Deu.25.27. Rom.12.3.

23 But loke what god hath commaunded thee, thinke vppon that alway, and be not curious in many of his woorkes: for it is not needeful for thee to see with thine eyes the thinges that are secrete.

24 Make not too muche search in superfluous thinges, and be not curious in many of his woorkes: for many thynges are shewen vnto thee alredy, whiche be aboue the capacitie of men.

25 The medling with such hath beguiled many a man, & tangled their wittes in vanitie.

26 Thou canst not see without eyes, therfore professe not the thing that thou hast not.

27 An harde hart shall seare euyl at the laste: he that loueth danger, shal perish therin.

28 An hart that goeth two wayes shall not prosper, and he that is froward of hart, wyl euer be woozle and woozle.

29 An obstinate hart shalbe laden with sorowes, and the vngodly sinner wyl heape one sinne vpon another.

30 The counsaile of the proude hath no health, & his footesteppes shalbe plucked vp, for the plant of sinne hath take roote in him.

31 The hart of him that hath vnderstanding, shal perceiue high thinges: and a good eare wyll gladly hearken vnto wysedome.

32 An hart that is wise and hath vnderstanding, wyl absteyne from sinnes, and encrease in the woorkes of righteousnesse.

33 Water quencheth burnyng ‖ fire, and mercy reconcileth sinnes. ‖ Psa.40.2. Dan.4.24. Matth.5.7.

34 God hath respect vnto him that is thankful: he thinketh vpon him agaynst the time to come, so that when he falleth, he shal finde a strong holde.

¶ The.iiii. Chapter.

1. Almes must be doone with gentlenesse. 12. The study of wysedome and her fruite. 20. An exhortation to eschewe euyl, and to doo good.

My ‖ sonne, defraude not the poore of his almes, and turne not away thyne eyes from hym that hath neede. ‖ Deut.15. Tob.4.7. Matth.23.

2 Despise not an hungry soule, and defile not the poore in his necessitie.

3 Greeue not the hart of hym that is helpelesse, and withdrawe not the gyft from the needeful.

4 Refuse not the prayer of one that is in trouble, turne not away thy face from the needie.

5 Cast not thyne eyes aside from the poore for any euyl wyl, that thou geue hym not occasion to speake euyl of thee.

6 For yf he complayne of thee in the bitternesse of his soule, his prayer shalbe heard: euen he that made him shal heare hym.

7 Be curteous vnto the company of the poore, humble thy soule vnto thy elder, and bowe downe thy head to a man of worshyp.

8 Let it not greeue thee to bowe downe thyne eare vnto the poore, & pay thy det, and geue him a freendly answeare, and that with meekenesse. a. A man must of duetie be curteous to the poore, humble to the auncient, bowe downe to the worshipful: shewe his duetie to comfort, to helpe, & defende the innocent & simple folke from the crueltie of the vngodly.

9 Deliuer him that suffereth wrong, from the hand of the oppressour: and be not fayntharted when thou sittest in iudgement.

10 Be mercifull vnto the fatherlesse as a father, and be in steede of an husbande vnto their mother: so shalt thou be an obedient sonne of the highest, and he shall loue thee more then thy mother dooth.

11 Wysedome exalteth her children, receyueth them that seeke her, and wyll goe before them in the way of ryghteousnesse.

12 He that loueth her, loueth lyfe: and they that seke her diligently, shal haue great ioy.

13 They that keepe her, shal inherite glorye: for where she entreth in, there is the blessyng of God.

14 They that honour her, shalbe the seruants of the holy one: and they that loue her, are beloued of God.

15 Who so geueth eare vnto her, shall iudge the heathen: and he that "hath respect vnto her, shal dwel safely.

16 He that beleeueth her, shal haue her in possession, and his generation shal endure.

17 For when he "falleth, she doeth goe with him, and chooseth him among the best: feare, dread, and temptation shall she bryng vpon him, and trye him in her doctrine, tyll she haue so proued him in his thoughtes, that he commit his soule vnto her.

18 Then shall she stablyshe him, bryng the ryght waye vnto him, make him a glad man, shewe him her secretes, and heape vpon him the treasures of knowledge, and vnderstandyng of ryghteousnesse.

19 But if he goe wrong, she shal forsake him, and geue him ouer into the handes of destruction and ruine.

20 ||My sonne, make much of the time, elsehwe the thyng that is euyl:

21 And for thy lyfe shame not to say the trueth: b for there is a shame that bryngeth sinne, & there is a shame that bryngeth worshyp and fauour.

22 Accepte no person after thyne owne wyll, that thou be not confounded to thyne owne decay: Be not ashamed of thy neyghbour in his aduersitie.

23 And keepe not backe thy counsayle when it may doo good, neyther hyde thy wisdome in her beautie.

24 For in the tongue is wysedome knowen, so is vnderstandyng, knowledge, and learnyng, in the talkyng of the wyse, & stedfastnesse in the woorkes of ryghteousnesse.

25 In no wyse speake against the word of trueth, but be ashamed of the lyes of thine ignorance.

26 Shame not to confesse thine errour, and resyst not the course of the ryuer.

27 And submit not thee selfe vnto a foolyshe man, neyther accepte the person of the myghtie.

28 And stryue thou not agaynst the streame: but for ryghteousnesse take paines with all thy soule, and for the trueth stryue thou vnto death, & God shal fyght for thee agaynst thyne enimies.

29 Be not hastie in thy tongue, neyther slacke and negligent in thy woorkes.

30 Be not as a Lion in thyne owne house, destroying thy houshold folkes, and oppressyng them that are vnder thee.

31 Let not thine handes be stretched out to receyue, & shut when thou shouldest geue.

¶ The.v. Chapter.

1. In richesse we maye not put any confidence.
7. The vengeaunce of God ought to be feared, and repentaunce may not be deferred.

TRust not vnto thy rychesse, and say not, Tushe, I ||haue enough for my lyfe, for it shall not helpe in the tyme of vengeaunce and temptation. ||Luk.12.15.

2 Folow not the lust of thine owne hart in thy strength.

3 And say not, Tushe, howe haue I had strength? or who wyll bryng me vnder, because of my woorkes? For doubtlesse GOD shal auenge it.

4 And say not, I haue sinned, and what euyl hath happened me? for the almyghty is a pacient rewarder.

5 Because thy sinne is forgeuen thee, be not therfore without feare, neyther heape one sinne vpon an other.

6 And say not, Tushe, the ||mercy of the Lorde is great, he shal forgeue me my sinnes be they neuer so many: for lyke as he is mercyful, so goeth wrath from him also, and his indignation commeth downe vpon sinners. ||Eccl.21.1.

7 ||Make no tarying to turne vnto the Lorde, and put not of from day to day: for sodaynely shal his wrath come, and in the time of vengeance he shal destroy thee. ||Eccl.16.13

¶ The. vi. Chapter.

1. It is the propertie of a ſinner to be euyl tongued. 6. Of frendſhyp. 33. Deſyre to be taught.

a. For that is againſt the rule of charitie, whiche loueth al, & hateth nothyng but only ſinne.

b. As a Bull teareth in peeces a yong tree with his hornes, ſo thou tru ſtyng in thyne owne wildome, and ſtandyng in thine owne conceyte, becauſe of thy power, or rycheſſe, ſhould deſtroy thee ſelfe.

BE not of a freende an enimie: a for ſuche a man getteth an euyl name, ſhame, and rebuke: and whoſoeuer beareth enuie, & a double tongue, offendeth.

2 Be not proude in the deuice of thyne vnderſtandyng: leſt thy ſoule rent thee as a b Bull:

3 And leſt thy leaues wyther, and thy fruite be deſtroyed, and ſo thou be left as a drye tree in the wyldernelſe.

4 For a wicked ſoule deſtroyeth him that hath it, maketh him to be laughed to ſcorne of his enimies, and bringeth him to the portion of the vngodly.

5 A ſweete worde multiplieth frendes, and pacifieth them that be at variaunce: and a thankefull tongue wyll be plenteous in a good man.

6 Holde frendſhyp with many: neuertheleſſe, haue but one counſellour of a thouſande.

7 If thou getteſt a freende, proue him fyrſt, and be not haſtie to geue him credence.

8 For ſome man is a freend but for his owne turne, and wyll not abyde in the day of trouble.

9 And there is ſome freend that turneth to enmitie, and taketh part agaynſt thee: and yf he knowe any hurt by thee, he telleth it out.

‖ Eccle. 37. 5

12 If thou be brought lowe, he wyl be againſt thee, & wyl be hidden from thy face.

13 Depart from thine enimies, yea and beware of thy freendes.

14 A faithful freend is a ſtrong defence, who ſo findeth ſuch one, findeth a treaſure.

15 A faithfull freend hath no peere, the weyght of golde and ſyluer is not to be compared to the goodneſſe of his fayth.

16 A faythfull freende is a medicine of lyfe and immortalitie, and they that feare the Lorde ſhal fynde him.

17 Who ſo feareth the Lorde, ſhal prouyder with freendes: and as he is him ſelfe, ſo ſhal his freendes be alſo.

18 My ſonne, receyue doctrine from thy youth vp, ſo ſhalt thou fynde wyſedome tyl thou be olde.

19 Goe to her as to one that ploweth and ſoweth, and waite patiently for her good fruites: for thou ſhalt haue but litle labour in her woorke, but thou ſhalt eate of her fruites ryght ſoone.

20 O howe exceedyng ſharpe is wiſdome to vnlearned men: an vnſtedfaſt body wyl not remayne in her.

21 Vnto ſuche ſhe is as it were a touchſtone, and he caſteth her from hym in al the haſte.

22 For wyſedome is with hym but in name, there are but fewe that haue knowledge of her.

23 But with them that knowe her, ſhe abydeth euen vnto the appearyng of God.

24 Geue eare, my ſonne, receyue my doctrine, and refuſe not my counſayle.

28 Seeke after her, and ſhe ſhalbe ſhewed thee: and when thou haſt her, forſake her not.

29 For at the laſt thou ſhalt fynde reſt in her, & that ſhalbe turned to thy great ioy.

30 Then ſhal her fetters be a ſtrong defence for thee, & her yoke a glorious raiment.

31 For there is a golden ornament in her, & her bandes are laces of purple colour.

32 Thou ſhalt put her on as a robe of honour, & ſhalt put her about thee as a crowne of ioy.

33 My ſonne, yf thou wylt take heede, thou ſhalt haue vnderſtanding, and yf thou wylt apply thy mynde, thou ſhalt be wyſe.

34 If thou wylt bowe downe thine eare, thou ſhalt receiue doctrine: and if thou delyte in hearyng, thou ſhalt be wyſe.

‖ Eccle. 6. 35 ‖ Stand with the multitude of ſuch elders as haue vnderſtandyng, and conſent vnto their wyſedome with thyne hart,

5 ||Iustifie not thee selfe before God, for he knoweth the hart: and desire not to be reputed wyse in the presence of the kyng.

6 Make no labour to be made a Iudge, except it were so that thou couldest mightily put downe wickednesse: for if thou shouldest stande in awe of the presence of the mightie, thou shouldest fayle in geuyng sentence.

7 Offende not in the multitude of the citie, & put not thee selfe among the people.

8 ||Bynde not two sinnes togeather: for in one sinne thou shalt not be vnpunished.

10 Be not fayntharted when thou makest thy prayer, neyther slacke in geuyng of almes.

11 Laugh no man to scorne in the heauinesse of his soule, for God (whiche seeth al thynges) is he that can bryng downe, and set vp agayne.

12 ||Accept no leasyng agaynst thy brother, neither do the same againste thy freende.

13 Use not to make any maner of lyer: for the custome thereof is not good.

14 Make not many woordes when thou art among the elders: and when thou prayest make not muche bablyng.

15 Let no labourous workes be tedious vnto thee, neyther the husbandry whiche the almightie hath created.

16 Make not thy boast in the multitude of thy wickednesse: but humble thee selfe euen from thyne hart.

17 And remember that the wrath shal not be long in tarrying, & that the vengeance of the fleshe of the vngodly is a very fyre and woorme.

18 Geue not ouer thy freende for any good, nor thy faithful brother for the best gold.

19 Depart not from a discrete and good woman that is fallen vnto thee for thy portion in the feare of the Lorde: for the gyft of her honestie is aboue golde.

23 If thou hast sonnes, bryng them vp in nurture and learnyng, and holde them in awe from they^r youth vp.

24 If thou haue daughters, keepe their body, and shew not thy face chearefull toward them.

25 Marry thy daughter, and so shalt thou perfourme a weighty matter: but geue her to a man of vnderstandyng.

26 If thou haue a wife after thine owne mynde, forsake her not: but commit not thee selfe vnto the hateful.

27 Honour thy father from thy whole hart: and forgeat not the sorowful trauayle that thy mother had with thee.

28 Remember that thou wast borne through them, & how canst thou recompence thē the things that they haue done for thee?

29 Feare the Lorde with all thy soule, and honour his ministers.

30 Loue thy maker with al thy strength, and forsake not his seruantes.

31 Feare the lord with al thy soule, and honour his prestes: geue them their portion of the first fruites & encrease of the earth, like as it is commaunded thee, and reconcile thee selfe of thy negligence with the litle flocke, geue them the shoulders, and their appointed offerynges, and fyrstlynges.

32 Reache thine hande vnto the poore, that god may blesse thee with plēteousnesse.

33 Be liberal vnto al men liuing: yet let not but doo good euē to them that are a dead.

34 Let not them that weepe be without comfort, but mourne with suche as mourne.

35 Let it not greeue thee to visite the sicke, for that shall make thee to be beloued.

13 The begynnyng of mans pryde, is to fal away from God: and why? his hart is gone from his maker.

14 For pryde is the originall of al sinne: who so taketh hold therof, shalbe fylled with curssinges, and at the last it shall ouerthrowe him: therefore hath the Lorde brought the congregations of the wicked to dishonour, and destroyed them to the ende.

15 GOD hath destroyed the seates of proude princes, and set vp the meeke in their steade.

16 GOD hath wythered the rootes of the proud heathen, and planted the lowly for them.

17 God hath ouerthrowen the landes of the heathen, and destroyed them vnto the ground: he hath caused them to wyther away, he hath brought them to nought, and made the memoriall of them to ceasse from out of the earth.

18 God hath destroyed the name of the proude, and left the name of the humble in mynde.

4 Geue thou vnto ſuche as feare God, and receiue not a ſinner.

5 As for the vngodly and ſinners, he ſhal recompence vengeance vnto them, and keepe them to the day of wrath.

6 Geue thou vnto the good, and receiue not the ſinner, do wel vnto hym that is lowly, but geue not to the vngodly: Let not the bread be geuen him, that he be not mightier then thee ſelfe therein: for ſo ſhalt thou receiue twiſe as muche euill, in al that good that thou doeſt vnto hym.

7 And why? the higheſt hateth ſinners, and ſhal rewarde vengeance to the vngodly.

8 In proſperitie a frende ſhalbe knowen, and in aduerſitie an enimie ſhall not be hyde.

9 For when a man is in wealth, it greeueth his enimies: but in heauineſſe & trouble a mans very frend wil depart from him.

10 Truſt neuer thine enimie: for like as iron ruſteth, ſo doth his wickednеſſe.

11 And though he make muche crouching and kneeling, yet kepe wel thy minde, and beware of him: and thou ſhalt be to him as he that wipeth a glaſſe, and thou ſhalt knowe that al his ruſt hath not ben well wiped away.

12 Set him not by thee, neyther let him ſitte at thy right hande: leſt he turne hym, geat into thy place, take thy roome, and ſeeke thy ſeate, and ſo thou at the laſt remember my woordes, and be pricked at my ſayinges.

13 Binde not two ſinnes togeather: for there ſhal not one be vnpuniſhed.

14 Who wyl haue pitie of the charmer that is ſtinged of the ſerpent, or of al ſuche as come nigh the beaſtes?

15 Euen ſo is it with him that keepeth company with the wycked man, and lappeth him ſelfe in his ſinnes.

16 For a ſeaſon wyl he byde with thee: but if thou ſtumble, he tarpeth not.

17 An enimie is ſweete in his ||lyppes, he can make many woordes, and ſpeake many good thynges: Yea he can weepe with his eyes, but in his hart he imagineth howe to throwe thee into the pytte, and yf he may fynde opportunitie, he wil not be ſatiſfied with blood. ||Iere. 41.6.

18 If aduerſitie come vpon thee, thou ſhalt finde him there firſte: and though he pretende to do thee helpe, yet ſhall he vndermine thee.

19 He ſhall ſhake his head, and clappe his handes ouer thee for very gladneſſe: and while he maketh many woordes, he ſhall diſguiſe his countenance.

¶ The.xiii. Chapter.

1. The companies of the proude and of the riche are to be eſchewed. 15. The loue of GOD. 17. Like do company with theyr like.

WHo ſo toucheth pitche, ſhalbe defiled withal: || and he that is familier with the proud, ſhal clothe him ſelfe with pryde. ||Deut. 7.2.

2 He taketh a burden vpon him, that accompanieth a more honourable man then him ſelfe, therfore keepe no familiaritie with one that is richer then thee ſelfe: How agree the kettle and the pot togeather? for yf the one be ſmytten againſt the other, it ſhalbe broken.

3 The riche dealeth vnryghteouſly, and threatneth withal: but the poore beyng oppreſſed and wrongfully dealt withal, ſuffreth ſcarceneſſe, and geueth fayre woordes. If the riche haue done wrong, yet muſt he be entreated: but yf the poore haue done it, he ſhal ſtrayghtwayes be threatned.

4 If thou be for his profite, he vſeth thee:

but if thou haue nothing, he ſhal forſake thee.

5 As long as thou haſt any thing of thine owne, he ſhalbe a good felowe with thee: yea he ſhal make thee a bare man, and not be ſory for thee.

6 If he haue neede of thee, he ſhall defraude thee, and with a priuie mocke ſhal he put thee in an hope, and geue thee all good wordes, and ſay, What wanteſt thou?

7 Thus ſhal he ſhame thee in his meate, vntyl he haue ſupt thee cleane vp twyſe or thryſe, and at the laſt ſhall he laugh thee to ſcorne: afterwarde when he ſeeth that thou haſt nothing, he ſhal forſake thee, and ſhake his head at thee.

8 Submit thee ſelfe vnto GOD, and wayte vpon his hande.

9 Beware that thou be not deceiued and brought downe in thy ſimpleneſſe: Be not to humble in thy wiſedome, leſt when thou art brought lowe, thou be deceiued thorowe fooliſhneſſe.

10 If thou be called of a mightie man, ablent thee ſelfe, ſo ſhall he call thee to him the more oft.

11 Preaſſe not thou vnto him, that thou be not ſhut out: but goe not thou farre of, leſt he forgeat thee.

12 Withdrawe not thee ſelfe from his ſpeache, but beleeue not his many woordes: for with much communication ſhal he tempt thee, and with a priuie mocke ſhal he queſtion with thee of thy ſecretes.

13 The vnmercyful mynde of his ſhal marke thy wordes, he ſhal not ſpare to do thee hurt, and to put thee in priſon.

14 Beware and take good heede to thee ſelfe, for thou walkeſt in peryl of thy ouerthrowyng: Nowe when thou hearest his wordes, make thee as though thou waſt in a dreame, and wake vp.

15 Loue God all thy life long, and call vpon hym in thy neede.

16 Euery beaſt loueth his lyke: euen ſo let euery man loue his neighbour.

17 Al fleſhe wyl reſort to theyr like, and euery man wyl kepe company with ſuche as he is him ſelfe.

18 But as the wooſſe agreeth with the lambe: ſo doth the vngodly with the ryghteous.

19 a What peace is there betweene Hyena and a dogge? howe can the ryche and the poore agree togeather?

20 The wilde Aſſe is the Lions pray in the wylderneſſe: euen ſo are poore men the meate of the riche.

21 Lyke as the proude may not away with lowlyneſſe: euen ſo doth the riche abhorre the poore.

22 If a riche man fall, his freendes ſet hym vp agayne: but when the poore falleth, his acquayntance forſake hym.

23 If a rich man fal into an errour, he hath many helpers, he ſpeaketh proude wordes, and yet men iuſtifie hym: but if a poore man goe wrong, he is punished, yea though he ſpeake wiſely, yet can it haue no place.

24 When the rich man ſpeaketh, euery body holdeth his tongue, and looke what he ſayth, they praiſe it vnto the cloudes: but yf the poore man ſpeake, they ſay, What felowe is this? and yf he do amiſſe, they ſhall deſtroy hym.

25 Richeſſe are good vnto hym that hath no ſinne in his conſcience: and pouertie is a wicked thing in the mouth of the vngodly.

20 These thinges dooth no hart vnderstande worthily: but he vnderstandeth euery hart.

21 And who vnderstandeth his wayes? no man seeth his stormes, and the most part of his woorkes are secrete.

22 Who wyl declare the woorkes of his righteousnesse? or who shalbe able to abide them? For the couenant is farre from some, and triyng out of men is in the ende.

23 He that is humble of hart, thinketh vpon such things: but an vnwise and erronious man, casteth his minde vnto foolish thinges.

24 My sonne, hearken thou vnto me, and learne vnderstanding, and marke my woordes with thyne hart: I wil geue thee a sure doctrine, and playnely shal I instruct thee.

25 Marke my woordes then in thyne hart: for in righteousnesse of the spirite do I speake of the woonders that GOD hath shewed among his woorkes from the beginning, and in the trueth do I shewe the knowledge of hym.

26 God hath set his woorkes in good order from the beginnyng, and part of them hath he sundred from the other.

27 He hath garnished his woorkes from euerlasting, and their beginninges according to theyr generations: they are not hungry nor weeried in theyr labours, nor ceasse from their officers.

28 None of them hyndred another, neither was any of them disobedient vnto his woordes.

2 He ordereth the worlde with the power of his hande, and al thinges obey his wyl: for he gouerneth al thinges by his power, and diuideth the holy thinges from the prophane.

3 Who shalbe able to expresse the workes of him? who wyl seeke out the grounde of his noble actes?

4 Who shall declare the power of his greatnesse? or who wyl take vpon him to tel out his mercy?

5 As for the woonderous woorkes of the Lorde, there may nothing be taken from them, nothing may be put vnto them, neyther may the grounde of them be founde out.

6 But when a man hath done his best, he must begin againe: and when he thinketh to be come to an ende, he must goe agayne to his labour.

7 What is man? whereto is he worthy? what good or euyl can he do?

‖ Psa. 89. 10 8 ‖ If the number of a mans dayes be almost an hundred yeeres, it is much: and no man hath certaine knowledge of his death.

9 Lyke as the droppes of rayne are vnto the sea, & as a grauel stone is in comparyson of the sande: so are these fewe yeeres to the dayes of euerlasting.

10 Therefore is the Lord pacient with them, and powreth out his mercy vpon them.

11 He saw and perceiued the thoughtes and imaginations of their hart that they were euil, therfore heaped he vp his merciful goodnesse vpon them, and shewed them the way of righteousnesse.

12 The mercy that a man hath, reacheth to his neighbour, but the mercy of GOD is vpon al flesh: He chasteneth, he teacheth and nurtureth: yea euen as a shepheard turneth againe his flocke, so doth he all them that receiue chastenyng, nurture, and doctrine.

13 Merciful is he vnto them that diligently seeke after his iudgementes.

14 My sonne, when thou doest good, make no grudging at it: & whatsoeuer thou geuest, speake no discomfortable wordes.

15 Shal not the deawe coole the heate? euen so is a worde better then a gift.

16 Is not a freendly word a good honest gyft? but a gracious man geueth them both.

17 A foole shal cast a man in the teeth, and that roughly: and a gyft of the nyggard puttech out the eyes.

18 Geat thee righteousnesse before thou come to iudgement, learne before thou speake, and goe to phisicke or euer thou be sicke.

19 Examine and iudge thee selfe before the iudgement come, and so shalt thou fynde grace in the sight of God.

21 Be not let to pay thy dewe in good time, and tarye not to be iustified vnto the death: for the rewarde of God endureth for euer.

22 Before thou prayest, prepare thy soule, and be not as one that tempteth God.

26 A wyse man feareth God in al thinges, and in the dayes of transgression he keepeth him selfe from sinne: but the foole doth not obserue the tyme.

27 A discrete man hath pleasure in wisdome, and he that fyndeth her, maketh much of her.

28 They that haue had vnderstanding, haue dealt wisely in wordes, haue vnderstande the trueth and righteousnesse, and haue sought out wise sentences and iudgementes.

29 The cheefe authoritie of speakyng, is of the Lorde alone: for a mortal man hath but a dead hart.

3 And he that companieth adulterers, shall become an impudent man: mothes and wormes shall haue hym to heritage, yea he shal be set vp to a great example, and his soule shalbe rooted out of the number.

Iohn.3.3.11 4 || He that is rashe to geue credence, is light minded, and dooth agaynst him selfe.

5 Who so reioyceth in wickednesse, shalbe punished: but he that resisteth pleasures, crowneth his owne soule: he that refrayneth his tongue, may lyue with a troublesome man: he that hateth to be reformed, his lyfe shalbe shortened: and he that abhorreth babbling of woordes, quencheth wickednesse.

6 He that offendeth agaynst his owne soule, shal repent it: and he that reioyceth in wyckednesse, shalbe punished.

7 Rehearse not a wicked and churlishe woorde twise, and thou shalt not be hynded.

8 Shewe thy secretes neither to frende nor foe: and if thou hast offended, tel it not out.

9 For he shal hearken vnto thee, and marke thee, and when he fyndeth opportunitie, he shal hate thee, and so shal he be allway about thee.

Eccl.3.27. 10 || If thou hast hearde a woord against thy neyghbour, let it be dead within thee: & be sure thou shalt haue no harme thereby.

11 A foole trauayleth with a woord, like as a woman that is payned with bearyng of a chylde.

12 Lyke as an arrowe shotte in a thygh of flesh, so is a woorde in a fooles harte.

Lu.19.10 Mat.18.19. Luke.18.3. 13 || Tel thy frend his faults, lest he be ignorant, and say, I haue not doone it: or if he haue spoken, that he do it no more.

14 Reproue thy neyghbour, that he keepe his tongue: and if he haue spoken, that he say it no more.

15 Tel thy neyghbour his fault, for oft tymes an offence is made: and geue not credence to euery woorde.

Eccl.14.1. 16 || A man falleth sometime with his tongue, but not with his wyll: for what is he that hath not offended in his tongue?

17 Geue thy neighbour warning before thou threaten him: and geue place vnto the lawe of the Lorde.

18 The feare of the Lorde is the first degree to be receyued of him: and wysdome obteyneth his loue.

19 The knowledge of the commaundementes of the Lorde, is the doctrine of lyfe: and they that obey hym, shall receiue the fruite of immortalitie.

20 The feare of God is all wysedome: and he that is a righteous man keepeth the lawe.

21 If a seruant say vnto his maister, I wyl not doo as it pleaseth thee: though afterwarde he doo it, he shal displease him that nourisheth him.

22 As for the doctrine of wickednesse, it is no wysedome, and the prudence of sinners is no good vnderstandyng: it is but wickednesse and abomination, and a blasphemyng of wysedome.

23 A simple man of smal vnderstanding that feareth GOD, is better then one that hath much wysedome, and transgresseth the lawe of the hyghest.

24 A craftie subtyle man can be wyse, but he is vnryghteous, and with gyftes he wrasteth the open & manyfest lawe: againe, there is that is wyse, and iudgeth righteously.

25 A wicked man can behaue him selfe humbly, and can bucke with his head, and yet is he but a deceyuer within: he hydeth his face, and disguiseth it, and because he should not be knowen, he preuenteth thee, to hurt thee.

26 || And though he be so weake that he can doo thee no harme, yet when he may find opportunitie, he shal doo some euyl. || Mat.6.16.

27 A man may be knowen by his face, and one that hath vnderstandyng may be perceyued by the looke of his countenance.

28 || A mans garment, laughter, and goeing, declare what he is. || Ecc.21.23

The.xx. Chapter.

1. Of correction and repentance. 6. Of the gyft of the wyse man, and of the foole. 23. Of lying.

SOme man reproueth his neighbour ofte times, but not in due season: agayne, some man holdeth his tongue, and he is wyse and discrete.

2 It is much better to geue warnyng and to reproue, then to beare euyl wyl: for he that knowledgeth him selfe openly, shalbe preserued from hurt and destruction.

3 || Lyke as when a gelded man thorough desyre and lust defyleth a mayden: euen so is it with him that vseth violence and vnrighteousnesse in the lawe. || Eccl.30.22

4 O howe good a thing is it, a man that is reproued, to shewe openly his repentaunce:

for so shalt thou escape wylful sinne.

5 Some man keepeth silence, and is found wyse: but he that is not ashamed what he sayth, is hateful.

6 Some man holdeth his tongue, because he hath not understanding of the language: and some man keepeth silence, waytyng a conuenient tyme.

‖ Eccl.32.6. 7 ‖ A wyse man wyl holde his tongue tyl he see opportunitie, but a wanton and vndiscreete body shal regarde no tyme.

8 He that vseth many wordes, shal hurt his owne soule: and he that taketh auctoritie vpon him vnrighteously, shalbe hated.

9 Some man hath oft tymes prosperitie in wicked thinges: agayne, some man geatteth much, and hath harme and losse.

10 There is some gift that is nothing worth: agayne, there is some gyft whose reward is double.

11 There is an humilitie for glories sake, and some commeth to worship from lowe estate.

12 Some man byeth much for a litle price, and must pay for it seuen folde.

‖ Eccle.6.5 13 ‖ A wyse man with his wordes maketh him selfe to be beloued: but the merry tales of fooles shalbe powred out.

14 The gyft of the vnwyse shal do thee no good, nor yet of the enuious: for his importunitie is seuen folde, for he looketh to receyue many thinges for one.

Eccle.18. 1 15 ‖ He shal geue litle, and say he gaue much: he openeth his mouth and crieth out, as it were one that cryed out wyne.

16 To day he lendeth, to morowe asketh he agayne: and such a man is to be hated of God and man.

17 The foole sayth, I haue no frende, I haue no thanke for al my good deedes, yea euen they that eate my breed speake no good of me: O howe oft, and of howe many shal he be laughed to scorne?

18 He taketh a more perylous fall by such wordes, then if he fel vpon the ground: euen so shal the fall of wicked men come hastily.

19 In the mouth of him that is vntaught, are many vncomenient and vnmeete words.

20 A wyse sentence shal not be alowed at the mouth of the foole: for he speaketh not it in due season.

21 Some man sinneth not, because he hath not wherewithal: and in his rest he shalbe stynged.

22 Some man there is that destroyeth his owne soule with shame, & for an vnwise bodies sake destroyeth he it, and with accepting of persons shal he vndoo him selfe.

23 Some man promiseth his frend a gift for very shame: and geatteth an enimie of him for nought.

24 A lye is a wicked shame in a man: yet shal it be euer in the mouth of the vnwyse.

25 A theefe is better then a man that is accustomed to lye: but they both shal haue destruction to heritage.

26 The conditions of lyers are vnhoneste: and their shame is euer with them.

27 ‖ A wyse man shal bryng him selfe to honour with his wordes: and he that hath vnderstandyng, shalbe set by among great men. ‖ Gen.41.44

28 ‖ He that tilleth his lande, shall encrease his heape of corne: he that worketh righteousnes shalbe exalted, and he that pleaseth great men, shal escape much euyl. ‖ Pro.12.11

29 ‖ Rewardes and gifts blind the eies of the wyse, and make hym dumbe that he can not tel men their faultes. ‖ Eccl.23.8.

30 ‖ Wysedome that is hydde, and treasure that is hoorded vp, what profite is in them both? ‖ Ecc.41.18

31 Better is he that keepeth his ignorãce secrete, then a man that hideth his wisdome.

32 The necessary pacience of hym that folowyth the Lord, is better then he that gouerneth his lyfe without the Lorde.

The.xxi.Chapter.

1. Not to continue in sinne. 3. The prayer of the afflicted. 6. To hate to be reproued. 17. The mouth of the vnwyse man. 26. The thought of the foole.

MY sonne, ‖ if thou hast sinned, do it no more: but pray for thy forsinnes, that they may be forgeuen thee. ‖ Ecc.7.6

2 Flee from sinne, euen as from a serpent: for if thou commest to nigh her, she wil bite thee: the teeth thereof are as the teeth of a Lion, to slay the soules of men.

3 The wickednesse of man is as a sharpe two edged swoorde, whiche maketh suche woundes that they can not be healed.

4 Strife and wrongfull dealing shall wast away a mans goodes, and through pride a riche house shalbe brought to nought: so the riches of the proude shalbe rooted out.

5 ‖ The prayer of the poore goeth out of the mouth, and commeth vnto the eares, and his vengeance or defence shal come hastily. ‖ Eccl.3.4 a. with good borowed not payed againe, ro[b]bers, & [th]eues, or [ma]nifestly commyt geatheren[d] stones in [wa]ter to [bu]ild when the [fo]undacion doth so [co]nsume & geale the [wa]ter, that it [ca]n not holde [th]e stones to[ge]ther.

6 Who so hateth to be reformed, it is a token of an vngodly person: but he that feareth God, wyl remember him selfe.

7 A mightie man is knowen a farre of by his tongue: but he that hath vnderstanding, perceyueth that he shal haue a fal.

8 Who so buyldeth his house with other mans coll, is lyke one that geathereth stones to make his graue.

Eccle.16.7. 9 ‖ The congregation of the vngodly is lyke stubble geathered togeather, theyr end is a flambe of fyre.

10 The way of the vngodly is set with stones: but in theyr ende, is hel, darkenesse, and paynes.

11 He that keepeth the lawe, wyl holde fast the vnderstandyng thereof: and the ende of the feare of God, is wysedome and vnderstandyng.

12 He that is not wise, will not be taught in good, but the vnwyse man aboundeth in wickednesse: and where bitternesse is, there is no vnderstandyng.

13 The knowledge of the wyse shal flowe lyke water that runneth ouer: and his counsayle is lyke a pure fountayne of lyfe.

Eccle.33.5. 14 ‖ The hart of a foole is like a broken vessel, he can keepe no wisedome.

15 When a man of vnderstandyng heareth a wyse woorde, he shal commende it, and make muche of it: but yf a voluptuous man heare it, he shal haue no pleasure therin, but cast it behynd his backe.

16 The talking of a foole is lyke an heauie burden by the way: but to heare a wyse man speake, it is pleasure.

17 Where a doubt is in the cõgregation, it is asked at the mouth of the wise, and they shal ponder his woordes in their hartes.

18 Like as is a house that is destroyed, euen so is wisedome vnto a foole: As for the knowledge of the vnwyse, it is but darke woordes.

19 Doctrine is vnto hym that hath no vnderstanding, euen as fetters about his feet, and like manicles vpon his right hande.

Eccl.19.17 20 ‖ A foole lyfteth vp his voyce with laughter: but a wyse man shal scarse laugh secretly.

21 Learnyng is vnto a wyse man a iewel of golde, and lyke an armelet vppon his ryght arme.

22 A foolishe mans foote is soone in his neighbours house: but one that hath experience, shalbe ashamed at the person of the mightie.

23 A foole wyl peepe in at the wyndow into the house: but he that is wel nurtured wyl stande without.

24 A foolishe man standeth hearkenyng at the doore: but he that is wyse wilbe ashamed.

25 The lyppes of the vnwyse wyl be tellyng foolishe thynges: but the woordes of such as haue vnderstandyng, shalbe weighed in the ballance.

26 The hart of fooles is in theyr mouth: but the mouth of the wise is in his hart.

27 When the vngodly curseth the blasphemer, he curseth his owne soule. b

28 ‖ A priuie accuser of other men, shall defile his owne soule, and be hated of euery man: but he that keepeth his tongue and is discreete, shal come to honour.

b. For while he curseth an other, he dooth the same thing, and so curseth hym selfe. ‖ Eccl.28.19

¶ The.xxii. Chapter.

1. Of the sluggarde. 12. Not to speake muche to a foole. 16. A good conscience feareth not.

A Slouthful body is moulded a of a stone of clay, and euery man wyl speake to his dishonour.

a. That is, like as the idle stone geatheteth mosse and fylth, so doth the slouthful both sickenesse of body, and corruption of mynde, and as euery man doth auoyde the filthinesse of doung, and shaketh it of: so doth he auoid the company of idle loyterers, lest he be accounted like vnto them.

2 A slouthful body is made of the doung of oxen, & euery one that toucheth him, must washe his handes agayne.

3 A misnurtured sonne is the dishonour of the father: a foolishe daughter shalbe litle regarded.

4 A wyse daughter is an heritage vnto her husbande: but she that commeth to dishonestie, bringeth her father in beauinesse.

5 A daughter that is past shame, dishonoureth both her father & her husband: the vngodly shal regard her, but they both shal despice her.

6 A tale out of time, is as musicke in mourning: but wisedome knoweth the seasons of correction and doctrine.

7 If children liue honestly, & haue wherwithal, they shal put away the shame of their parentes:

8 But if children be proude with hautinesse & foolishnesse, they blot out the nobilitie of their kinred.

9 Who so teacheth a foole, is euen as one that gleweth a potsheard togeather, as one that telleth a tale to him that heareth him not, and as one that rayseth a man out of a heauie sleepe.

10 Who so telleth a foole of wisedome, is euen as a man whiche speaketh to one that is asleepe, when he hath tolde his tale, he sayth, What is the matter?

11 ‖ When one dyeth, lamentation is made for him, because the light fayleth hym: euen so, let men mourne ouer a foole, for he wanteth vnderstanding. Make but litle weeping because of the dead, for he is come to rest: but the life of the foole is worse then the death. ‖ Eccl.38.16

12 ‖ Seuen dayes doo men mourne for him that is dead, but the lamentation ouer the vnwyse and vngodly, shoulde endure all the dayes of their life. ‖ Gen.50.10.

13 Talke not muche with a foole, and goe not with him that hath no vnderstandyng: beware of him, lest it turne thee to trauayle, nayle, and thou shalt not be defiled with his sinne: Depart from hym, and thou shalt fynd rest, and shalt not be wearied bache into his foolishenesse.

b. Though lead be heauie, yet may it be borne, but the insolent foole may not be borne as Prouer. 28. Heauie is the stone, & weightie is the sande: but the fury of a foole dooth passe the both.

14 b What is heauier then lead? and what should a foole be called els but lead?

15 Sand, salt, and a lumpe of yron, is easier to beare, then an vnwise, foolishe, and vngodly man.

16 Lyke as the bande of wood bounde togeather in the foundation of the house can not be loosed: euen so is it with the hart that is stablished in the thought of counsel. The thought of the wyse shal neuer feare, nor be offended at any tyme.

17 Lyke as a fayre plastered walle in a wynter house and a hygh buylding may not abide the wynde & storme: euen so is a fooles hart afraide in his imagination, he feareth at euery thyng, and can not endure.

18 A waueryng hart in the imagination of a foole, wyl not euer stande in awe: but he that abideth in the commaundementes of God, wyl alway feare.

‖1 Cor. 14. 14 Heb. 4. 12.

19 ‖He that nyppeth a mans eye, bringeth sooth teares: and he that pyercketh the hart, bryngeth forth the meanyng & thought.

20 Who so casteth a stone at the byrdes, frayeth them away: and he that blasphemeth his freende, breaketh freendshyp.

21 Though thou drewest a swoorde at thy freend, yet dispayre not: for thou mayest come agayne to thy freende.

22 If he speake sourely, feare not: for ye may be agreed togeather agayne, except it be that thou blaspheme hym, disdayne hym, open his secretes, and wound him traiterously: for all suche thynges shall dryue away a freende.

23 Be faythfull vnto thy neighbour in his pouertie, that thou mayest reioyce with hym also in his prosperitie: abyde stedfast vnto him in the time of his trouble, that thou mayest be heyre with hym in his heritage: for pouertie is not alwayes to be contemned, nor the ryche that is foolishe to be hadde in estimation.

24 Lyke as the vapour and smoke goeth out at the ouen before ye fire: euen so euil woordes, rebukes, and threatninges, goe before bloodshedyng.

25 Be not ashamed to defend thy frend, as for me, I wyl not hyde my face from hym though he should doo me harme: who so euer heareth it, shal beware of hym.

Psa. 141. 3. 26 ‖Who shall set a watche before my mouth, and a sure seale vpon my lyppes, that I fal not with them, and that my tongue destroy me not.

¶ The .xxiii. Chapter.

1. A prayer against pryde, lecherye, and glotonie. 23. Many sinnes proceede of adulterie. 27. Of the feare of God.

O Lorde, father and gouernour of my life, leaue me not in theyr imagination and counsell: oh let me not fall in suche reproofe.

2 Who wyl keepe my thought with the scourge, and the doctrine of wysedome in mine hart: that he spare not mine ignorance, that I fal not with them.

3 Lest mine ignorances increase, that mine offences be not many in number, and that my sinnes exceede not: lest I fal before mine enimies, and so myne aduersaries reioyce, whose hope is farre from thy mercy.

4 O Lorde, thou father and God of my life, leaue me not in their imagination: O let me not haue a proud looke, but turne away al voluptuousnesse from me.

5 Take from me the lustes of the body, let not the desires of vncleannesse take holde vpon me.

6 And geue me not ouer into an vnshamefast and obstinate mynde.

7 Heare me, O ye chyldren, I wyl geue you a doctrine how ye shal order your mouth: who so keepeth it, shal not perish through his lyppes, nor be hurt through wicked woorkes.

8 As for the sinner, he shalbe taken in his owne vanitie: he that is proud and cursed shal fal therein.

Ecclus. 23. 9. ‖Let not thy mouth be accustomed to swearing, for in it there are many falles: ‖let not the naming of God be continually in thy mouth, & meddle not with the names of Saintes, for thou shalt not be excused of them. ‖Ecclus. 27. 15

10 For lyke as a seruant whiche is oft punished, can not be without some sore: euen so, what so euer he be that sweareth, and nameth God, shal not be cleane pourged from sinne.

11 A man that vseth muche swearyng, shalbe fylled with wickednesse, & the plague shal neuer goe from his house, if he beguyle his brother, his fault shalbe vpon hym, yf he knowledge not his sinne, he maketh a double offence, and yf he sweare in vayne, he shall not be founde righteous: for his house shalbe full of plagues.

12 The woords of the swearer bryngeth death, God graunt that it be not founde in the house of Iacob: but they that feare God, eschew al suche, and lye not walteryng in sinne, 13 ||Vse not thy mouth to vnhonest & filthie talking, for in it is the woord of sinne.

14 Remember thy father and thy mother when thou art set among great men: lest God forgeat thee in their syght, and lest thou notyng in thy custome, suffer rebuke, & wyshe not to haue been borne, and so curse the day of thy natiuitie.

15 ||The man that is accustomed with the woordes of blasphemie, wyl neuer be reformed al the dayes of his lyfe.

16 To sinne twyse is too much, but the thyrde bryngeth wrath and destruction: An hot stomacke can not be quenched (euen like a burning fyre) til it haue swalowed vp some thyng: euen so an vnchaste man hath no rest in his flesshe, tyl he haue kyndeled a fyre.

17 All bread is sweete to an whoremonger, he wyl not leaue of tyl he dye.

18 ||A man that breaketh wedlocke, and regardeth not his soule, but sayth, Tushe, who seeth me? I am compassed about with darkenesse, the walles couer me, no body seeth me, whom neede I to feare? the hyghest wyl not remember my sinnes:

19 He vnderstandeth not that his eyes see al thynges, for al suche feare of men dryueth away the feare of God from him: for he feareth onely the eyes of men, and consydereth not that the eyes of the Lord are clearer then the sunne, beholdyng all the wayes of men, and the grounde of the deepe, & lookyng euen to mens hartes in secrete places.

20 The Lorde GOD knewe al thinges or euer they were made, and after they be brought to passe also he looketh vppon them al.

21 The same man shalbe openly pumpshed in the streetes of the citie, and shalbe chased abrode lyke a young Horse Foale: and when he thinketh least vpon it, he shalbe taken.

22 Thus shal he be put to shame of euery man, because he wolde not vnderstande the feare of the Lorde: and ||thus shal it goe also with euery wyfe that leaueth her husbande, and getteth inheritance by a strange marriage.

23 ||First, she hath been vnfaythful vnto the lawe of the hyghest: secondly, she hath forsaken her owne husband: thyrdly, she hath played the whoore in aduulterie, and gotten her children by an other man.

24 She shalbe brought out of the congregation, & her children shalbe loked vpon.

25 Her children shall not take roote: and as for fruite, her branches shall bryng foorth none.

26 A shameful reporte shal she leaue behinde her, and her dishonour shall not be put out.

27 And they that remayne, shal knowe that there is nothyng better then the feare of God, and that there is nothyng sweeter then to take hede vnto the commaundementes of the Lorde.

28 A great worshyp is it to folowe the Lord: for long lyfe shalbe receyued of him.

¶ The. xxiii. Chapter.

1. A prayse of vvysedome proceedyng foorth of the mouth of God. 6. Of her vvoorkes and place vvhere she resteth.

WYsedome shall prayse her selfe, and be honoured in God, and reioyce in the myddest of the people.

2 In the congregations of the hyghest shal she open her mouth, and triumphe in the beholdyng of his power.

3 In the myddest of her people shall she be exalted, & woondred at in the holy fulnes.

4 In the multitude of the chosen she shalbe commended, and among suche as be blessed, she shalbe praysed, and shal say,

5 I am come out of the mouth of the hyghest, fyrst borne before al creatures.

6 I caused the lyght that fayleth not to aryse in the heauen, and couered al the earth as a cloude.

7 My dwellyng is aboue in the heigth, and my seate is in the pyller of the cloude.

8 I mee selfe alone haue gone rounde about the compasse of heauen, and pearsed the grounde of the deepe.

9 I haue walked in the floodes of the sea, and haue stande in al landes, my dominion is in euery people, and in euery nation, and with my power haue I troden downe the hartes of al both hygh and lowe.

10 In al these thynges also I sought rest, and a dwellyng in some inheritance.

11 So the creatour of al thynges gaue me a commaundement, and he that made me, appoynted me a tabernacle, and sayd vnto me, Let thy dwellyng be in Jacob, and thine inheritaunce in Israel, and roote thee selfe among my chosen.

12 ||I was created from the begynnyng, and before the worlde, and shal not leaue of vnto the worlde to come: in the holy ||habitation haue I serued before him, & so was I stablyshed in Sion. ||Eccl.24.23. ||Exod.31.3.

13 In the holy ||citie rested I in lyke maner, and in Hierusalem was my power. ||Psal.131.8

15 I am set vp an hygh lyke a Cedar vpon Libanus, and as a Cypers tree vpon the mount Hermon.

16 I am exalted lyke a Palme tree in Cades, and as a Role plant in Iericho, as a fayre Oliue tree in the fielde, and am exalted lyke as a Plantane tree by the water side.

17 I haue geuen a smell in the streetes as the Cynamom and Balme that hath so good a sauour, yea, a sweete odour haue I geuen as it were myrrhe of the best: I haue made my dwellynges to smell as it were of Rosin, Galbanum, of Cloues, Incense, and as Libanus, when it is not hewen downe, and myne odour is as the pure Balme.

a. Terebint, is a hard tree spread abrode with longe boughs, wherout runneth the gumme called a pure turpentyne, which cleanseth the stomacke of putrified humors, and purifieth the eares: so the wysdome of God declared in his scriptures, spreadeth abrode her manifolde branches of knowledge & vnderstanding to purge the inwarde eares and corruption of the soule.

18 As the a Terebint haue I stretched out my branches, and my branches are the branches of honour, and louyng fauour.

19 As the Vine haue I brought foorth fruite of a sweete sauour, and my floures are the fruite of honour and richesse.

20 I am the mother of beautifull loue, of feare, of knowledge, and of holy hope: I geue eternall thynges to all my children to whom God hath commaunded.

21 In me is al grace of life and trueth, in me is al hope of lyfe and vertue.

22 O come vnto me, all ye that be desyrous of me, & fil your selues with my fruites.

23 For my spirite is sweeter then hony, and so is myne inheritance more then the hony combe: the remembrance of me endureth for euermore.

24 They that eate me, shall haue the more hunger: and they that drynke me, shal thyrst the more.

25 Who so hearkneth vnto me, shal not come to confusion, and they that worcke in me, shal not offende: they that take me to be knowen, shal haue euerlastyng lyfe.

26 All these thynges are the booke of lyfe, the couenant of the highest, & the knowledge of the trueth.

‖ Exod. 20. 1. 27 Moses commaunded the law in the preceptes of ryghteousnesse for an ‖ heritage vnto the house of Iacob, and committed the promyse vnto Israel.

34 For her thought is fuller then the sea, and her counsaile is profounder then the great deepe.

37 I wysedome haue cast out flooddes, I am as a great water brooke out of the ryuer, I am as the ryuer Dorix, and as a water conduite am I come out of the garden of pleasure.

36 I sayde, I wyll water the garden of my young plantes, and fyll the fruite of my bryth: So my water brooke became ryuer-dyng great, and my ryuer approched vnto the sea.

37 For I make doctrine to be vnto all men as lyght as the fayre mornyng, and I shal make it to be euer the clearer.

38 I wyll pearse throughout all the lower parties of the earth, I wyll looke vppon all such as be a sleepe, and lyghten al them that put their trust in the Lorde.

39 I shall yet powre out doctrine lyke as prophecie, and leaue it vnto such as seeke after wysedome, and their generations shal I neuer fayle vnto the holye euerlastyng worlde.

40 ‖ Beholde howe that I haue not laboured for mee selfe onely: but for all them that seeke after the trueth. ‖ Eccl. 33. 18.

¶ The. xxv. Chapter.

1. Of three thynges vvhiche please God, and of three vvhich he hateth. 7. Of nine thynges that be not to be suspect, & of the tenth. 15. Cheefely of the malice of a vvoman.

THree thynges there are that my spirite fauoureth, which be also alowed before God & men: The vnitie of ‖ brethren, the loue of neyghbours, a man ‖ and wyfe that agree wel togeather. ‖ Gen. 13. 8. ‖ Ro. 12. 10. Gen. 2. 24.

2 Three thynges there be whiche my soule hateth, and I vtterly abhorre the lyfe of them: A poore man that is proud, a ryche man that is a lyer, and an olde body that doteth, and is vnchaste.

3 If thou hast geathered nothyng in thy youth, what wylt thou fynd then in thine age?

4 O howe pleasaunt a thyng is it when gray headed men are discreete, and when the elders can geue good counsayle.

5 O howe comely a thyng is wisedome vnto aged men? yea, vnderstanding and counsil to men of honour is a glorious thyng.

6 The crowne of olde men, is to haue muche experience: and the feare of God is their worshyp.

7 There be nine thyngs which I haue iudged in my hart to be happy, & the tenth wyl I tel forth vnto men with my tongue: A man that while he lyueth hath ioy of his children, and seeth the fal of his enimies.

8 ||Wel is hym that dwelleth with an houswyfe of vnderstandyng, and that hath not fallen with his tongue, and that hath not been fayne to serue suche as are vnmeete for hym.

9 Wel is hym that fyndeth a faythful freende: and wel is hym which talketh of wisedome to an eare that heareth him.

10 O how great is he that findeth wisedome & knowledge? Yet is he not aboue hym that feareth the Lorde.

11 The feare of God hath set it selfe aboue al thynges.

12 Blessed is the man vnto whom it is graunted to haue the feare of God: vnto whom shal he be likened that keepeth it fast?

13 The feare of God is the begynning of his loue, and the begynnyng of fayth, is to cleaue fast vnto it.

14 The heauinesse of the hart is all the punishment, and the wickednesse of a woman goeth aboue al.

15 All punishment and plague is nothyng in comparison to the plague of the hart: euen so, al wickednesse is nothing to the wickednesse of a woman.

16 Whatsoeuer happeneth vnto a man, is nothyng in comparison of it that his euyll wyllers doo vnto hym: and all vengeance is nothing to the vengeance of the enimie.

17 There is not a more wicked head then the head of the serpent: and there is no wrath aboue the wrath of a woman.

18 I wyl rather dwell with a ||lion and dragon, then to keepe house with a wicked wyfe.

19 The wickednesse of a woman changeth her face, she shal muffle her countenance as it were a beare, & as a sacke shal she shewe it among the neighbours.

20 Her husband is brought to shame among his neighbours because of her, and when he heareth it, it maketh him to sygh.

21 Al wickednesse is but litle to the wyckednesse of a woman: the portion of the vngodly shal fal vpon her.

22 Lyke as the clymyng vp a sandy way is to the feete of the aged: euen so is a wife ful of woordes to a styl quiet man.

23 ||Looke not too narrowly vpon the beautie of a woman, lest thou be prouoked in lewdnesse towarde her. ||Eccl.42.12 2.king.13.2.

24 The wrath of a woman is dishonour and great confusion: yf a woman beat the maisterie, then is she contrary to her husband.

25 ||A wicked wyfe maketh a sory hart, an heauie countenance, and a dead wound: Weake handes and feeble knees, is a woman that her husband is not the better for. ||Gen.36.

26 Of the woman came the a beginning of sinne, and through her we al are dead.

27 Geue thy water no passage, no not a litle, neither geue a wicked woman her wyl.

28 If she walke not after thy hande, she shal confound thee in the sight of thine enimies: cut her of then from thy flesh, that she doo not alway abuse thee.

a. 1.Tim.2.Adam was not deceyued. But to the Rom.5. he sayth, By one man sin entred into the world. The occasion was offred by the woman, but the sinne was finished by the man consenting thereVRIO.

¶ The.xxvi. Chapter.

3. The prayse of a good vvoman. 6. Of the ielousie and drunkennesse of a vvoman.

HAppy is the man that hath a vertuous wife: for the number of his yeeres shall be double.

2 An honest woman maketh her husbande a ioyful man, and she shal fyl the yeres of his lyfe in peace.

3 A vertuous woman is a noble gyft, which shalbe geuen for a good portion vnto such as feare God.

4 Whether a man be rych or poore, he may haue euer a merry hart, and a cheareful countenance.

5 There be three thinges that my hart feareth, and my face is afrayd of the fourth: treason in a citie, a seditious people, and noysome tongues: al these are heauier then the death.

6 When one woman is ielous ouer another, it bringeth payne and sorow vnto the hart: and a woman that telleth out al things, is a scourge of the tongue.

7 When one hath an euil wife, it is euen as when an vnlike payre of oxen must draw togeather: he that geatteth her, geatteth a scorpion.

8 A drunken woman is a great plague: for she can not couer her owne shame.

9 The whoredome of a woman may be knowen in the pride of her eyes & eye lidde s.

10 ||If thy daughter be not shamefast, holde her straitly, lest she abuse her selfe thorow ouermuche libertie. ||Eccl.42.11

11 Beware of all the dishonestie of her eyes, & marueyle not if she doo against thee.

12 As a wayfaring man that is thirsty, when he hath founde a well, drinketh of euery ry nert water: so wyl she syt downe by euery hedge, and make her selfe common to euery man that passeth by.

13 A louing wife reioyceth her husband, and feedeth his bones with her wysedome.

14 A woman of fewe woordes is a gyft of God: to al nurtured myndes may nothing be compared.

15 An honest and mannerly woman is a gyft aboue other gyftes: & there is no weight to be compared vnto a mynde that can rule it selfe.

16 Like as the sunne when it ariseth is an ornament in the high heauen of the Lord: so is a vertuous wyfe the beautie of her house.

17 Like as the cleare light is vpon the holy candlesticke: so is the beautie of the face vpon an honest body.

18 Like as the golden pyllers are vpon the sockettes of syluer: so are the fayre feete vppon a woman that hath a constant mynde.

19 Perpetuall are the fundations that be layde vpon a whole stony rocke: so are the commaundementes of God vpon the hart of an holy woman.

20 There be two thynges that greeue my hart, and in the thyrd is displeasure come vpon me: When an expert man of warre suffereth scarsenesse and pouertie, when men of vnderstandyng and wysedome are not set by, and when one departeth from rygheousnesse vnto sinne: who so dooth suche, the Lorde hath prepared hym vnto the swoorde.

21 There be two manner of thynges which mee thynke to be harde and perilous: A marchant can not lightly keepe him from wrong, neyther a tauerner hym selfe from sinne.

¶ The.xxvii. Chapter.

3. Of the poore that vvoulde be ryche. 5. The probation of the man that feareth God. 20. The vvicked imagineth euil, vvhiche returneth vpon hym selfe.

‖ 2. Tim. 6. 9 Proue. 23. 4. BEcause of ‖ pouertie haue many one offended: and he that seeketh to be riche, turneth his eyes aside.

2 Like as a nayle in the wall sticketh fast betwixt two stones, euen so dooth sinne sticke betwixt the buyer and the seller.

3 If he holde hym not diligently in the feare of the lord, his house shal soone be ouerthrowen.

4 Lyke as when one sifteth, the fylthynes remaineth in the sine: so remaineth there some vncleane thyng in the thought of man.

5 The ouen proueth the potters vessel: so doth temptation of trouble trye rygheous men.

6 The tree of the fielde is knowen by his fruite: so is the thought of mans harte knowen by his woordes. Ps. 27. 21.

7 Prayse no man, except thou haue heard him, for a man is knowē by his words.

8 If thou folowest righteousnesse, thou shalt geat her, and put her vppon thee as a fayre garment: and thou shalt dwel with her, and she shall defende thee for euer, and in the day of knowledge thou shalt fynde stedfastnesse.

9 The byrdes resort vnto theyr lyke: so dooth the trueth turne vnto them that be occupied withal.

10 The Lion waiteth the pray: so dooth sinne vpon thē that worke vnrighteousnesse.

11 The talking of him that feareth god is nothyng but wysedome: as for a foole, he changeth as the moone.

12 If thou be among the vnderstanding, keepe thy woordes to a conuenient time: but among suche as be wise, speake on hardly.

13 The talkyng of fooles is abomination, and their sport is voluptuousnesse, and misnurture.

14 ‖ Much swearyng maketh the heare to stande vp: and to striue with, such, stoppeth the eares. ‖ Eccle. 13.

15 The strife of the proud is bloodshedyng, and theyr blasphemyng is heauie to beare.

16 Who so ‖ discouereth secrets, leeseth his credence, & findeth no freend after his wil. ‖ Ec. 19. 10 and. 22. 28

17 Loue thy freende, and bynd thee selfe in faythfulnesse with hym: but if thou bewray his secretes, thou shalt not geat hym agayne.

18 For like as the man is that destroyeth his enimie: so is he also that dealeth falsly in the freendship of his neighbour.

19 Lyke as one that letteth a byrde goe out of his hand, can not take her againe, euen so thou, yf thou geue ouer thy freende, thou canst not geat hym agayne.

20 Yea, thou canst not come by him: for he is to farre of: he is vnto thee as a Roe escaped out of the snare, for his soule is wounded.

21 As for woundes they may be bound vp agayne, and an euyl woorde may be reconciled: but who so bewrayeth the secretes of a freende, there is no more hope to be had vnto hym.

22 He that ‖ winketh with the eyes, imagineth some euyl: and he that knoweth hym, wyl let hym alone. ‖ Pro. 10.

25 Who ſo caſteth a ſtone an hygh, it ſhall fall vppon his owne head: and he that ſmyteth with guyle, woundeth him ſelfe.

Pſa.26.27. Eccle.10.8. 26 ‖ Who ſo dyggeth a pyt, ſhall fall therein, & he that layeth a ſtone in his neyghbours way, ſhal ſtumble thereon, and he that layeth a ſnare for an other, ſhalbe taken in it him ſelfe.

¶ The.xxix. Chapter.

1. Howe we ought to lende our money, and do almes. 15. Of a faithfull man answearyng for his freende. 22. Of liberalitie and hospitalitie.

WHo so wil shew mercy, let him lend vnto his neighbour: and he that is able, let him keepe the commaundementes.

2 Lende vnto thy neighbour in tyme of his neede, & pay thou thy neyghbour agayne in due season.

3 Keepe thy worde, and deale faithfully with him: & thou shalt alway find the thing that is necessary for thee.

4 There haue been many, that when a thing was lent them, reckned it to be found, and made them trauayle & labour that had helped them.

5 Whyle they receyue any thyng, they kysse the handes of suche as geue them, and for their neyghbours good, they humble their voyce: but whē they should pay againe, they keepe it backe, and geue euyl wordes, & make many excuses by reason of the time.

6 And though he be able, yet geueth he scarse the halfe agayne, and reckeneth the other to be founde: and yf he withhold not his money, yet hath he an enimie of him, & that vndeserued: he payeth him with cursing and rebuke, and geueth him euyl wordes for his good deede.

7 There be many one whiche are not glad for to lende, not because of euyll, but they feare to loose the thyng that they lende.

8 Yet haue thou pacience with the simple, and withholde not mercy from him.

9 Helpe the poore for the commaundementes sake, and let him not go empty from thee, because of his necessitie.

10 Lose thy money for thy brother and neyghbours sake, & bury it not vnder a stone where it rusteth and corrupteth.

11 Geather thy treasure after the commaundement of the hyghest, and so shall it bryng thee more profyte then golde.

12 ‖ Lay vp thyne almes in the [a] hande of the poore, and it shall keepe thee from all euyll.

13 ‖ A mans almes is as a purse with him, & shal kepe a mans fauour as the apple of an eye: and afterwarde shall it aryse, and pay euery man his reward vpon his head.

14 It shall fyght for thee agaynst thine enimies, better then the shielde of a Gyaxt, or speare of the myghtie.

15 A good honest man is a surety for his neyghbour: but a wicked person letteth him come to shame.

16 Forget not the frendship of thy suretie: for he hath geuen his soule for thee.

17 The vngodlye despyseth the good deede of his suretie.

18 a The wicked wyl not become suretie, and the vnthankful and ignorant leaueth his suretie in danger.

19 Some man promiseth for his neighbour: and when he hath lost his honestie, he shal forsake him.

20 Suretyshyp hath destroyed many a riche man, and remooued them as the waues in the sea, myghty people hath it dryuen away, and caused them to wander in strange countreyes.

21 An vngodlye man transgressyng the commaundement of the Lorde, shal fal into an euyl suretishyp: and though he force him selfe to get out, yet shal he fal into iudgment.

22 Helpe thy neyghbour out after thy power, & beware that thou thee selfe fal not in suche debt.

23 ‖ The cheefe thyng that keepeth thy lyfe, is water, and bread, clothyng, and lodgyng, to couer the shame.

24 Better is it to haue a poore lyuyng in a mans owne house, then delicate fare among the strange.

25 Be it litle or muche that thou hast, hold thee content withal: and thou shalt not be blamed as a vagabounde.

26 For a miserable lyfe is it to go from house to house, and where a man is b frend, he dare not open his mouth.

27 Though one be lodged, and haue meate and drinke, yet shal he be taken as vnworthie, & heare many hytter rough wordes, namely thus,

28 Goe thy way thou stranger, & prepare a table for thee selfe, and feede me also of that thou hast.

29 Geue place thou stranger to an honourable man, my brother commeth into my house: and so telleth him the necessitie of his house.

30 These thynges are heauye to a man that hath vnderstandyng, namely, the forbydyng of the house, and that the lender casteth him in the teeth.

4 Though his father dye, yet is he as though he were not dead: for he hath left one behynde hym that is lyke hym.

5 In his lyfe he sawe hym, and had ioy in hym, and was not sory in his death, neyther was he ashamed before the enimies.

6 For he left behynde hym an auenger against his enimies, and a good doer vnto the frendes.

7 For the lyfe of chyldren he shal bynde the woundes togeather, and his hart is greeued at euery crye.

8 An vntamed horse wyl be harde, and a wanton childe wil be wylful.

9 If thou bring vp thy sonne delicately, he shal make thee afrayde: and yf thou play with him, he shal bring thee to heauinesse.

13 Teache thy childe, and be diligent therein, lest it be to thy shame.

14 Better is the poore being whole and strong, then a man to be rich, and not to haue his health.

15 Health & welfare is aboue al golde, and a whole body aboue al treasure.

16 There is no riches aboue a sound body, and no ioy aboue the ioy of the hart.

18 a The good thinges that are put in a close mouth, are like as when meate is laid vpon the graue.

19 What good doth the offering vnto an idol? for he can neither eate, taste, nor smelt: euen so is he that is chased of the Lorde, and heareth the rewarde of iniquitie.

20 He seeth with his eyes, and groneth like a gelded man that lieth with a virgin, and sigheth.

21 Geue not ouer thy mynd into heauinesse, and vexe not thee selfe in thine owne counsel.

22 The ioy and chearefulnesse of the hart is the life of man, & a mans gladnesse is the prolongyng of his dayes.

23 Loue thine owne soule, and comfort thine hart, as for sorow and heauinesse driue it farre from thee: for heauinesse hath slayne many a man, and bringeth no profite.

24 But he that is vnfaythful in meate, the whole citie ſhall complaine of him: and that is a ſure experience of his infidelitie and wyckednеſſe.

‖Iudit. 13.2 25 ‖Shew not thy valiantneſſe in wine, for wine hath deſtroyed many a man.

26 The fyre proueth the harde yron: euen ſo doth wine prooue the hartes of the proude, when they be drunken.

‖Pſ.104.15 Pro.31.4. 27 Wine ‖ ſoberly dronken, quickeneth the life of man: if thou drinkeſt it meaſurably, thou ſhalt be temperate: what is the lyfe of hym that is ouercome with wine? what taketh away the life? euen death.

28 Wine was made frō the beginning to make men glad, and not for drunkennеſſe: wine meaſurably dronken, is a reioycyng of the ſoule and body: a meaſurable drinking, is health to ſoule and body.

29 But if it be dronken with exceſſe, it maketh bitternеſſe, & ſorowe vnto the minde.

30 Dronkennеſſe filleth the mynd of the fooliſhe with ſhame and ruine, miniſheth the ſtrength, and maketh woundes.

31 ‖Eccl.31. ‖Rebuke not thy neighboure at the wine, and deſpiſe him not in his mirth: geue him no diſpiteful wordes, and preaſſe not vpon hym with contrary ſayinges.

¶ The.xxxii. Chapter.

1. Of the diſcretion and prayſe of the preacher, and of the hearer. 15. Of the feare, faith, and confidence of God.

IF thou be made a ruler, pryde not thee ſelfe therin, but be thou as one of the people: take diligent care for them, and looke wel thereto.

2 And when thou haſt done all thy duetie, ſit thee downe, that thou mayeſt be mery with them, and receiue a crowne of honour.

3 Speake thou that art the elder, for it becommeth thee, but with ſure knowlenge: hynder not muſicke.

4 Speake not where there is no ‖ audience? and powre not foorth wyſedome out of time at an importunitie. ‖Eccl.3.3

5 Lyke as the Carbuncle ſtone ſhyneth that is ſet in golde, ſo doth a ſong garnyſhe the wyne feaſt.

6 And as the Smaragde that is ſet in golde: ſo is the ſweeteneſſe of muſicke by the myrth of wine.

7 Geue eare and be ſtil, and for thy good behauiour thou ſhalt be loued.

8 Thou youngman ſpeake that becommeth thee, & that is profitable, and yet ſcarſe when thou art twiſe aſked.

9 Comprehend much with fewe words, in many thinges be as one that is ignorant: geue eare, and holde thy tongue withall.

10 If thou be among men of hygh authoritie, delyre not to compare thee ſelfe vnto them: and when an elder ſpeaketh, make not thou many wordes therein.

11 Before the thunder, goeth lightning: and before murture and ſhamefaſtneſſe goeth loue and fauour.

12 Stande vp betymes, and be not the laſt: but geat thee home ſoone.

13 And there take thy paſtime and doo what thou wylt: ſo that thou do no euyl, and deſile no man.

14 But for al thinges geue thanks vnto hym that hath made thee, and repleniſhed thee with his goodneſſe.

15 Who ſo feareth the Lorde, wyll receiue his doctrine: and they that geat them to him betimes, ſhal finde grace.

16 He that ſeeketh the lawe, ſhalbe fylled withal: as for him that is but faigned, he wyl be offended thereat.

17 They that feare the Lord, ſhall finde the iudgement: & their righteouſneſſe ſhalbe kyndled kindled as lyght.

18 An vngodly man wyl not be reformed, but can helpe him selfe with the example of others in his purpose.

19 A man of vnderstandyng dispiseth no good counsel: but a wylde and proude body hath no feare, yea euen when he hath dealt rashly with another man: but his owne doynges shalbe his rebuke.

20 My sonne, doo nothing without aduisement: so shal it not repent thee after the deede.

21 Goe not in the way where thou maiest fal, nor where thou maiest stumble agaynst the stones agayne, neyther trust thou to the way that is playne.

22 And beware of thine owne children, and take heede of them that be of thine owne housholde.

23 In all thy woorkes put thy trust in God, from thy whole hart: for that is the keeping of the commaundementes.

24 Who so beleeueth Gods woorde, taketh heede to the commaundementes: and he that putteth his trust in the Lorde, shall want nothing.

1. The deliuerance of him that feareth God. 12. Man is in the hande of God, as the earth is in the hande of the potter.

THere shal no euil happen vnto him that feareth God: but when he is in temptation the Lorde shall deliuer him, and keepe him from euyl:

2 A wyse man hateth not the lawe, but an hypocrite a is as a ship in raging water.

3 A man of vnderstandyng geueth credence vnto the lawe of God, and the lawe is faythful vnto hym.

4 Be sure of the matter, then talke thereof the first wel instruct, then maiest thou geue answeare.

5 The hart of the foolishe is lyke a cart wheele, and his thoughtes runne about lyke the axeltree.

6 b Lyke as a wylde horse that neyeth vnder euery one that sitteth vpon him, so it is with a scorneful frende.

7 Why doth one day excel another, seeing al the daies of ỹ yere come of the sunne?

8 The wysedome of the Lorde hath so parted them a sunder, and so hath he ordeyned the tymes and solemne feastes.

9 Some of them hath he chosen and halowed before other dayes.

10 And al men are made of the ground, and out of the earth of Adam: in the multitude of science hath the Lord sundred them, and made theyr wayes of diuers fashions.

11 Some of them hath he blessed, made much of them, halowed them, and claymed them to him selfe: but some of them hath he cursed, brought them lowe, and put them out of their estate.

12 Lyke as the clay is in the potters hande, and al the ordering therof at his pleasure: so are men also in the hand of him that made them, so that he may geue them as lyketh him best.

13 || Agaynst euyl, is good, and agaynst death, is lyfe: so is the vngodly agaynst such as feare God. || 2. Cor. 6. 14

14 Behold, these are the woorkes of the highest, and there are euen two against two, and one set agaynst another.

15 I am awaked vp last of all, as one that geathereth after in haruest, in the gifts of God, and in his blessyng I am increased, and haue fylled my wine presse lyke a grape geatherer.

16 || Beholde howe I haue not laboured only for mee selfe, but for al such as loue nurture and wysedome. || Eccl. 24. 26

17 Heare me, O ye great men of the people, and hearken with your eares ye rulers of the congregation.

18 Geue not thy sonne and wife, thy brother, and freend, power ouer thee whyle thou lyuest: and geue not away thy substance and good to another, lest it repent thee, and thou be fayne to aske of them agayne.

19 As long as thou lyuest & hast breath, c let no man change thee.

20 For better it is thy children to pray thee, then that thou shouldest be fayne to looke in theyr handes.

21 In all thy woorkes be excellent, that thy honour be neuer stayned.

22 At the time when thou shalt ende thy dayes and finishe thy lyfe, distribute thine inheritances.

23 The fodder, the whyppe, and the burden belongeth vnto the Asse: meate, correction, and woorke vnto the seruant.

24 If thou set thy seruant to labour, thou shalt finde rest: but if thou let him goe idle, he shall seeke libertie.

25 The yoke & the whippe bowe downe the harde necke: but tame thou thy euyl seruant with bondes and correction.

26 Sende him to labour, that he goe not idle: for idlenesse bryngeth much euyl.

27 Set him to woorke, for that belongeth vnto hym, and becommeth him wel.

28 If he be not obedient, binde his feete: but doo not to much vnto him in any wyse, and without discretion doo nothing.

29 || If thou haue a faythfull seruant, let him be vnto thee as thine owne soule: en- || Eccl. 7. 22.

c Let no man vse thee as his seruant, when thou hast committed al thy goodes into his hande.

treat him as a brother, for in blood haſt thou gotten him: yf thou haue a ſeruaunt, holde him as thee ſelfe, for thou haſt neede of him, as of thee ſelfe.

30 If thou entreateſt him euyl, and keepeſt him harde, and makeſt him to be proud, and to runne away from thee, thou canſt not tell what way thou ſhalt ſeeke him.

The.xxxiiii. Chapter.

1. Of dreames, diuinations, and enchauntmentes. 6. We ought to conſute vayne hope, and lyeing. 11. The prayſe of them that feare God.

VAnyple people beguyle them ſelues with vayne and deceptful hope, * and fooles truſt in dreames.

2 Who ſo regardeth dreames, is lyke him that wyl take holde of a ſhadowe, and folowe after the wynde.

3 Euen ſo is it with the appearinges of dreames: before the face, is the likeneſſe of a face.

4 Who can be cleanſed of the vncleane? or what trueth can be ſpoken of a lyer?

5 Soothſaying, witchcraft, ſorcerie, and dreaming, is but vayne: lyke as when a woman trauayleth with childe, and hath many fantaſies in her hart.

6 Where as ſuch viſions come not of God, let not thyne hart vpon them.

7 For dreames haue deceiued many a man, & they failed that put their truſt therin.

8 The lawe ſhalbe fulfilled without lies, and wyſedome is ſufficient to a faythful mouth: what knowledge hath he that is not tryed?

9 A wyſe man that is well inſtruct, vnderſtandeth much: and he that hath good experience, can talke of wyſedome.

10 He that hath no experience, knoweth litle, and he that erreth cauſeth much wickedneſſe: he that is not tryed, what thinges knoweth he? he that hath been deceiued, is ful of ſubtiltie.

11 When I was yet in errour, I learned much alſo: yea I was ſo learned, that I couldе not expreſſe it al, 12 And came oft in peril of death therefore, tyll I was deliuered from it through the grace of God.

13 Nowe I ſee that they whiche feare God haue the ryght ſpirite, for their hope ſtandeth in him that can helpe them: and the eyes of the Lord are on them that loue him.

14 Who ſo feareth the Lorde, ſtandeth in awe of no man, and is not afrayde: for the Lorde is his hope and comfort.

15 Bleſſed is the ſoule of him that feareth the Lord: in whom putteth he his truſt? who is his ſtrength?

16 For the eyes of the Lord haue reſpect vnto them that loue him, he is their mightie protection and ſtrong grounde, a defence for the heate, a refuge for the hot noone day, a ſuccour for ſtumbling, and an helpe for falling.

17 He ſetteth vp the ſoule, and lightneth the eyes, he geueth health, lyfe, and bleſſing.

18 || He that geueth an offering of vnrighteous good, his offeryng is refuſed: and the ſcornefull dealinges of the vnrygh teous pleaſe not God. || Pro.21.27

19 The Lorde is theirs only that patiently abide him in the way of the trueth and of rygh teouſneſſe.

20 The higheſt doth not alowe the giftes of the wycked: and God hath no delight in the offeringes of the vngodly, neyther may ſinne be reconciled in the multitude of oblations. || Pro.15.8

21 Who ſo byngeth an offering out of the goodes of the poore: dooth euen as one that killeth the ſonne before his fathers eies.

22 The breed of the needful is the lyfe of the poore: he that defraudeth him therof, is a man of blood.

23 Who ſo robbeth his neighbour of his liuyng, doth as great ſinne as though he ſlue him to death: he that defraudeth the labourer of his hyre, is a blood ſhedder.

24 When one buildeth and another breaketh downe: what profite haue they then but labour?

25 a When one praieth and another curſeth, whoſe voyce wyl the Lorde heare.

26 He that waſheth him ſelfe becauſe of a dead body, & then toucheth the dead agayne, what doth his waſhing?

27 So is it with a man that faſteth for his ſinnes, and dooth them agayne: who wyl heare his prayer, or what dooth his faſtyng helpe him?

The.xxxv. Chapter.

1. It is vvel done to pray and to doo ſacrifice. 14. The prayer of the fatherleſſe, and of the vvydovve, and of him that humbleth hym ſelfe.

WHo ſo keepeth the lawe, byngeth offerynges penough: he that holdeth faſt the commaundementes, || offereth the ryght healthy offeryng. || Ecc.7.9

2 He that is thankful and recompenceth, offereth fine floure: who ſo is mercyfull and geueth almes, that is the right thanke offeryng.

a When one riche man hauing gotten goodes by bribery, or by craft & falſhed, or ſeruery, or ſimony, or vnthryfty dyng ſeruaunt or labourers wages, and that wyl offer a gyft to God, that may heare his prayer: on the other party the poore which is oppreſſed or defrauded, praieth to God to ſee & iudge his cauſe, whoſe prayer thynke you wyl God moſt cheerfully heare?

4 ||Thou ſhalt not appeare emptie before the Lorde:

5 For all ſuche is done becauſe of the commaundement of God.

6 ||The offering of the righteous maketh the aulter fat, and a ſweete ſmel is it before the higheſt.

7 The offring of the righteous is acceptable vnto God, and ſhal neuer be forgotten.

8 Geue God his honour with a cheareful hart: and kepe not backe the fyrſtlings of thine handes.

9 || In all thy giftes ſhewe a cheareſull countenance, and halowe thy tithes vnto God with gladneſſe.

10 ||Geue vnto god according as he hath enriched and proſpered thee: and loke what thine hande is able, geue with a chereful eye.

11 For the Lord recompenſeth and geueth thee ſeuen times as much againe.

12 || Geue no vnrighteous giftes, for ſuch wil he not receiue, beware of wrong offringes, for the Lorde is a ryghteous iudge, and || regardeth no mans perſon.

13 He accepteth not the perſon of the poore: but he heareth the prayer of the oppreſſed.

14 He deſpiſeth not the deſyre of the fatherleſſe, nor the widdowe when ſhe powreth out her prayer before him.

15 Doth not GOD ſee the teares that runne downe the cheekes of the widdowe? or heareth he not the complaynt ouer ſuche as make her to weepe? For from her cheekes do the teares goe vp vnto heauen, and the Lord whiche heareth them, doth accept them.

16 Who ſo ſerueth God after his pleaſure, ſhalbe accepted: and his prayer reacheth vnto the cloudes.

17 The prayer of hym that humbleth him ſelfe, goeth through the cloudes: tyl ſhe come nigh ſhe wil not be comforted, nor goe her way tyl the higheſt GOD haue reſpect vnto her, geue true ſentence, and perfourme the iudgement.

18 And the Lorde wyll not be ſlacke in comming, nor tary long, tyl he haue ſmitten in ſunder the backes of the vnmercyfull, and auenged him ſelfe of the heathen, tyl he haue taken away the multitude of the cruel, and broken the ſcepter of the vnrighteous, tyl he geue euery man after his workes, and reward them after their doynges, till he haue deliuered his people, maintayned their cauſe, and reioyced them in his mercye.

19 O how fayre a thing is mercy in the time of anguiſhe and trouble? it is like a cloude of rayne that commeth in the tyme of drought.

¶ The.xxxvi. Chapter.

1. A prayer to God in the perſon of all faythfull men. 22. The prayſe of a good woman.

HAue mercy vpon vs, O Lord, thou God of all thinges, haue reſpect vnto vs: ſhewe vs the lyght of thy mercies,

2 And ſende thy feare among the heathen and ſtrangers whiche ſeeke not after thee, that they may knowe that there is no God but thou, and that they may ſhewe thy wonderous workes.

3 ||Lyft vp thine hand ouer the outlandiſhe heathen, that they may learne to knowe thy might and power. ||Ier. 10.25.

4 Like as thou art halowed in vs before them: ſo bring to paſſe that thou mayeſt be magnified alſo in them before vs.

5 That they may know thee, like as we knowe thee: for there is none other God but only thou, O Lorde.

6 Renue the tokens, and change the wonderous workes: ſhewe thyne hand and thy ryght arme gloriouſly.

7 Raple vp thyne indignation, & powre out thy wrath: take away the aduerſary, and ſmyte the enimie.

8 Make the tyme ſhort, remember the couenant, that thy wonderous workes may be prayſed.

9 Let the wrath of the fyre conſume them that liue ſo careleſſe: and let them perythe that do thy people hurt.

10 Smite in ſunder the head of the princes that be our enimies, and ſay, There is none other but we.

11 Geather all the tribes of Iacob togeather agayne, that they may knowe howe that there is none other God but only thou, that they may ſhewe thy wonderous workes: and be thou thy peoples heritage, lyke as from the beginnyng.

12 O Lord haue mercy vpon the people that hath thy name, and vpon ||Iſrael whom thou haſt lykened to a firſt borne ſonne. ||Exod.4.28.

13 O be mercyful vnto Hieruſalem the citie of thy ſanctuarie, the citie of thy reſt.

14 Fyl Sion with thyne vnſpeakeable vertues, and thy people with thy glory.

15 Geue witneſſe vnto thy creature whom thou madeſt from the beginning, and raiſe vp the prophecies that haue ben ſhewed in thy name.

16 Rewarde them that wayte for thee, that thy prophetes may be founde faythful.

the earth may knowe that thou art the Lord the eternal God, which is from euerlaſtyng.

18 The belly deuoureth al meates: yet is one meate better then another.

19 Lyke as the tongue taſteth veneſom ſo doth an hart of vnderſtanding marke falſe woordes.

20 A frowarde hart geueth heauyneſſe: but a man of experience liſteth him vp againe.

21 The woman receiueth euery man: yet is one daughter better then another.

22 A fayre wife reioyceth her husband: and a man loueth nothing better.

23 If there be in her tongue gentleneſſe, meekeneſſe, and wholſome talke: then is not her husbande like other men.

24 He that hath gotten a vertuous woman, hath a goodly poſſeſſion: ſhe is vnto him a helpe, and pyller whereon he reſteth.

25 Where no hedge is, there the goods are ſpoyled: and where no houſwife is, there the frendleſſe mourneth.

26 Like as there is no credence geuen to a robber that goeth from one citie to another: ſo is not the man beleeued that hath no neaſt, and muſt turne in where he may abyde in the night.

1. Howe a man ſhoulde knowe frendes and counſellers, 12. and ſearche the company of an holy man.

EVery frende ſayth, I wyl be frendly vnto him alſo: but there is ſome frende, whiche is only a frende in name.

2 Remayneth not there heauyneſſe vnto death, when a companion and frende is turned to an enimie?

3 O moſt wycked preſumption: from whence art thou ſprong vp to couer the earth with falſhood and deceyt?

||Eccl. 6.10. 4 ||There is ſome companion which in proſperitie reioyceth with his frende: but in ꝑ time of trouble he taketh part againſt him.

"or, There is ſome companion that helpeth his freende for the bellies ſake, and taketh vp the buckler againſt the enimie.

5 "There is ſome companion that mourneth with his frende for the bellies ſake: but when trouble commeth, he taketh hold of the ſhielde.

6 Forgeat not thy frende in thy mynd, and thinke vpon hym in thy riches.

7 Seeke no counſel at thy kinſmen, and hide thy counſel from ſuche as beare thee no good wyl.

||Eccl. 8.2. and. 9.21. 8 ||Euery counſeller praiſeth his counſel: neuertheleſſe, there is ſome that counſelleth but for his owne profite.

9 Beware of the counſeller, and be aduiſed afore wherto thou wilt vſe him (for he wyll counſel for hym ſelfe) leſt he caſt the lot vpon thee,

10 And ſay vnto thee, Thy way & purpoſe is good: and afterward he ſtand againſt thee, and loke what ſhal become of thee.

11 Aſke no counſell at him that ſuſpecteth thee for an enimie, and hyde thy counſel from ſuche as hate thee: aſke no counſel for religion of him that is without religion, nor for iuſtice, of him that hath no iuſtice: aſke no counſel at a woman, touching her of whō ſhe is ielous, nor at a fearefull and faynt harted body, in matters of warre: or at a marchant, howe deare he wyll cheape thy wares towarde his: or at a buyer, of ſellyng: or at an enuious man, of thankeſgeuyng: or at the vnmercyful, of louyng kyndneſſe: or at an vnhoneſt man, of honeſtie: or at the ſloathful, of woorkyng: or at an hyrelyng whiche hath no houſe, of profite or wealth: or at an idle body, of muche labour: take no ſuche folkes to counſel.

12 But be diligent to ſeeke counſell at a vertuous man that feareth God, ſuch a one as thou knoweſt to be a keeper of the commaundementes, whiche hath a mynde after thine owne minde, and is ſory for thee when thou ſtumbleſt.

13 And holde thy counſel faſt in thyne hart: for there is no man more faythfull to keepe it, then thou thee ſelfe.

14 For a mans mind is ſomtime diſpoſed to tel out more, then ſeuen watchmen that ſit aboue in an high place lookyng about them.

15 And aboue al this pray the higheſt, that he wyll leade thy way in faythfulneſſe and trueth.

16 Before all thy workes, aſke counſel fyrſte: and or euer thou doeſt any thyng, be wel aduiſed.

17 There be foure thinges that declare a changed hart, wherout there ſpringeth euil and good, death and life, and a maiſterfull tongue that bableth muche.

18 Some man is apt and wel inſtructed in many thynges, and yet very vnprofitable vnto him ſelfe.

19 Some man there is that can geue wiſe and prudent counſel, and yet is he hated, and continueth a begger.

20 For that grace is not geuen hym of God to be accepted.

21 Another is robbed of al wiſhome: yet is he wyſe vnto hym ſelfe, and the fruite of vnderſtandyng is cōmendable in his mouth.

22 A wiſe man maketh his people wiſe, and the fruites of his wiſedome fayle not.

23 A wyſe man ſhalbe plenteouſly bleſſed of God: and al they that ſee him, ſhall ſpeake good of hym.

24 The lyfe of man ſtandeth in the number number of the dayes: but the dayes of Iſrael are innumerable.

25 A wyſe man ſhal obtayne faythfulneſſe and credence among his people, and his name ſhalbe perpetual.

26 My ſonne, proue thy ſoule in thee ſelfe, and yf thou ſee any euyl thing, geue it not vnto her.

27 ‖ For all thinges are not profitable for al men, neyther hath euery ſoule pleaſure in euery thing. Luk.6.12

28 ‖ Be not greedie in euery eating, and be not to haſtie vpon al meates. Eccl.31.22

29 For exceſſe of meates bringeth ſickneſſe, and gluttonie commeth at the laſt to an vnmeaſurable heate.

30 Through ſurfet haue many one periſhed: but he that dreteth him ſelfe temperately, prolongeth his lyfe.

1. A Phiſition is commendable. 16. To bury the dead. 24. The wyſedome of him that is learned.

HOnour the Phiſition, honour him with that honour that is due vnto him, becauſe of neceſſitie, for God hath created hym.

2 For of the higheſt commeth medicine, and he ſhal receiue giftes of the king.

3 The wyſedome of the phiſition bringeth him to great worſhip, and in the ſight of the great men of this worlde he ſhalbe honourably taken.

4 The Lorde hath created medicine of the earth: and he that is wyſe wyl not abhorre it.

5 ‖ Was not the bitter water made ſweete with a tree, that men myght learne to knowe the vertue thereof? Exo.15.25. Reu.5.15.

6 The Lord hath geuen men wyſdome and vnderſtandyng, that he might be honoured in his woonderous workes.

7 With ſuch dooth he heale men, and taketh away theyr paynes.

8 Of ſuche dooth the Potheçarie make a confection, yet can no man perfourme all his workes: for of the Lord commeth proſperous wealth ouer al the earth.

11 Geue a ſweete ſauoured offering, and the fine floure for a token of remembrance: make the offeryng fat, as one that geueth the firſt frutes.

12 And geue roome to the Phiſition, for the Lorde hath created hym, let hym not goe from thee, for thou haſt neede of hym.

13 The houre may come, that the ſicke may be helped through them, 26 He ſetteth his hart to make forowes, and is diligent to gyue the kine fodder.

27 So is euery carpenter alſo & workemaiſter that laboureth ſtil night and day: he carueth, graueth, cutteth out, and his deſire is in ſundry cunnyng thynges, his hart imagineth howe he may cunnyngly caſt an image, his diligence alſo and watching perfourmeth the worke.

28 The iron Smith in lyke maner bydeth by his ſtithie, and dooth his diligence to labour the iron: the vapour of the fire burneth his fleſhe, and he muſt fight with the heate of the furnace: ꝑ noyſe of the hammer euer ſoundeth in his eares, and his eyes loke ſtil vpon the thing that he maketh: he hath set his minde thereupon, that he will make out his worke, and therefore he watcheth howe he may set it out, & bring it to an ende.

29 So doth the potter set by his worke: he turneth the wheele about with his feete, he is diligent and careful in al doynges, and maketh his worke in number.

30 He fashioneth the clay with his arme, and with his feete he tempereth it, his hart imagineth howe he may make it pleasant, and his diligence is to cleanse the ouen.

31 Al these hope in their handes, & euery one thinketh to be cunning in his worke.

32 Without these may not the citie be maynteyned, inhabited, nor occupied:

33 Yet come they not high in the congregation, neither sit they vpon the iudgement seates: they vnderstande not the couenant of the lawe, they can not declare equitie and iudgement, they can not synde out the darke sentences.

34 But through them shal the creature of the world be mainteined, their desire concerneth only the worke & labour of cunning.

¶ The.xxxix. Chapter.

1. A wyse man. 16. The woorkes of God. 24. Vnto the good, thinges doo profit: but vnto the euil, euen good thinges are euyl.

HE that applyeth his minde to vnderstande the lawe of God, sooth diligently seeke out the wisdome of them of the olde time, and exerciseth hym selfe in the prophetes.

2 He keepeth the sayinges of famous men, and preaseth to the vnderstandyng of darke sentences of wysedome.

3 He seeketh out the mysterie of secrete sayinges, and exerciseth him selfe therein continually.

4 He dooth seruice among great men, and appeareth before the prince, he goeth into a strange countrey, and trauaileth through it: looke what good or euyl is among men, he proueth and seeketh it out.

5 He purposeth in his hart to resort early vnto the Lorde that made him, and to pray before the highest GOD: he openeth his mouth in prayer, and prayeth for his sinnes.

6 When the great Lorde wyl, he shalbe filled with the spirite of vnderstandyng, that he may then powre out wyse sentences, and geue thankes vnto the Lorde in his prayer.

7 He shal order his counsile, and knowe his knowledge aryght, and geue him vnderstandyng of secret thinges.

8 He shal shewe sooth the science of his learnyng, and reioyce in the couenant of the lawe of the Lorde.

9 The whole congregation shall commende his wysdome, and it shal neuer be put out: the remembrance of him shall neuer be forgotten, and his name shal continue from one generation to another.

10 || His wysedome shalbe spoken of among the people, and the whole congregation shal openly declare his prayse. || Ecc.44.15

11 Whyle he liueth, he hath a greater name then a thousande beside: & after death, the same name remayneth vnto him.

12 Yet wyl I speake of moe men of vnderstandyng, for I am full as the moone.

13 Hearken vnto me ye holy vertuous chyldren, bring forth fruite as the rose that is planted by the brookes of the fielde.

14 And geue ye a sweete smel as incense, florishe as the rose garden, sing a song of prayse, O geue thankes vnto God ouer all his woorkes.

15 Geue magnificence vnto his name, and set him forth in his praise with your lippes, and with musicke and harmonie: yea euen with the song of your lippes, with Harpes and playing, and in geuing thankes vnto him, say after this maner:

16 || Al the woorkes of the Lorde are exceeding good, and al his commaundementes are meete and conuenient in due season. || Gene.1.31 Marke.7.37

17 A man needs not to say, what is that? what is that? for at a tyme conuenient they shall all be sought: at his commaundement the water was as a wall, and at the woorde of his mouth the water stoode stil.

18 In his commaundement is euery thing acceptable and reconciled, and his health can not be minished.

19 The woorkes of all flesh are before him, and there is nothing hyd from his eyes.

20 He seeth from euerlasting to euerlastyng, and there is nothing to wonderful or high vnto him.

21 A man needs not to say then, What is this, or that? for he hath made al thinges to doo good vnto man.

22 His blessing shall runne ouer as the streame, and moysture the earth like a flood of water.

23 Lyke as he maketh the vnrighteous shal his wrath fall vpon the heathen.

24 His wayes are playne and ryght vnto the iust: but the vngodly stumble at them.

25 For the good, are good thinges created from the begynnyng, and euyl thinges for the vngodly.

26 Al thynges necessarye for the lyfe of man, are created from the beginning: water, fire, iron, and salt, meale, wheate, and hony, milke, and wine, oyle and clothyng.

a. The creatures of God are good by creation, but good men vse them to the glory of God, the profite of others, & to their owne necessitie: so the vngodly doo vse them as the good gifte of God, but abuse them eyther to riot & excesse, or els in miserable keeping of them, tempting them for their 27 ‖All these thinges are created for the best to the faythful: but to the vngodly shal all these thynges be turned to hurte and harme.

28 There be spirites that are created for vengeance, & in their rigorousnesse haue they fastened theyr tormentes: in the tyme of the ende they shal powre out theyr strength, and * pacifie the wrath of hym that made them.

29 ‖Fyre, hayle, hunger, and death: all these thynges are created for vengeance.

30 The teeth of wylde noysome beastes, the scorpions, serpentes, and the swoorde, are created also for vengeance, to the destruction of the vngodly.

31 They shalbe gladde to doo his commaundements, and when neede is, they shalbe redy vpon earth: and when theyr houre is come, they shal not ouerpasse the commaundement of the Lorde.

32 Therefore haue I taken a good courage vnto me from the begynnyng, and haue thought to put these thynges in writing, and to leaue them behynde me:

33 ‖All the woorkes of the Lorde are good, and he geueth euery one in due season, and when neede is.

34 So that no man neede not to say, This is woorse then that: for in due season they are al pleasant and good.

35 And therefore prayse the Lorde with whole hart and mouth, and geue thankes vnto his name.

¶ The xl. Chapter.

1. Many miseries light in a mans life. 11. All thynges passe away, but a firme and stable fayth remaineth. 14. Of the blessyng of the righteous, & prerogatiue of the feare of god.

A Great trauayle is created for all men, & an heauie yoke vpon all the sonnes of Adam, from the day that they goe out of theyr mothers wombe, tyl they be buryed in the earth the mother of al thynges.

2 Namely, theyr thoughtes and imaginations, feare of the hart, counsayle, meditations, longing and desiring the day of death:

3 From the highest that sitteth vpon the glorious seate, vnto the lowest & most simple vpon the earth:

4 From hym that is gloriously arayed, and weareth a crowne, vnto him that is but homely and simply clothed.

5 There is nothing but wrath, zeale, fearefulnesse, vnquietnesse, & feare of death, rigorousnesse, anger and, stryfe: and in the night when one shoulde rest and sleepe vpon his bed, the sleepe changeth his vnderstanding and knowledge.

6 A litle or nothing is his rest in the sleepe, alwell as in the day of labour: he feareth, and is disquieted in the vision of his hart, as one that runneth out of a battel.

7 And in the time of health he awaketh, and marueyleth that the feare was nothing.

8 Suche thinges happen vnto al flesh, both man and beast, but seuen folde to the vngodly.

9 ‖Moreouer, death, bloodshedding, strife, and swoorde, oppression, hunger, destruction, and punishment: ‖Eccl.39.35

10 These thynges are al created against the vngodly, ‖and for theyr sakes came the flood also. ‖Gen.7.11. ‖Gen.3.19.

11 ‖All that is of the earth, shal turne to earth agayne, and al waters ebbe agayne into the sea.

12 All bribes and vnrighteousnesse shalbe put away: but faythfulnesse and trueth shal endure for euer.

13 The substance and goodes of the vngodly shalbe dryed vp, and sinke away as a water flood, a and they shall make a sounde lyke a great thunder in the rayne.

14 Lyke as the ryghteous reioyceth when he openeth his hand: so shal the transgressours be fayne, when theyr goodes vanishe and consume away.

15 The children of the vngodly shall not obteyne many branches:

16 And the vncleane rootes vppon the high rockes, shalbe rooted out before the grasse by the water side, and vpon the riuer bankes.

17 Freendlynesse and liberalitie in the increase and blessing of god, is like a paradise and garden of pleasure: suche mercy also and kyndnesse endureth for euer. ‖1.Tim.6. Phil.4.12.

18 ‖To labour and to be content with that a man hath, is a sweete pleasant life: and that is, to fynde a treasure of al treasures.

19 To begeat children and to repayre the citie, maketh a perpetual name, but an honest woman is more worth then they both.

20 Wine and minstrelsie reioyceth the hart: but the loue of wisedome is aboue them both.

21 Piping and harping make a sweete noyse: but a freendly tongue goeth beyonde them both.

22 Thine eye desireth fauour & beautye: but a greene seede time, rather then they both.

23 A freende and companyon come together at opportunitie: but aboue them both is a wyfe that agreeth with her husbande.

24 Brethren and helpers are profitable in tyme of trouble: but almes shal deliuer more then they both.

25 Golde

a. That is, with great tumulte & trouble shal they be dispersed, and scattered abrode like as the roaring thunder.

* Or, cumplish.

1.Tim.4.4

Eccl.44.1

Eccl.40.9.

Gen.1.31.

Gene.1.31 Psalm.7.37

25 Golde and syluer fasten the feete: but a good counsell is more pleasant then they both.

26 Temporall substance and strength lyft vp the mynde: but the feare of the Lord more then they both: the feare of the Lorde wanteth nothyng, and needeth no helpe.

27 The feare of the Lorde is a pleasant garden of blessing, and nothyng so beautiful as it is.

28 My sonne leade not a beggers lyfe: for better it were to dye then to begge.

29 The lyfe of hym that looketh vpon another mans table, is not to be counted for a lyfe, for he defyleth his soule in other mens meate: but a wyse and wel nurtured man wyl beware thereof.

30 Beggyng is sweete in the mouth of the vnshamefast: but in his belly there burneth a fire.

¶ The.xli. Chapter.

1 Of the remembrance of death. 3. Death is not to be feared. 8. A curse vpon them that forsake the lawe of God.

a: Temporal death is bitter to foure sortes of men: one, to infidels that looke for no lyfe after this: second, to thē that set theyr pleasure in their richesse, from whence they now must needes depart: thirde, to them that neuer tasteth of the crosse: fourth, to them that be strong and lusty in body, for that they strongly struggle with death: but sweete vnto the contrary.

* Or, there is no defence for lyfe agaynst the graue.

O Death a howe bitter is the remembrance of thee to a man that leeketh rest and comforte in his substance and rychesse, vnto the man that hath nothyng to vexe hym, and that hath prosperitie in all thynges, yea vnto hym that yet is able to receyue meate?

2 O death, howe acceptable and good is thy iudgement vnto the needefull, and vnto him whose strength fayleth, and that is nowe in his last age, and that in al thynges is full of care & fearfulnesse, vnto him also that is in dispayre, and hath no hope nor patience?

3 Be not thou afrayde of death, remember them that haue been before thee, and that come after thee: this is the iudgement of the Lorde ouer al fleshe.

4 And why wouldest thou be agaynst this pleasure of the hyghest? Whether it be ten, an hundred, or a thousand yeeres, *death asketh not howe long one hath lyued.

5 The chyldren of the vngodly are abominable chyldren, and so are they that keepe companie with the vngodly.

6 The inheritance of vngodly chyldren shal come to nought, and their posteritie shal haue a perpetual shame and confusion.

7 The chyldren complaine of an vngodly father: and why? for his sake they are rebuked and despised.

8 Wo be vnto you, O ye vngodly, which haue forsaken the lawe of the hyghest God: for though ye bee encrease, yet shall you perishe.

9 If ye bee liue, ye shal be accursed: if ye dye, the curse shalbe your portion.

10 ‖ All that is of the earth, shall turne to earth agayne: so goe the vngodly also out of the curse into destruction. ‖ Eccl.40.11

11 Though men mourne for their bodye, yet the ‖ name of the vngodly shalbe put out, for it is nothyng worth. ‖ Pro.22.1

12 Labour to geat thee a good name: for that shall continue surer by thee then a thousande great treasures of golde.

13 A good lyfe hath a number of dayes: but a good name endureth euer.

14 My chyldren keepe wisedome in peace: for wysedome that is hyd, & a treasure that is not seene, what profit is in them both?

15 A man that hideth his foolishnesse, is better then a man that hydeth his wysedome.

16 Therefore be ye turned at my woordes: for it is not good in al thynges and allway to be shamed: b true fayth must proue and measure it.

b. True fayth dooth al thynges in season & oportunitie, when and howe euerye one ought to be ordered. For strong meat & hard bread nourisheth some, & strangleth other: some of hearbe dealet some mans disease, and increaseth some agayne.

17 Be ashamed of whoredome before father and mother: be ashamed to leasing before the prince and men of auctho[r]itie:

18 Of sinne, before the iudge and ruler: of offence, before the congregation and people: of vnrygh[t]eousnesse, before a companion and freende:

19 Of theft, before thy neyghbours: as for the trueth of God and his couenant, be not ashamed thereof: c be ashamed to lye with thyne elbowes vpon the bread, or to be repro[u]ed for geuing or takyng:

20 And of silence, vnto them that salute thee: be ashamed to looke vpon harlottes:

c. Beyng bidden to an other mans table, presume not to the highest place, be not homely that thou lye with thyne elbowes vpon the table ouer thy bread for that is vnmannerly. Luc. xiiii.

21 Be ashamed to turne away thy face from thy kinsman: be ashamed * to take and not to geue:

* Or, to take vnay a gifte from any man.

22 Be ashamed also to looke vpon another mans wyfe, and to make many tryflyng woordes with her mayden, or to stand by her bedde side:

23 Be ashamed to vpbrayde thy freende: when thou geuest any thyng, cast him not in the teeth withall:

24 Or to repeat the matter that thou hast heard, or to disclose the secrete woordes: so shalt thou wel be shamefast, and shalt finde fauour with al men.

¶ The.xli. Chapter.

1. The lawe must be taught. 9. A daughter, 14. A woman, 18. God knoweth al thinges, yea euen the secretes of the hart.

OF these thinges be not ashamed, and ‖ accept no person to offende. Namely, of these thinges be not ashamed ‖ Leu.19.15 Iacob.2.1

2 Of the lawe of God, of the couenant, of iudgement to bryng the vngodly from his vngodlyneſſe vnto ryghteouſneſſe, & to make him a good man,

3 To deale faythfully with thy neyghbour and companion, to diſtribute the heritage vnto the frendes:

4 To be diligent to keepe true meaſure and weyght, to be content whether thou getteſt muche or litle:

5 To deale truely with temporal goods in buying and ſellyng, to bryng vp chyldren with diligence, to correct an euyl ſeruant:

6 To keepe that thyne is from an euyll wyfe, to ſet a locke where many handes are:

7 What thou delyuereſt and geueſt out to be kept, to tell it, and weygh it: to wryte vp al thy outgeuyng and receyuyng:

8 To enfourme the vnlearned and vnwiſe, of the aged that are iudged of ỹ young: yf thou be diligent in theſe thynges, truely thou ſhalt be learned and wyſe, and accepted of al men.

9 The daughter maketh the father to watche ſecretly, and the carefulneſſe that he hath for her taketh away his ſleepe, yea in her youth, leſt ſhe ſhoulde ouergrowe him, and when ſhe hath an huſbande, leſt ſhe ſhoulde be hated:

10 Leſt ſhe ſhoulde be defyled or rauyſhed in her virginitie, or gotten with chylde in her fathers houſe: or when ſhe commeth to the man, leſt ſhe behaue her ſelf not right, or continue vnfruiteful.

Eccl.26.13 11 ‖ If thy daughter be wanton, keepe her ſtraytely, leſt ſhe cauſe thyne enimies to laugh thee to ſcorne, and the whole citie to geue thee an euyll reporte: and ſo thou be layne to beare thy ſhame of euery man, and be confounded before al the people.

Eccl.25.28 12 ‖ Behold not euery bodies beauty, & haue not muche dwellyng among women.

Gen.3.6. 13 For lyke as the wooꝛme and moth commeth out of clothyng: ſo ‖ doeth wickedneſſe come of women.

14 It is better to be with an euyl man, then with a frendely wyfe that pnteth one to ſhame and rebuke.

15 I wyl remember the wooꝛdes of the Lord, & declare the thyng that I haue ſeene: In the wooꝛds of the Lorde are his wooꝛkes.

16 The Sunne ouerlooketh al thynges with his ſhyne, * and al his wooꝛkes are full of the clearenеſſe thereof.

17 Hath not the Lord brought to paſſe, that his ſaintes ſhoulde tell out al his woonderous wooꝛkes whiche the almyghtie Lord hath ſtabliſhed: all thynges endure in his glory.

18 He ſeeketh out the grounde of the deepe, and the hart of men, and he knoweth al their imaginations and wyſedome: for the Lorde knoweth al ſcience, and he looketh into the token of the tyme.

19 He declareth the thynges that are paſt, and for to come, and diſcloſeth thynges that are ſecrete.

20 No thought may eſcape him, neyther may any wooꝛde be hyd from him.

21 He hath garniſhed the hygh excellent wooꝛkes of his wyſedome, & he is from euerlaſtyng to euerlaſtyng: vnto him may nothyng be added, neyther can he be diminiſhed, he hath no neede alſo of any mans counſayle.

22 O how amiable are al his wooꝛkes, and as a ſparke to looke vpon?

23 They lyue al, and endure for euer: and when ſo euer neede is, they are all obedient vnto him.

24 They are all double one agaynſt an other: he hath made nothyng that hath fault or blemyſhe.

25 He hath ſtabliſhed the goods of euery one: a and who may be ſatiſfied with his glory when he ſeeth it?

a. As who ſhould ſay, no man, for whom Dauid ſayth, Pſalm.xvii. I ſhalbe ſatiſfied when the glory appeareth: he ſpeaketh of that glory whiche he deſyreth to obteyne, whiche he yet wanteth is not ſatiſfied: but whē he hath obteyned it, he hath the thyng he doeth deſire, and yet is not weery of it, but delyteth in that ioy which neuer ſhalbe ended, as 1. Pet. 1.

¶ The.xliii. Chapter.

The ſumme of the creation of the vvoorkes of God.

THE glory of the height, is the fayre and cleare firmament, the beautie of the heauen is his glorious clearenеſſe.

2 The Sunne when it appeareth, declareth the day in the goyng out of it, a marueilous wooꝛke of the hygheſt.

3 At noone it burneth the earth, & who may abyde for the heate thereof?

4 ¶ Who ſo keepeth an Ouen when it is hot, three times more doth the Sunne burne vpon the mountaynes: when it breatheth out the fyerie beames & ſhyneth, with the brightneſſe of it, it blyndeth the eyes.

5 Great is the Lorde that made it, and in his cōmaundement he cauſeth it to runne haſtyly.

6 ‖ The Moone alſo in all thynges accordyng to her ſeaſon, is a declaration of the tyme, and a ſigne for the worlde. ‖ Gene.1.16.

7 The ‖ token of the ſolemne feaſt is taken of the moone, a lyght that miniſheth and increaſeth agayne. ‖ Exod.12.2.

8 The Mooneth is called after the Moone, it groweth woonderouſly in her changyng.

9 The armie of heauen alſo is in the height: in the firmament of heauen it geueth a cleare and a glorious ſhyne: this is the clearnes of the ſtarres, the beautiful apparel of heauen, the apparel that the Lorde lyghteneth in the heyght.

of

10 In his holy worke they continue in their order, and not one of them falleth in his watche.

||Gene.9.14. 11 ||Looke vpon the raynbowe, & prayſe him that made it: very beautiful is it in his ſhyne.

||Eſai.40.12 12 He compaſſeth the heauen about with a glorious circle, the || handes of the hyghest haue bended it.

13 Through his commaundement he maketh the ſnowe to fall, and the thunder of his iudgement to ſmyte hatfyly.

14 Through his commaundement the treaſures are opened, and the cloudes flee as the fowles.

15 In his power hath he ſtrengthened the cloudes, and broken the hayleſtones.

Or, mooue. 16 The mountaines " leape at the ſight of him, the wynde bloweth accordyng to his wyll.

17 The ſounde of his thunder beateth the earth, and ſo doo the ſtorme of the north: the whyrle wynde alſo lyghteth downe as a fethered fowle, caſteth out, and ſpreadeth the ſnowe abrode, and as the graſhoppers that deſtroy al, ſo falleth it downe.

18 The eye marueyleth at the beauty of the whytenesſe thereof, and the hart is a-frayde at the rayne of it.

19 He powreth out the froſt vpon earth lyke ſalte, & when it is froſen, it is as ſharpe as the pycke of a thyſtle.

20 When the colde north wynde bloweth, harde Cryſtall commeth of the water: he lyghteth downe vppon all the geatherynges togeather of water, and putteth on the water as a breſtplate.

21 He deuoureth the mountaynes, and burneth the wyldernesſes: and looke what is greene, he putteth it out lyke fyre.

22 The medicine of all theſe is, when a cloude commeth haſtily, and when a deawe commeth vppon the heate, it ſhalbe refreſhed agayne.

23 In his woorde he ſtylleth the wynd, in his counſayle he appeaſeth the deepe, and hath planted Ilandes in it.

24 They that ſayle ouer the ſea, tell of the perylles and harmes thereof, and when we heare it with our eares, we marueyle thereat.

25 For there be ſtrange woonderous woorkes, dyuers maners of nyce beaſtes, & Whale fyſhes.

26 Through him are all thynges ſet in good order and perfourmed, and in his woorde al thynges endure.

27 I ſpeake muche, but I can not ſufficiently atteyne vnto it: for he him ſelfe only is the perfection of al woordes.

28 We ſhould prayſe the Lord after al our power, for he is great in al his woorkes.

29 The Lord is to be || feared, yea very great is he, and marueylous is his power. ||Pſal.96.

30 Prayſe the Lord, and magnifie him as much as ye may, yet doeth he farre excede al prayſe: O magnifie him with all your power & labour earneſtly, yet are ye in no wyſe able ſufficiently to prayſe him.

31 ||Who hath ſeene him, that he might tel vs? Who can magnifie him ſo greately as he is? ||Pſa.106.

32 For there are hyd yet greater thinges then theſe be: as for vs, we haue ſeene but fewe of his woorkes.

33 For the Lord hath made al things, and geuen wyſedome to ſuche as feare God.

¶ The.xliii. Chapter.

1. The prayſe of certayne holy men. 16. Enoch, 17. Noah, 18. Abraham.

LET vs commende the noble famous men, and the generation of our fore elders and fathers.

2 Many more glorious actes haue the Lorde doone in them, and ſhewed his great power euer ſince the beggynnyng.

3 || The noble famous men reigned in their kyngdomes, and bare excellent rule in their wyſedome and vnderſtandyng, they ſhewed the counſel ſhewed in the prophecies: ||Eccl.18.

4 They led the folke through the counſell and wyſedome of the Scribes of the people, wyſe ſentences are founde in their inſtructions:

5 They ſought the ſweeteneſſe and melodie of muſicke, and brought forth the pleſaunt ſongues in ſcripture:

6 They were riche alſo, and could comfort & pacifie thoſe that dwelt with them.

7 All theſe were very noble and honourable men in their generations, and were wel reported of in their times.

8 Theſe haue left a name behind them, ſo that their prayſe ſhall alway be ſpoken of.

9 Afterwarde there were ſome whoſe || remembraunce is gonne, they came to nought and periſhed, as though they had neuer been, and became as though they had neuer been borne, yea and their chyldren alſo with them. ||Gene.7.22.

10 Neuertheleſſe, theſe are louyng men, whoſe righteouſneſſe ſhal neuer be forgotten, but continue by their poſteritie.

11 Their chyldren are an holy good heritage: their ſede endured faſt in ꝑ couenant.

12 For their ſakes ſhal their chyldren & ſeede stede continue for euer, and their prayse shall neuer be put downe.

13 Their bodyes are buryed in peace, but their name liueth for euermore.

14 ‖ The people can speake of their wisedome, and the congregation can talke of their prayse.

15 ‖ Henoch walked right & acceptably before the Lorde, therefore was he translated for an example of amendment to the generations.

16 ‖ Noe was a stedfast & righteous man, & in the time of wrath he became a reconciling: therefore was he left a remnant vnto the earth when the flood came.

17 ‖ An euerlasting couenant was made with him, that al flesh should perish no more with the water.

18 ‖ Abraham was a great father of many people, in glory was there none lyke vnto him.

19 He kept the lawe of the highest, and came into a couenant with him.

20 He set the couenant in his flesh, and when he was proued, he was found faithful.

21 ‖ Therfore swore God vnto him with an othe, that he would blesse al people in his seede, that he would multiply & increase him as the dust of the earth, and to exalte his seede as the starres: yea and that his seede should haue the possession and inheritance of the land, from sea to sea, and from the riuer vnto the borders of the worlde.

22 With Isahac dyd he stablishe the same couenant, for Abrahā his fathers sake: Yea that gratious blessyng and health of all men, & couenant did he stablish with Isahac, and made it rest vpon the head of Jacob.

23 a He knewe him in that he prospered him so wel and richely, and gaue him an heritage, and sundred his portion by it selfe, and parted among the twelue tribes.

24 Merciful men brought he out of him, whiche founde fauour in the sight of al flesh.

¶ The.xlv. Chapter.

1. The prayse of Moses .6. Aaron, and Phinehes.

MOses beloued of God and men, whose remembrance is in high prayse:

2 Him that the Lord made like in the glory of the saintes, and magnified him, so that the enimies stoode in awe of him.

3 Through his wordes he did great wonders: he made him glorious in the sight of kinges, gaue him commaundement before his people, and shewed him glorious power.

4 ‖ He stablished him with faithfulnesse and meekenesse, and chose him out of al men.

5 For he heard his voyce, and he led him in the darke cloude, & there he ‖ gaue him the commaundementes, yea the lawe of life and wisedome: that he might teache Jacob the couenant, and Israel his lawes. ‖ Exo. 19.7.

6 ‖ He chose Aaron his brother also out of the tribe of Leuie, exalted him, and made him suche lyke. ‖ Exod. 4.14.

7 An euerlasting couenant made he with him, and gaue him the priesthood in the people: he made him glorious in beautiful aray, and clothed him with the garment of honour.

8 He put perfect ioy vpon him, & gyded him with strength, he decke him with side clothes and a tunicle, with an ouerbody coate also, and a gyrdle.

9 ‖ Rounde about made he him belles of golde, and that many: that when he went in, the sounde myght be heard, that they myght make a noyse in the sanctuarie, and geue the people warnyng. ‖ Exo. 28.29.

10 The holy garment was wrought and bordered with golde, yelowe silke and purple: and in the brestlap there was a goodly woorke, wherein was fastened lyght and perfectnesse.

11 Vpon the same also there was a woorke fastened and set with costly precious stones, al bound with gold, & this he brought in his ministration: the stones were fastened for a remembraunce, after the number of the twelue tribes of Israel.

12 Upon his miter there was a plate of pure golde, a grauen image of holynesse, a famous and noble woorke, garnished, and pleasant to looke vpon.

13 Before him were there seene no such fayre ornamentes, and these it behoued him alway to vse: there myght none other put them on, but onely his children, and his childrens children perpetually.

14 Dayly perfourned he his burnt offerynges two tymes.

15 ‖ Moses filled a his handes, & annointed him with holy oyle: this was nowe confirmed him with an euerlasting couenant, & to his seede as the dayes of heauen, namely that his children shoulde alway minister before him, and perfourme the office of the priesthood, and wilhe the people good in his name. ‖ Leuit. 8.12

19 This the Lorde sawe, & it displeased him, and in his wrathfull indignation were they consumed: a great woonder did he vpon them, and consumed them with the fyre.

‖ Num.27.8 20 Besides this, he made ‖ Aaron yet more honourable and glorious, he gaue him an heritage, and parted the first fruites vnto him: vnto him specially he appointed ỹ bread of sustenance.

‖ Nu.25.13. 1.Mac.2.26 23 The thirde noble and excellent man is ‖ Phineheş the sonne of Eleazar, whiche pleased the God of Israel, because he had the zeale and feare of the Lorde: for when the people were turned backe, he put him selfe foorth ryght soone, and that with a good wyl, to pacifie the wrath of the Lord toward Israel.

24 Therefore was there a couenant of peace made with hym, that he shoulde be the principal among the righteous in the people, that he and his posteritie shoulde haue the office of the preesthood for euer.

25 Lyke as there was made a couenant with Dauid of the tribe of Juda, that from amõg his sonnes only there should be a king, and that Aaron also and his seede shoulde be an heritage, to gene vs wisedome in our hart, to iudge his people in righteousnesse, that his goodes should not come into forgetfulnesse, and that their honour might endure for euer.

1. The prayse of Iosue. 9. Caleb. 13 Samuel.

MAnly and strong in battayle was Iesus the sonne of Naue, and was the ‖ Iosu.12.7. Num.27.18 Deu.34.9. ‖ Iol.8.3. 2 ‖ O howe great, noble, and excellent was he, when he lyft vp his hande, and drue out his swoorde agaynst the cities.

3 Who stoode so manly before hym? for the Lorde hym selfe brought in the enimies.

4 ‖ Stoode not the sunne styll at his commaundement, and one day was as long as two? ‖ Iol.10.1

5 He called vppon the highest and most myghtie, when the enimies prealled vppon hym on euery syde, and the myghtie Lorde heard hym with the hayle stones.

6 They smote the heathenishe people myghtyly, and in fallyng downe they slue all the aduersaries: so that the Heathen knewe his host, and all his defence, that the Lorde hym selfe fought agaynst them: for he folowed vppon the myghtie men of them.

7 In the ‖ tyme of Moses also, he and Caleb the sonne of Iephune dyd a good woorke, whiche stoode agaynst the enimies, withholde the people from sinne, and stilled the wicked murmuryng. ‖ Num.14.

9 The Lorde ‖ gaue strength also vnto Caleb, whiche remained with hym vnto his age: so that he went vp into the high places of the lande, and his seede conquered the same for an heritage. ‖ Iol.14.

10 That all the children of Israel myght see howe good a thyng it is to be obedient vnto the Lorde.

11 And the iudges or rulers, euery one after his name, whose hart went not a whoorying, nor departed from the Lorde, and that forsooke not the Lorde vnfaythfully, whose remembrance hath a good report.

12 Yea theyr bones florysh out of theyr place, and their names shal neuer be changed: but honour remaineth styll with the children of those holy men.

13 Samuel the prophete, ‖ beloued of the Lord his God, ordeyned a kyng, & annointed the princes ouer the people. ‖ 1.Sa.1

14 In the lawe of the Lorde ruled he, and iudged the congregation, and the Lorde had respect vnto Jacob.

15 The prophete was found diligent in his faithfulnesse: yea and he is knowen faithful in his woordes, because he sawe the God of lyght.

16 ‖ He called vpon the Lord Almighty, when the enimies prealled vppon him on euery side, what tyme as he offered the sucking lambe. ‖ 1.Sa.7

17 And the Lorde thundered from heauen, and made his voyce to be heard with a great noyse.

18 He discomfited the princes of Tyre, and al the rulers of the Philistines.

19 ‖ Before his last end, he made protestation in the syght of the Lorde and his anoynted, that he tooke neyther substaunce nor good of any man, no not so muche as a shoo: and no man myght accuse him.

20 After this he tolde that his end was at hande, and shewed the kyng also his ende and death, and from the earth lyft he vp his voyce in the prophecie, that the vngodly people shoulde perysshe.

1. The prayse of Nathan. 2. Dauid, 13. and Solomon.

AFterward in the tyme of kyng Dauid, there ‖ rose vp a prophete called Nathan.

2 For lyke as the fat is taken awaye from the offeryng: so was Dauid chosen out of the chyldren of Israel.

3 He played with the Lions as with Kydes, and with Beares, lyke as with Lambes of Sheepe.

4 ‖ Slew he not a Gyant when he was yet but young, and tooke away the rebuke from his people, what tyme as he tooke the stone in his hande, and smote downe proude Goliath with the slyng?

5 For he called vpon the hyghest Lord, whiche gaue him strength in his right hand, so that he ouerthrewe the myghtie Gyant in the battayle, that he myght set vp the horne of his people agayne.

6 ‖ So he glorified him in ten thousand, and made him to haue a good reporte in the prayse of the Lorde, that he shoulde weare a crowne of glory.

7 ‖ For he destroyed the enimies on euery syde, rooted out the Philistines his aduersaries, and brake their horne in sunder, lyke as it is broken yet this day.

8 In al his workes he praysed the highest and holyest, and ascribed the honour vnto him: with his whole hart dyd he prayse the Lorde, and loued God that made him.

9 He set ‖ Syngers also before the aulter, and in their tune he made sweete songes, that they myght gene prayses euery day to God with songues.

10 He ordeyned to keepe the holy dayes worshyppfully, and that the solenne feastes through the whole yeere should be honourably holden with prayslyng the name of the Lorde, and with syngyng betymes in the mornyng in the sanctuarie.

11 ‖ The Lorde tooke away his sinnes, and exalted his horne for euer: he gaue him the couenant of the kyngdome, & the throne of worshyp in Israel.

12 After him there rose vp the wyse sonne called Solomon, who by him dwelt in a large possession, and for his sake he droue the enimies away farre of.

13 This ‖ Solomon raigned with peace in his tyme, and he obteyned glory: for God gaue him rest from his enimies on euery syde, that he myght buylde him an house in his name, and prepare the sanctuarie for euer. ‖ 3.Ki.4.21

14 Howe wyse wast thou in thy youth, and fylled with wysedome & vnderstandyng, as it were with a water flood?

15 Thou couerdst and fylledst the whole lande with similitudes, and wyse prudent sentences.

16 Thy name went abrode in the Iles, because of thy peace, thou wast beloued.

17 All lands maruepled at thy songues, prouerbes, similitudes, and at thy interpretations.

18 ‖ And in the name of the Lord God, which is called the God of Israel, thou gatheredst golde as tynne, and thou haddest as muche syluer as lead. ‖ 1.Ki.10.27

19 ‖ Thou wast moued in inordinate loue towarde women, and wast ouercome in affection. ‖ 1.Kin.11.1

20 Thou staynedst thy honour and worshyp, yea thy posteritie defyledst thou also, in bryngyng the wrath of the Lorde vpon thy chyldren, and hast felt sorowe for thy follye.

21 So that thy kyngdome was diuided, ‖ and Ephraim became an vnfaythfull and a rebellious kyngdome. ‖ 1.Ki.12.19

22 ‖ Neuertheles, God forsooke not his mercy: neyther was he vtterly destroyed because of his workes, that he shoulde leaue him no posteritie: as for the seede that came vppon him, whiche he loued, he brought it not vtterly to nought, but gaue yet a remnant vnto Iacob, and a roote vnto Dauid out of him. ‖ 2.Sa.7.15.

23 Thus rested Solomon with his fathers, and out of his seede he left behind him a very foolyshnesse of the people, & suche one as had no vnderstandyng: euen ‖ Roboam, whiche turned away the people through his counsayle, and Ieroboam the sonne of Nabat, ‖ whiche caused Israel to sinne, & shewed Ephraim the way of vngodlynesse. ‖ 1.Ki.12.16 ‖ 1.Ki.12.28

The prayse of Elias, Elizeus, Ezechias, and Esaias.

3.Re.17.3. THen stoode vp || Elias the prophet as a fyre, and his woorde brent lyke a cresset.

3.Ki.17.22 5 || One that was dead thou raisedst vp from death, and in the woorde of the hyghest thou broughtest him out of ỹ graue agayne.

6 Thou hast cast downe kinges, and destroyed them, and the honourable from their seate.

3.Re.19.15 7 Upon the mount || Sina thou heardest the iudgement, & vpon Horeb the iudgement of the vengeaunce:

3.Ki.19.17 8 || Which dyddest annoynt kynges to recompence, and ordeynedst prophetes after thee.

4.Kin.2.11 9 || Thou wast taken vp in the stormе of fyre, in a charret of fyerie horses.

10 Thou wast ordeyned in the reprouynges in tyme, to pacifie the wrath of the Lorde before it raged, to turne the hartes of the fathers vnto the children, and to set vp the tribes of Iacob agayne.

11 Blessed were they that sawe thee, & were garnyshed in loue, for we lyue in lyfe but after death we shal haue no suche name.

4.Kin.2.11 12 || Elias was couered in the stormе, but Elizeus was fylled with his spirite: whyle he lyued, he was afrayde of no prince, and no man myght ouercome him.

4.Re.18.2. 17 || Ezechias made his citie strong, conueyghed water into it, dygged through the stonie rocke with iron, and made vp a wal by the water side.

4.Ki.18.13 18 In his time came || Sennacherib vp, & sent Rabsakes, lift vp his hand against Sion, and defyed them with great pryde.

¶ The.xlix. Chapter.

Of Iosias, Ezechias, Dauid, Ieremie, Ezechiel, Zorobabel, Iesus, Nehemias, Enoch, & Ioseph.

THE remembraunce of || Iosias, is lyke || 4.Ki.22
as when the Apothecarie maketh many 2.Chr.34 precious sweete smellyng thynges together: his remembraunce shalbe sweete as hony in all mouthes, and as the playing of musicke at a banquet of wyne.

2 He was appoynted to turne the people agayne, and to take away all abominations of the vngodly.

3 He directed his hart vnto the Lorde, and in the tyme of the vngodly he set vp the woorshyp of God agayne.

4 Al kynges, except a Dauid, Ezechias, and Iosias, committed wickednesse: for euen the kynges of Iuda also forsooke the lawe of God.

5 For they gaue their horne vnto other, their honour and worshyp also to a strange people.

6 Therefore was the elect citie of the sanctuarie brent with fyre, and the streetes thereof layde desolate and waste in the hande of Ieremie.

7 For they entreated him euyl, b which neuertheless was a prophet, ordeyned from his mothers wombe, that he might roote out, breake of, & destroy: and that he might buylde vp, and plant agayne.

10 And the bones of the twelue prophetes flouriſhed from out of theyr place, for they gaue comfort and conſolation vnto Jacob, and delinered them faythfully.

11 ‖ Howe ſhall we prayſe Zorobabel, which was as a ryng on the ryght hande:

12 So was ‖ Jeſus alſo the ſonne of Joſedec: theſe men in theyr times builded the houſe, and ſet vp the ſanctuarie of the Lorde agayne, which was prepared for euerlaſting worſhyp.

13 And among the elect was ‖ Nehemias, whoſe renowme was great, which ſet vp for vs the walles that were broken downe, made the portes and barres agayne, and builded our houſes a newe.

14 But vpon the earth there is no man created like ‖ Enoch: for he was taken vp from the earth.

15 Neyther was there a lyke man vnto Joſeph, which was lorde of his brethren, and the vpholder of his people: & his bones were couered and kept.

16 Seth & Sem were in great honour among the people, and ſo was Adam aboue all the beaſtes when he was created.

¶ The. l. Chapter.

1. Of Simon the ſonne of Onias. 22. An exhortation to prayſe the Lorde.

SImon the ſonne of ‖ Onias the high Prieſt, whiche in his life ſet vp the houſe agayne, and in his dayes made faſt the temple.

2 The height of the temple alſo was founded of hym, the double buylding, and the high walles of the temple.

3 In his dayes the welles of water flowed out, and were exceedyng ful as the ſea.

4 He tooke care for his people, and delinered them from deſtruction: he kept his citie and made it ſtrong, that it ſhoulde not be beſieged.

5 Howe honourable was his converſation among the people, and when he came out of the houſe couered with the vayle?

6 He gaue light as the morning ſtarre in the middeſt of the cloudes, and as the moone when it is ful:

7 He ſhyned as the ſunne in the temple of God, he is as bryght as the raynebowe in the fayre cloudes,

8 And flouriſheth as the flowres and roſes in the ſpryng of the yere, and as lylies by the riuers of water, like as the branches vpon the mount Libanus in the tyme of ſommer:

9 As a fyre and incenſe that is kindled, lyke as an whole ornament of pure golde ſet with al manner of precious ſtones,

10 And as an Oliue tree that is fruitful, and as a Cypres tree whiche groweth vp an hygh.

11 When he put on the garment of honour, and was clothed with al beautie, when he went to the holy aulter, he made the garment of holyneſſe honourable.

12 When he tooke the portions out of the prieſtes hande, he hym ſelfe ſtoode by the hearth of the aulter, and his brethren rounde about in order, as the branches of Cedar tree vpon the mount Libanus, ſo ſtoode they rounde about hym:

13 And as the branches of the Oliue tree, ſo ſtoode al the ſonnes of Aaron in their glory, & the oblations of the Lorde in theyr handes, before al the congregation of Iſrael.

14 And that he myght ſufficiently perfourme his ſeruice vpon the aulter, and garniſhe the offeryng of the hyghelt God.

15 He ſtretched out his hande, & toke of the drynke offeryng, and powred in of the wine: ſo he powred vpon the bottome of the aulter a good ſmel vnto the highelt prince.

16 Then began the ſonnes of Aaron to ſyng, and to blowe with trumpettes, and to make a great noyſe, for a remembrance and prayſe vnto the Lorde.

17 Then all the people tograther were haſted, and fel downe to the earth vpon theyr faces, to worſhyp the Lorde theyr God, and to geue thankes to the almightie God.

18 They ſong goodly alſo with theyr voyces, ſo that there was a pleaſant noyſe in the great houſe of the Lorde.

19 And the people in theyr prayer beſought the Lorde the highelt, that he would be mercyful, tyl the honour of the Lord were perfourmed, and they had ended theyr miniſtration and ſeruice.

20 Then went he downe, and ſtretched out his handes ouer the whole multitude of the people of Iſrael, that they ſhoulde geue prayſe and thankes out of theyr lyppes vnto the Lord, and to reioyce in his name.

21 He began yet once alſo to pray, that he might openly ſhewe the thankelgeuyng before the highelt, 22 Namely thus, O geue prayſe and thankes al ye vnto the Lord our God, which hath euer done noble and great thinges, whiche hath increaſed our dayes from our mothers wombe, and dealt with vs accordyng to his mercy.

23 That he wyl geue vs the ioyfulneſſe of hart, and peace for ouer tyme in Israel:

24 Which faythfully keepeth his mercy for vs euermore, and alway deliuereth vs in due season.

25 There be two maner of people that I abhorre from my hart, as for the thirde whom I hate, it is no people:

26 They that sitte vpon the mountaine of Samaria, the Philistines, and the foolishe people that dwel in Sichimis.

27 I Iesus, the sonne of Sirach, Eleazarus, of Hierusalem, haue tokened vp these informations and documentes of wysedome and vnderstandyng in this booke, and powred out the wysdome of my hart.

28 Blessed is he that exerciseth him selfe therin: and who so taketh such to hart, shalbe wyse for euer.

29 If he doo these thynges, he shalbe strong in all: for the light of the Lord leadeth him, whiche geueth wisedome to the godly: the Lorde be prayses for euermore, so be it, so be it.

¶ The.li. Chapter.

The prayer of Iesus the sonne of Sirach.

I Wyl thanke thee, O Lord, and kyng, and prayse thee, O God my sauiour: I wyll yeelde prayse vnto thy name.

2 For thou art my defender and helper, and hast preserued my body from destruction, frō the snares of trayterous tongues, and from the lyppes that are occupied with lyes.

3 Thou hast ben my helper from suche as stoode vp agaynst me, and hast deliuered me after the multitude of thy mercye, and for thy holy names sake, from the roring of them that prepared them selues to deuoure me, out of the handes of suche as sought after my lyfe, from the multitude of them that trouble me,

4 And from them that went about to set fyre vppon me on euery syde, so that I am not brent in the middest of the fyre:

5 From the deepe of hell, from an vncleane tongue, from lying wordes, from false accusation to the kyng, and from an vnrygh-teous tongue.

6 My soule shall prayse the Lorde vnto death: for my lyfe drue nigh vnto hel dowonwarde.

7 They compassed me rounde about on euery side, and there was no man to helpe me: I looked about me yf there were anye man that wouldo succour me: but there was none.

8 Then thought I vpon thy mercye, O Lorde, and vppon thy actes that thou hast doone euer of olde: namely, that thou deliuerest suche as put their trust in thee, and riddest them out of the handes of the heathen.

9 Thus lift I vp my prayer from the earth, & prayed for deliuerance from death.

10 I called vpon the Lord the father of my Lord, that he wouldo not leaue me without helpe in the day of my trouble, and in the tyme of the proude.

11 I wyl prayse thy name continually, yeelding honour and thankes vnto it: and so my prayer was hearde.

12 Thou sauedst me from destruction, and delyueredst me from the vnrygh-teous time: therfore wil I acknowledge and praise thee, and magnifie the name of the Lord.

13 When I was yet but young, or euer I went astray, I delyred a wysdome openly in my prayer.

14 I came therefore before the temple, and sought her vnto the last: then flowred she vnto me, as a grape that is soone rype.

15 My hart reioyced in her, then went my foote the right way: yea from my youth vp sought I after her.

16 I bowed downe myne eare, and receiued her: I founde me muche wysedome, and prospered greatly in her.

17 Therefore wyll I ascribe the glory vnto hym that geueth me wisedome.

18 For I am aduised to do thereafter, I wil be ielous to cleaue vnto the thing that is good, so shal I not be confounded.

19 My soule hath wrestled with her, and I haue ben diligent to be occupied in her: I lyft vp my handes on high, then was my soule lyghtened through wysedome, and I knowledged my foolishnesse.

20 I ordered my soule after her, she and I were one hart from the beginning, and I founde her in cleannesse, and therefore shall I not be forsaken.

21 My hart longed after her, and I gate a good treasure.

22 Through her the lord hath geuen me a new tongue, wherewith I wil prayse hym.

23 ‖ O come vnto me ye vnlearned, and dwel in the house of wysedome. ‖ Esai. 55

24 Withdrawe not your selues from her, but talke and commune of these thinges for your soules are very thirstie.

25 I opened my mouth, and spake, O come and buy wisedome without money.

26 Bowe downe your necke vnder her yoke, & your soule shal receiue wisdome: she is hard at hand, and is content to be founde.

27 ‖ Beholde with your eyes, how that I haue had but litle labour, and yet haue founde much rest. ‖ Eccl. 6

28 O receiue wisdome, and ye shal haue plenteousnesse of syluer & golde in possession.

AND these are the woordes of the booke, which were a written by Baruch the sonne of Nerias, the sonne of Maasias, the sonne of Sedechias, the sonne of Helchias, at Babylon,

2 In the fifth yere, and in the seuenth day of the moneth, what time as the Chaldees tooke Hierusalem, and burnt it vp with fyre.

3 And Baruch did reade the woordes of this booke, that Iechonias the sonne of Joachim king of Juda might heare, and in the presence of all the people that were come to heare the booke,

4 And before al the nobles, the kinges sonnes, and before the elders, and before the whole people, from the lowest vnto the highest: before al them that dwelt at Babylon, by the water of " Sodi:

5 Whiche when they hearde it, wept, fasted, and prayed before the Lorde.

6 They made a collection also of money, according to euery mans power:

7 And sent it to Hierusalem vnto Joachim the sonne of Helchia, the sonne of Salom priest, with the other priestes, and to all the people which were with him at Hierusalem,

8 (Whatime as they had gotten the " vessels of the temple of the Lorde that were taken away out of the temple, that they might bring them againe into the lande of Juda the tenth day of the moneth b Siuan, namely siluer-vessels, whiche Sedechias the sonne of Josias king of Juda had made,)

9 After that Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon had taken Iechonias, with al his princes, Lordes, and all the people, and led them captiue from Hierusalem vnto Babylon

10 And they sayde, Beholde, we haue sent you money to bye you burnt offeringes and incense withal, prepare a meate offering, and offer for sinne vpon the aultar of the Lorde our God:

11 And c pray for the prosperitie of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, and for the welfare of Balthasar his sonne, that their dayes may be vpon earth as the daies of heauen:

c. by this example we are taught to pray for kynges and princes, 2. 1. Tim. 2.

12 That God also may geue vs strength, and lighten our eyes, that we may lyue vnder the defence of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, and vnder the protection of Balthasar his sonne, that we may long do them seruice, and finde fauour in their sight.

13 Pray for vs also vnto the Lorde our God: for we haue sinned against the Lorde our God, and vnto this day is not his wrath turned yet away from vs.

14 And see that ye reade this booke, whiche we haue sent vnto you, to be rehearsed in the temple of the Lorde vpon the high dayes, and at time conuenient.

15 Thus shal ye say, || The Lorde our God is righteous, but we are woorthy of confusion and shame, lyke as it is come to passe this day vnto all Juda, and to euery one that dwelleth at Hierusalem, || Baru. 2. 6.

16 To our kinges, princes, priestes, prophetes, and to our fathers.

17 || We haue sinned before the Lord our God, we haue not put our trust in him, nor geuen him credence. || Dan. 9. 5.

18 We haue not obeyed him, we haue not hearkened vnto the voyce of the Lorde our God, to walke in the commaundements that he gaue vs openly.

19 Since the day that he brought our forefathers out of the land of Egypt, vnto this present day, we haue been euer a misbeleeuing and an vnfaythfull people vnto the Lorde our God, destroying our selues vtterly, and shrynking backe, that we shoulde not heare his voyce.

20 Wherefore, there are come vpon vs great plagues, and diuers curses, lyke as the Lord || deuised by Moses his seruaunt, to bring || Deu. 28. 15 brought

brought our fathers out of the lande of Egypt, to geue vs a lande that floweth with milke and hony, lyke as it is to see this day.

21 Neuertheleſſe, we haue not hearkened vnto the voyce of the Lorde our God, accordyng to all the wordes of the prophetes, whom he sent vnto vs and to our rulers.

22 But euery man folowed his owne mind and wycked imagination, to offer vnto strange goddes, and to doo euil in the sight of the Lorde our God.

¶ The.ii. Chapter.

1. The Ievves confesse that they iustly suffer for theyr sinnes. 21. The Lorde vvyl that vve obey vnto princes, although they be euyl.

FOr the which cause the Lorde our God hath performed his deuice, whereof he certified vs, and our heades that ruled in Hierusalem, yea and our kinges, our princes, with al Israel and Juda:

2 And suche plagues hath the Lorde brought vpon vs, as neuer came to passe vnder the heauen, lyke as it is fulfilled in Hierusalem, || according as it is written in the lawe of Moses,

§ Deu.28.53

3 That a man shoulde eate the flesh of his owne sonne, and the flesh of his owne daughter.

4 Moreouer, he hath deliuered them into the handes of al the kinges that are rounde about vs, to be confounded and desolate, and scattered them abrode in al landes and nations.

5 Thus are we brought beneath, and not aboue, because we haue sinned agaynst the Lorde our God, and haue not been obedient vnto his voyce.

§ Baru.1.15

6 Therefore the || Lorde our God is righteous, and we with our fathers as reason is are brought to open shame, as it is to see this day.

7 And as for these plagues that are come vpon vs alredy, the Lorde had deuised them for vs.

8 Yet would we not pray vnto the Lord our God, that we might euery man turne from his vngodly wayes.

9 So the Lord hath caused such plagues to come vpon vs: for he is righteous in all his workes which he hath commaunded vs:

10 Whiche we also haue not done, nor hearkened vnto his voyce, for to walke in the commaundementes of the Lorde, that he hath geuen vnto vs.

§ Dan.9.15.

11 And || nowe, O Lord God of Israel, thou that hast brought thy people out of the land of Egypt with a mightie hande, with tokens and woonders, with thy great power and outstretched arme, and hast gotten thee selfe a name, as it is come to passe this daye

12 O Lorde our God, we haue sinned, we haue done wyckedly, we haue behaued our selues vngodly in all thy righteousnesse.

13 Turne thy wrath from vs we beseech thee, for we are but a fewe left among the heathen where thou hast scattered vs.

14 Heare our prayers, O Lord, and our petitions, bring vs out of captiuitie for thine owne sake, geat vs fauour in the sight of them whiche haue led vs away:

15 That al landes may knowe that thou art the Lorde our God, and that Israel and his generation calleth vpon thy name.

16 O Lord, || looke downe from thy holy || Deu.26.15 house vpon vs, encline thine eare, & heare vs. Esai.63.15

17 || Open thyne eyes, and behold, for || Pſ.115.17
the dead that be gone downe to their graues, and whose soules are out of their bodies, ascribe vnto the Lorde neyther prayse nor righteousnesse.

18 But the soule that is vexed for the multitude of her sinnes, which goeth on heauily and weakely, whose eyes begin to fayle, yea such a soule ascribeth prayse and righteousnesse vnto the Lorde.

19 For we poure out our prayers before thee, and require mercy in thy sight, O Lord our God, not for any godlynesse of our fathers:

20 But because thou hast sent out thy wrath and indignation vpon vs, according as thou diddest threaten vs by thy seruantes the prophetes, saying,

21 Thus sayth the Lord, Bowe downe your shoulders and neckes, and serue the king of Babylon: so shal ye remayne styl in the land that I gaue vnto your fathers.

22 || But if ye wyl not heare the voyce || Iere.27.12 of the Lorde your God to serue the kyng of Babylon,

23 I wyll destroy you in the cities of Juda within Hierusalem and without: I wil also take from you the voyce of myrth, and the voyce of ioy, the voice of the bridegroome, and the voyce of the bryde, and there shal no man dwel more in the lande.

24 But they would not hearken vnto thy voyce, to doo the king of Babylon seruice: and therefore hast thou performed the wordes that thou spakest by thy seruants the prophetes: namely that the bones of our kinges, and the bones of our fathers, should be translated out of their places:

25 And loe, nowe are they layde out in the heate of the sunne, and in the colde of the nyght, and dead in great miserie, with hunger, with swoorde, with pestilence, and are cleane cast foorth.

26 As for the temple wherein thy name was called vpon, thou hast layde it waste, as it is to see this day, and that for the wickednesse of the house of Israel, and the house of Iuda.

27 O Lorde our God, thou hast intreated vs after all thy goodnesse, & accordyng to al that great louing mercy of thine.

28 ‖ Lyke as thou spakest by thy seruant Moses, in the day when thou diddest commaund him to wryte thy lawe before the children of Israel, saying,

Num.28.14 Deu.28.15.

29 If ye will not hearken vnto my voyce, then shal this great multitude be turned into a very smal people among the nations, for I wyll scatter them abrode.

Deu.26.1 Esai.63.15 Ps.113.1

30 Notwithstanding, I am sure that this folke will not heare me, for it is an harde necked people: but in the land of their captiuitie they shal remember them selues, 31 And learne to knowe that I am the Lord theyr God, when I geue them an hart to vnderstande, and eares to heare.

32 Then shal they prayse me in the land of their captiuitie, & thinke vpon my name.

33 Then shal they turne them from their hard backes, and from their vngodlynesse: then shal they remember the thinges that happened vnto theyr fathers whiche sinned agaynst me.

34 So wyl I bring them agayne into the lande whiche I promised with an othe vnto their fathers Abraham, Isahac, and Iacob, and they shalbe lordes of it, yea I wyll encrease them, and not minishe them.

35 And I will make another couenant with them, such one as shal endure for euer: namely, that I wyl be theyr God, and they shalbe my people: and I will no more dryue my people the children of Israel out of the lande that I haue geuen them.

Jere.27.1

¶ The.iii. Chapter.

36. Only God vvas the finder of vvisdome. 37. Of the incarnation of Christe.

AND nowe, O Lorde almyghtie, thou God of Israel, the soule that is in trouble, and the spirite that is vexed cryeth vnto thee:

2 Heare vs, O Lord, & haue pitie vpon vs, for thou art a mercyful God: be gracious vnto vs, for we haue sinned before thee.

3 Thou endurest for euer: shoulde we then vtterly perysshe?

4 O Lord almightie, thou God of Israel, heare nowe the prayer of the dead Israelites, and of their children which haue sinned before thee, and not hearkened vnto the voyce of the Lorde theyr God, for the which cause these plagues hang nowe vpon vs.

5 O Lorde, remember not the wyckednesse of our forefathers, but thinke vpon thy power and name nowe at this tyme:

6 For thou art the Lorde our God, and thee, O Lorde, wyl we prayse.

7 For thou hast put thy feare in our hartes, to the intent that we should cal vpon thy name, and prayse thee in our captiuitie, & that we might turne from the wyckednesse of our forefathers that sinned before thee.

8 Beholde, we are yet this day in our captiuitie, where as thou hast scattered vs, to be an abomination, curse, & subiect to exactions: like as it hath happened vnto our fathers also, because of al their wickednesse and departing from thee, O Lorde our God.

9 O Israel heare the commaundements of lyfe, ponder them wel with thine eares, that thou mayest learne wysedome.

10 But howe happeneth it Israel that thou art in thine enimies lande? thou art waxen olde in a strange countrey, and defiled with the dead.

11 Why art thou become like them that goe downe to theyr graues?

12 Euen because thou hast forsaken the well of wysedome.

13 For yf thou hadst walked in the way of God truely, thou shouldest haue remayned styl safe in thyne owne lande.

14 O learne then where is wysedome, where " vertue is, where vnderstanding is: that thou mayest knowe also from whence commeth long continuance & lyfe, the lyght of the eyes, and quietnesse.

" or, strength.

15 Who euer founde out her place? or who came euer into her treasures?

16 Where are the princes of the heathen become, and such as ruled the beastes vpon the earth,

17 They that had their pastime with the fowles of the ayre, they that hoorded vp syluer and golde wherin men trust so muche, and made no ende of theyr geatherynge?

18 What is become of them that coyned syluer, and were so careful, and could not bryng theyr workes to passe?

19 They be rooted out, and gone downe to hell, and other men are come vp in theyr steades.

20 Young men haue seene lyght, and dwelt vpon earth: but the way of reformation haue they not knowen, 21 Nor vnderstande the pathes therof: neyther haue theyr children receiued it, yea ryght farre is it from them.

22 It hath not ben heard of in the lande of Chanaan, neyther hath it ben seene at Theman.

23 The Agarenes sought after wysedome, but that whiche is earthly, like as the marchantes of the lande doo: they of Theman are cunning also, they labour for wysedome and understandyng: but the way of true wisedome they knowe not, neyther do they thinke vpon the pathes thereof.

24 O Israel, how great is the house of God? and howe large is the place of his possession?

25 Great is he, and hath none ende: yea high and vnmeasurable.

26 What is become of those famous giantes, that were so great of bodies, and so wooꝛthy men of warre?

27 Those hath not the Lord chosen, neither haue they found the way of reformation:

28 Therefoꝛe were they destroyed, and foꝛ so muche as they had no wysedome, they perished because of theyꝛ foolishnesse.

29 Who hath gone vp into heauen to take wysdome there, and brought her downe from the cloudes?

30 Who hath gone ouer the sea to fynde her, and hath chosen her aboue golde, and so brought her hither?

31 No man knoweth the wayes of wisdome, neither is there any that can seeke out her pathes.

32 But he that woteth al things, knoweth her, and hath found her out with his foꝛeknowledge, the same is he whiche pꝛepared the earth at the beginning, and filled it with al manner of fowles and beastes.

33 When he sendeth out the light, it goeth: and when he calleth it againe, it obeyeth hym with feare.

34 The starres kepe theyꝛ watche, and geue theyꝛ light, yea and that gladly: When he calleth them, they say, Here we be: and so with chearefulnesse they shewe light vnto hym that made them.

35 This is our God, and there shall none other be compared vnto hym.

36 It is he that hath found out al wysdome, and hath geuen her vnto Jacob his seruant, and to Israel his beloued.

37 Afterward did he shewe him selfe vpon earth, and dwelt among men.

¶ The.iii. Chapter.

1. The reuvarde of them that kepe the lavve, and the punishment of them that despise it.

THis is the booke of the commaundementes of God, and the lawe that endureth foꝛ euer: al they that keepe it shal come to lyfe, but suche as foꝛsake it shal come to death.

2 Turne thee, O Jacob, and take holde of it, walke by this way thꝛough his bꝛightnesse and shine.

3 Geue not thine honour to another, and thy worship to a strange people.

4 O Israel, howe happy are we, seeing that God hath shewed vs suche thynges as are pleasant vnto him?

5 Be of good cheare, thou people of God, O thou auncient Israel.

6 Nowe are ye solde among the Heathen, howbeit, not foꝛ your vtter destruction: but because ye pꝛouoked God the Lorde to wꝛath and displeasure, therefoꝛe were ye deliuered vnto your enimies.

7 Foꝛ ye displeased the euerlasting God that made you, offeryng vnto deuylles, and not to God.

8 Ye haue foꝛgotten him that bꝛought you vp, and ye haue greeued Hierusalem that nursed you.

9 When she saw that the wꝛath of God was comming vpon you, she sayde, Hearken O ye that dwell about Sion, foꝛ God hath bꝛought me into great heauinesse.

10 And why? I see the captiuitie of my people, of my sonnes and daughters, whiche the euerlastyng God wyll bꝛyng vpon them.

11 With ioy did I nourish them: but now must I leaue them with weepyng & soꝛowe.

12 Let no man reioyce ouer me widowe and foꝛsaken, which foꝛ the sinnes of my childꝛen am desolate of euery man: Foꝛ why? they departed from the lawe of God.

13 They would not know his righteousnes, noꝛ walke in the wayes of his commaundementes: & as foꝛ the pathes of trueth and godlynesse, they had no lust to goe in them.

14 O ye dwellers about Sion, come and let vs cal to remembꝛance the captiuitie that the euerlastyng God hath bꝛought vpon my sonnes and my daughters.

15 He hath bꝛought a people vpon them from farre, an vncurteous people, and of a strange language, which neyther regard the olde, noꝛ pitie the young.

16 These haue caryed away the deare beloued of the widowes, leauing me alone both desolate and chyldlesse.

17 But alas, what can I helpe you?

18 Now he that bꝛought these plagues vpon you, deliuer you also from the handes of your enimies.

19 Goe your way, O my chyldꝛen, goe your way: foꝛ I am desolate and foꝛsaken.

20 I haue put of the clothing of peace, and put vpon me the sackcloth of pꝛayer, and foꝛ my time I wil cal vpon the most highest.

21 Be of good cheare, O my childꝛen, crye vnto the Lorde, and he shall deliuer you from the power of the pꝛinces your enimies.

22 Foꝛ verily I haue euer a good hope of your pꝛosperous healthy, yea a very gladnesse is

is come vppon me from the holy one, because of the mercy that ye shall haue of our euerlastyng sauiour.

23 With mourning and weepyng dyd I let you goe fro me: but with ioy and perpetual gladnesse shal the Lorde bring you agayne vnto me.

24 Lyke as the neyghbours of Sion sawe your captiuitie from God: euen so shal they also see shortly your health in God, whiche shal come on you with great honour and euerlastyng worshyp.

25 O my children suffer patiently the wrath that shall come vpon you: for the enimie hath persecuted thee, but shortly thou shalt see his destruction, and shalt tread vpon his necke.

26 My darlinges haue gone rough harde wayes, for they are led away as a flocke that is scattered abrode with the enimies.

27 But be of good comfort, O my children, and cry vnto the Lorde: for he that led you away, hath you yet in remembraunce.

28 And lyke as ye haue been minded to swarue from your God: so shal ye nowe endeuour your selues ten times more to turne agayne, and to seeke him.

29 For he that hath brought these plagues vpon you, shal bring you euerlastyng ioy agayne with your health.

30 Take a good hart vnto thee, O Hierusalem: for he which gaue thee that name, exhorteth thee so to doo.

31 The wycked doers that nowe put thee to trouble, shal perish and such as haue reioyced at thy fal, shalbe punished.

32 The cities whom thy children serue, and that haue carryed away thy sonnes, shal be corrected.

33 For lyke as they be nowe glad of thy decaye, and reioyce at thy fall: so shal they mourne in their owne destruction.

34 The ioye of their multitude shalbe taken away, and their cheare shalbe turned to sorowe.

35 For a fire shal fal vpon them from the euerlastyng god, long to endure, and it shalbe inhabited of deuyls for a great season.

36 O Heirusalem, looke about thee towarde the East, and beholde the || ioy that Baruc.5.6 commeth vnto thee from God.

37 For loe, thy sonnes whom thou hast forsaken, & that were scattered abrode, come gathered togeather from the East and West, reioyceing in the woorde of the holye one, vnto the honour of God.

¶ The. v. Chapter.

1. Hierusalem is moued vnto gladnesse for the returne of her people, and vnder the figure thereof the Churche.

PVt of thy mourning clothes, O Hierusalem, and thy sorowe, and decke thee with the woorshyp and honour that commeth vnto thee from God with euerlastyng glory.

2 God shall put the garment of righteousnesse vpon thee, and set a crowne of euerlastyng woorshyp vpon thyne head:

3 For vpon thee wyll God declare his brightnesse, that is vnder the heauen.

4 Yea an euerlastyng name shall be geuen thee of God, with peace of righteousnes, and the honour of Gods feare.

5 Aryse, O Hierusalem, stand vp on high, looke about thee towarde the East, and beholde thy children gathered from the East vnto the West, whiche reioyce in the holy woorde, hauing God in remembrance.

6 They departed from thee on foote, and were led away of their enimies: but nowe || shal the Lorde bring them caried with honour, as children of the kingdome. || Baru.4.36

7 For God is purposed to bring downe al stonie mountaines, yea and al high rockes, to fyll the valleys, and so to make them euen with the ground, that Israel may be diligent to liue vnto the honour of God.

8 The woods and all pleasant trees, shal ouershadowe Israel at the commaundement of God.

9 For hither shal God bring Israel with ioyful mirth, and in the light of his maiestie, with the mercy and righteousnesse that commeth of him selfe.

¶ The. vi. Chapter.

A coppie of the epistle that Ieremie sent vnto the Iewes, which were ledde away prisoners by the kyng of Babylon: wherein he certifieth them of the thing that was commaunded him of God.

In this chapter are the makers and maintainers of images mightily confuted.

BEcause of the sinnes that ye haue done agaynst God, ye shalbe led away captiue vnto Babylon, euen of Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon.

2 So when ye be come into Babylon, ye shal remayne there many yeeres, and for a long season, namely a seuen generations: and after that wyl I bring you away peaceably from thence. a. That is seuentie yeeres.

3 || Nowe shal ye see in Babylon gods of gold, of siluer, of wood, and of stone, borne vpon mens shoulders, to cast out a scarefulnesse before the heathen. || Esai.44.10

4 But looke that ye doo not as the other: be not ye afraide, and let not the feare of them ouercome you.

5 Therefore when ye see the multitude of people woorshipping them behind and before, say ye in your hartes, O Lord, it is thou then oughtest onely to be worshipped.

6 Myne angel also shalbe with you, and I mee selfe wyl care for your soules.

7 As for the " timber of those goddes, the carpenter hath pullished them: yea gylted be they, and layde ouer with syluer, yet are they but vaine thinges, & can not speake. " or, tongue.

8 Lyke as a wenche that loueth paramours is trimely deckt: euen so are these made, and hanged with golde.

9 Crownes of golde verily haue their gods vpon their heades: so the priestes them selues take gold and syluer from them, and put it to their owne vses:

10 Yea they gyue of the same vnto harlots, and trim theyr whoores withal: agayne, they take it from the whoores, and decke theyr goddes therewith:

11 Yet can not these goddes deliuer them selues from rust and mothes.

12 When they haue couered them with clothing of purple, they wype theyr faces for the dust of the temple, whereof there is much among them.

13 One hath a scepter in his hande as though he were iudge of the countrey, yet can he not slay such as offende him.

14 Another hath swoorde or an axe in his hande: for al that he is neither able to defend him selfe from batayle, nor from murderers.

15 By this ye may vnderstande that they be no goddes: therefore see that ye neyther woorship them, nor feare them.

16 For lyke as a vessell that a man vseth, is nothing woorth when it is broken, euen so is it with theyr gods: when they be set vp in the temple, their eyes be ful of dust through the feete of those that come in.

17 And lyke as the doores are shut in rounde about vpon him that hath offended the king, or as it were a dead body kept beside the graue: euen so the priestes keepe the doores with barres and lockes, lest theyr goddes be spoyled with robbers.

18 They set vp candels before them, yea verily and that many, whereof they can not see one: but euen as blocks so stande they in the temple.

19 It is sayde, that the serpentes and woormes whiche come of the earth, gnawe out their hartes, eating the and their clothes also, and yet they feele it not.

20 Theyr faces are blacke, through the smoke that is in the temple.

21 The Owles, Swalowes, and birdes flee vpon them, yea and the Cattes runne ouer their heades.

22 By this ye may be sure that they are no goddes, therefore feare them not.

23 The gold that they haue is to make them beautiful: for all that, except some bee vp right of theyr rust, they wil geue no shine, and when they were cast into a fourme, they felt it not.

24 They are bought for money, and haue no breath of lyfe within them. ‖ Esai. 46.7.

25 They must be borne vpon mens shoulders as those that haue no feete, whereby they declare vnto men that they be nothing woorth: confounded be they then that woorship them.

26 For if they fall to the grounde, they can not ryse vp agayne of them selues: Yea though one helpe them vp, and set them right, yet are they not able to stande alone, but must haue proppes set vnder them lyke dead men.

27 As for the thing that is offered vnto them, their priestes sel it, and abuse it, yea the priestes wiues take thereof: but vnto the sicke and poore they geue nothing of it.

28 The woman with childe, and the menstruous lay handes of theyr offeringes: By this ye may be sure that they are no gods, therefore be not ye afrayde of them.

29 From whence commeth it then that they be called gods? because women " sit before the gods of syluer, gold, and wood, " or, bring offer.

30 And the priestes sit in their temples hauyng " open clothes, whose heades and beardes are shauen, and haue nothing vpon their heades, " or, rent, 31 Roaring and crying vpon their gods, as men do at the feast whē one is dead.

32 The priestes also take away the garments of the images, and decke theyr wiues and chyldren withal.

33 Whether it be good or euyl that any man doo vnto them, they are not able to recompence it: they can neyther set vp a king, nor put hym downe.

34 In lyke maner, they may neither geue riches, nor rewarde euyl: though a man make a bowe vnto them, and keepe it not, they wyl not require it.

35 They can saue no man from death, neither deliuer the weake from the mightie.

36 They can not restore a blynde man to his sight, nor helpe any man at his neede.

37 They can shewe no mercy to the wydowe, nor doo good to the fatherlesse. * or, read, The Chald also dishonou them, the vvhiche, if shal see a dum one that can not speake, present it to Bel, and de quyre that it may speake.

38 Their gods of wood, stone, gold, and syluer, are but euen as other stones that be hewen of the mountayne: they that woorship them, shalbe confounded.

39 Howe shoulde they then be taken for gods? yea, howe dare men cal them gods?

40 * And though the Chaldees woorshipped them not, hearing that they were but dumbe, and coulde not speake:

41 Yet

41 Yet they them ſelues offer vnto Bel, and wouldе fayne haue hym to ſpeake: as who ſay they could feele that may not moue.

42 But when theſe men come to vnderſtandyng, they ſhal forſake them, for theyr goddes haue no feelyng.

43 A great ſort of women gird with cordes, ſyt in the ſtreetes, and burne "olive berries: Nowe yf one of them be conueyed away, and lye with ſuche as come by, ſhe caſteth her neighbours in the teeth, becauſe ſhe was not worſthyly reputed, nor her corde broken. "Heb. ſtarre.

44 What ſo euer is doone for them, it is but in vayne and laſt: Howe may it then be thought or ſayde that they are goddes?

45 Carpenters and Goldſmithes make them: neither be they any other thing but euen what the workeman wyl make of them.

46 Yea the Goldſmithes them ſelues that make them, are of no long continuance: howe ſhoulde then the thinges that are made of them be goddes?

47 Vayne therefore are the thinges, yea very ſhame is it that they leaue behynd them for theyr poſteritie.

48 For as ſoone as there commeth any warre or plague vpon them, then the prieſtes imagine where they may hyde them ſelues with them.

49 How can men then thynke that they be goddes, which neyther may defende them ſelues from warre, nor deliuer them from miſfortune?

50 For ſeeyng they be but of wood, of ſtone, of ſiluer, & of golde, al people and kinges ſhal knowe hereafter, that they be but vayne thinges: yea it ſhalbe openly declared that they be no goddes, but euen the very woorkes of mens handes, and that God hath nothyng to doo with them.

51 It is manifeſt then that they are no goddes, but the woorkes of mens handes, and no woorke of God in them.

52 They can ſet no king in the land, nor geue rayne vnto men.

53 They can geue no ſentence of a matter, neyther defende the land from wrong: for they are not able to doo ſo muche as a crowe that fleeth betwixt heauen and earth.

54 When there happeneth a fire into the houſe of thoſe goddes of wood, and ſiluer, and of golde, the prieſtes wyl eſcape and ſaue them ſelues, but the goddes burne as the balkes therein.

55 They can not withſtande any kyng or battel: how may it then be thought or graunted that they be goddes?

56 Moreouer, theſe goddes of wood, of ſtone, of golde and ſiluer, may neyther defend them ſelues from theeues nor robbers.

57 Yea the very wicked are ſtronger then they: theſe ſtrippe them out of their apparrel that they be clothed withal, theſe take their golde and ſiluer from them, and ſo geat them away, yet can they not helpe thē ſelues.

58 Therefore it is muche better for a man to be a king, & ſo to ſhewe his power, or els a profitable veſſel in a houſe, wherein he that oweth it might haue pleaſure, yea or to be a doore in a houſe, to kepe ſuche things ſafe as be therein: then to be ſuche a vayne God.

59 The ſunne, the moone, and all the ſtarres, ſeeing they geue their ſhine and light, are obedient, and doo men good.

60 When the lightning glitſereth, al is cleare.

61 The winde bloweth in euery countrey: and when God commaundeth the cloudes to goe rounde about the whole worlde, they doo as they are bidden.

62 When the fire is ſent downe from aboue and commaunded, it burneth vp hilles and woods: but as for theſe gods, they are not lyke one of theſe things, neyther in beautie, neyther in ſtrength.

63 Wherefore men ſhoulde not thinke nor ſay that they be gods, ſeeing they can neyther geue ſentence in iudgement, nor doo men good.

64 For ſo muche nowe as ye are ſure that they be no gods, then feare them not.

65 For they can neyther ſpeake euil nor good of kinges.

66 They can ſhewe no tokens in heauens for the heathen, neyther ſhine as the ſunne, nor geue light as the moone.

67 Yea the vnreaſonable beaſtes are better then they: for they can geat them vnder the roofe, and doo them ſelues good.

68 So can ye be certified by no maner of meanes that they be gods, therefore feare them not.

69 For like as a ſcarcrow in a garden of hearbes keepeth nothyng: euen ſo are theyr goddes of wood, of ſiluer, and golde.

70 And like as a white thorne in an Orchard that euery birde ſitteth vppon, yea like as a dead body that is caſt in the darke: euen ſo is it with theſe goddes of wood, ſiluer, and golde.

71 By the purple and ſcarlet whiche they haue vpon them, and ſoone ſadeth away, ye may vnderſtand that they be no gods: yea they them ſelues ſhalbe conſumed at the laſt, which ſhalbe a great confuſion of the lande.

72 "Bleſſed is the godly man that hath no images and vvoorshippeth none: for he ſhalbe farre from reproofe. "Or, better.

¶ The ſong of the three children,

Whiche were put into the hot burnyng ouen.

The common tranſlation readeth this ſong in the thirde Chapter of Daniel.

25. The prayer of Azarias. 46. The crueltie of the king. 48. The fire deuoureth the Chaldeans. 49. The angel of the Lorde vvas in the furnace.

AND they walked in the middes of the flambe, prayſyng God, and magnifyng the Lorde.

25 Then Azarias ſtood vp, and prayed in this maner, euen in the middes of the fyre opened he his mouth, and ſayde, 26 Bleſſed be thou, O Lord God of our fathers, right worthy to be prayſed & honoured is that name of thyne for euermore.

27 For thou art righteous in al the thynges that thou haſt doone to vs, yea faithfull are al thy workes, thy wayes are right, and al thy iudgementes true.

28 In all the thinges that thou haſt brought vpon vs, and vppon the holy citie of our fathers, euen Hieruſalem, thou haſt executed true iudgement: yea accordyng to right and equitie haſt thou brought al theſe thinges vpon vs, becauſe of our ſinnes:

29 For why? we haue offended and done wickedly, departyng from thee.

30 In al things haue we treſpaſſed, and not obeyed thy commaundementes, nor kept them, neyther doone as thou haſt bidden vs, that we may proſper.

31 Wherfore al that thou haſt brought vpon vs, & euery thyng that thou haſt doone to vs, thou haſt doone them in true iudgemẽt:

32 As in delyuerying vs into the handes of our enimies, among vngodly and wicked abominations, and to an vnryghteous kyng, yea the moſt frowarde vpon earth.

33 And nowe we may not open our mouthes, we are become a ſhame & reproofe vnto thy ſeruantes, and to them that woorſhip thee.

34 Yet for thy names ſake we beſeeche thee geue vs not vp for euer, breake not thy couenant,

35 And take not away thy mercy from vs for thy beloued Abrahams ſake, for thy ſeruant Iſahacs ſake, & for thy holy Iſraels ſake:

36 To whom thou haſt ſpoken and promiſed, that thou wouldeſt multiply their ſeed as the ſtarres of heauen, and as the ſand that lyeth vpon the ſea ſhore.

37 For we, O Lorde, are become leſſe then any people, and be kept vnder this day in al the worlde, becauſe of our ſinnes.

38 So that now we haue neither prince, duke, prophete, burnt offeryng, ſacrifice, oblation, incenſe, nor ſanctuarie before thee.

39 Neuertheleſſe, in a contrite hart and an humble ſpirite let vs be receiued, that we may obteyne thy mercy.

40 Like as in the burnt offering of rammes and bullockes, and like as in thouſandes of fat lambes: ſo let our offeryng be in thy ſight this day, that it may pleaſe thee: for there is no confuſion vnto them that put theyr truſt in thee.

41 And nowe we folowe thee with all our hart, we feare thee, and ſeeke thy face. Pſa. 148.

42 Put vs not to ſhame: but deale with vs after thy louyng kindneſſe, and accordyng to the multitude of thy mercies.

43 Deliuer vs by thy myracles, O lord, and geat thy name an honour, that all they whiche doo thy ſeruantes euil, may be confounded:

44 Let them be aſhamed thorough thy almightie power, & let their ſtrength be broke:

45 That they may knowe howe that thou only art the Lorde GOD, and honour woorthy thorough out al the worlde.

46 And the kinges ſeruantes that put the in, ceaſſed not to make the ouen hot with a wilde fire, drie ſtrawe, pitche, towe, and faggottes.

a. Whiche is called Naphtha, which is a certaine kynde of fat and cha kie clay.

47 So that the flambe went out of the ouen vpon a fourtie and nine cubites:

48 Yea it tooke away & brent vp thoſe Chaldees that it gate holde vpon beſide the ouen.

49 But the angel of the Lorde came downe into the ouen to Azaria & his felowes, & ſmote the flambe of the fire out of the ouen, 50 And made the middes of the ouen as it had been a cold winde blowing: ſo the fire neither touched them, greeued them, nor dyd them hurt.

51 Then theſe three, as out of one mouth, prayſed, honoured, and bleſſed God in the furnace, ſayeing, 52 Bleſſed be thou, O Lord God of our fathers: for thou art prayſe and honour woorthy, yea & to be magnified for euermore.

53 Bleſſed be the holy name of thy glorie,

yle, for it is wourthie to be prayſed and magnified in al worldes.

54 Bleſſed be thou in the holye temple of thy glory: for aboue all thynges thou art to be prayſed, yea and more then wourthie to be magnified for euer.

55 Bleſſed be thou in the throne of thy kyngdome: for aboue all thou art wourthie to be wel ſpoken of, and to be more then magnified for euer.

56 Bleſſed be thou that lokeſt through the deepe, and ſyttelt vpon the Cherubims: for thou art wourthie to be prayſed, & aboue al to be magnified for euer.

57 Bleſſed be thou in the firmament of heauen: for thou art prayſe & honour wourthie for euer.

58 O al ye wourkes of the Lord, ſpeake good of the Lorde: prayſe him, and ſet him vp for euer.

59 O ye angelles of the Lorde, ſpeake good of the Lorde: prayſe him, and ſet him vp for euer.

77 O all ye greene thynges vppon the earth, ſpeake good of the Lord: prayſe him, and ſet him vp for euer.

91 O all deuout men, ſpeake ye good of the Lorde, the God of all goddes: O prayſe him, and geue him thankes, for his mercy endureth worlde without ende.

¶ The

The ſtorie of Suſanna, which is the xiij. Chapter of Daniel after the Latine.

1. The two gouernours are taken with the loue of Suſanna. 19. They take her alone in the Garden. 20. They entice her to wickednesse. 23. She chooseth rather to obey God, though it be to the danger of her lyfe. 34. She is accuſed. 45. Daniel doeth deliuer her. 62. The gouernours are put to death.

THere dwelt a man in Babylon, called Ioacim,

2 That tooke a wyfe, whoſe name was Suſanna, the daughter of Helchia, a very fayre woman, and ſuche one as feared God.

3 Her father and her mother alſo were good people, and taught their daughter according to the lawe of Moſes.

4 Nowe Ioacim her huſbande was a great ryche man, and had a fayre Orcharde ioynyng vnto his houſe: & to him reſorted the Iewes commonly, becauſe he was a man of reputation among them.

5 The ſame yeere were there made two Iudges, ſuche as the Lord ſpeaketh of, The wickednesſe of Babylon commeth from the elders, that is, from the Iudges which ſeeme to rule the people.

6 Theſe came oft to Ioacims houſe: and al ſuche as had any thyng to doo in the lawe, came thyther vnto them.

7 Nowe when the people departed away at noone, Suſanna went into her huſbandes Orcharde to walke.

8 The two elders ſeeyng this, that ſhe went in dayly and walked, they burned for luſt to her,

9 Yea, they were almoſte out of their wittes, and caſt downe their eyes, that they ſhoulde not ſee heauen, nor remember that God is a ryghteous Iudge.

10 For they were both wounded with the loue of her, neyther durſt one ſhewe an other his greefe:

11 And for ſhame they durſt not tel her their inordinate luſt, that they woulde fayne haue had to doo with her:

12 But they layd wayte for her earneſtly from day to day, that they might at the leaſt haue a ſyght of her.

13 And the one ſayde to the other, Vp, let vs goe home, for it is dynner tyme. So they went their waye one from an other.

14 When they returned agayne, they came togeather, enquyryng one the matter betwixt them ſelues, yea, the one tolde the other of his wicked luſt: Then appoynted they a tyme when they might take Suſanna alone.

15 It happened alſo that they eſpied out a conuenient time, when ſhe went forth to walke, as her maner was, and no body with her but two maydens, and thought to waſhe her ſelfe in the Garden: for it was an hot ſeaſon.

16 And there was not one perſon there, except the two elders that had hyd them ſelues to beholde her.

17 So ſhe ſayde to her maydens, Goe fetche me oyle & ſope, and ſhut the Orcharde doores, that I may waſhe me.

18 And they dyd as ſhe bad them, and ſhut the Orcharde dooze, and went out them ſelues at a backe dooze to fetche the thyng that ſhe had commaunded: "but Suſanna knewe not that the elders lay there hydde within.

" or, but they ſawe not the elders, becauſe they were hyd.

19 Nowe when the maydens were gone forth, the two elders gate them vp, and ranne vpon her, ſaying, 20 Nowe the Orchard doores are ſhut, that no man can ſee vs, we haue a luſt vnto thee, therfore conſent vnto vs, & lie with vs.

21 Yf thou wylt not, we ſhall byng a teſtimoniall againſt thee, that there was a young felowe with thee, and that thou haſt ſent away thy maydens from thee for the ſame cauſe.

22 Suſanna ſyghed, and ſayde, Alas, I am in trouble on euery ſyde, though I folow your mind, it wyl be my death: & yf I conſent not vnto you, I can not eſcape your handes.

23 Well, it is better for me to fall into your hande without the deede dooyng, then to ſynne in the ſyght of the Lorde.

24 And with that ſhe cryed out with a loude voyce: the elders alſo cryed out againſt her.

25 Then ranne there one to the Orcharde dooze, and ſmote it open.

26 Now whē the ſeruants of the houſe heard the crie in the Orchard, they ruſhed in at the backe doze, to ſee what ꝑ matter was.

27 So when the elders tolde them, the ſeruantes were greatly aſhamed: for why? there was neuer ſuche a report made of Suſanna.

28 On the morowe after came the people to Ioacim her huſbande, and the two elders elders came alſo full of miſcheuous imaginations agaynſt Suſanna, to bring her vnto death, 29 And ſpake thus before the people, Sende for Suſanna the daughter of Helchias, Joacims wyfe. And immediatly they ſent for her.

30 So ſhe came with her father and mother, her children, and al her kinred.

31 Nowe Suſanna was a tender perſon, and marueylous fayre of face.

32 Therefore the wicked men cõmaunded to take her clothes from her face (for ſhe was couered) that at the leaſt they myght ſo be ſatiſfied in her beautie.

33 Then her freendes, yea and all they that knewe her, begãn to weepe.

34 Theſe two elders ſtood vp in the middes of the people, and layde theyr handes vpon the head of Suſanna, 35 Which wept, and looked vp toward heaue: for her hart had a ſure truſt in the lord.

36 And the elders ſaid, As we were walking in the Orchard alone, this woman came in with her two maydens, whom ſhe ſent away from her, & ſparred the Orchard doores:

37 With that a young felowe whiche there was hyd, came vnto her, & lay with her.

38 As for vs, we ſtood in a corner of the orchard: and when we ſawe this wickednes, we ranne to them, and we ſawe them as they were togeather.

39 But we coulde not holde him, for he was ſtronger then we. Thus he opened the doore, and gate hym away.

40 Nowe when we had taken this woman, we aſked her what young felowe this was, but ſhe wouldnot tel vs. This is the matter, and we be witneſſes of the ſame.

41 The common ſort beleeued them, as theſe that were the elders & iudges of the people, and ſo they condemned her to death.

42 Suſanna cryed out with a loude voyce, and ſayde, O euerlaſtyng God, thou ſearcher of ſecretes, thou that knoweſt all thynges before they come to paſſe:

43 Thou woteſt that they haue borne falſe witneſſe agaynſt me, and behold I muſt dye, whereas I neuer did any ſuche thynges as theſe men haue malitiouſly inuented agaynſt me.

44 And the Lorde hearde her voyce.

45 For when ſhe was led forth to death, the Lorde rayſed vp the ſpirite of a young chylde, whoſe name was Daniel, 46 Whiche cryed with a loude voyce, I am cleane from this blood.

47 Then all the people turned towardes hym, and ſayde, What meane theſe wordes that thou haſt ſpoken.

48 Daniel ſtood in the middes of them, and ſayde, Are ye ſuche fooles, O ye chyldren of Iſrael, that ye can not diſcerne and knowe the trueth? Ye haue here condemned a daughter of Iſrael vnto death, and knowe not the trueth wherefore.

49 Goe ſitte in iudgement agayne: for they haue ſpoken falſe witneſſe againſt her.

50 Wherefore the people turned againe in al the haſte: and the elders, that is the principal heades, ſayde vnto hym, Come ſit downe here among vs, and ſhewe vs this matter, ſeeing God hath geuen thee as great honour as an elder.

51 And Daniel ſayde vnto them, Put theſe two aſide one from an other, and then ſhal I examine them.

52 When they were put aſunder one from another, he called one of them, and ſayd vnto hym, O thou olde cankered carle, that haſt vſed thy wickednes ſo long, thyne vngratious deedes which thou haſt done afore, are nowe come to light.

53 For thou haſt geuen falſe iudgementes, thou haſt oppreſſed the innocent, and letten the giltie goe free: whereas yet the Lorde ſayth, || The innocent and righteous ſle thou ſlay not. || Exod. 23. 7.

54 Wel then, yf thou haſt ſeene her, tell me vnder what tree ſaweſt thou them companying togeather? He anſweared, Vnder a *Mulberie tree. *or, a lentiſke tree.

55 And Daniel ſayde, Very wel, nowe thou lieſt euen vpõ thine head: loe, the meſſenger of the Lorde hath receiued the ſentence of hym to cut thee in two.

56 Then put he hym aſyde, and called for the other, and ſaid vnto him, O thou ſeede of Chanaan, but not of Juda, fayre neſſe hath deceyued thee, and luſt hath ſubuerted thine hart.

57 Thus dealt ye afore with the daughters of Iſrael, and they for feare conſented vnto you: but the daughter of Juda would not abyde your wickednes.

58 Nowe tel me then, vnder what tree apprehendeſt thou take them companying togeather? He anſwearedUnder a *Pomegranate tree. *or, a prune tree, or a mirtyl tree.

59 Then ſayde Daniel vnto hym, Very wel, nowe thou lyeſt alſo euen vpon thyne head: the meſſenger of the Lorde ſtandeth wayting with the ſwoorde to cut thee in two, and ſlay you both.

60 With that all the whole multitude gaue a great ſhowte, and prayſed God, which alway deliuereth them that put their truſt in hym.

61 And they came vpon the two elders, whom Daniel had conuict with theyr owne mouth, mouth, that they hadde geuen falſe witneſſe,

62 And dealt with them euen lykewyſe as they wouldе haue doone with their neighbours, yea they dyd || according to the lawe of Moſes, and put them to death: Thus the innocent blood was ſaued the ſame day.

|| Deu. 19. 19 Prou. 19. 5.

63 Then Helcias and his wyfe prayſed God for theyr daughter Suſanna, with Joachim her huſband, and al the kinred, that there was no diſhoneſtie founde in her.

64 From that day forth was Daniel had in great reputation in ỹ ſight of the people.

65 And kyng Aſtyages was layde with his fathers, and Cyrus of Perſia raigned in his ſteede.

The ende of the ſtory of Suſanna.

¶ The ſtory of Bel and of the Dragon, whiche is the fourteenth Chapter of Daniel, after the Latine.

DAniel dyd eate at the kynges table, and was had in reuerence aboue al his freendes.

2 There was at Babylon an image called Bel, and there were ſpent vpon him euery day twelue cakes, fourtie ſheepe, and ſixe great pottes of wyne.

3 Hym dyd the king worſhyp him ſelfe, and went dayly to honour hym, but Daniel worſhipped his owne God: and the kyng ſayde vnto hym, Why dooeſt not thou worſhyp Bel?

4 He anſwered and ſayde, Becauſe I may not worſhip thynges that be made with handes, but the lyuyng God whiche made heauen and earth, and hath power vppon al fleſhe.

5 The kyng ſayde vnto hym, Thynkeſt thou not that Bel is a lyuyng God? or ſeeſt thou not howe muche he eateth and dzynketh euery day?

6 Daniel ſmiled, and ſayde, O kyng deceyue not thee ſelfe: for this is but made of claye within, and of braſſe without, neyther eateth he euer any thyng.

7 Then the kyng was wroth, and called for his prieſtes, and ſaide vnto them, If ye tel me not who is this that eateth vp theſe expences, ye ſhall dye:

8 But yf ye can certifie mee that Bel eateth them, then Daniel ſhall dye: for he hath ſpoken blaſphemie againſt Bel. And Daniel ſayde vnto the kyng, Let it ſo be, accordyng as thou haſt ſayde.

9 The prieſtes of Bel were threeſcore & twelue, beſides theyr wiues and chyldren: And the king went with Daniel into the temple of Bel.

10 So Bels prieſtes ſayde, Loe, we wyl goe out: & ſet thou the meate there, O king, and powre in the wine, then ſhut the doze faſt, and ſeale it with thyne owne ſignet:

11 And to morowe when thou commeſt in, yf thou findeſt not that Bel hath eaten vp al, we wyl ſuffer death: or els Daniel that hath lyed vpon vs.

12 The prieſtes thought them ſelues ſure ynough: for vnder the "aulter they had made a priuie entrance, & there went they in euer, and dyd eat vp what there was. "or, table.

13 So when they were gone forth, the king ſet meates before Bel: Nowe Daniel had cõmaunded his ſeruantes to bring aſhes, & theſe he "ſifted throughout al the temple, that the kyng myght ſee: then went they out and ſparred the dooze, ſealyng it with the kynges ſignet, and ſo departed. "or, ſtrewed

14 In the night came the prieſtes, with theyr wiues and children, as they were wont to doo, and dyd eate and drinke vp al.

15 In the morning betimes, at the breake of the day, the king arole, & Daniel with him.

16 And the king ſayde, Daniel, are the ſeales whole yet? He anſwered, Yea, O king, they be whole.

17 Nowe as ſoone as he had opened the dooze, the kyng looked vnto the "aulter, and cryed with a loude voyce, Great art thou, O Bel, and with thee is no deceite. "or, table.

18 Then laughed Daniel, and held the kyng that he ſhould not goe in, and ſayd, Beholde the pauement, marke wel, whoſe footeſteppes are theſe?

19 The king ſayd, I ſee the footeſteps of men, women, and chyldren.

20 Therefore the king was angry, and toke the prieſtes, with their wiues & children: and they ſhewed him the priuie doozes where they came in, and dyd eate vp ſuche thinges as were vpon the aulter:

21 For the whiche cauſe the king ſlue them, and deliuered Bel into Daniels power, whiche deſtroyed him and his temple.

22 And in that ſame place there was a great Dragon, which they of Babylon worſhipped.

23 And the king ſaid vnto Daniel, Sayeſt thou that this is but a God of braſſe alſo? Loe, he liueth, he eateth and dzinketh, ſo that thou canſt not ſay that he is no lyuing God: therefore worſhip him.

24 Daniel ſaide vnto the king, I wyll worſhyp worſhyp the Lorde my God, he is the true lyuyng God: as for this, he is not the God of lyfe.

25 But geue me leaue, O kyng, and I ſhal deſtroy this Dragon without ſwoorde or ſtaffe. The kyng ſayde, I geue thee leaue.

26 Then Daniel tooke pytche, fat, and heary wooll, and dyd ſeethe them togeather, and made lumpes thereof, this he put in the Dragons mouth, and ſo the Dragon burſt in ſunder. And Daniel ſayde, Loe, there is he whom ye woorſhypped.

27 When they of Babylon heard that, they tooke great indignation, and geathered them togeather againſt the kyng, ſaying, The kyng is become a Iewe, and he hath deſtroyed Bel, he hath ſlayne the Dragon, and put the Prieſtes to death.

28 So they came to the kyng, and ſayd, Let vs haue Daniel, or elſe we wyll deſtroy thee and thyne houſe.

29 Nowe whē the kyng ſawe that they ruſhed in ſo ſore vppon him, and that neceſſitie conſtrayned him, he delyuered Daniel vnto them:

30 Whiche caſt him into the Lions denne, where he was ſyxe dayes.

31 In the denne there were ſeuen Lions, and they had geuen them euery day two bodyes, and two ſhepe: which then were not geuen them, to the intent that they myght deuoure Daniel.

32 There was in Iurie a prophete called Habacuc, whiche had made pottage, and broken bread in a bowle, and was goyng into the fielde for to bryng it to the Reapers.

33 But the angell of the Lord ſayd vnto Habacuc, Goe carry the meate that thou haſt, into Babylon, vnto Daniel, whiche is in the Lions denne.

34 And Habacuc ſaid, Lord I neuer ſawe Babylon, & as for the denne I knowe it not.

35 ‖ Then the angel of the Lord tooke him by the toppe, and bare him by the heare of the head, and through a mightie wynd ſet him in Babylon vpon the denne. Ezech. 8. 3.

36 And Habacuc cried, ſaying, O Daniel, thou ſeruaunt of GOD, haue, take the [a] breakefaſt that God hath ſent thee. [a] or, dinner.

37 And Daniel ſayde, O God, haſt thou thought vppon me? well, thou neuer fayleſt them that loue thee.

38 So Daniel aroſe, and dyd eate. And the angell of the Lorde ſet Habacuc in his owne place agayne immediately.

39 Vpon the ſeuenth day the king went to beweepe Daniel: and when he came to the denne, he looked in, and beholde, Daniel ſate in the myddeſt of the Lions.

40 Then cryed the kyng with a loude voice, ſaying, Great art thou O Lord God of Daniel, and there is none other beſides thee.

41 And he drewe him out of the Lions denne, and caſt thoſe that were the cauſe of his deſtruction into the denne, and they were deuoured in a moment before his face.

42 After this wrote the kyng vnto all people, kinredes, and tongues, that dwelt in al countreyes,

43 Saying, Peace be multiplyed with you: My commaundement is in all the dominion of my realme, that men feare and ſtande in awe of Daniels God, for he is the lyuyng God, whiche endureth euer:

34 His kyngdome abideth vncorrupt, & his power is euerlaſtyng.

35 It is he that can delyuer & ſaue, he doeth woonders and marueilous woorkes in heauen and in earth: for he hath ſaued Daniel from the power of the Lions.

The prayer of Manaſſes king of Iuda, when he was holden captiue in Babylon.

O Lorde almyghtie, God of our fathers, Abraham, Iſahac, and Jacob, and of the ryghteous ſeede of them, whiche haſt made heauen and earth, with al the ornament thereof, whiche haſt [a] ordeyned the ſea by the woorde of thy commaundement, whiche haſt ſhut vp the deepe, and haſt ſealed it for thy fearefull and laudable name, whiche all men feare, and tremble before the face of thy power, and not for the anger of thy threatnyng, the whiche is importable to ſinners, but the mercy of thy promyſe is great and vnſearchable: for thou art the Lorde God moſt hygh aboue al the earth, long ſufferyng, and exceedyng mercyful, and repentaunt vpon the malice of men: thou Lorde after thy goodneſſe haſt promyſed repentaunce of the remiſſion of ſinnes, and thou that art the God of the ryghteous, haſt not put repentaunce to the ryghteous Abraham, Iſahac, and Jacob, vnto them that haue not ſinned againſt thee: but becauſe I haue ſinned aboue the number of the ſandes of the ſea, and that myne iniquities are multiplyed, I am [b] humbled with many bandes of iron, and there is in me no breathyng, I haue prouoked thyne anger, and haue doone euyl before thee, in committyng abominations, and multiplying offences: and nowe I bowe the knees of my hart, requyryng goodneſſe of thee, O Lorde. I haue ſinned Lorde, I haue ſinned, and knowe myne iniquitie. I delyre thee by prayer, O Lorde forgeue me, forgeue me, and deſtroy me not with myne iniquities, neyther doo thou alwayes remember myne euyls to punyſhe them: but ſaue me, (which am vnworthy) after thy great mercy, & I wyl praiſe thee euerlaſtyngly al the dayes of my lyfe: for al the power of heauen praiſeth thee, and vnto thee belongeth glory, world without ende. A neceſſarie Table for the knowledge of the ſtate of Iuda, from the begynnyng of the Monarchie of the Grekes (where the Table that we haue ſet foorth vpon Eſdras endeth) vntyl the death and Paſſion of Ieſus Chriſte.

¶ The.70. weekes fore-ſhewed. Dan.9.

THE Angel of the Lord ſent to Daniel, ſayd, that it was ſeuentie weekes of yeeres, that is to ſay, ſeuentie times ſeuen, whiche commeth to.490. from the geuing forth of the commaundement that Hieruſalem ſhoulde be buylded agayne and reſtored, vntyl Chriſt the prince. This commaundement was geuen forth by the mouth of Darius Longhande, Monarche of the Perſians, the yeere of his raigne, as it is wrytten in Nehemias.2. Therefore the ſayd ſeuentie weekes ought to begyn there, though al agree not therein: for ſome begyn it in the ſeconde yeere of the ſayd Darius: other, the firſt yere of Cyrus. So that from the begynnyng of the ſayd weekes, tyll the time that Alexander vſurped the Monarchie, we recken foure yeeres & eyghteene weekes, which maketh.130. yeeres. To ſhewe the verifiyng of the ſayd weekes, accordyng to the aforeſayde prophecie of Daniel.9. we wyll propoſition them with the yeeres in whiche the kynges of Syria (ſet here in order on the ryght ſyde) haue ended their kingdome eache of them in order.

¶ The Monarchie of the Grekes.

ALexander the great, ſonne to Philip kyng of Macedo. conquered the Monarchie of the Perſians from Darius, the.192. yeere of Cyrus the firſt Monarche, and tranſported it to the Grekes: he raigned fyue whole yeeres, and the ſeuenth dyed, leauyng dyuers ſucceſſours, to whom he diuided the ſayde Monarchie before his death, that is, the Kyngdomes of Syria, Aſia, Egypte, and Macedonia. We wyll here treate of his ſucceſſours the Kinges of Syria onely, becauſe the Scripture maketh mention thereof, and maketh the ſupputation of the yeeres by the tyme that the ſayde Kynges raigned, begynnyng at the firſt, as appeareth in the firſt booke of the Machabees. And we wyl orderly ſet their names, and the time that eche of them hath raigned, to conferre them with the number of the weekes placed on the left ſyde of this Table, to thend the ſaid wekes may be verified, & that the prophecy of Daniel may be plainly vnderſtoode, touching the commyng and death of our ſauiour Chriſt.

The first booke of the Machabees.

¶ The first Chapter.

1. After the death of Alexander the king of Macedonia, 11. Antiochus taketh the kingdome.

AFter that Alexander king of Macedonia, sonne of Philip, went foorth of the lande of "Cethim, and a slue Darius kyng of the Persians and Medes, and raigned for hym, as he had done before in Grecia:

2 It happened that he toke great warres in hande, wanne very many strong cities, and slue many kynges of the earth,

3 Goeyng through to the endes of the worlde, and geattyng many spoyles of the people, insomuch that the whole world stoode in awe of hym, and therefore was he proude in his hart.

4 b Nowe when he had geathered a mightie strong host,

5 And subdued the landes and people, with theyr princes, so that they became tributaries vnto hym,

6 Then he fel sicke, and when he perceiued that he must needes dye,

7 He called for his noble estates, which had ben brought vp with hym of chyldren, and parted his kingdome among them while he was yet aliue.

8 So Alexander raigned twelue yeeres, and then dyed.

9 c After his death fell the kyngdome vnto his pynces, and they obteyned it euery one in his roome,

10 And caused them selues to be crowned as kinges: and so did their children after them many yeeres, and muche wyckednesse increased in the worlde.

11 Out of these came the vngratious roote "noble Antiochus, the sonne of Antiochus the kyng, whiche had ben a pledge at Rome: and he raigned in the hundred thirtie and seuen yeere of the empire of the Grekes.

12 d In those dayes went there out of Israel wycked men, whiche moued muche people with theyr counsel, saying, Let vs goe and make a couenant with the heathen that are rounde about vs: for since we departed from them, we haue had much sorow.

13 So this deuice pleased them wel.

14 e And certayne of the people tooke vpon them for to goe vnto the kyng, whiche gaue them license to do after the ordinance of the heathen.

15 f Then set they vp an open schoole at Hierusalem, of the lawes of the heathen:

16 g And made them selues vncircumcised, but forsoke the holy testament, and ioyned them selues to the heathen, and were cleane solde to do mischiefe.

17 So when Antiochus began to be mightie in his kingdome, he went about to obteyne the lande of Egypt also, that he might haue the dominion of two Realmes.

18 Vpon this entred he into Egypt with a strong host, with charrettes, Elephantes, horsemen, and a great number of shyppes, 19 h And began to warre against Ptolome the kyng of Egypt: but Ptolome was afrayde of hym, and fledde, and many of his people were wounded to death.

20 Thus Antiochus wanne many strong cities in Egypt, and tooke away great good out of the lande of Egypt.

21 And after that Antiochus had smitten Egypt, he turned againe in the hundred fourtie and three yeere, and went towarde Israel,

22 And came to Hierusalem with a mightie people,

23 And entred proudly into the sanctuarie, and tooke away the golden aulter, the candelsticke, and al the ornamentes thereof, the table of the shewe breed, the powring vessels, the chargers, the golden spoones, the bayle, the crownes, and golden apparel of the temple, and brake downe all in peeces.

24 He tooke also the syluer and golde, the pretious iewelles, and the secrete treasures that he founde.

25 And when he had taken away altogeather, caused a great murder of men, and spoken very proudly, he departed vnto his owne lande.

26 Therefore there was great lamentation throughout al Israel.

27 The princes and the elders of the people mourned, the young men and the maidens were "defiled, and the fayre beautie of women was changed,

28 The bridegrome and the bride toke them to mournyng,

29 The land and those that dwelt therin was moued: for al the house of Jacob was brought to confusion.

30 i After two yeeres the kyng sent his cheefe treasurer vnto the cities of Juda, whiche came to Hierusalem with a great multitude of people,

31 Speaking peaceable wordes vnto them, but al was deceyt: for when they had geuen hym credence, 32 He fell sodenly vpon the citie, and smote it sore, and destroyed much people of Israel.

33 And when he had spoiled the citie, he set fyre on it, castyng downe houses and walles on euery side.

34 The women and theyr children toke they captiue, and led away their cattel.

35 Then builded they the citie of Dauid with a great and thicke wal, and with mightie towres, and made it a strong holde for them.

36 Beside all this, they set wicked people, and vngodly men to keepe it, 37 Stored it with weapons and victuelles, geathered the goodes of Hierusalem, and layde them vp there: thus became it a theeuishe cattel.

38 Thus they became a heauie burden, laying wayte for the people that went into the sanctuarie, and for the cruel destruction of Israel.

39 Thus they shed innocent blood on euery side of the sanctuarie, and defiled it:

40 Insomuch, that the citizens were fayne to depart, and the citie became an habitation of strangers, beyng desolate of her owne seede: for her owne natiues were faine to leaue her.

41 Her sanctuarie was cleane wasted, her holy dayes were turned into mourning, her sabbothes were had in derision, and her honour brought to nought.

42 k Looke howe great her glory was before, so great was her confusion, and her ioy turned into sorowe.

43 Antiochus also the king sent out a commission vnto al his kingdome, that all the people shoulde be one.

44 Then they leaft euery man his lawe, and all the heathen agreed to the commaundement of king Antiochus:

45 Yea, many of the Israelites consented thereunto, offeryng vnto idols, and defiyng the Sabboth.

46 So the king Antiochus sent his messengers with his commission vnto Hierusalem, and to all the cities of Juda, that they shoulde folowe the lawes of the heathen:

47 And forbad the whole burnt offering, meate offering, or peace offeryng to be made in the temple of God, and that there should no Sabboth nor high day be kept:

48 But cõmaunded that the sanctuarie & the holy people of Israel shoulde be defyled:

49 He commaunded also, that there should be set vp aulters, temples, and idols, to offer vp swines flesh, and vncleane beastes,

50 That men shoulde leaue their children vncircumcised, to defyle their soules with all maner of vncleannesse and abominations:

51 That they might so forget the lawe, and change al the holy ordinances of God, 65 And that whosoeuer woulde not do accordyng to the commaundement of kyng Antiochus, should suffer death.

53 In lyke maner commaunded he throughout all his realme, and set rulers ouer the people, for to compell them to doo these thinges:

54 Commaunding al the cities of Juda to doo sacrifice vnto idols.

55 Then went the people vnto the heathen by heapes, forsooke the law of the Lord, and committed much euil in the lande:

56 And they droue the Israelites into secret places, euen whereseoeuer they coulde flee for succour.

57 The fiftieth day of the moneth Casleu, in the hundred threescore and fift yeere, set king Antiochus an abominable idol of desolation vpon the aulter of God, and they builded aulters throughout all the cities of Juda on euery side, " " November

58 Before the doores of the houses, and in the streetes, where they burnt incense and dyd sacrifice.

59 And as for the bookes of the lawe of God, they burnt them in the fyre, and rent them in peeces. l. It is a manifest note of the enimies of god, to burne the bookes of the lawe. Histo. ecclesiasti. lib. 8. Cap. 2.

60 Whatsoeuer he was that had a booke of the testament of the Lorde found by him, yea who so euer endeuoured him self to keepe the lawe of the Lorde, the kinges commaundement was, that they shoulde put hym to death. * Iosephus. li. 12. cap. 6. & 7.

61 And throughout his auctoritie they executed these thinges euery moneth, vpon the people of Israel that were founde in the cities.

62 The twentie and fifth day of the moneth, what tyme as they dyd sacrifice vpon the aulter, which stoode in the steade of the aulter of the Lorde:

63 According to the commaundement of king Antiochus, they put certayne women to death, which had caused theyr children to be circumcised:

64 Not onely that, but they hanged vp the children by the neckes throughout all their houses, & slue the circumcisers of them:

65 Yet were there many of the people of Israel, which determined in them selues that they would not eate vncleane thinges: but chose rather to suffer death, then to be defyled with vncleane meates.

66 So because they would not breake þ blessed law of god, they were cruelly slaine.

67 And this great tyrannie encreased very sore vpon the people of Israel.

¶ The .ii. Chapter.

The Mourning of Mathathias and his ſonnes for the deſtruction of the holy citie.

IN thoſe dayes there vpp ſtande vp one Mathathias the ſonne of Johñ, the ſonne of Simeon the prieſt, out of the kinrede of Joarib, from Hieruſalem, and dwelt vppon the mount of Modin,

2 And had fyue ſonnes: Johñ called Gaddis,

3 Simon called Thaſi,

4 Judas, otherwyſe called Machabeus,

5 Eleazar, otherwiſe called Abaron, and Jonathan, whoſe ſirname was Apphus.

6 Theſe ſawe the euil that was done among the people of Juda and Hieruſalem.

7 And Mathathias ſayd, Wo is me, alas that euer I was bozne, to ſee this miſerie of my people, and the piteous deſtruction of the holy citie, and thus to ſit ſo ſtyl, it being deliuered into the handes of the enimies.

8 Her ſanctuarie is come into the power of ſtrangers, her temple is as it were a man that hath loſt his good name:

9 Her pzetious ozn amentes are caried away captiue, her olde men are ſlayne in the ſtreetes, and her young men are fallen thzough the ſwoozde of the enimies.

10 What people is it that hath not ſome poſſeſſion in her kingdome? oz who hath not gotten ſome of her ſpoyles?

11 All her glozy is taken away, ſhe was a free woman, and nowe ſhe is become an handmayde.

12 Beholde our ſanctuarie, our beautie and honour is waſted away, and defyled by the Gentiles.

13 What helpeth it vs then to liue?

14 And Mathathias rent his clothes, he and his ſonnes, and put ſackcloth vpon them, and mourned very ſoze.

15 Then came the men thyther, whiche were ſent of king Antiochus, to compel ſuch as were fled into the citie of Modin, foz to do ſacrifice, and to burne incenſe vnto idols, and to fozſake the lawe of God.

16 So many of the people of Iſrael conſented and enclined vnto them: but Mathathias and his ſonnes remayned ſtedfaſt.

17 Then ſpake the Commiſſioners of king Antiochus, and ſayd vnto Mathathias, Thou art a noble man, of high reputation, and great in this citie, hauyng many ſayre childzen and bzethzen.

18 Come thou therefoze firſt, and fulfil the kynges commaundement, lyke as al the heathen haue done, yea, and the men of Juda, and ſuch as remayne at Hieruſalem, ſo ſhalt thou and thy childzen be in the kynges fauour, and enriched with golde, ſiluer, and great rewardes.

19 Mathathias anſweared, and ſpake with a loude voyce, Though al natiõs obey the king Antiochus, and fal away euery man from keeping the lawe of their fathers, though they conſent to his commaundementes:

20 a Yet wyl I and my ſonnes and my bzethzẽ not fal from the lawes of our fathers, 21 GOD fozbid we ſhoulde: that were not good foz vs that we ſhoulde fozſake the lawe and ozdinances of God, and to agree vnto the commaundement of king Antiochus.

22 Therefoze we wyl do no ſuch ſacrifice, neyther bzeake the ſtatutes of our lawe, to goe another way.

23 And when he had ſpoken theſe wozdes, there came one of the Jewes, which openly in the ſight of all did ſacrifices vnto the idols vpon the aulter in the citie of Modin, accozdyng to the kinges commaundement.

24 When Mathathias ſawe this, it greeued b him at the hart, ſo that his raines ſhoke withal, and his wzath kyndled foz very zeale of the lawe: with that he ſtart vp, and killed the Jewe beſide the aulter,

25 Yea and ſlue the kinges Commiſſioner that compelled him to do ſacrifice, and deſtroyed the aulter at the ſame tyme:

26 || Such zeale had he vnto the law of God, lyke as Phinehes dyd vnto Zambzi the ſonne of Salomi.

27 And Mathathias cryed with a loude voyce thzough the citie, ſayeing, Who ſo is feruent in the law, and wyl keepe the couenant, let him folowe me.

28 So he and his ſonnes fled into the mountaynes, and left all that euer they had in the citie.

29 Many other godly men alſo whiche lyued iuſtly and vpzightly, departed into the wyldernes, with theyz childzen, theyz wiues, and theyz cattell, and remayned theres foz the tyzannie increaſed ſoze vppon them.

30 Nowe when the kynges ſeruantes, and the hoſt which was at Hieruſalem in the citie of Dauid, heard that certayne men had bzoken the kynges commaundement, and were gone their way to the wyldernes into ſecrete places:

31 Then many purſued after them, and after they had ouertaken them, they camped them ſelues, and ſet the battayle in aray againſt them in the ſabboth day, 32 And ſayde vnto them, Wyll ye yet rebell? Geat you hence, and doo the commaundement of kyng Antiochus, and ye ſhal lyue.

33 They

33 They answeared, We wil not goe for thee, neyther will we do the kinges commaundement, to defile the Sabboth day.

34 Then began they to fyght agaynst them:

35 But the other gaue them none other answeare, neyther cast they one stone at them, nor made fast theyr priuie places:

36 But said, We wil dye al in our innocencie, heauen and earth shal testifie with vs that ye put vs to death wrongfully.

37 Thus they fought against them vpon the Sabboth, and slue both men and cattel, theyr wiues and their children, to the number of a thousand people.

38 When Mathathias and his frendes heard this, they mourned for the right sore, 39 And said one to another, If so be that we all do as our brethren haue done, & fight not for our liues, and for our lawes agaynst the heathen, then shall they the sooner roote vs out of the earth.

40 So they concluded among them selues at the same tyme, saying,

41 What so euer he be that commeth to make battayle with vs vpon the Sabboth day, we wyl fyght against him, and not dye all as our brethren that were murdered in the wyldernesse.

42 Upon this came the assemblie of the Assideans vnto them, whiche were of the strongest men in Israel, and al such as were feruent in the lawe:

43 And al they that were fled for persecution came to helpe them, and to stande by them:

44 Insomuche that they geathered an host of men, & slue the wicked doers in theyr ielousie, & the vngodly men in theyr wrath: but the rest fled vnto the heathen, & escaped.

45 Then Mathathias and his frendes went about, and destroyed the aulters,

46 And circumcised the children that had not yet receiued circumcision, as many as they founde within the coastes of Israel:

47 And followed mightily vpon ꝑ proud men: and this act prospered in their handes.

48 Insomuche that they kept the lawe agaynst the power of the gentiles and the kynges, and gaue not ouer their dominion vnto wycked doers.

49 After this, when the time drewe on fast that Mathathias shoulde dye, he sayde vnto his sonnes, Nowe is pryde and persecution increased, nowe is the time of destruction and wrathful displeasure:

50 Wherefore, O my sonnes, be ye feruent in the lawe, and ieoparde your lyues for the testament of the fathers.

51 Cal to remembrance what actes our fathers dyd in theyr tyme, so shall ye receiue great honour, and an euerlastyng name.

52 ||Remember Abraham: was not he founde faythfull in temptation, and it was reckoned vnto him for ryghteousnesse? ||Gene. 22.9.

53 ||Joseph in tyme of his trouble kept the commaundement, and was made a lorde of Egypt. ||Gen. 41.40. Num. 25.15.

54 ||Phinehes our father was for feruent for the honour of God, that he obteyned the couenant of an euerlasting priesthood. ||Eccl. 45.28

55 ||Josuah for fulfyllyng the worde of God, was made the captayne of Israel. ||Josu. 1. 2. Num. 14.6.

56 ||Caleb bare recorde before the congregation, and receiued an heritage. ||Josu. 14.13.

57 ||Dauid also in his mercifull kyndnesse, obteyned the throne of an euerlastyng kyngdome. ||2. Reg. 2.4.

58 ||Elias beyng zelous and feruent in the lawe, was taken vp into heauen. ||4. Reg. 2.11

59 ||Ananias, Azarias, and Misael, remayned stedfast in fayth, and were deliuered out of the fyre. ||Dani. 3.16.

60 ||In like manner Daniel being vngiltie, was saued frō the mouth of the lions. ||Dan. 6.22.

61 And thus ye may consyder thorowout al ages synce ꝑ world began, that whosoeuer put theyr trust in God, were not ouercome.

62 Feare not ye then the wordes of an vngodly man, for his glory is but doung and wormes:

63 To day he is set vp, and to morowe he is gone: for he is turned into earth, and his memorial is come to nought.

64 Wherefore, O my sonnes, take good harte vnto you, and quite your selues lyke men in the lawe: for yt ye do the thyngs that are commaunded you in the law of the Lord your God, ye shal obteine great honour therin.

65 And beholde, I know that your brother Simon is a man of wysedome: see that ye geue eare vnto hym alway, he shalbe a father vnto you.

66 As for Judas Machabeus, he hath euer ben mightie and strong from his youth vp: let hym be your captayne, and order the battayle of the people.

67 Thus shall ye bryng vnto you all those that fauour the lawe, and see that ye auenge the wrong of your people, 68 And recompence the heathen againe, and applye your selues wholly to the commaundement of the lawe.

69 So he gaue them his blessyng, and was layde vp his fathers, 70 And dyed in the hundred fourtie and sixth yeere at Modin, where his sonnes buried him in his fathers sepulchre, and al Israel made great lamentation for hym.

The.iii. Chapter.

1. Iudas is made ruler ouer the Ievves.
11. He killeth Apollonius and Seron the princes of Syria.

Iosephus, cap. 8 & 9. 10. 11. 12. Lat.

THen stoode vp Iudas Machabeus in his fathers steade,

2 And al his brethren helped hym, and so did al they that helde with his father, and fought with chearefulnesse for Israel.

3 So Iudas gate his people great honour: he put on a brestplate as a Giant, and arayed hym selfe with his harnesse, and defended the host with his sworde.

4 In his actes he was like a Lion, and as a Lions whelpe rorying at his pray.

5 He was an enimie to the wicked, and hunted them out, and brent vp those that vexed his people:

6 So that his enimies fled for feare of him, and al the workers of vngodlinesse were put to trouble: suche lucke and prosperitie was in his hande.

7 This greeued diuers kinges: but Iacob was greatly reioyced through his actes, and he gate hym selfe a great name for euer.

8 He went through the cities of Iuda, destroying the vngodly out of them, turning away the wrath from Israel, 9 And receiuing suche as were oppressed: and the fame of him went vnto the vttermost part of the earth.

10 Then Appolonius a prince of Syria, geathered a mighty great host of the heathē, and out of Samaria, to fight against Israel:

11 Whiche when Iudas perceiued, he went forth to meete him, fought with hym, slue him, and a great multitude with hym: the remnant fled, and he toke their substance.

12 Iudas also tooke Appollonius owne sworde, and fought with it al his lyfe long.

13 Nowe when Seron, a prynce of the armie of Syria, hearde say that Iudas had geathered vnto hym the congregation and churche of the faythfull.

14 He sayd, I wyl geat me a name and a prayse throughout the Realme: for I wyl goe fyght with Iudas & them that are with hym, as many as haue despised the kynges commaundement.

15 So he made hym redy, and there went with him a great mightie host of the vngodly to stande by hym, and to be auenged of the children of Israel.

16 And when they came nygh vnto Bethoron, Iudas went forth agaynst them with a smal company.

17 And when his people sawe suche a great host before them, they said vnto Iudas, Howe are we able, beyng so fewe, to fyght agaynst so great a multitude and so strong, seeing we be so weery, and haue fasted al this day?

18 But Iudas sayde, It is a smal matter for many to be ouercome with few: yea there is no difference to the God of heauen, to deliuer by a great multitude, or by a small company:

19 For the victorie of the battaile standeth not in the multitude of the host, but the strength commeth from heauen.

20 Behold, they come against vs with a cruel and proude multitude, to destroy vs, our wiues, and our children, and to robbe vs:

21 But we wyl fyght for our liues, and for our lawes,

22 And the Lorde hym selfe shal destroy them before our face: therefore be not ye afrayde of them.

23 As soone as he had spoken these wordes, he lept sodainly vpon them: Thus was Seron smitten, and his host put to flyght, 24 And Iudas folowed vpon them beyond Bethoron, vnto the playne feeld, where there were slaine eight hundred men of them, and the residue fled into the land of the Philistines.

Ioseph. cap. 10. lib. anti.

25 Then all the heathen on euery syde were afrayde of Iudas and his brethren:

26 So that the " rumour of him came vnto the kynges eares, for all the Gentiles coulde tel of the warres of Iudas.

" Or, fame.

27 So whē king Antiochus heard these tydinges, he was angry in his minde: wherefore he sent forth, and geathered an host of his whole realme, very strong armies:

28 And opened his treasurie, and gaue his host a yeeres wages in hande, commaunding them to be redy at al times.

29 Neuertheless, when he sawe that there was not money enough in his treasuries, and that through the discorde and persecution whiche he made in the lande, to put downe the lawes that had ben of olde times, his customes and tributes of the land were minished:

30 He feared that he was not able for to beare the costes and charges any longer, nor to haue such gyftes to geue so liberally as he did afore, more then the kynges that were before hym.

31 Wherefore he was heauie in his minde, and thought to goe vnto Persides, for to take tributes of the land, and so to geather muche money.

32 So he left Lysias, a noble man of the kinges blood, to ouersee the kinges businesse, from the water Euphrates, vnto the borders of Egypt:

33 And to keepe well his sonne Antiochus tyl he came agayne.

34 Moreouer, he gaue him halfe of his hoast, and Elephantes, and committed vnto him euery thing, and gaue him the charge of al thinges that he woulde haue done, concernyng those which dwelt in Iuda and Hierusalem.

35 That he shoulde sende out an armie agaynst them, to destroy and to roote out the power of Israel, and the remnant of Hierusalem, to put out their memorial from that place:

36 To set strangers for to inhabite all their quarters, and to part their lande among them.

37 Thus the king tooke the other part of the hoast, and departed from Antioche, a citie of his realme, ouer the water Euphrates, in the hundred and fourtie and seuen yeere, and went through the high countreys, Ioseph. cap. 10. lib. anti. 38 And Lysias choose vnto him Ptolome the sonne of Dorymenius, Nicanor, and Gorgias, mightie men, & the kinges frends.

39 These he sent with fourtie thousand footemen, and seuen thousande horsemen, for to goe into the lande of Iuda, and to destroy it, as the king commaunded.

40 So they went forth with al their power, and came to Emmaus into the plaine fielde.

41 When the marchantes of the countrey hearde the rumour of them, they and their seruantes tooke very much siluer and golde, for to buye the children of Israel to be their bondmen: there came vnto them also yet moe men of warre on euery side, out of Syria, and from the Palestines.

42 Nowe when Iudas and his brethren saw that trouble encreased, and that the host drue nygh vnto their borders, considering the kynges woordes whiche he commaunded vnto the people, namely that they should vterly wast and destroy them:

43 They said one to another, Let vs redresse the decaye of our people, let vs fyght for our folke, and for our sanctuary.

44 Then the congregation were soone ready geathered to fyght, to praye, and to make supplication vnto GOD for mercy and grace.

45 As for Hierusalem it laye voide, and was as it had ben a wildernesse: there went no man in nor out at it, and the sanctuarie was troden downe, the aliantes kept the castle, there was the habitation of the heathen, the myrth of Iacob was taken away, the pype and the harpe was gone from among them.

46 The Israelites geathered them together, and came to Maspha before Hierusalem: for in Maspha was the place where they prayed aforetime in Israel.

47 So they fasted that day, and put sackclothes vpon them, cast asshes vpon their heades, rent their clothes,

48 And layde forth the bookes of the lawe, whereout the heathen sought to paynt the lykenesse of their images,

49 And brought the priestes ornamentes, the firstlinges, and the tithes: they set there also the Nazarites, which had accomplished their "vowes before God:

" or, dayes.

50 And cryed with a loude voyce towarde heauen, saying, What shal we do with these? and whyther shal we cary them away?

51 For thy sanctuarie is troden downe and defyled, the priestes are come to heauinesse and dishonour.

52 And beholde, the heathen are come togeather for to destroye vs: thou knowest what thinges they imagine agaynst vs.

53 Howe may we stand before them except thou (O God) be our helpe?

54 Then they blewe out the trumpet also with a loude voyce.

55 Then Iudas ordeyned captaynes ouer the people, ouer thousandes, ouer hundredes, ouer fyftie, and ouer ten.

56 || But as for such as builded them houses, maryed wyues, planted them vineyardes, and those that were fearefull, he commaunded them euery man to goe home agayne accoyding to the lawe.

||Deut. 20. 5. Iudic. 7. 3.

57 So the hoast remoued, and pitched vpon the South syde of Emmaus.

58 And Iudas sayde, Arme your selues, be strong, O my children, make you redy agaynst to morowe in the morning, that ye may fight with these people, which are agreed togeather to destroy vs and our sanctuarye.

59 Better is it for vs to dye in battaile, then to see our people and our sanctuarie in such a miserable case.

60 Neuertheles, as thy wyl is, O God in heauen, so be it.

¶ The. iiii. Chapter.

Iudas goeth agaynst Gorgias, which heth in vvayte.

THen tooke Gorgias fyue thousand men of foote, and a thousande of the best horsemen, and remoued out of the campe by nyght, Ioseph. li. 12 cap. 10.

2 To come nygh where the Iewes host lay, and so to slay them sodaynly: (Now the men that kept the castle, were the conueyers of them.)

3 Now whē Iudas heard this, he remo-ned, and all the ſtrong men that were with him, to ſmite the cheefe and principal of the kinges hoſt at Emmaus:

4 For the armie was not yet come together.

5 In the meane ſeaſon came Gorgias by night vnto Judas tentes, and when he founde no man there, he ſought them in the mountaynes, and thought they had been fled away becauſe of him.

6 But when it was day, Judas ſhewed him ſelfe in the fielde with three thouſande men onely, which had neyther harneſſe, nor ſwoordes to their mindes.

7 But on the other ſyde they ſawe that the Heathen were mightie and wel harneſſed, and their horſemen about them, and all theſe wel expert in feates of warre.

8 Then ſayde Judas to the men that were with him, Feare not ye the multitude of the, be not afraid of their violent running.

||Exod.14.9. 9 || Remember howe our fathers were deliuered in the red ſea, when Pharao followed vpon them with a great hoaſt.

10 Euen ſo let vs alſo crye nowe towarde heauen, and the Lord ſhal haue mercy vpon vs, and remember the couenant of our fathers, yea and deſtroy this hoaſt before our face this day:

11 And all the heathen ſhal knowe that it is God hym ſelfe which deliuereth and ſaueth Iſrael.

12 Then the heathen lyft vp their eyes, and when they ſaw that they were comming againſt them, 13 They went out of their tentes into the battayle, and they that were with Judas blewe vp the trumpettes.

14 So they buckled togeather, and the heathen were diſcomfyted, and fled ouer the playne fielde:

15 But the hindmoſte of them were ſlaine with the ſwoord: for they followed them vnto

[u] or, Gazeron. [u] Aſſaremoth, & into the fieldes of Idumea towarde Azot and Jamnia: ſo that there were ſlaine of them vpon a three thouſande men.

16 So Judas turned againe with his hoſt,

17 And ſaide vnto the people, Be not greedy of ꝑ ſpoiles, we haue yet a bataile to fight.

18 For Gorgias and his hoaſt are here by vs in the mountaines, but ſtande ye faſt againſt our enimies, and ouercome them, then may ye ſafely take the ſpoyles.

19 As Judas was ſpeaking theſe woordes, beholde there appeared one part of them vpon the mount.

20 But when Gorgias ſawe that they of his partie were fledde, and the tentes brent vp (for by the ſmoke they myght vnderſtande what was doone) they perceyuyng this, were very ſore afrayde:

21 And when they ſawe alſo that Judas and his hoaſt were in the fielde redy to ſtryke battayle, 22 They fled euery one into the lande of the heathen.

23 So Judas turned againe to ſpoyle the tentes, where they gate much golde and ſiluer, precious ſtones, purple, and great riches.

24 Thus they went home, and ſong a Pſalme of thankeſgeuyng, and prayſed God in heauen: For he is gratious, and his mercye endureth for euer.

25 And ſo Iſrael had a great victorie in that day.

26 Nowe all the heathen that eſcaped, came and tolde Lyſias euery thing that had happened.

27 Wherfore Lyſias was ſore afraid, & greeued in his minde, becauſe Iſrael had not gotten ſuch miſfortune as he woulde they ſhould, neither as the king commaunded.

28 The nexte yeere folowyng, geathered Lyſias three ſcore thouſande choſen men of foote, and fyue thouſand horſemen, to fight againſt Hieruſalem.

29 So they came into Jurie, and pitched their tentes at Bethoron: where Judas came againſt them with ten thouſande men.

30 And when he ſawe ſo great and mightie an hoaſt, he made his prayer, and ſayde, Bleſſed be thou O ſauiour of Iſrael, || which dyddſt deſtroy the violent power of the gyant in the hande of thy ſeruant Dauid, || and gaueſt the hoaſt of the heathen into the hande of Jonathan the ſonne of Saul, and of his harneſſe bearer: ||1.Re.17.1 ||1.Re.14.1

31 Put this hoaſt nowe into the hande of thy people of Iſrael, and let them be confounded in their multitude and horſemen.

32 Make them afrayde, and diſcomfyte the boldneſſe of their ſtrength, that they may be mooued through their deſtruction.

33 Caſt them downe through the ſwoord of thy louers, then ſhall all they that knowe thy name, prayſe thee with thankeſgeuyng.

34 So they ſtroke the battaile, & there were ſlaine of Lyſias hoſt fiue thouſand mē.

35 Then Lyſias ſeeyng the diſcomfyting of his men, and the manlyneſſe of the Iewes, howe they were redy eyther to lyue or to die lyke men: he went vnto Antioch, and choſe out men of warre, that when they were geathered togeather, they might come agayne into Jurie.

36 Then ſayd Judas and his brethren, Behold, our enimies are diſcomfyted, let vs nowe goe vp to cleanſe and to repayre the ſanctuarie.

37 Vppon this all the hoaſt gathered them togeather, & went vp into mount Sion.

38 Nowe when they ſawe the ſanctuarie layde waſte, the aulter defiled, the dooꝛes brent vp, the ſhrubbes growyng in the courtes, lyke as in a wood, oꝛ vpon mountaynes, yea, and that the prieſtes chambers were broken downe.

39 They rent their clothes, & made great lamentation, caſt aſhes vppon their heads, 40 Fel downe flat to the grounde vppon their faces, made a great noyſe with the trumpets, and cryed towarde heauen.

41 Then Judas appoynted certayne men to fyght againſt thoſe which were in the caſtle, tyl they had cleanſed the ſanctuarie.

42 So he choſe prieſtes that were vndefiled, ſuch as had pleaſure in the law of God:

43 And they cleanſed the ſanctuarie, and bare out the defiled ſtones into an vncleane place.

44 And foꝛ ſo muche as the aulter of burnt offerynges was vnhalowed, he tooke aduiſement what he myght doo withal.

45 So he thought it beſt to deſtroy it, leſt it ſhoulde happen to doo them any ſhame, foꝛ the heathen had defiled it: and therefoꝛe they brake it downe.

46 As foꝛ the ſtones they layde them vp vpon the mountayne by the houſe in a conuenient place, tyl there came a prophete to ſhew what ſhoulde be done with them.

47 So they tooke whole ſtones, accoꝛdyng to the lawe, and buylded a newe aulter, ſuche one as was befoꝛe,

48 And made vp ỹ ſanctuarie within and without, and halowed the houſes & the courtes:

49 They made newe holy ornamentes, and brought the candleſticke, the aulter of incenſe, and the table, into the temple.

50 The incenſe layd they vpon the aulter, and lyghted the lampes which were vpon the candleſticke, that they myght burne in the temple:

51 They ſet the ſhewe bread vppon the table, and hanged vp the vaile, and finiſhed al the woꝛkes which they had begun to make.

52 And vppon the twentie and fifth day of the nienth moneth (whiche is called the moneth of [a] Caſleu) in the hundꝛed, fourtie, and eyght yeere:

53 They roſe vp betimes in the moꝛning, foꝛ to doo ſacrifice accoꝛding to the law, vpon the newe burnt offeryng aulter that they had made.

54 After the tyme and ſeaſon that the heathen had defiled it, the ſame day was it ſet vp agayne, with ſongues, pypes, harpes, and cymbales.

55 And al the people fel vpon theyꝛ faces, wooꝛſhypping and thanking the God of heauen, which had geuen them the victoꝛy.

56 So they kept the dedication of the aulter eyght dayes, offeryng burnt ſacrifices and thanke offerynges with gladneſſe:

57 They deckt the foꝛefrunt of the temple alſo with crownes and ſhieldes of golde, & halowed the poꝛtes & celles, and hanged doꝛes vpon them.

58 Thus there was very great gladneſſe among the people, becauſe the blaſphemie of the heathen was put away.

59 ‖ So Judas and his bꝛethꝛen, with the whole congregation of Iſrael, oꝛdeyned, that the tyme of the dedication of the aulter ſhoulde be kept in his ſeaſon from yeere to yeere, by the ſpace of eyght dayes, from the twentie and fyfth day of the moneth [a] Caſlue, with myrth and gladneſſe. ‖ Joh. 10.22 Nouember.

60 And at the ſame tyme buylded they vp the mount Sion, with hygh walles and ſtrong towꝛes round about, leſt the gentiles ſhould come & tread it down as they did afoꝛe.

61 Therefoꝛe Judas ſet men of warre in it, to keepe it, and made it ſtrong foꝛ to defende Bethſura, that the people might haue a refuge againſt the Edomites.

¶ The.v. Chapter.

Judas vanquyſheth the heathen that goe about to deſtroye Iſrael, and is holpen of his brethren Simon and Ionathas.

IT happened alſo, that when the heathen rounde about hearde howe that the aulter and the ſanctuarie were ſet vp in their old eſtate, it diſpleaſed them very ſoꝛe. Ioſeph.ca.xii Lib.xiii.

2 Wherefoꝛe they thought to deſtroy the generation of Jacob that was among them: in ſo much that they began to ſlay and to perſecute certayne of the people.

3 Then Judas fought againſt the chyldꝛen of Eſau in Idumea at Arabathane: foꝛ they dwelt round about the Iſraelites, wher he ſlue & ſpoyled a great multitude of them.

4 He thought alſo vpon the malice & vnfaithfulneſſe of the chyldꝛen of Bean, howe they were a ſnare & ſtop vnto the people, and how they layd waite foꝛ thē in the high way.

5 Wherefoꝛe he ſhut them vp into the towꝛes, and came vnto them, beſieged them, and deſtroyed them vtterly, & brent vp theyꝛ towꝛes, with all that were in them.

6 Afterwarde went he againſt the chyldꝛen of Ammon, wherof he founde a myghtie powꝛer, and a great multitude of people with Timothi theyꝛ captayne.

7 So he ſtroke many battayles with them, which were deſtroyed befoꝛe hym.

8 And when he had ſlaine them, he wan

Gazer

Gazer the citie, with the townes belonging thereto, and so turned againe into Iurie.

9 The heathen also in Galaad geathered them togeather against the Israelites that were in theyr quarters, to slay them: but they fledde to the castle of Datheman,

10 And sent letters vnto Judas and his brethren, saying, The heathen that are about vs, are geathered against vs on euery side, to destroy vs:

11 And nowe they make them redy for to come and laye siege to the castle whereunto we are fledde, and Timothi is captayne of theyr hoast.

12 Come therefore, and deliuer vs out of theyr handes, for there is a great multitude of vs slayne alredy.

13 Yea and our brethren that were at Tubin are slayne and destroyed, welnigh a thousande men, and theyr wyues, theyr children, and theyr goods haue the enimies ledde away captiue.

14 While these letters were yet a reading, beholde there came other messengers from Galilee with rent clothes, whiche told euen the same tydynges, 15 And sayde, that they of Ptolemais, of Tyrus, and of Sidon, were geathered against them, and that all Galilee was filled with *enimies to destroy Israel.

*or, strangers.

16 When Judas and the people hearde this, they came togeather a great congregation, to deuise what they might doo for theyr brethren that were in trouble, and besieged of theyr enimies.

17 And Judas sayde vnto Simon his brother, Choose thee out certaine men, & goe, deliuer thy brethren in Galilee: as for me and my brother Jonathas, we wyl goe into Galaaditim.

18 So he left Josephus the sonne of Zachari, and Azarias to be captaynes of the people, to keepe the remnant of the hoast in Iurie, 19 And cõmaunded them, saying, Take the ouersyght of this people, and see that ye make no warre against the heathen, vntyll the tyme that we come againe.

20 And vnto Simon he gaue three thousand men, for to goe into Galilee: but Judas him selfe had eyght thousand in Galaaditim.

21 Then went Simon into Galilee, and stroke diuers battayles, with the heathẽ, whom he discomfited, 22 And folowed vpon them into the port of Ptolemais: and there were slayne of the heathen almost three thousand men.

23 So he tooke the spoyles of them, and caryed away the Israelites that were in Galilee and Arbatis, with theyr wyues, theyr children, and al that they had, and brought them into Iurie with great gladnesse.

24 Judas Machabeus also, and his brother Jonathas, went ouer Jordane, and trauailed three dayes iourney in the wildernes:

25 Where the Nabathees met them, and receyued them louyngly, and tolde them euery thyng that had happened vnto theyr brethren in Galaaditim:

26 And howe that many of them were besieged in Barasa, Boser, Alimis, Casbon, Mageth, and Carnaim (all these are strong walled and mightie great cities,)

27 And that they were kept in other cities of Galaaditim also, and to morowe they are appoynted to bring theyr hoast vnto these cities, to take them, and to destroy them in one day.

28 So Judas and his hoast turned in al the haste in the wyldernesse toward Bosor, and wan the citie, slue al the males with the swoorde, tooke al their goodes, and set fire vpon the citie:

29 And in the night they tooke theyr iourney from thence, and came to the castle,

30 And betymes in the morning when they looked vp, beholde there was an innumerable people bearyng ladders and other instrumentes of warre, to take the castle, and to ouercome them.

31 When Judas sawe that the battaile began, and that the noyse thereof went vp and rang into the heauen, and that there was so great a crye in the citie,

32 He sayde vnto his hoast, Fyght this day for your brethren:

33 And so came behynde theyr enimies in three companies, and blewe vp the trumpets, and cryed in theyr prayer to God.

34 But so soone as Timotheus hoast perceyued that Machabeus was there, they fledde from hym: and he slue them right sore, so that there were kylled of them the same day almost eyght thousande men.

35 Then departed Judas vnto Maspha, layde siege vnto it, and wan it, slue al the males in it, spoyled it, and set fire vpon it.

36 From thence went he and tooke Casbon, Mageth, Bosor, and the other cities in Galaaditim.

37 After this geathered Timothi another hoast, which pitched theyr tentes before Raphon, beyonde the water.

38 Judas also sent to spie the hoast, and they brought hym woorde agayne, saying, All the heathen that be round about vs, are geathered vnto hym, and the hoast is very great:

39 Yea, they haue hyred the Arabians to helpe them, and haue pitched their tentes beyond beyonde the water, and are redie to come and fyght agaynſt thee. So Judas went on to meete them.

40 And Timothi ſayde vnto the captaynes of his hoſt, When Judas and his hoſt come nygh the ryuer, yf he goe ouer firſt, we ſhall not be able to withſtande him: for why? he wyll be to ſtrong for vs.

41 But yf he dare not come ouer, ſo that he pytche his tent beyonde the water: then wyll we goe ouer, for we ſhalbe ſtrong ynough agaynſt him.

42 Nowe as ſoone as Judas came to the ryuer, he appoynted certayne ſcribes of the people by the ryuer, and commaunded them, ſaying, See that ye leaue none behind vppon this ſyde of the ryuer, but let euery man come to the battayle.

43 So he went fyrſt ouer vnto them, & al his people after him, and all the heathen were diſcomfited before him, & let their weapons fal, and ranne into the temple that was at Carnaim, 44 Whiche citie Judas wanne, & brent the temple, with all that were in it: So was Carnaim ſubdued, and myght not withſtand Judas.

45 Then Judas geathered al the Iſraelites that were in Galaaditim, from the leaſt vnto the moſt, with their wyues & their chyldren, a very great hoſt, for to come into the lande of Iſrael.

46 So they came vnto Ephron, whiche was a myghtie great and ſtrong citie, and laye in their way: for they coulde not goe by it, neyther on the ryght hand, nor on the left, but muſt goe through it.

47 Neuertheleſſe, they that were in the citie woulde not let them goe through, but walled vp the portes with ſtones: and Judas ſent vnto them with peaceable woordes, ſaying, 48 Let vs paſſe through your land, that we maye goe into our owne countrey, there ſhal no body doo you harme, we wyl but onely goe through on foote. But they woulde not let them in.

49 Wherefore Judas commaunded a proclamation to be made throughout the hoſt, that euery man ſhoulde aſſault the citie in his order.

50 And ſo they dyd their beſt, lyke valiant men: and Judas beſieged the citie al that day, and al that nyght, and ſo wanne it:

51 Where they ſlue as many as were males with the edge of the ſwoorde, and deſtroied the citie, and ſpoyled it, and went thorowe al the citie ouer them that were ſlayne.

52 Then went they ouer Jordane, into the playne fielde before Bethſan.

53 And Judas helped thoſe forewarde that came behynde, and gaue the people good exhortation al the way through, tyl they were come into the lande of Juda.

54 Thus they went vp vnto the mount Sion, where they offered whole burnt offerynges with mirth and thankeſgeuyng, becauſe there were none of them ſlayne, but came home agayne peaceably.

55 Nowe what tyme as Judas and Jonathas were in the lande of Galaad, and Simon theyr brother in Galilee before Ptolemais:

56 The Joſephus the ſonne of Zacharí, and Azarias, the captaines, hearing of the actes that were doone, and of the battels that were ſtricken, ſayde, 57 Let vs geat vs a name alſo, and goe fyght agaynſt the Heathen that are rounde about vs.

58 So they gaue theyr holte a commaundement, and went towarde Jamnia.

59 Then came Gorgias and his men out of the citie to fyght agaynſt them:

60 Joſephus alſo & Azarias were chaſed vnto the borders of Jurie, and there were ſlayne that day of the people of Iſrael two thouſande men: ſo that there was a great miſerie among the people of Iſrael, 61 And al becauſe they were not obedient vnto Judas & his brethren, but thought they ſhoulde quyte them ſelues manfully.

62 Neuertheleſſe, they came not of the ſeede of theſe men by whom Iſrael was helped.

63 But the men that were with Judas, were greatly commended in the ſyght of al Iſrael, and al the heathen whereſoeuer their name was heard vpon.

64 And the people came vnto them, bidyng them welcome.

65 After this went Judas forth with his brethren, & fought agaynſt the chyldren of Eſau in the lande that lyeth towarde the South, where he wanne the citie of Hebron, and the townes that lye beſyde it: and as for the walles and towres rounde about it, he brent them vp.

66 Then remooued he to goe into the lande of the "Philiſtines, and went through Samaria. "Or, ſtrangers.

67 At the ſame tyme were there manye prieſtes ſlaine in the battayle, which wylfully and without aduiſement went out for to fight to geat them honour.

68 And when Judas came to Azot, in the Philiſtines lande, he brake downe their aulters, brent the images of their idolles, ſpoyled their cities, and came agayne into the lande of Juda.

¶ The

¶ The.vi. Chapter.

Antiochus vvyllyng to take the citie of Elimas for a pray, is dryuen avvay of the citizens.

NOwe when kyng Antiochus trauayled thꝛough the high countreyes, he heard that Elimas in Perſia was a noble & pleenteous citie in ſyluer and golde,

2 And that there was in it a very ryche temple, wheras were clothes, coate armours, and ſhieldes of golde, whiche Alexander the ſonne of Philip kyng of Macedonia that raigned fyꝛſt in Grecia had left behynd him.

3 Wherefoꝛe he went about to take the citie, and to ſpoyle it, but he was not able: foꝛ the citizens were warned of it, and fought with him.

4 And ſo he fled, & departed with great heauyneſſe, and came agayne into Babylon.

5 Moꝛeouer, there came one whiche bꝛought him tydynges in Perſia, that his hoſtes which were in the land of Juda were dꝛyuen away:

6 And how that Lyſias went foꝛth fyꝛſt with a great power, and was dꝛyuen away of the Jewes, how that they had wonne the victoꝛie, and gotten great goodes out of the hoſtes that peryſhed:

7 Howe they had bꝛoken downe the abomination which he ſet vp vpon the aulter at Hieruſalem, & fenced the ſanctuarie with hygh walles, lyke as it was afoꝛe, yea and Bethſura his citie alſo.

8 So it chaunced, that when the kyng hearde theſe wooꝛdes, he was afrayde, and greeued very ſoꝛe: wherefoꝛe he layde him downe vpon his bed, and fel ſicke foꝛ very ſoꝛowe, and al becauſe it had not happened as he had deuiſed.

9 And there continued he long: foꝛ his greefe was euer moꝛe and moꝛe, ſo that he ſawe he muſt needes dye.

10 Therefoꝛe he ſent foꝛ al his freends, and ſayde vnto them, The ſleepe is gone from myne eyes, foꝛ the very ſoꝛowe and vexation of hart that I haue.

11 Foꝛ when I conſyder in my mynde the great aduerſitie that I am come vnto, and the flooddes of heauyneſſe whiche I am come in, wheras afoꝛe tyme I was ſo merie, and ſo greatly let by, by reaſon of my power:

12 Agayne, conſyderyng the euyll that I haue doone at Hieruſalem, from whence I tooke al the rycheſſe of golde & ſyluer that were in it, and ſent to deſtroy the inhabiters of Jurie without any reaſon why:

13 I knowe that theſe troubles are come vppon me foꝛ the ſame cauſe: and behoꝛde I muſt dye with great ſoꝛowe in a ſtrange lande.

14 Then called he foꝛ one Philip, a freende of his, whom he made ruler of al his realme, 15 And gaue him the cꝛowne, his robe, and his ryng, that he ſhoulde take his ſonne Antiochus vnto him, and bꝛyng him vp, tyll he myght raigne him ſelfe.

16 So ꝓ kyng Antiochus * dyed there, in the hundꝛed fourtie and myne yeere. * Ioſeph. Capit. 14. Lib. 12.

17 When Lyſias knewe that the kyng was dead, he oꝛdeyned Antiochus his ſonne, whom he had bꝛought vp, to raigne in his fathers ſteade, and called him Eupatoꝛ.

18 Nowe they that were in the caſtle at Hieruſalem, kept in the Jewes rounde about the ſanctuarie, and ſought euer ſtyll to doo them harme, and the ſtrengthenyng of the heathen.

19 Wherefoꝛe Judas thought to deſtroye them, and called all the people togeather, that they myght lay ſiege vnto them.

20 So they came togeather in the hundꝛed and ſyxtie yeere, and beſieged them, laying foꝛth their oꝛdinaunce and inſtruments of warre.

21 Then certaine of them that were beſieged, went foꝛth: vnto whom ſome vngodly men of Iſrael ioyned them ſelues alſo, 22 And went vnto the kyng, ſaying, Howe long wyl it be oꝛ thou punyſhe, and auenge our bꝛethꝛen?

23 We haue euer been mynded to doo thy father ſeruice, to walke in his ſtatutes, and to obey his commaundementes:

24 Therefoꝛe our people fell from vs, and whereſoeuer they founde any of vs, they ſlue them, and ſpoyled our inheritance.

25 And they haue not only medled with vs, but with al our countreyes.

26 And behoꝛde, this day are they beſiegyng the caſtle at Hieruſalem, to take it, and haue made vp the ſtrong holde at Bethſura.

27 And yf thou doeſt not pꝛeuent them ryght ſoone, they wyl doo moꝛe then theſe, & thou ſhalt not be able to ouercome them.

28 When the kyng hearde this, he was very angrye, and called all his freendes, the captaynes of his armie, and al his footemen and hoꝛſemen:

29 He hyꝛed men of warre alſo, of other realmes, parteynyng to the kyngs that were confederate with him, and of the Iles of the ſea, whiche came vnto him.

30 And the number of his hoſt was an hundꝛed thouſand footmen, and twētie thouſande hoꝛſemen, and thirtie and two Elephantes wel exerciſed to bataple.

31 Theſe came thꝛough Idumea vnto Bethſura,

Bethsura, and besieged it a long season, and made diuers instrumentes of warre agaynst it: but the Iewes came out and brent them with fyre, and fought like men.

32 Then departed Iudas from the castle at Hierusalem and remooued the hoast toward Bethzacharam, ouer agaynst the kinges armie.

33 So the kyng arose before the day, and brought the power of his hoast into the way to Bethzacharam, where the hostes made them redy to the battayle, blowing the trumpettes.

34 And to prouoke the Elephantes for to fight, they shewed them the sappe of redde grapes and mulberies.

35 And diuided the Elephantes among the hoast: so that by euery Elephant there stoode a thousande men wel harnessed, and helmets of steele vpon theyr heades: yea vnto euery one of the Elephantes also were ordeyned fiue hundred horsemen of the best,

36 Whiche wayted on the Elephant, goeing where so euer he went, and departed not from hym.

37 Euery Elephant was couered with a strong towre of wood, fastened thereon with instrumentes, whereupon were thirtie and two valiant men with weapons to fyght, and within was a man of Inde to rule the beast.

38 As for the remnant of the horsemen, he set them vpon both the sides in two parts, with trmpets to prouoke the hoast, and to shyne vp such as were slowe in the armie.

39 And when the sunne shone vppon theyr shieldes of golde and steele, the mountaynes glistered agayne at them, and were as bygght as the creslets of fyre.

40 The kinges hoast also was diuided, one part vppon the hygh mountaynes, the other lowe beneath: so they went on, takyng good heede, and keepyng theyr order.

41 And all they that dwelt in the lande, were afrayd at the noyse of theyr hoast, when the multitude went forth, and when the weapons smote togeather: for the hoast was both great and myghtie.

42 Iudas also and his hoast entred into the battel, and slue sixe hundred men of the kynges armie.

43 Nowe when Eleazar the sonne of Saura dyd see one of the Elephantes decked with the kynges badge, and was a more goodly beast then the other, he thought the kyng shoulde be vpon hym:

44 And ieoparded hym selfe to delyuer his people, and to geat hym a perpetuall name:

45 Therefore, he ranne with a courage vnto the Elephant in the middest of the hoast, smiting them downe on both the sides, and slue many about hym.

46 So went he to the Elephants feete, and gate hym vnder him, a and slue him: then fel the Elephant downe vpon him, and there he dyed.

47 Iudas also and his men, seeing the power of the kyng, and the mightie violence of his hoast, departed from them.

48 And the kings armie wēt vp against them towarde Hierusalem, and pitched theyr tentes in Iurie beside mount Sion.

49 Moreouer, the king tooke truice with them that were in Bethsura, but when they came out of the citie, because they had no victuals, but were shut vp within, and the lande lay vntylled,

50 The kyng tooke Bethsura, and set men to keepe it, and turned his hoast to the place of the sanctuarie, 51 And layde siege to it a great while, where he made all maner ordinance, handbowes, fierie dartes, rackets to cast stones, scorpions to shoote arrowes, and slinges.

52 The Iewes also made ordinance agaynst theyrs, and fought a long season.

53 But in the citie there were no victuels, for it was the seuenth yere of the warres, and those heathen that remayned in Iurie, had eaten vp al theyr store.

54 And in the sanctuarie were fewe men leaft: for the hunger came so vpon them, that they were scattered abrode, euery man to his owne place.

55 So when Lysias heard that Philip whom Antiochus the kyng while he was yet liuing, had ordeyned to bryng vp Antiochus his sonne that he myght be kyng.

56 Was come againe out of Persia and Media with the kinges hoast, and thought to obteine the kingdome, with the gouernance of al thynges:

57 He gate him to the kyng in all the haste, and to the captaynes of the hoast, and sayde, We decrease dayly, and our victuals are but small: agayne, the place that we laye siege vnto is very strong, and it were our part to see for the Realme:

58 Let vs agree with these men, and take truice with them, and with al their people, 59 And graunt them to lyue after theyr lawe as they dyd afore: for they be greeued, and doo all these thynges agaynst vs, because we haue " despised theyr lawe.

60 So the kyng and the princes were content, and sent vnto them to make peace: and they receyued it.

61 Nowe

a This example is not to be followed, because it is contrary to the commaundement.

" or, broken.

61 Nowe when the kyng and the princes had made an othe vnto them, they came out of the castle, 62 And the kyng went vp to mount Sion: but when he sawe that the place was wel fenced, he brake the othe that he had made, and commaunded to destroy the wal rounde about.

63 Then departed he in all the haste, and returned vnto Antiochie, where he founde Philip hauing dominion of the citie: so he fought against him, & tooke the citie againe into his handes.

¶ The. vii. Chapter.

1. Demetrius raigned after he had killed Antiochus and Lysias.

IN the hundred fiftie and one yeere, came Demetrius the sonne of Seleuchus, from the citie of Rome, with a smal company of men, vnto a citie of the sea coast, and there he bare rule.

2 And whē he came to Antiochie, the citie of his progenitours, his hoast tooke Antiochus and Lysias, to bring them vnto him.

3 But when it was tolde hym, he sayd, Let me not see theyr faces.

4 So the hoast put them to death. Nowe when Demetrius was set vpon the throne of his kyngdome,

5 There came vnto him wicked and vngodly men of Israel, whose captaine was Alcimus, that woulde haue been made hygh priest.

6 These men accused the people of Israel vnto the king, saying, Judas and his brethren haue slayne all thy frendes, and driuen vs out of our owne lande.

7 Wherefore, sende nowe some man to whom thou geuest credence, that he may goe, and see all the destruction whiche he hath doone vnto vs, and to the kynges lande, and let hym be punished, with al his frendes and fauourers.

8 Then the king chose Bacchides a freend of his, whiche was a man of great power in the Realme beyonde the water, and faythful vnto the kyng, and sent hym to see the destruction that Iudas had doone.

9 And as for that wycked Alcimus, he made hym high priest, and commaunded him to be auenged of the children of Israel.

10 So they departed from the king and came with a great host into the land of Juda, sendyng messengers to Judas and his brethren, and speaking vnto thē with peaceable woordes, but vnder deceyt.

11 Therefore Judas and his people beleeued not theyr saying: for they sawe that they were come with a great host.

12 After this came the Scribes together vnto Alcimus and Bacchides, to entreate of reasonable couenantes.

13 And the Assideans were the first among the children of Israel that requyred peace of them,

14 Saying, Alcimus the priest is come of the seede of Aaron, howe can he deceyue vs, though he come with an armie?

15 So he gaue them louyng woordes, and swore vnto them, and sayd, We wyl doo you no harme, neyther your freendes.

16 And they beleeued hym: but the very same day tooke he threescore men of them, and slue them, accordyng to the woordes that are written,

17 They haue cast the || flesshe of thy saintes, and shead their blood round about Hierusalem, and there was no man that woulde bury them. ||Psal. 78.3

18 So there came a great feare & dread among all the people, saying, There is neither trueth nor righteousnesse in them: for they haue broken the appoyntment and othe that they made.

19 And Bacchides remooued his hoast from Hierusalem, and pitched his tent at Bethzecha, where he sent foorth and tooke many of them that had forsaken hym: he slue many of the people also, and cast them into a great pit.

20 Then committed he the lande vnto Alcimus, and left men of warre with hym to helpe hym: and Bacchides hym selfe went vnto the kyng.

21 And thus Alcimus defended his high priesthood.

22 And al such as vexed Israel, resorted vnto hym: insomuche that they obteyned the lande of Juda, and dyd muche euyl vnto the Israelites.

23 Nowe when Judas saw all the mischeefe that Alcimus and his company had doone (yea more then the heathen them selues) vnto the Israelites:

24 He went foorth rounde about al the borders of Jurie, and punished those vnfaithful runnagates, so that they came no more out into the countrey:

25 So when Alcimus sawe that Judas and his people had gotten the vpper hand, & that he was not able to abyde them, he went agayne vnto the king, and sayde al the woorst of them that he coulde.

26 || Then the kyng sent Nicanor, one of his cheefe princes, whiche bare euyl will vnto Israel, and commaunded him that he should vtterly destroy the people. ||2. Mac. 14.

27 So Nicanor came to Hierusalem with a great hoast, and sent vnto Judas and his his brethren with freendly woordes: but vnder decepte, saying,

28 There shalbe no warre betwixt me and you, I wyl come with a fewe men, to see howe ye doo with freendlyp.

29 Upon this he came vnto Judas, and they saluted one an other peaceablye: but the enimies were appoynted to take Judas by violence.

30 Neuertheleſſe it was tolde Judas that he came vnto him but vnder decepte, wherefore he gate him away from him, and wouldе see his face no more.

31 When Nicanor perceyued that his counsel was bewrayed, he went out to fight agaynſt Judas beſyde "Caphar salama:

32 Where there were ſlayne of Nicanors hoſt fyue thouſand men, and the reſidue fled vnto the citie of Dauid.

33 After this came Nicanor vp vnto mount Sion, and the prieſtes with the elders of the people, went forth to ſalute him peaceably, and to ſhew him the whole burnt ſacrifices that were offered for the kyng.

34 But he laughed them & the people to ſcorne, mocked them, defyled their offerinｇes, and ſpake diſdaynefully:

35 Yea & ſwore in his wrath, ſaying, If Judas & his hoſt be not delyuered nowe into my handes, as ſoone as euer I come agayne and fare well, I ſhall burne vp this houſe. With that went he out in a great anger.

36 Then the prieſtes came in, & ſtoode before the aulter of the temple, weeping, and ſaying,

37 For ſo muche as thou, O Lord, haſt choſen this houſe, that thy name myght be called vpon therein, and that it ſhould be an houſe of prayer and petition for thy people:

38 Be auenged of this man and his hoſt, and let them be ſlayne with the ſwoord: remember the blaſphemies of them, and ſuffer not them to continue any longer.

39 When Nicanor was gone from Hieruſalem, he pytched his tent at Bethoron, and there an hoſt met him out of Syria.

40 And Judas came to Adaſa with three thouſande men, and made his prayer vnto God, ſaying, 41 ‖O Lord, becauſe the meſſengers of kyng Sennacherib blaſphemed thee, the angel went forth, and ſlue an hundred fourefcore and fyue thouſande of them:

42 Euen ſo, deſtroy thou this hoſt before vs this day, that other people may know howe that he hath blaſphemed thy ſanctuarie, and punyſhe him accordyng to his malitiouſneſſe.

43 And ſo the hoſtes ſtroke the fielde the thirteenth day of the moneth "Adar, and Nicanors hoſt was diſcomfited, and he him ſelfe was fyrſt ſlayne in the battayle.

44 When Nicanors men of warre ſawe that he was kylled, they caſt away their weapons, and fledde:

45 But the Jewes folowed vpon them a whole dayes iourney, from Adazer vnto Gazara, blowyng with the trumpettes, and making tokens after them.

46 So the Jewes came forth of al the tounes rounde about, and blewe out their hornes vpon them, and turned againſt them: thus were they al ſlayne, and not one of them left.

47 Then tooke they their ſubſtaunce for a pray, and ſmote of Nicanors head, and his ryght hande, whiche he held vp ſo proudly, and brought it with them, and hanged it vp afore Hieruſalem.

48 Wherefore the people were exceedyngly reioyced, and paſſed ouer that day in great gladneſſe.

49 And Judas ordeyned that the ſame day, namely, the thirteenth day of the moneth Adar, ſhoulde be kept in myth euery yeere.

50 Thus the lande of Juda was in reſt a litle whyle.

¶ The. viii. Chapter.

1. Judas conſyderyng the power and goodly policie of the Romans, maketh peace with them. 22. The reſcript of the Romanes ſent vnto the Iewes.

IUdas heard alſo the fame of the Romanes, that they were myghty and valiant men, and agreeable to al thynges that are requyred of them, and make peace with al men whiche come vnto them,

2 And howe they were doughty men of ſtrength: beſydes that, it was tolde him of their battayles and noble actes whiche they had in "Galacia, howe they had conquered them, and brought them vnder tribute, "or, Frauncia.

3 And what great thynges they had doone in Spayne: howe that with their wyſdome & ſober behauiour they had wonne the mines of ſyluer and golde that are there,

4 And obteyned al the lande, with other places farre from them: howe they had diſcomfited and ſlayne downe the kynges that came vpon them from the vttermoſt part of the earth, and howe other people gaue them tribute euery yeere:

5 Howe they had ſlayne and ouercome Philip and Perſes kynges of "Cethim, and other moe in battayle, whiche had brought their ordinance againſt them: "or, the Macedonians.

6 Howe

6 Howe they discomfited great Antiochus kyng of Asia, that would needes fight with them, hauyng an hundred and twentie Elephantes, with horsmen, charretes, and a very great host:

7 Howe they tooke him selfe alyue, and ordeyned him, with suche as shoulde raigne after him, to pay them a great tribute, yea and to synde them good sureties & pledges beſydes al this:

8 Howe they had taken from him India, Media, and Lydia, his best landes, and geuen them to kyng Eumenus.

9 Agayne, howe they perceyuyng that the Grekes were commyng to vexe them,

10 Sent against them a captayne of an host, whiche gaue them battayle, slue many of them, led away their wyues and chyldren captiue, spoyled them, tooke possession of their lande, & destroyed their strong holdes, and subdued them to be their bondemen vnto this day.

11 Moreouer, howe that as for other kyngdomes & Iles, whiche sometyme withstood them, they destroied them, and brought them vnder their dominion:

12 But kept amitie with their owne freendes, & those that were confederate with them, and conquered kyngdomes both farre and nygh: and that whosoeuer heard of their renowme was afrayd of them.

13 For whom they would helpe to their kyngdomes, those raigned: & whom it lyked not them to raigne, they put them downe: and howe they were come to great preheminence,

14 Hauyng no kyng among them, neyther any man clothed in purple, to be magnified therethrough:

15 But had ordeyned them selues a " parliament, wherein there sate three hundred and twentie Senatours dayly vpon the counsayle, to dispatche euer the busynesse of the people, and to keepe good order:

16 And how that euery yeere they chose a " Maior, to haue the gouernaunce of all their lande, to whom euery man was obedient, and there was neyther euyl wyl nor dissention among them.

17 Then Iudas chose Eupolemus the sonne of Iohn, the sonne of " Iacob, and Iason the sonne of Eleazar, and sent them to Rome for to make freendshyp, and a bond of loue with them, 18 That they myght take from them the bondage of the Grekes: for the Iewes sawe that the Grekes woulde subdue the kyngdome of Israel.

19 So they went vnto Rome a very great iourney, and came vnto the " parliament, and sayde, 20 Iudas Machabeus, with his brethren, and the people of the Iewes, hath sent vs vnto you to make a bonde of freendshyp & peace with you, and ye to note vs as your louers and freendes.

21 And that matter pleased the Romanes ryght wel.

22 Wherfore it was wrytten vp: of the whiche the Romanes made a wrytyng in tables of brasse, and sent it to Hierusalem, that they myght haue by them a memorial of the same peace and bond of freendshyp after this maner:

23 God saue the Romanes and the people of the Iewes both by sea and by lande, & keepe the swoorde and enimie from them for euermore:

24 If there come fyrst any warre vpon the Romanes, or any of their freendes thorowout al their dominion, 25 The people of the Iewes shal helpe them, as the tyme requyreth, and that with al their hartes.

26 Also they shal neyther geue nor send vnto their enimies victualles, weapons, money, nor shyppes: but fulfyl their couenants at the Romanes pleasure, takyng nothyng of them therefore.

27 Agayne, yf the people of the Iewes happen fyrst to haue warre, the Romanes shal stande by them with a good wyl, accordyng as the tyme wyl suffer.

28 Neither shal they geue vnto the Iewes enimies victualles, weapons, money, or shyppes: Thus are the Romanes content to doo, and shal fulfyl their charge without any decepte.

29 Accordyng to these articles the Romanes made the bonde with the Iewes.

30 Nowe after these articles sayde they, yf any of the parties wil put to them, or take any thyng from them, they shall doo it with the consent of both: & whatsoeuer they adde vnto them, or take from them, it shall stande fast.

31 And as touchyng the euyll that Demetrius hath doone vnto the Iewes, we haue wrytten vnto him, saying, Wherfore layest thou thy heauye yoke vpon the Iewes our freendes and louers?

32 If they make any complaint of thee agayne vnto vs, we shal defend them, & fight with thee by sea and by lande, accordyng to iustice.

slayne in the feelde, he proceeded further to sende Bacchides and Alcimus agayne into Jurie, and the cheefe strength of his host with them.

2 So they went foorth by the way that leadeth vnto Galgala, & pitched their tentes before Masaloth (which is in Arbellis) and wanne the citie, and slue muche people.

3 In the first moneth of the hundred fiftie and two yeere, they brought their host and layde their siege agaynst Hierusalem:

4 But raysing their campe, they came to Berea with twentie thousande footemen, and two thousande horsemen.

5 Nowe Judas had pytched his tent at Laisa, with three thousande chosen men.

6 And when they sawe the multitude of the other armie that it was so great, they were sore afrayde, and many conueyed them selues out of the host, insomuche that there abode no moe of them but eyght hundred men.

7 When Judas sawe that his host fayled him, & that he must needes fight, it brake his hart, that he had no time to geather them togeather: wherfore the man was in extreme trouble.

8 Neuertheleſſe, he said vnto them that remayned with hym, Up, let vs goe against our enimies, peraduenture we shalbe able to fight with them.

9 But they woulde haue stopped hym, saying, We shal not be able: therefore nowe let vs saue our liues, and turne agayne to our brethren, for shoulde we fight agaynst them, beyng so fewe?

10 And Judas said, a God forbid that we shoulde flee from them: wherfore yf our time be come, let vs dye manfully for our brethren, and let vs not stayne our honour.

11 Then the host remoued out of the tentes, and stoode against them, and the horsmen were diuided in two partes: and slyng callers and archers went before the host, and all the myghtie men were foremost in the feelde.

12 Bacchides him selfe was in the right wyng of the battayle, and the host drue nygh in two partes, and blewe the trumpets.

13 They of Judas side blew the trumpets also, and the earth shooke at the noyse of the hostes: and they strake a feelde from the morowe tyl nyght.

14 And when Judas sawe that Bacchides host was strongest on the ryght syde, he tooke with hym al the hardie men, 15 And brake the right wing of their order, & folowed vpon them vnto mount Azot.

16 Now whē they which were the leaft wing sawe that the right side was discomfited, they persecuted Judas and them that were with him harde at the heeles.

17 Then was there a sore battayle: for many were slayne and wounded on both the partes.

18 Judas also him selfe was killed, and the remnant fledde.

19 So Jonathas and Simon toke Judas their brother, and buryed hym in his fathers sepulchre in the citie of Modin.

20 And all the people of Israel made great lamentation for hym, and mourned long, saying, 21 Alas that this worthy shoulde be slaine, which deliuered the people of Israel.

22 As for other thinges partaynyng to the battayles of Judas, the noble actes that he did, and of his worthinesse, they are not written, for they were very many.

23 Now after the death of Judas, wicked men came vp in al the coastes of Israel, and there arose all such as did worke vngodlynesse. Iosephus. cap. 8. lib. 13. ant.

24 In those dayes was there a great dearth in the lande, and al the countrey gaue ouer them selues & theyrs vnto Bacchides.

25 So Bacchides chose wicked men, and made them lordes in the lande.

26 These sought out and made searche for Judas freendes, and brought them vnto Bacchides, whiche auenged hym selfe vpon them with great despite.

27 And there came so great trouble in Israel, as was not since the time that no prophete was seene there.

28 Then came all Judas freendes togeather, and sayd vnto Jonathas.

29 Forasmuche as thy brother Judas is dead, there is none lyke hym to goe foorth against our enimies, against Bacchides, and such as are aduersaries of our owne people:

30 Wherefore this day we choose thee for him, to be our prince and captayne, to order our battayle.

31 And Jonathas toke the gouernance vpon him at the same time, and ruled in stede of his brother Judas.

32 When Bacchides gate knowledge thereof, he sought for to slay hym.

33 But Jonathas and Simon his brother, perceiuing that, fledde into the wyldernesse of Thecua, with al their company, and pytched their tentes by the water poole of Asphar.

34 Whiche when Bacchides vnderstoode, he came ouer Iordane with all his host vpon the sabboth day.

35 Now had Jonathas sent his brother Iohn a captayne of the people, to pray his freendes the Nabuthites, that they would *or, Ambri. 36 So the children of *Jambri came out of Madaba, and tooke John and all that he had, and went theyr way withall when they had taken it.

37 Then came woorde vnto Jonathas and Simon his brother, that the chyldren of Jambri made a great mariage, and brought the bride from Madaba with great pompe: for she was daughter to one of the noblest princes of Chanaan.

38 Wherefore they remembred the blood of John theyr brother, and went vp, and hyd them selues vnder the shadowe of the mountayne.

39 So they lyft vp theyr eyes, and looked, and beholde there was muche adoo, and great preparation: for the bridegrome came forth, and his frendes and his brethren met them with Tympanies, instrumentes of musicke, and many weapons.

40 Then Jonathas, and they that were with him, rose out of theyr lurkyng places agaynst them, and slue many of them: and the remnant fledde into the mountaynes, and they tooke al theyr substance.

41 Thus the mariage was turned to mournyng, and the noyle of theyr melodie into lamentation.

42 And so when they had auenged the a blood of theyr brother, they returned agayne vnto Jordane.

a. Blood doth require blood.

43 Bacchides hearyng this, came vnto the very border of Jordane, with a great power, vpon the sabboth day.

44 And Jonathas sayde to his company, Let vs goe vp, and fyght agaynst our enimies, for it standeth not with vs to day, as in tyme past.

45 Beholde, our enimies are in our way, the water of Jordane vpon the one side of vs, with bankes, fennes, and woods on the other side, so that there is no place for vs to depart vnto.

1.2.Chr.10.3 46 Wherefore crye nowe vnto heauen, that ye may be deliuered from the power of your enimies: So they stroke the battayle.

47 And Jonathas stretched out his hand to smite Bacchides, but he fled backwarde.

48 Then Jonathas and they that were with him, leapt into Jordane, and swymmed ouer Jordane vnto the further banke: but the other woulde not passe ouer Jordane after him.

49 And there were slayne of Bacchides side that day a thousande men.

50 Therefore Bacchides with his host turned agayne to Hierusalem, and buylt vp the castles and strong holdes that were in Iurie, Jericho, Emaus, Bethoron, Bethel, Thamnata, *Phara, and *Thapo, with hygh walles, with portes, and with lockes: *or, Pharathoni.

51 And set men to keepe them, that they myght vse theyr malice vpon Israel. *or, Typho.

52 He walled vp the citie Bethsura, Gazara, and the castle, and prouided them with men and victuelles.

53 He toke also the cheefest mens sonnes in the countrey for pledges, and put them in the castle at Hierusalem to be kept.

54 Afterwarde, in the hundred fyftie and three yeere, in the seconde moneth, Alcimus commaunded that they shoulde destroy the walles of the inwarde courte of the sanctuarie, and he pulled downe and began to destroy the monumentes of the prophets.

55 But at the same time Alcimus was plagued and smitten with a palsie, and his enterprises were hindered, and his mouth was stopped by God, so that he coulde no more speake nor commaund any of his house concernyng his businesse.

56 Thus dyed Alcimus in great misery at the same tyme.

57 And when Bacchides saw that Alcimus was dead, he turned againe to the king: and so the lande was in rest two yeeres.

58 Then all the vngodly men helde a counsel, saying, Beholde, Jonathas and his company are at ease, and dwel without care, wherefore, let vs bring Bacchides hyther, and he shal take them al in one night.

59 So they went, and gaue Bacchides this counsel.

60 Whiche arose to come with a great host, and sent letters priuily to his adherents whiche were in Iurie, to take Jonathas and those that were with hym: but they myght not, for the other had gotten knowledge of theyr deuice.

61 And Jonathas toke fyftie men of the countrey, whiche were the ryngleaders of them, and slue them.

62 Then Jonathas and Simon, with their company, departed vnto the citie *Bethbasin, which lieth in the wildernesse, and repayred the decay thereof, and made it strong. *or, Bethbesi

63 When Bacchides knew this, he gathered all his host, and sent woorde to them that were in Iurie.

64 Then came he and layde siege to Bethbasin, and fought agaynst it a long season, and made instrumentes of warre.

65 Nowe Jonathas left his brother Simon in the citie, and went forth him selfe into the countrey, and came with a certayne number.

66 And slue *Dooneras & his brethren, and *or, Odarie and the chyldren of Phaleron, in their rentes, ſo that he began to be ſtrong, and to increaſe in power.

67 As for Simon and his company they went out of the citie, and brent vp the inſtrumentes of warre, 68 And fought againſt Bacchides, and diſcomfyted him: and Bacchides was ſore vexed, becauſe his counſel and trauayle was in vayne.

69 Wherfore he was wroth at the wicked men a that gaue him counſel to come into theyr lande, and ſlue many of them: then purpoſed he with his company to goe away into his owne countrey.

a Wicked counſel falleth on the counſellers.

70 Whereof when Jonathas had knowledge, he ſent ambaſſadours vnto him, for to make peace with him, and that he ſhould deliuer him his priſoners agayne.

71 To the which Bacchides conſented gladly, and dyd accordyng to his deſire: yea and made an othe that he ſhulde neuer doo him harme al the dayes of his lyfe.

72 So he reſtored vnto hym al the priſoners that he had taken out of the land of Juda, and then turned and went his way into his owne land, neither proceeded he any further to come vnto the borders of Juda.

73 Thus Iſrael had no more warre, and Jonathas dwelt at Machmas, and began there to gouerne the people, and deſtroyed the vngodly men out of Iſrael.

¶ The. x. Chapter.

1. Demetrius deſireth to haue peace with Ionathas. 48. Alexander mooueth warre agayn̄ſt Demetrius. 50. Demetrius is ſlayne. 51. The freendſhip of Ptolomeus and Alexander.

a Ephipha-ni.

IN the hundred and threeſcore yeere, came Alexander the ſonne of noble a Antiochus, and tooke Ptolomais, whoſe citizens receyued him, and there he raigned.

2 When Demetrius heard thereof, he gathered an exceedyng great hoſt, and went forth agaynſt hym to fyght.

3 Wherefore Demetrius ſent letters vnto Jonathas with louing wordes, and prayſed him greatly.

4 For he ſayd, We wyl firſt make peace with him, before he hynde him ſelfe with Alexander agaynſt vs:

5 Els he ſhall remember the euyl that we haue done agaynſt him, his brother, and his people.

6 And ſo he gaue Jonathas leaue to gather an hoaſt, to make weapons, and to be confederate with him, and commaunded the pledges that were in the caſtle to be deliuered vnto him.

7 Then came Jonathas to Hieruſalem, and red the letters in the audience of all the people, and of them that were in the caſtle.

8 And therfore were they ſore afrayd, becauſe they heard that the kyng had geuen him licence to gather an hoaſt.

9 Thus were the pledges deliuered vnto Jonathas, whiche reſtored them to their parentes.

10 Jonathas alſo dwelt at Hieruſalem, and began to builde vp, and to repayre the citie:

11 Commaundyng the workemen to wall it & the mount Sion round about with free ſtone, to be a ſtrong hold: and ſo they did.

12 As for the heathen that were in the caſtles which Bacchides had made vp, they fledde:

13 So that euery man left the place, and went into his owne countrey.

14 Onely at Bethſura remayned certaine of the Iewes, whiche had forſaken the lawe and commaundementes of God, for Bethſura was their refuge.

15 Nowe when kyng Alexander heard of the promiſes that Demetrius had made vnto Jonathas, and when it was told him of the battayles and noble actes which he and his brethren had done, and of the great trauayles that they had taken,

16 He ſayde, Where ſhal we fynde ſuch a man? wel, we wyl make him our freende, and be confederate with him.

17 Vppon this he wrote a letter vnto him, with theſe wordes:

18 Kyng Alexander ſaluteth his brother Jonathas,

19 We haue heard of thee, that thou art a valiaunt man, and meete to be our freende:

20 Wherfore this day we ordeyne thee to be the hygh priеſt of thy people, and to be called the kinges freende. (Vppon this he ſent hym a purple clothyng, and a crowne of golde) that thou mayeſt conſyder what is for our profit, and keepe freendſhip toward vs.

21 So in the ſeuenth moneth of the hundred and threeſcore yeere, vppon the ſolemne feaſt day of the tabernacles, Jonathas put the holy rayment vpon him: then gathered he an hoaſt, and prepared many weapons.

22 Which when Demetrius hearde, he was marueylous ſory,

23 And ſayd, Alas what haue we done, that Alexander hath preuented vs, in getting the freendſhip of the Iewes for his owne defence?

24 Yet wil I write louingly vnto them alſo, yea and promiſe them dignities and rewardes, that they may be of my syde.

25 Whereupon he wrote vnto them these woordes, Kyng Demetrius sendeth greeting vnto the people of the Iewes:

26 Wheras ye haue kept your couenant towarde vs, and continued in our freendship, not inclinyng to our enimies, we were glad when we heard thereof.

27 Wherfore remayne stil, and be faithful to vs, and we shal wel recompence you for the thinges that ye haue done on our partie:

28 We shall releasse you of many charges, and geue you rewardes.

29 And nowe I discharge you and al the Iewes from tributes, I forgeue you the customes of salt, & releasse you of the crowne taxes, of the thirde part of seede,

30 And halfe the fruite of trees, whiche is myne owne duetie, I do releasse them from this day forth, so that they shal not be taken of the lande of Iuda, nor of the three cities which are added thereunto out of Samaria and Galilee, from this day forth for euermore.

31 Hierusalem also, with al thinges belongyng thereto shalbe holy and free, yea the tythes and tributes shall perteyne vnto it.

32 As for the power of the castle which is at Hierusalem, I remit and gene it vnto the high priest, that he may set in it such men as he shal choose to keepe it.

33 I freely deliuer all the Iewes that are prisoners throughout all my realme, so that euery one of them shalbe free from paying any tribute, yea euen of their cattel.

34 All the solemne feastes, Sabbothes, newe moones, the dayes appointed, the three dayes before and after the feast, shalbe free for al the Iewes in my realme.

35 So that in them no man shall haue power to do any thing, or to vexe any of them in any maner of cause.

36 There shall thirtie thousande also of the Iewes be written vp in the kinges hoast, and haue their wages payed as al other men of warre of the kinges houlde haue: and of them shalbe ordeyned certayne to keepe the kinges strong holdes, 37 Yea and some of them shalbe set ouer the kinges secrete affayres: and their gouernours and princes shalbe of them selues, and lyue after their owne lawes, as the kyng hath commaunded in the lande of Iuda.

38 And the three cities that are fallen vnto Iurie from the countrey of Samaria, shalbe taken as Iurie, and be vnder one, neyther be subiect to any strange Lorde, but to the high priest.

39 As for Ptolomais and the lande pertepnyng thereto, I gene it vnto the sanctuarie at Heirusalem, for the necessarie expences of the holy thinges.

40 Moreouer, I wyl gene euery yeere fyfteene thousande sicles of siluer of the kinges reuenues, out of the places appertaynyng vnto me.

41 And al the ouerplus which they haue not payde for thinges due, as they did in the former yeeres, from hencefoorth they shall gene it towarde the woorkes of the temple.

42 And beside this, the fyue thousande sicles of siluer whiche they receyued yeerely of the accompt appointed for the intertaynement of the sanctuarie these yeeres passed, euen these thinges shalbe released, because they appertayne to the priestes that minister.

43 Item, who so euer they be that flye vnto the temple at Hierusalem, or within the liberties thereof, where as they are fallen into the kinges danger for any maner of businesse, they shalbe pardoned, and all the goodes that they haue in my realme shalbe free.

44 For the building also and repayring of the woorke of the sanctuarie, expences shalbe geuen out of the kinges reuenues.

45 Yea and for the makyng of the walles rounde about Hierusalem, for the breaking downe of the olde, and for the setting vp of the strong holdes in Iurie, shal the costes and charges be geuen out of the kynges reuennes.

46 But when Ionathas and the people heard these woordes, they gaue no credence vnto them, neyther receyued them: for they remembred the great wickednes that he had done vnto Israel, and howe sore he had vexed them.

47 Wherefore they agreed vnto Alexander, for he was a prince that had dealt frendly with them, and so they stoode by him alway.

48 Then gathered kyng Alexander a great hoast, and brought his armie against Demetrius. Ioseph. lib. 13. cap. 6.

49 So the two kynges stroke battayle together, but Demetrius hoast fled, and Alexander folowed after, and fell vppon them.

50 A mightie sore fielde was it, continuing tyl the sunne went downe, and Demetrius was slayne the same day.

51 And Alexander sent ambassadours vnto Ptolome the kyng of Egypt, with these woordes, saying,

52 Sore-

52 Forsomuche as I am come agayne to my realme, and am set in the throne of my progenitours, and haue gotten the dominion, ouercommed Demetrius,

53 Conquered our lande, and stricken a feelde with him, so that we haue discomfited both hym and his host, and sit in the throne of his kyngdome:

54 Let vs nowe make frendshyp togeather, geue me thy daughter to wife, so shal I be thy sonne in lawe, and both geue thee rewardes and her, accordyng to thy dignitie.

55 Ptolome the kyng gaue answeare, saying, Happy be the day wherein thou art come agayne to the lande of thy progenitours, and set in the throne of theyr kyngdome:

56 And nowe wyl I fulfyl thy writing: but meete me at Ptolomais, that we may see one another, & that I may mary my daughter vnto thee, according to thy desyre.

57 So Ptolome went out of Egypt with his daughter Cleopatra, and came vnto Ptolomais in the hundred threescore and two yeere, 58 Where kyng Alexander met him: and he gaue Alexander his daughter Cleopatra, and maryed them at Ptolomais with great worshyp, like as the manner of kynges is to be.

59 Then wrote king Alexander vnto Jonathas, that he should come and meete him.

60 So he went honourably vnto Ptolomais, and there he met the two kinges, and gaue them and theyr frendes great presents of golde and syluer, and found fauour in their syght.

61 And there came togeather agaynst Jonathas certayne wycked men and vngratious persons of Israel, making complaintes of hym: but the king regarded them not.

62 As for Jonathas, the king commaunded to take of his garmentes, and to clothe hym in purple: and so they dyd. Then the kyng appoynted him to syt by hym, 63 And said vnto his princes, Goe with him into the middest of the citie, and make a proclamation, that no man complayne agaynst him of any matter, and that no man trouble him for any maner of cause.

64 So it happened, that when his accusers saw the worshyp which was proclaymed of him, and that he was clothed in purple, they fled euery one.

65 And the king made muche of hym, wrote him among his cheefe frendes, made him a duke, and partaker of his dominion.

66 Thus Jonathas went agayne to Hierusalem with peace and gladnesse.

67 In the hundred, threescore and fifth yeere, came Demetrius the sonne of Demetrius, from Creta, into his fathers lande:

68 Wherof when Alexander heard tel, he was right sory, and returned vnto Antioche.

69 And Demetrius chose Appolonius, which had the gouernance of Coelosyria, to be his captaine: so he geathered a great host, and came vnto Jamnia, and sent worde vnto Jonathas the high priest, saying, 70 Darest thou withstand vs thee selfe alone? As for me, I am but laughed to scorne and shamed, because thou dyddest vaunt thy strength agaynst vs in the mountaynes.

71 Nowe therefore if thou trustest in thyne owne strength, come downe to vs into the playne feelde, and there let vs trye the matter togeather, for thou shalt knowe that I haue the strength of many cities,

72 And shalt knowe who I am, and the other that stande by me, whiche say, That your foote is not able to stande before our face, for thy fathers haue ben twyse chased in theyr owne lande.

73 And nowe howe wilt thou be able to abide so great an host of horsemen and footemen in the feelde, where as is neyther rocke, stone, nor place to flee vnto?

74 When Jonathas hearde the wordes of Apollonius, he was moued in his minde, wherefore he chose ten thousande men, and went out of Hierusalem: and Simon his brother met him, for to helpe hym.

75 And they pytched theyr tentes at Joppa: but the citie kept him forth, for Apollonius garrison was in Joppa.

76 Then Jonathas laide siege to it, and they that were in the citie for very feare let him in: and so Jonathas wanne Joppa.

77 Apollonius hearyng of this, tooke three thousande horsemen, with a great host on foote, and went to Azotus, as though he would goe further, and came immediatly into the playne feelde, because he had so many horsmen, and put his trust in them.

78 So Jonathas folowed vpon hym to Azotus, and the armie skirmished with his rereward, and there they stroke the battayle.

79 Nowe had Apollonius left a thousande horsemen behinde them priuily in the tentes.

80 And when Jonathas knew that such wayte was layde behynde them, they went rounde about the enimies host, and shotte dartes at the people, from the morning to the euenyng.

81 As for Jonathas people, they kept theyr order as he had commaunded them, and the enimies horses were weery.

92 Then brought Simon foorth his hoſt, and ſet them againſt the footemen (for the horſmen were weery alredy:) and ſo he diſcomfited them, and they fled.

83 And they that were ſcattered in the feelde, gate them to Azotus, and came into the temple of Dagon their owll, that they might there ſaue their liues.

84 But Jonathas ſet fyre vpon Azotus, and al the cities rounde about it, and tooke their goods, and brent vp the temple of Dagon, with al them that were fled vnto it.

85 Thus were ſlaine and brent welnigh eyght thouſande men.

86 So Jonathas remoued the hoſt from thence, and brought them to Aſcalon, where the men of the citie came forth, and mette hym with great worſhyp.

87 After this went Jonathas and his hoſt againe to Hieruſalem, with great ſubſtance of goodes.

88 And when kyng Alexander hearde theſe thynges, he thought to do Jonathas more worſhyp:

89 And ſent him a coller of gold, as the vſe is to be geuen vnto ſuche as are of the kynges next blood: He gaue hym alſo the citie of Accaron, with the landes belongyng thereto in poſſeſſion.

¶ The.xi. Chapter.

3. The diſſention betweene Ptolomeus and Alexander his ſonne in lawe. 17. The death of Alexander.

Ioſep. cap. 7. lib. 13.

AND the kyng of Egypt geathered an hoſt like the ſande that lyeth vpon the ſea ſhore, and many ſhyppes, and went about through decept to obteyne the kyngdome of Alexander, and to ioyne it vnto his owne realme.

2 Upon this he tooke his iourney into Syria, vſyng gentle wordes, ſo that he was letten into the cities, and men came forth to meete hym: for kyng Alexander had commaunded them ſo to do, becauſe he was his father in lawe.

3 Now when Ptolome entred into any citie, he left men of warre to keepe it: and this he did throughout al the cities.

4 And when he came to Azotus, they ſhewed hym the temple of Dagon, and Azotus that was brent vp, with the other things whiche were deſtroyed, the dead bodyes caſt abroade, and the graues that they had made by the wayes ſyde for ſuche as were ſlayne in the feelde,

5 And told the king that Jonathas had done all theſe thynges, to the intent they myght geat him euyl wyl, but the king ſaid not one worde thereto.

6 And Jonathas mette the kyng with great honour at Joppa, where they ſaluted one another, and tooke their reſt.

7 So when Jonathas had gone with the king vnto the water that was called Eleutherus, he turned againe to Hieruſalem.

8 Nowe Ptolome had gotten the dominion of the cities vnto Seleucia vpon the ſea coaſt, imagining wicked counſels againſt Alexander, 9 And ſent ambaſſadours vnto Demetrius, ſaying, Come, let vs make a bonde betwixt vs, ſo ſhall I geue thee my daughter that Alexander hath, and thou ſhalt raigne in thy fathers kyngdome.

10 I repent that I gaue Alexander my daughter, for he goeth about to ſlay me.

11 And thus he ſlaundered Alexander, becauſe he woulde haue had his realme.

12 Thus he tooke his daughter from him, gaue her vnto Demetrius, and forſooke Alexander, ſo that his malice was openly knowen.

13 And Ptolome came to Antioche, where he ſet two crownes vpon his owne head, the crowne of Egypt, and of Aſia.

14 In the meane ſeaſon was king Alexander in Cilicia: for they that dwelt in thoſe places had rebelled againſt hym.

15 But when Alexander heard of this, he came to warre againſt hym: ſo king Ptolome brought forth his hoſt, and mette him with a mightie power, and chaſed hym away.

16 Then fled Alexander into Arabia, there to be defended: and kyng Ptolomeus honour encreaſed.

17 And Zabdiel the Arabian ſmote of Alexanders head, and ſent it vnto Ptolome.

18 But the thirde day after dyed kyng Ptolome him ſelfe, and they whom he had ſet in the ſtrong holdes were ſlayne one of another.

19 And Demetrius raigned in the hundred threeſcore and ſeuenth yeere.

20 At the ſame tyme geathered Jonathas them that were in Jurie, to lay ſiege vnto the caſtle whiche was at Hieruſalem, and ſo they made many inſtrumentes of warre againſt it.

30 Then went there certayne vngodly perſons, whiche hated their owne people, vnto kyng Demetrius, and tolde hym that Jonathas beſieged the caſtle.

22 So when he heard it, he was angry, and immediatly came vnto Ptolemais, and wrote vnto Jonathas, that he ſhoulde not not lay ſiege to the caſtle, but come & ſpeake with him at Ptolemais in all haſt.

23 Neuertheleſſe, when Jonathas heard this, he commaunded to beſiege it: he chose also certayne of the elders and prieſtes of Iſrael, and put him ſelfe in peril, 24 And tooke with him gold, ſiluer, clothing, and diuers preſentes, and went to Ptolemais vnto the king, and founde hym gratious.

25 And though certayne vngodly men of his owne people made complaynte vpon hym,

26 Yet the kyng intreated him like as his predeceſſours had done before, and promoted him in the ſight of al his freendes, 27 Confyrmed hym in the high prieſthood, with al the worſhip that he had afore, and made him his cheefe freende.

28 Jonathas also deſyred the king that he woulde make Iurie free, with the three head cities of Samaria, and the landes parteyning thereto: vpon this dyd Jonathas promiſe him three hundred talentes.

29 Whereunto the king conſented, and gaue Jonathas writing of the ſame, conteyning theſe wordes, 30 King Demetrius ſendeth greetyng vnto his brother Jonathas, and to the people of the Iewes.

31 We ſende you here a copy of the letter whiche we did write vnto our coſin Laſthenus concerning you, that ye ſhoulde know it.

32 Kyng Demetrius ſendeth greetyng vnto Laſthenus his father.

33 For the fayth fulneſſe that our freendes the people of the Iewes keepe vnto vs, & for the louyng kyndneſſe which they beare towarde vs, we are determined to doo them good.

34 Wherfore we aſſigne vnto the coſtes of Judea the three gouernementes, Aſſerema, Lydda, and Ramatha, which are added vnto Iurie from Samaria, and al the landes parteyning therevnto, to be freely ſeparated for ſuche as doo ſacrifyce in Hieruſalem, both concerning the paymentes whiche the king tooke yeerly afore tyme, and the fruite alſo of the earth and trees:

35 As for other tythes and tributes that belonged vnto vs, we diſcharge them therof from this tyme forth.

36 In like manner we graunt vnto them al the cuſtomes of ſalt, and crowne taxes, whiche were brought vnto vs: and this freedome ſhal they haue fyrme and ſtedfaſt from this tyme forth for euermore.

37 Therefore ſee that ye make a copy of theſe our letters, and deliuer it vnto Jonathas, that it may be ſet vpon the holy mount in a conuenient place.

38 After this, when Demetrius the king ſawe that his land was in reſt, and that no reſyſtance was made agaynſt hym, he ſent away all his hoaſt, euery man to his owne place, except certayne bandes of ſtrangers, whom he brought from the Iles of the heathen: wherefore all his fathers hoaſt hated hym.

39 Nowe was there one Tryphon, that had been of Alexanders part afore, whiche when he ſawe that all the hoaſt murmured agaynſt Demetrius, he went to Simalcue the Arabian, that brought vp Antiochus the ſonne of Alexander, 40 And lay ſore vpon him to deliuer him this young Antiochus, that he might raigne in his fathers ſteede: he tolde him also what great euyl Demetrius had done, and howe his men of warre loued him not: and ſo remayned there a long ſeaſon.

41 And Jonathas ſent vnto king Demetrius, to dryue them out which were in the caſtle at Hieruſalem, and thoſe that were in the forteſſes, for they dyd Iſrael great harme.

42 So Demetrius ſent word vnto Jonathas, ſaying, I wil not onely do theſe thinges for thee and thy people: but at time conuenient, I wil doo both thee and thy people great worſhip.

43 But nowe thou ſhalt do me a pleaſure, yf thou wylt ſende me men to helpe me: for al my armie is gone from me.

44 So Jonathas ſent him three thouſande ſtrong men vnto Antioche, and they came vnto the king, wherefore the kyng was very glad at their comming.

45 But they that were of the citie, euen an hundred and twentie thouſande men, gathered them togeather in the middeſt of the citie, and would haue ſlayne the king:

46 Which fled into his court, and the citizens kept the ſtreetes of the citie, and began to fyght.

47 Then the king called for the Iewes helpe, whiche came vnto him altogeather, and went abrode through the citie, 48 And ſlue the ſame day an hundred thouſande men, ſet fyre vpon the citie, and gate many ſpoiles in that day, and deliuered the kyng.

49 So when the citizens ſawe that the Iewes had gotten their will of the citie, and they themſelues diſappoynted of their purpoſe, they made their ſupplication vnto the king, ſaying, 50 Graunt vs peace, and let the Iewes ceaſſe from troublyng vs and the citie.

51 And vpon this they cast away their weapons: thus they made peace, and the Iewes gate great worshyp in the sight of the king, and in the sight of all that were in his realme, and were spoken of throughout the kingdome: and so they came agayne to Hierusalem with great goodes.

52 So the king Demetrius sate in the throne of his kingdome, and had peace in his lande.

53 Neuertheleſſe, he diſſembled in all that euer he ſpake, and withdrewe him ſelfe from Ionathas, neyther rewarded him accordyng to the benefytes whiche he had done for hym, but troubled hym verye ſore.

54 After this came Tryphon agayne with young Antiochus, which raigned, and was crowned king.

55 Then there geathered vnto him all the men of warre, whom Demetrius had put away, theſe fought agaynſt Demetrius, which fled, and turned his backe.

56 So Tryphon toke the Elephantes, and wanne Antioche,

57 And young Antiochus wrote vnto Ionathas, ſaying, I confyrme thee in thy prieſthood, & make thee ruler of foure countreyes, that thou mayeſt be a freende of the kynges.

58 Upon this he ſent hym golden veſſels to be ſerued in, and gaue hym leaue to drinke in golde, to be clothed in purple, and to weare a coller of golde.

59 He made his brother Simon alſo captayne from the coaſtes of Tyrus, vnto the borders of Egypt.

60 Then Ionathas tooke his iourney, and went through the cities beyonde the watr of Iordane, and all the men of warre of Syria geathered them vnto him for to helpe hym: ſo he came vnto Alcalon, and they of the citie receyued hym honourably.

61 And from thence went he to Gaza, but they woulde not let him in: wherefore he layed ſiege vnto it, burnyng vp and ſpoiling the places that were about the citie.

62 And the citizens of Gaza ſubmitted them ſelues vnto Ionathas, whiche made peace with them: but toke of their ſonnes to pledge, ſent them to Hieruſalem, and went through the countrey vnto Damaſcus.

63 Nowe when Ionathas hearde that Demetrius princes were come into Cades, whiche is in Galilee, with a great hoaſte, purpolyng to dryue hym out of the countrey:

64 He came againſt them, and left Simon his brother in the lande.

65 And Simon came to Bethſura, and layd ſiege to it a long ſeaſon, and diſcomfited them.

66 So they deſyred to haue peace with him: which he graunted them, and afterward put them out from thence, tooke the citie, and ſet men to keepe it.

67 And Ionathas with his hoaſt came to the water of Genelar, and betymes in the mornyng gate them to the playne fielde of Azor:

68 And beholde, the hoaſtes of the heathen met them in the field, and layde watche for them in the mountaynes,

69 So that when Ionathas came agaynſt them, the other which were layde to watch, roſe out of their places, and fought,

70 And they that were of Ionathas ſide fled euery man, and there was not one of them left, except Mathathias the ſonne of Abſalomus, and Judas the ſonne of Calphi the captaine of the hoaſt.

71 Then Ionathas rent his clothes, layde earth vpon his head, a made his prayer, a. Beholde the effect of praier

72 And turned agayne to them in the feelde, where they fought togeather, and he put them to flyght.

73 Nowe when his owne men that were fled, ſawe this, they turned agayne vnto him, and helped hym to folowe vppon all their enimies vnto theyr tentes at Cades, and there they camped.

74 So there were ſlayne of the heathen the ſame day three thouſande men, and Ionathas turned agayne to Hieruſalem.

¶ The. xii. Chapter.

1. Ionathas ſendeth ambaſſadours to Rome. 3. and to the people of Sparta, to renue their couenant of freendſhip. 20. Ionathas putteth to flyght the princes of Demetrius, 40. Tryphon taketh Ionathas by deceyte.

IOnathas ſeeyng that the tyme was meete for him, choſe certayne men, and ſent them to Rome, for to ſtablyſhe and to renue the freendſhip with them:

2 He ſent letters alſo vnto Sparta, and to other places in lyke maner.

3 So they went vnto Rome, and entred into the " counſel, and ſayde, Ionathas the hygh prieſt, and the people of the Iewes, ſent vs vnto you, for to renue the olde freendſhip and bonde of loue. " or, ſenate

4 Upon this the Romans gaue them free paſſportes, that men ſhoulde leade them home into the lande of Juda peaceably.

5 And

5 And this is the copie of the letters that Jonathas wrote vnto the Spartians,

6 Jonathas the hygh priest, with the elders, priestes, and the other people of the Jewes, send greetyng vnto the Spartians their brethren.

7 There were letters sent long agoe vnto Onias the hygh priest, from [a] Arius which raigned then among you, that ye are our brethren, as the copie here vnder written dooth specifie.

8 And Onias entreated the Ambassadour that was sent honourably and receiued the letters, wherin there was mention made of the bonde of loue and freendshyp.

9 But as for vs, we neede no suche writinges, for why? we haue the holy bookes of scripture in our handes to our comfort.

10 Neuertheless we had rather sende vnto you for the renuyng of the brotherhood and freendshyp, lest we should be strange vnto you: for it is long since the tyme that ye sent vnoode vnto vs.

11 Wherefore in the sacrifices that we offer, and other ceremonies vpon the high solemne dayes, and other, we allway remember you without ceassing, lyke as reason is, and as it becommeth vs to thynke vpon our brethren, 12 Yea, and are ryght glad of your prosperous honour.

13 And though we haue had great troubles and warres, so that the kinges about vs haue fought agaynst vs:

14 Yet woulde we not be greeuous vnto you, nor to other of our louers and freends in these warres.

15 For we had helpe from heauen that hath succoured vs, so that we are delyuered, and our enimies subdued.

16 Wherefore we chose Numenius the sonne of Antiochus, and Antipater the sonne of Jason, and sent them vnto the Romanes for to renue the old [a] bond of freendshyp and loue with them.

17 We commaunded them also to come vnto you, to salute you, and to deliuer you our letters concernyng the renouation of our brotherhood.

18 And nowe ye shall doo ryght well to geue vs an answeare thereunto.

19 And this is the copie of the writyng whiche Arius the kyng of Sparta sent vnto Onias.

20 Arius the king of the Spartians, [b] sendeth greetyng vnto Onias the high priest:

21 It is founde in writyng, that the Spartians and Jewes are brethren, and come out of the generation of Abraham:

22 And now for so much as this is come to our knowledge, ye shal doo wel to write vnto vs of your prosperitie.

23 As for vs, we haue written our mynd vnto you, our cattel & goodes are yours, and yours, ours: thefe thynges haue we commaunded to be shewed vnto you.

24 When Jonathas hearde that Demetrius princes were come foorth to fyght agaynst hym with a greater hoast then afore, 25 He went from Hierusalem, and met them in the lande of Hemath: for he gaue them not space to come into his owne countrey.

26 And he sent spyes vnto theyr tentes, whiche came againe and tolde hym that they were appoynted to come vppon hym in the nyght season.

27 Wherfore when the sunne was gone downe, Jonathas commaunded his men to watche all the nyght, and to be redy with weapons for to fyght, and set watchemen rounde about the hoast.

28 But when the aduersaries heard that Jonathas was redy with his men to the battaile, they feared, and were afrayd in their hartes, & kyndled fires in their tentes, brake vp, and gate them away.

29 Neuertheless, Jonathas and his company knewe it not tyll the morning, for they sawe the fyres burnyng.

30 Then Jonathas followed vpon them, but he myght not ouertake them, for they were gone ouer the water Eleutherus.

31 So Jonathas departed vnto the Arabians, whiche were called Zabadei, slue them, and tooke theyr goodes.

32 He proceeded further also, and came vnto Damascus, and went through all the countrey.

33 But Simon his brother tooke his iourney, and came to Ascalon, and to the next strong holdes, departyng vnto Joppa, and wanne it, 34 (For he heard that they woulde deliuer the holde to them that tooke Demetrius part,) wherefore he set men of warre in the citie to keepe it.

35 After this came Jonathas home agayne, and called the elders of the people together, and deuised with them for to buylde vp the strong holdes in Jurie, 36 And to make the walles of Hierusalem hygher, to set vp an hygh wall betwixt the castle & the citie, for to separate it from the citie, that it might be alone, and that men should neyther buye nor sell in it.

37 Upon this they came together for to buylde vp the citie, and for so muche as the wal vppon the brooke of the east syde, called Caphetetath, was fallen downe, repayred it.

38 And

[a] By Darius.

[a] Beholde the effect of praier.

[a] By league.

[b] Or, senate.

38 And Simon ſet vp Adiada in Sephela, and made it ſtrong, ſetting poꝛtes and lockes vpon it.

39 Nowe when Tryphon purpoſed to raigne in Aſia, to be crowned, and to ſlay the kyng Antiochus:

40 He was afraid that Ionathas would not ſuffer hym, but fyght againſt hym, wherefoꝛe he went about to take Ionathas, and to kyll hym: ſo he departed, and came vnto Bethſan.

41 Then went Ionathas foꝛth againſt hym to the battayle, with fourtie thouſande choſen men, and came vnto Bethſan alſo:

42 But when Tryphon ſaw that Ionathas came with ſo great an hoaſt to deſtroye hym, he was afrayde:

43 And therefoꝛe he receyued hym honourably, commended him vnto al his frends, and gaue him rewardes, and commaunded his men of warre to be as obedient vnto hym, as to hym ſelfe:

44 And ſayde vnto Ionathas, Why haſte thou cauſed this people to take ſuche trauayle, ſeeyng there is no warre betwixt vs?

45 Therefoꝛe ſende them home againe, and chooſe certayne men to wayte vpon thee, and come thou with me to Ptolemais, foꝛ I wyl geue it thee, with the other ſtrong holdes, men of warre, and theyꝛ officers, as foꝛ me, I muſt depart, this is only the cauſe of my commyng.

46 Ionathas beleeued hym, and dyd as he ſayde, puttyng away his hoaſt, whiche went into the lande of Juda.

47 He kept but thꝛee thouſande by him, whereof he ſent two thouſande into Galilee, and one thouſande went with hym ſelfe.

48 Nowe as ſoone as Ionathas entred into Ptolemais, the citizens ſparred the gates of the citie, and tooke hym, and ſlue all them with the ſwoꝛde that came in with hym.

49 Then ſent Tryphon an hoaſt of footemen and hoꝛſemen into Galilee, & into the great playne fielde, to deſtroy al Ionathas companie:

50 But when they knewe that Ionathas was taken, and al they ſlayne that wayted vpon hym, they tooke counſel togeather, and encouraged one another, and came foꝛth againſt them redy to fyght.

51 So when they which folowed vpon them, ſawe that it was a matter of lyfe, they turned backe againe.

52 As foꝛ the other, they went into the land of Juda peaceably, and bewayled Ionathas, and them that were with hym ryght ſoꝛe: and Iſrael made great lamentation.

53 Then al the heathen that were round about them, ſought to deſtroy them.

54 Foꝛ they ſayde, Nowe haue they no captayne, noꝛ any man to helpe them, therefoꝛe let vs ouercome them, and roote out theyꝛ name from among them.

¶ The xiii. Chapter.

1. After Ionathas was taken, Simon is choſen captayne. 17. Of whom Tryphon taking his chyldren and money for the redemption of Ionathas, killeth hym and his chyldren.

NOwe when Simon heard that Tryphon geathered a great hoaſt to come into the lande of Juda, and to deſtroy it,

2 And ſawe that the people was in great fearefulneſſe and care: he came vp to Hieruſalem, and geathered the people togeather,

3 And gaue them exhoꝛtation, ſaying, Ye knowe what great battayles I and my bꝛethꝛen, and my fathers houſe, haue fought foꝛ the lawe and the ſanctuarie, and what maner of troubles we haue ſeene.

4 Thꝛough occaſion whereof al my bꝛethꝛen are ſlayne foꝛ Iſraels ſake, and I am left alone.

5 And nowe let me not ſpare myne owne lyfe in any maner of trouble, foꝛ I am no better then my bꝛethꝛen:

6 But wyll auenge my people and the ſanctuarie, our chyldꝛen and our wiues: foꝛ al the heathen are geathered togeather to deſtroye vs of very malice.

7 At theſe woꝛds the hartes of the people were kyndeled togeather,

8 So that they cried with a loud voyce, ſayeing, Thou ſhalt be our captayne, in ſteede of Judas and Ionathas thy bꝛethꝛen:

9 Oꝛder thou our battayle, and what ſo euer thou commaundeſt vs, we ſhal doo it.

10 So he geathered al the men of warre, makyng haſte to finiſhe al the walles of Hieruſalem, whiche he made ſtrong rounde about.

11 Then ſent he Ionathas the ſonne of Abſolomus, with a freſhe hoaſt vnto Joppa, whiche dꝛoue them out that were in the caſtle, and remayned there hym ſelfe.

12 Tryphon alſo remoued from Ptolemais with a great armie, to come into the lande of Juda, and Ionathas with hym in warde.

13 And Simon pitched his tentes at [a] Addus, beſoꝛe the playne fielde.

14 But when Tryphon knewe that Simon ſtoode vp in ſteede of his bꝛother Ionathas, nathas, and that he woulde warre agaynſt him, he ſent meſſengers vnto him, ſaying, 15 Whereas we haue kept Jonathas thy brother, it is for money that he is owyng in the kynges accompte, concernyng the buſyneſſe that he had in hande.

[a] Or, Addida.

16 Wherefore, ſende nowe an hundred talents of ſyluer, and his two ſonnes for ſuretie (that when he is letten forth, he ſhal not forſake vs) and we ſhal ſende him agayne.

17 Neuertheleſſe, Simon knewe that he diſſembled in his wordes: yet commaunded he the money and chyldren to be deliuered vnto him, leſt the Iſraelites myght haue hated him, 18 And ſayde, Becauſe he ſent him not the money and the chyldren, therefore is Jonathas dead.

19 So Simon ſent him the chyldren, & an hundred talentes, but he diſſembled, and woulde not let Jonathas goe.

20 Afterwarde came Tryphon into the lande to deſtroy it, and went round about by the way that leadeth vnto Ador: but where ſo euer they went, thyther went Simon and his hoſt alſo.

21 Nowe they that were in the caſtle, ſent meſſengers vnto Tryphon, that he ſhoulde make haſte to come by the wyldernеſſe, and to ſende them victualles.

22 And Tryphon made redy al his horſmen to come the ſame nyght: neuertheleſſe, it was a very great ſnowe, ſo that he came not becauſe of the ſnowe, but he remooued & went into the countrey of Galaad.

23 And when he drue nygh Baſcama, he ſlue Jonathas and his ſonnes there, 24 And then turned for to goe home into his owne lande.

25 Then ſent Simon for to fetche his brothers dead coarſe, and buried it in Modin his fathers citie.

26 So al Iſrael bewayled him with great lamentation, and mourned for him very long.

27 And Simon made vpon the ſepulchre of his father, and his brethren, a buylding, hygh to looke vnto, of free ſtone, behynde and before,

28 And ſet vp ſeuen pyllers vpon it, one againſt an other, for his father, his mother, and foure brethren, 29 And ſet great pyllers rounde about them, with armes vpon them, for a perpetuall memorie, and carued ſhyppes beſyde the armes, that they myght be ſeene of men ſayling in the ſea.

30 This ſepulchre whiche he made at Modin, ſtandeth yet vnto this day.

31 Nowe as Tryphon went forth to walke with the young kyng Antiochus, he ſlue him trayterouſly, 32 And raigned in his ſteade, crowned him ſelfe kyng of Aſia, and dyd muche euyll in the lande.

33 Simon alſo built vp ꝑ caſtles in Jurie, makyng them ſtrong, with hygh towres, great walles, portes, and lockes, and layde vp victualles in the ſtrong holdes.

34 And Simon chooſe certayne men, and ſent them to kyng Demetrius, to deſyre him that he would diſcharge the lande from al bondage, for Tryphon had ſpoyled it very ſore.

35 Whervpon Demetrius the king anſweared him, and wrote vnto him after this maner, 36 Demetrius the kyng ſendeth greeting vnto Simon the hygh prieſt his freend, with the elders and people of the Jewes:

37 The golden crowne and precious ſtone that ye ſent vnto vs, haue we receiued, and are redy to make a ſtedfaſte peace with you, yea, & to wryte vnto our officers for to releaſe you concernyng the thinges wherein we made you free.

38 And the appoyntment that we make with you, ſhalbe fyrme and ſtable: the ſtrong holdes whiche ye haue builded, ſhalbe your owne.

39 As for any ouerſight or fault committed vnto this day, we forgeue it, & the crowne tare that ye ought vs alſo: and where as was any other tribute in Hieruſalem, it ſhal nowe be no tribute:

40 And looke who are meete among you to be in our court, let them be wrytten vp, that there may be peace betwixt vs.

41 Thus the yoke of the heathen was taken from Iſrael, in the hundred and ſeuentieth yeere.

42 And the people of the Jewes began to wryte in their letters & actes on this maner, In the fyrſt yeere of Simon the hygh prieſt, a gouernour and prince of the Jewes.

43 In thoſe dayes went Simon vnto Gaza, and beſieged it round about, where he ſet vp ordinance of warre, and wan a towre, whiche he tooke.

44 So they that gate into the towre, leapt into the citie, whiche was in a great feare:

45 In ſo muche that the people of the citie rent their clothes, & clymed vp vpon the walles, with their wyues & chyldren, beleechyng Simō to be at one with them, ſaying, 46 Dreward vs not after our wickednеſſe, but be gracious vnto vs, and we ſhall doo thee ſeruice.

47 Then Simon for very pitie woulde fyght fyght no more agaynst them, but put them out of the citie, and cauſed the houſes, wherin the images were, to be cleanſed, and ſo entred the citie with pſalmes of prayſe, geuyng thankes vnto the Lorde.

48 So when he had caſt all abominations out of the citie, he ſet ſuch men in it as kept the lawe of God, and made the citie ſtrong, and buylded a dwelling place for him ſelfe.

49 Nowe when they in the caſtle at Hieruſalem were kept ſo ſtraytely that they could not come forth, nor goe into the countrey, and myght neyther buye nor ſell, they were very hungry, and many of them famyſhed to death:

50 In ſo much that they beſought Simon to be at one with them, whiche he graunted them: ſo he put them out from thence, & cleanſed the caſtle from filthineſſe.

51 And vpon the twenty and three day of the ſeconde moneth, in the hundred threeſcore and eleuenth yeere, they entred into it with thankes geuyng, & branches of palme trees, with Harpes, Croudes, Cymbales, and Lutes, ſyngyng pſalmes & ſongues of praiſe vnto God, for that the great enimie of Iſrael was ouercome.

52 And Simon ordeyned that the ſame day ſhould be kept euery yeere with gladnes.

53 And made ſtrong the hyl of the temple that was beſyde the caſtle, where he dwelt him ſelfe with his companie.

54 Simon alſo perceyuyng that John his ſonne was a mighty man of armes, made him captayne of al the hoſtes, & cauſed him to dwel at [a] Gaza.

[a] or, Gazaris.

¶ The.xiiii. Chapter.

1. Demetrius is ouercome of Arſaces. 11. Simon beyng captayne, there is great quietneſſe in Iſrael. 18. The couenant of freendſhyp with the Romanes, and with the people of Sparta, is renued.

IN the hundred threeſcore & twelfth yeere, geathered kyng Demetrius his hoſt, and departed vnto Media, to geat him help for to fyght agaynſt Tryphon.

2 Nowe when Arſaces the king of Perſia and Media, hearde that Demetrius was entred within his borders, he ſent one of his princes to take him alyue, and to bryng him vnto him.

3 So he went and ſlue Demetrius hoſt, tooke him ſelfe, brought him to Arſaces, whiche kept him in warde.

4 And all the lande of Juda was in reſt ſo long as Simon lyued, for he ſought the welth of his people, therefore were they glad to haue him for their ruler, and to doo him worſhyp alway.

5 Simon wanne the citie of Joppa alſo for an hauen towne, and made it an entrance into the Iles of the ſea.

6 He enlarged the borders of his people, and conquered them more lande:

7 He geathered vp many of their people that were pryſoners, he had the dominion of Gaza, Bethſura, and the caſtle whiche he cleanſed from fylthineſſe, and there was no man that reſyſted him.

8 So that euery man tylled his ground in peace, the lande of Juda, & the trees gaue their fruite and encreaſe.

9 The elders ſate al in iudgement, and toke their deuice for the wealth of the land, the young men put on worſhyp and harneſſe vpon them.

10 He prouided victuals for the cities, and made goodly ſtrong holdes of them, ſo that the fame of his worſhyp was ſpoken of vnto the ende of the worlde.

11 For he made peace throughout the lande, and Iſrael was full of myrth and ioy.

12 Euery man ſate vnder his Vine and Fygge trees, and there was no man to fraye them away.

13 There was none in the land to fight agaynſt them, for then the kyngs were ouercome.

14 He helped thoſe that were in aduerſitie among his people, he was diligent to ſee the lawe kept: as for ſuche as were vngodly and wicked, he tooke them away.

15 He ſet vp the ſanctuarie, and encreaſed the holy veſſelles of the temple.

16 When the Romanes and Spartians had gotten woorde that Jonathas was dead, they were ryght ſorie:

17 But when they hearde that Simon his brother was made hygh prieſte in his ſteade, and howe he had wonne the lande agayne, with the cities in it:

18 They wrote vnto him in tables of braſſe, to renue the freendſhyp and bonde of loue, whiche they had made afore with Judas and Jonathas his brethren.

19 Which writynges were read before the congregation at Hieruſalem. And this is the copie of the letters that the Spartians ſent,

20 The Senatours and Citizens of Sparta, ſende greetyng vnto Simon the great prieſt, with the elders, prieſtes, and the other people of the Iewes their brethren:

21 Whē your Ambaſſadours, that were ſent vnto our people, certifyed vs of your worſhyp, honour, and proſperous wealth, we

we were glad of theyr commyng.

22 And haue written the embassage in the publique recordes in this maner: namely that Numenius the sonne of Antiochus, and Antipater the sonne of Jason, the Jewes ambassadours, are come vnto vs for to renue the olde freendshyp with vs.

23 Upon this, the people consented that the men shoulde be honourably entreated, and that the copie of theyr embassage shoulde be written in the special bookes of the people, for a perpetuall memoriall vnto the Spartians: Yea, and that we shoulde sende a copie of the same vnto Simon the great priest.

24 After this dyd Simon sende Numenius vnto Rome with a golden shielde of a thousande pounde weight, to confirme the freendshyp with them.

25 Whiche when the Romanes vnderstoode, they sayde, What thankes shall we recompence agayne vnto Simon and his chyldren?

26 For he and his brethren, and the house of his father, hath stablished Israel, & ouercommed their enimies, wherefore they graunted hym to be free, & confirmed the libertie therof: therefore they wrote this in tables of hasse, and set it vpon pillers in mount Sion.

27 The copie of the writing is this, The eyghteenth day of the moneth Elul, in the hundred thyee score and twelfth yeere, in the thyrde yeere of Simon the high priest,

28 In the great congregation of the priestes, rulers of the people, and elders of the countrey at "Saramel, were these words openly declared: "Hierusa-

29 For so muche as there was muche warre in our land, therefore Simon the sonne of Mathathias, come of the childrē of Jarib, and his brethren, put them selues in peryll, and resisted the enimies of theyr people, that theyr sanctuarie and lawe myght be mayntayned, and dyd theyr people great worshyp.

30 Jonathas in lyke maner, after that he had gouerned his people, and been theyr high priest, dyed, and lyeth buryed beside his elders.

31 After that would theyr enimies haue troden theyr holy thinges vnder foote, destroyed theyr lande, and vtterly wasted their sanctuarie.

32 Then Simon withstoode them, and fought for his people, spent much of his owne money, weaponed the valiant men of his people, gaue them wages, 33 Made strong the cities of Juda, with Bethsura that lieth vpon the borders of Jurie, where the ordinance of theyr enimies lay sometyme, and set Jewes there for to keepe it.

34 He made fast Joppa also which lieth vpon the sea, and Gaza "that bordereth vpon Azotus, where the enimies dwelt afore, and there he set Jewes to keepe it: and what so euer was meete for the subduing of the aduersaries, that layed he therein. "for, Gasara.

35 Nowe when the people sawe the noble actes of Simon, and what worshyp he purposed to do for them, his godly behauiour and faythfulnesse whiche he kept vnto them, and how he sought by al wayes the wealth of his people, because he dyd al this, therefore they chose hym to be theyr prince and high priest.

36 And in his tyme they prospered well by hym, so that the heathen were taken out of theyr lande, and they also whiche were in the citie of Dauid at Hierusalem in the castle, where they went out, and defyled all thynges that were about the sanctuarie, and dyd great harme vnto cleanlynesse:

37 And Simon put men of the Jewes in it, for the defence of the lande and citie, and set vp the walles of Hierusalem.

38 And king Demetrius confirmed him in his high priesthood.

39 For these causes, made hym his freende, and dyd hym great worshyp:

40 For he hearde that the Romanes called the Jewes theyr freendes, louers, and brethren: howe honourably they receyued Simons ambassadours:

41 Howe the Jewes and priestes consented that he shoulde be theyr prince and high priest perpetually, tyll God rayse vp the true prophete:

42 And that he shoulde be theyr captayne to care for the sanctuarie, and to set officers vppon the workes thereof, ouer the lande, ouer the weapons, ouer the houses of defence, to make prouision for the holy thynges:

43 And to be obeyed of euery man, and all the writynges of the lande to be made in his name, that he shoulde be clothed in purple and golde:

44 And that it shoulde be lawfull for none of the people nor priestes to breake any of these thynges, to withstande his wordes, nor to call any congregation in the lande without hym: that he shoulde be clothed in purple, and weare a coller of golde.

45 And yf there were any whiche disobeyed or brake this ordinance, that he shoulde be punished.

46 So all the people consented to allow Simon, and to doo according to these wordes:

47 Simon also him selfe tooke it vppon hym, and was content to be the hygh prieſt, the captayne and prince of the Iewes and prieſtes, and to gouerne them al.

48 And they commaunded to make this writyng in tables of braſſe, and faſten it vnto the wall that compaſſeth the ſanctuarie in an open place:

49 And to laye vp a copie of the ſame in the treaſurie, that Simon and his poſteritie myght haue it.

¶ The.xv. Chapter.

The Romanes vvrite letters vnto kinges and nations in the defence of the Ievves.

MOreouer kyng Antiochus the ſonne of Demetrius, ſent letters from the Iles of the ſea, vnto Simon the hygh prieſt and prince of the Iewes, & to all the people,

2 Concernyng theſe wordes, Antiochus the kyng ſendeth greetyng vnto Simon the hygh prieſt, and to the people of the Iewes.

3 For ſo muche as certaine wicked men haue gotten the kyngdome of our progenitours, I haue purpoſed to chalenge the Realme agayne, and to reſtore it to the olde eſtate: Wherfore I haue geathered a great hoaſt, and made thyppes of warre,

4 That I may goe through the countrey, and be auenged of them which haue deſtroyed our lande, and waſted many cities in my realme.

5 And therefore nowe I make thee free alſo from al the tributes whereof al kynges my progenitours haue diſcharged thee, and from other cuſtomes wherefrom they haue releaſed thee, whatſoeuer they be.

6 Yea, I geue thee leaue to ſmite money of thyne owne within thy lande.

7 As for Hieruſalem, I wyl that it be holy & free, and al the weapons and houſes of defence which thou haſt buylded, and keepeſt in thyne handes, ſhalbe thyne:

8 Where as any thyng is or ſhalbe owing vnto the king, I forgeue it thee, from this tyme forth, for euermore.

9 And when we haue obteyned our kyngdome, we ſhal doo thee, thy people, and the temple great worſhyp: ſo that your honour ſhalbe knowen throughout the whole worlde.

10 In the hundred three ſcore and fourteenth yere, went Antiochus into his fathers lande, and all the men of warre came togeather vnto hym, ſo that fewe were left with Tryphon.

11 So the kyng Antiochus folowed vpon hym, but he fledde vnto Doza, whiche lyeth by the ſea ſyde:

12 For he ſaw that there was miſcheefe comming vnto hym, and that his hoaſt hadde forſaken hym.

13 Then came Antiochus vnto Doza, with an hundred and twentie thouſand men of armes on foote, and eyght thouſande horſemen: ſo he compaſſed the citie rounde about, and the ſhyppes came by the ſea.

14 Thus they vexed the citie by lande and by water, in ſo muche that they ſuffered no man to goe in nor out.

15 In the meane ſeaſon came Numenius, and they that had been with hym, from the citie of Rome, hauing letters written vnto the kinges and prouinces, wherein where conteyned theſe wordes,

16 Lucius the conſul of Rome, ſendeth gretyng vnto Ptolome the kyng,

17 The ambaſſadours of the Iewes our freendes, beyng ſent from Simon the high prieſt, & from the people of the Iewes, came vnto vs for to renue the olde freendſhip and bond of loue, 18 Brought a ſhielde of golde, weighing a thouſande pounde.

19 Wherefore we thought it good to write vnto the kynges and prouinces to doo them no harme, nor to take part againſt them, theyr cities, nor countryes, neyther to maynteyne theyr enimies againſt them.

20 And we were content to receyue of them the ſhielde.

21 If there be any wicked perſons therfore fled from theyr countrey, vnto you, deliuer them vnto Simon the hygh prieſt, that he may punilhe them according to theyr owne lawe.

22 The ſame wordes wrote the Romanes alſo vnto Demetrius the kyng, to Attalus, Araba, Arſaces, 23 And to al regions: as Samſames, to them of Sparta, "Delo, "Mynd, Sicyon, Caria, Samos, Pamphylia, Lycia, Alicarnaſſum, & to the Rhodes, to Faceldis, Coo, Sida, Arado, Coryna, Gnidum, to Cyppes, and Cyrene.

"or, Dele
"or, Myn

24 And of euery letter they ſent a copie to Simon the hygh prieſt.

25 So Antiochus the kyng brought his hoaſt vnto Doza the ſeconde tyme, to take it, where he made diuers ordinances of warre, and kept Tryphon in, that he ſhoulde not goe eyther in or out.

26 Then ſent Simon vnto Antiochus two thouſand choſen men to helpe hym, with golde, ſyluer, and other pleutenus thynges.

27 Neuertheleſſe he woulde not receiue them, them, but brake al the couenaunt whiche he made with Simon afore, and withdrew him selfe from him.

28 He sent Athenobius also a freend of his vnto Simon, for to reason with him, saying, Ye withholde from me Joppa and Gaza, with the castle that is at Hierusalem, whiche are cities of my realme:

29 Whose borders ye haue destroyed, and doone great euyl in the lande, hauyng the dominion in many other places of my kyngdome:

30 Wherefore, delyuer nowe the cities which ye haue taken, with the tributes of the places that ye haue rule vppon without the borders of Jurie:

31 Or els geue me fyue hundred talentes of syluer, yea and for the harme that ye haue doone in the cities, and for the tributes of the same, other fyue hundred talentes: yf no, we shal come and fyght agaynst you.

32 So Athenobius the kynges freende came to Hierusalem, and when he sawe the great worshyp and honour of Simon, in golde, syluer, & so great plentye of ornamentes, he marueyled: and tolde Simon as the kyng commaunded him.

33 Then answeared Simon, and sayde vnto him, As for vs, we haue neyther taken other mens landes, nor withholden them: but onely our fathers heritage, whiche our enimies had vnryghteously in possession a certayne tyme.

34 This heritage of our fathers haue we chalenged in processe of tyme.

35 And whereas thou complaynest concernyng Joppa and Gaza, they dyd great harme to our people, and in our land, yet wyl we geue an hundred talentes for them. Neuertheless, Athenobius answeared him not one woorde:

36 But turned againe wrathfully vnto the kyng, and tolde him al these woords, and the great dignitie of Simon, with al that he had seene: and the kyng was very angry.

37 And in the meane tyme fledde Tryphon by shyp vnto Orthosias.

38 Then the kyng made Cendebeus captayne of the sea coast, and gaue him an host of footemen and horsemen, 39 Commaunding him to remoone the host towarde Jurie, and to buylde vp the citie of Cedron, to make vp the portes, and to warre agaynst the people of the Jewes: as for the kyng him selfe, he folowed vppon Tryphon.

40 So Cendebeus came vnto Jamnia, and began to vexe the people, to tread downe Jurie, to take the people prysoners, to slaye them, 41 And to buylde vp Cedron: where he set horsemen, and other men of warre, that they might come forth, and goe through the streetes of Jurie, lyke as the kyng had commaunded him.

¶ The.xvi. Chapter.

Cendebeus the captayne of Antiochus host, is put to flyght of the sonnes of Simon.

THEN came vp John from Gaza, and tolde Simon his father what Cendebeus had doone among theyr people.

2 Upon this called Simon two of his eldest sonnes, Judas and John, and sayd vnto them, I and my brethren, and my fathers house, haue euer from our youth vp vnto this day, foughten agaynst the enimies of Israel: and God gaue vs good fortune to delyuer Israel often tymes.

3 And nowe, for as much as I am olde, and ye by Gods goodnesse are of a sufficient age, be ye in stead of me & my brother, to goe forth and fyght for our people: and the helpe of God be with you.

4 So chose twentie thousande fyghtyng men of the countrey, with horsemen also, whiche went forth agaynst Cendebeus, and rested at Modin.

5 In the morning they arose, and went into the playne fielde, and beholde, a mighty great host came agaynst them, both of footemen and horsemen: nowe was there a water brooke betwixt them.

6 And John remoued the host towarde them: and when he saw that the people was afrayd to goe ouer the water brooke, he went ouer fyrst him self: and the men seeing this, folowed him.

7 Then John set his horsmen and footmen in order, the one by the other: for their enimies horsmen were very many.

8 But when they blewe vp the "pryestes trumpettes, Cendebeus fledde with his host: wherof many were slayne, and the remnant gate them to their strong holdes. "Or, holy.

9 Judas also Johns brother was wounded at the same tyme, and John folowed styll vpon their enimies, tyll he came to Cedron, whiche Cendebeus had buylded.

10 The enimies fledde also vnto the towres that were in the fieldes of Azotus, and those dyd John burne vp with fyre: thus there were slaine two thousande men of them, and John turned againe peaceably into Jurie.

11 And in the fielde of Jericho was Ptolome

Ptolome the ſonne of Abobus made captayne: whiche becauſe he had abundance of ſyluer and golde,

12 (For he had married the daughter of Simon the hygh prieſte,)

13 Waxed proud in his mind, & thought to conquer the lande, imaginyng fallhood agaynſt Simon & his ſonnes, to deſtroy them.

14 Nowe as Simon was goyng about through the cities that were in the countrey of Jarie, & caring for them, he came downe to Jericho with Mathathias & Judas his ſonnes, in the hundred, three ſcore & ſeuenteenth yeere, in the eleuenth moneth, called Sabat.

15 Then Ptolome the ſonne of Abobus receyued them, but with deceite, into a ſtrong houſe of his, called Dochus, whiche he had buylded, where he made them a banket, and had hyd men there.

16 So when Simon & his ſonnes were mery, and had dronken wel, Ptolome ſtoode vp, with his men, whom he had hyd there, and tooke their weapons, entred into the banket houſe, and ſlue Simon with his two ſonnes, and certayne of his ſeruantes.

17 Such great vnfaythfulnes did Ptolome in Iſrael, & recompenced euil for good.

18 Then wrote Ptolome theſe thynges, and ſent vnto kyng Antiochus, requyring him that he ſhould ſend him an hoſt to helpe him: and ſo ſhould he delyuer him the lande, with the cities and tributes of the ſame.

19 He ſent other men alſo vnto Gaza, for to take Johh, & wrote vnto the captaynes to come to him, and he ſhould geue them ſyluer, golde, and rewardes.

20 And to Hieruſalem he ſent other, to take it, and the ſanctuarie.

21 Then ranne there one before, & told Johh in Gaza, that his father and his brethren were ſlayne, and howe that Ptolome had ſent to ſlay him alſo.

22 When Johh heard this, he was ſore abaſhed, and laide handes of them that were come to deſtroy him, and ſlue them: for he knewe that they went about to kyl him.

23 As for other thynges concernyng Johh, of his warres, of his noble actes, wherein he behaued him ſelfe manfully, of the buyldyng of walles whiche he made, and other of his deedes, 24 They are written in the Chronicles of his prieſthood, from the tyme forth that he was made hygh prieſt after his father.

The ende of the firſt booke of the Machabees.

The ſecond booke of the Machabees.

¶ The firſt Chapter.

1. An Epiſtle of the Iewes that dwelt at Hieruſalem, ſent vnto them that dwelt in Egipt, wherein they exhort them to geue thankes for the death of Antiochus. 19. Of the fire that was hyd in the pyt. 24. The prayer of Nehemias.

THe brethren of the Iewes whiche be at Jeruſalem, and in the lande of Jurie, wyſhe vnto theſe brethren of the Iewes that are throughout Egypte, healthy and peace.

2 God be gracious vnto you, and thinke vppon his couenaunt that he made with Abraham, Iſahac, and Jacob, his faythfull ſeruantes:

3 And geue you all ſuch an hart, that ye may loue and ſerue him, yea, and perfourme his wyll with an whole hart, and a wyllyng mynde:

4 He open your hartes vnto his lawe, and in his commaundementes, and ſend you peace,

5 Heare your prayers, be at one with you, & neuer forſake you in tyme of trouble.

6 For ſo muche as nowe we here be praying for you,

7 What tyme as Demetrius raigned, in the hundred three ſcore and nyene yeere, we Iewes wrote vnto you in the trouble and violence that came vnto vs in thoſe yeeres, after that Jaſon departed out of the holye lande and kyngdome.

8 They brent vp the portes, & ſhed innocent blood: then made we our prayer vnto the Lord, and were heard, we offered vp ſacrifices and fyne flowre, and lighted the lampes, and ſet forth the breed.

9 ‖ And nowe come ye vnto the feaſt of tabernacles, in the moneth "Calleu. ‖ Leui. 23. "Nouem.

10 In the hundred foure ſcore & eyghteene yeere, the people that was at Hieruſalem, and in Jurie, the counſayle, and Judas him ſelfe, ſent this wholſome ſalutation vnto Ariſtobulus kyng Ptolomes maiſter, whiche came of the generation of the annoynted prieſtes, and to the Iewes that were in Egypt:

11 In ſo

11 In so muche as God hath deliuered vs from great perils, we thanke him highly no lesse at al then if we had vanquished the king in battaile.

12 For whē he with those that had fought against the holy citie, did set vpon Persia:

13 For as he was in Persia, namely, the captayne with the great host, he perished in the temple of Naneas, being deceiued through the deuice of Naneas priestes.

14 For when Antiochus, as he that should marry with her, came, & his freendes with hym, into the place to receiue by name of dowrie the money whiche the priestes of Naneas had set foorth:

15 He entred with a small company into the compasse of the temple, and so they shut the temple.

16 Nowe when Antiochus entred by openyng the priuie entrance of the temple, the priestes stoned the captayne to death, hewed them in peeces that were with hym, smote of their heades, and threwe them out.

17 In al things God be praysed, which hath deliuered the wycked into our handes to be punished.

18 Whereas we are nowe purposed to keepe the purification of the temple vpon the twentie and fifth day of the moneth Casleu, we thought necessary to certifie you thereof: that ye also might kepe the tabernacles feast day, and the day of the fire, which was geuen vs when Nehemias offered, after that he had set vp the temple and the aulter.

19 For what tyme as our fathers were led away into Persia, the priestes which then fought the honour of God, toke the fire priuily from the aulter, & hyd it in a valley, where as was a deepe dyre pytte: and therein they kept it, so that the place was vnknowen to euery man.

2. Mac. 10. 20 Nowe after many yeeres, when it pleased God that Nehemias should be sent from the kyng of Persia, he sent the children children of those priestes which had hid the fyre, to seeke it: and as they tolde vs they founde no fyre, but thicke water.

21 Then commaunded he them to draw it vp, and to bryng it hym, and the offeringes withal: Nowe when the sacrifices were laid on, and ordered, Nehemias commaunded the priestes to sprynckle them and the wood with water.

22 When this was done, and the tyme come that the sunne shone whiche afore was hid in the cloude, there was a great fire kindled, insomuche that euery man marueyled.

23 Nowe all the priestes prayed while the sacrifice was a making: Jonathas prayed first, and the other gaue answeare.

24 And Nehemias prayer was after this manner, O Lord God, maker of al thinges, thou fearefull and strong, thou righteous and mercifull, thou that art only a gracious king,

25 Only liberal, only iust, almightie and euerlastyng, thou that deliuerest Israel from al trouble, thou that hast chosen the fathers, and halowed them honourably:

26 Receiue the offeryng for thy whole people of Israel, preserue thine owne portion, and halowe it, 27 Gather those togeather that are scattered abrode from vs, deliuer them that are vnder the heathens bondage, looke vpon them which are despised and abhorred: that the heathen may knowe and see howe that thou only art God, which art our God.

28 Punishe them that oppresse & proudly put vs to dishonour.

29 Set thy people agayne in thine holy place, like as || Moses hath spoken. ||Deu.30.5.

30 And the priestes song Psalmes of thankes geuing, so long as the sacrifice endured.

31 Nowe when the sacrifice was brent, Nehemias commaunded the great stones to be sprynckled with the residue of the water.

32 Which when it was done, there was kyndled a flame of them also: but it was consumed through the light that shined from the aulter.

33 So when this matter was knowen, it was tolde the kyng of Persia, that in the place where the priestes whiche were led away, had hid fire, there appeared water, and that Nehemias and his company had purified the sacrifices withall.

34 Then the kyng, consyderyng and ponderyng the matter diligently, inclosed the place, and consecrated a temple, to prooue the thyng that was done:

35 And when he founde it so in deede, he gaue the priestes many gyftes, and diuers rewardes, yea he tooke them with his owne hande, and gaue them.

36 And Nehemias called the same place a Nephthar, which is as muche to say, as a cleansing: but many men cal it Nephi.

a. Ephthar, which is to say, a shynyng: it is also called Nephi or Nephthar, whiche is a cleansing.

¶ The.ii. Chapter.

4. Howe Ieremie hyd the tabernacle, the arke, and the aulter in the hyl. 21. Of the fine bokes of Iason conteyned in one.

IT is founde also in the || wrytinges of Ieremie the prophete, that he commaunded them whiche were caryed away, to take fyre, as it is sayde afore. ||Iere.29.&

2 He commaunded them also that they shoulde not forgeat the lawe and commaunvementes of the Lorde, and that they ſhould not erre in theyr mindes, when they ſee images of ſiluer and gold, with their ornaments.

3 Theſe and ſuche other thynges commaunded he them, and exhorted them that they ſhoulde not let the lawe of God goe out of theyr hartes.

4 It is written alſo, howe the prophete at the commaundement of GOD, charged them to take the tabernacle & the arke with them: and he went forth vnto the mountayne where Moſes clymed vp, and ſawe the heritage of God.

‖ Deut.34.1. 5 ‖ And when Jeremie came there, he founde an open caue, wherein he layde the tabernacle, the arke, and the aulter of incenſe, and ſo ſtopped the doore.

6 There came certayne men togeather alſo, folowyng hym to marke the place, but they coulde not fynde it.

7 Whiche when Jeremie perceiued, he reproued them, ſaying, As for that place it ſhalbe vnknowen, vntyll the tyme that God geather his people togeather agayne, and receiue them vnto mercy.

8 Then ſhall GOD ſhewe them theſe thinges, and the maieſtie of the Lorde ſhall appeare, and the cloude alſo, lyke as it was ſhewed vnto Moſes: and lyke as when Solomon deſyred that the place myght be honourably ſanctified, and it was ſhewed him.

12 In like maner Solomon kept the dedication or halowyng eyght dayes.

* Some reade, Nehemias. of * Jeremie were theſe thynges put alſo: and howe he made a librarie, and howe he geathered out of al countreys the bookes of the kinges, and of the prophetes, and of Dauid, and the Epiſtles of the kynges concernyng the holy gyftes.

14 Euen ſo Judas alſo, looke what he learned by experience of warre, and ſuche thinges as hath happened vnto vs, he geathered them altogether, and ſo we haue them by vs.

15 If ye nowe deſyre to haue the ſame, ſende ſome body to fetche them vnto you.

16 Whereas we then are about to celebrate the purification, we haue wrytten vnto you: therefore ye ſhal do wel yf ye keepe the ſame dayes.

17 We hope alſo that the God which deliuered his people, and gaue them al the heritage, kingdome, prieſthood, and ſanctuarie, lawe, ſhall ſhortly haue mercy vpon vs, and geather vs togeather from vnder the heauen into his holy place, for he hath ſaued vs from great perils, and hath cleanſed the place.

19 As concerning Judas Machabeus, and his brethren, the purification of the great temple, the dedication of the aulter

20 Yea and of the warres that concerne noble Antiochus, and Eupator his ſonne:

21 And the myracles ſhewed from heauen by the valiant actes of thoſe whiche defended the Jewes religion, ſo that a fewe ranne through the whole countrey, & draue away the barbarous armies:

22 Repayred agayne the temple that was ſpoken of throughout al the worlde, deliuered the citie, doyng theyr beſt that the lawe of the Lorde whiche was put downe, might with al tranquilitie be reſtored againe vnto the Lorde that was ſo merciful vnto them:

23 As touchyng Jaſon alſo of Cyren, we haue vndertaken compendeouſly to bring into one booke the thynges that were comprehended of him in fiue.

24 For we conſyderyng the multitude of the bookes, and howe harde it ſhould be for them that ſhoulde meddle with ſtories and actes, and that becauſe of ſo diuers matters:

25 Haue vndertaken ſo to comprehende the ſtories, that ſuch as are diſpoſed to reade, myght haue pleaſure and paſtyme therein, and that they whiche are diligent in ſuche thinges, might the better thinke vpon them: yea and that whoſoeuer reade them, myght haue profite thereby.

26 Neuertheleſſe, we our ſelues that haue medled with this matter, for the shortenyng of it, haue taken no ſmal labour, but great diligence, watchynges, and trauayle.

27 Like as they that make a feaſt, would fayne do other men pleaſure: euen ſo we alſo for many mens ſakes, are very well content to take the labour:

28 Whereas we may ſhortly comprehende the thynges that other men haue truely wrytten.

29 For he that buildeth an houſe a new, muſt prouide for many thynges to the whole building: but he that paynteth it afterward, ſeeketh but only that is comely, meete, and conuenient to garniſhe it withal.

30 Euen

30 Euen so doo we also in lyke maner: and why? He that beginneth ought to wryte a storie, must with his understanding gather the matter together, set his woordes in order, and diligently seeke out every parte.

31 But he that afterwarde wyll shorten it, vseth fewe woordes, and toucheth not the matter at the largest: let this be sufficient for a prologue.

32 Nowe wyll we begin to shewe the matter: for it is but a foolishe thing to make a long prologue, and to be short in the storie it selfe.

¶ The iii. Chapter.

1. Of the honour done vnto the temple by the kinges of the Gentiles. 6. Simon vttereth vvhat treasure is in the temple.

WHat time as the holy citie was inhabited in all peace and wealth, and when the lawes were yet very well kept: for so was it ordayned through the godlynesse of Onias the hygh priest, and other godly men that were enimies to wickednesse,

2 It came thereto, that euen the kinges and princes them selues did the place great worshyp, and garnished the temple with great gyftes:

3 In so much that Seleucus king of Asia, of his owne rentes bare all the costes belonging to the seruice of the offeringes.

4 Then Simon of the tribe of Beniamin, being ruler of the temple, vpon a variance risen betweene him and the hygh priest for wickednesse that was done in the citie,

5 For that he could not ouercome Onias, he gate him to Apollonius the sonne of Thartia, which then was cheefe Lorde in Celosyria, and Phenices,

6 And told him that the treasurie in Hierusalem was ful of innumerable money, and howe that the common goodes which belongeth not vnto the offeringes, were exceeding great also: yea and howe it were possible that all these might come vnder the kynges power.

7 Nowe when Apollonius had shewed the king of the money, as it was tolde him: the king called for Heliodorus his treasurer, and sent him with a commaundement to bryng him the same money.

8 Immediatly Heliodorus tooke his iourney, but vnder a colour as though he would goe through Celosyria and Phenices to visite the cities, but his purpose was to fulfil the kinges pleasure.

9 So when he came to Hierusalem, and was louingly receiued of the high priest, into the citie, he tolde what was determined concerning the money, and shewed the cause of his comming: he asked also yf it were so in deede.

10 Then the high priest tolde him, that there was suche money layde vp for the vpholdyng of wydowes and fatherlesse children.

11 And howe that a certaine of it belonged vnto Hircanus the sonne of Tobias, a noble man, and that of al the money (and not as that wicked Simon had reported) there were foure hundred talentes of siluer, and two hundred of golde:

12 Yea and that it were vnpossible for those mens meaning to be deceiued that had put assured confydence in the holynesse of the place, and in the maiestie and vndoubted saftie of the temple, which is had in worshyp through the whole worlde, for the mayntenance and honour of the same.

13 Whereunto Heliodorus answeared, that the king had commaunded him in any wyse to bryng him the money.

14 So at the day appointed, Heliodorus entred into the temple to order this matter: wherefore there was no smal feare throughout the whole citie.

15 The priestes fell downe before the aulter in their vestimentes, and called vnto heauen vpon him whiche had made a lawe concerning stuffe geuen to keepe, that they shoulde be safely preserued for such as committed them vnto keepyng.

16 Then who so had looked the hygh priest in the face, it woulde haue grieued his hart: for his countenance and the changing of his colour, declared the inwarde sorowe of his minde.

17 The man was al in heauinesse, and his body in feare: whereby they that looked vpon him might perceyue the greefe of his hart.

18 The other people also came out of theyr houses by heapes vnto the common prayer, because the place was lyke to come into confusion.

19 The women came together through the streetes with heary clothes about theyr hyndes: the virgins also that were kept in rannes to Onias, some of them ranne to the gates, some vp vpon the walles, other some looked out at the wyndowes.

20 Yea they al held vp their handes towarde heauen and prayed.

21 A miserable thing was it to looke vpon the common people, and the hygh priest beyng in such trouble.

22 But they besought almighty God, that the goodes which were committed vnto them, might be kept whole for thole that had deliuered them vnto their keeping.

23 Neuertheleſſe, the thing that Heliodorus was determined to doo, that perfourmed he in the ſame place, he him ſelfe perſonally being about the treaſurie with his men of warre.

24 But the ſpirite of almightie God ſhewed him ſelfe openly, ſo that all they whiche preſumed to obey Heliodorus, fell thorough the power of God, into a great fearefulneſſe and dread.

25 For there appeared vnto them an horſe, with a terrible man ſitting vpon him, decke in goodly aray, and the horſe ſmote at Heliodorus with his forefeete: now hee that ſate vpon the horſe had harneſſe of gold vpon hym.

26 Moreouer, there appeared two fayre and beautiful young men, of notable ſtrēgth, in goodly aray, whiche ſtoode by him, ſcourged him on both the ſides, and gaue him many ſtripes without ceaſſyng.

27 With that fell Heliodorus ſodaynly vnto the ground: ſo they tooke him vp, being compaſſed about with great darkneſſe, and bare him out vpon a beere.

28 Thus he that came with ſo many runners and men of warre into the ſayd treaſurie, was borne out, where as no man might helpe him, being deſtitute of harneſſe and weapons: and ſo the power of God was manifeſt and knowen.

29 He lay ſtyl dumbe alſo by the power of God, deſtitute of al hope and lyfe.

30 And they prayſed the Lorde, that he had ſhewed his power vppon his place and temple, which a litle afore was full of feare and trouble, and that thorough the reuelation of the almighty Lord it was fylled with ioy and gladneſſe.

31 Then certayne of Heliodorus freendes prayed Onias, that in al haſt he would call vpon God, to graunt him his lyfe, whiche was geuing vp the ghoſt.

32 So the high prieſt, fearing leſt the king ſhould ſuſpect that the Iewes had done Heliodorus ſome a euyl, he offered an offering for his health.

a. In woorkyng ſome trechery or ſorſerie agaynſt him.

33 Nowe when the high prieſt had obteyned his petition, the ſame young men in the ſame clothyng appeared, and ſtood beſyde Heliodorus, ſayeing, Thanke Onias the high prieſt: for, for his ſake hath the Lorde graunted thee thy lyfe.

34 Therefore ſeeing that God hath ſcourged thee, geue him praiſe and thankes, and ſhewe euery man his might and power. And when they had ſpoken theſe woordes, they appeared no more.

35 So Heliodorus offered vnto God, made great vowes vnto hym which had graunted him his lyfe, thanked Onias, tooke his hoaſt, and went agayne to the king.

36 Then teſtifyed he vnto euery man, of the great woorkes of GOD, that he had ſeene with his eyes.

37 And when the king aſked Heliodorus who were meete to be ſent yet once agayne to Hieruſalem, he ſayde, 38 If thou haſt any enimie or aduerſarie vnto thy realme, ſend him thyther, and thou ſhalt haue him pounished, if he eſcape with his lyfe: for in that place no doubt there is a ſpecial power and wookyng of God.

39 For he that dwelleth in heauen, viſiteth and defendeth that place, and all that come to doo it harme, he pouniſheth, and plagueth them.

40 This is nowe the matter concerning Heliodorus, and the keeping of the treaſurie at Hieruſalem.

¶ The.iiii. Chapter.

1. Simon reporteth euyl of Onias. 7. Iaſon deſyring the offyce of the hygh prieſt, corrupted the king vvith revvardes.

THis Simon now (of whom we ſpake afore) beyng a bewrayer of the money, and of his owne natural countrey, reported the wooſſt of Onias, as though he had mooued Heliodorus vnto this, and as though he had ben a bringer vp of euyl.

2 Thus was he not aſhamed to call him an enimie of the realme, that was ſo faythfull an ouerſeer and defender of the citie and of his people, yea and ſo feruent in the lawe of God.

3 But when the malice of Simon increaſed ſo farre, that thorough his freendes there were certayne manſlaughters committed:

4 Onias conſydered the peryll that myght come thorough this ſtryfe, and howe that Appollonius the cheefe Lord in Celoſyria and Phenices was all set vpon tyrannye, and Simons malice increaſed the ſame,

5 He gate hym to the kyng, not as an accuſer of the citizens, but as one that by him ſelfe intended the common wealth of the whole multitude:

6 For he ſaw it was not poſſible to liue in peace, neyther Simon to leaue of from his fooliſhneſſe, except the king vpp looke thereto.

7 But after the death of Seleucus, whē Antiochus, whiche is called the noble, tooke the kyngdome, Iaſon the brother of Onias honored to be high priest:

8 For he came vnto the king, and promised him three hundred and threescore talents of siluer, and of the other rentes fourescore talentes.

9 Beſydes this, he promiſed him yet an hundred and fiftie more, yf he myght haue licence to ſet vp a ſcoole and an exerciſe of weapons, and that he myght call them of Hieruſalem Antiochians.

10 Whiche when the kyng had graunted, and he had gotten the ſuperioritie, he began immediatly to drawe his kynſmen to the cuſtome of the heathen,

11 Put downe the thynges that the Iewes had ſet vp of loue by Iohn, the father of Eupolonius, which was ſent ambaſſadour vnto Rome, for to make the bonde of frendſhip and loue, he put downe al the lawes and liberties of the Iewes, and ſet vp the wicked ſtatutes.

12 For when he had made a ſcoole of fence vnder the caſtle, he drew al the cheefeſt young men on his ſyde, and trayned them to weare a hattes.

a Theſe hats were tokens of vnaccuſtomed lightneſſe in the gentiles.

13 And there was ſuch a feruent deſire to come to the manners of the heathen, and to take vp newe ſtrange faſhions, brought in through the vngratious and vnheardе wyckednеſſe of Iaſon, whiche ſhoulde not be called a prieſt, but an vngodly perſon:

14 Inſomuche that the prieſtes were nowe no more occupied about the ſeruice of the aulter: but deſpiſed the temple, regarded not the offerynges, yea gaue theyr diligence to learne to fyght, to wreſtle, to leape, to daunce, and to caſt the ſtone:

15 Not letting by the honour of the fathers, but lyked the glory of the Greekes beſt of al:

16 For the whiche they ſtroue perilouſly, and were greedie to folow theyr ſtatutes, yea theyr luſt was in all thynges to be lyke them, whiche afore were theyr enimies and deſtroyers.

17 Howbeit, to do wickedly againſt the lawe of God, ſhal not eſcape vnpunyſhed, but of this we ſhal ſpeake hereafter.

18 What time as the * Olympians ſportes were playde at Tyrus, the king hym ſelfe beyng preſent, *Theſe were in euery fyfth yere.

19 This vngracious Iaſon ſent wicked men, bearyng from them of Hieruſalem (which nowe were called Antiochians) three hundred drachmes of ſyluer for an offeryng to Hercules: theſe had they that caried them deſyred, vnder ſuche a faſhion as though they ſhould not haue ben offered, but beſtowed to other vſes.

20 Neuertheleſſe, he that ſent them, ſent them to the intent that they ſhoulde be offered vnto Hercules: but becauſe of thoſe that were preſent, they were geuen as to the makyng of ſhyppes.

21 And Apollonius the ſonne of Meneſtheus was ſent into Egypt, becauſe of the noble men of kyng Ptolome Philometor. Nowe when Antiochus perceiued that he was put out from b medlyng in the realme, he ſought his owne profite, departed from thence, came to Ioppa, and then to Hieruſalem, b From his honour and gaynes.

22 Where he was honourably receiued of Iaſon, and of the citie, and was brought in with torche light, and with great prayſes and ſo he turned his hoſt vnto Phenices.

23 After three yeeres, Iaſon ſent Menelaus (the foreſayd Simons brother) to beare the money vnto the kyng, and to bryng hym anſweare of other neceſſary matters.

24 But he, when he was commended to the king for magnifying of his power, turned the prieſthood vnto him ſelfe, laying vp three hundred talentes of ſyluer for Iaſon.

25 So when he had gotten commaundementes from the king, he came hauing nothing that becommeth a prieſt, but bearyng the ſtomacke of a cruel tyrant, and the wrath of a wylde bruite beaſt.

26 Then Iaſon, whiche had deceiued his owne brother, ſeeyng that he hym ſelfe was beguiled alſo, was fayne to flee into the lande of the Ammonites, 27 And Menelaus gate the dominion: but as for the money that he had promiſed vnto the kyng, he dyd nothyng therein, albeit Soſtratus the ruler of the caſtle required it of hym.

28 For Soſtratus was the man that gathered the cuſtomes: wherfore they were both called before the kyng.

29 Thus was Menelaus put out of the prieſthood, and Lyſimachus his brother came in his ſteade, and Soſtratus left Crates ouerſeer of the c Cyprians.

c That is, of them that meaſured the corne.

30 It happened in the meane ſeaſon, that the Tharſians and Mallotians made inſurrection, becauſe they were geuen for a preſent vnto Antiochis the kynges concubine.

31 Then came the king in all haſte to ſtyl them agayne, and to pacifie the matter, leauing Andronicus there to be his deputie, as one meete therefore.

32 Nowe Menelaus ſuppoſing that he had gotten a ryght conuenient tyme, ſtole certayne veſſelles of golde out of the temple, and gaue them to Andronicus for a preſent: and ſome he ſolde at Tyrus, and in the cities thereby.

33 Which when Onias knewe of a ſurety, he reproued him: but he kept him in a ſanctuarie beſyde Daphnis, that lyeth by Antioche.

34 Wherefore Menelaus gate hym to Andronicus, and prayed hym that he woulde ſlay Onias. So when he came to Onias, he counſelled hym craftily to come out of the ſanctuarie, geuyng him his hande with an othe (howbeit he ſuſpect hym) and then he ſlue Onias, without any regarde of ryghteouſneſſe.

35 For the whiche cauſe not only the Iewes, but other nations alſo, tooke indignation, and were diſpleaſed for the vnryghteous death of ſo godly a man.

36 And when the kyng was come againe from Cilicia, the Iewes and certayne of the Greekes went vnto him, complaining for the vnryghteous death of Onias.

37 Yea Antiochus him ſelfe was ſory in his minde for Onias, ſo that it pitied him: and he wept, remembryng his ſoberneſſe, and manerly behauiour.

38 Wherefore he was ſo kyndled in his mynde, that he commaunded Andronicus to be ſtrypped out of his purple clothyng, and ſo to be ledde throughout the citie, yea and the vngratious man to be ſlayne in the ſame place where he committed his wyckednes vppon Onias: thus the Lorde rewarded hym his punyſhment, as he had deſerued.

39 Nowe when Lyſimachus had done many wicked deedes in the temple through the counſel of Menelaus, and the voyce came abrode: the multitude geathered them togeather againſt Lyſimachus, for he had caried out nowe muche golde.

40 So when the people aroſe, and were ful of diſpleaſure, Lyſimachus armed three thouſande vnthriftes to defende hym, a certayne tyrant beyng theyr captayne, whiche was growen both in age and woodneſſe.

41 They therfore ſeeyng the enterpriſe of Lyſimachus, caught vp, ſome ſtones, ſome blockes endes, and ſome handfulles of duſt that was next at hande, and threwe them vpon the rebels of Lyſimachus bande that had ſet vpon them.

42 Thus there were many of them wounded, ſome beyng ſlayne, and al the other chaſed away: but as for the wycked churchrobber hym ſelfe, they kylled hym beſyde the treaſurie.

43 Of theſe matters therfore there was kept a court againſt Menelaus.

44 Nowe when the kyng came to Tyrus, three men that were ſent from the ſenate, pleaded him giltie before the king.

45 But Menelaus being now conuict, went and prymyſed Ptolome the ſonne of Dorymenes to geue him muche money, if he woulde pacifie the kyng towarde hym.

46 So Ptolome went to the king into a courte, where as he was ſet to coole hym, and brought hym out of that minde:

47 Inſomuche that he diſcharged Menelaus from the accuſations, that notwithſtanding was cauſe of al miſcheefe: and thoſe poore men, whiche yf they had tolde theyr cauſe, yea before the Scythians, they ſhould haue ben iudged innocent, them he condemned to death.

48 Thus were they ſoone puniſhed, whiche folowed vpon the matter for the citie, for the people, and for the holy veſſelles.

49 Wherefore they alſo of Tyrus, mooued with hatred of that wycked deede, cauſed them to be very honourably buryed.

50 And ſo through the couetouſneſſe of them that were in power, Menelaus remained ſtil in authoritie, increaſing in malice, to the hurt of the citizens.

¶ The.v. Chapter.

2. Of the ſignes and tokens ſeene in Hieruſalem. 6. Of the ende and office of Iaſon. 11. The purſute of Antiochus againſt the Ievves.

ABout the ſame tyme Antiochus vndertooke his ſeconde voyage into Egypt.

2 And then were there ſeene throughout al the citie of Hieruſalem fourtie dayes long, horſemen runnyng in the ayre, with robes of golde, and as bandes of ſpearemen,

3 And as troupes of horſemen ſet in aray, incounterynge and courſing one againſt another, with ſhakyng of ſhieldes and multitude of dartes, and drawing of ſwoordes, and ſhooting of arrowes, and the glitteryng of the golden armour ſeene, and harneſſe of al ſortes.

4 Wherefore euery man prayed, that thoſe tokens might turne to good.

5 Nowe when there was gone fourth a falſe rumour, as though Antiochus had ben dead, Iaſon tooke a thouſande men, and came ſodaynely vppon the citie: the citizens ranne vnto the walles, at the laſt was the citie taken, and Menelaus fled into the caſtle.

6 As for Iaſon, he ſpared not his owne citizens in the ſlaughter, neither conſydered he what great euil it were, to deſtroy the profperitie yeritie of his owne kinſmen: but did as one that had gotten the victorie of his enimies, and not of his freendes.

7 For all this gate he not the ſuperiorizie, but at the laſt receyued confuſion for his malice, and fled agayne lyke a vagabond into the lande of the Ammonites.

8 Finally, for a rewarde of his wickednesſe, he was accuſed before Aretha the kyng of the Arabians, in ſo muche that he was faine to flee from citie to citie, being diſpiſed of euery man as a forſaker of the lawes, and an abominable perſon: and at the laſt, as an open enimie of his owne naturall countrey and of the citizens, he was driuen into Egypt.

9 Thus he that afore put many out of their owne natiue lande, periſhed from home himſelfe: he went to Lacedemon, thinkyng there to haue gotten ſuccour by reaſon of kynrede.

10 And he that afore had caſt many one out vnburied, was throwen out him ſelfe, no man mourning for hym, nor putting hym in his graue: ſo that he neyther enioyed the burial of a ſtranger, neither was he partaker of his fathers ſepulchre.

11 Nowe when this was done, the king ſuſpected that the Iewes would haue fallen from him, wherefore he came in a great diſpleaſure out of Egypt, and tooke the citie by violence.

12 He commaunded his men of warre alſo, that they ſhould kyl and not ſpare: but ſlay downe ſuche as withſtoode them, or clymed vp vpon the houſes.

13 Thus was there a great ſlaughter of young men, olde men, women, chyldren, and virgins.

14 In three dayes were there ſlayne foureſcore thouſande, fourtie thouſande put in priſon: and there were as many ſolde as were ſlayne.

15 Yet was he not content with this, but durſt goe into the moſt holy temple of al the world, Menelaus, that traytour to the lawes and to his owne natural countrey, beyng his guyde.

16 And with his wycked handes tooke the holy veſſels, which other kinges and cities had geuen thyther for the garniſhing and honour of the place, them tooke he in his handes vnwoorthily, and defyled them.

17 So mad was Antiochus, that he conſydered not howe that GOD was not a litle wrath for the ſinnes of them that dwelt in the citie, for the which ſuch confuſion came vpon that place.

18 And why? yf it had not happened them to haue ben lapped in many ſinnes, this Antiochus as ſoone as he had come, had ſodainly been pounished and shut out of his preſumption, || like as Heliodorus was, whom Seleucus the king ſet to robbe the treaſurie. || 2. Ma. 3, 24

19 Neuertheleſſe, God hath not choſen the people for the places ſake: but the place for the peoples ſake.

20 And therefore is the place become partaker of the peoples trouble, but afterward ſhal it enioy the wealth of them: and like as it was nowe forſaken in the wrath of almighty God: ſo when the great God is reconciled, it ſhalbe ſet vp in high woorſhip agayne.

21 So when Antiochus had taken a thouſande and eyght hundred talentes out of the temple, he gate him to Antioche in all the haſt, thinking in his pryde that he might make men ſayle vpon the dryelande, and to goe vpon the ſea, ſuch an hygh mynde had he.

22 He leaft deputies there to vexe the people: at Hieruſalem leaft he Philip a Phrygian, in maners more cruel then him ſelfe that ſet him there:

23 At Garizim he leſte Andronicus and Menelaus, which were more greuous to the citizens then other.

24 Nowe as he was thus ſet in malice agaynſt the Iewes, he ſent Apollonius, a cruel prince, with an armie of twentie and two thouſand, commaundyng hym to ſlay thoſe that were of perfect age, and to ſell the women, and the younger ſort.

25 When he came nowe to Hieruſalem, he faigned peace, and kept him ſtyl vntyl the Sabboth day: and then he commaunded his men to take them to their weapons, for the Iewes kept holy day:

26 And ſo he ſlue al them that were gone forth to the open plaine, runing here and there through the citie with his men weaponed, and murdered a great number.

27 But Iudas Machabeus, which was the tenth, fled into the wyldernelle, led his lyfe there with his company among wylde beaſtes, and vpon the mountaynes, dwellyng there, and eating hearbes, leſt they ſhould be partakers of the fylthynelle.

¶ The vi. Chapter.

1. The Iewes are compelled to leaue the lawe of God. 4. The temple is defyled. 12. The readers are admonished that they ſhall not abhorre the aduerſitie vvherevvith the Lorde afflicteth them. 28. The greenous payne of Eliazarus.

NOt long after this, ſent the kyng an olde man of [a] Antioche, for to compel the Jewes to tranſgreſſe the ordinances of the fathers, and of the lawe of God.

[a] or, Athens

2 To defyle the temple that was at Hieruſalem, and to call it the temple of Jupiter Olympius: and that they ſhoulde be in Garizim, as thoſe whiche dwell at the place of Jupiter the harberous.

3 This wicked ſedition of the ungodly, was heauie vpon al the people:

4 For the temple was full of voluptuouſneſſe, bibbing and bolling of the heathen, of ryotoures and harlotres togeather: the women went into the holy place, and bare in that was not lawful.

5 The aulter alſo was full of vnlawful thinges, whiche the lawe forbiddeth to laye vpon it,

6 The Sabbathes were not kept, the other ſolemne feaſtes of the land were not regarded: to be playne, there durſt no man be knowen that he was a Jewe.

7 In the day of the kinges birth they were compelled parforce to offer, and when the feaſt of Bacchus was kept, they were conſtrayned to weare garlandes of yuie, and ſo to goe about to the honour of Bacchus.

8 Moreouer, through the counſel of Ptolomeus, there went out a commaundement vnto the next cities of the heathen, agaynſt the Jewes, that the lyke cuſtome and * banketting ſhoulde be kept.

9 And who ſo wouldne not conforme themſelues to the maners of the gentiles, ſhoulde be put to death: then myght a man haue ſeene the preſent miſerie.

10 For there were two women accuſed to haue circumciſed their ſonnes: whom whē they had led round about the citie, the babes hangyng at their breſtes, they caſt them downe headlonges ouer the walles.

11 Some that were crept in dennes, and had kept the Sabboth, were accuſed vnto Philip, and burnt in the fyre, becauſe that for the feare of GOD they kept the commaundement ſo ſtrictly, and would not defende them ſelues.

12 Now I beſeech al thoſe which reade this booke, that they refuſe it not for theſe falles of aduerſitie, and iudge the thinges that are happened for no deſtruction, but for a chaſtening of our people.

13 And why? When God ſuffereth not ſinners long to folowe their owne mind, but ſhortly pounitheth them, it is a token of his great louing kindneſſe.

14 For this grace haue we of God, more then other people, that he ſuffereth not vs long to ſinne vnpounished, lyke as other nations:

15 That when the day of iudgement commeth, he may pounithe them in the fulneſſe of their ſinnes.

16 If we ſinne, he correcteth vs, but he neuer withdraweth his mercy from vs: and though he pounithe with aduerſitie, yet doth he neuer forſake his people.

17 But let this that we haue ſpoken nowe with fewe wordes, be for a warning and exhortation * of the heathen: nowe wyl we come to the declaryng of the matter.

18 Eleazar one of the principall ſcribes, an aged man, and of a wel fauoured countenance, was conſtrayned to gape with open mouth, and to eate ſwynes fleſhe.

19 But he delyting rather to dye gloriouſly, then to lyue with ſhame, offered him ſelfe wyllyngly to the martirdome:

20 Nowe when he ſawe that he muſt needes goe to it, he tooke it patiently: for he was at a poynt with hym ſelfe, that he would not conſent to any vnlawful thyng for any pleaſure of lyfe.

21 They that ſtoode by, being moued with pitie (but not aryght) for the olde freendſhyp of the man, tooke hym aſyde priuily, and prayed him that he would let ſuche fleſhe be brought him as were lawful to eate, and then to make a countenance as though he had eaten of the fleſhe of the ſacrifice, like as the kyng commaunded,

22 For ſo he might be deliuered from death: and ſo for the olde freendſhip of the man, they ſhewed him this kyndneſſe.

23 But he began to conſyder diſcreetly, and as became his age, and the excellencie of his auncient peeres, and the honour of his graye heares whereunto he was come, and his moſt honeſt converſation from his childehood, but cheefely the holy lawe made and geuen by God, therefore he anſweared conſequently, and wylled them ſtrayghtwayes to ſende him to the graue:

24 For it becommeth not myne age, ſaith he, in any wyſe to diſſemble, whereby many young perſons might thinke that Eleazar being foure ſcore yeeres olde and ten, were nowe gone to a ſtrange religion:

25 And ſo through mine hypocriſie for a litle tyme of a tranſitorie lyfe, they might be deceyued: by this meanes alſo ſhoulde I defyle myne age, and make it abhominable.

26 For though I were nowe deliuered from the tormentes of men, yet ſhould I not eſcape the hande of almightie God, neyther aliue nor dead.

27 Wherefore I wil dye manfully, and doo as it becommeth myne age:

28 Whereby I may peraduenture leaue

* or, vaine

* or, eating of the fleshe that was ſacrificed.

a. They that had the charge of that wicked banquet.

an example of stedfastnesse for suche as be young, yf I with a redy mynd, and manfully, dye an honest death for the most worthy and holy lawes. When he had sayde these woordes, immediatly he was drawen to the torment.

29 Nowe they that led hym, and were milde a litle afore, began to take displeasure, because of the woordes that he sayde: for they thought he had spoke them of an high mind.

30 But when he was in his martyrdome, he mourned and sayde, Thou, O Lord, whiche hast the holy knowledge, knowest openly, that where as I myght be delivered from death, I suffer these sore paines of my body: but in my mynde I am wel content to suffer them, because I feare thee.

31 Thus this man dyed, leaving the memorial of his death for an example, not onely vnto young men, but vnto al the people to be stedfast and manly.

¶ The. vii. Chapter.

The punishment of the seuen brethren, & of theyr mother.

IT happened also that there were seuen brethren with their mother taken, & compelled by the kyng against the lawe to eate swynes flesh, namely with scourges and leatherne whyppes.

2 And one of them which was the cheefe, sayde, What seekest thou, and what requirest thou of vs? As for vs, we are redy rather to suffer death, then to offende the lawes of God and the fathers.

3 Then was the kyng angrye, and bade heate cauldrons, and brasen pottes: whiche when they were made hot,

4 Immediatly he commaunded the tongue of hym that spake first, to be cut out, to pul the skynne ouer his head, to pare the endes of his handes and feete, yea, and that in the syght of his mother, and the other of his brethren.

5 Nowe when he was cleane mangled, he commaunded a fire to be made, and so (whyle there was any breath in hym) to be fryed in the cauldron: In the which when he had ben long payned, the other brethren with theyr mother, exhorted hym to dye manfully, saying,

6 The Lorde GOD shall regarde the trueth, & comfort vs, lyke as Moses testifieth
& declareth in his songue, saying, And he wyll
‖ haue compassion on his seruantes. Deu. 32. 43.

7 So when the first was dead after this maner, they brought the seconde, to haue hym in derision, pulled the skynne with the heare ouer his head, and asked hym yf he would eate swynes flesh or he were payned in the other members also throughout his body.

8 But he answeared in his owne language, and sayde, I wyll not doo it, and so he was tormented lyke as the first.

9 And when he was euen at the geuyng vp of the ghost, he sayde, Thou most vngracious person puttest vs nowe to death: but the king of the worlde shal rayse vs vp which dye for his lawes, in the resurrection of euerlastyng lyfe.

10 After hym was the thyrde had in derision, and when he was required, he put out his tongue, and that ryght soone, holdyng forth his handes manfully:

11 And spake with a stedfast fayth,
These haue I of heauen, but nowe for the lawes of God I despyse them: for my trust is that I shall receiue them of hym agayne.

12 In so much that the kyng and they whiche were with hym, marueyled at the young mans boldnesse, that he nothyng regarded the paynes.

13 Nowe when he was dead also, they vexed the fourth with tormentes in lyke maner.

14 So when he was nowe at his death, he sayde, It is better that we, beyng put to death of men, haue our hope and trust in god, for he shal rayse vs vp agayne: as for thee,
thou shalt haue no resurrection to lyfe.

15 And when they had spoken to the fifth, they tormented hym.

16 Then looked he vnto the kyng, and sayde, Thou hast power among men, for thou art a mortal man also thee selfe, to doo what thou wylt: but thynke not that God hath forsaken our generation.

17 Abyde thee, tarry styl a whyle, and thou shalt see the great power of God, howe he wyl punishe thee and thy seede.

18 After hym they brought the first,
whiche beyng at the point of death, sayde,
Be not deceyued, O kyng: for this we suffer for our owne sakes, because we haue offended our God, and therefore marueylous thynges are shewed vpon vs.

19 But thinke not thou whiche takest in hande to strine against god, that thou shalt escape vnpunished.

20 This excellent mother, woorthy to be wel reported of, and had in remembrance, saw her seuen sonnes dye in one day, and suffered it patiently, because of the hope that she had in God:

21 Yea, she exhorted euery one of them in her countrey language, and that boldly & stedfastly with perfect wisedome, makyng

by her wyuiſhe thought with a manly ſtomacke, and ſayde vnto them,

22 I can not tell howe ye ſprang in my woumbe, for I neyther gaue you breath, nor ſoule, nor lyfe, it is not I that ioyned the members of your bodyes togeather,

23 But the maker of the worlde which faſhioned the byrth of man, & began all thinges: euen he alſo of his owne mercy ſhall geue you breath and lyfe agayne, lyke as ye nowe regarde not your owne ſelues for his lawes ſake.

24 Nowe thought Antiochus that ſhe had deſpiſed hym, therefore he let her goe with her reproches, and began to exhort the youngeſt ſonne whiche was yet left, not only with woordes, but ſwore vnto hym with an othe, that he ſhoulde make hym a riche and wealthy man, yf he woulde forſake the lawes of his fathers: yea, and that he ſhoulde geue hym what ſo euer were neceſſary for hym.

25 But when the young man woulde not be moued for all theſe thynges, he called his mother, and counſelled her to ſaue her ſonnes lyfe.

26 And when he had exhorted her with many woordes, ſhe promiſed hym that ſhe would ſpeake to her ſonne.

27 So ſhe turned her vnto hym, laughing the cruell tyrant to ſcorne, and ſpake in her countrey language, O my ſonne, haue pitie vpon me, that bare thee nine monethes in my woumbe, that gaue thee ſucke, nouriſhed thee, and brought thee vp vnto this age.

28 I beſeech thee my ſonne, looke vpon heauen and earth, and al that is therein, and conſyder that God made them and mans generation of nought:

29 So ſhalt thou not feare this hangman, but ſuffer death ſtedfaſtly, lyke as thy brethren haue doone: that I may receyue thee agayne in the ſame mercie with thy brethren.

30 Whyle ſhe was yet ſpeakyng theſe woordes, the young man ſayde, Whom looke ye for? wherefore doo ye tarry? I wyll not obey the kinges commaundement, but the law that God gaue vs by Moſes.

31 As for thou that imagineſt all miſcheefe agaynſt the "Iewes, thou ſhalt not eſcape the hande of God. "or, Hebrues.

32 For we ſuffer theſe thynges becauſe of our ſinnes.

33 And though the lyuyng Lorde be angrie with vs a litle while, for our chaſtenyng, and reformation, yet ſhal he be at one agayne with his ſeruantes.

34 But thou, O godleſſe man, and of al other the moſt wicked, pryde not thee ſelfe through vayne hope, in beyng ſo malitious vpon the ſeruantes of God:

35 For thou haſt not yet eſcaped the iudgementes of God, which is almyghtie, and ſeeth al thynges.

36 My brethren that haue ſuffered a litle payne, are nowe vnder the couenant of euerlaſtyng lyfe: but through the iudgement of God, thou ſhalt be puniſhed ryghteouſly for thy pryde.

37 As for me, lyke as my brethren haue doone, I offer my "ſoule and my body for the lawes of our fathers, callyng vppon GOD, that he wyl ſoone be mercyful vnto our people, yea, and with payne and puniſhment to make thee graunt that he onely is God. "or, lyfe.

38 In me nowe and in my brethren the wrath of almyghtie GOD is at an ende, whiche ryghteouſly is fallen vppon all our people.

39 Then the kyng, beyng kyndled in anger, was more cruel vppon him then vpon al the other, and tooke indignation that he was ſo lyghtly regarded.

40 So this young man dyed vndefiled, and put his truſt ſtill in the Lorde.

41 Laſt of al, after the ſonnes, was the mother put to death alſo.

42 Let this nowe be ynough ſpoken concernyng the offerynges and extreeme cruelneſſe.

¶ The. viii. Chapter.

1. Iudas geathereth togeather his hoaſt. 9. Nicanor is ſent agaynſt Iudas. 27. The Iewes geue thankes after they haue put their enimies to flyght, dividyng the ſpoyles vnto the fatherleſſe and wyddowes.

THen Iudas Machabeus, and they that were with hym, went priuily into the townes, called their kinſfolkes and freendes togeather, tooke vnto them al ſuche as continued yet in the fayth and lawe of the Iewes, and brought forth fyue thouſand men.

2 So they called vppon the Lorde, that he would haue an eye vnto his people which was troden downe of euery man, to be gratious vnto the temple that was defiled of the vngodly,

3 To haue cõpaſſion vpon the deſtruction of the citie, which he was ſhortly like to be layde waſte, to heare the voyce of the blood that cryed vnto hym,

4 To remember the moſt vnrighteous deathes of young innocent children, the blaſphemies alſo doone vnto his name, and to puniſhe them.

5 Nowe

5 Nowe when Machabeus had gathered this multitude togeather, he was too myghtie for the heathen: for the wrath of the Lorde was turned into mercy.

6 He fel vpon the townes and cities vnwares, brent them, tooke the moste commodious places, and slue many of the enimies.

7 But specially he made suche chases by nyght, in so muche that his manlynesse was spoken of euery where.

8 So when Philip sawe that the man encreased by litle and litle, and that the matter prospered with him for the moste parte: he wrote vnto Ptolome, whiche was a captayne in Coelosyria and Phenice, to helpe him in the kynges busynesse.

9 Then sent he Nicanor the sonne of Patroclus, a special freende of his, in al the haste, and gaue him of the common sorte of the heathen, no lesse then twentie thousande harnessed men, to roote out the whole generation of the Iewes, hauing to help him one Gorgias a man of warre, whiche in matters concernyng battayles had great experience.

10 Nicanor ordeyned also the tribute whiche the Romanes should haue had to be geuen vnto the king out of the captiue of the Iewes, namely, two thousande talentes.

11 And immediatly he sent to the cities of the sea coaste, requyryng them for to buye Iewes to be their seruantes and bondmen, promysyng to sell them foure score and temne for one talent: but he consydered not the wrath of almyghtie God that was to come vpon him.

12 When Judas knewe of this, he told the Iewes that were with him of Nicanors commyng.

13 Now were there some of them fearfull, not trustyng vnto the ryghteousnesse of God, and fledde their way, and abode not in that place:

14 But the other solde al that they had left, and besought the Lorde to deliuer them from that wicked Nicanor, whiche had solde them or euer he came nygh them:

15 And though he wouldne not doo it for their sakes, yet for the couenaunt that he made with their fathers, and because they called vpon his holy and glorious name.

16 And so Machabeus called his men togeather, namely, about syxe thousande, exhortyng them not to agree vnto their enimies, neyther to be afrayd for the multitude of their aduersaries commyng agaynst them vnryghteously, but to fyght manly,

17 Consyderyng the reproofe that they had doone to the holye place without cause, howe they had despited and oppressed the citie, yea, & destroyed the lawes of the fathers.

18 For they, sayd he, trust in their weapons, and boldenesse: but our confydence is in the almyghtie Lord, which in the twynckling of an eye, maye both destroy them that come agaynst vs, and al the worlde.

19 ‖ He exhorted them also to call to remembraunce the helpe that God shewed vnto their fathers, as when there perysshed ‖ an hundred foure score and syue thousande of Sennacheribs people: ‖4.Re.19.35 ‖Eccl.48.24 Esai.37.36

20 And of the battayle that they had in Babylon agaynst the Galathians: howe all the Macedonians that came to helpe them, beyng foure thousande, stoode in feare: and howe they beyng onely but "syxe thousande, slue an hundred & twentie thousand, through the helpe that was geuen them from heauen, whereby they also had receyued manye benefytes. "or, eyght thousande.

21 Through these wordes, the men tooke good hartes vnto them, redy to dye for the lawe and the countrey.

22 So he set vppon euery companie a captayne, one of his owne brethren, Simon, Joseph, and Jonathas, geuyng eache one fyfteene hundred men.

23 He cauled "Eldras also to reade the holy booke vnto them, and to geue them a token of the helpe of God: then he him selfe beyng captayne in the forefront of the battayle, buckled with Nicanor. "or, Eleazarus.

24 And God was their help, in so much that they slue aboue nyene thousande men, & compelled the more part of Nicanors host to flee, they were so wounded and feeble.

25 Thus they tooke the money from those that came to buye them, and followed vpon them on euery syde.

26 But when the tyme came vppon them, they returned, for it was the day before the Sabboth, and therefore they followed no more vpon them.

27 So they tooke their weapons and spoyles, & kept the Sabboth, geuyng thankes vnto the Lord, which had deliuered them that day, and shewed them the begynnyng of his mercy.

28 After the Sabboth, they distributed the spoyles to the sicke, to the fatherlesse, and to wyddowes, and the residue had they them selues, with theirs.

29 When this was doone, & they al had made a general prayer, they besought ꝑ merciful Lorde to be at one with his seruantes.

30 Of those also that were with Timotheus & Bacchides, whiche fought agaynst them, they slue twenty thousand, wan high & strong holdes, and diuided moe spoyles, euer geuing an equal portion vnto the sicke, to the fatherlesse, to wyddowes, & to aged persons.

31 And

31 And when they had diligently gathered their weapons togesther, they layde them al in conuenient places, & the remnant of the spoyles brought they to Hierusalem.

32 They slue also Philarches that wicked person, whiche was with Timotheus, and had vexed many Iewes.

33 And when they held the thankes geuyng at Hierusalem for the victorie, they brent those that had set fyre on the portes of the temple, namely, Callisthenes, which was fledde into an house, and so they gate a worthy rewarde for their wickednesse.

34 As for that moste vngracious Nicanor, whiche had brought a thousande Marchantes to buye the Iewes, 35 He was through the helpe of the Lorde brought downe, euen of them whom he regarded not: in so muche that he put of his glorious raiment, fledde by sea, and came alone to Antioche with great shame and dishonour, whiche he gate through the destruction of his host.

36 Thus he that promysed the Romanes to pay them their tribute when he tooke Hierusalem, began nowe to say playnly, that God was the defender of the Iewes, and therefore not possible to wounde them, because they folowed the lawes whiche God had made.

1. Antiochus vvylling to spoyle Persepolis, is dryuen to flyght. 9. As he persecuted the Iewes, he is stricken of the Lord. 13. The faigned repentance of Antiochus. 28. He dyeth.

AT the same tyme came Antiochus agayne with dishonour out of Persia.

2 For when he came to Perlepolis, and vndertooke to robbe the temple, and so subdue the citie, the people ranne togeather, and defended them selues, in so muche that he & his were fayne to flee with shame: and so after that flyght, it happened that Antiochus came agayne with dishonour.

3 But when he came to Ecbatana, he gate knowledge what was happened vnto Nicanor and Timotheus.

4 Now as he was auaunsyng him selfe in his wrath, he thought he was able to auenge the iniurie that was doone to them vppon the Iewes: and therefore commaundyng to make redie his charret, hastyng on his iourney without ceasyng, the iudgement of GOD pronokyng him, because he had spoken so proudely, that he woulde come to Hierusalem, and make it a graue of the Iewes.

5 But the Lorde God of Israel that seeth all thyngs, smote him with an vncurable and inuisible plague, vvhiche no man couldo heale: For as soone as he had spoken these wordes, there came vppon him an horrible payne of his bowelles, and a sore greefe of the inner partes,

6 And that was but ryght: for he had martyred other mens bowelles with dyuers and strange tormentes.

7 Howbeit, he woulde in no wyse ceasse from his malice: yea, he was yet the prouder, and more malitious agaynst the Iewes: but whyle he was commaundyng to make haste in the matter, it happened that he fell downe violently from the charret that ranne swyftly, so that it bruysed his body, and did him great payne.

8 And so he that thought a litle before he myght commaund the flooddes of the sea, (so proude was he beyonde the condition of man) and to weygh the hygh mountaynes in a payre of ballance, was nowe brought downe to the grounde, and carried vppon a horselytter, knowledgyng the manifest power of God vpon him:

9 So that the wormes came out of the body of this wicked man in abundance: and whyles he was alyue, his flesshe fel of for payne and torment, and al his armie was greeued at his "smel.

10 Thus he that a lytle afore thought he myght reach to the starres of heauen, him myght no man nowe abyde nor beare, for the vehemencie of stynke.

11 Therefore he beyng brought from his great pryde, beganne for to come to the knowledge of him selfe, for the punyshment of God warned him, and his payne encreased euer more and more.

12 And when he him selfe myght not abyde his owne stynke, he sayd these wordes, It is reason to be obedient vnto GOD, and that a man whiche is mortal, thynke not through pryde, him selfe to be equall vnto GOD.

13 This wicked person prayed also vnto the Lord, who nowe woulde haue no mercie vpon him:

14 And as for the citie that he came vnto so hastily, to bring it downe to the ground, and to make it a graue for dead men, now he deliuereth to deliuer it free.

15 And as touchyng the Iewes whom he had iudged not worthie to be buried, but woulde haue cast them out with their children, for to be deuoured of the foules and wylde beastes, saying that he vvoulde haue destroyed both olde and young: nowe he promysed to make them lyke the citizens of Athens.

"or, rottennes

16 And where as he had ſpoyled the holy temple afore, nowe he maketh promiſe to garniſhe it with great gyftes, to encreaſe the holy ornamentes, and of his owne rentes to beare the coſtes and charges belongyng to the offerynges.

17 Yea, and that he wouldne alſo become a Jewe hym ſelfe, to goe through euery place of the worlde that was inhabited, and to preache the power of God.

18 But when his paynes wouldne not ceaſſe (for the ryghteous iudgement of God was come vpon him) out of a very diſpayre he wrote vnto the Jewes a letter of interceſſion, contaynyng theſe wordes.

19 The king and prince Antiochus, wiſheth vnto the vertuous citizens of the Jewes, much health, and good proſperitie, 20 If ye and your children fare well, and if al thynges goe after your mynde, we geue great thankes.

21 In my ſickeneſſe alſo doo I remember you louyngly: for as I came out of Perſia, and was taken with ſore diſeaſe, I thought it neceſſary to care for the common wealth.

22 Neyther diſpayre I in mee ſelfe, but haue a good hope to eſcape this ſickeneſſe.

23 But conſyderyng that my father led an hoaſt ſometyme in the hygher places, and ſhewed who ſhoulde raigne after hym, 24 That yf there happened any controuerſie, or any harde thyng were declared, they in the lande myght knowe their cheefe lorde, that there ſhoulde be no inſurrection.

25 Agayne, when I ponder with mee ſelfe how that al the mightie men, & neighbours rounde about, are laying wayte, and looke but for opportunitie to do harme: I haue ordeyned, that my ſonne Antiochus ſhall raigne after me, whom I oft commended to many of you when I was in the higher kingdomes, and haue written vnto hym as it followeth hereafter.

26 Therefore I pray you, and requyre you, to remember the benefites that I haue done vnto you generally, and in eſpecial, and that euery man wyll be faythfull to me and my ſonne.

27 For I hope that he ſhall be of ſober and louyng behauiour, and yf he folowe my deuice, he ſhal be indifferent vnto you.

28 Thus that murderer and blaſphemer of God was ſore ſmitten: and lyke as he had entreated other men, ſo he dyed a miſerable death in a ſtrange countrey vpon a mountayne.

29 And his body dyd Philip that went with hym carry away, whiche fearyng the ſonne of Antiochus, went into Egypt to Ptolome Philometor.

¶ The. x. Chapter.

1. Iudas Machabeus taketh the citie and the temple. 10. He beginneth to ſhewe the acte of Eupator. 29. Fyue men appeare in the ayre to the helpe of the Iewes. 39. Timotheus ſlayne.

MAchabeus nowe and his companie, through the helpe of the Lorde, wan the temple and the citie agayne,

2 Deſtroyed the aulters and chappels that the heathen had builded through the ſtreetes,

3 Cleanſed the temple, made another aulter of hycke ſtone, and after two yeeres they offered ſacrifices, ſet foorth the incenſe, the lyghtes, and ſhewe bread.

4 When that was done, they fel downe flat vpon the grounde, and beſought the Lorde that they might come no more into ſuch trouble: but yf they ſinned any more agaynſt him, he him ſelfe to chaſten them with mercy, and not to come into the handes of thoſe aliantes, and blaſphemous men.

5 Nowe vpon the ſame day that the ſtrangers polluted the temple, it happened that on the very ſame day it was cleanſed agayne, namely the twentie and fifth day of the moneth called "Caſleu.

6 They kept eyght dayes in gladneſſe, lyke as in the feaſt of the tabernacles, remẽbring that not long afore they helde the feaſt of the tabernacles vpon the mountaynes, and in dennes, lyke beaſtes. "November.

7 And for the ſame token they bare greene bowes, branches, and palmes, and ſong pſalmes before him that had geuẽ them good ſucceſſe to cleanſe his place.

8 They agreed alſo togeather, & made a ſtatute, that euery yeere thoſe dayes ſhould be ſolemly kept of al the people of the Jewes.

9 Nowe Antiochus then, that was called the noble, dyed, it is ſufficiently tolde.

10 Now wyl we ſpeake of Eupator the ſonne of that wicked Antiochus, how it happened with hym, and ſo with fewe wordes to comprehend the aduerſitie that chaunced in the warres.

11 When he had take in the kingdome, he made one Lyſias, whiche had been captayne of the hoaſt in Phenices and "Syria, ruler ouer the matters of the Realme. "or, Celoſyria

12 For Ptolome, that was called Macron, beyng a ruler for the Jewes, & eſpecially to ſyt in iudgement for ſuche wrong as was doone vnto them, vndertooke to deale peaceably with them.

13 For

13 For the which cauſe he was accuſed of his freendes before Eupator: and when he was ſuſpect to be a traytour, becauſe he had left Cypres, that Philometor had cõmitted vnto him, and becauſe he departed from noble Antiochus that he was come vnto, he poyſoned hym ſelfe, and dyed.

14 Nowe when Gorgias was gouernour of the ſame places, he tooke ſtrangers, and vndertooke oft times to warre with the Iewes.

15 Moreouer the Idumeans that helde the ſtrong holdes, receyued thoſe that were driuen from Hieruſalem, and tooke in hande to warre alſo.

16 But they that were with Machabeus, beſought and prayed vnto the Lorde, that he woulde be their helper, and ſo they fel vpon the ſtrong holdes of the Idumeans, 17 And wan many places by ſtrength: ſuche as came agaynſt them they ſlue, and killed no leſſe of altogeather then twentie thouſande.

18 Neuertheleſſe, ſome, no leſſe then viene thouſande, were fled into two ſtrong towres, hauyng all maner of ordinance to withſtande them.

19 Then Machabeus leauyng Simon, Joſephus, Zacheus, & thoſe that were with them, which were very many, went to beſiege them, and to fyght where moſt neede was.

20 Nowe they that were with Simon, beyng led with couetouſneſſe, were intreated for money, through certaine of thoſe that lay in the caſtles: and tooke threeſcore and tenne thouſande a dragmas, and let ſome of them eſcape.

a. A dragma is the eyght part of an ounce, which is about three pence.

21 But when it was tolde Machabeus what had happened, he called the captaynes of the people togeather, accuſyng thoſe perſons that they had ſolde the brethren for money, and let their enimies goe.

22 So he ſlue thoſe traytours, and immediatly went in hande with the two caſtles.

23 And when they hadde ordered them ſelues manly with their weapons & handes, they ſlue in the two caſtles moe then twenty thouſande.

24 Nowe Timotheus, whom the Iewes had ouercome afore, geathered a multitude of ſtrange people, brought an hoaſt alſo of horſemen of the Aſians, to wyn Jurie by ſtrength.

25 But when he drewe nygh, Machabeus & they that were with hym, fell to their prayer, ſtrynkeled aſhes vppon their heades, beyng gyrded with hearie cloth about their loynes, 26 Fel downe before the aulter, & beſought the Lord that he would be mercyfull to them, but an enimie vnto their enimies, and to take part againſt their aduerſaries, according as it is promiſed in the lawe.

27 So after the prayer they tooke their weapons, and went on further from the citie and when they came nygh the enimies, they prepared them ſelues againſt them.

28 And betimes in the morning at the breake of the day, both the hoaſtes buckled togeather: the one part had the Lorde for their refuge, whiche is the gouer of proſperitie, ſtrength, and victorie, the other had a manly ſtomacke, whiche is a captayne of warre.

29 The battayle nowe beyng great, there appeared vnto the enimies from heauen fiue goodly men vpon horſebackes, with bridles of golde, leadyng the Iewes:

30 And two of them hauyng Machabeus betwixt them, that kept him ſafe on euery ſide with their weapons, but ſhot dartes and lyghtnynges vpon the enimies, where through they were confounded with blyndneſſe, and ſo ſore afrayde, that they fell downe.

31 There were ſlayne of footemen twentie thouſande and fiue hundred, and fiue hundred horſemen.

32 As for Timotheus hym ſelfe he fled vnto Gazara, a very ſtrong holde, wherein Chereas was captayne.

33 But Machabeus and his company laide ſiege to it chearefully foure dayes.

34 Nowe they that were within, truſtyng to the ſtrength of the place, curſed and banned exceedyngly, and made great craking with wicked woordes.

35 Neuertheleſſe, vpon the fifth day in the morning, twentie young men of Machabeus companie, being ſet on fire in their mindes, becauſe of the blaſphemie, came manfully vnto the walle, and with bolde ſtomackes ſmote downe thoſe that they met.

36 Others alſo clymed vp vppon the towers, vndertakyng to ſet fire vpon the portes, and to burne thoſe blaſphemous perſons quicke with the fyres that they had made, others brake open the gates, and receiued the reſt of the armie, and tooke the citie.

37 Two dayes were they deſtroying the caſtle, whiche when they founde Timotheus that was crept in a corner, they killed hym, and ſlue Chereas his brother in like maner, with Apollophanes.

38 When this was done, they ſong pſalmes with prayſes and thankes geuyng vnto the Lorde, whiche hadde doone ſo great thynges for Iſrael, and geuen them the victorie.

¶ The.xi. Chapter.

1. Lyſias goeth about to ouercome the Iewes.
5. Succour is ſent from heauen vnto the Iewes.

NOt long after this, Lyſias the kings ſteward, and a kynſman of his, which had the gouernaunce of his matters, tooke ſore diſpleaſure for the thynges that had happened.

2 And whē he had geathered foure ſcore thouſand men of foote, with al the holt of the horſemen, he came agaynſt the Iewes, thinkyng to wynne the citie, to make it an habitation for the heathen:

3 And the temple wouldē he haue to be an houſe of lucre, lyke as the other goddes houſes of the heathen are, and to ſel the prieſtes office euery yeere,

4 Not conſyderyng the power of God, but was wylde in his mynde, truſtyng in the multitude of footmen, in thouſandes of horſmen, and in his foure ſcore Elephantes.

5 So he came into Iurie, and then to Bethſura, a caſtle of defence, lying in a narowe place, fyue furlonges from Hieruſalem, and layde ſore ſiege vnto it.

6 Nowe when Machabeus & his companie knewe that his ſtrong holdes were beſieged, they fel to their prayers with weeping and teares before the Lorde: and al the people in lyke manner beſought him that he would ſend a good angel to delyuer Iſrael.

7 Machabeus him ſelfe was the fyrſt that made him redy to the battaile, exhorting the other that were with him, to ieoparde them ſelues, and to helpe their brethren.

8 And when they were goyng footh of Hieruſalem togeather with a redy and wylling mynde, there appeared before them vpon horſebacke, a man in whyte clothyng, with harneſſe of golde, ſhakyng his ſpeare.

9 Then they prayſed the Lord altogether, whiche had ſhewed them mercy, and were comforted in their myndes, in ſo muche that they were redy not only to fyght with men, but with the moſte cruel beaſtes, yea, and runne thyough walles of iron.

10 Thus they went on wyllyngly, hauyng an helper from heauen, and the Lorde mercyful vnto them,

11 They fell myghtyly vpon their enimies lyke Lions, ſlue eleuen thouſand footemen, fyrteene hundred horſemen, and put all the other to flyght, 12 Many of them beyng wounded, and ſome gate away naked: yea Lyſias him ſelfe was fayne to flee ſhamefully, & ſo to eſcape.

13 Neuertheleſſe, that man was not without vnderſtandyng, but conſydered by him ſelfe that his power was minyſhed, and pondered howe the Iewes, beyng defended by the helpe of almighty God, were not able to be ouercome: wherefore he ſent them woorde, 14 And promyſed that he would conſent to al thynges whiche were reaſonable, & to make the kyng their freende.

15 To the which prayer of Lyſias, Machabeus agreed, ſeekyng in al thynges the common wealth: and what ſo euer Machabeus wrote vnto Lyſias concernyng the Iewes, the kyng graunted it.

16 For there were letters wrytten vnto the Iewes from Lyſias, conteynyng theſe woordes, Lyſias ſendeth greetyng to the people of the Iewes,

17 John and Abſalon whiche were ſent from you, delyuered me wrytynges, and requyred me to fulfyl the thinges concernyng their errande. or, Abſalom

18 Therefore looke what myght be graunted, I certified the kyng thereof: and whatſoeuer was conuenient, he agreed therto.

19 If ye nowe wyl be faythful in theſe matters, I ſhal endeuour mee ſelfe hereafter alſo to doo you good.

20 As concernyng theſe thynges, by euery article therof, I haue committed them to your meſſengers, and to thoſe whom I ſent vnto you to commune with you of the ſame particularly.

21 Fare ye wel. In the hundred fourtie and eyght yeere, the twentie and fourth day of the moneth Dioſcorinthius.

22 Nowe the kynges letter conteyned theſe woordes, Kyng Antiochus ſendeth greetyng vnto his brother Lyſias, 23 For ſo muche as our father is nowe tranſlated vnto the Gods, our wyl is, that they whiche are in our realme, lyue without any inſurrection, and euery man to be diligent in his owne matters.

24 We vnderſtand alſo that the Iewes would not conſent to our father for to be brought vnto þ cuſtome of the gentiles, but ſtiffely to keepe their owne ſtatutes, for the whiche cauſe they requyre of vs alſo to let them remayne ſtyl after their owne lawes.

25 Wherefore our mynde is, that this people ſhalbe in reſt: we haue concluded and determined alſo to reſtore them their temple agayne, that they may lyue accordyng to the vſe and cuſtome of their forefathers.

26 Thou ſhalt doo vs a pleaſure therefore, yf thou ſende vnto them, & graunt them peace: that when they are certified of our mynde, they may be of good cheare, & looke to their owne wealth.

27 And

27 And this was the letter that the king wrote vnto the Iewes, King Antiochus sendeth greetyng vnto the counsayle, and the other people of the Iewes, 28 If ye fare wel, we haue our desyre: as for vs, we are in good health.

29 Menelaus came and tolde vs howe that your desyre was to returne home, and peaceably to enioy your owne possessions.

30 Therefore, those that wyl come, we geue them free libertie vnto the thyrtieth a Zanthicus. day of the moneth of "Apryl,

31 That they maye vse the meates of the Iewes, and their owne lawes, lyke as afore, & none of them by any manner of wayes to haue harme for things done in ignorance.

32 I haue sent also Menelaus, that he may comfort you.

33 Fare ye wel. In the hundred fourtie & eyght yeere, the fyfteenth day of the moneth of Aprył.

34 The Romanes also sent a letter, conteynyng these wordes, Quintus Memmius, and Titus Manilius, Ambassadours of the Romanes, sende greetyng vnto the people of the Iewes.

35 Looke what Lysias the kynges kinsman hath graunted you, we graunt you the same also.

36 But as concernyng the thinges which he referred vnto the kyng, send hyther some with speede, and ponder the matter diligently among your selues, that we maye b To consult. "cast the best to your profyte: for we must departe nowe vnto Antioche.

37 And therefore wyse shortly agayne, that we may knowe your mynde.

38 Farewel. In the hundred fourtie and eyght yeere, the fyfteenth day of the moneth of Aprył.

¶ The xv. Chapter.

2. Timotheus troubleth the Ievves. 3. The vvicked deede of them of Ioppa agaynst the Ievves.

WHen these couenantes were made, Lysias went vnto the kyng, and the Iewes tylled their grounde.

2 But Timotheus and Apollonius the sonne of Jennei, Jerome, & Demophon the proud, Nicanor the captayne of Cypers, and they that lay in those places, would not let them lyue in rest and peace.

3 They of Ioppa also dyd euen suche a shameful deede: they prayed the Iewes that dwelt among them, to goe with their wyues and chyldren into the shyppes whiche they had prepared, and dyd with them as though they had ought them no euyl wyl:

4 For so muche then as there was gone foorth a generall proclamation throughe the citie because of peace, they consented therto, and suspecte nothyng: but when they were gone foorth into the deepe, they drowned no lesse then two hundred of them.

5 When Judas knewe of this cruelte shewed vnto his people, he cõmaunded those that were with him to make them redie,

6 Exhortyng them to cal vpon God the ryghteous iudge, went foorth agaynst those murderers of his brethren, set fyre in the hauen by nyght, brent vp the shyppes: and those that escaped from the fyre, he slue with the swoorde.

7 And when he had doone this, he departed, as though he woulde come agayne, and roote out al them of Ioppa.

8 But when he had gotten woorde that the Iammites were mynded to doo in lyke maner vnto the Iewes whiche dwelt among them, 9 He came vpõ the Iammites by nyght, and set fyre on the hauen, with the shyppes: so that the lyght of the fyre was seene at Hierusalem, vppon a two hundred and fourtie furlonges.

10 Nowe when they were gone from thence viene furlonges, in their iourney towarde Timotheus, fyue thousande men on foote, and fyue hundred horsemen of the Arabians fought with him.

11 So when the battayle was earnest, and prospered with Judas through the helpe of God, the residue of the a Arabians beyng ouercome, besought Judas to be at one with them, and promysed to geue him certayne
a. The Nomades of Arabia so called, because they were Shepheardes, & pasturers. "pastures, and to doo him good in other thynges.

12 Judas thynkyng that they should in deede be profitable concernyng many thynges, promised them peace, wherupon they shooke handes, and so they departed to their tentes.

13 Judas went also vnto a citie, which was very faste kept with bridges, fenced round about with walles, and diuers kindes of people dwellyng therein, called Caspin.

14 They that were within it, put suche trust in the strength of the walles, & in their store of victualles, that they were the slacker in their doopynges, cursyng and reuilyng Judas with blasphemies, and speaking euyl woordes as it becommeth not.

15 But Machabeus callyng vpon the great prince of the world (which without any battayle rammes or ordinances of warre did cast downe the walles of ||Jericho in the ||Iosu. 6. time of Josuah) fel manfully vpon the walles,

16 Tooke

16 Tooke the citie, and through the helpe of the Lorde made an exceedyng great slaughter: insomuche that a lake of two furlonges brode, whiche lay thereby, seemed to flowe with the blood of the slayne.

17 Then departed they from thence seuen hundred and fyftie furlonges, and came to "Taraca, vnto the Iewes that are called Tubianei.

18 But as for Timotheus, they coulde not get him there: for (not one matter dispatched) he was departed from thence, and had left certayne men in a very strong holde.

19 But Dositheus, and Sosipater, whiche were captaynes with Machabeus, slue those that Timotheus had left in the house of defence, more then ten thousande men.

20 And Machabeus prepared him with the sixe thousand men that were about him, set them in order by companies, and went foorth agaynst Timotheus, which had with him an hundred and twentie thousande men of foote, two thousand and fiue hundred horsemen.

21 When Timotheus had knowledge of Iudas comming, he sent the women, children, and the other baggage vnto a castle called Carnion: For it coulde not be wonne, and was harde to come vnto, the wayes of the same places were so narowe.

22 And when Iudas his first bande came in sight, the enimies were smitten with feare through the presence of GOD, whiche seeth al thynges: insomuche that they fleeyng one here, another there, were rather discomfited of theyr owne people, and wounded with the strokes of theyr owne swoordes.

23 Iudas also was very earnest in folowyng vpon them, punyshyng those vngodly, and slue thirtie thousande men of them.

24 Timotheus also hym selfe fell into the handes of Dositheus & Sosipater, whom he besought with muche craft to let him goe with his lyfe, because he had many of the Iewes fathers & brethren in prison, whiche if they put him to death, shoulde be despised.

25 So when he had promysed faythfully to delyuer them agayne accordyng to the condition made, they let hym goe without harme, for the health of the brethren.

26 Then Machabeus marched foorth to Carnion and Atargation, and there slue twentie and fiue thousande men.

27 Now after that he had chased away and slayne his enimies, he remooued the host towarde Ephron, a strong citie, wherein was Lysias, and a great multitude of diuers nations: and the strong young men kept the walles, defendyng them myghtyly: In this citie was muche ordinance and prouision of dartes.

28 But when Iudas and his company had called vpon almyghtie God, which with his power breaketh the strength of the enimies, they wanne the citie, and slue twentie and fiue thousande of them that were within.

29 From thence went they to the citie of the "Scythians, whiche lyeth sixe hundred furlonges from Hierusalem.

30 But when the Iewes whiche were in the citie, testified that the citizens dealt louingly with them, yea and intreated them kindly in the tyme of theyr aduersitie, 31 Iudas and his company gaue them thankes, desyryng them to be frendly styll vnto them: and so they came to Hierusalem, the high feast of weekes beyng at hande.

32 And after the feast of Pentecost, they went foorth agaynst Gorgias the gouernour of Idumea, 33 Who came out with three thousand men of foote, and foure hundred horsemen.

34 Whiche when they mette togesther, it chaunced a fewe of the Iewes to be slayne.

35 And Dositheus one of the Bacenors, a mightie horseman, tooke holde of Gorgias, and woulde haue taken him quicke: but an horseman of Thracia fell vppon hym, and smote of his arme, so that Gorgias escaped, and fled into "Mozela.

36 When they now that were of "Gorgias side had foughten long, and were weery, Iudas called vpon the Lorde, that he would be theyr helper, and captayne of the feelde:

37 And with that he began in his owne language, and song Psalmes with a loude voyce, insomuche that he made the enimies afrayde, and Gorgias men of warre tooke theyr flyght.

38 So Iudas geathered his host, and came into the citie of Odolla: and when the seuenth day came vpon them, they cleansed them selues as the custome was, and kept the Sabboth in the same place.

39 And vpon the day folowing, as necessitie required, Iudas and his company came to take vp the bodies of thē that were slaine, and to bury them in the fathers graues.

40 Nowe vnder the coates of certayne Iewes which were slaine, they found iewels that they had taken out of the temple, & from the idols of the Iamnites, || which thyng is forbidden the Iewes by the lawe: then euery man sawe that this was the cause wherefore they were slayne. || Deut. 7. 25.

41 And so euery man gaue thankes vnto the Lorde for his righteous iudgement, "or, Carnea.

"or, Scythopolis.

"or, Mareshah.

"or, Esdrin.

whiche had opened the thing that was hyd.

42 They fel downe alſo vnto their prayers, and beſought God that the fault which was made, might be put out of remembrance: Beſydes that, Judas exhorted the people earneſtly to keepe them ſelues from ſuche ſinne, forſomuche as they ſawe before theyr eyes that theſe men were ſlayne for the ſame offence.

43 So he gathered of euery one a certayne, and ſent two thouſande drachmes of ſiluer vnto Hieruſalem, that there might a ſacrifice be offered for the miſdeede: in the whiche he did wel and ryght, for he had ſome conſyderation and poudryng of the lyfe that is after this tyme.

44 For yf he had not thought that they which were ſlaine ſhoulde riſe againe, it had ben ſuperfluous and vaine to make any vowe or ſacrifice for them that were dead.

45 But forſomuch as he ſawe that they which dye in the fauour and beleefe of God, are in good reſt and ioy, he thought it to be good and honourable for a reconciling, to do the ſame for thoſe whiche were ſlayne, that the offence might be forgeuen.

¶ The.xiii. Chapter.

1. The commyng of Eupator into Iury. 4. The death of Menelaus.

IN the hundred fourtie and nine yeere, gate Judas knowledge that Antiochus Eupator was commyng with a great power into Iurie,

2 And Lyſias the ſtewarde and ruler of his matters with hym, hauyng an hundred & ten thouſande men of foote of the Gretians, fiue thouſande horſemen, twentie and two Elephantes, and three hundred charrets ſet with hookes.

3 Menelaus alſo ioyned hym ſelfe with them, but with great deceit, ſpake faire to the king, not for any good to the countrey, but becauſe he thought to haue been made ſome great man of aucthoritie.

4 But the king of kinges moued Antiochus minde againſt this vngodly perſon, and Lyſias enformed the kyng that this Menelaus was the cauſe of all miſchiefe: ſo that the kyng commaunded to bryng hym vnto Berea, and as the manner of them is, to put him vnto death in the ſame place.

5 There was alſo in the ſame place a towre of fiftie cubites high, heaped with aſhes: and it had an inſtrument that turned round, & on euery ſyde it rolled downe into the aſhes, and there whoſoeuer was condemned of ſacrilege, or of any other greeuous crime, was caſt of al men vnto the death.

6 Whereinto the kyng commaunded that ſhamefull perſon to be caſt among the aſhes, as one that was cauſe of all vngratiouſneſſe.

7 And reaſon it was that the vnhyrſt ſhould dye ſuch a death, and not to be buried:

8 For he had doone muche miſchiefe vnto the aulter of GOD, whoſe fyre and aſhes were holy: therefore was it ryght that he hym ſelfe alſo ſhoulde be deſtroyed with aſhes.

9 But the kyng was wood in his mind, and came to ſhewe hym ſelfe more cruell vnto the Jewes then his father was.

10 Which when Judas perceiued, he commaunded the people to call vppon the Lord nyght and day, that he would nowe helpe them alſo, lyke as he had done alwaye: for they were afraid to be put from theyr law, from theyr natural countrey, and from the holy temple:

11 And not to ſuffer the people which a litle while afore began to recouer, to be ſubdued agayne of the blaſphemous nations.

12 So when they had doone this together, and beſought the Lorde for mercy, with weepyng and faſtyng three dayes long, flat vpon the grounde, Judas exhorted them to make them ſelues redy.

13 But he and the elders togeather counſeled to goe forth firſt with the people afore the kyng brought his hoſt into Iurie, and afore he beſieged the citie, and ſo to commit the matter vnto God.

14 Therefore he committed the charge of al thinges vnto GOD the maker of al the world, exhorting his people to fight manfully, yea euen vnto death, for the lawes, the temple, the citie, theyr owne natiue countrey, and to defende the citizens: and he ſet his hoſt before Modin.

15 He gaue them alſo that were with him a token of the victory of God, chooſing out the manlyeſt young men, went by nyght into the kinges pauilion, ſlue of the hoſt fourtiene thouſande men, and the greateſt of the Elephantes, with thoſe that ſate vppon them.

16 Thus whē they had brought a great feare and rumour among the tentes of their enimies, and al thinges went proſperouſly with them, 17 They departed in the breake of the day, God being theyr helper and defender.

18 Nowe when the kyng perceiued the manlyneſſe of the Jewes, he went about to take the ſtrong places by craft,

19 And remoued his hoſt vnto Bethſura which was a wel kept houſe of defence of the Jewes: but they were chaſed away hurt, hurt, and diſcomfyted.

20 And Judas ſent vnto them that were in it, ſuch thinges as were neceſſarie.

21 In the Jewes hoaſt alſo there was one Rhodochus, which told the enimies their ſecretes: but they ſought him out, and when they had gotten him, they put him in priſon.

22 After this did the king communs with them that were in Bethſura, tooke truice with them, departed, and ſtroke a battayle with Judas, which ouercame him.

23 But when he vnderſtoode that Philip, whom he had left to be ouerſeer of this buſineſſe at Antioche, began to rebel againſt him, he was aſtonyed in his minde, ſo that he yeelded him ſelfe to the Jewes, and made them an oth to do what ſo euer they thought ryght.

24 Nowe when he was reconciled with them, he offered, made much of the temple, gaue great gyftes vnto it, 25 Embraced Machabeus, making him captayne and gouernour from Ptolemais vnto the Gerrhenes.

26 Neuertheleſſe, when he came to Ptolemais, the people of the citie were not content with the bonde of freendſhip: for they were afrayd that he woulde breake the couenant.

27 Then went Lyſias vp into the iudgement ſeate, and excuſed the fact as well as he could: and enfourmed the people, ſhewed them the cauſe why, and pacified them: ſo he came agayne to Antioche. This is nowe the matter concerning the kinges iourney, and his returne.

¶ The. xiiii. Chapter.

By the motion of the Lorde, Demetrius ſendeth Nicanor to kil the Iewes.

AFter three yeeres was Judas infourmed howe that Demetrius the ſonne of Seleucus was come vp with a great power and ſhippes, through the hauen of Tripolis,

2 To take certaine commodious places and countreys, againſt Antiochus and his captayne Lyſias.

3 Nowe Alcimus, which had been high prieſt, and wylfuly defyled him ſelfe in the time of ỹ mixting, ſeeing that by no meanes he coulde be helped, nor haue any more entrance to the aulter,

4 He came to king Demetrius in the hundred fiftie and one yeere, preſenting vnto him a crowne of golde, a paulme, and an Oliue tree, which as men thought belonged to the temple: and that day helde his tongue.

5 But when he had gotten opportunitie for his madneſſe, Demetrius called him to counſel, and aſked him what thinges or counſels the Jewes leaned vnto?

6 He anſweared, The Jewes that be called Aſſidei (whoſe captayne is Judas Machabeus) maynteyne warres, make inſurrections, and will not let the realme be in peace.

7 For I beyng depryued of my fathers honour (I meane the high prieſthood) am come hyther:

8 Partely because I was faythful vnto the king, and partly because I ſought the profyte of myne owne citizens: And why? all our people throughout the wickednes of them are not a litle troubled.

9 Wherefore I beſeeche thee, O king, conſider al theſe thinges diligently, and then make ſome prouiſion for the lande and the people, accordyng to the kindeneſſe that thou haſt offered vnto them.

10 For as long as Judas lyueth, it is not poſſible that men can lyue in peace.

11 When he had ſpoken theſe wordes, other frendes alſo hauing euil will at Judas, ſtirred the kyng Demetrius on fyre againſt hym.

12 Whiche immediatly ſent Nicanor, ruler of the Elephantes, a captayne in Jurie, 13 Commaundyng him to ſlay Judas, and to ſcatter them that were with him, and to make Alcimus high prieſt of the great temple.

14 Then the heathen, whiche fled out of Jurie from Judas, came to Nicanor by flockes, thinkyng the harme and decay of the Jewes to be their welfare.

15 Nowe when the Jewes hearde of Nicanors comming, and the geathering togeather of the heathen, || they ſprinkled them ſelues with earth, and beſought him whiche made them his people, and euer defended his owne portion with euident tokens, that he woulde preſerue them ſtyl. || 2. Mac. 10. 25.

16 So at the commaundement of the captayne they remooued ſtraight wayes from thence, and came to a towne called Deſau,

17 And Simon Judas brother fel in hand with Nicanor: but through the ſodaine commyng of the enimies, he was afrayde. " or, Sileus

18 Neuertheleſſe, Nicanor hearing the manlyneſſe of them that were with Judas, and the bold ſtomackes that they had to fight for their naturall countrey, durſt not proue the matter with bloodſhedding.

19 Wherefore he ſent Poſſidonius, " Theodotus, and Mathathias before, to geue and to take peace. " or, Theodoſius, Matthias,

20 So when they had taken long aduiſement thereupon, & the captaine ſhewed it vnto the multitude, they were agreed in one mind to haue peace.

21 And they appointed a day to ſitte vpon theſe matters quietly among them ſelues, and for euery one ſtooles alſo were brought, and ſet foorth.

22 Neuertheleſſe, Judas commaunded certayne men of armes to wayte in conuenient places, leſt there ſhould ſodenly ariſe any euil through the enimies: and ſo they communed reaſonably togeather.

23 Nicanor whyle he abode at Hieruſalem, ordered hym ſelfe not vnreaſonably, but ſent away the people that were geathered togeather.

24 He loued Judas euer with his hart, and fauoured hym.

25 He prayed him alſo to take a wife, and to bring forth children. So he maried, liued in reſt, and they led a common lyfe.

26 But Alcimus perceyuing the loue that was betwixt them, and howe they were agreed togeather, came to Demetrius, and tolde him that Nicanor had taken ſtrange matters in hande, and ordeyned Judas, an enimie of the realme, to be the kinges ſucceſſour.

27 Then the king was ſore diſpleaſed, and through the wicked accuſations whiche Alcimus made of Nicanor, he was ſo prouoked, that he wrote vnto Nicanor, ſayeing that he was very angry for the freendſhip and agreement whiche he had made with Machabeus, neuertheleſſe, he commaunded him in all the haſte that he ſhoulde take Machabeus priſoner, and ſend him to Antioche.

28 Whiche letters when Nicanor had ſeene, he was at his wittes end, and ſore greeued, that he ſhoulde breake the thinges wherein they had agreed, ſpecially ſeeyng Machabeus was that man that neuer dyd hym harme.

29 But becauſe he might not withſtand the kyng, he ſought opportunitie to fulfyl his commaundement.

30 Notwithſtanding, when Machabeus ſawe that Nicanor began to be churliſhe vnto hym, and that he entreated him more roughly then he was wont, he perceyued that ſuche vnkyndneſſe came not of good, and therefore he geathered a fewe of his men, and withdrewe him ſelfe from Nicanor.

31 Which when he knewe that Machabeus had manfully preuented hym, he came into the great and moſt holy temple, and commaunded the prieſtes whiche were dooyng their vſuall offerynges, to delyuer hym the man.

32 And when they ſware that they could not tell where the man was, whom he ſought,

33 He ſtretched out his ryght hande towarde the temple, and made an oth, ſaying, || If ye wyl not deliuer me Judas captiue, I ſhal remooue this temple of GOD, into the playne ſeelde, I ſhal breake downe the aulter, and conſecrate this temple vnto Bacchus. || 2. Mac. 7.

34 After theſe wordes he departed. Then the prieſtes lyft vp theyr handes toward heauen, and beſought him that was euer the defender of their people, ſaying,

35 Thou, O Lorde of all, which haſt neede of nothing, wouldeſt that the temple of thy habitation ſhoulde be among vs:

36 Therefore nowe, O moſt holy Lord, keepe this houſe euer vndefyled, which lately was clenſed, and ſtoppe al the mouthes of the vnrighteous.

37 Nowe was there accuſed vnto Nicanor one Razis, an Alderman of Hieruſalem, a louer of the whole citie, and a man of good report, which for the kinde hart that he bare vnto the people, was called a father of the Jewes.

38 This man oft tymes when the Jewes were minded to keepe them ſelues vndefyled, defended and deliuered them, beyng content ſtedfaſtly to ſpende his body and his lyfe for his people.

39 So Nicanor wyllyng to declare the hate that he bare to the Jewes, ſent fiue hundred men of warre to take him.

40 For he thought if he gate him, he ſhould bryng the Jewes in great decay.

41 Nowe when the people began to ruſhe in at his houſe, to breake the doores, and to ſet fyre on it, he beyng nowe taken c fel vpon his ſwoorde,

c. This fact is not to be approoued, for that it is contrary to gods commaundement, Thou ſhalt not kyl 42 Chooſyng rather to dye manfully, then to yeelde him ſelfe to thoſe wycked doers: and becauſe of his noble ſtocke, he had rather haue ben put to extreme crueltie.

43 Notwithſtanding, what time he miſſed of his ſtroke for haſte, and the multitude ruſhed in violently betwixt the doores, he ranne boldly to the wall, and caſt him ſelfe downe manfully among the heape of them:

44 Which gaue ſoone place to his fall, ſo that he fel vpon his belly.

45 Neuertheleſſe, whyle there was yet breath within him, beyng kindled in his minde, he roſe vp, & whyle his blood guſhed out exceedyngly (for he was very ſore wounded) he ranne through the middeſt of the people, and gate him to the toppe of a rocke.

46 So when his blood was nowe gone, he tooke out his owne bowels, and with both his handes threwe them vppon the people, ple,calling vpon the Lord of lyfe and ſpirite to rewarde hym this againe: and ſo he died.

¶ The.xv.Chapter.

1. Nicanor goeth about to come vppon Iudas on the Sabboth day.5. The blaſphemie of Nicanor.

NOwe when Nicanor knewe that Iudas & his companie were in the countrey of Samaria, he thought with all his power to ſtrike a feelde with hym vppon a Sabboth day.

2 Neuertheleſſe, the Iewes that were compelled to goe with hym, ſaide, O doo not ſo cruelly and vnkyndly, but halowe the Sabboth day, and woorſhyp hym that ſeeth al thynges.

3 For all this yet ſayde the vngratious perſon, Is there a myghtie one in heauen that commaunded the Sabboth day to be kept?

4 And when they ſayde, Yea the liuing God,the myghtie Lord in heauen commaunded the ſeuenth day to be kept,

5 He ſayde, And I am myghtie vppon earth, to commaund them for to arme themſelues, and to perfourme the kynges buſineſſe: Notwithſtandyng, he myght not haue his purpoſe.

6 Nicanor had deuiſed with great pryde to ouercome Iudas, and to byrng away the victorie:

7 But Machabeus had euer a faſt confidence and a perfect hope in GOD, that he woulde helpe hym:

8 And exhorted his people not to be afrayd at the commyng of the heathen:but alway to remember the helpe that hadde been ſhewed vnto them from heauen, yea, and to be ſure now alſo that almighty God would geue them the victorie.

9 He ſpake vnto them out of the lawe and prophetes, puttyng them in remembrance of the battayles that they had ſtryken afore, and made them to be of good courage.

10 So when their harts were pluckt vp, he ſhewed them alſo the deceptfulneſſe of the heathen, and howe they woulde keepe no couenant nor othe.

11 Thus he weaponed them, not with the armour of ſhield & ſpeare,but with wholſome woordes and exhortations, he ſhewed them a dreame alſo woorthy to be beleeued, wherethrough he made them all glad.

12 Whiche was this: He thought that he ſawe Onias,whiche had been hygh prieſt, a vertuous and louyng man:ſad, and of honeſt conuerſation, well ſpoken,and one that had been exerciſed in godlyneſſe from a chylde, holdyng vp his handes toward heauen,and prayng for his people.

13 After this,there appeared vnto hym another man,whiche was aged, honourable, and glorious.

14 And Onias ſaide, This is a louer of the brethren, and of the people of Iſrael:this is he that prayeth muche for the people, and for al the holy citie, Jeremie the prophete of God.

15 He thought alſo that Jeremie helde out his ryght hande, and gaue vnto Judas a ſwoorde of golde,ſaying, 16 Take this holy ſwoorde, a gyft from God,wherewith thou ſhalt ſmyte downe the enimies of the people of Iſrael.

17 And ſo they were well comforted through the woordes of Judas, whiche were very ſweete, & able to ſtyre vp their courage, and tooke courage vnto them, ſo that the young men were determined in their mindes to fyght,and to abyde ſtiffely at it,in ſo much that in the thinges which they tooke in hand, their boldneſſe ſhewed the ſame, becauſe the holy citie,the ſanctuarie,and the temple were in peryl.

18 For the which they tooke more care, then for their wiues,chyldren, brethren, and kinſfolkes.

19 Agayne, they that were in the citie, were moſt carefull for thoſe which were to fyght.

20 Nowe when they were all in a hope that the iudgement of the matter was at hande, and the enimies drue nigh, the hoaſt beyng ſet in araye,the Elephantes and horſemen euery one ſtandyng in his place,

21 Machabeus conſyderyng the commyng of the multitude, the ordinance of diuers weapons, the cruelneſſe of the beaſtes, helde vp his handes towarde heauen, calling vppon the lorde that doth wonders, which geueth not the victorie after the multitude of weapons, & power of the hoaſt, but to them that pleaſe him,accordyng to his owne wyll.

22 Therefore in his prayer he ſaid theſe woordes, || O Lorde,thou that dyddeſt ſende thyne angel in the tyme of Ezechias kyng of Juda,and in the hoaſt of Sennacherib ſlueſt an hundred, foure ſcore, and fyue thouſande; ||4.kin.19.35 Tobi.2.21. Eccl.48.24. Eſai.37.36

23 Sende nowe alſo thy good angel before vs,O Lorde of heauens, in the fearefulneſſe and dread of thy mightie arme, 24 That they whiche come againſt thy holy people to blaſpheme them, may be afrayde. And ſo he made an ende of his woordes.

25 Then Nicanor and they that were with him, drue nigh, with trumpets and showtynges for ioye.

26 But Iudas and his companie, with prayer and callyng vpon God, encountred with the enimies.

27 With theyr handes they smote, but with theyr hartes they prayed vnto the Lord, and slue no lesse then thyrtie and slue thousande men: for through the present helpe of God they were gloriously comforted.

28 Nowe when they left of, and were turnyng agayne with ioy, they vnderstoode that Nicanor hym selfe was slayne with the other for al his armour.

29 Then they gaue a great showte and a crie, prayslyng the almightie Lord in theyr owne language.

30 And Iudas whiche was euer redy to spend his body and lyfe for his citizens, commaunded to smyte of Nicanors head, with his arme and hand, and to be brought to Hierusalem.

31 When he came there, he called all the people and the preistes to the aulter, with those that were in the castle, 32 And shewed them Nicanors head, & his wicked hand, which he had presumptuously holden vp agaynst the temple of God.

33 He caused the tongue also of that vngodly Nicanor to be cut in litle peeces, & to be cast to the fowles, and that cruell mans hande to be hanged vp before the temple.

34 So euery man gaue thankes vnto the Lord, saying, Blessed be he that hath kept his place vndefiled.

35 As for Nicanors head, he hanged it vp vppon the high castle, for an euident and playne token of the helpe of God.

36 And so they agreed al together to keepe that day holy, namely the thirteenth day of the moneth [a] Adar

[a] February

37 Whiche in the Syrians language is called, the next day before Mardocheus day.

38 Thus was Nicanor slayne, & from that time forth the Iewes had the citie in possession: and here wyl I now make an end.

39 If I haue done wel: and as the storye requyred, it is the thyng that I desired: but if I haue spoken slenderly and barely, I haue done that I coulde.

40 For as it is hurtful to drynke wyne alone, and then agayne water, and as wine tempered with water is pleasant, & deliteth the taste: so the settyng out of the matter, deliteth the eare of them that reade the storie. And here shalbe the ende.

FOR better vnderſtandyng of the contents of this Table, ye ſha note that the Euangelikes, Saint Matthewe, and Saint Luke haue diuerſly recited the generation of our Sauiour Chriſte, ac cordyng to the fleſhe, and yet tende both to one ende: that is, t proue (that accordyng to that which is wrytten of him in the pro phecies) he is deſſended of the royall blood of Dauid, & ryghtly ſuc ceeded him in the kyngdome. So the diuerſitie of the ſayde recital conſyſteth in this: that Saint Matthewe ſetteth foorth the ſayd ge neration deſſending from father to ſonne: and Saint Luke aſſender from ſonne to father, whiche come al to one ende. But to ſhewe th agreement of Saint Luke, with Saint Matthewe, we haue here ſe foorth the generation by him deſcribed, deſſendyng after the order o Saint Matthewe, to the end that the one may be conferred with th other. Furthermore, Saint Matthewe deſcribeth the generation o Ioſeph, though it belong nothyng to Ieſus Chriſte after the fleſhe, and Saint Luke that of the Virgin Marie: for it was very neceſſar to recite both, for as much as women were commonly reputed of th lyne or kynrede of their huſbandes: And ſo as well on her huſban des ſyde, as on her owne ofſpryng, it is manyfeſt that ſhe was of th royall lyne of Dauid.

* Iuda of the lyne of Nathan, engendred Simeon, called Ioas whiche came to the royall ſeate, becauſe the poſteritie of Solomo fayled in Ochoſias: and therefore the kyngdome belonged to Na thans poſteritie, accordyng to the ordinaunce of Dauid, as Phil recyteth, that is, the youngeſt of the chyldren of Beerſebe (which was Solomon) ſhoulde raigne after him, and that yf the poſteriti fayled, the kyngdome ſhoulde come to the poſteritie of the next youn ger, whiche was Nathan: and therefore Nathan was called Ahiſar that is to ſay, Brother of the Prince, and they of his poſteritie Ahiſcarim, that is to ſay, Brothers of the Prince, and Mathitim whiche ſignifieth, Geuen to ſucceede. The ſayde Philo recyte that the poſteritie of the ſayde Nathan was ſo honoured of the kyn Ioſaphat, that he called his chyldren the brothers of Ioram hi ſonne, and their chyldren the brothers of Ochoſias his nephewe: an this is the cauſe why the Scripture ſayth, that Ioas was the ſonn of Ochoſias, though he were not his natural ſonne, but the ſonne Iuda, deſſended from Nathan.

Note that Saint Matthewe going about to deſcribe the gener tion by fourteenes, dyd fyrſt leaue out Ioas, Amazias, and Azaria which are ſet in betwene Ochoſias, the laſt of the race of Solomo and Ioathan. Further, he hath left out Ichaas, and Ioacim, place betweene the ſame deſcription more perfect and playne.

*For as much as it ſemeth that Saint Luke maketh no menti of the generation of Marie, but rather of Ioſeph, for he vſeth the woordes, that Ieſus was counted the ſonne of Ioſeph, whiche w of Heli, that is to ſay, the ſonne of Heli: we muſt vnderſtande that this place the name of ſonne is taken for the name of ſonne in law and that Saint Luke meaneth that Ioſeph was the ſonne in la to Heli, for that he toke to wyfe the Virgin Marie daughter to t ſayde Heli, which maner of ſpeach is common in the Scripture: f we fynde that Noemi calleth Ruth her daughter, whiche was h her ſtepdaughter, her ſonnes wyfe.

A Preface into the newe Teſtament.

THE newue Teſtament, ſo called, conteynyng the vvrytinges of the Euangeliſtes, with the Epiſtles of Chriſtes Apoſtles, & with other ſuch deuine bookes, declare playnely vnto vs the ſumme and effect of al the ſcriptures expreſſed in the olde Teſtament. That whiche was in figure and in obſcuritie inuolued by the patriarkes and prophetes in theyr prophetical volumes, wrytten by the inſpiration of the holy ghoſt: is in this booke more playnely and euidently ſet out, vttered alſo in the ſelfe ſame ſpirite by the chyldren of the prophetes, the holy Apoſtles. In deede the lawe was geuen by Moſes, but grace and veritie came by Ieſus Chriſte, whiche grace this booke of the newe Teſtament doth moſt euidently commende and ſet out. In this is diſcourſed the whole myſterie of our ſaluation and redemption, purchaſed by our ſauiour Chriſt, here is his holy conception deſcribed, his natiuitie, his circumciſion, his whole life and conuerſation, his godly doctrine, his deuine myracles. In this booke of the newe Teſtament is ſet foorth his death, his reſurrection, his aſſention, his ſendyng of the holy ſpirite, his ſeſſion in our fleſh on the right hand of his father, making continual interceſſion to him for vs. In this booke is conteined the fourme & order of his laſt iudgemēt, after the general reſurrection of our bodyes. Theſe be the myſteries of our faith, theſe be the groundes of our ſaluation, theſe be thus written that we ſhoulde beleeue them, and by our beleefe ſhoulde enioy lyfe euerlaſtyng. Once and in tymes paſt God diuerſly and many wayes ſpake vnto the fathers by the Prophetes, but in theſe laſt dayes he hath ſpoken vnto vs (vpon whom the endes of the world be come) by his owne ſonne, whom he hath made heire of al thynges, whoſe dignitie is ſuche, that he is the bryghtneſſe of his fathers glory, the very image of his ſubſtance, rulyng al thynges by the worde of his power. This heauenly doctour ſo indued with glory and maieſtie, we ought moſt reuerently to beleeue. as commended vnto vs from the auctoritie of the heauenly father, to be hearde as his moſt welbeloued ſonne, in whom is his whole delyght, by whom he wyl be pleaſed and pacified: It wyl els come to paſſe, ſayth that prophete Moſes, that whoſoeuer ſhall not heare and obey that prophete in the wordes that he ſhal ſpeake in his fathers name, I wyl be, ſayth the father, reuenger of hym. This is the laſt prophete to be looked for to ſpeake vnto vs: In him be vniuerſally incloſed the ryches and treaſures of the wiſdome and kuowledge of GOD his father, by hym he hath decreed finally to iudge the whole world, the lyuyng and the dead: by him hath he decreed to geue his elect the lyfe euerlaſtyng, and to the reprobate (who hath contemned his lyfe and doctrine) death euerlaſting. Let vs therefore ſeriouſly heare & obey this our heauenly teacher, ſubmit our ſelues to this our iudge and rewarder: Let vs eſteeme his doctrine and conuerſation, as a ful, perfect, and ſufficient paterne of al holyneſſe and vertue: Let vs eſteeme the doctrine of this booke as a moſt inflexible rule to leade vs to all trueth and newneſſe of life. Here may we beholde the eternal legacies of the newe Teſtament, bequeathed from God the father in Chriſt his ſonne to al his electes, I ſay, the legacies lyuely renued vnto vs, not of deliuerance from Pharao his ſeruitude, but from the bondage and thraldome of that perpetual aduerſarie of ours the deuyl: here may we beholde our inheritance, not of the temporal lande of Chanaan, or of the tranſlation of vs to the place of worldly paradiſe: but here we may ſee the ful reſtitution of vs, both in body aud ſoule, to the celeſtial paradiſe, the heauenly citie of Hieruſalem aboue, there to raigne with God the father, God the ſonne, and God the holy ghoſt for euer. Which legacies of his Teſtament promiſed and bequeathed, were notwithſtandyng recorded in the bookes of the old Teſtament to our auncient fathers, which in hope beleeued in Chriſte to come, who was paynted before them in figures and ſhadowes, & ſignified in their olde ſacramentes ordeyned for that tyme: but nowe more euidently renued and exhibited vnto vs, not in figure, but in deede, not in promiſe, but in open ſight, in feelyng, in handlyng and touching of this eternal lyfe, moſt manyfeſtly confyrmed vnto vs in Chriſt his blood in this his new Teſtament continued and reuiued, yet in newe ſacramentes, the better to beare in our remembrance this his eternal Teſtament of al ioyful felicities. Let vs now therfore good chriſtian people, reioyce in theſe glad tydyngs expreſſed vnto vs by the name of the Goſpel of our ſauiour Ieſus Chriſt, and let it neuer fal out of our remembrance that we were ſometime ouerwhelmed in darkeneſſe, and ſet in the ſhadowe of death: let vs conſyder that we were ſometyme by our natural birth the chyldren of God his wrath, & wholly eſtranged from the houſholde of God. Let vs beare in mynde that we were ſometime no people of God, nor his beloued, that we were by nature branches of the wylde Oliue, and nowe by meere mercy grafted into the ryght and natural Oliue tree: whereupon let vs the rather repoſe our lyfe in feare and reuerence. If we be nowe the chyldren of lyght, let vs walke in this our lyght in al holyneſſe and godlyneſſe of lyfe, approuyng that whiche is pleaſyng to the Lorde. Let vs haue no felowſhyp with the vnfruiteful woorkes of darkeneſſe and let vs hencefoorth be no more chyldren, waueryng and caryed about with euery wynde of doctrine, and by the deceyt and craftyneſſe of men, whereby they lay in wayte to deceiue vs: but let vs folowe the trueth in loue & charitie, and in al thynges growe vp into hym whiche is the head, that is Chriſt our ſauiour. If we be nowe the chyldren of grace, and made liuely members of his body, though ſometime ſtrangers and forreyners farre of, and made neare by the blood of Chriſte, and made citizens with the ſaintes, and of the houſholde of God: let vs direct our hartes thyther where our head is, delyghting our ſelfe in al heauenly cogitations, walkyng in al ſpiritual workes and fruites of the ſpirite, as Gods deare elect. God graunt that Chriſt may ſo dwel in our hartes by fayth, that we may be able to comprehende with al ſaintes the vnſpeakeable loue of Chriſte whiche paſſeth all mans knowledge.

Vnto hym therefore whiche is able to doo exceedyng aboundantly aboue all that we can aſke or thynke, be prayſe in the Churche by Chriſte Ieſus, throughout al generations for euer. Amen.

The Gospel by saint Matthewe.

¶ The fyrst Chapter.

1. The genealogie of Christe from Abraham. 18. The maryage of his mother Marie. 20. The angel satisfyeth Iosephes minde. 21. The interpretation of Christes names.

THis is ||the b booke of the generation of Iesus Christe, the sonne of Dauid, the sonne of Abraham.

2 || Abraham begate Isahac, ||Isahac begat Iacob, || Iacob begate Iudas and his brethren.

3 ||Iudas begate Phares, and Zara of Thamar, ||Phares begate Esrom, Esrom begate Aram.

4 Aram begate Aminadab, Aminadab begate Naasson, Naasson begate Salmon.

5 Salmon begate Boos, of Rachab, Boos begate Obed, of Ruth, Obed begate Iesse.

6 ||Iesse begate Dauid the king.|| Dauid the king begate Solomon, of her that was the wyfe of Urie.

7 || Solomon begate Roboam, Roboam begate Abia, Abia begate Asa.

8 Asa begate Iosaphat, Iosaphat begate Iozam, Iozam begate Ozias.

9 Ozias begate Ioatham, Ioatham begote Achas, Achas begate Ezecias.

10 || Ezecias begate Manasses, Manasses begate Amon, Amon begate Iosias.

11 Iosias ||begate Iechonias and his brethren, about the time they were caryed away to Babylon.

12 And after they were brought to Babylon, || Iechonias begate Salathiel, || Salathiel begate Zorobabel.

13 Zorobabel begate Abiud, Abiud begate Eliacim, Eliacim begate Azor.

14 Azor begate Sadoc, Sadoc begate Achen, Achen begate Eliud.

15 Eliud begate Eleazer, Eleazar begate Matthan, Matthan begate Iacob.

16 Iacob begate Ioseph the husbande of Marie, of whom was borne Iesus, that is called Christ.

17 And so all the generations from Abraham to Dauid, are fourteene generations: and from Dauid vntyl the carying away into Babylon, are fourteene generations, and from the carying away into Babylon vnto Christ, are fourteene generations.

18 ||The birth of Iesus Christ was on this wyse. When as his mother Marie was betrothed to Ioseph (before they came togeather) she was founde with childe of the holy ghost. ||Luke.1.27

19 Then Ioseph her husband, being a righteous man, || and not willyng to make her a publique example, was mynded preuily to put her away. ||Deut.24.1

20 But whyle he thought these things, beholde the angel of the Lorde appeared vnto hym in a dreame, sayeing, Ioseph thou sonne of Dauid, feare not to take vnto thee Marie thy wyfe, for that whiche is conceiued in her, is of the holy ghost.

21 She shall bryng foorth a sonne, ||and thou shalt cal his name Iesus: for he shall saue his people from their sinnes, ||Luke.1.38 Act.4.11

22 (All this was done, that it might be fulfylled, which was spoken of the Lorde by the prophete, saying,

23 ||Behold, a virgin shalbe with chyld, and shal bryng foorth a sonne, and they shall call his name Emmanuel, which is by interpretation, God with vs.) ||Esai.7.14

24 Then Ioseph, being rayſed from sleepe, did as the angel of the Lorde had bydden him, and he tooke his wyfe:

25 c And knewe her not, tyll she had brought foorth her fyrst borne sonne, and called his name Iesus.

c. This phrase dooth not importe that he knewe her afterwarde: as the like phrase vsed Mat.28. and Gen.8. for that he had no mo chyldren.

¶ The.ii. Chapter.

1. The tyme and place of Christes byrth. 14. Christe fleeth into Egypt. 16. The young chyldren are slayne.

WHen || Iesus was borne in Bethlehem, a citie of Iurie, in the dayes of Herode the king: behold, there came wyse men from the East to Hierusalem, ||Luke.2.6 The Gospel on the Epiphanie.

2 Saying, Where is he that is borne kyng of the Iewes? For we haue seene his starre in the East, and are come to worship him.

3 When Herode the kyng had heard these thinges, he was troubled, and al the citie of Hierusalem with him.

4 And when he had gathered all the cheefe priests and scribes of the people togeather, he demaunded of them where Chriſte ſhoulde be borne.

5 And they ſayde vnto him, At Bethlehem in Iurie: For thus it is written by the prophete,

6 || And thou Bethlehem in the lande of Juda, art not the leaſt among the princes of Juda: For out of thee ſhall there come a captaine, that ſhall gouerne my people Iſrael.

7 Then Herode, when he had priuily called the wyſe men, enquired of them diligently what time the ſtarre appeared.

8 And he ſent them to Bethlehem, and ſayd, Goe, & ſearche diligently for the young childe, and when ye haue founde him, bring me woord againe, that I may come and worſhip him alſo.

9 When they had heard the king, they departed, and loe, the ſtarre which they ſawe in the Eaſt, went before them, til it came and ſtoode ouer the place wherein the young child was.

10 When they ſawe the ſtarre, they reioyced exceedingly with great ioy, 11 And went into the houſe, and they ſawe the young chylde with Marie his mother, and fel downe, and worſhipped hym: and when they had opened theyr treaſures, preſented vnto him gifres, golde, and frankenſence, and myrre.

12 And after they were warned of God in a dreame that they ſhoulde not returne to Herode, they departed into their owne countrey another way.

The Goſpel on Innocents day.

13 When they were departed, beholde, the angel of the Lord appeared to Joſeph in a dreame, ſaying, Aryſe, and take the young chyld, and a his mother, and flee into Egypt, and be thou there tyl I bryng thee woorde: for it wyll come to paſſe, that Herode ſhall ſeeke the young chylde, to deſtroy hym.

a. Ioſeph was not the father of Chriſt, els the angel would not haue ſayd, Take the childe and his mother, but rather, Take thy chylde.

14 When he aroſe, he tooke the young chyld and his mother by night, and departed into Egypt:

15 And was there vnto the death of Herode, that it might be fulfylled which was ſpoken of the Lord by the Prophete, ſaying, || Out of Egypt haue I called my ſonne.

||Oſee.11.1

16 Then Herode, when he ſawe that he was mocked of the wiſe men, was exceeding wroth, and ſent forth, and ſlue al the chyldren that were in Bethlehem, and in all the coaſtes thereof, as many as were two yeeres olde and vnder, according to the tyme, which he had diligently ſearched out of the wyſe men.

17 Then was fulfilled that which was ſpoken by Jeremie the Prophete, ſaying,

18 In Rama was there a voyce heard, || lamentation, weeping, and great mourning, Rachel weeping for her chyldren, and woulde not be comforted, becauſe they were not. ||Jere.31.1

19 But when Herode was dead, beholde, an angel of the Lorde appeareth in a dreame to Joſeph in Egypt, 20 Saying, Aryſe, and take the young chylde and his mother, and goe into the land of Iſrael: For they are dead, which ſought the young chyldes lyfe.

21 And he aroſe, and tooke the young child and his mother, and came into the land of Iſrael.

22 But when he heard that Archelaus did raigne in Iurie in the roome of his father Herode, he was afraide to goe thither: notwithſtanding, after he was warned of God in a dreame, he turned aſyde into the parties of Galilee:

23 And when he was come thyther, he dwelt in a citie, which is called Nazareth, that it might be fulfilled which was ſpoken by the prophets, He ſhalbe called a Nazarite.

¶ The. iii. Chapter.

1. Johns preaching, office, life, baptiſme, 7. reprehending of the Phariſees, 13. and baptiſing of Chriſte in Iordane.

IN thoſe dayes came || Johan the Baptiſt, preaching in the wyldernes of Iurie, ||Marke.1. Luke.3.3.

2 And ſaying, Repent a ye: for the kyngdome of heauen is at hande.

a This woord is, after a fa to be wiſe, a myude to amende.

3 For this is he that was ſpoken of by the prophet Eſaias, ſaying, || The voyce of one crying in the wilderneſſe, Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make ye his paths ſtraight. ||Eſai.40. Marke.1.

4 || This Johan had his rayment of Camels heare, and a letherne girdle about his loynes, his meate was locuſtes & wild hony. ||Marke.1

5 || Then went out to him Hieruſalem, and al Iurie, and al the region rounde about Jordane, ||Marke.1 Luke.3.7

6 And were baptiſed of him in Jordane, confeſſing their ſinnes.

7 But when he ſawe many of the Phariſees and Saducees come to his baptiſme, he ſayd vnto them, || O generation of vipers, who hath warned you to flee from the anger to come? ||Mat.13

8 Bring forth therefore fruites meete for repentance.

9 And be not of ſuche minde, that ye woulde ſay within your ſelues, || We haue Abraham to our father: For I ſay vnto you, that God is able of theſe ſtones to rayſe vp children vnto Abraham. ||Johan.8. Act.13.2

10 Euen nowe is the axe alſo put vnto the roote of the trees: || Therefore euery tree ||Math.7

which bringeth not forth good fruite, is hewen downe, and cast into the fyre.

11 ||I baptise you in water vnto repentance: but he that commeth after me, is mightier then I, whose shoes I am not worthye to beare, he shal baptise you with the holy ghost and with fyre.

12 ||Whose fanne is in his hande, and he wyl throughly purge the flooze, and gather his wheat into his garner: but wil burne vp the chaffe with vnquenchable fyre.

13 ||Then commeth Iesus frō Galilee to Iordane, vnto Iohn, to be baptised of him.

14 But Iohn forbade hym, saying, I haue neede to be baptised of thee, and commest thou to me?

15 Iesus answearing, sayde vnto him, Suffer it to be so nowe: for thus it becommeth vs to fulfyll all righteousnesse. Then he suffered hym.

16 And Iesus, when he was baptised, went vp straightway out of the water: and loe the heauens were opened vnto him, and Iohn sawe the spirite of God descending like a doue, and lighting vpon hym.

17 And loe there came a voyce from the heauens, saying, ||This is my deerely beloued sonne, ||in whom I am wel pleased.

¶ The. iiii. Chapter.

1. Christ fasteth, and is tempted. 18. He calleth Peter, Andrewe, Iames, and Iohn.

THen was Iesus ||led de vp of the spirite into wildernesse, to be tempted of the deuyl.

2 And when he had fasted fouretie dayes and fouretie nyghtes, he was afterward an hungred.

3 And when the tempter came to hym, he sayd, If thou be the sonne of GOD, commaunde that these stones be made bread.

4 But he answeared, and sayde, It is written, ||Man shall not lyue by bread only, but by euery word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God.

5 Then the deuyl taketh hym vp into the holy citie, and setteth hym on a pinacle of the temple,

6 And sayth vnto hym, If thou be the sonne of GOD, cast thee selfe downe: For it is written, ||that he shal geue his angelles charge ouer thee, and with theyr handes they shal lyft thee vp, lest at any tyme thou dashe thy foote against a stone.

7 Iesus saide vnto hym, It is written againe, ||Thou shalt not tempt þ lord thy god.

8 Agayne the deuyl taketh hym vp into an exceedyng high mountayne, and sheweth hym al the kyngdomes of the worlde, and the glory of them:

9 And sayth vnto him, All these thinges wil I geue thee, if thou wilt fal downe and worship me.

10 Then sayth Iesus vnto hym, Get thee hence behinde me Satan: for it is written, ||Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and hym only shalt thou serue. ||Deut. 6.13 and. 10. 20.

11 Then the deuyl leaueth hym, & behold, the angels came & ministred vnto him.

12 ||When Iesus had heard that Iohn was a deliuered vp, he departed into Galilee, ||Mat. 1.14. Luke. 4.14. Iohn. 4.43.

13 And when he had left Nazareth, he went and dwelt in Capernaum, whiche is a citie vpon the sea coast, in the borders of Zabulon and Nephthali. a. That is, cast in prison.

14 That it might be fulfilled, which was spoken by Esaias the prophet, saying,

15 ||The land of Zabulon, and the land of Nephthali, by the way of the sea beyonde Iordane, Galilee of the Gentiles. ||Esai. 9.1.

16 The people, which sate in darknesse, sawe great light: and to them which sate in the region and shadowe of death, light is sprong vp.

17 ||From that tyme Iesus began to preach, and to say, Repent: for the kingdome of heauen is at hande. ||Mark. 1.15

18 ||And Iesus walking by the sea of Galilee, sawe two brethren, Simon, which was called Peter, & Andrew his brother, casting a net into the sea (for they were fishers.) ||Mark. 1.16. The Gospel on S. Andrewes day.

19 And he saith vnto them, Folowe me and I wyl make you fyshers of men.

20 And they strayghtway left theyr nets, and folowed hym.

21 And when he was gone forth from thence, he sawe other two brethren, Iames the sonne of Zebedee, and Iohn his brother, in the ship with Zebedee theyr father, mending theyr nettes: and he called them.

22 And they immediately left the ship and theyr father, and folowed hym.

23 And Iesus went about al Galilee, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the Gospel of the kingdome, and healing all manner of sickenesse, and al manner of disease among the people.

24 And his fame spread abrode throughout al Syria: and they brought vnto hym al sicke people that were taken with diuers diseases, and grypinges, and them that were possessed with deuilles, and those which were lunatike, and those that had the paulsie, and he healed them.

25 And there folowed him great multitudes of people, from Galilee, b and from Decapolis, and from Hierusalem, and from Iurie, and from the regions that lye beyonde Iordane. b. A countrey conteyning ten cities.

¶ The.v. Chapter.

In this Chapter, & in the two next folowing, is contayned the moste excellent and louing sermon of Christ, in the mount, which sermon, is the very key, that openeth the understanding into the lawe. In this fyfth Chapter specially, 3. he preacheth of the eyght beatitudes, or blessinges. 21. of manslaughter. 22. wrath, and anger. 33. of swearing.

The Gospel on al saintes day.

WHen he sawe the multitude, he went vp into a mountayne: and when he was set, his disciples came vnto him.

2 And when he had opened his mouth, he taught them, saying,

||Luke. 6.20. 3 ||Blessed are the poore in spirite, for theyrs is the kyngdome of heauen.

||Esai. 61.2. 4 ||Blessed are they that mourne: for they shalbe comforted.

||Psal.38.11 5 ||Blessed are the meeke: for they shal inherite the earth.

||Esai. 65.9. 6 ||Blessed are they, which do hunger and thirst after righteousnesse: for they shalbe satisfied.

7 Blessed are the mercifull: for they shal obtayne mercy.

||Psal. 24.4. 8 ||Blessed are the pure in hart: for they shal see God.

9 Blessed are the peacemakers: for they shalbe called the children of God.

1.Pet.3.14 10 ||Blessed are they which haue ben persecuted for righteousnesse sake: for theirs is the kyngdome of heauen.

11 Blessed are ye, when men shal reuile you, & persecute you, & lying, shal say al manner of ||euyl saying against you, for my sake.

Pet.4.14. 12 Reioyce ye and be glad: for great is your rewarde in heauen. For so persecuted they the prophets which were before you.

||Mar.9.50 Luke.14.34. 13 ||Ye are the salt of the earth: But if the salt become vnsauerie, wherein shal it be salted? it is thencefoorth good for nothing, but to be cast out, & to be troden vnder foote of men.

14 Ye are the lyght of the worlde. A citie that is set on an hyl, can not be hyd.

||Mark. 4.21 Luke. 8.16. and 11.33. 15 ||Neyther do men lyght a candle, and put it vnder a bushell: but on a candlesticke, & it geueth light vnto al that are in the house.

||1.Pet.2.12 16 Let your light so shine before men, ||that they may see your good woorkes, and glorifie your father whiche is in heauen.

17 Thinke not that I am come to destroy the law or the prophets. I am not come to destroy, but to fulfyl.

||Luk. 17.10 18 For truely I say vnto you, ||Tyl heauen and earth passe, one iotte, or one title of the law shal not scape, til al be fulfylled.

||James.2.10 19 ||Whosoeuer therefore shall breake one of these least commaundements, and shal teache men so, he shalbe called the least in the kyngdome of heauen: but whosoeuer shal do and teach so, the same shalbe called great in the kyngdome of heauen.

20 For I say vnto you, ||Except your righteousnesse shal exceede the righteousnesse of the Scribes and Pharisees, ye shal in no case enter into the kyngdome of heauen. ||Luk.11.39 The Gospell on the. vi. sunday after Trinite.

21 Ye haue heard, that it was sayde to them of olde tyme, ||Thou shalt not kyll: whosoeuer killeth, shalbe in danger of iudgement. ||Exod.20.13 Deut.5.17.

22 But I say vnto you, that whosoeuer is angry with his brother vnadui sedly, shalbe in danger of iudgement: And whosoeuer shal say vnto his brother Racha, shalbe in danger of a counsayle: but whosoeuer shal say thou foole, shalbe in danger of hel fyre.

23 Therefore yf thou bring thy gyft to the aulter, and there remembrest that thy brother hath ought agaynst thee:

24 Leaue there thy gyft before the aulter, and goe thy way, first be reconciled to thy brother, and then come and offer thy gyft.

25 ||Agree with thine aduersary quickely, whiles thou art in the way with him: lest at any tyme the aduersary delyuer thee to the iudge, and the iudge delyuer thee to the minister, and then thou be cast into pryson. ||Luk.12.

26 Verely I say vnto thee, thou shalt by no meanes come out thence, til thou hast paid the vttermost farthing.

27 Ye haue heard that it was sayde vnto them of olde time, ||Thou shalt not commit adulterie. ||Exod.20.

28 But I say vnto you, that whosoeuer loketh on a woman to lust after her, hath committed adultery with her alredy in his hart.

29 ||If thy right eye offend thee, plucke it out, and cast it from thee: For it is profitable for thee that one of thy members shoulde perishe, and not that thy whole body shoulde be cast into hell. ||Math.18. Marke.9.4

30 And if thy right hande offende thee, cut it of, and cast it from thee: For it is profitable for thee that one of thy members shoulde perishe, and not that al thy bodye shoulde be cast into hel.

31 It hath ben sayde, ||Whosoeuer will put away his wife, let him geue her a writyng of denorcement. ||Deut.24. Math.19.7 Marke.10 Luke.16.1 1.Cor.7.10

32 But I say vnto you, That whosoeuer doth put away his wife, except it be for fornication, causeth her to commit adultery: and whosoeuer marieth her that is denorced, committeth adultery.

33 Agayne ye haue heard that it hath ben sayde vnto them of olde tyme, ||Thou shalt not forsweare thy selfe, but shalt perfourme ||Exod.20. Leuit.19. Deut.5.11 ture vnto the Lorde thyne othes.

34 But I say vnto you, Sweare not at all, neither by heauen, for it is Gods seate, 35 Nor by the earth, for it is his foote-stole: neyther by Hierusalem, for it is the citie of the great king.

36 Neyther shalt thou sweare by thy head, because thou canst not make one heare white or blacke.

Leui.5.12 37 || But let your communication be yea, yea: nay, nay: For what so euer is more then these, commeth of euyl.

Exod.21.24 Leuit.24.20 Deut.19.21. 38 Ye haue heard that it hath ben said, || An eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth.

Luke.6.29. 1.Cor.12.17 1.Pet.3.9. 39 But I say vnto you, || that ye resist not euil: but whosoeuer wil geue thee a blow on thy right cheeke, turne to him the other also.

40 And if any man wyll sue thee at the lawe, and take away thy coate, let him haue thy cloke also.

41 And who so euer wil compel thee to goe a mile, goe with him twayne.

Deut.15.8. 42 || Geue to him that asketh thee: and from him that would borowe of thee, turne not thou away.

Leui.19.18 43 Ye haue heard that it hath ben said, || Thou shalt loue thy neighbour, and hate thine enimie:

Luk.6.27 44 But I say vnto you, || Loue your enimies, blesse them that curse you, doo good to them that hate you, || pray for them which hurt you, and persecute you:

Luk.23.34. Act.7.60. 1.Pet.4.13. Luk.6.32 45 || That ye may be the children of your father which is in heauen: for he maketh his sunne to ryse on the euil and on the good, and sendeth raine on the iust and on the vniust.

46 For if ye loue them which loue you, what reward haue ye? Doo not the Publicanes euen the same?

47 And if ye "salute your brethren onely, what singuler thing doo ye? Doo not also the Publicanes likewise?

48 Ye shal therefore be perfect, euen as your father which is in heauen is perfect.

¶ The.vi. Chapter.

1. Of almes. 5. prayer. 16. of fastyng. 19. He forbiddeth the carefull seeking of vvorldly thinges.

TAke heede that ye do not your almes before men, to the intent that ye would be seene of them, or els ye haue no rewarde of your father, which is in heauen.

Rom.12.8 2 Therefore, || when thou doest thine almes, doo not blowe a trumpet before thee, as hypocrites doo, in the synagogues, and in the streetes, that they might be esteemed of men. Verely I saye vnto you, they haue their rewarde.

3 But when thou doest almes, let not thy leaft hande knowe, what thy ryght hand doeth:

4 That thyne almes may be in secrete: And thy father which seeth in secrete, him selfe shal rewarde thee openly.

5 And when thou prayest, thou shalt not be as the hypocrites are: for they loue to pray standyng in the synagogues, and in the corners of the streetes, that they may be seene of men. Verely I say vnto you, they haue their reward.

6 But when thou prayest, enter into thy closet, and when thou hast shut thy doore, pray to thy father whiche is in secrete, and thy father whiche seeth in secrete, shal reward thee openly.

7 But when ye pray, babble not much, as the heathen doo. For they thinke that they shalbe heard, for their much babblings sake.

8 Be not ye therefore like vnto them: For your father knoweth, what thinges ye haue neede of, before ye aske of him.

9 After this manner therefore pray ye: || O our father which art in heauen, halowed be thy name. ||Luke.11.2.

10 Let thy kingdome come. Thy wyl be done, as wel in earth, as it is in heauen.

11 Geue vs this day our dayly bread.

12 And forgeue vs our debtes, as we forgeue our debters.

13 And leade vs not into temptation, || but deliuer vs from euil: for thine is the kingdome, and the power, and the glory, for euer, Amen. ||Mat.13.19

14 For, || yf ye forgeue men their trespasses, your heauenly father shal also forgeue you. ||Mar.11.25. Eccle. 28.2.

15 But, if ye forgeue not men their trespasses: no more shal your father forgeue you your trespasses.

16 Moreouer, when ye fast, be not of an heauy countenance, as the hypocrites are: for they disfygure their faces, that they might appeare vnto men to fast: Verely I say vnto you, they haue their reward.

17 But thou, when thou fastest, annoint thyne head, and washe thy face: The Gospel on the fyrst sunday in Lent.

18 That thou appeare not vnto men to fast, but vnto thy father which is in secrete: and thy father which seeth in secrete, shal reward thee openly.

19 || Heape not vp for your selues treasures vpon earth, where moth and ruste doth corrupt, and where theeues breake through, and steale. ||Luk.12.33. 1.Tim.6.19.

20 || But lay vp for you treasures in heauen, where neither moth nor ruste doth corrupt, and where theeues doo not breake through, nor steale. ||Luk.12.34

21 For where your treasure is, there will your hart be also.

‖ Luk.11.34 22 ‖ The candle of the body is the eye: wherefore yf thyne eye be single, al thy body shalbe ful of light.

23 But yf thyne eye be wicked, all thy body shal be ful of darknesse. Wherefore, if the light that is in thee be darknesse, howe great is that darknesse?

‖ Luk.16.13 The Gospel on the.xv.Sunday after Trinitie. a. In the Syrians tongne it signifieth money and lucre.

24 ‖ No man can serue two maisters: for eyther he shall hate the one and loue the other, or els he shall leane to the one and despise the other. Ye can not serue God, and a Mammon.

‖ Luk.12.22 Psa.55.23. 1.Pet.5.7.

25 ‖ Therefore I say vnto you, Be not careful for your lyfe, what ye shall eate or drinke, nor yet for your body what ye shal put on: Is not the lyfe more worth then meat: and the body then rayment?

26 Beholde the foules of the ayre: for they sowe not, neither doo they reape, nor cary into barnes, yet your heauenly father feedeth them. Are ye not muche better then they?

27 Which of you by taking of careful thought, can adde one cubite vnto his stature?

Lilies. 28 And why care ye for rayment? Learne of the Lilies of the fielde, howe they growe: they weery not themselues with labour, neither doo they spinne.

29 And yet I say vnto you, that euen Solomon in al his royaltie, was not arayed like one of these.

30 Wherefore, yf God so cloth the grasse of the fielde, which though it stande to day, is to morowe cast into the Ouen: shal he not much more doo the same for you, O ye of litle fayth?

31 Therefore take no thought, saying, What shal we eate? or, what shal we drinke? or, wherewith shal we be clothed?

32 (For after all these thinges doo the Gentiles seeke:) for your heauenly father knoweth that ye haue need of al these things.

33 But seeke ye fyrst the kingdome of God, and his righteousnesse, and all these thinges shalbe added vnto you.

34 Care not then for the morowe: for the morowe shal care for it selfe: b Sufficient vnto the day, is the euyl thereof.

b. That is, the present daye hath yenough of his owne greefe or affliction.

¶ The.vii. Chapter.

1. He forbiddeth foolishe and rashe iudgement,
5. He reproueth hypocrysie.

‖ Luke.6.37 Rom.2.1. 1.Cor.4.3. ‖ Mark.25.4 Luke.6.38.

I Udge ye ‖ not, that ye be not iudged.

2 For with what iudgement ye iudge, ye shalbe iudged: ‖ & with what measure ye meate, it shalbe measured to you agayne.

3 ‖ Why seest thou the mote that is in thy brothers eye, but perceiuest not the beame that is in thine owne eye?

‖ Luke.6.41 4 ‖ Or howe wilt thou say to thy brother, Suffer me, I wyl cast out a mote out of thine eye: and beholde, the beame is in thine owne eye?

5 Thou hypocrite, first cast out the beame out of thine owne eye: and then shalt thou see clearely to cast out the mote that is in thy brothers eye.

6 Geue not that which is holy vnto the dogges, neither cast ye your pearles before the swine: least they treade them vnder their feete, and turning againe, al to rent you.

‖ Mat.21.22 Mark.11.24 Luke.11.9. Iohn.16.24 Iames.1.6 7 ‖ Aske ye, and it shalbe geuen you: seeke, and ye shall fynd: knocke, and it shalbe opened vnto you.

8 For euery one that asketh, receiueth: and he that seeketh, fyndeth: and to him that knocketh, it shalbe opened.

9 What man is there of you, if his sonne aske bread, wil he geue him a stone?

10 Or yf he aske fishe, wyl he geue him a serpent?

11 If ye then beyng euyl, know to geue your children good gyftes: howe much more wyll your father whiche is in heauen, geue good thinges to them that aske him?

‖ Luke.6.31 Tobi.4.16. 12 Therefore al thinges ‖ what so euer ye woulde that men should doo to you, doo ye euen so to them: For this is the lawe and the prophetes.

‖ Luke.13.24 13 ‖ Enter ye in at the straite gate, for wide is the gate, and brode is the way that leadeth to destruction, and many there be which goe in thereat.

The Gospel on the Ix Sunday after Trinitie. 14 Because straite is the gate, and narowe is the way which leadeth vnto lyfe, and fewe there be that fynde it.

15 Beware of the false prophets which come to you in sheeps clothing, but inwardly they are rauening woolfes.

‖ Luke.6.43 16 Ye shal know them by their fruites: ‖ Doo men geather grapes of thornes? or, figges of thistles?

17 Euen so, euery good tree, bringeth foorth good fruite: but a corrupt tree, bryngeth foorth euil fruite.

18 A good tree can not bryng foorth bad fruite, neither can a bad tree bryng foorth good fruite.

‖ Math.3.10 19 ‖ Euery tree that bringeth not forth good fruite, is hewen downe, and cast into the fyre.

20 Wherefore, by their fruites ye shal knowe them.

‖ Rom.2.13 Iam.1.22. 21 Not euery one that sayth vnto me, ‖ Lord, Lord, shal enter into the kingdome of heauen: but he that dooth the wyl of my father which is in heauen.

22 Many will say to me in that day, Lord, Lorde, haue we not prophesied through thy name? and through thy name haue cast out deuils? and done many great works through thy name?

Luk.13.26 Phil.6.9. 23 ||And then will I confesse vnto them, That I neuer knewe you: ||Depart from me all ye that worke iniquitie.

Luk.6.47. 24 ||Therefore, whosoeuer heareth of me these sayinges, and doeth them, I will liken him vnto a wise man, which hath built his house vpon a rocke:

25 And the raine descended, and the floods came, and the windes blewe, and beat vpon that house, and it fell not, because it was grounded on a rocke.

26 And euery one that heareth of me these sayings, and doeth them not, shalbe likened vnto a foolishe man, which hath built his house vpon the sande:

27 And the raine descended, & the floods came, & the windes blew, and beat vpon that house, and it fell, and great was the fall of it.

Mark.1.12 Luk.4.32. 28 ||And it came to passe, when Iesus had ended these sayinges, the people were astonied at his doctrine.

29 For he taught them as one hauing power, and not as the Scribes.

The. viii. Chapter.

Christ cleanseth the leper. 24. stilleth the sea and the wynde. 28. and driueth the deuyls out of the possessed into the swyne.

WHen he was come downe from the mountaine, great multitudes followed him.

2 ||And beholde, there came a leper, and worshipped him, saying, Lorde, if thou wylt, thou canst make me cleane.

3 And Iesus, when he had put forth his hand, touched him, saying, I will, be thou cleane. And immediatly his leprosie was cleansed.

4 And Iesus sayth vnto him, See thou tell no man, but goe, shewe thy selfe to the priest, and offer the gyft that ||Moses commaunded, for a witnesse vnto them.

Matt.14.4. Luk.7.1. 5 ||And when Iesus was entred into Capernaum, there came vnto him a Centurion, beseeching him,

6 And saying, Lord, my seruant lyeth at home sicke of the palsie, grieuously pained.

7 And Iesus sayth to him, I will come, I will heale him.

8 The Centurion answered, and said, Lorde, I am not worthy that thou shouldest come vnder my roofe: but speake the woorde onely, and my seruant shalbe healed.

9 For I also my selfe am a man set vnder authoritie, hauing souldiers vnder me, and I say to this man, Goe, and he goeth: and to another, Come, and he commeth: and to my seruant, Doo this, and he doeth it.

10 When Iesus heard these things he maruayled, and sayde to them that followed, Verily I say vnto you, I haue not founde so great fayth, no not in Israel.

11 I say vnto you, that many shal come from the East and West, and shal rest with Abraham, and Isaac, and Iacob, in the kyngdome of heauen:

12 ||But the children of the kingdome shalbe cast out into vtter darkenesse: there shalbe weeping and gnashyng of teeth. ||Mat.22.13

13 And Iesus sayd vnto the Centurion, Goe thy way: and as thou hast beleeued, so be it done vnto thee. And his seruant was healed in the selfe same houre.

14 ||And when Iesus was come into Peters house, he saw his wiues mother layd, and sicke of a feuer: ||Mark.1.29 Luk.4.38.

15 And he touched her hand, & the feuer left her: and she arose, & ministred vnto them.

18 ||When Iesus sawe great multitudes about him, he commaunded "them to depart vnto the other side. ||Luk.9.37. "or, his disciples

19 And a certayne Scribe came, and sayde vnto him, Maister, I wyl followe thee whyther so euer thou goest.

20 And Iesus saith vnto him, The foxes haue holes, and the byrds of the ayre haue nestes: but the sonne of man hath not where to rest his head.

21 And another of his disciples sayde vnto him, Lorde, suffer me first to goe, and bury my father.

22 But Iesus sayde vnto him, Followe me, and let the dead bury their dead.

23 ||And when he entred into a ship, his disciples followed him. The Gospel on the iiij Sunday after the Epiphanie.

24 And beholde, there arose a great tempest in the sea, in so muche that the ship was couered with the waues: but he was a sleepe. ||Mark.4.35 Luk.8.22.

25 And his disciples came to him, and awoke him, saying, Lorde saue vs we perish.

26 And he saith vnto them, Why are ye fearefull O ye of litle faith? Then he arose, and rebuked the windes and the sea, and there followed a great calme.

27 But the men maruayled, saying, What maner of man is this, that both the hymnes and the lea obey him?

28 ||And when he was come to the other syde, into the countrey of the Gergesenes, there met him two possessed with deuyles, comming out of the graues, very fierce, so that no man myght passe by that way. ||Mark.5.1. Luk.8.26.

29 And beholde, they cryed out, saying, O Jesu, thou sonne of God, what haue we to doo with thee? Art thou come hyther to torment vs before the tyme?

30 And there was a good way of from them, an hearde of many swyne, feeding.

31 So the deuyls besought him, saying, If thou cast vs out, suffer vs to goe away into the hearde of the swyne.

32 And he sayd vnto them, Goe. Then went they out, and departed into the heard of the swyne: and beholde, the whole heard of the swyne rushed hedlong into the sea, and perished in the waters.

33 Then they that kept them, fled, and went their wayes into the citie, & tolde euery thyng, and what was done of the possessed with the deuyls.

34 And beholde the whole citie came out to meete Jesus: and when they sawe hym, they besought hym that he would departe out of their coastes.

3 And beholde, certayne of the Scribes sayde within them selues, This man blasphemeth.

4 And when Jesus sawe their thoughts, he sayde, Wherefore thinke ye euil in your hartes.

5 Whether is easier to say, Thy synnes be forgeuen thee: or to say, Arise, and walke?

6 But that ye may know that the sonne of man hath power to forgeue sinnes in earth (Then sayde he to the sicke of the palsie) Aryse, take vp thy bed, and goe vnto thyne house.

7 And he arose, and departed to his house.

8 But when the multitudes sawe it, they marueyled, and glorified God, which had geuen such power vnto men.

9 ||And as Jesus passed forth from thence, he sawe a man named Matthewe, sitting at the receipte of custome: and he sayth vnto him, Folowe me. And he arose, and folowed hym. The Gospel of Saint Matthewes day. ||Mark.2.14. Luk.5.27.

10 And it came to passe, as Jesus sate at meate in his house, beholde, many publicanes also and sinners came, and sate downe with Jesus and his disciples.

11 And when the Pharisees sawe it, they saide vnto his disciples, Why eateth your maister with publicanes and sinners? Publicanes eate with Jesus.

12 But when Jesus heard that, he saide vnto them, They that be whole, neede not a Physition, but they that are sicke.

Christ preacheth. 2. Iohn Baptist sendeth his disciples vnto Christ to be instructed concerning him.

AND it came to passe, that when Iesus had made an ende of commaunding his twelue disciples, he departed thence to teache, and to preache in their cities.

The Gospel on the thyrd Sunday in Aduent ‖ Luke.7.18. 2 ‖ When Iohn had heard in the pry-soll the workes of Christ, he sent two of his disciples,

3 And sayde vnto him, Art thou he that shalde comes? Or doo we looke for another?

4 Iesus answeared, and sayd vnto them,
Goe, and shewe Iohn agayne thole thynges which ye doo heare and see:

5 The blynde receyue their syght, the halt doo walke, the lepers are cleansed, and the deafe heare, the dead are rayled vp, & the poore haue the Gospel preached to them:

6 And happy is he who so euer shall not be offended in me.

7 And as they departed, Iesus beganne to say vnto the multitude concernyng Iohn, What went ye out into the wyldernesse to see? A reede shaken with the wynde?

8 Or what went ye out for to see? A man clothed in soft rayment? Beholde, they that weare soft clothyng are in kynges houses.

9 But what went ye out for to see? A prophete? yea I say vnto you, and more then a prophete.

10 For this is he of whom it is written,

11 Verily I say vnto you, Among them that are borne of women, there hath not ryse a greater then Iohn the Baptist: notwithstanding, he that is lesse in the kyngdome of heauen, is greater then he.

16 But whereunto shal I liken this generation? It is like vnto litle childre, sytting in the markets, & calling vnto their felowes,

17 And

17 And saying, We haue piped vnto you, and ye haue not daunced: we haue a mourned vnto you, and ye haue not sorowed.

18 For Iohn came neyther eatyng nor drinking, and they say, He hath a deuil.

19 The sonne of man came eating and drinking, and they say, Beholde a man gluttonous, and a wyne bybber, and a freende vnto publicanes and sinners: and wisedome was iustified of her children.

Luk.10.13 20 ||Then began he to vpbrayde the cities, wherein most of his mightie woorkes were done, because they repented not.

21 Woe vnto thee Chorazin, woe vnto thee Bethsaida: for if the mightie woorkes which were done in you, had been done in Tyre and Sidon, they would haue repented long agoe in sackcloth and ashes.

22 But I say vnto you, It shalbe easier for Tyre and Sidon at the day of iudgement then for you.

23 And thou Capernaum which hast been lifted vp into heauen, shalt be brought downe to hel: For if the mightie works which haue ben done in thee, had been done among them of Sodome, they would haue remayned vntyl this day.

24 But I say vnto you, that it shalbe easyer for the lande of Sodome in the day of iudgement, then for thee.

3 And he ſpake many thinges to them in parables, ſaying, Behold, the ſower went foorth to ſowe.

4 And when he ſowed, ſome ſeedes fell by the wayes ſide: and the foules came, and deuoured them vp.

5 Some

5 Some fell vppon stony places, where they had not muche earth: and anone they sprong vp, because they had no deepenesse of earth.

6 And when the Sunne was vp, they caught heate: & because they had not roote, they wythered away.

7 Agayne, some fel among thornes: and the thornes sprong vp, and choked them.

8 But some fel into good ground: and brought forth fruite, some an hundred fold, some syrtie folde, some thyrtie folde.

9 Who hath eares to heare, let him heare.

10 And the disciples came, and sayd vnto him, Why speakest thou vnto them by parables?

11 He answeared, and sayde vnto them, Because it is geuen vnto you to knowe the secretes of the kyngdome of heauen, but to them it is not geuen.

Mat.25.29 12 ||For who so euer hath, to him shalbe geuen, and he shal haue more abundance: but who so euer hath not, from him shalbe taken away, euen that he hath.

13 Therfore speake I to them in parables: because they seeyng, see not: & hearing, they heare not, neyther doo they vnderstand.

16 Blessed are your eyes, for they see: and your eares, for they heare.

Luk.10.24 17 Verely I say vnto you, ||that many prophetes and ryghteous men haue desyred to see those thynges whiche ye see, and haue not seene: and to heare those thynges which ye heare, and haue not heard.

19 When one heareth the woorde of the kyngdome, & vnderstandeth it not, then commeth that euyl, & catcheth away that which was sowen in his hart: this is he whiche receyued seede by the way syde.

20 But he that receyued the seede into stony places, the same is he that heareth the woorde, and anone with ioy receyueth it:

21 Yet hath he not roote in him selfe, but dureth for a season: for when tribulation or persecution aryseth because of the woorde, by and by he is offended.

23 But he that receyued seede into the good grounde, is he that heareth the woorde, and vnderstandeth it, whiche also beareth fruite: and bringeth forth, some an hundred folde, some syrtie folde, some thyrtie folde.

24 Another parable put he forth vnto them, saying, ||The kyngdome of heauen is lykened vnto a man, whiche sowed good seede in his feelde. The Gospel on the.v. Sonday after the Epiphanie.

27 So, the seruantes of the housholder came, and sayde vnto him, Syr, diddest not thou sowe good seede in thy feelde, from whence then hath it tares?

28 He sayde vnto them, The malicious man hath doone this. The seruauntes sayde vnto him, Wylt thou then that we goe, and geather them vp?

29 But he sayde, Nay: lest whyle ye geather vp the tares, ye roote vp also the wheate with them.

30 Let both growe togeather vntyl the harueste: and in tyme of harueste, I wyll say to the reapers, Geather ye togeather fyrste the tares, and bynde them in bundelles to burne them: but carry the wheate into my barne.

31 Another parable put he forth vnto them, saying, ||The kyngdome of heauen is lyke to a grayne of mustarde seede, whiche a man tooke, and sowed in his feelde. ||Math.4.30 Luke.13.18

32 Whiche in deede is the least of all seedes: But when it is growen, it is the greatest among herbes, and is a tree: so that the byrdes of the ayre come & make their neastes in the branches thereof.

33 ||Another parable spake he vnto thē, saying, The kyngdome of heauen is like vnto leauen, whiche a woman tooke, and hydde in three peckes of meale, tyl al were leauened. ||Luk.13.20

34 ||Al these thynges spake Iesus vnto the people in parables, & without a parable spake he not vnto them: ||Mark.4.33

35 That it myght be fulfylled whiche was spoken by the prophete, saying, ||I wyl open my mouth in parables, I wyll speake forth thynges which haue been kept secrete from the fundation of the worlde. ||Psal.68.2

38 The feelde, is the woꝛld. The good ſeede, theſe are the chyldꝛē of the kingdome. But the tares, are the chyldꝛē of the wicked.

39 And the enimie that ſowed them, is the deuyl. ‖ The harueſt, is the ende of the woꝛlde. The reapers, be the angelles. ‖ Apoc. 14. 15 Joel. 3. 13.

44 Agayne, the kyngdome of heauen is like vnto treaſure hid in the feeld: the which, when a man hath founde, hydeth, and foꝛ ioy thereof goeth and ſelleth al that he hath, and bupeth that feelde.

45 Agayne, the kyngdome of heauen is lyke vnto a Marchant man, ſeekyng goodly pearles:

48 Which, when it was full, the Fyſhers dꝛue to lande, and ſate downe, and geathered the good into veſſels, but caſt the bad away.

49 So ſhal it be at the end of the woꝛld: the angelles ſhall come foꝛth, and ſeuer the bad from among the iuſt, 50 And ſhall caſt them into a furnace of fyꝛe: there ſhalbe waylyng and gnaſhyng of teeth.

51 Jeſus ſayth vnto them, Haue ye vnderſtande all theſe thynges? They ſay vnto him, Yea Loꝛde.

52 Then ſayde he vnto them, Therfoꝛe euery Scribe whiche is taught in the kyngdome of heauen, is lyke vnto a man that is an houſholder, which bꝛyngeth foꝛth out of his treaſure thynges newe and olde.

53 And it came to paſſe, that when Jeſus had finiſhed theſe parables, he departed thence.

55 ‖ Is not this the Carpenters ſonne? Is not his mother called Marie? & his bꝛethꝛen, James, & Joſes, and Simon, & Judas? ‖ John. 6. 42.

56 And are not all his ſyſters with vs? whence hath he then all theſe thynges?

57 And they were offended in him. But Jeſus ſayde vnto them, ‖ A pꝛophete is not without honour, ſaue in his owne countrey, and in his owne houſe. ‖ Mark. 6. 4. Luke. 4. 24. John. 4. 44.

16 But

16 But Iesus sayde vnto them, They haue no neede to goe away: geue you them to eate.

17 They say vnto him, We haue not here but fiue loaues and two fishes.

18 He sayde, Bring them hither to me.

19 And when he had commaunded the people to sit downe on the grasse, and had taken the fiue loaues, and the two fishes, and lifted vp his eyes toward heauen, he blessed: and when he had broken them he gaue the loaues to his disciples: and his disciples to the people.

20 And they did all eate, and were sufficed: And they tooke vp (of the fragments that remayned) twelue baskets ful.

21 And they that had eaten, were about fiue thousand men, beside women & children.

26 And when the disciples sawe hym walking on the sea, they were troubled, saying, That it is a spirite: and they cryed out for feare.

27 But straightway Iesus spake vnto them, saying, Be of good cheare: it is I, be not afrayde.

28 Peter answered him, and said, Lord, if it be thou, bydde me come vnto thee on the water.

29 And he sayde, Come. And when Peter was come downe out of the ship, he walked on the water, to goe to Iesus.

30 But when he sawe a mightie wind, he was afraide: and when he began to sinke, he cryed, saying, Lorde saue me.

31 And immediatly Iesus, when he had stretched foorth his hande, caught hym, and sayd vnto hym, O thou of litle fayth, wherefore diddest thou doubt?

32 And when they were come into the ship, the winde ceassed.

33 Then they that were in the ship, came & worshipped him, saying, Of a trueth thou art the sonne of God.

34 || And when they were gone ouer, they came into the lande of Genezaret.

35 And when the men of that place had knowledge of him, they sent out into all that countrey round about, and brought vnto him al that were sicke, Christ excuseth his disciples, and rebuketh the Scribes and Pharises.

THen || came to Iesus Scribes and Pharisees, which were come from Hierusalem, saying, || Mark. 7. 1.

2 Why do thy disciples transgresse the tradition of the elders? for they washe not their handes when they eate bread.

3 But he answered, and sayde vnto them, Why do you also transgresse the commaundement of God by your tradition?

4 For God commaunded, saying, || Honour thy father & thy mother: And he that curseth || father or mother, let him die the death. || Exod. 20. 12. Deut. 5. 16. || Exod. 21. 17.

5 But ye say, Whosoeuer shal say to his father or his mother, By the gift that is offred of me, thou shalt be helped: Leuit. 20. 9. Pro. 20. 20.

6 And so shal he not honour his father or his mother. And thus haue ye made the commaundement of God of none effect by your tradition.

7 Ye hypocrites, ful wel did Esaias prophesie of you, saying,

8 || This people draweth nygh vnto me with their mouth, & honoureth me with their lyps: howbeit their hart is farre from me. || Esai. 29. 13.

11 That which goeth into the mouth, defileth not the man: but that which commeth out of the mouth, defileth the man.

12 Then came his disciples, & sayd vnto him, Knowest thou not that the Pharisees were offended after they heard this saying?

13 But he answeared, and sayd, || Al manner planting which my heauenly father hath not planted, shalbe rooted vp. || Iohn. 15. 8.

14 Let them alone: || they be blinde leaders of the blinde. If the blinde leade the blinde, both shal fal into the diche. || Luke. 6. 39.

15 || Then answeared Peter, and sayde vnto hym, Declare vnto vs this parable. || Mark. 7. 17.

16 Iesus sayde, Are ye also yet without vnderstanding?

17 Do not ye yet vnderstand, that whatsoeuer entreth in at the mouth, goeth into the belly, and is cast out into the draught?

18 But those thinges which proceede out of the mouth, come foorth from the hart, and they defile the man.

|| Gene. 6. 5.

19 || For out of the hart proceede euyll thoughts, murders, adulteries, whoredomes, thefte, falſe witneſſe, blaſphemies.

20 Theſe are the thynges which defile a man: But to eate with vnwaſhen handes, defileth not a man.

23 But he anſwered not a worde. And his diſciples came, & beſought him, ſaying, Sende her away, for ſhe cryeth after vs.

24 But he anſwered, and ſaid, I am not ſent || but vnto the loſt ſheepe of the houſe Iſrael.

25 Then came ſhe, and worſhipped him, ſaying, Lorde helpe me.

26 But he anſwered, and ſaid, It is not meete to take the childrens breed, and to caſt it to litle dogges.

27 And ſhe ſayd, Yes Lorde: for the litle dogges alſo eate of the crummes whiche fal from their maiſters table.

28 Then Jeſus anſwered, and ſaid vnto her, O woman, great is thy fayth: be it done vnto thee euen as thou wylt. And her daughter was made whole euen from that ſame houre.

|| Math. 7. 31.

29 || And Jeſus, when he was departed from thence, came nigh vnto the ſea of Galilee, and when he was gone vp into a mountayne, he ſate downe there.

|| Eſai. 35. 5.

30 || Then great multitudes came vnto him, hauing with them thoſe that were lame, blinde, dumbe, maimed, and other many, and caſt them downe at Jeſus feete, and he healed them:

31 Inſomuch that the people wondred, whē they ſaw the dumbe ſpeake, the maimed to be whole, the lame to walke, and the blind to ſee: and they glorified the God of Iſrael.

|| Mark. 8. 1.

32 || Then Jeſus called his diſciples vnto him, and ſaid, I haue compaſſion on the people, becauſe they continue with me nowe three dayes, and haue nothing to eate: and I wil not let them depart faſting, leſt they faint in the way.

33 And his diſciples ſay vnto him, Whēce ſhoulde vve geat ſo muche breed in the wyldernes, as to ſuffiſe ſo great a multitude?

34 And Jeſus ſayth vnto them, Howe many loaues haue ye? And they ſaid, Seuen, and a fewe litle fiſhes.

36 And when he had taken the ſeuen loaues and the fiſhes, and had geuen thanke, he brake them, and gaue to his diſciples: and the diſciples gaue them to the people.

37 And they did al eate, and were ſuffiſed: and they tooke vp of the broken meate that was left, ſeuen baſkets ful.

38 And yet they that did eate, were foure thouſand men, beſide women and chyldren.

39 And when he had ſent away the people, he tooke ſhyp, and came into the parties of Magdala.

5 And when his diſciples were come to the other ſide of the water, they had forgotten to take breed vvith them.

6 Then Jeſus ſayde vnto them, Take heede and beware of the leauen of the Phariſees, and of the Saducees.

7 And they thought in them ſelues, ſaying, For we haue taken no breed vvith vs.

8 VVhich when Jeſus vnderſtoode, he ſayde vnto them, O ye of litle fayth, why thynke you within your ſelues, becauſe ye haue brought no breed?

9 || Do ye not yet perceiue, neyther remember thoſe fiue loaues of the fiue thouſande, and howe many baſkets tooke ye vp? || Mat. 1

11 Howe is it that ye do not vnderſtand that I ſpeake it not vnto you concernyng breed, that ye ſhould beware of the leauen of the Phariſees, and of the Saducees?

12 Then vnderſtoode they how that he bade not them beware of the leauen of the breed: but of the doctrine of the Phariſees and of the Saducees.

20 Then charged he his disciples that they shoulde tel no man that he was Iesus sus to shewe vnto his disciples, howe that he side, he began to rebuke him, sayeing, Lorde, fauour thee selfe, this shal not be vnto thee.

23 But he turned him about, and sayde vnto Peter, Goe after me Satan, thou art an offence vnto me: for thou sauerest not the 24 And when they were come to Capernaum, they that receyued tribute money, came to Peter, and sayde, Dooth not your maister pay tribute?

25 He sayth, Yes. And when he was come into the house, Iesus preuented him, sayeing, What thinkest thou Simon: of whom doo the kinges of the earth take tribute or tolle? of their owne chyldren, or of the strangers?

22 Iesus saith vnto him, I say not vnto thee, vntyl seuen times: but vntil seuentie times seuen.

23 There-

23 Therefore is the kyngdome of heauen likened vnto a certayne man that was a kyng, which would take accompt of his seruantes.

24 And when he had begun to reckon, one was brought vnto him which ought him ten thousand talentes.

25 But forasmuche as he had not to pay, his lorde commaunded hym to be sold, and his wyfe, and children, and al that he had, and payment to be made.

26 The seruant therefore fel downe, and besought him, saying, Lorde, haue patience with me, and I wyl pay thee all.

27 Then the Lorde of that seruant, moued with pitie, loosed hym, and forgaue hym the debt.

28 But the same seruant went out, and founde one of his felowes which ought hym an hundred pence: and when he had laid handes on him, he tooke hym by the throte, saying, Pay me that thou owest.

29 And his felowe fell downe at his feete, and besought hym, saying, Haue patience with me, and I wyl pay thee al.

30 And he would not: but went and cast him into prison, til he should pay ꝑ debt.

31 So when his felowes sawe what was done, they were very sory: and came, and tolde vnto their Lorde al that was done.

32 Then his lorde, after that he had called hym, sayde vnto hym, O thou vngratious seruant, I forgaue thee al that debt when thou desiredst me:

33 Shouldest not thou also haue had compassion on thy felowe, euen as I had pitie on thee?

34 And his lorde was wroth, and deliuered him to the tormentours, til he should pay al that was due vnto hym.

35 So likewise shal my heauenly father do also vnto you, if ye frō your hartes forgeue not euery one his brother their trespasses.

¶ The. xx. Chapter.

1. Christe teacheth by a similitude, that God is better vnto no man. 20. He teacheth his disciples to be lowly, 30. and geueth two blynde men their sight.

The Gospel on Septuagesima Sunday.

FOr the kyngdome of heauen is lyke vnto a man that is an housholder, which went out early in the morning to hyre labourers into his vineyarde.

2 And when he had agreed with the labourers for a penye a day, he sent them into his vineyarde.

3 And when he went out about the third houre, he saw other standing idle in the market place,

4 And sayde vnto them, Goe ye also into the vineyard, and whatsoeuer is ryght, I wil geue you. And they went their way.

5 Agayne, when he went out about the sixth and nienth houre, he did likewise.

6 And about the eleuenth houre, when he went out, he founde other standyng idle, and sayth vnto them, Why stande ye here al the day idle?

7 They say vnto him, Because no man hath hyred vs. He sayth vnto them, Goe ye also into the vineyarde: and what soeuer is ryght, that shal ye receiue.

8 So when euen was come, the Lord of the vineyarde sayth vnto his steward, Call the labourers, and geue them their hyre, beginning from the last, vnto the first.

9 And when they came that were hyred about the eleuenth houre, they receiued euery man a peny.

10 But when the first came also, they supposed that they should haue receiued more: and they likewise receiued euery man a peny.

11 And when they had receiued it, they murmured against the good man of ỳ house, 12 Saying, these last haue wrought but one houre, and thou hast made them equall vnto vs, whiche haue borne the burden and feruent heate of the day.

13 But he answeared to one of them, and saide, Freende, I do thee no wrong: diddest thou not agree with me for a peny?

14 Take that thine is, and go thy way: I wil geue vnto this last, euen as vnto thee.

15 Is it not lawfull for me to do that I wil with mine owne? Is thine eye euil, because I am good?

23 He sayth vnto them, Ye shall drynke in deede of my cup, and be baptised with the baptisme that I am baptised with: But to sit on my ryght hande, and on my leaft, is not myne to geue, but to them for whom it is prepared of my father.

32 And Jesus stoode still, and called them, and sayd, What wyl ye that I shal doo vnto you?

33 They say vnto him, Lorde, that our eyes may be opened.

34 So Jesus had compassion on them, and touched their eyes: & immediatly their eyes receiued sight, and they followed him.

¶ The.xxi. Chapter.

1. He rydeth into Hierusalem, 12 dryueth the marchantes out of the temple, 19. and curseth the fyggetree.

The Gospel on the first Sunday in Lent. Mark.11.1 Luke.19.29 AND || when they drue nygh vnto Hierusalem, and were come to Bethphage, vnto the mount of Oliues, then sent Jesus two disciples,

2 Saying vnto them, Goe into the village that lieth ouer agaynst you, & anone ye shal find an asse tied, & a colt with her, when ye haue losed them, bring them vnto me.

3 And yf any man say ought vnto you, ye shal say the Lorde hath neede of them, and straightway he wyl let them goe.

4 All this was done, that it might be fulfylled which was spoken by the prophet, saying,

Esai.62.11 Zech.9 Joh.12.15 5 ||Tell ye the daughter of Sion, Behold, thy king commeth vnto thee meeke, and sitting vpon an Asse, and a colt, the foale of the Asse vsed to the yoke.

6 The disciples went, and did as Jesus commaunded them.

7 And brought the Asse, and the colt, & put on them their clothes, & he sate thereon.

8 And many of the people spread their garments in the way, other cut downe branches from the trees, and strawed them in the way.

9 Moreouer, the multitudes that went before, and that came after, cryed, saying, Hosanna to the sonne of Dauid: Blessed is he that commeth in the name of the Lorde, Hosanna in the highest.

10 ||And when he was come into Hierusalem, all the citie was moued, saying, Who is this? ||Mar.11.11 Luke.9.45 Joh.n.2.13

11 And the multitude said, This is Jesus that prophete of Nazareth a citie in Galilee.

12 And Jesus went into the temple of God, || and cast out all them that solde and bought in the temple, and ouerthrewe the tables of the money changers, and the seates of them that solde doues,

13 And sayde vnto them, it is written, My house shalbe called the house of prayer, || but ye haue made it a denne of theeues. ||Deut.14.25 ||Esai.56.7 Jere.7.11

14 || And the blind and the halt came to him in the temple, and he healed them. ||Mar.11.17 Luk.19.46

15 When the cheefe priestes and Scribes saw the woonders that he did, & the children crying in the temple, & saying Hosanna to the sonne of Dauid, they disdayned.

16 And sayde vnto him, Hearest thou what these say? But Jesus saith vnto them, Yea, haue ye neuer read, || Out of the mouth of babes and sucklynges thou hast ordeyned prayse? ||Psal.8.3

17 And he left them, and went out of the citie vnto Bethanie, and he lodged there.

18 In the morning, as he returned into the citie, he hungred.

19 || And when he sawe one fygge tree in the way, he came to it, and found nothyng theron but leaues only, & said vnto it, Neuer fruite growe on thee hencefoorwarde. And anone the fygge tree wythered away. ||Mar.11.13

20 And when the disciples sawe it, they marueyled, saying, Howe soone is the fygge tree wythered away?

21 Jesus answeared, & said vnto them, Verily I say vnto you, yf ye haue fayth, and doubt not, ye shal not only doo this whiche is done to the fygge tree, but also, if ye shal say vnto this mountaine, Be thou remoued, and be thou cast into the sea, it shalbe done.

22 And al thinges what so euer ye shall aske in prayer, beleeuyng, ye shal receiue.

23 || And when he was come into the temple, the cheefe priestes and the elders of the people came vnto him teaching & say, By what authoritie doest thou these thinges? & who gaue thee this power? ||Mar.11.27 Luke.10.1

24 Jesus answeared, & said vnto them, I also wyl aske you one question, whiche yf ye tell me, I in likewyse wyl tell you by what authoritie I doo these thinges:

25 The baptisme of John, whence was it? from heauen, or of men? And they reasoned with them selues, saieing, If we shall say, From heauen, he wyl say vnto vs, Why dyd ye not then beleeue him?

‖ Mat. 14.5 26 But if we shal say, Of men, then feare we the people, || for al men holde John as a prophete.

27 And they answeared vnto Jesus, and said, We can not tell. And he sayd vnto them, Neither tel I you by what auethoritie I doo these thinges.

28 But what thinke you? A certayne man had two sonnes, and when he came to the fyrst, he sayde, Sonne, goe and worke to day in my vineyarde.

29 He answeared, and sayde, I wyl not: But afterwarde he repented, and went.

30 And when he came to the second, he sayd lykewyse: And he answeared, and sayd, I goe sir, and went not.

31 Whether of them twayne dyd the wil of his father? And they sayde vnto him, The fyrst. Jesus saith vnto them, Verily I say vnto you, that the publicanes and the harlots goe into the kingdome of God before you.

‖ Math. 3.4 32 For || John came vnto you by the way of righteousnesse, & ye beleeued him not: but the publicanes & the harlots beleeued him. And ye, when ye had seene it were not moued afterwarde with repentance, that ye might haue beleeued him.

‖ Esaias. 5.1. Jere. 2.21. Mark. 12.1 Luke. 20.9 33 Hearken another similitude. || There was a certayne man, an housholder, whiche planted a vineyarde, and hedged it rounde about, and digged a wine presse in it, & built a towre, and let it out to husbandmen, and went into a strange countrey.

34 And when the time of the fruite drewe neare, he sent his seruauntes to the husbandmē, that they might receiue the fruites of it.

35 And the husbandmen, when they had taken his seruantes, they beat one, killed another, and stoned another.

36 Againe, he sent other seruauntes, more then the first, & they did vnto them likewyse.

37 But last of al, he sent vnto them his owne sonne, saying, They wyl stande in awe of my sonne.

‖ Math. 26.3 John. 11.53 38 But when the husbandmen saw the sonne, they said among them selues, || This is the heyre, come, let vs kil him, and let vs season vpon his inheritance.

39 And they caught him, & thrust him out of the vineyarde, and slue him.

40 When the Lorde therefore of the vineyarde commeth, what wyll he doo vnto those husbandmen?

41 They say vnto him, He wyl miserably destroy those wicked men, and wyl let out his vineyarde vnto other husbandmen, whiche shal render him the fruite in due season.

42 Jesus saieth vnto them, || Did ye neuer reade in the scriptures, The stone which the builders disalowed, the same is become the head of the corner? This is the Lordes dooyng, and it is marueylous in our eyes. ‖ Psa. 118.22 Actes. 4.11

43 Therefore say I vnto you, the kingdome of God shalbe taken from you, & geuen to a nation bringing forth the fruits thereof.

44 And || who so euer shall fall on this stone, shalbe broken in peeces: but on whom so euer it shal fal, it shal al to grinde him. ‖ Rom. 9.33 1. Pet. 2.7 Esai. 8.14

45 And when the chefe priestes and Pharisees had heard his parables, they perceyued that he spake of them.

46 And when they sought to lay handes on him, they feared the multitudes, because they tooke him as a prophete.

2 The kingdome of heauen is like vnto a man that was a kyng, which made a mariage for his sonne.

3 And sent forth his seruantes, to call them that were bidden to the wedding: and they would not come.

4 Againe, he sent forth other seruantes, saying, Tell them whiche are bidden, Beholde, I haue prepared my dinner, my Oxen and my fatlinges are killed, and al things are redy: come vnto the mariage.

5 But they made light of it, and went their wayes, one to his farme, another to his marchandize:

6 And the remnant tooke his seruants, and entreated them spitefully, & slue them.

7 But when the king heard thereof he was wroth, & when he had sent forth his armies, he distroyed those murderers, and brent vp their citie.

8 Then saith he to his seruauntes, The mariage in deede is prepared, but they whiche were bidden, were not worthy.

9 Goe ye therefore out in the high waies, and as many as ye shall finde, bidde to the mariage.

10 And the seruauntes went out into the high waies, & gathered together al, as many as they found, both good and bad, and the wedding was furnished with ghestes.

11 When the kyng came in to see the ghestes,

14 ||Woe vnto you Scribes and Pharisees hypocrites, for ye deuoure widdowes houses, & that vnder a pretence of long prayer, therfore ye shal receiue the greater damnatiō.

15 Woe vnto you Scribes and Pharisees hypocrits, for ye compasse the sea and the land to make one a proselyte, and when he is become one, ye make hym two folde more the chylde of hel then ye your selues are.

16 Woe be vnto you ye blynd guydes, for ye say, ||Whosoeuer shal sweare by the temple, it is nothyng, but whosoeuer shal sweare by the golde of the temple, he is a b detter.

b. Both to God & to man for to performe it.

17 Ye fooles and blynde, for whether is greater, the golde, or the temple that sanctifieth the golde?

18 And whosoeuer shal sweare by the auter, it is nothyng, but whosoeuer sweareth by the gift that is vpon it, he is a detter.

19 Ye fooles and blynde, for whether is greater, the gyft, or the auter that sanctifieth the gyft?

||Luk.11.42.

24 Ye blynd guydes, which straine out a gnat, and swallowe a camel.

25 ||Woe vnto you Scribes and Pharisees hypocrites, for ye make cleane the vtter side of the cup, and of the platter, but within thye are ful of bribrie and excesse.

||Luk.11.39.

26 Thou blind Pharisee, cleanse first that whiche is within the cup and platter, that the outside of them may be cleane also.

27 Woe vnto you Scribes & Pharisees hypocrites, for ye are like vnto painted sepulchres, whiche in deede appeare beautifull outward: but are within ful of dead mens bones, and of al filthinesse.

28 Euen so, ye also outwardly appeare righteous vnto men: but within ye are ful of hypocrisie and iniquitie.

29 Woe vnto you Scribes and Pharisees hypocrites, because ye buylde the tombes of the prophetes, and garnishe the sepulchres of the righteous, 30 And say, If we had ben in the dayes of our fathers, we woulde not haue ben parteners with them in the blood of the prophetes.

31 Wherefore ye be witnesses vnto your selues, that ye are the children of them which kylled the prophetes.

32 Fulfill ye also the measure of your fathers.

33 Ye serpentes, ye generation of vipers, howe wyl ye escape the damnation of hel?

34 Wherfore behold, I send vnto you prophetes, and wise men, & Scribes, and some of them ye shal kyll and crucifie, and some of them shal ye scourge in your synagogues, and persecute them from citie to citie:

39 For I say vnto you, ye shal by no meanes see me hence forth, til that ye shal say, Blessed is he that commeth in the name of the Lord.

¶ The xxiiii. Chapter.

1. Christe sheweth his disciples the destruction of the temple, 6. the ende of the world, and the tokens of the latter dayes, 42. & warneth them to wake, 44. for the world shal sodainly perishe.

AND ||Iesus went out, and departed from the temple: and his disciples came to hym for to shewe hym the buyldynges of the temple.

3 And as he ſate vpon the mount of Olines, the diſciples came vnto him ſecretely, ſaying, Tel vs, when ſhall theſe thynges be? and what ſhalbe the token of thy commyng, & of the ende of the worlde?

4 And Ieſus anſwered, and ſayde vnto them, Take || hede that no man deceyue you.

5 For many ſhall come in my name, ſaying, I am Chriſte: and ſhal deceyue many.

6 Ye wyll come to paſſe, that ye ſhall heare of warres, and rumors of warres: See that you be not troubled: for all theſe thynges muſt come to paſſe, but the ende is not yet.

7 For nation ſhal ryſe agaynſt nation, and realme agaynſt realme, and there ſhalbe famines, and peſtilences, and earthquakes in * certayne places.

8 All theſe are the beginning of ſorowes.

9 Then ſhall they put you to trouble, & ſhall kyl you: and ye ſhalbe hated of all nations for my names ſake.

10 And then ſhal many be offended, and ſhal betray one another, and ſhall hate one an other.

11 And many falſe prophetes ſhal ariſe, and ſhal deceyue many.

12 And becauſe iniquitie ſhall abounde, the loue of many ſhall waxe colde.

13 But he that ſhal endure to the ende, the ſame ſhalbe ſaued.

14 And this Goſpel of the kyngdome ſhalbe preached in al the world, for a witneſſe vnto al nations, and then ſhal the ende come.

15 || When ye therfore ſhall ſee the abomination of deſolation, ſpoken of by Daniel the prophete, ſtand in the holy place, (who ſo readeth, let him vnderſtande,)

16 Then let them whiche be in Iurie, flee into the mountaynes.

17 And let him whiche is on the houſe top, not come downe to fetch any thing out of his houſe:

18 Neyther let him whiche is in the feelde, returne backe to fetche his clothes.

19 Woe ſhalbe in thoſe dayes to them that are with childe, & to thē that geue ſucke.

20 But pray ye that your flight be not in the Wynter: || neyther on the Sabboth day:

21 For then ſhalbe great tribulation, ſuch as was not ſince the begynnyng of the world to this time, no, nor in any wiſe ſhalbe.

22 Yea, & except thoſe dayes ſhould be ſhortened, there ſhould no fleſhe be ſaued: but for ỹ choſēs ſake thoſe dayes ſhalbe ſhortned.

23 Then if any man ſhall ſay vnto you, || Loe, here is Chriſt, or there: beleeue it not.

24 For there ſhal aryſe falſe Chriſtes, & falſe prophets, & ſhall ſhewe great ſignes, and woonders: in ſo muche that (if it were poſſible) they ſhal deceyue the very elect.

25 Beholde, I haue tolde you before.

26 Wherfore, yf they ſhal ſay vnto you, Behold, he is in the deſart, goe not forth, Behold, he is in the ſecret places: beleeue it not.

27 For as the lyghtnyng commeth out of the Eaſt, and ſhyneth into the Weaſt: ſo ſhall alſo the cōmyng of the ſonne of man be.

28 || For whereſoeuer the dead carkaſſe is, euen there wyl the Egles alſo be gathered togeather. || Luk.17.37

29 Immediately, after the tribulation of thoſe dayes, || ſhal the ſunne be darkened, and the moone ſhal not geue her lyght, & the ſtarres ſhal fal from heauen, and the powers of the heauens ſhalbe ſhaken. || Mar.13.24 Luke.21.25. Ioel.2.31.

30 And thē ſhal appeare the ſigne of the ſonne of man in heauen: and then ſhal al the kynredes of the earth mourne, || and they ſhal ſee the ſonne of man comming in the cloudes of heauen, with power and great glory. || Actes.1.7.

31 || And he ſhal ſend his angels with the great ſound of a trumpet, & they ſhal gather togeather his choſen, from the foure wyndes, euen from one ende of heauen to the other. || 1.Co.15.52 1.Theſ.4.16

32 Learne a parable of the fygge tree: When his branche is yet tender, & the leaues ſpryng, ye knowe that Sommer is nygh:

33 So lykewyſe ye, when ye ſhal ſee all theſe thinges, be ſure that it is neare, euen at the doores.

34 Verily I ſay vnto you, this generation ſhal in no wyſe paſſe, tyl al theſe thinges be fulfylled.

35 || Heauen and earth ſhal paſſe away, but my wordes ſhal in no wyſe paſſe away. || Mar.13.31

36 But of that day and houre knoweth no man, no, not the angels of heauen, but my father onely.

37 But as the dayes of Noe were, ſo ſhal alſo the cōmyng of the ſonne of man be.

38 || For as in the dayes that were before the flood, they were eating, & drinkyng, marryng, and geuing in marriage, euen vntyl the day that Noe entred into the Arke, || Gene.7.5. Luke.17.28.

39 And knewe not tyl the flood came, & toke them al away: ſo ſhal alſo the comming of the ſonne of man be.

40 || Then ſhal two be in the feelde: the one is receyued, and the other is left alone.

41 || Two women ſhalbe grynding at the Mylle: the one is receyued, and the other left alone. || Luk.17.35 1.Theſ.4.17

42 || Watche therfore, for ye knowe not what houre your Lorde doeth come. || Mar.13.35

43 || Of this yet be ſure, that yf the good man of the houſe had knowen what watche the theefe would come, he would haue watched, and would not haue ſuffered his houſe || Luk.12.39 2.Theſ.5.2 Apoc.16.18.

44 Therfore be ye also redie: for in such an houre as ye thynke not, the sonne of man commeth.

45 Who then is that faythful and wyse seruant, whom his lord hath made ruler ouer his houshold, to geue them meate in season:

46 Blessed is that seruant, whom his Lord when he commeth, shal fynde so doing.

47 Verely I say vnto you, that he shall make him ruler ouer al his goodes.

48 But and yf that euyl seruaunt shall say in his hart, My Lorde wyll be long a comming:

49 And so begyn to smyte his felowes, yea, and to eate & drynke with the drunken:

50 The same seruantes Lord shal come in a day when he looketh not for him, and in an houre that he is not ware of:

51 And shal hewe him in peeces, & geue him his portion with the hypocrites: || there shalbe weeping and gnashyng of teethe. ‖ Mat.13.42 and.25.30.

¶ The.xxv. Chapter.

1. The ten Virgins. 14. The talentes delyuered to the seruantes. 32. And of the generall iudgement.

THen shall the kyngdome of heauen be likened vnto ten Virgins, whiche when they had taken their lampes, went forth to meete the bridegrome.

2 But fyue of them were wyse, and fyue were foolyshe.

3 They that were foolyshe, when they had taken their lampes, tooke none oyle with them:

4 But the wyse tooke oyle in their vessels, with their lampes also.

5 Whyle the bridegrome tarried, they al slumbred and slept.

6 And euē at midnight there was a crie made, Beholde, the bridegrome commeth, goe ye out to meete him.

7 Then al those Virgins arose, and prepared their lampes.

8 So the foolyshe sayde vnto the wyse, Geue vs of your oyle, for our lamps are gone out.

9 But the wyse answeared, saying, Not so, lest there be not ynough for vs and you: but goe ye rather to them that sell, and buye for your selues.

10 And whyle they went to buye, the bridegrome came, and they that were redye, went in with him to the marriage, and the doore was shut vp.

11 Afterward came also the other Virgins, saying, Lorde, Lorde, open to vs.

12 But he answeared, and sayd, Verily I say vnto you, I knowe you not.

13 || Watche therfore, for ye knowe neither the day, nor yet the houre, wherein the sonne of man commeth. ‖ Mat.24. Mar.13.33

14 || Lykewyse, as vvhen a certayne man takyng his iourney into a straunge countrey, called his owne seruantes, and delyuered vnto them his goodes. ‖ Luk.19.

15 And vnto one he gaue fyue talentes, to an other two, and to an other one, to euery man after his habilitie, and straightway toke his iourney.

16 Then he that had receyued the fyue talentes, went and occupied with the same, and made them other fyue talentes.

17 And lykewyse he that had receyued two, he also gayned other two.

18 But he that had receyued one, went and dygged in the earth, and hyd his Lordes money.

19 After a long season, the Lord of those seruantes commeth, & reckeneth with them.

20 And so he that had receyued fyue talentes, came and brought other fyue talents, saying, Lorde, thou delyueredst vnto me fyue talentes, beholde, I haue gayned beydes them, fyue talentes moe.

21 His Lorde sayd vnto him, Wel done thou good and faythful seruant, thou hast ben faythful ouer fewe thyngs, I wyl make thee ruler ouer many thyngs: enter thou into the ioy of thy Lorde.

22 He also that had receyued two talents, came, and sayde, Lord, thou deliueredst vnto me two talentes: behold, I haue wonne two other talentes beydes them.

23 His Lorde sayd vnto him, Wel done good and faythfull seruaunt, thou hast been faithful ouer fewe thinges, I wyl make thee ruler ouer many thyngs: enter thou into the ioy of thy Lorde.

24 Then he which had receyued the one talent, came, and sayde, Lorde, I knewe thee that thou art an harde man, reapyng where thou hast not sowen, and geatheryng where thou hast not strawed:

25 And therefore was I afraide, & went and hyd thy talent in the earth: lo, there thou hast that thyne is.

26 His Lorde answeared, and sayd vnto him, Thou euyll and slouthful seruant, thou knewest that I reape where I sowed not, and geather where I haue not strawed:

27 Thou oughtest therefore to haue deliuered my money to the exchangers, and thē at my comming shoulde I haue receyued myne owne with vauntage.

28 Take therfore the talent from him, and geue it vnto him which hath ten talents.

29 || For vnto euery one that hath, shalbe geuen, ‖ Mat.1 Mark.4

geuen, and he shal haue abundance: but from hym that hath not, shalbe taken away, euen that which he hath.

30 And cast the vnprofitable seruant || into vtter darknesse, there shalbe weeping, and gnashing of teeth.

31 When the sonne of man shal come in his glory, & al the holy angels with hym, then shal he sit vpon the throne of his glory.

32 And before hym shalbe gathered all nations, and he shal separate them one from another, as a shepheard diuideth his sheepe from the goates.

33 And he shal set the sheepe on his right hande, but the goates on the left.

34 Then shal the king say vnto them which shalbe on his right hande, Come ye blessed of my father, inherite the kingdome, which hath ben prepared for you from ỹ fundation of the worlde.

35 || For I was an hungred, and ye gaue me meate: I was thirstie, & ye gaue me drinke: I was a stranger, and ye tooke me in:

36 Naked, and ye clothed me: || I was sicke, and ye visited me: I was in prison, and ye came vnto me.

37 Then shal the righteous answere him, saying, Lorde, when sawe we thee an hungred, and fedde thee? or thirstie, and gaue thee drinke?

38 When sawe we thee a stranger, and tooke thee in? or naked, and clothed thee?

38 Or when sawe we thee sicke, or in prison, and came vnto thee?

40 And the king shal answeare, and say vnto them, Verily I say vnto you, in as much as ye haue doone it vnto one of the least of these my brethren, ye haue doone it vnto me.

41 || Then shal he saye also vnto them on the left hande, Depart from me, ye cursed, into the euerlasting fyre, whiche is prepared for the diuel and his angels.

42 For I was an hungred, and ye gaue me no meate: I was thirstie, and ye gaue me no drinke:

43 I was a stranger, and ye tooke me not in: naked, and ye clothed me not: sicke, and in prison, and ye visited me not.

44 Then shal they also answere hym, saying, Lord when sawe we thee an hungred, or a thirst, or a stranger, or naked, or sicke, or in prison, and did not minister vnto thee?

45 Then shal he answeare them, saying, Verily I say vnto you, in as muche as ye did it not to one of the least of these, ye did it not to me.

46 And || these shal goe away into euerlasting payne: but the righteous into lyfe eternal.

1. Mary Magdalene anoynteth Christe. 16. They eate the Easter lambe.

The Gospel on the next Sunde after Easter.

AND it came to passe, when Jesus had finished al these sayinges, he said vnto his disciples,

2 || Ye knowe that after two dayes is the feast of Passeouer, and the sonne of man is betrayed to be crucified. || Mark.14.1. Luke.22.1.

3 || Then assembled together the cheefe priestes, and the Scribes, and the elders of the people, vnto the palace of the high priest, which was called Caiaphas: || Joh. 11.47.

4 And helde a counsaple that they myght take Jesus subtilly, and kyl hym.

5 But they sayde, Not on the feast day, lest there be an vproze among the people.

6 || When Jesus was in Bethanie, in the house of Simon the leper, || Mark.14.3. Joh.11.2.

7 There came vnto him a woman, hauing an Alabaster boxe of pretious oyntment, and powred it on his head as he sate at the boorde.

8 But when his disciples sawe it, they had indignation, saying, To what purpose is this waste?

9 This oyntment myght haue ben solde for much, and geuen to the poore.

10 When Jesus vnderstoode that, he said vnto them, Why trouble ye the woman? for she hath wrought a good worke vpon me.

11 || For ye haue the poore alwayes with you, but me ye haue not alwayes. || Deut.15.11.

12 For in that this woman hath cast this oyntment on my bodye, she dyd it to burye me.

13 Verily I say vnto you, Wheresoeuer this gospel shalbe preached in the whole world, there shal also this that this woman hath done, be tolde for a memorial of her.

14 || Then one of the twelue, called Judas Iscariot, went vnto the cheefe priestes, || Mar.14.10. Luke.22.4.

15 And sayde vnto them, What wyl ye geue me, and I wyl deliuer him vnto you? And they appointed vnto him thirtie siluer peeces.

16 And from that tyme forth, he sought opportunitie to betray hym.

17 || The first day of sweete breed, the disciples came to Jesus, saying vnto hym, Where wylt thou that we shal prepare for thee to eate the Passeouer? || Mar.14.12. Luke.22.7.

18 And he sayd, Goe into the citie to suche a man, and say vnto hym, The maister sayth, My tyme is at hande, I make the Passeouer at thy house with my disciples.

19 And the disciples dyd as Jesus had appointed them, and they made redy the Passeouer.

20 || When the euen was come, he sate downe with the twelue. || Mark.14.8. Luke.22.14. John.13.21.

21 And

21 And as they did eate, he sayde, Verily I saye vnto you, that one of you shal betray me.

22 And they being exceeding sorowful, began euery one of them to saye vnto hym, Lorde, Is it I?

23 He answeared, and sayde, He that hath dipped his hande with me in the dishe, the same shal betray me.

24 The sonne of man truely goeth as it is written of hym: but woe vnto that man by whom the sonne of man is betrayed: It had ben good for that man if he had not ben borne.

25 Then Judas, which betrayed hym, answeared, and sayde, Maister, Is it I? He sayde vnto hym, Thou hast sayde.

1.Co.11.24 26 When they were eating, || Jesus, when he had taken the bread, and geuen thankes, he brake it & gaue it to the disciples, & sayd, Take ye, eate ye, this is my body.

27 And when he had taken the cup, and geuen thankes, he gaue it them, sayeing, Drinke ye al of it:

28 For this is my bloodde of the newe testament that is shed for many for the remission of sinnes.

29 But I saye vnto you, I wyl in no wyse drinke henceforth of this fruite of the vine tree, vntyl that daye when I drinke it newe with you in my fathers kingdome.

30 And when they had prayed God they went out vnto the mount of Olives.

||Mar.14.27 Iohn.16.30. ||Zach. 13.7. 31 ||Then saith Jesus vnto them, Al ye shalbe offended because of me this night: For it is written, || I wyl smite the sheepeheard, and the sheepe of the flocke shalbe scattered abroade.

||Mar.14.28 and.16.7. 32 But after I am rysen agayne, || I wyl goe before you into Galilee.

33 Peter answeared, and said vnto him, Though al men shalbe offended because of thee, yet wyl I neuer be offended.

||Iohn.13.38 34 Jesus sayde vnto hym, || Verily I say vnto thee, that in this same nyght before the Cocke crowe, thou shalt deny me thrise.

35 Peter sayde vnto hym, Though I shoulde dye with thee, yet wyl I by no manner of meanes deny thee. Likewise also sayde al the disciples.

||Mar 14.32. Luke. 22.39. 36 ||Then commeth Jesus with them vnto a place called Gethsemane, and sayeth vnto the disciples, Syt ye there whyle I goe and pray ponder.

37 And when he had taken with hym Peter, and the two sonnes of Zebedee, he began to be sorowful and heauie.

38 Then sayde Jesus vnto them, My soule is exceeding heauy, euen vnto the death: tarry ye here, and watche with me.

39 And when he had gone a litle farther, he fel flat on his face, praying, and saying, O my father, if it be possible, let this cup passe from me: neuertheles, not as I wyl, but as thou wylt.

40 And he commeth vnto the disciples, and findeth them a sleepe, and sayeth vnto Peter, What, coulde ye not watche with me one houre?

41 Watche and pray, that ye enter not into temptation: The spirit in deede is wylling, but the flesshe is weake.

42 He went awaye agayne the seconde time, and prayed, saying, O my father, if this cup maye not passe awaye from me, except I drynke it, thy wyl be fulfilled.

43 And when he came, he findeth them a sleepe agayne: for theyr eyes were heauye.

44 And he left them, and went agayne and prayed the thirde tyme, saying the same woordes.

45 Then commeth he to his disciples, & saith vnto them, Sleepe henceforth, & take your rest, behold, the houre is at hand, and the son of man is betraied into ỹ hãds of sinners.

46 Ryse, let vs be goeing: behold, he is at hande that dooth betray me.

||Mar.14. Luke.22. Iohn.18.3 47 ||Whyle he yet spake, loe Judas one of the twelue came, and with hym a great multitude with swoordes and staues from the cheefe priestes and elders of the people.

48 But he that betraied him, gaue them a token, saying, Whom so euer I shal kisse, that same is he, holde hym fast.

49 And foorthwith when he came to Jesus, he sayd, Hayle maister: and kissed hym.

50 And Jesus sayde vnto hym, Freend, wherefore art thou come? Then came they and layd handes on Jesus, and tooke hym.

51 And behold, one of them which were with Jesus, stretched out his hande, and drue his swoorde, & after that he had stricken a seruant of the high priests, he smote of his eare.

52 Then sayd Jesus vnto hym, Turne backe thy swoord into his place: || for al they that take the swoorde, shal perishe with the swoorde. ||Gene.9. Apoc.13.

53 Thynkest thou that I can not nowe pray to my father, and he shal cause to stande by me more then twelue legions of angels?

54 But howe then shal the scriptures be fulfilled || that this it must be? ||Esai.53

55 In that same houre said Jesus to the multitudes, Ye be come out as it were vnto a theefe with swoordes and staues for to take me: I sate daylye with you teachyng in the temple, and ye tooke me not.

56 But al this was done that the scriptures of the prophetes might be fulfilled. || Then al the disciples hauing forsake him, fled. ||Lam. Math.2

2 And when they had bounde him, they led him away, and deliuered him to Pontius Pilate the deputie.

3 Then Judas, whiche had betrayed him, when he ſawe that he was condemned, repented him ſelfe, and brought agayne the thyrtie "ſyluer peeces to the cheefe prieſtes & elders, "or, ſiluer pieces.

15 ‖ At that feaſt the deputie was wont to let looſe vnto the people a priſoner, whom they woulde. ‖ Mark.15.6 Luke.23.17.

16 He had then a notable priſoner, called Barabbas.

17 Therefore when they were gathered togeather, Pilate ſayde vnto them, Whether wyll ye that I geue looſe vnto you Barabbas, or Jeſus, whiche is called Chriſte?

18 For he knewe that for enuy they had deliuered

57 ‖ But they that had taken Jeſus, led him away to Caiaphas the hie prieſte, where the ſcribes and the elders were aſſembled. ‖ Mark.14.53 Luke.22.54. John.18.14

58 But Peter folowed him a farre of, vnto the hye prieſtes palace, and went in, and ſate with the ſeruantes to ſee the ende.

59 ‖ The cheefe prieſtes and elders, and al the counſaile, ſought falſe witneſſe againſt Jeſus, to put him to death, ‖ Mat.14.55.

60 But founde none: yea, when many falſe witneſſes came, yet founde they none. At the laſt came two falſe witneſſes, 61 And ſayde, This ſelowe ſayd, ‖ I am able to deſtroy the temple of God, & to buyld it in three dayes. ‖ John.2.19.

62 And the cheefe prieſte aroſe, and ſayd vnto him, Anſweareſt thou nothyng? What is that whiche theſe witneſſe agaynſt thee?

63 But Jeſus helde his peace. And the cheefe prieſt anſwered, & ſayde vnto him, I charge thee by the lyuing God, that thou tel vs whether thou be Chriſt the ſonne of God?

64 Jeſus ſayth vnto him, Thou haſt ſayd: Neuertheleſſe, I ſay vnto you, ‖ Hereafter ſhal ye ſee the ſonne of man ſitting on the ryght hande of the power of God, and comyng in the cloudes of the ſkye. ‖ Mat.16.27 Mar.14.10. 1 Theſ.4.14

65 Then the hie prieſt rent his clothes, ſaying, He hath ſpoken blaſphemie: what neede we of anye moe witneſſes? Beholde, nowe ye haue heard his blaſphemie.

66 What thynke ye? They anſwered, and ſayde, He is worthie to dye.

67 ‖ Then dyd they ſpit in his face, and buffeted him with fiſtes, and other ſmote him on the face with the palme of their handes, ‖ Eſai.50.6.

68 Saying, Prophecie vnto vs, O Chriſte, who is he that ſmote thee?

69 ‖ Peter ſate without in the palace: And a damſel came vnto him, ſaying, Thou alſo waſt with Jeſus of Galilee. ‖ Mar.14.66 Luke.22.55. John.18.25.

70 But he denied before them al, ſaying, I wote not what thou ſayeſt.

71 When he was gone out into the porche, an other wenche ſawe him, and ſayde vnto them that were there, This felowe was alſo with Jeſus of Nazareth.

72 And agayne he denied with an othe, I doo not knowe the man.

73 And after a whyle came vnto him they that ſtoode by, and ſayd to Peter, Surely thou art euen one of them: for thy ſpeache bewrayeth thee.

74 Then began he to curſe & to ſweare, ſaying, I knowe not the man. And immediately the Cocke crewe.

75 And Peter remembred the woordes of Jeſu, whiche ſayde vnto him, Before the Cocke crowe, thou ſhalt deny me thryſe. And he went out, and wept bitterly.

20 ||But the cheefe preistes and elders perswaded the people that they shoulde aske Barabbas, and destroy Iesus.

21 The deputie answered, and sayd vnto them, Whether of the twayne wyl ye that I let loose vnto you? They sayd Barabbas.

22 Pilate sayde vnto them, What shall I do thē with Iesus which is called Christ? Then al said vnto him, Let him be crucified.

23 The deputie sayde, What euyl hath he done? But they cryed exceedingly, saying, Let him be crucified.

24 When Pilate sawe that he coulde preuaile nothing, but that more busines was made, he tooke water, and washed his handes before the people, saying, I am innocēt of the blood of this iuste person: see ye to it.

25 Then answered al the people, & said, His blood be on vs, and on our chyldren.

26 Then let he Barabbas loose vnto them, and when he had scourged Iesus, he delyuered him to be crucified.

Mar.15.16 Iohn.19.1.

27 ||Then the souldiers of the deputie, when they had taken Iesus into the common hall, gathered vnto him all the bande of souldiers.

28 And when they had stripped him, they put on him a scarlet robe:

29 And when they had platted a crowne of thornes, they put it vppon his head, and a reede in his right hande: and when they had bowed the knee before him, they mocked him, saying, Hayle kyng of the Iewes.

30 And when they had spyt vppon him, they toke the reede, & smote him on the head.

31 And after that they had mocked him, they tooke the robe of him, and put his owne rayment on him, and led him awaye to crucifie him.

36 And syttyng downe, they watched him there:

37 And set vp ouer his head his accusation written, This is Iesus, the king of the Iewes.

38 Then are there two theeues crucified with him: one on the ryght hand, and an other on the left.

39 They that passed by, reuiled him, waggyng their heades, 57 ‖ When the euen was come, there came a riche man from the citie of Arimathea, named Joleph, which also him selfe was Jesus disciple.

58 He went to Pilate, and begged the body of Jesus: then Pilate commaunded the body to be deliuered.

59 And when Joleph had taken the body, he wrapped it in a cleane lynnen cloth:

60 And layde it in his newe tombe which he had hewen out in the rocke: and when he had rolled a great stone to the dooze of the sepulchze, he departed.

61 And there was Marie Magdalene, and the other Marie, syttyng ouer agaynst the sepulchze.

62 The next day that folowed the day of preparyng, the bygh prieftes and Pharisees came togeather vnto Pilate, 63 Saying, Syz, we remember that this deceiuer layde while he was yet aliue, After thzee dayes I aryse agayne.

64 Commaund therfoze, that the sepulchze be made sure vntill the thirde day: lest his disciples come by night, and steale hym away, and say vnto the people, He is rysen from the dead: and the laft errour shalbe woorse then the firft.

65 Pilate sayd vnto them, Ye haue the watche, goe your way, make it as sure as ye knowe.

66 So they went, and when they had sealed vp the stone, they made the sepulchze sure with the watche.

a The resurrection of Christ. 12, The bygh prieftes geue the souldiers money, to say that Christe vvas stollen out of his graue.

IN the latter ende of the Sabboth day, which dawneth the firft day of the weeke, came Marie Magdalene, and the other Marie, to see the sepulchze.

2 And behoide, there was a great earthquake, foz the angel of the Lozde descended from heauen, and came and rolled backe the stone from the dooze, and sate vpon it.

3 His countenance was lyke lightning, and his rayment whyte as snowe.

4 And foz feare of hym the keepers dyd shake, and became as dead men.

5 The angel answeared, and sayde vnto the women, Feare ye not: foz I knowe that ye seeke Jesus, whiche was crucified.

6 He is not here, he is rysen, as he sayde, Come, see the place where that the Lozd was layde,

7 And goe quickly, and tel his disciples that he is rysen from the dead. And behoide, he goeth before you into Galilee, there shall ye see hym: loe, I haue tolde you.

8 And they departed quyckye from the sepulchze, with feare and great ioy, and dyd runne, to bzyng his disciples wozde.

9 And as they went to tel his disciples, behoide, Jesus met them, saying, All hayle. And they came, and helde him by the feete, and wozshypped hym.

10 Then said Jesus vnto them, Be not afraide: goe tel my bzethzen that they goe into Galilee, and there shal they see me.

11 When they were gone, behold, some of the watche came into the citie, and shewed vnto the bigh prieftes all the thynges that were done.

12 And when they were assembled with the elders, and had taken counsell, they gaue large money vnto the souldiers, 13 Saying, Say ye, His disciples came by night, and stole him away while we slept.

14 And if this come to the deputies eares, we wyll perswade him, and make you careleste.

15 So they, when they had taken the money, dyd as they were taught. And this saying was noysed among the Jewes vntyll this day.

16 Then the eleuen disciples went away into Galilee, into a mountayne, where Jesus had appoynted them.

17 And when they sawe hym, they wozshipped hym: but some doubted.

18 And Jesus came, and spake vnto them, saying, All power is geuen vnto me in heauen and in earth.

19 ‖ Goe ye therefoze, and teache al nations, baptising them in the name of the father, and of the sonne, and of the holy ghoft: ‖ Mar.16.15

But yf ye reckon after our vſe, then Chriſte dyd eate the Paſcal lambe, inſtituted the ſacrament of his body and blood, and was kyſſed of Iudas on Thurſday, but was crucified, dead, and buryed on Fryday.

The Gospel by saint Marke.

¶ The first Chapter.

2. The office of Iohn Baptist. 9. The Baptisme of Christ. 13. his fasting. 14 and preaching.

THE beginning of the Gospell of Iesu Christ, the sonne of God,

2 As it hath been written in the prophetes, ||Beholde, I sende my messenger before thy face, which shal prepare thy way before thee.

3 ||A voice of him that cryeth in the wildernesse, Prepare ye the way of the Lorde, and make his pathes straight.

4 ||Iohn was baptising in the wyldernesse, and preaching the baptisme of repentance, for the remission of sinnes.

5 ||And al the land of Iurie, and they of Hierusalem, went out vnto him, and were al baptised of him in the ryuer of Iordayne, confessing their sinnes.

6 Iohn was clothed with camels heare, & with a girdle of a skinne about his loynes: ||and he did eate locustes and wilde hony,

7 ||And preached, saying, He that is stronger then I, commeth after me, whose shoe latchet I am not woorthy to stoupe downe, and vnloose.

8 I haue baptised you with water: but he shal baptise you with the holy ghost.

9 ||And it came to passe in those dayes, that Iesus came frō Nazareth a citie of Galilee, ||and was baptised of Iohn in Iordaine.

10 And assoone as he was come vp out of the water, he sawe heauen open, and the spirite discending vpon him like a doue.

11 And there came a voyce from heauen, Thou art my deare sonne, in whom I am wel pleased.

12 ||And immediatly the spirite driueth him into wyldernesse.

13 And he was there in the wildernesse fourtie dayes tempted of Satan, and was with the wyld beastes, and the angels ministred vnto him.

14 After that Iohn was deliuered to prison ||Iesus came into Galilee, preaching the Gospel of the kingdome of God,

15 And saying, The tyme is come, and the kingdome of God is at hande: repent ye, and beleeue the Gospel.

16 ||As he walked by the sea of Galilee, he sawe Sion, and Andrewe his brother, casting nettes into the sea (for they were fyshers.)

17 And Iesus sayd vnto them, Folowe me, and I wyl make you to become fyshers of men.

18 And straightway they forsoke their nets, and folowed him.

19 And when he had gone a litle further thence, he sawe Iames the sonne of Zebedee, and Iohn his brother, whiche also were in the ship mending their nettes.

20 And anone he called them: and they left their father Zebedee in the ship with the hired seruauntes, and folowed him.

21 ||And they came into Capernaum, & straightway on the Sabboth daies, he entred into the synagogue, and taught. ||Mat.4.23 Luke.4.31

22 ||And they were astonied at his learning: for he taught them as one that had authoritie, and not as the Scribes. ||Mat.7.28 Luke.4.32

23 ||And there was in their synagogue, a man vexed with an vncleane spirite, and he cryed aloude, ||Luke.4.32

24 Saying, Let vs alone, what haue we to do with thee, thou Iesus of Nazareth? Art thou come to destroy vs? I knowe thee what thou art, euen that holy one of God.

25 And Iesus rebuked him, saying, Holde thy peace, and come out of him.

26 And when the vncleane spirite had torne him, and cryed with a loude voice, he came out of him.

27 And they were all amased, insomuch that they demaunded one of another among them selues, saying, What thing is this? What newe doctrine is this? For with authoritie commaundeth he the foule spirites, and they doo obey him?

28 And immediatly his fame spread abrode throughout al the region bordering on Galilee.

29 ||And foorthwith, when they were come out of the synagogue, they entred into the house of Simon, and Andrewe, with Iames and Iohn. ||Math.8.14 Luke.4.38

30 But Simons wiues mother lay sicke of a feuer: and anone they tel him of her.

31 And he came and tooke her by the hand, & lift her vp: and immediatly the feuer forsooke her, & she ministred vnto them.

32 And at euen, when the sunne was downe, they brought vnto him al that were diseased, and them that were vexed with deuyls:

33 And al the citie was gathered together at the dooze.

34 And he healed many that were ſicke of diuers diſeaſes, and caſt out many deuils: and ſuffered not the deuils to ſpeake, becauſe they knewe him.

35 And in the morning very early before day, Jeſus when he was ryſen vp, went out, and departed into a ſolitarie place, and there prayed.

36 And Simon, & they that were with him, folowed after him:

37 And when they had found him, they ſayd vnto him, Al men ſeeke for thee.

38 And he ſayd vnto them, Let vs goe into the next townes, that I may preache there alſo: for therefore am I come.

39 And he preached in their ſinagogues in al Galilee, and caſt the deuils out.

‖ Math.2.2 Luke.5.12 40 ‖ And there came a leper to him, beſeechyng him, and kneeling downe to him, and ſaying vnto him, If thou wilt, thou canſt make me cleane.

41 And Jeſus hauyng compaſſion on him, when he had put forth his hande, touched him, and ſayth vnto him, I wil, be thou cleane.

42 And aſſoone as he had ſpoken, immediatly the leproſie departed from him, and he was made cleane.

43 And after he had geuen him a ſtraite commaundement, he ſent him away forthwith:

44 And ſaith vnto him, See thou ſay nothing to any man: but goe thee hence, ‖ Leuit.14.4 Luke.5.12 ſhewe thee ſelfe to the prieſt, || and offer for thy clenſing thoſe things which Moſes commaunded, for a witneſſe vnto them.

|| Math.9.1 45 ‖ But he, aſſoone as he was departed, began openly to declare many thinges, and to publiſhe this rumour: inſomuch, that Jeſus coulde no more openly enter into the citie, but was without in deſart places: and they came to him from euery quarter.

¶ The ii. Chapter.

1. He healeth the man of the paulſye, 14. and calleth Leui the cuſtomer.

‖ Mar.9.1 AFter a fewe dayes alſo, ‖ he entred into Capernaum againe, and it was noyſed that he was in the houſe.

2 And anone many were gathered together, inſomuch that nowe there was no roome to receyue them, no not ſo muche as about the dooze: and he preached the woꝛd of the Goſpel vnto them.

3 And they come vnto him, bringing one ſycke of the paulſie, which was borne of foure men.

4 And when they coulde not come nigh vnto him for preaſſe, they vncouered the roofe of the houſe that he was in: and when they had broken vp the roofe, they doo vnto cordes let downe the bedde wherein the ſycke of the paulſie lay.

5 When Jeſus ſawe their faith, he ſaide vnto the ſycke of the paulſie, Sonne, thy ſinnes be forgeuen thee,

6 But there were certaine of the Scribes ſitting there, and reaſoning in their hartes,

7 Why doth he thus ſpeake blaſphemies? ‖ Who can forgeue ſinnes, but God onely? ‖ Iohn.14. Eſai.43.

8 And immediatly, when Jeſus perceyued in his ſpirite that they ſo reaſon within them ſelues, he ſayth vnto them, Why reaſon ye ſuch things in your hartes?

9 Whether is it eaſier to ſay to the ſicke of the paulſie, Thy ſinnes be forgeuen thee: or to ſay, Ariſe, take vp thy bedde and walke?

10 But that ye may knowe that the ſonne of man hath power in earth to forgeue ſinnes, (he ſaith to the ſicke of the paulſye,) 11 I ſay vnto thee, Ariſe, and take vp thy bedde, and geat thee hence into thine houſe.

12 And immediatly he aroſe, tooke vp the bedde, and went forth before them al, inſomuch that they were al amazed, & glorified God, ſaying, We neuer ſaw it on this faſhiõ.

13 ‖ And he went againe by the ſea ſide, and al the people reſorted vnto him, and he taught them. ‖ Math.9. Luke.5.27

14 And as Jeſus paſſed by, he ſawe Leui the ſonne of Alphee ſitting at the receipt of cuſtome, and ſaid vnto him, Folowe me. And he aroſe, and folowed him.

15 And it came to paſſe, that when Jeſus ſate at meate in his houſe, many publicanes and ſinners ſate alſo togeather at meate with Jeſus and his Diſciples: for there were many, and they folowed him.

16 And when the Scribes and Phariſees ſaw him eate with Publicanes and ſinners, they ſayd vnto his diſciples, Howe is it that he eateth and drinketh with publicanes and ſinners?

17 When Jeſus hearde that, he ſayth vnto them, They that be whole, haue no neede of the phiſition, but they that are ſicke: I came not to cal the righteous, but ſinners to repentance.

18 ‖ And the diſciples of Jhon, & of the Phariſies did faſt: & they come and ſay vnto him, Wey doo the diſciples of Iohn, and of the Phariſees faſt, but thy diſciples faſt not? ‖ 1. Tim.1. Mat.9.14 Luke.5.33

19 And Jeſus ſaid vnto them, Can the children of the bryde chamber faſt, whyle the bridgrome is with them? As long as they haue the bridegrome with them, they can not faſt.

20 But the dayes wyl come, when the bride-bydegrome shalbe taken away from them, and then shal they fast in those dayes.

21 No man also soweth a peece of newe cloth, vnto an olde garment: otherwayes, his newe peece taketh away somewhat from the olde garment, and so the rent is made wooyse.

22 And no man powreth newe wine into olde vesselles, els the newe wine doth burst the vesselles, and the wine runneth out, and the vessels wyl be marred: But newe wine, must be put into newe vesselles.

23 ||And it came to passe, that he went through the corne feeldes on the Sabboth dayes, and his disciples began by the way to plucke the eares of corne.

24 And the Pharisees sayde vnto hym, Beholde, why do they on the sabboth dayes that whiche is not lawful?

25 And he said vnto them, || Haue ye neuer read what Dauid did, whē he had neede and was an hungred, both he, and they that were with hym?

26 Howe he went into the house of God in the dayes of Abiathar the high priest, and did eate the shewe bread, || which is not lawful to eate but for the priestes, and gaue also to them whiche were with him?

27 And he sayd vnto them, The sabboth was made for man, and not man for the sabboth.

28 Therefore is the sonne of man Lord also of the Sabboth.

The. iii. Chapter.

1. He helpeth the man with the dried hande, 14. chooseth his Apostles.

AND || he entred againe into the synagogue, and a man was there which had a withered hande:

2 And they watched hym, whether he woulde heale him on the Sabboth day, that they myght accuse hym.

3 And he sayde vnto the man which had the withered hande, Aryse and stande in the middes.

4 And he sayth vnto them, Is it lawful to do good on the sabboth dayes, or to do euil? to saue life, or to kil? But they helde theyr peace.

5 And when he had looked round about on them with anger, mourning for the hardnesse of theyr hartes, he sayth vnto the man, Stretch forth thine hande. And he stretched it out: and his hande was restored as whole as the other.

6 And the Pharisees departed, and straightway geathered a counsell with the Herodians against him, that they myght destroy hym.

7 But Jesus auoyded, with his disciples, to the sea: and a great multitude followed him from Galilee, and from Jurie,

8 And from Hierusalem, and from Idumea, and from the region vvhiche is beyonde Jordane, & they that dwelt about Tyre and Sidon, a great multitude, when they had heard what thinges he did, came vnto hym.

9 And Jesus commaunded his disciples that a shyp shoulde waite on him, because of the people, lest they should throng him.

10 For he had healed many, insomuche that they preassed vpon him for to touch him, as many as had plagues.

11 And the vncleane spirits, whē they sawe him, they fel downe before him at his feete, and cried, saying, Thou art the sonne of God.

12 And he straightly charged them, that they shoulde not make him knowen.

13 || And he goeth vp into a mountaine, and calleth vnto him whom he woulde: and they came vnto him. || Matth. 10.1. Luke. 9.1.

14 And he ordeyned twelue, that they shoulde be with him, and that he might send them forth to preache:

15 And that they might haue power to heale sicknesses, and to cast out deuils.

16 And he gaue vnto Simon to name Peter.

17 And he called James the sonne of Zebedee, and John James brother (and gaue them names, Boanarges, whiche is to say, the sonnes of thunder.)

18 And Andrewe, and Philip, and Bartholomewe, and Matthewe, and Thomas, and James the sonne of Alphee, and Thaddeus, and Simon the Chananite, 19 And Judas Iscariot, whiche also betrayed him: and they come into an house.

20 And the people commeth togeather againe, so that they coulde not so much as eate bread.

21 And when they that belonged vnto him hearde of it, they went out to lay handes vpon him, for they saide, He is madde.

22 And the Scribes which came downe from Hierusalem, saide, || He hath Beelzebub, and by the prince of the deuyls, casteth he out deuilles. || Matth. 9.34 and. 12.24. Luke. 11.14.

23 And when he had called them vnto him, he saide vnto them in parables, Howe can Satan cast out Satan?

24 And if a realme be diuided agaynst it selfe, that realme can not endure.

25 And if a house be diuided against it selfe, that house can not continue.

26 And if Satan make insurrection against him selfe, and be diuided, he can not continue, but hath an ende.

27 No man can enter into a strong mans house, and take away his goodes, except he wyll first binde the strong man, and then wyl ſpoyle his houſe.

|| Mat. 12.38 Luke. 12.10. Iohn. 5.16.

28 || Verily I ſay vnto you, All ſinnes ſhalbe forgeuen vnto the children of men, and blaſphemies, wherwith ſo euer they ſhal blaſpheme:

29 But he that ſhal blaſpheme againſt the holy ghoſt, hath neuer forgeuenelle, but is in danger of eternal damnation.

30 For they ſayde, He hath an vncleane ſpirite.

|| Mat. 12.46 Luke. 8.19.

31 || There come his mother, and his brethren, and ſtanding without, ſent vnto him, calling him.

32 And the people ſate about him, & ſaid vnto him, Behold, thy mother, and thy brethren, & thy ſiſterne, ſeeke for thee without.

33 And he anſwered them, ſaying, Who is my mother, or my brethren?

34 And when he had looked rounde about on them which ſate about him, he ſaid, Beholde my mother and my brethren.

35 For whoſoeuer ſhal do the wil of god, the ſame is my brother, & my ſiſter, & mother.

¶ The. iiii. Chapter.

1. The parable of the ſowyer. 37. Chriſt ſtylleth the tempeſt of the ſea, vvhich obeyeth hym.

|| Matth. 13.1. Luke. 8.4.

AND || he began agayne to teache by the ſea ſide: and there gathered vnto him muche people, ſo that he entred into a ſhyp, and ſate in the ſea: and all the people was by the ſea ſide on the ſhore.

2 And he taught them many thinges by parables, & ſaid vnto them in his doctrine,

3 Hearken, Beholde, there went out a ſower to ſowe:

4 And it fortuned as he ſowed, that ſome fel by the wayes ſyde: and the fowles of the ayre came, and deuoured it vp.

5 Some fel on ſtonie grounde, where it had not muche earth: and immediatlye it ſprang vp, becauſe it had no deapth of earth.

6 But as ſoone as the ſunne was vp, it caught heate, and becauſe it had no roote, it wythered away.

7 And ſome fel among thornes, and the thornes grewe vp, and choked it, and it gaue no fruite.

8 And ſome fell on good grounde, and did yeelde fruite that ſprang vp, and grewe, and brought forth, ſome thirtie, and ſome ſixtie, and ſome an hundred.

9 And he ſaid vnto them, He that hath eares to heare, let hym heare.

10 And when he was alone, they that were about him, with the twelue, asked of hym the parable.

11 And he ſayd vnto them, Vnto you it is geuen to knowe the myſterie of the kyngdome of God: but vnto them that are without, al things are done by parables,

12 || That when they ſee, they may ſee, and not diſcerne: and when they heare, they may heare, and not vnderſtande, leſt at anye tyme they ſhoulde turne, and their ſinnes ſhoulde be forgeuen them.

|| Eſai. 6.9. Matth. 13.14. Luke. 8.10. Iohn. 12.40. Actes. 28.26. Rom. 11.8.

13 And he ſaid vnto them, Know ye not this parable? And howe then wyl ye knowe al parables?

14 The ſower ſoweth the woorde.

15 And they that receiued ſeede by the way ſide, are thoſe where the word is ſowen, but when they haue heard, Satan commeth immediatly, and taketh away the worde that was ſowen in their hartes.

16 And likewiſe they that receiue ſeede into the ſtony ground, are they, whiche when they haue heard the worde, at once receiue it with gladneſſe:

17 Yet haue no roote in them ſelues, and ſo endure but a time: and anone when trouble & perſecution ariſeth for the wordes ſake, immediatly they are offended.

18 And thoſe be they that receiue ſeede among thornes: and they are ſuch as heare the worde,

19 And the cares of this worlde, || and the deceytfulneſſe of rycheſſe, and the luſtes of other thinges entring in, choke the word, and it is made vnfruiteful.

|| 1. Tim. 6.

20 And they whiche receiued ſeede into good grounde, are ſuche as heare the worde, and receiue it, ſo that one corne dooth bring forth thirtie, ſome ſixtie, ſome an hundred.

21 And he ſaid vnto them, || Is the candle lighted to be put vnder a buſhel, or vnder the table? and not to be put on a candleſticke?

|| Mat. 5.15. Luke. 8.16. and. 11.33.

22 || For there is nothyng ſo priuie that ſhall not be opened: neither hath it ben ſo ſecrete, but that it ſhal come abrode.

|| Mat. 10.26. Luke. 8.17. and. 12.2.

23 If any man haue eares to heare, let hym heare.

24 And he ſaid vnto them, Take heede what ye heare: || With what meaſure ye meate, with the ſame ſhall it be meaſured to you agayne: And vnto you that heare, ſhall more be geuen.

|| Matth. 7.2. Luke. 6.38.

25 || For vnto hym that hath, ſhal it be geuen: and from him that hath not, ſhalbe taken away, euen that whiche he hath.

|| Mat. 13. and. 25.29. Luke. 8.18. and. 19.26.

26 And he ſayde, So is the kyngdome of God, euen as if a man ſhoulde ſowe ſeede in the grounde, 27 And ſhould ſleepe, and riſe night and day, and the ſeede ſhoulde ſpring and growe vp, he knoweth not howe.

28 For the earth bringeth forth fruite of her ſelfe, firſt the blade, then the eare, after that the full corne in the eare.

29 But when the fruit is brought forth, anone anone he thrusteth in the sickle, because the harvest is come.

Mat.13.31 Luke.13.19 30 And he sayd, || Wherevnto shal we liken the kingdome of God? Or with what comparison shal we compare it?

31 It is lyke a grayne of mustarde seed: which when it is sowen in the earth, is lesse then al seedes that be in the earth:

32 And when it is sowen, it groweth vp, and is greater then al herbes, and beareth great branches, so that the foules of the ayre may make their nestes vnder the shadowe of it.

Mat.13.34 33 ||And with many such parables preached he the worde vnto them, as they were able to heare it.

34 But without parable spake he not vnto them, but when they were alone, he expounded al things to his disciples.

Mat.8.23 Luke.8.22 35 ||And the same day when the euen was come, he sayth vnto them, Let vs passe ouer vnto the other syde.

36 And they leaft the people, and tooke hym, euen as he was in the ship, and there were also with him other litle shippes.

37 And there arose a great stourme of winde, and the waues dashed into the ship, so that it was nowe full.

38 And he was in the sterne a sleepe on a pyllowe: and they awake him, and say vnto him, Maister, carest thou not that we perish?

39 And he arose, and rebuked the wind, and said vnto the sea, Peace, and be stil: and the wind ceassed, and there followed a great calme.

40 And he saide vnto them, Why are ye fearful: Howe is it that ye haue no fayth?

41 And they feared exceedingly, & sayde one to another, Who is this? that both the winde and the sea obey him.

¶ The.v. Chapter.

8. Christ deliuereth the possessed from the vncleane spirite, 25. the woman from the bloodly issue.

Mat.8.28 Luke.8.26 AND || they came ouer to the other syde of the sea, into the countrey of the Gadarenes.

2 And when he was come out of the ship, immediatly there met him from among the tombes, a man possessed of an vncleane spirit,

3 Which had his abyding among the tombes, and no man coulde bynd him, no not with chaynes:

4 Because that he had ben often bound with fetters and chaynes, and the chaynes had ben plucked a sunder by him, & the fetters broken in peeces: neither coulde any man tame him.

5 And alwaies, night and day, he was in the mountaynes, & in the tombes, crying & al to cutting him selfe with stones.

6 But when he had spied Jesus afarre of, he ranne, and worshipped him:

7 And cryed with a loud voice, and said, What haue I to doo with thee, Jesus, thou sonne of the most hyghest God? I requyre thee in the name of God, that thou torment me not.

8 (For he sayde vnto hym, Come out of the man, thou foule spirite.)

9 And he asked him, What is thy name? And he answered, saying, My name is legion: for we are many.

10 And he prayed him instantly that he would not sende them away out of the countrey.

11 But there was there nigh vnto the mountaines, a great heard of swine, feeding.

12 And al the deuils besought him, saying, Sende vs into the swyne, that we may enter into them.

13 And anone Jesus gaue them leaue. And the vncleane spirites went out, and entred into the swine, & the heard ranne headlong into the sea (they were about two thousande) and were choked in the sea.

14 And the swineheardes fledde, and told it in the citie, & in the countrey. And they went out for to see what was done:

15 And they come to Jesus, and see him that was vexed with the feende, and had the legion, sitting, and clothed, and in his ryght minde: and they were afrayde.

16 And they that sawe it, told them how it came to passe to hym that was possessed with the deuil, and also of the swine.

17 And they began to pray him to depart out of their coastes.

18 And when he was come into the ship, he that had been possessed with the deuil, prayed him that he might be with him.

19 Howbeit, Jesus suffered him not, but saith vnto him, Goe home to thy freendes, and shewe them howe great thinges the Lord hath done for thee, and had compassion on thee.

20 And he departed, and began to publish in Decapolis, howe great thinges Jesus had done for him: and al men did marueyle.

21 And when Jesus was come ouer agayne by ship vnto the other syde, much people gathered vnto him, & he was nigh vnto the sea.

Mat.9.18 Luke.8.41 22 || And Beholde, there commeth one of the rulers of the synagogue, Jairus by name: and when he sawe him, he fel downe at his feete,

23 And besought him greatly, saying, My young daughter lieth at poynt of death,

I pray thee come and lay thy handes on her, that she may be safe, and she shal liue.

24 And Iesus went with him, and much people followed him, and thronged him.

25 And there was a certayne woman, which had ben diseased of an issue of blood twelue yeeres, 26 And had suffered many things, of many Phisitions, and had spent al that she had, and felt none amendment at all, but rather the worse.

27 When she had heard of Iesus, she came in the preasse behinde him, and touched his garment.

28 For she sayde, If I may but touche his clothes, I shalbe whole.

29 And straightway the fountayne of her blood was dried vp: and she felt in her body that she was healed of the plague.

30 And Iesus immediatly knowing in him selfe that vertue proceeded from him, turned him about in the preasse, and sayde, Who touched my clothes?

31 And his Disciples sayde vnto hym, Thou seest the people thrust thee, and askest thou, Who did touch me?

32 And he looked round about, for to see her that had done this thing.

33 But the woman fearing and trembling, knowing what was doone within her, came and fell downe before him, & tolde him al the trueth.

34 And he sayde vnto her, Daughter, thy fayth hath saued thee, goe in peace, and be whole of thy plague.

35 While he yet spake, there come from the ruler of the synagogues house, certayne which sayde, Thy daughter is dead, why diseasest thou the maister any further.

36 As soone as Iesus hearde the worde that was spoken, he saith vnto the ruler of the synagogue, Be not afrayd, only beleeue.

37 And he suffered no man to follow him, saue Peter, and James, and Iohn, the brother of James.

38 And he commeth to the house of the ruler of the synagogue, & seeth the tumult, and them that weapt and wayled greatly.

39 And when he was come in, he sayth vnto them, Why make ye this ado, & weepe? the Damsel is not dead, but sleepeth.

40 And they laught him to scorne: but he, after that he had put them all out, taketh the father and the mother of the Damsel, & them that were with him, and entreth in where the Damsel lay.

41 And when he had taken the Damsel by the hande, he saith vnto her, Talitha cumi, which is, being interpreted, Damsel (I say vnto thee) arise.

42 And straightway the Damsel arose, & walked, for she was of the age of twelue yeres: and they were astonied out of measure.

43 And he charged them straitly that no man shoulde knowe of it: and commanded to geue her meate.

¶ The. vi. Chapter.

Of Christes doinges and estimation in his owne countrey.

AND he || departed thence, and came, into his owne countrey, and his disciples followe him. || Mat.13. Luke.4.16

2 And when the Sabboth day was come, he began to teache in the synagogue: And many hearing him, were astonied, saying, From whence hath he these thinges? And what wysdome is this that is geuen vnto him, and suche mightye woorkes that are wrought by his handes?

3 Is not this the carpenter, Maries sonne, the brother of James & Ioses, and of Iuda and Simon? And are not his systers here with vs? And they were offended at hym.

4 || Iesus sayd vnto them, || A prophete is not without honor, but in his owne countrey, and among his owne kinne, and in his owne house. || Iohn.4.4

5 And he coulde there doo no mighty woorke: but laid his handes vpon a fewe sicke folke, and healed them.

6 And he marueiled because of their vnbeliefe. || And he went about by the villages that lay on euery side, teaching. || Mat.9. Luke.13.

7 || And he calleth the twelue, & began to sende them foorth, two and two, and gaue them power against vncleane spirites. || Mat.10. Luke.9.1

8 And commaunded them that they shoulde take nothing in their iourney, saue a staffe a only: no scrippe, no bread, no money in their purse: a. They may take a staffe for their ease & not to deck them selues. in Mat.x.

11 || And whosoeuer shal not receiue you, nor heare you, when ye depart thence, || shake of the dust that is vnder your feete, for a witnesse against them: I say verily vnto you, it shalbe easier for the Sodomites and the Gomorrheans in the day of iudgement, then for that citie. || Act.13.5 and.18.6

12 And they went out, and preached, that men should repent.

13 And they cast out many deuils, || and annoynted many that were sicke with oyle, and healed them. || Iam.5.

14 || And king Herode heard of him, (for his name was spread abroade:) and he sayde that Mat.14. Luke.9.7

15 Other sayde, that it is Elias. Some saide, That it is a prophete, or as one of the prophetes.

16 ||But when Herode had heard of him, he saide, It is John, whom I beheaded, he is risen from death.

17 For Herode him selfe had sent foorth and laid handes vpon John, and bound him in prison for Herodias sake, his brother Philips wyfe, because he had maryed her.

18 For John said vnto Herode, ||It is not lawful for thee to haue thy brothers wyfe.

19 Therfore Herodias laid waite for him, & would haue killed hym, but she coulde not.

20 For Herode feared John, knowyng that he was a iust man, and an holy, and gaue him reuerence: and when he heard him, he did many thinges, and heard hym gladly.

21 And when a conuenient daye was come, that Herode on his byrth day made a supper to the lords, high captaines, and cheefe estates of Galilee:

22 And when the daughter of the same Herodias came in, and daunced, & pleased Herode, and them that sate at boorde also, the king said vnto the Damsel, Aske of me whatsoeuer thou wylt, and I wyl geue it thee.

23 And he sware vnto her, Whatsoeuer thou shalt aske of me, I wyl geue it thee, euen vnto the one halfe of my kingdome.

24 And she went foorth, and sayde vnto her mother, What shal I aske? She sayde, John Baptistes head.

25 And she came in straightwaye with haste vnto the king, and asked, saying, I wyl that thou geue me by and by in a charger, the head of John Baptist.

26 And the king was exceedyng sorye, howbeit for his othes sake, and for their sakes which sate at supper also, he woulde not cast her of.

27 And immediatly the king sent the hangman, and commaunded his head to be brought in, and he went and beheaded hym in the prison, 28 And brought his head in a charger, and gaue it to the Damsel, and the Damsel gaue it to her mother.

29 And when his disciples heard of it they came and tooke vp his body, and layde it in a tombe.

30 And the apostles gather them selues together vnto Iesus, & tolde him al thynges, both what they had doone, and what they had taught.

31 And he saide vnto them, Come ye a lone out of the way into the wildernes, & rest a whyle. For there were many comers and goers, and they had no leysure so much as to eate.

32 || And they departed by shyppe out of the way into a desart place. ||Mat. 14.13 Luke.9.10.

33 And the people spied them when they departed, and many knewe him: & ran a foote thither out of al cities, and came thither before them, and came together vnto hym.

34 || And Iesus, when he came out, saw mucbe people, and had compassion on them, because they were like sheepe not hauing a shepeheard: ||And he began to teache them many thinges. ||Mat.9.36. and.14.14. ||Luk.9.11.

41 And when he had taken the fiue loaues, and the two fishes, and loked vp to heauen, he blessed, and brake the loaues, and gaue them to his disciples to set before them: & the two fishes diuided he among them al.

42 And they al dyd eate, & were satisfied.

43 And they tooke vp twelue baskets full of the fragmentes, and of the fishes.

44 And they that dyd eate the loaues, were about fiue thousande men.

49 But when they saw hym walking vpon the sea, they supposed it had been a spirit,

and

and cryed out.

50 (For they al sawe hym, and were troubled:) and anone he talked with them, and saith vnto them, Be of good cheare, It is I, be not afrayde.

51 And he went vp vnto them into the ship, and the wynde ceassed, and they were sore amazed in them selues beyond measure, and marueyled.

52 For they vnderstood not vvhat vvas doone of the loaues, because their hart was hardened.

¶ The. vii. Chapter.

2. The Pharisees finde fault at the disciples eatyng of meate vvith vnvvashen handes. 32. The healyng of the deafe and dumbe.

||Mat.15.2. AND ||the Pharisees come togeather vnto him, and certaine of the Scribes, which came from Hierusalem.

2 And when they sawe some of his disciples eate bread with defyled (that is to saye, with vnwashed handes) they found faulte.

3 For the Pharisees, and al the Iewes, except they washe their handes oft, eate not, obseruing the tradition of the elders.

4 And vvhen they come from the market, except they washe, they eate not. And many other thynges there be, which they haue taken vppon them to obserue, as the washyng of cuppes and pottes, brasen vessels, & of tables.

5 Then asked hym the Pharisees and Scribes, Why walke not thy disciples accordyng to the tradition of the elders, but eate bread with vnwashen handes?

6 He answeared and sayde vnto them, Surely Esaias hath prophesied wel of you hypocrites, as it is written, ||This people honoureth me with their lippes, but their hart is farre from me. ||Esai. 29.13

7 Howebeit in vaine doo they worshyp me, teaching doctrines, the commaundemēts of men.

8 For, the commaundemēt of God being layde apart, ye obserue the tradition of men, as the washyng of pottes and cuppes: and many other suche like thinges ye doo.

9 And he saide vnto them, Full well ye cast aside the commaundement of God, that ye may keepe your owne tradition.

10 For Moses saide, ||Honour thy father and thy mother: ||and who so curseth father or mother, let hym dye the death. ||Exod.20. Deut.5.16 Ephel.6.2 ||Exo.21. Leui.20.9 Pro.20.20 11 But ye say, if a man shall say to his father or his mother, Corban (that is, by the gyft) that is offred of me, thou shalt be holped.

12 And so ye suffer him no more to doo ought for his father, or his mother, 13 Making the worde of God of none effect through your tradition, whiche ye haue ordeyned: And many such thinges doo ye.

14 ||And when he had called al the people vnto him, he saide vnto them, Hearken vnto me euery one of you, and vnderstande. ||Mat.15.

15 There is nothing without a man that can defile hym, when it entreth into hym: but the thinges whiche proceede out of a man, those are they that defyle the man.

16 If any man haue eares to heare, let hym heare.

17 And when he came into the house, away from the people, his disciples asked him of the similitude.

18 And he saith vnto them, Are ye also without vnderstandyng? Doo ye not perceyue that whatsoeuer thyng from without entreth into the man, it can not defyle hym, 19 Because it entreth not into his hart, but into the belly, and goeth out into the draught, purging al the meates?

20 And he sayde, That which commeth out of the man, defyleth the man.

21 ||For from within, euen out of the hart of men, proceede euyl thoughtes, adulteries, fornications, murders, ||Gen.9.5 and.8.21.

24 And from thence he arose, and went into the borders of Tyre and Sidon, and entred into an house, and would that no man should haue knowen, but he could not be hyd.

25 For a certayne woman, whose young daughter had an vncleane spirite, when she had heard of him, came and fel at his feete.

26 (The woman was a Greeke, out of the nation of Syrophenissa:) and she besought him that he woulde cast out the deuyl from her daughter.

27 But Iesus sayde vnto her, Let the chyldren first be fedde: for it is not meete to take the chyldrens bread, & to cast it vnto the litle litle dogges.

28 She answeared, and saide vnto him, Yes lord, for the litle dogges also eate vnder the table of the chyldrens crumbes.

29 And he sayde vnto her, For this saying, goe thy way, the deuyl is gone out of thy daughter.

30 And when she was come home to her house, she found that the deuil was departed, and her daughter lying on the bed.

31 And when he was departed agayne from the coastes of Tyre and Sidon, he came vnto the sea of Galilee, through the middes of the coastes of Decapolis.

33 And when he had taken him aside from the people, he put his fyngers into his eares, & whē he had spit, touched his tongue.

34 And when he had looked vp to heauen, sighed, and sayd vnto him, Ephphatha, that is to say, Be thou opened.

35 And strayght way his eares were opened, and the stryng of his tongue was loosed, and he spake playne.

36 And he commaunded them that they should tel no man: but the more he cōmaunded them, so muche the more a great deale they publyshed it.

37 And were beyond measure astonied, saying, He hath done al thynges wel: he hath made both the deafe to heare, and the dumbe to speake.

3 And yf I sende them away fastyng to their owne houses, they shall faynte by the way: for diuers of them come from farre.

4 And his disciples answered him, From whence can a man satisfie these men with bread here in the wyldernesse?

5 And he asked thē. Howe many loaues haue ye? They sayde, Seuen.

6 And he commaunded the people to sit downe on the grounde: and he tooke the seuen loaues, and when he had geuen thankes, he brake, and gaue to his disciples to set before them: and they dyd set them before the people.

7 And they had a fewe smal fyshes: and when he had blessed, he commaunded to set them also before them.

15 And he charged them, saying, ‖ Take heede, beware of the leaue of the Pharisees, and of the leauen of Herode. ‖ Mat. 16. 5. ‖ Mat. 16. 6.

16 And they reasoned among them selues, saying, We haue no bread.

29 And he sayde vnto them, But whom say ye that I am? Peter answeareth, & sayth vnto him, Thou art very Christe.

30 And he charged them that they should tel no man.

31 And he began to teach them that the sonne of man must suffer many thynges, and be reprooued of the elders, and of the hygh priestes and scribes, and be kylled, and after three dayes ryse agayne.

32 And he spake that saying openly, and Peter tooke him aside, and began to rebuke him.

2. The transfiguration of Christ, 49. Of seasonyng vvith salte.

Mat.16.28 Luke.9.27. AND he sayd vnto them, ||Verily I say vnto you, that there be some of them that stande here, whiche shal in no wyse taste of death, tyll they haue seene the kingdome of God come with power.

2 And after syx dayes, Iesus taketh with him Peter, and Iames, and Iohn, and leadeth them vp into an hygh mountayne out of the way alone: and he was transfygured before them.

Mat.17.1. Luke.9.28. 3 ||And his rayment did shyne, and became very whyte, euen as snowe: so as no Fuller vpon the earth can whyte them.

4 And there appeared vnto them Elias with Moses: and they were talkyng with Iesus.

5 And Peter answered, and saith to Iesus, Maister, here is good being for vs: and let vs make three tabernacles, one for thee, & one for Moses, and one for Elias.

6 For he wyst not what he shoulde say: for they were sore afraide.

7 And there was a cloud that shadowed them: and a voyce came out of the cloud, saying, This is my beloued sonne: heare him.

8 And sodaynely when they had looked rounde about, they sawe no man, more then Iesus onely with them selues.

10 And they kept that saying with them, and demaunded one of an other, what the rysyng from the dead shoulde meane.

11 And they asked him, saying, Why the ||Malac.4. say the scribes that ||Elias must fyrst come?

12 He answeared, and sayde vnto them, Elias verily when he commeth fyrst, restoreth all thynges: and the sonne of man, ||as it is wrytten of him, shal suffer many things, and be set at nought. ||Esai.53.

13 But I say vnto you, that Elias is come, and they haue done vnto him what so euer they woulde, as it is wrytten of him.

14 ||And when he came to his disciples, he sawe muche people about them, and the scribes disputing with them. ||Mat.17. ||Luk.9.

15 And straightway al the people, when they beheld him, were greatly amazed, and runnyng to him, saluted him.

16 And he asked the scribes, What dispute ye "among your selues?

17 And one of the companie answeared, and sayd, Maister, I haue brought vnto thee my sonne whiche hath a dumbe spirite:

18 And where so euer he taketh him, he teareth him, and he foameth, & gnasheth with his teethe, and pineth away: and I spake to thy disciples that they shoulde caste him out, and they coulde not.

19 He answereth him, and sayth, O faithlesse nation, howe long shall I be with you, howe long shal I suffer you? Bring him vnto me.

20 And they brought him vnto him: and when he sawe him, straightway the spirite tare him, & whē he fel downe on the ground, he wallowed, fomyng.

24 And straightway, when the father of the child had cried with teares, he said, Lord, I beleeue, helpe thou mine vnbeleefe.

25 When Jesus sawe that the people came running together, he rebuked the foule spirite, saying vnto him, Thou dumbe and deafe spirite, I charge thee come out of him, and enter no more into hym.

26 And the spirite when he had cried, and rent him sore, came out of him, and he was as one that had ben dead, insomuche that many saide, He is dead.

27 But Jesus, when he had caught him by the hand, lifted hym vp: and he arose.

28 And when he was come into the house, his disciples asked him secretely, Why could not we cast him out?

29 And he saide vnto them, This kynde can come foorth by nothyng, but by prayer and fasting.

30 ||And after they departed thence, they tooke their iourney through Galilee, and he would not that any man should knowe it.

31 For he taught his disciples, and said vnto them, The sonne of man is delyuered into the handes of men, and they shal kil him, and after that he is killed, he shal ryse the thirde day.

32 But they vnderstoode not that saying, and were afrayde to aske him.

33 ||And he came to Capernaum: and when he was come into the house, he asked them, What was it that ye disputed among your selues by the waye?

34 And they helde their peace: For by the waye they had reasoned among them selues, who shoulde be the cheefest.

35 And when he was set downe, he called the twelue, and sayth vnto them, If any man desire to be first, the same shalbe last of al, and seruant vnto al.

36 And when he had taken a young chylde, he set hym in the midst of them: and when he had taken him in his armes, he said vnto them,

47 And if thine eye offend thee, plucke it out: it is better for thee to enter into the kingdome of god with one eye, then hauing two eyes, to be cast into hel fire:

48 Where their wourme dyeth not, and the fire is not quenched.

49 For euery man shalbe salted with fier, & ||euery sacrifice shalbe seasoned with salt. ||Leui.2.23.

15 Verily I say vnto you, Whosoeuer shal not receyue the kingdome of God as a young childe, he shal in no wise enter therein.

22 But he was discomforted because of that saying, and went away mourning: for he had great possessions.

23 And when Jesus had looked rounde about, he saith vnto his disciples, Howe hardly shal they that haue riches, enter into the kingdome of God?

24 And the disciples were astonied at his woordes. But Jesus answeareth agayne, and saith vnto them, Chyldren, how harde is it for them that trust in riches, to enter into the kingdome of God.

25 It is easier for a Camel to goe through the eye of a needle, then for the rich to enter into the kyngdome of God.

26 And they were astonied out of measure, saying among them selues, Who then can be saued?

27 Jesus, when he had looked vpon them, saith, With men it is vnpossible, but not with God: for with God al thinges are possible.

41. The poore vviddovves farthyng.

Mat.21.33 Luke.20.9. Esai.5.1. Iere.2.21. AND ||he beganne to speake vnto them by parables. A certayne man planted a Vineyarde, and he set an hedge about it, and dygged a wyne presse, and buylte a towre, and let it out to husbandmen, & went into a strange countrey.

2 And when the tyme was come, he sent to the husbandmen a seruant, that he myght receyue of the husbandmen of the fruit of the Vineyarde.

3 And they caught him, and beat him, and sent him away empty.

4 And agayne he sent vnto them an other seruant: and at him they cast stones, & brake his head, and sent him away al to reuiled.

5 And agayne he sent an other, and him they kylled: and many other, beatyng some, and kyllyng some.

6 And so when he had yet but one beloued son, he sent him also at ꝑ last vnto them, saying, They wyl stand in awe of my sonne.

7 But the husbandmen sayd amongest them selues, This is the heyre, come, let vs kyll him, and the inheritance shalbe ours.

8 And they tooke him, and kylled him, and cast him out of the Vineyard.

9 What shal therefore the Lorde of the Vineyard doo? He shal come and destroy the husbandmen, and wyll geue the Vineyarde vnto other.

10 Haue ye not read this Scripture? ||The stone whiche the buylders disalowed, is become the cheefe stone of the corner: ||Psa.118. Mat.21.42 Actes.4.11

11 This was the Lordes dooyng, and it is marueylous in our eyes?

12 They went about also to take him, and feared the people: for they knewe that he had spoken the parable agaynst them: and they left him, and went their way.

13 || And they sent vnto him certayne of the Pharisees and of the Herodians, to take him in his woordes. ||Mat.22. Luke.20.2

14 And when they were come, they say vnto him, Maister, we knowe that thou art true, and carest for no man: for thou consyderest not the persons of men, but teachest the way of God in trueth: Is it lawfull to geue tribute to Caesar, or not?

15 Shal we geue, or shall we not geue? But he knowing their hypocrisie, sayde vnto them, Why tempt ye me? Bryng me a peny, that I may see it.

16 And they brought it: and he saith vnto them, Whose is this image & superscription? And they sayde vnto him, Caesars.

17 And Jesus answearyng, sayde vnto them, Geue to ||Caesar the thinges that belong to Caesar: and to God, the things which parteyne to God. And they marueiled at him. ||Rom.13.

18 ||There come also vnto him the Saducees, whiche say there is no resurrection, and they asked him, saying, ||Mat.22. Luke.20.

19 Maister, ||Moses wrote vnto vs, yf any mans brother dye, and leaue his wyfe behind him, and leaue no children, that his brother shoulde take his wife, and raise vp seede vnto his brother. ||Deut.2

20 There were seuen brethren: and the first tooke a wife, and when he died, left no seede behinde him.

21 And the second tooke her, & died, neither left he any seede: & the third likewyse.

22 And seuen had her, and left no seede behinde them: last of al the wyfe died also.

23 In the resurrection therefore when they shal rise, whose wife shal she be of them?

for

for seuen had her to wife.

24 And Jesus answeryng, sayde vnto the, Do ye not therfore erre, because ye know not the scriptures, neither the power of god?

25 For when they shal rise from the dead, they neither mary, nor are geuen in mariage: but are as the angels whiche are in heauen.

26 As touching the dead that they ryse: haue ye not read in the booke of Moses, how in the bushe God spake vnto him, saying, || I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isahac, and the God of Jacob?

27 He is not the God of the dead, but god of the liuing: ye therfore do greatly erre.

28 || And when there came one of the scribes, and had heard them disputing togeather, and perceiued that he had answered them well, he asked him which is the fyrste commaundement of al.

29 Jesus answered him, The fyrst of al the commaundementes is, || Heare, O Israel, the Lorde our God is one Lorde:

30 And thou shalt loue the Lorde thy god with al thy hart, & with al thy soule, and with al thy minde, and with al thy strength. This is the fyrst commaundement:

31 And the seconde is lyke vnto this, Thou shalt loue thy neighbour as thee selfe: there is none other commaundement greater then these.

32 And the scribe said vnto him, Well maister, thou hast saide the trueth: for there is one God, and there is none other but he.

33 And to loue him with al the hart, and with all the vnderstanding, and with all the soule, and with al the strength, and to loue a man neighbour as him selfe, is greater then all the burnt offeringes and sacrifices.

34 And when Jesus saw that he answered discretely, he said vnto him, Thou art not farre from the kingdome of GOD. And no man after that durst aske him any question.

35 || And Jesus answearing, saide, teaching in the temple, How say the scribes that Christe is the sonne of Dauid?

36 For Dauid hym selfe inspired with the holy ghost, said, || The Lord sayd to my Lorde, Syt on my right hande, tyll I make thine enimies thy foote stoole.

37 Dauid him selfe calleth him Lorde: and whence is he then his sonne? And much people heard him gladly.

38 And he sayde vnto them in his doctrine, || Beware of the scribes, whiche desyre to walke in long clothing, and loue salutations in the market places, 39 And the cheefe seates in the synagogues, and the vppermost roomes at feastes.

40 || Which deuour widdowes houses, and vnder a pretence make long prayers:

These shal receiue greater dampnation.

41 || And when Jesus sate ouer agaynst the treasurie, he beheld how the people put money into the treasurie: and manye that were ryche, cast in muche. || Luke.21.1.

42 And there came a certayne poore widowe, and she threwe in two mites, whiche make a farthing.

43 And when he had called vnto hym his disciples, he saith vnto them, Verily I say vnto you, that this poore widow hath cast more in, then al they whiche haue cast into the treasurie.

44 For al they did cast in of their superfluitie: but she of her want, did cast in al that she had, euen al her liuing.

Here endeth the Gospel by S. Marke.

The Gospel by Saint Luke.

The first Chapter.

1. The Preface of Luke. 5. Of Zacharias and Elizabeth. 40. Mary visiteth Elizabeth.

FOrasmuch as many haue taken in hand to set forth in order the declaration of those things which are most surely "beleeued among vs,

* Or, prooued.

2 Euen as they deliuered them vnto vs, which from the beginning sawe them themselues with their eyes, and were ministers of the a worde:

a, That is, they were doers in suche thynges as be set foorth in the Gospel.

3 It seemed good to me also, hauing perfect vnderstandyng of al things from the beginning, to write vnto thee in order, most excellent Theophilus,

4 That thou mightest knowe the certaintie of those thinges wherof thou hast ben taught by mouth.

‖1 Chro.24.1 5 THere was in the dayes of Herode the kyng of Iurie, a certayne priest named Zacharias, ‖ of the course of Abia, and his wyfe was of the daughters of Aaron, and her name was Elizabeth.

6 They were both righteous before God, walkyng in al the commaundementes and ordinances of the Lorde, blamelesse.

7 And they had no childe, because that Elizabeth was barren, and they both were nowe wel stricken in age.

8 And it came to passe, that when Zacharie executed the priestes office before God, as his course came,

9 According to the custome of the priestes office, his lot was to burne incense when he went into the temple of the Lorde.

10 ‖ And the whole multitude of the people were without in prayer, whyle the incense was burnyng. ‖Leui.16.17 Exod.30.7

11 And there appeared vnto hym an angel of the Lord, standyng on the right side of the aulter of the incense.

12 And when Zacharias saw him, he was troubled, troubled, and feare fel vpon him.

13 But the angel sayd vnto him, Feare not Zacharie, for thy praier is heard, and thy wife Elizabeth shal beare thee a sonne, and thou shalt cal his name Iohn.

14 And thou shalt haue ioy and gladnesse, and many shal reioyce at his birth:

15 And he shalbe great in the sight of the Lorde, and shall neyther drinke wine nor strong drinke, and he shalbe fylled with the holy ghost, euen from his mothers wombe.

16 ||For many of the chyldren of Israel shal he turne to their Lorde God.

17 And he shal goe before him with the spirit and power of Elias, to turne the harts of the fathers to the children, and the disobedient to the wysedome of the iust men, to make redy a perfect people for the Lorde.

18 And Zacharias said vnto the Angel, By what token shal I know this? For I am olde, and my wife wel stricken in yeeres.

19 And the angel answering, said vnto him, I am Gabriel that stand in the presence of God, and was sent to speake vnto thee, & to shewe thee these glad tidinges.

20 And behold, thou shalt be dumbe, and not be able to speake, vntil the day that these thinges shalbe performed, because thou beleeuedst not my woordes, which shalbe fulfilled in their season.

21 And the people wayted for Zacharias, and marueyled that he taryed so long in the temple.

22 And when he came out, he could not speake vnto them: And they perceyued that he had seene a vision in the temple: For he beckned vnto them, & remained speachlesse.

23 And it came to passe, that assoone as the dayes of his office were out, he departed into his owne house.

24 And after those dayes, his wife Elizabeth conceyued, and hyd her selfe fyue monethes, saying, 25 Thus hath the Lord dealt with me in the daies wherein he looked on me, to take from me my rebuke b among men.

26 And in the sixth moneth, the angel Gabriel was sent from God, vnto a citie of Galilee, named Nazareth, 27 To a virgin, spoused to a man whose name was Ioseph, of the house of Dauid, & the virgins name was Marie.

28 And when the angel was come in vnto her, he sayde, Hayle thou that art in hygh fauour, the Lorde is with thee: Blessed art thou among women.

29 And when she saw him, she was troubled at his saying, and cast in her mind what manner of salutation this should be.

30 And the angel said vnto her, Feare not Marie, for thou hast found fauour with God.

31 ||For beholde, thou shalt conceiue in thy wombe, and beare a sonne, and shalt call his name Iesus.

32 He shalbe great, and shalbe called the sonne of the highest, and the Lorde God shal geue vnto him the seate of his father Dauid.

33 ||And he shal raigne ouer the house of Iacob for euer, & of his kingdome there shalbe none ende.

34 Then sayd Marie vnto the angel, How shal this be, seeing I knowe not a man?

35 And the angel answering, said vnto her, The holy ghost shal come vpon thee, and the power of the highest shal c ouershadowe thee. Therefore also that holy thing whiche shalbe borne, shalbe called the sonne of God.

36 And behold, thy cosin Elizabeth, she hath also conceiued a sonne in her olde age, and this is her sixth moneth, which was called barren.

37 For with God shal no word be vnpossible.

38 And Marie said, Behold the handmaiden of the Lorde, be it vnto me according to thy word: and the angel departed from her.

39 And Marie arose in those dayes, and went into the hyl countrey with haste, into a citie of Iuda, 40 And entred into the house of Zacharie, and saluted Elizabeth.

41 And it came to passe, that when Elizabeth hearde the salutation of Marie, the babe sprang in her wombe, and Elizabeth was fylled with the holy ghost.

42 And she spake out with a loud voice, and sayd, Blessed art thou among women, and the fruite of thy wombe is blessed.

43 And whence commeth this to me, that the mother of my Lorde should come to me?

44 For loe, assoone as the voyce of thy salutation sounded in mine eares, the babe sprang in my wombe for ioy.

45 And blessed is she that beleeued, for those things shalbe performed which were tolde her from the Lorde.

46 And Marie sayde, My soule magnifyeth the Lorde,

47 And my spirite hath reioyced in God my sauiour.

48 For he hath looked on the lowlinesse of his handmaiden, for loe now from henceforth shal al generations cal me blessed.

49 Because he that is mighty hath done to me great thinges, and holy is his name.

20 And the sheepheardes returned, glorifiyng and praysyng God, for al the thinges that they had heard and seene, euen as it was tolde vnto them.

21 ||And when the eight day was come, that the child should be circumcised, his name was called Jesus, whiche was so named of the angel before he was conceaued in the wombe.

22 And when the dayes of her purification, after the lawe of Moses, were accomplished, they brought hym to Hierusalem, to present him to the Lorde,

NOw in the fiftenth yeere of the raigne of Tiberius Caesar, Pontius Pilate beyng liefetenaunt of Iurie, and Herode beyng Tetrarch of Galilee, and his brother Philip Tetrarch of Iturea, and of the region of the Trachonites, & Lysanias the Tetrarch of Abiline,

2 ||When Annas and Caiaphas were the high a priestes, the woorde of the Lorde came vnto Iohn, the sonne of Zacharias, in the wildernesse.

3 And he came into all the coastes about Iordane: preachyng the baptisme of repentance, for the remission of sinnes,

4 As it is written in the booke of the woordes of Esaias the prophete, saying, ||The voice of a cryer in the wyldernesse, Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make his pathes straight.

5 Euery valley shalbe filled, and euery mountaine and hyl shalbe brought lowe, and things that be croked, shalbe made b straight, and the rough wayes shalbe made plaine.

6 And all flesh shal see the saluation of God.

7 Then sayde he to the people that were come forth to be baptised of hym, ||O generation of vipers, who hath forewarned you to flee from the wrath to come?

8 Bring forth therfore due fruites of repentance, and begin not to say within your selues, We haue Abraham to our father: For I saye vnto you, that God is able of these stones to raise vp children vnto Abraham.

9 Nowe also is the c axe layd vnto the roote of the trees: Euery tree therefore whiche bryngeth not forth good fruite, is hewen downe, and cast into the fyre.

12 Then came Publicanes e also to be baptised, and sayde vnto him, Maister, what shal we doo?

13 And he sayd vnto them, Require no more then that which is appointed vnto you.

14 The souldiers likewyse demaunded of hym, saying, And what shal we doo? And he sayde vnto them, Doo violence to no man, neyther accuse any falsely, and be content with your wages.

15 And the people wayted, and al men mused in their hartes of Iohn, whether he were very Christe.

4 And Jesus answered him, saying, || It is wrytten, that man shall not lyue by bread only, but by euery woorde of God.
5 And when the deuyl had taken him vp into an hygh mountayne, he shewed him all the kyngdomes of the worlde in a moment of tyme.
6 And the deuyl sayde vnto him, All this a power wyl I geue thee euery whyt, and the glory of them, for that is deliuered vnto me, and to whom so euer I wyll, I geue b it.
7 If thou therefore wylt worshyp me, it shalbe all thyne.

17 And there was deliuered vnto him the booke of the prophete Esaias: and when he had opened the booke, he founde the place where it is wrytten,

20 And when he had closed the booke, and geuen it agayne to the minister, he sate downe: and the eyes of al them that were in the synagogue were fastened on him.
21 And he began to say vnto them, This day is this scripture fulfilled in your eares.
22 And al bare him witnesse, and woondred at the gratious woordes whiche proceeded out of his mouth. And they sayde, Is not this Josephes sonne?
23 And he sayde vnto them, Ye wyll vtterly say vnto me this prouerbe, Physition, heale thee selfe: What so euer we haue heard done in Capernaum, doo the same here likewyse in thyne owne countrey.

37 And no man powreth new wyne into olde vessels: for if he doo, the new wyne wyll burst the vessels, and runne out it selfe, and the vessels shal perishe.

38 ‖ And stoode at his feete behind him, weepyng, and began to washe his feete with teares, and dyd wype them cleane with the heares of her head, and al to kissed his feete, and annoynted them with the oyntment. ‖ Mar. 15. Iohn. 20.

39 When the Pharisee, which had bydden him, sawe it, he spake within him selfe, saying, If this man were a prophete, he would surely knowe who, and what manner of woman this is that toucheth him, for she is a synner.

40 And Iesus answearyng, sayde vnto him, Simon, I haue somewhat to say vnto thee. And he sayth, Maister, say on.

41 There was a certayne lender, which had two debters: the one ought fyue hundred pence, and the other fyftie.

42 When they had nothyng to pay, he forgaue them both. Tel me therfore, whiche of them wyl loue him most?

43 Simon answeared, and sayde, I suppose, that he to whom he forgaue most. And he sayd vnto him, Thou hast truely iudged.

44 And he turned to the woman, & sayde vnto Simon, Seest thou this woman? I entred into thyne house, thou gauest me no water for my feete: but she hath washed my feete with teares, and wyped them with the heares of her head.

45 Thou gauest me no kysse: but this woman, since the tyme I came in, hath not ceassed to kysse my feete.

46 Myne head with oyle thou dyddest not annoynt: but this woman hath annoynted my feete with oyntment.

¶ The. viii. Chapter.

2. Christe and his apostles goe from Towne to Towne, and preache. 5. The parable of the seede, 16. and of the candle.

And

AND it came to passe afterwarde, that he hym selfe went throughout euery citie and village preaching, and shewyng the glad tidinges of the kyngdome of God: and the twelue were with him.

2 And also certaine women whiche had ben healed of euyll spirites and infirmities, Marie whiche is called Magdalene, || out of whom went seuen deuilles,

3 And Joanna the wyfe of Chuza Herodes stewarde, and Susanna, and many other, which ministred vnto him of theyr substance.

4 || When much people were geathered togeather, and were come to him out of al cities, he spake by a similitude.

5 The sower went out to sow his seede: and as he sowed, some fell by the way syde, and it was troden downe, and the foules of the ayre deuoured it vp.

6 And some fell on stones, and as soone as it was sprong vp, it withered away, because it lacked moystnesse.

7 And some fell among thornes, * and the thornes sprang vp with it, and choked it.

8 And some fell on good grounde, and sprang vp, and bare fruite an hundred folde. And as he said these things, he cried, He that hath eares to heare, let hym heare.

9 And his disciples asked hym, saying, What manner of similitude is this?

10 And he sayde vnto them, Vnto you it is geuen to knowe the secretes of the kyngdome of god: but to other by parables, || that when they see, they shoulde not see, and when they heare, they shoulde not vnderstande.

11 || The parable is this, The seede is the worde of God.

12 Those that are beside the way, are they that heare: then commeth the deuil, and taketh away the worde out of theyr hartes, lest they shoulde beleeue, and be saued.

13 They on the stones are they, whiche when they heare, receiue the worde with ioy: and these haue no rootes, which for a whyle beleeue, and in tyme of temptation go away.

14 And that which fel among thornes, are they, whiche when they haue heard, goe forth, and are choked with cares and riches, and voluptuous lyuyng, and bryng forth no fruite.

15 But that whiche fell on the good grounde, are they whiche with a pure and good hart heare the worde, and keepe it, and bryng forth fruite through pacience.

16 || No man when he lighteth a candel, couereth it with a vessell, or putteth it vnder a bed: but setteth it on a candelsticke, that they whiche enter in, may see the lyght.

17 || For nothyng is secrete, that shall not be made manifest: neither any thing hid, that shal not be knowen, and come to light.

18 Take heede therfore how ye heare: || for whosoeuer hath, to him shalbe geuen: and whosoeuer hath not, from hym shalbe taken, euen that same whiche he supposeth that he hath.

19 || Then came to him his mother and his brethren, and coulde not come at him for preasse.

20 And it was told him by certayne whiche said, Thy mother and thy brethren stand without, willing to see thee.

21 He answeared and saide vnto them, My mother and my brethren a are these whiche heare the worde of God, and do it.

22 || And it came to passe on a certayne day, that he went into a shyp, and his disciples also: and he sayde vnto them, Let vs goe ouer vnto the other syde of the lake. And they launched forth.

23 But as they sayled, he fel asleepe, and there came downe a storme of winde on the lake, and they were fylled with water, and were in ieopardie.

24 And they came to him, and awooke hym, saying, Maister, maister, we are lost. Then he rose, and rebuked the winde, and the tempest of water: and they ceassed, and it waxed calme.

25 And he sayde vnto them, Where is your fayth? And they feared, and wondred, saying one to another, Who is this? For he commaundeth both the windes and water, and they obey him.

26 || And they sayled vnto the region of the Gadarenites, which is ouer against Galilee.

27 And when he went out to land, there met him out of the citie a certaine man whiche had deuils long time, & ware no clothes, neither abode in any house, but in graues.

28 When he sawe Jesus, and had cried aloude, he fell downe before hym, and with a loude voyce sayde, What haue I to do with thee Jesus, thou sonne of God most hyghest? I beseeche thee torment me not.

29 (For he commaunded the foule spirite to come out of the man: For oftentimes he had caught him, and he was bounde with chaynes, and kept with fetters: and he brake the bandes, and was caryed of the feende into the wylderneſſe.)

30 And Jesus asked hym, saying, What is thy name? And he sayd, Legion: because many deuyls were entred into hym.

31 And they besought him that he would not commaunde them to goe out into the deepe.

37 And he sayde, He that shewed mercy on him. Then saide Iesus vnto hym, Goe, and do thou likewyse.

38 Now it came to passe as they went, that he entred into a certayne village: and a certayne woman, named Martha, receiued him into her house.

39 And this woman had a syster called Marie, whiche also sate at Iesus feete, and hearde his woorde:

40 But Martha was cumbred about much seruing, and came to hym, and sayde, Lord, doest thou not care that my sister hath left me to serue alone? Bid her therfore that she helpe me.

e. That is, the hearing of the worde of God, from whiche it was not meete that she should be drawen, hauyng not alwayes oportunitie to heare the same.

41 And Iesus answeared, and said vnto her, Martha, Martha, thou art carefull, and troubled about many thynges:

42 Verily one is needeful, Marie hath chosen the good part, e whiche shall not be taken away from her.

The. xi. Chapter.

1. Christ teacheth his disciples to pray, 14. He driueth out a dumbe deuyl.

AND so it was, that as he was praying in a certayne place, when he ceassed, one of his disciples sayde vnto him,
Lord, teach vs to pray, as Iohn also taught his disciples.

2 And he sayde vnto them, When ye pray, say, || O our father whiche art in heauen, Halowed be thy name. Thy kingdome come. Thy wyl be done, euen in earth also as it is in heauen.

||Mark. 6.9.

3 Our dayly bread geue vs this day.
4 And forgeue vs our sinnes: for euen we forgeue euery man that trespasseth vs. And leade vs not into temptation, but deliuer vs from the euyl.
5 And he sayd vnto them, Which of you shal haue a freende, and shall goe vnto hym at midnight, and say vnto him, Freende, lende me three loaues:
6 For a freende of mine is come out of the way to me, and I haue nothyng to set before him.
7 And he from within shal answere, and say, Trouble me not, the doore is nowe shut, and my children are with me in bed: I can not rise and geue thee.
8 I say vnto you, Though he wyll not rise, and geue him, because he is his freende: yet because of his importunitie, he wil ryse, and geue him as many as he needeth.
9 ‖ And I say vnto you, Aske, & it shalbe geuen you: seeke, and ye shal finde: knocke, and it shalbe opened vnto you.
10 ‖ For euery one that asketh, receiueth: and he that seeketh, findeth: and to him that knocketh, it shalbe opened.
11 ‖ If the sonne shal aske bread of any of you that is a father, will he geue him a stone? Or if he aske fishe, wyl he for fishe geue him a Serpent?
12 Or if he shal aske an egge, wil he offer him a Scorpion?
13 If ye then, being euil, haue knowledge to geue good gyftes vnto your children: howe muche more shal your father of heauen geue the holy spirite to them that desyre it of him?
14 And he was casting out a deuil, and the same was dumbe. And it came to passe, when the deuill was gone out, the dumbe spake: and the people wondred.
15 But some of them said, ‖ He casteth out deuils, through Beelzebub the cheefe of the deuils.
16 And other tempting him, required of him a signe from heauen.
17 But he knowing their thoughtes, sayd vnto them, ‖ Euery kyngdome diuided against it selfe, is desolate: and a house diuided against a house, falleth.
18 If Satan also be diuided against him selfe, howe shal his kingdome endure? Because ye say that I cast out deuils through Beelzebub.
19 If I by "Beelzebub cast out deuils, by whom do your children cast them out? therfore shal they be your iudges.
20 But if I with the finger of God cast out deuils, no doubt the kyngdome of GOD is come vpon you.
21 When the strong man armed, keepeth his palace, his goodes are in peace.
22 But when a stronger then he shall come vpon him, and ouercome hym, he taketh from him all his harnesse wherein he trusted, and diuideth his spoyles.
23 He that is not with me, is against me: & he that gathereth not with me, scatereth.
24 When the vncleane spirite is gone out ‖ of a man, he walketh through drie places, seeking rest: and finding none, he sayth, I wyll returne vnto my house, whence I came out.
25 And when he commeth, he findeth it swept, and garnished.
26 ‖ Then goeth he, and taketh to him seuen other spirites woorse then hym selfe, and they enter in, and dwel there, and the last state of that man is woorse then the first.
27 And it came to passe as he spake these thinges, a certayne woman of the company lyft vp her voyce, and sayde vnto hym, Happie is the wombe that bare thee, and the pappes whiche thou hast sucked.
28 But he sayd, Yea rather happie are they that heare the word of God, and kepe it.
29 ‖ When the people were gathered thicke together, he began to say, This is an euil nation: they seeke a signe, and there shal no signe be geuen them, ‖ but the signe of Jonas the prophete.
30 For as Jonas was a signe vnto the Niniuites, so shall also the sonne of man be to this nation.
31 ‖ The queene of the south shal rise in iudgement with the men of this nation, and condemne them: for she came from the vtmost partes of the earth, to heare the wysedome of Solonton: and beholde, a greater then Solomon is here.
32 The men of Niniue shall rise in iudgement with this nation, and shall condemne them: ‖ for they repented at the preaching of Jonas, and beholde, a greater then Jonas is here.
33 ‖ No man when he hath lyghted a candel, putteth it in a priuie place, neither vnder a bushell: but on a candelsticke, that they whiche come in, may see the light.

35 Take heede therefore, that the light whiche is in thee, be not darkenesse.

43 ||Wo vnto you Pharisees: for ye loue the vppermost seates in the synagogues, and greetinges in the markettes.

44 Wo vnto you Scribes and Pharisees hypocrites: for ye are as graues whiche appeare not, and the men that walke ouer them,are not ware of them.

45 Then answeared one of the lawyers, and sayde vnto hym, Maister, thus saying, thou puttest vs to rebuke also.

46 || And he sayd, Wo vnto you also ye lawyers: for ye lade men with burdens greeuous to be borne, and ye your selues touche not the burdens with one of your fyngers.

47 Wo vnto you,for ye builde the sepulchres of the prophetes, and your fathers killed them.

48 Truely ye beare witnesse that ye allowe the deedes of your fathers: for they kylled them, and ye builde their sepulchres.

49 Therfore sayd the wisedome of God, I wil send them prophetes and apostles,and some of them they shal slay and persecute:

50 That the blood of al the prophetes, whiche was shed from the fundation of the worlde,may be required of this generation,

51 || From the blood of Abel, vnto the blood of Zacharie, which perished betweene the alter and the temple: Verily I say vnto you, it shalbe required of this nation.

52 Wo vnto you lawyers, for ye haue taken away the c key of knowledge: ye entred not in your selues,and them that came in, ye forbad.

53 When he thus spake vnto them, the lawyers and the Pharisees began to vrge hym vehemently,& to prouoke him to speake many thinges:

54 Laying waite for him,and seeking to catche something out of his mouth, whereby they might accuse him.

19 And I wyll say to my soule, Soule, thou hast muche goodes layde vp in store for many yeeres, take thine ease, eate, drinke, and be merry.

20 But God sayd vnto him, Thou foole, this night doo they require thy soule againe from thee: then whose shal those thinges be, which thou hast prouided?

21 So is he that gathereth rychesse to him selfe, and is not riche towardes God.

25 Which of you with taking thought, can adde to his stature one cubite?

26 If ye then be not able to doo that thing whiche is least: why take ye thought for the remnant?

27 Consyder the Lilies how they grow, they labour not, they spinne not: and yet I say vnto you, that Solomon in al his royaltie, was not clothed like one of these.

28 If God so clothe the grasse, which is to day in the feeld, and to morowe is cast into the furnace: how muth more wyl he clothe you, O ye of litle faith?

30 For al such things doo the people of the world seeke for: and your father knoweth that ye haue neede of these thinges.

31 But rather seeke ye after the kingdome of God, and al these thinges shalbe added vnto you.

32 Feare not O litle flocke, for it is your fathers good pleasure to geue you a kyngdome.

42 And the Lord saide, Who is a faythful and wyse stewarde, whom his Lorde shal make ruler ouer his houshold, to geue them their portion of meate in due season?

43 Happy is that seruaunt, whom his Lorde when he commeth, shall fynde so dooyng.

8. Of the figge tree that bare no fruite. 24 How enter into the kingdome of Christe.

THere were present at the same season, certayne men that shewed hym of the Galileans, whose blood a Pilate had myngled with theyr owne sacrifice.

3 I tel you, Nay: but except ye repent, ye shal al likewyse perishe.

5 I tel you, Nay: but except ye repent, ye shal al likewyse perishe.

6 He told also this similitude. A certaine man had a figge tree planted in his vineparde, and he came and sought fruite thereon, and founde none.

7 Then sayd he to the dresser of his vineparde, Beholde, this three yeeres I come seekyng fruite in this fygge tree, and fynde none: cut it downe, why cumbreth it the grounde?

8 And he answearing, sayde vnto hym, Lord, let it alone this yeere also, tyll I shall digge round about it, and doung it:

9 And if it beare fruite, thou mayest let it alone: and if it beare not, then after that thou shalt cut it downe.

10 And he was teachyng in one of their Synogogues on the Sabboth dayes.

12 When Iesus sawe her, he called her to him, and sayd vnto her, Woman, thou art loosed from thy disease.

13 And he layde his handes on her, and immediatly she was made straight, and glorifyed God.

14 And the ruler of the synagogue answered with indignation, because that Iesus had healed on the Sabboth day, and sayde vnto the people, There are sixe dayes in which men ought to woorke: in them therfore come, that ye may be healed, and not on the Sabboth day.

15 But the Lord answeared hym, and sayd, Thou hypocrite, dooth not eche one of you on the Sabboth daye loose his oxe or his asse from the staule, and leade hym to the water?

16 And ought not this daughter of Abraham, whom Satan hath bounde loe eyghteene yeeres, be loosed from this bonde on the Sabboth day?

17 And when he sayde these thynges, al his aduersaries were ashamed: and all the people reioyced for all the excellent deedes that were done by hym.

5 And answeared them, saying, Whiche of you shal haue an asse or an oxe fallen into a pyt, and wyll not straightway pull him out on the Sabboth day?

6 And they could not answeare hym agayne to these thynges.

¶ The.xv. Chapter.

The great mercy of God is set foorth in the parable of the lost sheepe.

THen resorted vnto him all the Publicanes and synners, for to heare him.

The Gospel on the.iii. sunday after Trinitie.

2 And the Pharisees and Scribes murmured, saying, He receyueth synners, & eateth with them.

3 But he put foorth this parable vnto them, saying,

4 ‖ What man of you, hauing an hundred sheepe, yf he loose one of them, doeth not leaue nyentie and nine in the wyldernesse, and goe after that whiche is lost, vntyl he fynde it?

‖ Mat.18.12

5 And when he hath founde it, he layeth it on his shoulders, reioycyng:

6 And when he commeth home, he calleth togeather his freendes and neyghbours, saying vnto them, Reioyce with me: for I haue founde my sheepe whiche was lost.

7 I say vnto you, that lykewyse ioy shalbe in heauen ouer one synner that repenteth, more then ouer nientie & nine iust persons, whiche neede no repentance.

8 Eyther what woman hauyng a tenne peeces of syluer, yf she loose one peece, doeth not lyght a candle, and sweepe the house, & seeke diligently tyl she fynde it?

a. One peece of this money, is somewhat more then fyue pence of olde sterling money 9 And when she hath founde it, she calleth her freendes and her neyghbours togeather, saying, Reioyce with me, for I haue founde the peece whiche I had lost.

10 Lykewyse I say vnto you, there is ioy in the presence of the angels of God ouer one synner that repenteth.

11 And he sayde, A certayne man had two sonnes:

12 And the younger of them sayd to his father, Father, geue me the portiõ of the substance that to me belongeth. And he diuided vnto them his lyuing.

13 And not many dayes after, when the younger sonne had geathered all that he had togeather, he tooke his iourney into a farre countrey, and there wasted his substaunce with riotous lyuyng.

14 And when he had spent all, there arose a great dearth in that lande, and he began to lacke.

15 And going, he ioyned him selfe to a citizen of that countrey: and he sent him into his feeldes to feede swyne.

16 And he would fayne haue fylled his belly with the coddes that the swyne dyd eate: and no man gaue vnto him.

17 And when he came to him selfe, he sayde, Howe many hyred seruantes of my fathers haue bread ynough & spare, & I perysh with with hunger?

18 I wyll aryse, and goe to my father, & wyl say vnto him, Father, I haue synned agaynst heauen, and before thee, 19 And am no more worthy to be called thy sonne: make me as one of thy hyred seruantes.

20 And he arose, and came to his father. But when he was yet a great way of, his father sawe him, and had compassion, and ran, and fel on his necke, and al too kyssed him.

21 And the sonne sayde vnto him, Father, I haue synned agaynst heauen, and in thy syght, and am no more worthy to be called thy sonne.

22 But the father sayd to his seruants, Bryng foorth the best garment, and put it on him, and put a ryng on his hande, and shooes on his feete.

23 And bryng hither that fat Calfe, and kyl it, and let vs eate, and be merie.

24 For this my sonne was dead, and is alyue agayne: he was lost, and is founde. And they began to be merie.

25 The elder brother was in the feelde: and when he came & drue nygh to the house, he hearde mynstrelsie, and daunsyng, 26 And called one of his seruantes, and asked what those thynges meant.

27 And he sayde vnto him, Thy brother is come, and thy father hath kylled the fatte Calfe, because he hath receyued him safe and founde.

28 And he was angrye, and would not goe in: therefore came his father out, and intreated him.

29 He answearyng, sayde to his father, Loe, these many yeeres doo I serue thee, neither brake I at any time thy cõmaundement, and yet thou neuer gauest me a Kyd, that I myght make merie with my freendes:

30 But as soone as this thy sonne was come, which hath deuoured thy substance with harlottes, thou hast for his pleasure kylled that fat Calfe.

31 And he sayde vnto him, Sonne, thou art euer with me, & all that I haue is thine.

32 It was meete that we should make merie, and be glad: for this thy brother was dead, and is alyue agayne: and was lost, and is founde.

¶ The. xvi. Chapter.

13. No man can serue two maisters. 19. The riche glutton, and Lazarus.

The Gospel on the. ix. sunday after Trinitie.

AND he sayde vnto his disciples, There was a certayne ryche man which had a Stewarde, and the same was accused vnto him that he had wasted his goodes.

2 And when he had called him, he sayd vnto him, Howe is it that I heare this of thee? Geue accompts of thy Stewardshyp: for thou mayest be no longer Stewarde.

3 The Steward sayd within him selfe, What shal I do, for my maister taketh away from me the Stewardshyp? I can not dyg, and to begge I am ashamed.

4 I wote what to doo, that when I am put out of the Stewardshyp, they maye receiue me into their houses.

5 So whē he had called al his maisters detters togeather, he sayde vnto the fyrst, Howe muche owest thou vnto my maister?

6 And he sayd, An hundred measures of oyle. And he sayde vnto him, Take thy byl, and syt downe quickly, and wryte fyftie.

7 Then sayd he to another, Howe much owest thou? And he sayd, An hundred measures of wheate. He sayd vnto him, Take thy byl, and wryte fourescore.

8 And the Lorde commended a the vniust Stewarde, because he had done wysely: for the chyldren of this worlde, are in their nation wyser then the chyldren of lyght.

9 And I say vnto you, Make you b frendes of the vnryghteous c Mammon, that when ye shall haue neede, they may receyue you into the euerlastyng d habitations.

10 He that is faythfull in that whiche is least, is faythfull also in muche: and he that is vnryghteous in the least, is vnryghteous also in muche.

11 So then, yf ye haue not been faythfull in the vnryghteous Mammon, who shall trust you in the true treasure?

12 And yf ye haue not been faythfull in that which is an other mans, who shall geue you that whiche is your owne?

13 No seruant can serue two maisters, for either he shal hate the one, and loue the other: or els he shal leane to the one, & despyse the other: ye can not serue God & Mammon.

14 All these thynges hearde the Pharisees also whiche were couetous: & they mocked him greatly.

15 And he saide vnto them, Ye are they whiche iustifie your selues before men, but God knoweth your hartes: for that whiche is hyghly esteemed among men, is abomination in the syght of God.

19 There was a certayne riche man, which was clothed in purple and fine white, and fared very delitiously euery day.

20 And there was a certaine begger named Lazarus, whiche was layde at his gate ful of sores:

21 And desyryng to be refreshed with the crumbes whiche fel from the riche mans boorde, And no man gaue vnto hym: but the dogges came and licked his sores.

22 And it came to passe that the begger died, and was carryed by the angels into c Abrahams bosome: The riche man also dyed, and was buryed.

23 And beyng in hel in tormentes, when he had lyfted vp his eyes, he seeth Abraham a farre of, and Lazarus in his bosome:

24 And he cryed, and sayde, Father Abraham haue mercy on me, and sende Lazarus, that he may dippe the tippe of his fynger in water, and coole my tongue, for I am tormented in this flame.

25 But Abraham sayd, Sonne, remember that thou in thy life tyme receiuedst thy pleasure, and likewyse Lazarus paynes, but now is he comforted, and thou art tormented.

26 Besides al this, betweene vs and you there is a great gulfe stedfastly set, so that they which would goe from hence to you, can not, neyther haue they passage to vs that woulde come from thence.

27 Then he sayde, I pray thee therfore father, that thou wouldest send him to my fathers house:

28 For I haue fiue brethren, that he may witnesse vnto them, lest they also come into this place of torment.

29 Abraham sayth vnto him, They haue Moses and the prophetes, let them heare them.

30 And he sayde, Nay father Abraham: but if one come vnto them from the dead, they wyl repent.

31 He said vnto him, If they heare not Moses and the prophetes, neither wyl they beleeue though one rose from death.

5 And the Apostles sayde vnto the Lord, Increase our fayth.

6 ||And the Lord sayde, If ye had fayth as muche as a grayne of mustarde seede, ye shoulde say vnto this Sycamine tree, Be thou plucked vp by the roote, and be thou planted in the sea, and it should obey you.

8 And wyl not rather say vnto hym, Dresse wherewith I may suppe, and gyrd vp thee selfe, and serue me, tyl I haue eaten and dronken: and afterwarde thou shalt eate and drinke.

4 And he would not for a whyle. But afterward he sayd within hym selfe, Though I feare not God, nor care for man, 5 Yet because this wydowe muche troubleth me, I wyl auenge her, lest she come at the last, and make me weery.

8 I tel you that he wyl auenge them, & that quickly. Neuertheless, when the sonne of man commeth, shall he fynde fayth on the earth?

9 And he tolde this parable vnto certayne which trusted in them selues that they were righteous, and dispised other:

10 Two menne went vp into the temple to pray, the one a Pharisee, and the other a Publicane.

11 The Pharisee stoode and prayed thus with hym selfe, God I thanke thee, that I am not as other men are, extortioners, vniust, adulterers, or as this publicane.

‖ Mat. 21. 1. Mark. 11. 1. 29 ‖ And it came to passe, when he was come nygh to Bethphage and Bethanie, beside the mount whiche is called Oliuet, he sent two of his disciples, 30 Saying, Go ye into the towne whiche is ouer against you, in the which at your entryng ye shal fynde a Colte tied, whereon yet neuer man sate: loose him, and bryng him hyther.

31 And yf any man aske you, Why doo ye loose him? Thus shall ye say vnto him, Because the Lorde hath neede of him.

32 They that were sent, went their way, and founde euen as he had sayde vnto them.

33 And as they were a loosyng the colt, the owners thereof sayde vnto them, Why loose ye the colte?

34 And they sayde, For the Lorde hath neede of him.

35 ‖ And they brought him to Iesus: & their garmentes beyng cast on the colte, they set Iesus thereon. ‖ Mat. John.

36 And as he went, they spread their clothes in the way.

37 And when he was nowe come nygh to the goyng downe of the mount Oliuet, the whole multitude of the disciples beganne reioycyng to praise God with a loude voyce, for all the miracles that they had seene, 38 Saying, Blessed be the kyng that commeth in the name of the Lorde, peace in heauen, and glory in the hyghest.

39 And some of the Pharisees of the company sayd vnto him, Maister, rebuke thy disciples.

40 He answearyng, sayde vnto them, I tel you, that yf these would hold their peace, then shal the stones crye immediatly.

41 And when he was come neare, he beholde the citie, and wept on it:

42 ‖ Saying, yf thou hadst knowē those thynges whiche belong vnto thy peace, euen in this thy day: but nowe are they hydde from thyne eyes.

43 For the dayes shal come vppon thee, that thyne enimies also shall caste a banke about thee, and compasse thee rounde, & keepe thee in on euery syde:

44 And make thee euē with the ground, and thy chyldren which are in thee: and they shal not leaue in thee one stone vpō an other, because thou knowest not the tyme of thy visitation.

45 ‖ And he went into the temple, and began to cast out them that solde therin, and them that bought, ‖ Mat. Mar.

46 ‖ Saying vnto them, It is wrytten, My house is the house of prayer: but ye haue made it a denne of theeues. ‖ Esai. Jerem.

47 And he taught dayly in the temple. But the high priestes and the scribes, and the chefe of the people, went about to destroy him, 48 And coulde not fynde what to doo: for all the people dyd hang of him, when they hearde him.

¶ The. xx. Chapter.

17. Christe the stone reproued. 41. Christe the sonne of Dauid.

1 And

AND ||it came to passe, that on one of those dayes, as he taught the people in the temple, and preached the Gospel, the high priestes and the scribes came vpon him, with the elders,

2 And spake vnto hym, saying, Tell vs, by what authoritie doest thou these thinges? Either who is he that gaue thee this authoritie?

3 He answearing, said vnto them, I wil also aske you one worde, and answeare me.

4 The baptisme of a Iohn, was it from heauen, or of men?

5 And they reasoned with them selues, saying, If we shal say from heauen, he wyll say, Why then beleeued ye hym not?

6 But and yf we say of men, al the people wil stone vs: For they be perswaded that Iohn is a prophete.

7 And they answered, that they coulde not tel whence it was.

8 And Iesus sayd vnto them, Neyther tel I you by what authoritie I doo these thinges.

9 Then began he to put forth to the people this parable. ||A certayne man planted a vineyarde, and let it forth to husbandmen, and went him selfe into a straunge countrey for a great season.

10 And when the tyme was come, he sent a seruant to the husbandmen, that they shoulde geue hym of the fruite of the vineyard. But they, when they had beaten him, sent him away emptie.

11 And againe, he sent yet another seruant: but they, when they had beaten hym also, and intreated him shamefully, sent him away emptie.

12 Agayne, he sent the thirde, and when they had wounded hym also, they cast him out.

13 Then said the Lord of the vineyard, What shal I do? I wil send my deare sonne: it may be they wil reuerence him when they see hym.

14 But when the husbandmen sawe him, they reasoned within them selues, saying, This is the heyre, come, let vs kyll him, that the inheritance may be ours.

15 And when they had cast him out of the vineyarde, they kylled hym. What then shall the Lorde of the vineyarde do vnto them?

16 He shal come and destroy these husbandmen, and shal let out his vineyarde to other. When they heard this, they said, God forbyd.

17 And he beheld them, and said, ||What is this then that is written, The stone that b the builders disalowed, the same is become the head of the corner.

18 Whosoeuer shal stumble vpon that stone, shalbe broken: but on whomsoeuer it shal fal, it wyl grinde hym to powder.

19 And the high priestes and the scribes the same houre went about to lay handes on hym, and they feared the people: for they perceiued that he had spoken this similitude against them.

20 And they watched hym, and sent forth spyes, which should fayne them selues righteous men, that they might take holde of his wordes, to deliuer him vnto the power and authoritie of the deputie.

21 And they asked him, saying, ||Maister, we knowe that thou sayest & teachest right, neyther considerest thou the outwarde appearance of any man, but teachest the way of God truely:

22 Is it lawfull for vs to geue tribute vnto Caesar, or no?

23 When he had perceiued their craftinesse, he said vnto them, Why tempt ye me?

24 Shewe me a peny: whose image and superscription hath it? They answearyng, sayde, Caesars.

25 And he sayd vnto them, ||Geue then vnto Caesar the thinges whiche belong vnto Caesar: and to God the thynges that parteyne vnto God.

26 And they could not reproue his sayinges before the people: and they maruelled at his answeare, and helde their peace.

27 Then ||came to hym certaine of the Saducees (whiche deny that there is any resurrection) and they asked hym,

28 Saying, Maister, ||Moses wrote vnto vs, If any mans brother dye, hauing a wife, and he dye without chyldren, that then his brother shoulde take his wyfe, and raise vp seede vnto his brother.

29 There were therfore seuen brethren, and the first, when he had taken a wife, dyed without chyldren.

30 And the second toke her to wife, and he died childlesse.

31 And the third tooke her, and in likewise the residue of the seuen, and left no chyldren behinde them, and dyed.

32 Last of al, the woman dyed also.

33 Now in the resurrection whose wife of them is she? for seuen had her to wyfe.

34 Iesus answearing, said vnto them, The children of this c world marry wiues, and are maryed.

35 But they which shalbe counted worthy to enioy that world, and the resurrection from the dead, do not marrye wyues, neyther are maryed:

36 For neither can they dye any more,

4. Iudas selleth Christe. 7. They eate the Passeouer.

The Gospel on wednesday next before Easter.

THe feast of sweete breade drue nigh, which is called the Passeouer.

2 And the high Priestes and Scribes sought howe they might kil him, for they feared the people.

6 And he consented, and sought opportunitie to betray him vnto them without tumult.

||Mat.26.17 Mark.14.3. 7 ||Then came the day of sweete breade, when of necessitie the Passeouer must be killed.

8 And he sent Peter and John, saying, Goe and prepare vs the Passeouer, that we may eate.

9 They sayd vnto him, Where wylt thou that we should prepare it?

10 And he sayde vnto them, Beholde, when ye are entred into the citie, there shal a man meete you, bearing a pitcher of water, hym folowe into the same house that he entreth in.

11 And ye shal say vnto the good man of þ house, The Maister saith vnto thee, where is the ghest chamber, where I shal eate the Passeouer with my disciples?

12 And he shal shewe you a great vpper chamber prepared, there make redy.

13 And they went, and found as he had sayde vnto them, and they made redy the Passeouer.

14 ||And when the houre was come, he sate downe, & the twelue apostles with him. ||Mat.26.20 Mark. 14.18

15 And he sayd vnto them, With hartie desyre, I haue desyred to eate this Passeouer with you before that I suffer.

16 For I say vnto you, Hencefoorth I wil not in any wise eate of it any more, vntyl it be fulfylled in the kingdome of God.

17 And when he had taken the cup, and geuen thankes, he sayde, Take this, and diuide it among you.

18 For I say vnto you, I wil not in any wise drinke of the fruite of the vine, vntyll the kingdome of God shal come.

6 When Pilate heard mention of Galilee, he aſked whether the man were of Galilee.

7 And as ſoone as he knewe that he belonged vnto Herodes iuriſdiction, he ſent him to Herode, which was alſo at Hieruſalem at that time.

8 And when Herode ſaw Ieſus, he was exceeding glad, for he was deſyrous to ſee him of a long ſeaſon, becauſe he had heard many thinges of him, and he truſted to haue ſeene ſome myracle done by hym.

9 Then he queſtioned with hym many wordes, but he anſweared him nothing.

¶ The fyrst Chapter.

1. The diuinitie, humanitie, and office of Christ, 15. The testimonie of Iohn, 39. The calling of Andreuue. Peter, Philip, and Nathanael.

The Gospell on Christmas day.

IN the begynnyng was the woorde, and the woorde was with God, and "GOD was that woorde.

2 ||The same was in the begynnyng with God.

3 All things were made by it, and without a it, was made nothyng that was made.

4 In it was life, and the life was the light of men.

5 And the light shineth in the darknesse, and the darknesse comprehended it not.

6 || There was a man sent from God, whose name was Iohn:

7 The same came for a witnesse, that he should beare witnesse of the b light, that al men through him might beleeue.

8 He was not that light, but was sent to beare witnesse of the light.

9 That light was the true lyght which lyghteth euery man that commeth into the worlde.

10 He was in the worlde, || and the worlde was made by him, & the world knewe hym not.

11 He came in to his owne, & his owne receiued him not.

12 But as many as receyued hym, to them gaue he c power to be the sonnes of God, euen to them that beleeued on his name.

13 Which "were borne not of blood, nor of the wyll of the flesshe, nor yet of the wyll of man, but of God.

14 ||And the same worde became d flesh, and dwelt among vs (and we sawe the glory of it, as the glory of the onely begotten sonne that came from the father) full of grace and trueth.

15 Iohn beareth witnesse of him, & cryed, saying, This was he of whom I spake, He that commeth after me, is preferred before me, for he was "before me.

16 And of his || fulnesse haue al we receiued, and grace e for grace.

17 For the lawe was geuen by Moses, but grace and trueth came by Iesus Christe.

18 || No man hath seene God at any tyme, the onely begotten sonne, which is in ỹ bosome of the father, he hath declared him.

19 And this is the record of Iohn, when the Iewes sent Priestes and Leuites from Hierusalem to aske him, What art thou?

20 And he confessed, and denied not, and sayd plainely, I am not that Christ.

21 And they asked him, what then? Art thou Elias? And he sayth, I am not. Art thou that prophete? And he answered, No.

22 Then said they vnto him, What art thou, that we may geue an answeare to them that sent vs? What sayest thou of thee selfe?

23 ||He sayd, I am the voyce of a cryer in the wyldernesse: Make straight the way of the Lord, as sayd the prophete Esaias, 24 And they which were sent, were of the Pharisees.

25 And they asked him, and saide vnto him, Why baptisest thou then yf thou be not that Christe, nor Elias, neyther " a prophete?

26 Iohn answered them, saying, I baptise with water, but there standeth one among you, whom ye knowe not,

27 ||He it is which though he came after me, was before me, whose shoes latchet I am not woorthy to vnloose.

28 These things were done in "Bethabara beyonde Iordayne, where Iohn was baptising.

29 The next day, Iohn seeth Iesus comming vnto him, and sayth, Beholde the lambe of God, which taketh away the sinne of the worlde.

30 This is he of whom I sayde, After me commeth a man, whiche is preferred before me: for he was before me.

31 And I knewe him not: but that he should be declared to Israel, therefore am I come baptising with water.

32 ||And Iohn bare record, saying, I saw the spirite descending from heauen, lyke vnto a doue, and it abode vpon him.

33 And I knew him not: but he that sent me to baptise with water, the same sayde vnto me, Vpon whom thou shalt see the spirite descending, and tarying styl on him, the same is he which baptiseth with the holy ghost.

34 And I sawe, and bare record, that this is the sonne of God.

35 The next day after, Iohn stoode agayne, and two of his disciples.

36 And when he beheld Jesus walking, he saith, Behold the lambe of God.

37 And the two disciples heard hym speake, and they folowed Jesus.

38 And Jesus, when he turned about, and saw them folowing him, saith vnto them, What seeke ye? They sayde vnto him, Rabbi, (which is to say if one interprete it, Maister) where dwellest thou?

39 He saith vnto them, Come and see. They came, and sawe where he dwelt, and abode with hym that daye: for it was about the f tenth houre.

40 One of the two whiche heard Johu speake, and folowed him, was Andrewe, Simon Peters brother.

41 The same findeth his brother Simon first, and saith vnto him, We haue found the Messias, which is by interpretation, the "annoynted, 42 And brought hym to Jesus. And when Jesus beheld hym, he sayd, Thou art Simon the son of Jona, thou shalt be called Cephas, which is by interpretation a stone.

43 The day folowyng, Jesus woulde goe forth into Galilee, and findeth Philip, and saith vnto him, Folowe me.

44 Philip was of Bethsaida, out of the citie of Andrewe and Peter.

45 Philip findeth Nathanael, and saith vnto him, We haue founde hym of whom ||Moses in the lawe and the ||prophetes dyd write, Jesus of Nazareth the sonne of g Joseph.

46 And Nathanael sayd vnto hym, Can there any good thyng come out of Nazareth? Philip sayth vnto hym, Come and see.

47 Jesus sawe Nathanael comming to him, and sayth of hym, Behold a right Israelite, in whom is no guyle.

48 Nathanael sayth vnto hym, Whence knowest thou me? Jesus answeared, and said vnto hym, Before that Philip called thee, beyng vnder the fygge tree, I sawe thee.

49 Nathanael answeared, and sayth vnto hym, Rabbi, thou art euen the very sonne of God, thou art the king of Israel.

50 Jesus answeared, and said vnto him, Because I sayd vnto thee, I sawe thee vnder the figge tree, thou "beleeuest: thou shalt see greater thynges then these.

51 And he sayth vnto hym, Verely, verily I say vnto you, hereafter shal ye see heauen open, and the angelles of God ascending and descending vpon the sonne of man.

¶ The.ii. Chapter.

Christe turneth water into wyne

AND the thirde day was there a marriage in Cana "a citie of Galilee, and the mother of Jesus was there. The Gospel on the. ij. sunday after the Epyphanie.

2 And both Jesus was called and his disciples vnto the marriage. "or, to vvm.

3 And when they wanted wyne, the mother of Jesus sayth vnto hym, They haue no wyne.

4 Jesus saith vnto her, Woman, what haue I to doo with thee? myne houre is not yet come.

5 His mother sayth vnto the "ministers, What so euer he sayth vnto you, doo it. "or, seruantes

7 Jesus sayth vnto them, Fil the water pottes with water. And they filled them vp to the brym.

8 And he sayth vnto them, Drawe out now, and beare vnto the gouernour of the feaste. And they bare it.

9 When the ruler of the feast had tasted the water that was made wine (and knewe not whence it was, but the ministers which drue the water knewe) the gouernour of the feast calleth the bridgrome,

10 And saith vnto hym, Euery man at the begynnyng doth set forth good wyne, & when the gheltes haue wel dronke, then that which is woorse: but thou hast kept the good wyne vntyl nowe.

11 This beginning of myracles did Jesus in Cana of Galilee, and shewed his glorye: and his disciples beleeued on hym.

12 After this he went downe to Capernaum, and his mother, and his brethren, and his disciples, and there continued not many dayes.

13 And the Jewes Passeouer was at hand, and Jesus went vp to Hierusalem, 14 And founde sytting in the temple those that solde oxen, and sheepe, and doues, and changers of money.

15 And when he had made as it were a scourge of smal cordes, he droue them al out of the temple, with the sheepe and oxen, and powred out the changers money, and ouerthrewe the tables:

16 And sayde vnto them that solde doues, Haue these thynges hence, & make not my fathers house an house of marchandise.

17 And his disciples remembred that it was written, || The zeale of thine house hath euen eaten me. ||Psal.69.10

21 But he spake of the temple of his body.

22 When therefore he was risen from death, his disciples remembred that he thus had sayde: and they beleeued the scripture, and the woordes which Iesus had sayd.

23 When he was in Hierusalem at the Passeouer, in the feast day, many beleeued on his name, when they saw his miracles which he dyd.

24 But Iesus dyd not commit hym selfe vnto them, because he knewe al men.

25 And needed not that any shoulde testifie of man: for he knewe what was in man.

¶ The. iii. Chapter.

1. Christe teacheth Nicodemus. 16. The loue of God towarde the worlde.

The Gospel on Trinitie Sunday.

THere was a man of the Pharisees, named Nicodemus, a ruler of the Iewes:

2 The same came to Iesus by night, and sayde vnto him, Rabbi, we knowe that thou art a teacher come from God: for no man can doo these miracles that thou dooest, except God be with hym.

3 Iesus answeared, and sayde vnto hym, Verely, verely I say vnto thee, except a man be borne from aboue, he can not see the kingdome of God.

4 Nicodemus sayth vnto him, Howe can a man be borne when he is olde? can he enter the seconde tyme into his mothers wombe, and be borne?

5 Iesus answeared, Verily, verily I say vnto thee, except a man be borne of water and of the spirite, he cannot enter into the kyngdome of God.

6 That which is borne of the flesh, is flesh, and that which is borne of the spirite, is spirite.

7 Marueile not thou that I sayde vnto thee, Ye must be borne from aboue.

8 The wynde bloweth where it listeth, & thou heerest the sound therof, but canst not tel whence it commeth, and whither it goeth: So is euery one that is borne of the spirite.

9 Nicodemus answeared, and sayd vnto hym, Howe can these thynges be?

10 Iesus answeared, and sayd vnto him, Art thou a maister of Israel, and knowest not these thynges?

11 Verely, verily I say vnto thee, We speake that we doo know, and testifie that we haue seene; and ye receiue not our witnesse.

12 If I haue tolde you earthly thinges, and ye beleeue not: howe shal ye beleeue if I tel you of heauenly thinges?

13 And no man hath ascended vp to [a] heauen, but he that came downe from heauen, euen the sonne of man which is in [b] heauen.

14 || And as Moses lyft vp the serpent in the wyldernesse: euen so must the sonne of man be lyft vp:

15 That whosoeuer beleeueth in him, should not perishe, but haue eternal life.

16 || For God so loued the world, that he gaue his onely begotten sonne: that who so euer beleeueth in him, should not perish, but haue euerlasting lyfe.

17 For God sent not his sonne into the world to condemne the worlde: but that the [c] worlde through him might be saued.

18 He that beleeueth on him, is not condemned: but he that beleeueth not, is condemned alredy, because he hath not beleeued in the name of the only begotten son of God.

19 And this is the condemnation, || that lyght is come into the worlde, and men loued darkenesse rather then lyght: because their deedes were euyl.

20 For euery one that euyl dooth, hateth the light: neyther commeth to the lyght, lest his deedes shoulde be reproued.

21 But he that dooth trueth, commeth to the lyght, that his deedes may be made manifest, that they are wrought in God.

22 After these thinges, came Iesus and his disciples into the land of Iurie, and there he tarved with them, and [d] baptised.

23 || And Iohn also was baptising in Aenon, neare to Salim, because there was much water there: & they came, and were baptised.

24 For Iohn was not yet cast into prison.

25 And there arose a question betwene Iohns disciples and the Iewes, about purifying.

26 And they came vnto Iohn, and sayde vnto hym, Rabbi, he that was with thee beyonde Iordane, || to whom thou bearest witnesse, beholde, the same baptiseth, and al men come to hym.

27 Iohn answeared, and sayde, A man can receiue nothyng, except it be geuen hym from heauen.

28 Ye your selues are witnesses, howe that I sayde, || I am not that Christ, but am sent before hym.

29 He that hath the bride, is the bridegrome: but the freende of the bridegrome, which standeth and heareth hym, reioyceth greatly, because of the bridegromes voyce: This my ioy therefore is fulfylled.

8 For his disciples were gone away vnto the towne to buye meate.

9 Then sayth the woman of Samaria vnto him, How is it that thou, being a Jew, askest drynke of me, whiche am a woman of Samaria? For the Jewes meddle not with the Samaritanes.

10 Jesus answeared, and sayd vnto her, If thou knewest the gyft of God, and who it is that sayth to thee, Geue me drynke: thou wouldest haue asked of him, and he woulde haue geuen thee water of lyfe.

11 The woman sayth vnto him, Syr, thou hast nothyng to draw with, and the wel is deepe: from whence then hast thou that water of lyfe?

12 Art thou greater then our father Jacob, which gaue vs the wel, and he him selfe dranke thereof, and his children, and his cattel?

13 Jesus answeared, and sayd vnto her, Who so euer drynketh of this water, shall thyrste agayne:

14 But who so euer drynketh of the water that I shal geue him, shal neuer be more a thyrst: but the water that I shall geue him, shalbe in him a well of water springyng vp into euerlastyng lyfe.

15 The woman sayth vnto him, Syr, geue me of that water, that I thyrst not, neither come hyther to draw.

16 Jesus sayth vnto her, Goe, call thy husband, and come hyther.

17 The woman answeared, and sayde vnto him, I haue no husbande. Jesus sayde vnto her, Thou hast well sayde, I haue no husbande.

18 For thou hast had fyue husbandes: and he whom thou nowe hast, is not thy husbande: In that saydest thou truely.

19 The woman sayth vnto him, Syr, I perceyue that thou art a prophete.

20 Our fathers woorshypped in this mountayne, and ye say that || in Hierusalem is the place where men ought to woorshyp. ||Deut.12.6.

21 Jesus sayth vnto her, Woman, beleeue me, the houre commeth, when ye shall neyther in this mountayne, nor yet at Hierusalem woorshyp the father.

22 || Ye woorshyp ye wote not what, we knowe what we woorshyp: for saluation commeth of the Jewes. ||4.Ki.17.29

23 But the houre commeth, and nowe is, when the true woorshippers shal woorship the father in spirite, & in the trueth: for suche the father also requyreth to woorshyp him.

24 || God is a spirite, and they that woorshyp him, must woorshyp him in spirite, and in the trueth. ||2.Cor.3.17

25 The woman sayth vnto him, I wote that Messias cõmeth, which is called Christ: when he is come, he wyl tel vs al thynges.

26 Jesus sayth vnto her, I that speake vnto thee, am he.

27 And immediatly came his disciples, and marueyled that he talked with the woman: Yet no man sayde, What seekest thou, or, why talkest thou with her?

28 The woman thē left her water pot, and went her way into the citie, and sayth to the men, 29 Come, see a man whiche tolde me al thynges that euer I dyd: Is not he that Christe?

30 Then they went out of the citie, and came vnto him.

31 In the meane whyle his disciples prayed him, saying, Maister, eate.

32 He

32 He sayd vnto them, I haue meate to eate that ye wote not of.

33 Therefore sayde the disciples one to an other, Hath any man brought him ought to eate?

34 Iesus saith vnto them, My meate is that I doo the wyl of him that sent me, and finishe his woorke.

35 Say not ye, There are yet foure monethes, and then commeth haruest? Beholde, I say vnto you, Lyfte vp your eyes, & looke on the regions: || for they are whyte alredie vnto harueſt.

|| Mat. 9. 37. Luke. 10. 1.

36 || And he that reapeth, receiueth wages: and gathereth fruite vnto lyfe eternal: that both he that soweth, & he that reapeth, myght reioyce together.

37 And herein is the saying true, That one soweth, and another reapeth.

38 I sent you to reape that, whereon ye bestowed no labour: other men a laboured, & ye are entred into their labours.

a. Meanyng the prophets.

39 Many of the Samaritanes of that citie beleeued on him, for the saying of the woman, whiche testified, that he tolde me al that euer I dyd.

40 So, when the Samaritanes were come vnto him, they besought him that he woulde tarry with them: and he abode there two dayes.

41 And many moe beleeued, because of his owne woorde:

42 And sayde vnto the woman, Nowe we beleeue, not because of thy saying: for we haue heard him our selues, and knowe that this is euen that Christe, the sauiour of the worlde.

43 After two dayes he departed thence, and went away into Galilee.

|| Mat. 13. 58 Mark. 6. 4. Luke. 4. 24.

44 || For Iesus him selfe testified, that a prophete hath none honour in his owne countrey.

45 Then when he was come into Galilee, the Galileans receyued him, when they had seene all the thynges that he dyd at Hierusalem at the feast: for they went also vnto the feast day.

|| Iohn. 2. 1. The Gospel on the. xix. sunday after Trinitie.

46 || So Iesus came agayne into Cana of Galilee, where he made the water wyne. And there was a certayne ruler, whose sonne was sicke at Capernaum.

47 When the same heard that Iesus was come out of Iurie into Galilee, he went vnto him, and besought him that he woulde come downe, and heale his sonne: for he was euen at the poynt of death.

48 Then saide Iesus vnto him, Except ye see signes and woonders, ye wyl in no wise beleeue.

49 The ruler saith vnto him, Syr, come downe or euer that my sonne dye.

50 Iesus sayth vnto him, Goe thy way, thy sonne lyueth. And the man beleeued the woorde that Iesus had spoken vnto him, and he went his way.

51 And as he was nowe goyng downe, the seruantes met him, and told him, saying, Thy sonne lyueth.

52 Then enquyred he of them the houre when he began to amende: and they sayd vnto him, Yesterday at the seuenth houre the feuer left him.

53 So the father knewe, that it was doone the same houre, in the which Iesus said vnto him, Thy sonne lyueth: and he beleeued, and al his houshold.

54 This is agayne the seconde miracle that Iesus dyd, when he was come out of Iurie into Galilee.

¶ The. v. Chapter.

Christe healeth on the Sabboth day the man that was sicke thirty and eight yeeres.

|| Leuit. 2 Deut. 16

AFter || this, there was a feast day of the Iewes, and Iesus went vp to Hierusalem.

2 And there is at Hierusalem by the a sheepe market, a poole, whiche is called in the Hebrue tongue Bethesda, hauyng fyue porches:

a. Whe sheepe we solde. Or by the she poole: th fs, where t washed she or where dranke.

3 In whiche lay a great multitude of sicke folke, of blynde, halte, and wythered, waytyng for the mouyng of the water.

4 For an angel went downe at a certaine season into the poole, and troubled the water: Who so euer then fyrst after the troublyng of the water stepped in, was made whole of what so euer disease he had.

5 And a certayne man was there, which had been diseased thirtie and eyght yeeres.

6 When Iesus sawe him lye, and knew that he nowe long time had been diseased, he sayth vnto him, Wylt thou be made whole?

7 The sicke man answeared hym, Syr, I haue no man when the water is troubled, to put me into the poole: but in the meane tyme, whyle I am about to come, an other steppeth downe before me.

8 Iesus sayth vnto him, Ryse, take vp thy bed, and walke.

9 And immediately the man was made whole, and tooke vp his bed, and walked: And on the same day was the Sabboth.

10 The Iewes therfore sayde vnto him that was made whole, It is the sabboth day, || it is not lawfull for thee to carry thy bed.

|| Iere. 17

11 He answeared them, He that made me whole, sayde vnto me, Take vp thy bed, and walke.

12 Then

12 Then asked they hym, What man is that whiche sayde vnto thee, Take vp thy bed, and walke?

13 And he that was healed, wyst not who it was: for Jesus had gotten hym selfe away, because that there was preace of people in that place.

14 Afterward Jesus findeth hym in the temple, and sayde vnto hym, Beholde, thou art made whole: sinne no more, lest a worse thyng come vnto thee.

15 The man departed, and tolde the Jewes that it was Jesus whiche had made hym whole.

16 And therefore dyd the Jewes persecute Jesus, and sought the meanes to slea him, because he had doone these thynges on the Sabboth day.

17 Jesus answeared them, My father worketh hitherto, and I worke.

18 Therefore the Jewes sought the more to kyl hym, not onely because he had broken the Sabboth, but sayd also, that God was his father, and making him selfe equal with God.

19 Then answeared Jesus, and said vnto them, Verely, verily I say vnto you, The sonne can doo nothyng of him selfe, but that he seeth the father doo: for what so euer he dooth, that also dooth the sonne lykewyse.

20 For the father loueth the sonne, and sheweth hym al thynges that he hym selfe dooth: and he wyl shew hym greater woorkes then these, because ye shoulde marueyle.

21 For lykewyse as the father rayseth vp the dead and quickeneth them: euen so the sonne quickeneth whom he wyl.

22 Neyther iudgeth the father any man: but hath committed al iudgement vnto the sonne, 23 Because that al men shoulde honour the sonne, euen as they honour the father. He that honoureth not the sonne the same honoureth not the father which hath sent him.

24 Verely, verely I say vnto you, He that heareth my woorde, and beleeueth on hym that sent me, hath euerlastyng lyfe, and shal not come into damnation: but is escaped from death vnto lyfe.

25 Verely, verely I say vnto you, The houre is comming, and nowe is, when the dead b shal heare the voyce of the sonne of God: and they that heare, c shal lyue.

26 For as the father hath lyfe in hym selfe: so likewyse hath he geuen to the sonne to haue lyfe in him selfe:

27 And hath geuen him power also to iudge, because he is the sonne of man.

28 Marueile not at this: for the houre is comming, in the whiche al that are in the graues, shal heare his voyce, 29 And shall come forth, ‖ they that haue doone good, vnto the resurrection of life, and they that haue doone euyl, vnto the resurrection of dampnation. ‖ Mat. 25. 41.

30 I can of myne owne selfe doo nothyng: as I heare, I iudge: and my iudgement is iust, because I seeke not myne owne wyl, but the wyl of the father, whiche hath sent me.

31 ‖ If I beare witnesse of mee selfe, my witnesse is not true. ‖ Iohn. 8. 14.

32 ‖ There is another that beareth witnesse of me, and I am sure that the witnesse which he witnesseth of me is true. ‖ Math. 3. 17

33 ‖ Ye sent vnto Iohn, and he bare witnesse vnto the trueth. ‖ Iohn. 1. 27.

34 But I receyue not the recorde of man: neuertheless, these thinges I say, that ye myght be saued.

35 He was a burnyng and a shynyng lyght: and ye woulde for a season haue reioyced in his lyght.

36 But I haue greater witnesse then the witnesse of Iohn: for the woorkes which the father hath geuen me to finishe, the same woorks that I doo, beare witnesse of me, that the father hath sent me.

37 And the father him selfe which hath sent me, ‖ hath borne witnesse of me. Ye haue not heard his voyce at any tyme, ‖ nor seene his shape, ‖ Math. 3. 17. and. 17. 5. ‖ Deut. 4. 12.

38 And his woorde haue ye not abyding in you: for whom he hath sent, him ye beleeue not.

39 Searche the Scriptures, for in them ye thinke ye haue eternall lyfe: and they are they whiche testifie of me.

40 And yet wyll ye not come to me, that ye myght haue lyfe.

41 I receiue not the prayse of men.

42 But I knowe you, that ye haue not the loue of God in you.

43 I am come in my fathers name, and ye receiue me not: ‖ if another shal come in his owne name, him wyl ye receiue. ‖ Iohn. 12. 43.

44 Howe can ye beleeue, which receiue honour one of another, & seeke not the honour that commeth of God onely?

45 Doo not thinke that I wil accuse you to my father: there is one that accuseth you, euen Moses in whom ye trust.

46 For had ye beleeued Moses, ye would haue beleeued me: ‖ for he wrote of me. ‖ Gene. 3. 15.

47 But if ye beleeue not his writinges, Deut. 18. 15. how shal ye beleeue my woordes?

The. vi. Chapter.

29. Fayth is the vvoorke of God. 35. Of the bread of lyfe. 40. Of fayth.

1 After

AFter theſe thinges, Ieſus went his way ouer the ſea of Galilee, which is the ſea of Tiberias.

2 And a great multitude folowed hym, becauſe they ſawe his miracles which he dyd on them that were diſeaſed.

3 And Ieſus went vp into a mountaine, and there he ſate with his diſciples.

‖ Leui 23.2. Deut. 16.1. The Goſpel on the .xxv. Sunday after Trinitie

4 And the Paſſeouer, ‖ a feaſt of the Iewes, was nygh.

‖ Mat. 14.16 Mark. 6.38. Luke. 9.13.

5 ‖ When Ieſus then lifte vp his eyes, and ſawe a great company come vnto hym, he ſayth vnto Philip, Whence ſhal we buy bread, that theſe may eate?

6 (This he ſayde to prooue hym: for he hym ſelfe knewe what he woulde doo.)

a. This ſumme amounteth to about fiue pound ſterling.

7 Philip anſwered hym, Two hundred a penyworth of bread are not ſufficient for them, that euery man may take a little.

8 One of his diſciples, Andrewe, Simon Peters brother, ſayth vnto hym:

9 There is a little lad here, whiche hath fyue barley loaues, and two fiſhes: but what are they among ſo many?

10 And Ieſus ſayde, Make the people ſyt downe. There was much graſſe in the place. So the men ſate downe, in number about fiue thouſande.

11 And Ieſus tooke the bread, and when he had geuen thankes, he diſtributed to the diſciples, and the diſciples to them that were ſet downe, and likewiſe of the fiſhes, as much as they woulde.

12 When they were fylled, he ſayd vnto his diſciples, Geather vp the broken meate that remayneth, that nothyng be loſt.

13 And they geathered it togeather, and fylled twelue baſkets with the broken meate of the fiue barley loaues, which broken meate remayned vnto them that had eaten.

14 Then thoſe men, when they had ſeene the myracle that Ieſus did, ſayde, This is of a trueth the ſame prophete that ſhoulde come into the worlde.

15 When Ieſus therfore perceyued that they woulde come and take hym vp by force, to make hym king, he departed agayne into a mountayne him ſelfe alone.

‖ Mat. 14.25 Mark. 6.47.

16 ‖ And when euen was nowe come, his diſciples went downe vnto the ſea, 17 And gate vp into a ſhyp, and went ouer the ſea, towardes Capernaum: and it was nowe darke, and Ieſus was not come to them.

18 And the ſea aroſe with a great wynd that blewe.

19 So when they had rowed about .xxv. or .xxx. furlonges, they ſawe Ieſus walking on the ſea, and drawing nigh vnto the ſhyp: and they were afrayde.

20 But he ſaith vnto them, It is I, be not afrayd.

21 And they would haue receiued hym into the ſhyp, and immediately the ſhyp was at the lande whyther they went.

22 The day folowyng, when the people which ſtood on the other ſide of the ſea, ſaw that there was none other ſhyp there, ſaue that one whereinto his diſciples were entred, and that Ieſus went not in with his diſciples into the ſhyp, but that his diſciples were gone away alone:

23 Howbeit, there came other ſhyppes from Tiberias, nygh vnto the place where they dyd eate bread, after that the Lord had geuen thankes.

24 When the people therfore ſawe that Ieſus was not there, neyther his diſciples, they alſo tooke ſhyppyng, and came to Capernaum, ſeekyng for Ieſus.

25 And when they had found him on the other ſide of the ſea, they ſayde vnto hym, Rabbi, when cameſt thou hyther?

26 Ieſus anſwered them, and ſaid, Verily, verily I ſay vnto you, Ye ſeeke me, not becauſe ye ſawe the myracles, but becauſe ye dyd eate of the loaues, and were fylled.

27 Labour not for the meate which periſheth, but for that meat which endureth vnto euerlaſting life, whiche meate the ſonne of man ſhal geue vnto you: ‖ for hym hath God the father ſealed.

‖ Math. 3. and. 17.3 Iohn. 1.

28 Then ſayde they vnto hym, What ſhal we doo, that we myght woorke the woorkes of God?

29 Ieſus anſwered, and ſayde vnto them, ‖ This is the woorke of God, that ye beleeue on hym whom he hath ſent.

‖ 1. Ioh.

30 They ſayde therefore vnto hym, What ſigne ſheweſt thou then, that we may ſee, & beleue thee? What doeſt thou woorke?

31 Our fathers dyd eate Manna in the deſart, as it is written, ‖ He gaue them bread from heauen to eate.

‖ Exo. 1 Numb. Pſal. 78. Wiſd. 16

32 Then Ieſus ſayde vnto them, Verily, verily I ſay vnto you, Moſes gaue you not that bread from heauen, but my father geueth you the true bread from heauen.

33 For the bread of God, is he whiche commeth downe from heauen, and geueth lyfe vnto the worlde.

34 Then ſayde they vnto hym, Lorde, euermore geue vs this bread.

35 And Ieſus ſaid vnto them, I am the bread of lyfe: he that commeth to me, ſhall not hunger in any wyſe: ‖ and he that beleeueth on me, ſhall neuer thirſt.

Eccl. 24

36 But I ſay vnto you, that ye alſo haue ſeene me, and yet ye beleeue not.

37 All that ꝑ father geueth me, ſhal come to me, me, and him that commeth to me, I wyll in no wyse cast out.

38 For I came downe from heauen, not to doo myne owne wyll, but the wyll of him that sent me.

39 And this is the fathers wyll which hath sent me, that of al which he hath geuen me, I shall loose nothyng, but rayse it vp agayne at the last day.

40 And this is the wyl of him that sent me, that euery one which seeth the sonne, and beleeueth on him, may haue euerlastyng lyfe: and I wyl rayse him vp at the last day.

41 The Iewes then murmured at him, because he sayde, I am the bread of lyfe which came downe from heauen.

Luc.13.55 42 And they sayd, || Is not this Iesus, the sonne of Ioseph, whose father & mother we knowe? Howe is it then that he sayth, I came downe from heauen.

43 Iesus answeared, & sayd vnto them, Murmure not among your selues.

44 No man can come to me, excepte the father, which hath sent me, drawe him: and I wyl rayse him vp at the last day.

Esa.54.13 45 It is wrytte in the prophetes, || And Iere.31.33. they shalbe al taught of God. Euery man therefore that hath heard, and hath learned of the father, commeth vnto me.

46 Not that any man hath seene the father, || saue he which is of God, the same Ioh.6.46 hath seene the father.

47 Verily, verily I say vnto you, He that putteth his trust in me, hath euerlastyng lyfe.

48 I am that bread of lyfe.

Ioh.6.49 49 || Your fathers dyd eate || Manna in the wylderneſſe, and are dead.

50 This is that bread which commeth downe from heauen, that yf any man eate thereof, he shoulde not dye.

51 I am that lyuing bread, which came downe from heauen. Yf any man eate of this bread, he shal liue for euer: and the bread that I wyl geue, is my flesshe, which I wyl geue for the lyfe of the worlde.

52 The Iewes therfore stroue amongst them selues, saying, Howe can this felowe geue vs that flesshe of his to eate?

53 Then Iesus sayde vnto them, Verely, verely I say vnto you, Except ye eate the flesshe of the sonne of man, and drynke his blood, ye haue no lyfe in you.

Ioh.6.11.27 54 ||Who so eateth my flesshe, & drinketh my blood, hath eternal lyfe, and I wyl rayse him vp at the last day.

55 For my flesshe is meate indeede, and my blood is drynke indeede.

56 He that eateth my flesshe, & drynketh my blood, dwelleth in me, and I in him.

57 As the lyuyng father hath sent me, & I lyue by the father: Euen so, he that eateth me, shal lyue by the meanes of me.

58 This is that bread which came downe from heauen: not as your fathers did eate Manna, and are dead: he that eateth of this bread, shal lyue euer.

59 These thynges sayde he in the synagogue, as he taught in Capernaum.

60 Many therfore of his disciples, when they had heard this, sayde, This is an harde saying, who can abyde the hearing of it?

61 When Iesus knew in him selfe that his disciples murmured at it, he sayde vnto them, Doeth this offende you?

62 VVhat & yf ye shal see the son of man assende || vp thyther where he was before? || Ioh.3.13.

63 It is the spirite that quickeneth, the flesshe profyteth a nothyng: The wordes that I speake vnto you, are spirite and lyfe.

a To wyt, if it be separate frō the spirit, whe of it hath the force. For it cōmeth of the power of the spirite, that the flesh geueth vs lyfe, and fedeth vs: And therefore, that we may be truely fed & nouri shed with it, we must bring the spirituall mouth of fayth to receyue it.

64 But there are some of you that beleeue not. For Iesus knewe from the beginnyng, whiche they were that beleeued not, & who shoulde betray him.

65 And he sayde, Therfore sayd I vnto you, that no man can come vnto me, except it were geuen vnto him of my father.

66 From that time many of his disciples went backe, and walked no more with him.

67 Then sayde Iesus vnto the twelue, Wyl ye also goe away?

68 The Simon Peter answeared him, Lorde, to whom shal we goe? Thou hast the wordes of eternal lyfe:

69 ||And we beleeue & are sure that thou art that Christ, the sonne of the lyuyng God. || Mat.16.16

70 Iesus answeared them, Haue not I chosen you twelue, and one of you is a deuyl?

71 He spake of Iudas Iscariot the sonne of Simon: for he it was that shoulde betray him, being one of the twelue.

¶ The. vii. Chapter.

1. Iesus fled the murmuryng Iewes. 5. Christes kynsmen beleeued not on him.

AFter these thinges, Iesus went about in Galilee: for he would not goe about in Iurie, because that ỹ Iewes sought to kyl him.

2 The Iewes feast of tabernacles || a was at hande. || Leui.23.34

a At this feast they dwelled seuen dayes in their tentes.

3 His brethren therfore saide vnto him, Get thee hence, & go into Iurie, that thy disciples also may see ỹ workes that thou doest.

4 For there is no man that doeth any thyng in secrete, and he him selfe seeketh to be knowen openly: Yf thou doo such things, shewe thee selfe to the worlde.

5 For neyther his brethren beleeued in him.

6 Then

6 Then Iesus sayde vnto them, My tyme is not yet come: but your tyme is alway redie.

7 The worlde can not hate you, but me it hateth, because I testifie of it, that the woorkes thereof are euyl.

8 Goe ye vp vnto this feaste: I goe not vp yet vnto this feast, || for my tyme is not yet ful come. ‖ Iohn.8.20.

9 When he had sayde these woordes vnto them, he abode styl in Galilee.

10 But whē his brethren were gone vp, then went he also vp vnto the feast, not openly, but as it were priuily.

11 Then sought him the Iewes at the feast, and sayde, Where is he?

12 And muche murmuring of him was there among the people: For some sayde, He is good: Other sayd, Nay: but he deceiueth the people.

13 Howbeit, no man spake openly of him, for feare of the Iewes.

14 Nowe when halfe of the feast was done, Iesus went vp into the temple, and taught.

15 And the Iewes marueyled, saying, Howe knoweth he the scriptures, seeing that he neuer learned?

16 Iesus answeared them, & sayde, My doctrine is not myne, but his that sent me.

17 If any man wyl doo his wyl, he shal knowe of the doctrine, whether it be of God, or whether I speake of mee selfe.

18 He that speaketh of him selfe, seeketh his owne glorie: but he that seeketh his glorie that sent him, the same is true, and no vnryghteousnesse is in him.

19 ||Dyd not Moses geue you the law, and yet none of you keepeth the lawe? ||Why goe ye about to kyl me? ‖ Exod.24.3. ‖ Iohn.5.18.

20 The people answered, & saide, Thou hast the deuyl: Who goeth about to kil thee?

21 Iesus answeared, & sayd vnto them, I haue doone one woorke, and ye al marueile.

22 ||Moses therefore gaue vnto you the circumcision (not because it is of Moses, ||but of the fathers) and yet ye on the Sabboth day circumcise a man. ‖ Leuit. 12.3 ‖ Gen.17.10

23 If a man on the Sabboth day receyue circumcision, without breakyng of the lawe of Moses: disdayne ye at me, because I haue made a man euerywhit whole on the Sabboth day?

24 ||Iudge not after the vtter appearance, but iudge with a ryghteous iudgmēt. ‖ Deut.1.16.

25 Then sayde some of them of Hierusalem, Is not this he, whom they goe about to kyll?

26 But loe, he speaketh ° boldely, and they say nothing vnto him: Doo the rulers knowe in deede that this is very Christe?

° or, openly.

27 Howbeit, we knowe this man whēce he is: but when Christe commeth, no man knoweth whence he is.

28 Then cried Iesus in the temple, as he taught, saying, Ye both knowe me, and whence I am, ye knowe, and I am not come of mee selfe, but he that sent me is true, whō ye knowe not.

29 But I know him, for I am of him, and he hath sent me.

30 Then they sought to take him: but no man layde handes on him, because his houre was not yet come.

31 Many of the people beleued on him, and sayde, When Christe commeth, wyll he doo moe miracles then these that this man hath doone?

32 The Pharisees hearde that the people murmured suche thynges concernyng him: And the Pharisees and the high priestes sent seruantes to take him.

33 Then sayde Iesus vnto them, Yet am I a litle whyle with you, & then I go vnto him that sent me.

34 ||Ye shall seeke me, & shall not fynde me: & where I am, thyther can ye not come. ‖ Iohn.7.

35 Then saide the Iewes among them selues, Whither wyl he goe, that we shal not fynde him? Wyl he goe vnto the dispearsed among the Gretians, & teach the Gentiles?

36 What manner of saying is this that he sayde, Ye shall seeke me, and shall not fynde me: and where I am, thyther can ye not come.

12. Christe the light of the vvorlde. 56. Abraham did see Christes day.

JEsus went out vnto mount Oliuete:
2 And early in the morning he came agayne into the temple, and al the people came vnto hym, & he sate downe, and taught them.
3 And the scribes & Pharisees brought vnto him a woman taken in adulterie, and when they had set her in the middes, 4 They say vnto hym, Maister, this woman was taken in adulterie, euen as the deede was a doyng.
Lak. 20. 10 5 || Moses in the law commaunded vs that such shoulde be stoned, but what sayest thou?
6 This they sayde, tempting him, that they might accuse him. But Jesus stowped downe, and with his synger wrote on the grounde, as though he hearde them not.
7 So when they continued asking him,
he lyft vp hym selfe, and sayde vnto them,
Deut. 17.7. || Let him that is among you without sinne,
first cast the stone at her.
8 And agayne, he stowped downe, and wrote on the grounde.
9 And when they heard this, beyng accused of their owne consciences, they went out one by one, beginning at the eldest, euen vnto the last: and Jesus was left alone, and the woman standing in the middes.
10 When Jesus had lift vp hym selfe, and sawe no man but the woman, he sayd vnto her, Woman, where are those thyne accusers? hath no man condemned thee?
11 She sayde, No man Lord. And Jesus sayd, Neither do I condemne thee: Goe and sinne no more.
12 Then spake Jesus agayne vnto them, saying, || I am the light of the worlde: || John. 1. 5.
He that followeth me, shall not in any wyse and. 9. 5.
walke in darkenesse, but shal haue the lyght of lyfe.
13 The Pharisees therfore sayde vnto him, Thou bearest recorde of thee selfe, thy recorde is not true.
14 Jesus answeared, and sayde vnto them, | Though I beare record of my selfe, || John. 5. 31.
yet my recorde is true: for I knowe whence I came, and whither I goe: but ye can not tel whence I come, and whither I goe.
15 Ye iudge after the flesh, I iudge no man,
16 And yf I iudge, my iudgement is true: for I am not alone, but I and the father that sent me.
17 || It is also written in your law, that || Deut. 17. 6.
the testimonie of two men is true. and. 19. 15.

mee selfe, and the father that sent me, beareth 2. Cor. 13. 1.
witnesse of me. Heb. 10. 28.
19 Then said they vnto him, Where is thy father? Jesus answeared, Ye neither know me, nor yet my father, if ye had know-en me, ye should haue knowē my father also.
20 These wordes spake Jesus in the treasurie, as he taught in the temple: and no man laide handes on him, for his houre was not yet come.
21 Then said Jesus againe vnto them,
I goe my way, and ye shal seeke me, and shal dye in your sinnes: Whither I goe, thyther can ye not come.
22 Then said the Jewes, Wyll he kyll him selfe, because he sayth, Whither I goe, thyther can ye not come?
23 And he sayd vnto them, Ye are from beneath, I am from aboue: ye are of this worlde, I am not of this worlde.
24 I sayde therefore vnto you, that ye shal dye in your sinnes. For if ye beleeue not that I am he, ye shal dye in your sinnes.
25 Then sayde they vnto him, Who art thou? And Jesus sayth vnto them, Euen the very same thing that I sayde vnto you from the beginning.
26 I haue many thynges to say, and to iudge of you: Yea, and he that sent me is true, and I speake to the worlde those thin-ges whiche I haue heard of him.
27 Howbeit, they vnderstoode not that he spake to them of his father.
28 Then said Jesus vnto them, When ye haue lift vp an hygh the sonne of man, then shal ye know that I am he, and that I do nothing of mee selfe: but as my father hath taught me, euen so I speake these thinges.

29 And he that ſent me, is with me, the father hath not left me alone: for I do alwayes thoſe thinges that pleaſe him.

30 As he ſpake thoſe wordes, many beleeued on him.

31 Then ſaide Ieſus to thoſe Iewes whiche beleeued on him, If ye continue in my worde, then are ye my very diſciples.

32 And ye ſhal know the trueth, and the trueth ſhal make you free.

a. Theſe were not thoſe Iewes that beleeued, but mockers, that beleeued not.

33 They a anſwered him, We be Abrahams ſeede, & were neuer bonde to any man: how ſayeſt thou then, Ye ſhalbe made free?

34 Ieſus anſwered them, Verily, verily I ſay vnto you, || That whoſoeuer committeth ſinne, is the ſeruant of ſinne.

|| Rom. 6.20. 2. Pet. 2.19.

35 And the ſeruant abideth not in the houſe for euer: but the ſonne abideth euer.

36 If the ſonne therefore ſhal make you free, then ye ſhalbe free in deede.

37 I know that ye are Abrahams ſeede, but ye ſeeke meanes to kyll me, becauſe my worde hath no place in you.

38 I ſpeake that whiche I haue ſeene with my father: and ye do that whiche ye haue ſeene with your father.

39 They anſweared, and ſaid vnto him, Abraham is our father. Ieſus ſaith vnto them, If ye were Abrahams children, ye woulde do the workes of Abraham.

40 But nowe ye goe about to kyl me, a man that hath tolde you the trueth, which I haue hearde of God: this did not Abraham.

41 Ye do the deedes of your father. Then ſaid they to him, We be not borne of fornication, we haue one father, euen God.

42 Ieſus ſaid vnto them, If God were your father, truely ye woulde loue me, for I proceeded forth, and came from God: Neither came I of mee ſelfe, but he ſent me.

43 Why do ye not knowe my ſpeache? euen becauſe ye can not heare my worde.

|| 1. Ioh. 3.8.

44 || Ye are of your father the deuyll, and the luſtes of your father wyll ye do: he was a murderer from the beginning, and abode not in the trueth, becauſe there is no trueth in him. When he ſpeaketh a lye, he ſpeaketh of his owne: For he is a lyer, and the father of it.

45 And becauſe I tell you the trueth, therefore ye beleeue me not.

The Goſpel on the .v. Sunday in Lent.

46 || Which of you rebuketh me of ſinne? if I ſay the trueth, why do ye not beleue me?

|| 1. Ioh. 4.6.

47 He that is of GOD, heareth Gods wordes: Ye therfore heare them not, becauſe ye are not of God.

48 Then anſwered the Iewes, and ſaide vnto him, Say we not well that thou art a Samaritane, and haſt a deuil?

49 Ieſus anſwered, I haue not a deuil: but I honour my father, and ye do diſhonour me.

50 I ſeeke not mine owne glory, there is one that ſeeketh, and iudgeth.

51 Verily, verily I ſay vnto you, If a man kepe my ſaying, he ſhal neuer ſee death.

52 Then ſaid the Iewes vnto him, Now knowe we that thou haſt a deuill. Abraham is dead, and the prophetes: and thou ſayeſt, If a man kepe my ſaying, he ſhal neuer taſte of death.

53 Art thou greater then our father Abraham, whiche is dead? and the prophetes are dead: whom makeſt thou thee ſelfe?

54 Ieſus anſweared, If I glorifie me ſelfe, my glory is nothing: It is my father that glorifieth me, whiche ye ſay, that he is your God:

55 And yet ye haue not knowen him, but I know him: and if I ſay that I know him not, I ſhalbe a lyer lyke vnto you: but I knowe him, and kepe his ſaying.

b. To ſee the commyng of Chriſte in the fleſhe, whiche thyng Abraham dyd ſee a farre of, with the eyes of fayth.

57 Then ſaide the Iewes vnto him, Thou art not yet fiftie yeeres olde, and haſt thou ſeene Abraham?

58 Ieſus ſaid vnto them, Verily, verily I ſay vnto you, Before Abraham was, I am.

59 Then tooke they vp ſtones to caſt at him: but Ieſus was hid, and went out of the temple.

¶ The. ix. Chapter.

Chriſt reſtoreth ſight vpon the ſabboth day to him that was borne blynde.

AND as Ieſus paſſed by, he ſawe a man whiche was blinde from his birth.

2 And his diſciples aſked him, ſaying, Maiſter, who did ſinne, this man, or his parentes, that he was borne blinde?

3 Ieſus anſweared, neither hath this man ſinned, nor yet his parentes: but that the workes of God ſhoulde be made manifeſt in him.

4 I muſt worke the workes of him that ſent me, while it is a day: The night commeth when no man can worke.

5 As long as I am in the world, || I am the light of the world.

|| John. 1.9. and. 8. 12. and. 12.35.

6 When he had thus ſpoken, he ſpit on the ground, and made clay of the ſpittle, and he annoynted the clay vpon the eyes of the blinde,

7 And ſaid vnto him, Goe waſhe thee in the poole of Siloe (whiche by interpretation is as muche to ſay, as ſent.) He went his way therfore, and waſhed, and came againe ſeeyng.

8 The neighbours therefore, & they that had seene him before when he was blynde, sayde, Is not this he that sate and begged?

9 Some sayde, This is he: Other sayd, He is like him. He him selfe sayd, I am euen he.

10 Therefore sayd they vnto him, How were thine eyes opened?

11 He answered, and sayde, The man that is called Jesus, made clay, and annoynted mine eyes, and sayd vnto me, Goe to the poole Siloe, and washe: And when I went and washed, I receiued my sight.

12 Then sayd they vnto him, Where is he? He sayd, I can not tel.

13 They brought to the Pharisees him, that a litle before was blynd.

14 And it was the Sabboth day when Jesus made the clay, and opened his eyes.

15 Then agayne the Pharisees also asked him howe he had receiued his sight. He said vnto them, He put clay vpon myne eyes, and I washed, and doo see.

16 Therefore sayde some of the Pharisees, This man is not of God, because he keepeth not the Sabboth day. Other sayde, How can a man that is a sinner doo such miracles? and there was a ª strife among them.

17 They say vnto the blind man againe, What sayest thou of him, because he hath opened thine eyes? He sayde, He is a prophete.

18 But the Jewes did not beleeue the man howe that he had been blynd, and receyued his syght, vntyl they called the parentes of him that had receiued his sight.

19 And they asked them, saying, Is this your sonne, whom ye say that he was borne blinde? howe dooth he nowe see then?

20 His parentes answeared them, and sayd, We knowe that this is our sonne, and that he was borne blinde:

21 But by what meanes he now seeth, we can not tel, or who hath opened his eyes, can not we tel, he is of age, aske him, he shal speake for him selfe.

22 Such wordes spake his parents, because they feared the Jewes: for the Jewes had agreed alredy, that if any man did confesse that he was Christ, he should be excommunicate out of the synagogue.

23 Therefore sayd his parentes, He is of age, aske him.

24 Then agayne called they the man that was blinde, and sayde vnto him, Geue God the praise, we knowe that this man is a sinner.

25 He answeared, & sayde, Whether he be a sinner or no, I can not tel: One thing I am sure of, that whereas I was blind, nowe I see.

26 Then sayde they to him agayne, What did he to thee? Howe opened he thine eyes?

27 He answered them, I tolde you yer while, and ye did not heare: wherefore would you heare it agayne? Will ye also be his disciples?

28 Then rated they him, & sayde, Thou art his disciple: we are Moses disciples.

29 We are sure that God spake vnto Moses: as for this felow, we know not from whence he is.

30 The man answeared, and sayd vnto them, This is a maruelous thing, that ye wote not from whence he is, and yet he hath opened mine eyes.

31 For we be sure that God heareth not sinners: but if any man be a worshipper of God, and dooth his wyl, him heareth he.

32 Since the worlde began was it not heard that any man opened the eyes of one that was borne blinde:

33 If this man were not of God, he coulde do nothing.

34 They answeared, and sayd vnto him, Thou art altogeather borne in sinne, and doest thou teache vs? And they cast him out.

35 Jesus heard that they had excommunicate him: and when he had founde him, he sayde vnto him, Doest thou beleeue on the sonne of God?

36 He answeared, and sayde, Who is he Lord, that I might beleeue on him?

37 And Jesus said vnto him, Thou hast both seene him, and it is he that talketh with thee.

38 And he sayd, Lord, I beleeue: and he b worshipped him.

b. He declared his fayth by his outwarde profession.

39 And Jesus said vnto him, || I am come vnto iudgement in this worlde, that they whiche see not, might see: and that they whiche see, might be made blynde.

||Iohn. 3. 17 and. 12. 47.

40 And some of the Pharisees whiche were with him heard these wordes, and said vnto him, Are we blinde also?

41 Jesus sayde vnto them, If ye were blind, ye should haue no sinne, but now ye say, We see: therefore your sinne remayneth.

VEryly, verily I say vnto you, He that entreth not in by the doore into the sheepefolde, but clymeth vp some other way, the same is a theefe, and a robber.

The Gospel on the Tuesday after Whitsunday.

2 But he that entreth in by the dooze, is the shepheard of the sheepe.

3 To him the porter openeth, and the sheepe heare his voice, & he calleth his owne sheepe by name, and leadeth them out.

4 And when he hath put forth his owne sheepe, he goeth before them, and the sheepe followe him: for they knowe his voyce.

5 A stranger will they in no wise followe, but will flee from him, for they knowe not the voyce of strangers.

6 This prouerbe spake Iesus vnto them: but they vnderstoode not what thinges they were which he spake vnto them.

7 Then sayde Iesus vnto them againe, Verily, verily I say vnto you, I am the dooze of the sheepe.

¶ The. xi. Chapter.

43. Christ rayseth Lazarus from death. 45. Certayne Iewes beleeue in Christ.

1 A cer-

A Certayne man was sicke, named Lazarus, of Bethanie, the towne of Marie and her sister Martha.

2 (It was that Marie whiche annoynted the Lorde with oyntment, and wyped his feete with her heare, whose brother Lazarus was sicke.)

3 Therefore his sisters sent vnto him, saying, Lorde, beholde, he whom thou louest is sicke.

4 When Iesus heard that, he said, This infirmitie is not vnto death, but for the glory of God: that the sonne of God might be glorified thereby.

5 Iesus loued Martha, and her sister, and Lazarus.

6 When he had heard therefore that he was sicke, he abode two dayes still in the same place where he was.

7 Then after that, saith he to his disciples, Let vs goe into Iurie agayne.

8 His disciples say vnto him, Maister, the Iewes lately sought to stone thee, and goest thou thither againe?

9 Iesus answered, Are there not twelue houres of the day? If any man walke in the day, he stumbleth not: because he seeth the light of this worlde.

10 But if a man walke in the night, he stumbleth: because there is no light in him.

11 These things said he, and after that, he saith vnto them, Our freende Lazarus sleepeth, but I goe, that I may awake hym out of sleepe.

12 Then sayde his disciples, Lorde, if he sleepe, he shal do wel enough.

13 Howbeit Iesus spake of his death: but they thought that he had spoken of taking of rest in sleepe.

14 Then said Iesus vnto them plainely, Lazarus is dead:

15 And I am glad for your sakes that I was not there (because ye may beleeue:) Neuertheles, let vs goe vnto hym.

16 Then said Thomas, which is called Didymus, vnto his felowe disciples, Let vs also goe, that we may dye with him.

17 Then whē Iesus came, he found that he had lyen in his graue foure dayes alredy.

18 (Bethanie was nigh vnto Hierusalem, about 4 fyftiene furlonges of:)

19 And manye of the Iewes came to Martha and Marie, to comfort them ouer their brother.

20 Martha, as soone as she heard that Iesus was comming, went and met him: but Marie sate still in the house.

21 Then said Martha vnto Iesus, Lorde, if thou hadst ben here, my brother had not dyed.

22 But euen nowe I knowe, that what soeuer thou wilt aske of God, God wil geue it thee.

23 Iesus sayth vnto her, Thy brother shal rise againe.

24 Martha sayth vnto hym, I knowe that he shal ryse agayne in the ‖ resurrection at the last day. ‖ Iohn. 5.29. Luke. 14. 14.

25 Iesus said vnto her, I am the resurrection, and the ‖ life: he that beleeueth on me, yea though he were dead, yet shal he liue. ‖ Iohn. 6.35.

26 And whosoeuer liueth, and beleeueth on me, shal neuer dye. Beleeuest thou this?

27 She saith vnto him, Yea Lord, I beleeue that thou art Christ the sonne of God, whiche shoulde come into the worlde.

28 And when she had so sayde, she went her way, and called Marie her sister secretely, saying, The maister is come, and calleth for thee.

29 As soone as she heard that, she ariseth quickly, and commeth vnto hym.

30 Iesus was not yet come into the towne: but was in that place where Martha met hym.

31 The Iewes then whiche were with her in the house, and comforted her, when they saw Marie that she rose vp hastily, and went out, folowed her, saying, She goeth vnto the graue, to weepe there.

32 Then when Marie was come where Iesus was, and sawe him, she fel downe at his feete, saying vnto hym, Lorde, if thou hadst ben here, my brother had not ben dead.

33 When Iesus therefore sawe her weeping, and the Iewes also weeping whiche came with her, he groned b in the spirite, and was troubled in him selfe, b. For compassion, feeling in him selfe our miseries.

34 And sayd, Where haue ye layd him? They say vnto him, Lord, come, and see.

35 Iesus wept.

36 Then said the Iewes, Behold howe he loued him.

37 And some of them said, Could not this man, ‖ whiche opened the eyes of the blinde, haue caused that this man also should not haue dyed? ‖ Iohn. 9.6.

38 Iesus therefore againe groning in hym selfe, commeth to the graue: It was a caue, and a stone layde on it.

39 Iesus said, Take ye away the stone. Martha, the sister of him that was dead, sayth vnto him, Lorde, by this tyme he stynketh: for he hath ben dead foure dayes.

40 Iesus sayth vnto her, Sayde I not vnto thee, that if thou wouldest beleeue, thou shouldest see the glory of God?

41 Then they tooke away the stone from the place where the dead was laide. And Ieſus lift vp his eyes, & ſaid, Father, I thanke thee that thou haſt heard me.

42 Howbeit, I know that thou heareſt me alwayes: but becauſe of the people which ſtande by, I ſayde it, that they may beleeue that thou haſt ſent me.

43 And when he thus had ſpoken, he cryed with a loud voyce, Lazarus, come forth.

44 And he that was dead, came forth, bounde hande and foote with graue clothes, and his face was bounde about with a napkin. Ieſus ſaith vnto them, Looſe him, and let him goe.

45 Then many of the Ieweſ which came to Marie, and had ſeene the thinges which Ieſus dyd, beleeued on him.

46 But ſome of them went their wayes to the Phariſees, and told them what Ieſus had done.

47 Then gathered the high prieſtes and the Phariſees a counſel, and ſaid, What do we? for this man doth many myracles.

48 If we let him ſcape thus, al men will beleeue on him, and the Romanes c ſhall come, and take away both our roome, and the people.

b. By the ſame way that they thought to eſcape danger, they fel into it.

49 And one of them named Caiaphas, being the high prieſt that ſame yeere, ſaide vnto them, Ye perceiue nothing at al,

50 || Nor conſyder that it is expedient for vs, that one man ſhoulde dye for the people, and not that al the nation periſhe.

|| Iohn. 14.8.

51 This ſpake he not of him ſelfe: but being high prieſt that ſame yeere, he prophecied that Ieſus ſhould dye for that nation.

52 And not for that nation only, but that alſo he ſhoulde gather togeather in one the chyldren of God that were ſcattered abrode.

53 Then from that day forth, they toke counſel togeather for to put him to death.

54 Ieſus therfore walked no more openlye among the Ieweſ: but went his way thence vnto a countrey nigh to a wyldernes, into a citie whiche is called Ephraim, and there continued with his diſciples.

55 And the Ieweſ Eaſter was nigh at hand, and many went out of the countrey vp to Hieruſalem before the Eaſter, to purifie them ſelues.

56 Then ſought they for Ieſus, & ſpake among them ſelues, as they ſtoode in the temple, What thinke ye, ſeeing he commeth not to the feaſt day?

57 Both the high prieſtes and the Phariſees had geuen a commaundement, that yf any man knewe where he were, he ſhoulde ſhewe it, that they might take him.

¶ The. xii. Chapter.

f. Mary anoynteth Ieſus feete. 37. VVherfore the Ieuves beleeue not.

THen || Ieſus before fiue dayes of the Paſſouer, came to Bethanie, where Lazarus was, which had ben dead, whom he rayſed from death.

|| Mat. 26.6. Mark. 14.3.

2 There they made hym a ſupper, and Martha ſerued: but Lazarus was one of them that ſate at the table with him.

3 Then toke Marie a pounde of oyntment, of Spike narde, very coſtly, and anoynted Ieſus feete, and wyped his feete cleane with her heare: and the houſe was filled with the odour of the oyntment.

4 Then ſayth one of his diſciples, Iudas Iſcariot, Simons ſonne, whiche ſhoulde betray him,

5 Why was not this oyntment ſold for thyee hundred pence, and geuen to the poore?

6 || This he ſaid, not that he cared for the poore: but becauſe he was a theefe, & had the a bagge, and bare that whiche was geuen.

|| Iohn. 13.29.

a. The wicked thinke al loſt that ſcapeth their handes.

7 Then ſaid Ieſus, Let her alone, againſt the day of my burying hath ſhe kept this.

8 For the poore alwayes ye haue with you: but me haue ye not alwayes.

9 Muche people of the Ieweſ therefore had knowledge that he was there: and they came, not for Ieſus ſake only, but that they might ſee Lazarus alſo, whom he rayſed from death.

10 But the high prieſtes held a counſel, that they might put Lazarus to death alſo, 11 Becauſe that for his ſake many of the Ieweſ went away, and beleeued on Ieſus.

12 || On the next day much people that were come to the feaſt, when they heard that Ieſus commeth to Hieruſalem,

|| Math. 21.8. Marke. 11.7.

13 Toke braunches of Palme trees, and went forth to meete him, and cryed, b Hoſanna, bleſſed is he that commeth in the name of the Lord, kyng of Iſrael.

b. That is, ſaue I beſeche thee.

14 And Ieſus, when he had founde a young Aſſe, ſate thereon, as it is wrytten, 15 Feare not daughter of Sion, behold, thy king commeth, ſitting on an Aſſes colte.

|| Zach. 9.9.

16 Theſe thinges vnderſtoode not his diſciples at the firſte, but when Ieſus was glorified, then remembred they that ſuche thinges were written of him, and that ſuche thinges they had done vnto him.

17 The people that was with him, when he called Lazarus out of his graue, and rayſed him from death, bare recorde.

18 Therefore met him the people alſo, becauſe they hearde that he had done ſuche a myracle.

19 The Phariſees therfore ſaid among them ſelues, Perceiue ye howe ye preuayle nothing? Beholde, al the vvhole worlde is gone after hym.

20 There were certayne Greekes among them, them, that came vp to worship at the feast:

21 The same came therefore to Philip, which was of Bethsaida, a citie of Galilee, and desyred him, saying, Sir, we would fayne see Iesus.
22 Philip commeth & telleth Andrewe: and againe Andrewe & Philip tolde Iesus.
23 And Iesus answeared them, saying, The houre is come, that the sonne of man should be glorified.
24 Verily, verily I say vnto you, Except the wheate corne fal into the ground, & dye, it abydeth alone: if it dye, it bringeth foorth much fruite.
25 ||He that loueth his life, shal loose it: and he that hateth his lyfe in this worlde, shal keepe it vnto lyfe eternal.
26 If any man minister vnto me, let him followe me: and where I am, there shall also my minister be: If any man minister vnto me, him wil my father honour.
27 Nowe is my soule troubled, and what shall I say: Father, saue me from this houre, but therefore came I into this houre.
28 Father glorifie thy name. Then came there a voyce from heauen, saying, I haue both glorified it, and wyl glorifie it againe.
29 The people therefore that stood by, and heard it, said that it thundred, other said, An angel spake to him.
30 Iesus answeared, and sayde, This voyce came not because of me, but for your sakes.
31 Now is the iudgment of this worlde: Nowe shall the prince of this worlde be cast out.
32 And I, if I were lyft vp from the earth, wyl drawe al men vnto me.
33 (This he sayd, signifying what death he should dye.)
34 The people answeared him, || We haue hearde out of the lawe, that Christe bydeth euer: and howe sayest thou, the sonne of man must be lift vp: Who is that sonne of man?
35 Then Iesus sayd vnto them, Yet a litle while is the ||light with you: walke while ye haue light, lest the darknesse come on you: For he that walketh in the darke, wotteth not whyther he goeth.
36 While ye haue light, beleeue on the light, that ye may be the children of the light. These thinges spake Iesus, and departed, and was hyd from them.
37 But though he had done so many myracles before them, yet beleeued not they on him:
38 That the saying of Esaias the prophete might be fulfylled, whiche he spake, ||Lord, Who hath beleeued our saying? & to whom hath the arme of the Lorde been declared?
39 Therefore could they not beleeue, because that Esaias sayd agayne,
40 ||He hath blinded their eyes, & hardened their hart, that they should not see with their eyes, and lest they shoulde vnderstande with their hart, and should be conuerted, and I should heale them.
41 Such thinges sayd Esaias, when he sawe his glory, and spake of him.
42 Neuertheless, among the chiefe rulers also many beleeued on him: but because of the Pharisees they did not confesse him, lest they should be put out of the synagogue
43 ||For they loued the prayse of men, more then the prayse of God.
44 Iesus cryed, and sayd, He that beleeueth on me, beleeueth not on me, but on him that sent me.
45 And he that seeth me, seeth him that sent me.
46 I am come, || a light into the worlde, that who so euer beleeueth on me, shoulde not byde in darknesse.
47 ||And if any man heare my woordes, & beleeue not, I iudge him not: For I came not to iudge the worlde, but to saue the worlde.
48 He that refuseth me, & receyueth not my woordes, hath one that iudgeth him: || the woorde that I haue spoken, the same shall iudge him in the last day.
49 For I haue not spoken of mee selfe: but the father whiche sent me, he gaue me a commaundement what I should say, & what I would speake.
50 And I knowe that his commaundement is lyfe euerlasting: What so euer I speake therefore, euen as the father bade me, so I speake.

¶ The. xiii. Chapter.

1. Christ washeth the apostles feete, 35. Whereby Christes disciples are knowen.

BEfore || the feast of the Passeouer, when Iesus knewe that his houre was come, that he shoulde depart out of this worlde vnto the father, when he loued his owne whiche were in the worlde, vnto the ende he loued them.
2 *And when it was nowe supper (after that the deuil had put in the hart of Iudas Iscariot Simons sonne to betray him.)
3 Iesus knowing that the father had geuen al thinges into his handes, and that he was come from God, and went to God:

vpper garments: and when he had taken a towel, he girded him selfe.

5 After that he powreth water into a bason, and began to washe the disciples feete, & to wipe them cleane with the towel wherewith he was girded.

6 Then commeth he to Simon Peter: and Peter sayth vnto him, Lorde, doest thou washe my feete?

7 Iesus answeared and sayd vnto him, What I doo, thou wotest not nowe: but thou shalt knowe hereafter.

8 Peter sayth vnto him, Thou shalt neuer washe my feete. Iesus answeared him, If I washe thee not, thou hast no part with me.

9 Simon Peter sayth vnto him, Lorde, not my feete only, but also my handes, and my head.

10 Iesus sayth to him, He that is washed, needeth not saue to washe his feete, but is cleane euery whit: And ye are cleane, but not al.

11 For he knew who it was that should betray him: therefore sayde he, Ye are not al cleane.

12 So after he had washed their feete, and receiued his clothes, and was set downe agayne, he sayd vnto them, Wote ye what I haue done to you?

13 Ye cal me Maister and Lorde, & ye say wel: for so am I.

14 If I then your Lorde and Maister haue washed your feete, ye also ought to washe one anothers feete.

15 For I haue geuē you an ensample, that ye should doo as I haue done to you.

||Ioh.15.20. Mark10.24. Luke.6.40.

16 ||Verely, verely I say vnto you, the seruaunt is not greater then his maister, neither the messenger greater then he that sent him.

17 If ye knowe these things, happy are ye if ye doo them.

18 I speake not of you al, I know whom I haue chosen: but that the scripture may be fulfylled, || He that eateth bread with me, hath lyft vp his a heele agaynst me.

||Mat.10.40 Luke.10.16

19 Nowe tel I you before it come, that when it is come to passe, ye might beleeue that I am he.

20 ||Verely, verely I say vnto you, he that receiueth whom so euer I sende, receyueth me: and he that receyueth me, receiueth him that sent me.

||Mat.26.21. Mark. 14.18 Luke.22.21

21 ||When Iesus had thus sayd, he was troubled in spirite, & testifyed, and sayd, Verely, verely I say vnto you, that one of you shal betray me.

22 Then the disciples looked one on another, doubting of whom he spake:

23 There was one of Iesus disciples leaning on Iesus bosome, euen he whom Iesus loued.

24 To him beckened Simon Peter therefore, that he should aske who it shoulde be of whom he spake.

25 He then, when he leaned on Iesus breste, sayde vnto him, Lorde, who is it?

26 Iesus answeared, He it is to whom I shal geue a sop, when I haue dipped it. And when he had dipped the sop, he gaue it to Iudas Iscariot the sonne of Simon.

27 And after [a] the sop, Satan entred into him: Then sayde Iesus vnto him, That thou dooest, do quickely.

[a] He had tak

28 That wyst no man at the table, for what intent he spake vnto him.

29 Some of them thought, because Iudas had the bagge, that Iesus had sayd vnto him, Bye those thinges that we haue neede of against the feast: or that he shoulde geue some thing to the poore.

30 As soone then as he had receiued ỹ sop, he went immediatly out: and it was night.

31 Therefore, when he was gone out, Iesus sayd, Now is the sonne of man glorifyed: and God is glorifyed in him.

32 If God be glorified in him, God shal also glorify him in him selfe, & shal straightway glorifye him.

33 Litle children, yet a litle while am I with you. || Ye shal seeke me: and as I sayde vnto the Iewes, whyther I goe, thyther can ye not come: to you also say I nowe, 35 By this shall all men knowe that ye are my disciples, yf ye haue loue one to another.

36 ||Simon Peter said vnto him, Lord, whyther goest thou? Iesus answeared hym, Whyther I goe, thou canst not folowe me nowe: but thou shalt folow me afterwardes.

|| Mat.26. Mark.24. Luke.22.3

37 Peter sayd vnto him, Lord, why can not I folowe thee nowe? I wil ieoparde my lyfe for thy sake.

38 Iesus answeared him, Wilt thou ieopard thy life for my sake? Verily, verily I say vnto thee, the Cocke shall not crowe, tyl thou haue denyed me thryse.

¶ The.xiiii. Chapter.

He armeth his disciples vvith consolation agaynst trouble.

AND he sayde vnto his disciples, Let not your hart be troubled: ye beleeue in God, beleeue also in me.

The Gospel saint Philip Iames day.

2 In my fathers house are many dwel-lyng

lyng places: if it were not so, I wolde haue told you, I goe to prepare a place for you.

3 And if I goe and prepare a place for you, I wyl come againe, and receiue you euen vnto mee selfe: that where I am, there may ye be also.

4 And whither I goe, ye knowe, and the way ye knowe.

5 Thomas sayth vnto hym, Lorde, we knowe not whyther thou goest: and howe can we knowe the way?

6 Iesus sayth vnto hym, I am the way, and the trueth, and the lyfe: No man commeth vnto the father, but by me.

7 If ye had knowen me, ye shoulde haue knowen my father also: and nowe ye knowe him, and haue seene him.

8 Philip sayth vnto hym, Lord, shewe vs the father, and it suffiseth vs.

9 Iesus sayth vnto hym, Haue I been so long tyme with you, and yet hast thou not knowen me? Philip, he that hath seene me, hath seene the father: and howe sayest thou then, Shewe vs the father.

10 Beleuest thou not that I am in the father, and the father in me? The wordes that I speake vnto you, I speake not of mee selfe: but the father that dwelleth in me, is he that doeth the workes.

11 Beleeue me that I am in the father, and the father in me: or els beleeue me for the workes sake.

12 Verily, verily I say vnto you, he that beleeueth on me, the workes that I doo, the same shal he doo also, and greater workes then these shal he doo: because I goe vnto the father.

13 ‖ And whatsoeuer ye shal aske in my name, that wyl I doo: that the father maye be glorified in the sonne.

14 If ye shal aske any thing in my name, I wyl doo it.

15 If ye loue me, keepe my commaundementes,

16 And I wyl praye the father, and he shal geue you another comforter, that he may byde with you for euer.

17 Euen the spirite of trueth, whom the worlde can not receyue, because the worlde seeth hym not, neyther knoweth hym: but ye knowe hym, for he dwelleth with you, and shalbe in you.

18 I wyl not leaue you comfortlesse, I come to you.

19 Yet a litle whyle, and the worlde seeth me no more: but ye see me, because I liue, and ye shal lyue also.

20 That day shal ye knowe, that I am in my father, and you in me, and I in you.

21 He that hath my commaundements, & keepeth them, the same is he that loueth me: and he that loueth me, shalbe loued of my father, and I wyll loue hym, and wyll shewe mine owne selfe to hym.

22 Iudas sayth vnto hym, not Iudas Iscariot, Lord, what is doone that thou wylt shewe thee selfe vnto vs, and not vnto the worlde?

23 Iesus answeared, and said vnto hym: If a man loue me, he wyl keepe my sayinges: and my father will loue hym, and we wyll come vnto hym, and make our dwelling with hym.

24 He that loueth me not, keepeth not my sayinges, and the word which ye heare, is not myne, but the fathers which sent me.

25 These thinges haue I spoken vnto you, beyng yet present with you.

26 But the comforter vvhiche is the holy ghoste, whom the father wyll sende in my name, he shall teache you all thynges, and bring al thynges to your remembraunce, what so euer I haue sayde vnto you.

27 Peace I leaue with you, my peace I geue vnto you: not as the worlde geueth, geue I vnto you: let not your hart be troubled, neyther let it feare.

28 Ye haue hearde howe I sayde vnto you, I goe away, and come againe vnto you. If ye loue me, ye would verely reioyce, because I sayde, I goe vnto the father: for the father is greater then I.

29 And nowe haue I shewed you before it come to passe, that when it is come to passe, ye myght beleeue.

30 Hereafter wyl I not talke many wordes vnto you: for the a prince of this worlde commeth, and hath nought in b me.

31 But that the worlde may knowe that I loue the father: and as the father gaue me commaundement, euen so doo I: Ryse, let vs go hence.

a. Satan is the prince of the worlde, because he exerciseth tyrannie in this worlde, and wordlinges are subiect vnto hym.

b. Because Christ was without sinne.

The.xv.Chapter.

5. The consolation betweene Christe and his members, vnder the parable of the vine.

I Am the true vine, and my father is the husbandman.

The Gospel on Saint Markes day.

2 Euery ‖ branche that beareth not fruite in me, he taketh away: & euery branch that beareth fruite, he purgeth, that it may bring foorth more fruite.

‖ Mat.15.13

3 ‖ Nowe are ye cleane through the worde which I haue spoken vnto you.

‖ Joh.13.11.

2 Byde in me, and I in you: As the branche can not beare fruite of it selfe, except it bide in the vine: no more can ye, except ye a abide in me.

a. Those bring foorth no fruite, that are not graft in Christ.

5 I am the vine, ye are the branches: He that that abydeth in me, and I in hym, the same bryngeth foorth muche fruite: For without me can ye doo nothyng.

6 If a man byde not in me, he is cast foorth as a braunch, and wythereth, and men gather them, and cast them into the fyre, and they burne.

7 If ye bide in me, and my woords abide in you, ye shal aske what ye wyl, and it shalbe doone for you.

8 Herein is my father glorified, that ye beare muche fruite, and become my disciples.

9 As the father hath loued me, euen so haue I loued you: continue you in my b loue.

b. That is, the loue wherewith Christ loued vs.

10 If ye keepe my commaundementes, ye shal abide in my loue, euen as I haue kept my fathers commaundementes, and abide in his loue.

11 These thynges haue I spoken vnto you, that my ioy might remayne in you, and that your ioy might be ful.

The Gospel on Saint Barnabe Apostle.

12 ‖ This is my commaundement, that ye loue together, as I haue loued you.

‖ Iohn. 13. 34. 1. Iohn. 3. 11. 1. Thes. 4. 9.

13 Greater loue hath no man then this: that a man bestowe his lyfe for his freendes.

14 Ye are my freendes, if ye doo whatsoeuer I commaund you.

15 Henceforth cal I not you seruants, for the seruant knoweth not what his Lorde dooth, but you haue I called freendes, for al c thynges that I haue heard of my father, haue I made knowen vnto you.

c. So that there is nothyng omitted that is necessary for our saluation.

16 ‖ Ye haue not chosen me, but I haue chosen you, and ordeined you, that you should goe and bryng forth fruite, and that your fruite shoulde remayne: that whatsoeuer ye shal aske of the father in my name, he may geue it you.

‖ Mat. 28. 19.

The Gospel on Saint Simon & Iudes day.

17 This commaund I you, that ye loue together.

18 If the worlde hate you, ye know that it hated me before it hated you.

19 If ye were of the worlde, the worlde woulde loue his owne: howbeit, because ye are not of the worlde, but I haue chosen you out of p world, therfore the worlde hateth you.

‖ Ioh. 13. 16. Mat. 10. 24.

20 ‖ Remember the woorde that I said vnto you, The seruant is not greater then the Lorde: if they haue persecuted me, they wyl also persecute you: if they haue kept my saying, they wyl keepe d yours also.

d. It is called their worde, not that it dooth disagre from Gods word, but because they preach it. 2. Corin. 4.

21 But al these thynges wyl they doo vnto you for my names sake, because they haue not knowen him that sent me.

22 If I had not come, and spoken vnto them, they shoulde haue had no synne: but nowe haue they nothyng to cloke their sinne withal.

23 He that hateth me, hateth my father also.

24 If I had not doone among them the woorkes which none other man dyd, they should haue had no e sinne: but now haue they both seene, and hated both me & my father.

e. They are without excuse that folow not the worde of God preached vnto them.

25 But this commeth to passe, that the woorde might be fulfylled that is written in their lawe, ‖ They hated me without a cause.

‖ Psal. 35. 19.

26 But when the comforter is come, ‖ whom I wil send vnto you from the father, euen the spirit of truth, which proceedeth of the father, he shal testifie of me.

The Gospel on the sunday of Ascension day.

27 And ye shal beare witnesse also, because ye haue ben with me from the beginning.

‖ Ioh. 14. 26. Luk. 24. 49.

The xvi. Chapter.

7. Of the holy ghost, and of his office. 17. Of Christes ascension. 23. To aske in the name of Christe.

THese thinges haue I sayde vnto you, because ye should not be offended.

2 They shal put you out of their synagogue: yea, the tyme commeth, that whosoeuer killeth you, wyll thinke that he dooth God seruice.

3 And such thinges wyl they doo vnto you: because they haue not knowen the father, neyther yet me.

The Gospel on the iiii sunday after Easter.

4 But these thinges haue I told you, that when the tyme shal come, ye may remember then that I told you: These thinges sayde I not vnto you at the beginnyng, because I was present with you.

5 But nowe I goe my way to hym that sent me, and none of you asketh me, Whyther goest thou?

6 But because I haue sayd such thinges vnto you, sorowe hath fylled your hartes.

7 Neuertheles I tel you the trueth, it is expedient for you that I goe away: For if I goe not away, that comforter wyl not come vnto you: but if I depart, I wil send hym vnto you

8 And when he is come, he wyl rebuke the worlde of sinne, and of righteousnesse, and of iudgement.

9 Of sinne, because they beleeued not on me.

10 Of righteousnesse, because a I goe to my father, and ye see me no more.

a. That when the world shal see after his ascention the power of his spirite, shewed vpon the Apostles by him, they shalbe compelled in conscience to confesse that he was iust, and that he was not condemned of God for a blasphemer. (as they had iudged) but approued and receyued Actes. 2. 7.

11 Of iudgement, because the prince of this worlde is iudged alredy.

12 I haue yet many thinges to say vnto you, but ye can not beare them away nowe.

13 Howbeit, when he is come whiche is the spirite of trueth, he wil leade you into all trueth. He shal not speake of him selfe: but whatsoeuer he shal heare, that shal he speake: and he wyl shewe you thinges to come.

14 He shal glorifie me, for he shal receiue of of myne, and shal shewe vnto you.

15 All thynges that the father hath, are myne: therfore sayd I vnto you, that he taketh of myne, and shal shewe vnto you.

16 After a while, and ye shal not see me: and agayne after a while, and ye shal see me: for I goe to the father.

17 Then sayde some of his disciples betweene them selues, What is this that he sayth vnto vs, After a while, and ye shall not see me, and agayne, After a while, and ye shal see me: and, That I goe to the father.

18 They sayde therfore, What is this that he sayth, After a while? we can not tell what he sayth.

19 Iesus perceyued that they woulde aske him, and sayde vnto them, Doo ye enquyre among your selues of that I sayde, After a whyle, and ye shall not see me: and agayne, After a whyle, and ye shal see me?

20 Verily, verily I say vnto you, that ye shal weepe and lament, the worlde shal reioyce: ye shal sorowe, but your sorowe shalbe turned to ioy.

21 A woman, when she trauayleth, hath sorowe, because her houre is come: but as soone as she is deliuered of the chylde, she remembreth no more the anguyshe, for ioy that a man is borne into the worlde.

22 And ye nowe therefore haue sorowe: but I wyl see you b agayne, and your hartes shal reioyce, and your ioy no man taketh from you.

23 And in that day shall ye aske me no question: ||Verily, verily I say vnto you, Whatsoeuer ye shall aske the father in my name, he wyl geue it you.

24 Hytherto haue ye asked c nothyng in my name: aske, & ye shall receyue, that your ioy may be ful.

25 These thynges haue I spoken vnto you by prouerbes: the tyme commeth when I shall no more speake vnto you by prouerbes, but I shall shewe you playnely of my father.

26 At that day shal ye aske in my name: and I say not vnto you that I wyl pray vnto my father for you:

27 For the father him selfe loueth you, because ye haue loued me, and haue beleeued that I came out from God.

28 I went out from the father, & came into the worlde: agayne, I leaue the worlde, and goe to the father.

29 His disciples say vnto him, Lo, now talkest thou plainly, & speakest no prouerbe.

30 Now are we sure that thou knowest all thynges, and needest not that ayne man should aske thee any question: therfore beleeue we that thou camest from God.

31 Iesus answered them, Doo ye now beleeue?

32 ||Behold, the houre draweth nygh, & is alredie come, that ye shalbe scattered, euery man to his owne, and shal leaue me alone: and yet am I not alone, for the father is with me. ||Mat. 26. 31. Mark. 14. 27.

33 These wordes haue I spoken vnto you, that in me ye myght haue peace, for in the world ye haue tribulation: but be of good cheare, I haue ouercome the worlde.

¶ The. xvii. Chapter.

Christe prayeth to his father, that their glorie myght be made manifest.

THese wordes spake Iesus, and lyft vp his eyes to heauen, and sayde, Father, the houre is come, glorifie thy sonne, that thy sonne also may glorifie thee:

2 ||As thou hast geuen him power ouer al flesshe, that he shoulde geue eternal lyfe to as many as thou hast geuen him. ||Mat. 28. 18.

3 This is the lyfe eternall, that they myght knowe thee the onely true God, and Iesus Christe whom thou hast sent.

4 I haue glorified thee on the earth: I haue finished the woorke whiche thou gauest me to doo.

5 And nowe glorifie thou me, O father, with thyne owne selfe, with the glory whiche I had with thee per the worlde was.

6 I haue declared thy name vnto the men a which thou gauest me out of ꝑ worlde: thyne they were, and thou gauest them me, & they haue kept thy woorde. a. That is, to the Apostles.

7 ||Nowe they haue knowen that all thynges whatsoeuer thou hast geuen me, are of thee: ||Ioh. 16. 27.

8 For I haue geuen vnto them the wordes which thou gauest me, and they haue receyued them, and haue knowen surely that I came out from thee, and they haue beleeued that thou dyddest sende me.

9 I pray for them, I pray not for the b world: but for them whiche thou hast geuen me, for they are thyne. b. That is, the reprobate, that seke the world, and not Christ.

10 And al mine, are thine, and thine, are mine: and I am glorified in them.

11 And now am I not in the world, and they are in the worlde, and I come to thee. Holy father, keepe through thine owne name them, whiche thou hast geuen me, that they may also be c one, as we are. c. That they may be ioyned togeather in loue, and vnitie of loue, faith, and spirite.

12 While I was with thē in the world, I kept them in thy name: those that thou gauest me, haue I kept, and none of them is lost, but that d lost chylde: ||that the scripture myght be fulfylled. d. That is, Iudas Iscariot. ||Psal. 109. 8.

13 Nowe

13 Nowe come I to thee, & these wordes speake I in the worlde, that they myght haue my ioy fulfylled in them selues.

14 I haue geuen them thy worde, and the world hath hated them, because they are not of the worlde, euen as I also am not of the worlde.

15 I pray not that thou shouldest take them out of the worlde, but that thou shouldest keepe them from the euyl.

16 They are not of the world, as I also am not of the worlde.

17 Sanctifie them through thy trueth: thy worde is the trueth.

18 As thou diddest sende me into the worlde: euen so haue I also sent them into the worlde.

19 And for their sakes sanctifie I mee selfe, that they also myght be sanctified through the trueth.

20 Neuertheless, I pray not for them alone: but for them also which shall beleeue on me through their preachyng:

21 That they all maye be one, as thou father art in me, and I in thee, and that they also may be one in vs: that the worlde maye beleeue that thou hast sent me.

22 And the glorie whiche thou gauest me, I haue geuen them: that they also maye be one, as we also are one.

23 I in them, and thou in me, that they may be made perfect in one, & that the world may knowe that thou hast sent me, and hast loued them, as thou hast loued me.

|| Ioh.12.16. c. That is, after they haue fulfylled their course in this lyfe, they may enioy eternal lyfe.

24 || Father, I wyll that they whiche thou hast geuen me, be c with me where I am: that they may see my glorie which thou hast geuen me, for thou louedst me before the fundation of the worlde.

25 O righteous father, the worlde also hath not knowen thee: but I haue knowen thee, and these haue knowen that thou hast sent me.

26 And I haue declared vnto them thy name, & wyl declare it: that the loue wherewith thou hast loued me, may be in them, and I in them.

¶ The. xviii. Chapter.

2. Christe is betrayed by Iudas. 40. The Ievves aske Barabbas to be let loose.

The Gospel on Good Friday.

WHen Iesus had spoken these wordes, he || went foorth with his disciples ouer the brooke Cedron, where || Mat.26.36 Mark.14.32 Luke.22.39. was a garden, into the whiche he entred and his disciples.

2 Iudas also which betraied him, knew the place: for Iesus ofte tymes resorted thyther with his disciples.

3 || Iudas then, after he had receyued a bande of men, and officers of the high priests and pharisees, commeth thyther with lanternes, and torches, and weapons. || Mat.26. Mark.14. Luke.22.

4 And Iesus knowyng all thynges that should come on him, went foorth, and said vnto them, Whom seeke ye?

5 They answeared him, Iesus of Nazareth. Iesus sayth vnto them, I am he. Iudas also whiche betrayed him, stoode with them.

6 As soone then as he had sayde vnto them, I am he, they went backwarde, and fel to the grounde.

7 Then asked he them agayne, Whom seeke ye? They sayde, Iesus of Nazareth.

8 Iesus answeared, I haue tolde you that I am he: If ye seeke me therefore, a let these goe their way. a. The Apostles and disciples that were with me. Mat.26.56 Mat.26.65

9 That the saying myght be fulfylled whiche he spake, || Of them which thou gauest me, haue I not lost one. || Ioh.17.

10 The Simon Peter hauing a sword, drewe it, and smote the high priests seruant, and cut of his right eare: The seruantes name was Malchus.

11 Therefore sayde Iesus vnto Peter, Put vp thy sworde into the sheathe: Shal I not drynke of the cup whiche my father hath geuen me? Mat.27.2. Mark.15.1 Luc.23.1. Ioh.10.28

12 Then the companie, & the captayne, and officers of the Iewes, tooke Iesus, and bounde him:

13 || And led him away to Annas fyrst, (for he was father in lawe vnto Caiaphas) whiche was the high priest that same yeere. And Annas sent Christe bounde vnto Caiaphas the high priest. || Luke.3.

14 || Caiaphas was he which gaue counsell to the Iewes, that it was expedient that one man shoulde dye for the people. || Ioh.11. Because the names had in that Article them. Mat.27.19

15 || And Simon Peter folowed Iesus, and so dyd another b disciple: That disciple was knowen vnto the high priest, and went in with Iesus into the palace of the high priest. || Mat.26. b. That is Iohn. Mat.27.11

16 But Peter stoode at the doore without. Then went out that other disciple, whiche was knowen vnto the high priest, and spake vnto the damsell that kept the doore, and brought in Peter.

17 Then sayth the damsell that kept the doore vnto Peter, Art not thou also one of this mans disciples? He sayth, I am not.

18 The seruantes and officers stoode there, whiche had made a fyre of coales (for it was colde) and they warmed them selues: Peter also was standyng among them, warmyng him.

19 The high priest then asked Iesus of his his disciples, and of his doctrine.

20 Jesus answeared him, I spake openly to the worlde, I euer taught in the synagogue, and in the temple, whyther al the Iewes resort, and in secrete haue I sayde nothyng:

21 Why askest thou me? Aske them whiche hearde me what I haue sayde vnto them: behold, they can tel what I sayde.

22 When he had thus spoken, one of the officers which stoode by, smote Jesus with a rodde, saying, Answearest thou the high priest so?

23 Jesus answeared hym, If I haue euyl spoken, beare witnesse of the euyl: but if I haue wel spoken, why smitest thou me?

Mat.26.57. 24 ||Nowe Annas had sent him bounde vnto Caiaphas the high priest.

Mat.26.69. 25 Simon Peter was standing, and warming him selfe: ||Then sayde they vnto hym, Art not thou also one of his disciples? He denied it, and sayde, I am not.

26 One of the seruantes of the high priests (his cosin whose eare Peter smote of) sayth vnto him, Dyd not I see thee in the garden with hym?

27 Peter therefore denyed agayne, and immediately the cocke crewe.

Mat.27.2. Mark.15.1. Luk.23.1. Act.10.28. 28 ||Then led they Jesus from Caiaphas, into the hal of iudgement: It was in the morning, & they thē selues went not into the iudgement hal, lest they should be defiled: ||but that they might eate the Passeouer.

29 Pilate then went out vnto them, and sayde, What accusation bryng you agaynst this man?

30 They answeared and said vnto him, If he were not an euyl doer, we woulde not haue deliuered him vnto thee.

Because the Iewes had put that authoritie from them. Mat.27.19. 31 Then sayd Pilate vnto them, Take ye him, and iudge him after your owne lawe. The Iewes therefore sayde vnto hym, It is not lawful c for vs to kyl any man.

32 ||That the woordes of Jesus might be fulfylled, whiche he spake, signifying what death he shoulde dye.

Mat.27.11 33 ||Then Pilate entred into the Iudgement hal agayne, and called Jesus, and sayde vnto him, Art thou the king of the Iewes?

34 Jesus answeared him, Sayest thou this thyng of thee selfe? or dyd other tel it thee of me?

35 Pilate answeared, Am I a Iewe? Thine owne nation & high priestes haue deliuered thee vnto me: what hast thou doone?

36 Jesus answeared, My kyngdome is not of this worlde: if my kingdome were of this worlde, then would my seruantes surely fyght, that I shoulde not be delyuered to the Iewes: but nowe is my kyngdome not from hence.

37 Pilate therefore sayde vnto hym, Art thou a king then? Jesus answeared, Thou sayest that I am a king: For this cause am I borne, and for this cause came I into the worlde, that I shoulde beare witnesse vnto the trueth, and al that are of the trueth heare my voyce.

38 Pilate sayth vnto hym, What is trueth? And when he had sayde this, he went out againe vnto the Iewes, and saith vnto them, I finde in hym no fault at al.

Mat.27.15. Marke.15.6. Luke.23.27. 39 ||Ye haue a custome that I shoulde deliuer you one loose at the Passeouer: wyl ye that I loose vnto you the king of the Iewes?

Actes.3.14. 40 ||Then cryed they al againe, saying, Not hym, but Barabbas. This Barabbas was a robber.

The.xix. Chapter.

i Christ is vvhypped, beaten, and crovvned.
ii. Al povver is of God.

THen Pilate tooke Jesus therefore, and scourged hym.

Mat.27.26 Mark.15.18 2 ||And the souldiers, when they had wounde a crowne of thornes, they dyd put it on his head, and they dyd cast about hym a purple garment,

3 And sayd, Hayle king of the Iewes: and stroke hym with roddes.

4 Pilate went foorth agayne, and sayde vnto them, Behold, I bring hym foorth to you, that ye may knowe that I finde no fault in hym.

5 Then came Jesus foorth, wearyng the crowne of thorne, and the robe of purple: and Pilate sayth vnto them, Beholde the man.

6 When the high priestes therefore and officers sawe hym, they cryed, saying, Crucifie him, crucifie him. Pilate saith vnto them, Take ye hym, and crucifie hym: for I finde no fault in hym.

7 The Iewes answeared hym, We haue a lawe, and by our lawe he ought to dye: because he made hym selfe the sonne of God.

8 When Pilate hearde that saying, he was the more afrayde,

9 And went againe into the iudgement hal, and sayth vnto Jesus, Whence art thou? But Jesus gaue hym no answeare.

10 Then saith Pilate vnto him, Speakest thou not vnto me? Knowest thou not that I haue power to crucifie thee, & haue power to loose thee?

11 Jesus answeared, Thou couldest haue no power at al agaynst me, except it were geuen thee from aboue: therefore he that deliuered me vnto thee, hath the more sinne.

12 And

12 And from thencefoorth ſought Pilate meanes to looſe hym: but the Iewes cryed, ſayeing, If thou let hym goe, thou art not Caeſars freende: For whoſoeuer maketh hym ſelfe a kyng, ſpeaketh againſt Caeſar.

13 When Pilate hearde that ſayeing, he brought Ieſus foorth, and he ſate downe in the iudgement ſeate, in a place that is called the pauement, but in the Hebrue tongue, Gabbatha.

14 It was the preparyng of the Paſſeouer, and about the ſixth houre: and he ſayth vnto the Iewes, Beholde your king.

15 They cried, Away with hym, away with hym, crucifie hym. Pilate ſayth vnto them, Shal I crucifie your king? The high prieſtes anſweared, We haue no kyng but Caeſar.

16 ‖ Then delyuered he him therefore vnto them to be crucified: and they tooke Ieſus, and led hym away.

‖ Mat. 27.31. Mar. 15.21. Luke. 23.20.

17 And he bearing his croſſe, went foorth into a place whiche is called the place of a ſkul, but in the Hebrue, Golgotha:

18 Where they crucified hym, and two other with hym, on either ſide one, and Ieſus in the middes.

19 And Pilate wrote a title, and put it on the croſſe. The writyng was, Ieſus of Nazareth the king of the Iewes.

20 This title read many of the Iewes: for the place where Ieſus was crucified, was nigh to the citie: And it was written in Hebrue, and Greeke, and latine.

21 Then ſayde the high prieſtes of the Iewes to Pilate, Write not the king of the Iewes: but that he ſayde, I am king of the Iewes.

22 Pilate anſweared, What I haue written, that haue I written.

‖ Mat. 27.35. Mark. 15.14. Luke. 23.33.

23 ‖ Then the ſouldiers, when they had crucified Ieſus, tooke his garmentes, (and made foure partes, to euery ſouldier a parte) and alſo his coate: the coate was without ſeame, wouen from the toppe throughout.

24 They ſayde therefore among them ſelues, Let vs not diuide it, but caſt lottes for it, whoſe it ſhal be. That the ſcripture ‖ Pſal. 22.29 might be fulfilled, ſaying, ‖ They parted my rayment among them, and for my coate dyd they caſt lottes. And the ſouldiers dyd ſuche thynges in deede.

26 When Ieſus therefore ſawe his mother and the diſciple ſtanding by, whom he loued, he ſayeth vnto his mother, Woman, beholde thy ſonne.

b. That is, Iohn.

27 Then ſaith he to the diſciple, Beholde thy mother. And from that houre the diſciple tooke her vnto his owne houſe.

28 After theſe thinges, Ieſus knowing that all thynges were nowe perfourmed, ‖ that the ſcripture might be fulfylled, he ſaith, I thirſte. ‖ Pſal. 69.

29 So there ſtoode a veſſel by, ful of vineger: Therefore when they had fylled a ſpunge with vineger, and put it vpon hyſope, they offered it to his mouth.

30 When Ieſus therefore had receiued the vineger, he ſaide, It is b finiſhed, and when he had bowed his head, he gaue vp the ghoſte.

31 The Iewes therefore, becauſe it was the preparyng of the Sabboth, that the bodyes ſhoulde not remayne vpon the croſſe on the Sabboth daye (for that Sabboth day was an high daye) beſought Pilate that their legges myght be broken, and that they might be taken downe.

c. Becauſe vvere not dead, for t vvas their cuſtome.

32 Then came the ſouldiers, and c brake the legges of the firſt, and of the other which was crucified with him.

33 But when they came to Ieſus, and ſawe that he was dead alredy, they brake not his legges.

34 But one of the ſouldiers with a ſpeare thruſt him into the ſide, and foorthwith came there out blood and water.

35 And he that ſaw it, bare record, and his record is true, and he knoweth that he ſaith true, that ye myght beleeue alſo.

36 For theſe thinges were doonethat the ſcripture ſhoulde be fulfylled, ‖ A bone of hym ſhal not be broken. ‖ Num. 9. Exod. 12.

37 And agayne another ſcripture ſayth, ‖ They ſhal loke on him whom they pearſed. ‖ Zach. 12.

38 ‖ After this, Ioſeph of Arimathea (being a diſciple of Ieſus, but ſecretely for feare of the Iewes,) beſought Pilat that he might take downe the bodye of Ieſus, and Pilate gaue him lycence: he came therefore, & tooke the bodye of Ieſus. ‖ Mat. 27. Mark. 15. Luke. 23.

39 And there came alſo Nicodemus, which at the beginning came to Ieſus by nyght, and brought of myrrhe & aloes myngled togeather, about an hundred pounde vvayght.

40 Then tooke they the body of Ieſus, and wound it in linnen clothes, with the odours, as the maner of the Iewes is to bury.

41 And in the place where he was crucified, there was a garden, and in the garden a newe ſepulchre, wherein was neuer man yet layde.

42 There layd they Ieſus therefore, becauſe of the preparyng of the Sabboth of the Iewes, for the ſepulchre was nigh at hand.

The .xx. Chapter.

1. Marie commeth to the sepulchre. 9. The Apostles were ignorant of the resurrection.

THe fyrst day of the a Sabbothes, commeth Marie Magdalene early, when it was yet darke, vnto the sepulchre, and seeth the stone taken away from the graue.

2 Then she runneth, and commeth to Simon Peter, & to the other disciple, ||whom Iesus loued, & sayth vnto them, They haue taken away the Lorde out of the graue, and we can not tell where they haue layde him.

3 Peter therefore went forth, and that other disciple, and came to the sepulchre.

4 They ranne both together, and the other disciple did outrunne Peter, and came fyrst to the sepulchre.

5 And when he had stouped downe, he sawe the lynnen clothes lying, yet went he not in.

6 Then commeth Simon Peter folowyng him, and went in to the sepulchre, and seeth the lynnen clothes lye,

7 And the napkyn that was about his head, not lying with the lynnen clothes, but wrapped together in a place by it selfe.

8 Then went in also that other disciple which came fyrst to the sepulchre, & he sawe, and beleeued.

9 For as yet they knewe not the scripture, that he shoulde ryse from death.

10 Thē the disciples went away againe vnto their owne house.

11 ||Marie stoode without at the sepulchre, weepyng: so as she wept, she bowed her selfe into the sepulchre,

12 And seeth two angelles clothed in whyte, syttyng, the one at the head, and the other at the feete, where the body of Iesus was layde.

13 They say vnto her, Woman, why weepest thou? She saith vnto them, For they haue taken away my Lorde, and I wote not where they haue layde him.

14 When she had thus sayde, she turned her selfe backe, and sawe Iesus standyng, and knewe not that it was Iesus.

15 Iesus sayth vnto her, Woman, why weepest thou? Whom seekest thou? She supposyng that he had ben ỹ gardiner, sayth vnto him, Syr, yf thou haue borne him hence, tel me where thou hast layde him, and I wyl fetche him.

16 Iesus sayth vnto her, Marie. She turned her selfe, and said vnto him, Rabboni, whiche is to say, Maister.

17 Iesus sayth vnto her, Touche b me not, for I am not yet assended to my father, but goe to my brethren, and say vnto them, I || assende vnto my father and your father, and to my God, and your God. ||Psal.23.23

20 And when he had so sayde, he shewed vnto them his handes & his syde. Then were the disciples glad, when they sawe the Lord.

21 Then sayde Iesus to them agayne, Peace be vnto you: As my father hath sent me, euen so sende I you also.

22 And when he had sayde those woordes, he breathed on them, & sayth vnto them, Receyue ye the holy ghost.

23 || Whosoeuers synnes ye remit, they are remitted vnto them, and whosoeuers synnes ye reteyne, they are reteyned.

24 But Thomas, one of the twelue, whiche is called Didymus, was not with them when Iesus came. ||Mat.28.18 The Gospel on Saint Thomas day.

25 The other disciples therfore said vnto him, We haue seene the Lord. But he said vnto thē, Except I shal see in his handes the prynt of the naples, & put my synger into the prynt of the naples, and thrust my hande into his syde, I wyl in no wyse beleeue.

26 And after eyght dayes, agayne his disciples were within, and Thomas with them: Then came Iesus, the doores beyng shut, and stoode in the myddes, & sayd, Peace be vnto you.

27 After that sayth he to Thomas, Bryng thy synger hyther, and see my hands, and reach hither thy hand, & thrust it into my syde, and be not faythlesse, but beleeuyng.

28 Thomas answeared, and sayde vnto him, My Lorde, and my God.

29 Iesus sayth vnto him, Thomas, because thou hast seene me, thou hast beleeued, blessed are they that haue not seene, and yet haue beleeued.

30 || And many other signes truely dyd Iesus before the eyes of his disciples, which are not wrytten in this booke. ||Joh.21.25.

¶ The .xxi. Chapter.

Christe forewarneth Peter of his death and persecution.

1 After-

AFterwarde dyd Ieſus ſhewe him ſelfe againe to his diſciples at the ſea of Tiberias, and on this wyſe ſhewed he him ſelfe.

2 There were togeather Simon Peter, and Thomas, whiche is called Didymus, and Nathanael of Cana in Galilee, and the ſonnes of Zebedee, and two other of his diſciples.

3 Simon Peter ſayth vnto them, I goe a fyſhyng. They ſay vnto him, We alſo goe with thee. They went their way, and entred into a ſhyp immediatly, & that nyght caught they nothyng.

4 But when the morowyng was nowe come, Ieſus ſtoode on the ſhore: neuertheles, the diſciples knewe not that it was Ieſus.

* or, Syri. 5 Ieſus ſayth vnto them, * Children, haue ye any meate? They anſweared him, No.

6 And he ſayth vnto them, Caſt out the net on the ryght ſyde of the ſhyp, and ye ſhall fynde. They caſte out therefore, and anone they were not able to drawe it for the multitude of fyſhes.

7 Then ſayde the diſciple whom Ieſus loued, vnto Peter, It is the Lorde. When Simon Peter hearde that it was the Lorde, he gyrd his coate vnto him (for he was naked) and dyd caſt him ſelfe into the ſea.

8 The other diſciples came in a litle ſhyp (for they were not farre from land, but as it were two hundred cubites) drawing the net with fyſhes.

9 As ſoone then as they were come to lande, they ſawe whot coales, and fyſhe layd theron, and bread.

10 Ieſus ſaith vnto them, Bryng of the fyſhe, which ye haue nowe caught.

11 Simon Peter went vp, and drewe the net to the land ful of great fyſhes, an hundred and fyftie and three, & for all there were ſo many, yet was not the net broken.

12 Ieſus ſaith vnto them, Come, & dine. And none of ỹ diſciples durſt aſke him, Who art thou? knowyng that it was the Lorde.

13 Ieſus then commeth, & taketh bread, and geueth them, and fyſhe lykewyſe.

14 This is nowe the thyrde tyme that Ieſus appeared to his diſciples, after that he was ryſen from death.

15 So whē they had dined, Ieſus ſaith to Simon Peter, Simon * Ioanna, loueſt thou me more then theſe? He ſaith vnto him, Yea Lorde, thou knoweſt that I loue thee. He ſayth vnto him, Feede my lambes.

* or, ſonne Iona.

16 He ſayth to him agayne the ſeconde tyme, Simon Ioanna, loueſt thou me? He ſayth vnto him, Yea Lorde, thou knoweſt that I loue thee. He ſayth vnto him, Feede my ſheepe.

17 He ſayde vnto him the thyrde tyme, Simon Ioanna, loueſt thou me? Peter was ſorie, becauſe he ſayde vnto him the thyrde tyme, Loueſt thou me: And he ſayde vnto him, Lorde, thou knoweſt all thynges, thou knoweſt that I loue thee: Ieſus ſayth vnto him, Feede my ſheepe.

18 Verily, verily I ſay vnto thee, when thou waſt younger, thou gyrdedſt thee ſelfe, and walkedſt whyther thou wouldeſt: but when thou ſhalt be olde, thou ſhalt ſtretche foorth thy handes, and another ſhall gyrde thee, and carrie thee whyther thou wouldeſt not.

19 This ſpake he, ſignifiyng by what death he ſhoulde glorifie God. And when he had ſpoken this, he ſayth vnto him, Folowe me.

20 Peter turning about, ſeeth the diſciple whom || Ieſus loued, folowyng, whiche alſo leaned at his breſt at ſupper, and ſayde, Lorde, whiche is he that betrayeth thee? || Ioh. 13.

22 Ieſus ſaith vnto him, Yf I wil haue him to tarry til I come, what is that to thee? Folowe thou me. Saint Iohn euangeliſte.

23 Thē went this ſaying abrode among the brethren, that that diſciple ſhoulde not dye: Yet Ieſus ſayde not vnto him, He ſhal not dye: but, Yf I wyl that he tarrie tyll I come, what is that to thee?

24 The ſame diſciple is he whiche teſtifieth of theſe thynges, & wrote theſe thynges, & we knowe that his teſtimonie is true.

¶ The first Chapter.

1. The vvordes of Christ and his angels to the Apostles. 9. His assention. 14. VVherin the Apostles are occupyed, tyl the holy ghost be sent. 16. And of the election of Matthias.

The Epistle on Assension day.

THE former booke haue I made, O Theophilus, of all that Iesus began both to doo and teache,

2 Until the day in whiche he was taken vp, after that he thrugh the holy ghost had geuen commaundements vnto the Apostles, whom he had chosen.

3 To whom also he shewed him selfe alyue after his passion, and that by many tokens, appearyng vnto them fourtie dayes, and speaking of the kingdome of God.

4 And geathering them togeather, commaunded them that they shoulde not depart from Hierusalem, but wayte for the promise ther, they asked of him, saying, Lorde, wylt thou at this tyme restore agayne the kyngdome of Israel?

7 And he sayde vnto them, It is not for you to knowe the times or the seasons, which the father hath put in his owne power.

Actes.2.1. 8 But || ye shal receiue power after that the holy ghost is come vpon you, and ye shalbe witnesses vnto me, both in Hierusalem, and in al Iurie, and in Samaria, and euen vnto the worldes ende.

Luke.24.52 9 || And when he had spoken these thinges, while they beheld, he was taken vp an high, and a cloude receiued him vp out of their sight.

10 And while they looked vp stedfastly towarde heauen, as he went, beholde, two men stoode by them in whyte apparel, 11 Which also said, Ye men of Galilee, why stand ye gasing vp into heauen? This same Iesus whiche is taken vp from you into heauen, shal so come, euen as ye haue seene him goe into heauen.

12 Then returned they vnto Hierusalem, from the mount that is called Oliuet, which is from Hierusalem a Sabboth daies iourney.

13 And when they were come in, they went vp into a parlour, where abode both Peter, and Iames, and Iohn, and Andrewe, Philip, and Thomas, Bartholomewe, and Matthewe, Iames the sonne of Alpheus, and Simon Zelotes, and Iudas the brother of Iames.

14 These al continued with one accorde in prayer and supplication with the women, and Marie the mother of Iesus, and with his brethren.

15 ¶ And in those dayes Peter stoode vp in the myddes of the disciples, and sayde, (The number of a names togeather, were about an hundred and twentie.)

16 Ye men and brethren, this scripture must needes haue ben fulfilled, || which the holy ghost by the mouth of Dauid spake before of Iudas, whiche was guide to them that tooke Iesus:

17 For he was numbred with vs, and had obteyned felowshyp in this ministerie.

18 || And the same hath nowe purchased a feelde, with the rewarde of b iniquitie, and when he was hanged, he burste asunder in the middes, and al his bowels gushed out.

19 And it is knowen vnto all the dwellers at Hierusalem, insomuche that the same feelde is called in their mother tongue Aceldema, that is to say, The feelde of blood.

20 For it is wrytten in the booke of Psalmes, || Let his habitation be desart, and no man be dwelling therin: || And his Bishoprike let another take.

21 Wherefore of these men which haue companied with vs al the time that the lord Iesus went out and in c among vs, 22 Beginning from the Baptisme of Iohn, vnto that same day that he was taken vp from vs, must one be ordeyned to be a witnesse with vs of his resurrection.

23 And they appoynted two, Ioseph whiche is called Barsabas, whose surname was Iustus, and Matthias.

24 And when they had prayed, they said, Thou Lorde, whiche knowest the hartes

a. Lottes for choosing of officers, or diuiding of inheritance, grounde, or goodes, are alowed of God as appeareth in the holy scriptures, lots stay strife, sayth Solomon. But lots of diuination to knowe superstitiously of things to come, are disalowed of God, & vtterly forbidden.

¶ The. ii. Chapter.

1. The holy ghost came vpon the Apostles in visible signes. 42. The godly exercise of the faithful.

The Epistle on Whitsunday.

AND when the day of Pentecost was fully come, they were all with one accorde in one place.

||Act.11.15. 2 || And sodenly there came a sounde from heauen, as it had ben the comming of a mightie winde, and it filled all the house where they were sitting.

3 And there appeared vnto them clouen tonges, lyke as they had ben of fire, and a sate vpon eche one of them.

4 And they were all filled with the holy ghost, and began to speake with other tongues, as the spirite gaue them vtterance.

5 There were dwelling at Hierusalem Jewes, deuout men, out of euery nation of them that are vnder heauen.

6 When this was noysed about, the multitude came together, and were astonyed, because that euery man hearde them speake in his owne language.

a. It is moste like that the myracle was both in the speakers, & also in the hearers. In the speakers, for that they speaking the Hebrue tongue, dyd wel perceiue that strangers of diuers nations & languages did vnderstande them: And in the hearers, for that euery man heard sensibly his owne countrey language out of the Apostles, speakyng in theyr mother tongue.

7 They wondred al, and maruey led, saying one to another, Beholde, are not al these whiche speake, of Galilee?

8 And howe heare we euery man his owne a tongue, wherin we were borne?

9 Parthians, & Medes, and Elamites, and the dwellers in Mesopotamia, and in Jury, & in Capadocia, in Pontus, and Asia,

10 Phrygia, and Pamphylia, in Egypt, and in the parties of Lybia, which is beside Cyrene, and strangers of Rome, Jewes and b Proselytes,

b. That is, such as were conuerted to ỹ Iewes religion, and whose auncetours were no Iewes.

11 Cretes, and Arabians, we do heare them speake in our tongues the wonderful workes of God.

12 They were al amased, and were in a doubt, saying one to another, What meaneth this?

13 Other mocking, saide, These men are ful of newe wine.

14 But Peter standing forth with the eleuen, lift vp his voyce, and said vnto them, Ye men of Jurie, and all ye that dwell at Hierusalem, be this knowen vnto you, and heare my wordes, 15 For these are not dronke, as ye suppose, seeing it is but the c third houre of the day.

c. The Iewes counte the houres of ỹ day, from sixe of the clocke in the morning, to sixe at night: therefore the third houre after the Iewes computation, is our nine of the clocke.

16 But this is that which was spoken by the prophete Joel,

17 ||And it shalbe in the last dayes (saith God) of my spirite I wyl powre out vpon al flesh: and your sonnes and your daughters shal prophesie, & your young men shal see visions, & your old men shal dreame dreames:

||Joel.2.28. Esai.44.3.

18 And on my seruantes, and on my handmaydens, I wil powre out of my spirite in those dayes, and they shal prophesie:

19 And I wil shewe wonders in heauen aboue, & tokens in the earth beneath, blood, and fyre, and the vapour of smoke.

20 || The sunne shalbe turned into darknesse, and the moone into blood, before that great and notable day of the Lord come.

||Joel.2.32.

21 ||And it shal come to passe, that who soeuer shal cal on the name of the Lord, shalbe saued.

||Rom.10.13

22 Ye men of Israel, heare these wordes, Jesus of Nazareth, a man approoued of God among you with myracles, wonders, and signes, whiche GOD did by him in the middes of you, as ye your selues also knowe,

23 Hym, after that ye had taken by wicked handes, beyng deliuered by the determinate counsel & foreknowledge of God, haue ye crucified and slayne:

24 Whom God hath raised vp, hauing loosed the sorowes of death, because it was impossible that he shoulde be holden of it.

25 For Dauid speaketh of him, || I saw the Lorde alwayes set foorth before my face, for he is on my right hande, that I shoulde not be moued.

||Psal.16.7

26 Therfore did my hart reioyce, and my tongue was glad: Moreouer also, my flesh shal rest in hope, 27 Because thou wylt not leaue my soule in hell, neyther wilt thou suffer thyne holy one to see corruption.

28 Thou hast shewed me the wayes of lyfe, thou shalt make me ful of ioy with thy countenance.

29 Ye men and brethren, let me freely speake vnto you of the ||patriarche Dauid: For he is both dead and buryed, and his sepulchre is with vs vnto this day.

||3.Reg.2.10

30 Therfore, being a prophet, & knowyng that GOD had swoorne with an othe to him, || that he would raise vp Christ, as concerning the flesh, of the fruite of his loynes, to sit on his seate,

31 He seeing this before, spake of ỹ resurrection of Christ, ||that his soule was not left in hel, neither his flesh did see corruption.

||Psal.16.10

32 This Jesus hath GOD rayled vp, whereof whereof we al are witnesses.

33 Then being by the ryght hande of God exalted, & hauing receiued of the father the promise of the holy ghost, he hath shed foorth this, which ye nowe see and heare.

34 For Dauid is not ascended into the heauens, but he sayth him selfe, || The Lorde sayd vnto my Lorde, Sit thou on my ryght hande, || Psal.110.1

35 Untyl I make thy foes thy foote stoole.

36 Therefore let all the house of Israel know for a suertie, that God hath made that same Iesus whom ye haue crucifyed, both Lorde and Christ.

37 Nowe when they heard this, they were pricked in their hart, and said vnto Peter, and to the other Apostles, Ye men and brethren, What shal we doo?

38 Then Peter sayd vnto them, Repent ye, and let euery one of you be baptised in the name of Iesus Christe, for the remission of sinnes, & ye shal receiue the gift of the holy ghost.

39 For the promise was made vnto you, & to your children, and to al that are a farre of, euen as many as the Lord our God shal cal.

40 And with many other woordes dyd he witnesse, and exhorted them, saying, Saue your selues from this vntowarde generation.

41 Then they that gladly receiued his woord, were baptised, and the same day there were added vnto them about three thousande soules.

42 And they continued stedfastly in the Apostles doctrine and d felowship, & in breaking of bread, and in prayers.

43 And feare came vppon euery soule, & many woonders and signes were done by the Apostles.

44 And al that beleeued were togeather, and had al thinges common,

45 And solde their possessions & goodes, and parted them to all men, as euery man had neede.

46 And they continuing daply with one accorde in the temple, and breaking bread from house to house, did eate their meate togeather with gladnesse of hart, 47 Praysing God, and hauing fauour with al the people. And the Lord added to the Church daply such as shoulde be saued.

d By felowshipe is ment a godly companiyng togeather, in practising the works of charitie, in rendering and helping one another. in disposing by almes their goodes to their needie neighbours. By breaking of bread, is ment the mysterie wherein our Sauiour Christe doth communicate and distribute vnto vs his body and blood, by his blessed sacrament of bread & wine, where is presented to the eyes of our faith, the breaking of Christes body, & the shedding of his blood.

¶ The. iii. Chapter.

7. The halt is restored to his feete. 12. Peter preached Christe vnto the people.

NOwe Peter and John went vp togeather into the temple at the nienth houre of prayer.

2 And a certaine man that was lame from his mothers wombe was brought, whom they laid daply at the gate of the temple which is called beautiful, to aske almes of them that entred into the temple.

3 Which seeing Peter and John about to goe into the temple, asked an almes.

4 And Peter fastening his eyes vpon him, with John, sayd, Looke on vs.

5 And he gaue heede vnto them, trusting to receiue something of them.

6 Then saide Peter, Siluer and golde haue I none, but such as I haue, geue I thee, In the name of Iesus Christ of Nazareth rise vp, and walke.

7 And he tooke him by the right hande, and lift him vp, and immediatly his feete and ankle bones receiued strength.

8 And he leaping vp, stood, and walked, and entred with them into the temple, walking, and leaping, and praysing God.

9 And al the people sawe him walking and praysyng God.

10 And they knewe him, that it was he whiche sate for the almes at the beautifull gate of the temple, and they woondred, and were sore astonied at that which had happened vnto him.

11 And as the lame whiche was healed held Peter and John, all the people ran togeather greatly amazed vnto them in the porch, that is called Solomons.

12 And when Peter sawe that, he answeared vnto the people, Ye men of Israel, why marueyle ye at this? or why looke ye so earnestly on vs, as though by our owne power or a godlynesse we had made this man to walke?

a. He correcteth the abuse of man, which attribute to mans holynesse that which only apparteyneth to God.

13 The God of Abraham, and of Isahac, and of Iacob, the God of our fathers hath glorified his sonne Iesus, whom ye betraied and denied in the presence of Pilate, when he had iudged him to be loosed.

15 And killed the Lorde of lyfe, whom God hath rayled from the dead, of the which we are witnesses.

16 And his name, through the fayth in his name, hath made this man sound, whom ye se and knowe, and the fayth whiche is by him, hath geuen to this man health in the presence of you al.

17 And nowe brethren, I wote that through ignorance ye did it, as dyd also your rulers.

18 But those things which God before had shewed by the mouth of al his prophets, that Christe shoulde suffer, he hath so fulfylled.

19 Repent ye therefore, and conuert, that

21 Whom the heauen must receiue, vntil the time that al thinges be restored, which God hath spoken by the mouth of al his holy prophetes since the world began.

25 Ye are the children of the c prophetes, and of the couenant which God made vnto our fathers, saying vnto Abraham, ||Euen in thy seede shall all the kinredes of the earth be blessed.

7. The apostles are brought before the counsel. 32. The Church encreaseth in doctrine, and exercises of al godlynesse.

AND as they spake vnto the people, the priestes and the * ruler of the temple, and the Sadduces, came vpon them,
* or, captayne.
2 Taking it greeuously that they taught the people, and preached in Jesus the resurrection from the dead.
3 And they layd handes on them, & put them in holde vntyl the next day: for it was nowe euentide.
4 How be it, many of them which heard the worde, beleeued, and the number of the men was about fyue thousande.
5 And it came to passe on the morowe, that their rulers, and elders, and Scribes,
6 And Annas the cheefe priest, & Caiaphas, and John, and Alexander, and as many as were of the kinrede of the high priestes, were geathered togeather at Hierusalem.
7 And when they had set them before them, they asked, By what power, or in what name haue ye done this?
8 Then Peter ful of the holy ghost, said vnto them, Ye rulers of the people, & elders of Israel,
9 If we this day be examined of the good deede done to the sicke man, by what meanes he is made whole,
10 Be it knowen vnto you al, and to all the people of Israel, that by the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, whom ye crucifyed, whom God rayled agayne from the dead, euen by him, doth this man stand here before you whole.
11 || This is the stone whiche was set nought by of you builders, which is the head of the a corner.
|| Ps.118.22 Esai.28.16 Mat.21.42
a. Christ is called the cheefe corner, or corner stone, because the Iewes, and the Gentiles are ioyned togeather, & builded vpon him by fayth, & made one Church.
12 Neither is there b saluation in any other: for among men vnder heauen, there is geuen none other name wherein we must be saued.
b. Neither Saint, nor Angel, nor worke nor ought els can saue, but Christ alone.
13 Nowe when they sawe the boldnesse of Peter and John, and vnderstood that they were vnlearned, and ignorant men, they marueyled, and they knewe them that they had been with Jesu:
14 And beholding also the man whiche was healed standing with them, they coulde not say agaynst it.
15 But when they had commaunded them to goe asyde out of the counsell, they counsayled among them selues, 16 Saying, What shal we doo to these men? for a manifest signe is done by them, & is openly knowen to al them that dwell in Hierusalem, and we can not deny it.
17 But that it be noysed no farther among the people, let vs threaten, & charge them that they speake henceforth to no man in this name.
18 And they called them, & commaunded them, that in no wise they shoulde speake nor teache in the name of Jesu.
19 But Peter and John answeared, & sayde vnto them, Whether it be right in the syght of God, to hearken vnto you more then to God, iudge ye.
20 For we can not but speake that, whiche we haue seene and hearde.
21 So when they had more sharpely threatned them, they let them goe, fynding nothing how to punishe them, because of the people: for al men glorifyed God, because of that which was done.
22 For the man was about fourtie yeeres olde, on whom this myracle of healing was shewed.
23 Then assoone as they were let goe, they came to their felowes, and shewed all that the high priests and elders had sayd vnto them.
24 And when they heard that, they lift vp their voyces to God with one accorde, and saide, Lorde, thou art God which hast made heauen & earth, the sea, & al that in them is,
25 Which

25 Which by the mouth of thy ſeruant Dauid haſt ſaide, ‖ Why dyd the heathen rage, and the people imagine vaine thinges?

Pſalm. 2.1.

26 The kinges of the earth ſtoode vp, and the rulers came togeather agaynſt the Lorde, and agaynſt his Chriſte.

27 For of a trueth againſt thy holy child Ieſus, whom thou haſt annoynted, both Herode, & alſo Pontius Pilate, with the Gentiles, and the people of Iſrael, geathered them ſelues togeather, 28 For to do whatſoeuer thy hande and thy counſel determined before to be done.

29 And now Lord, behold their threatninges, and graunt vnto thy ſeruantes, that with al boldneſſe they may ſpeake thy word, 30 So that thou ſtretche forth thine hande, that healing, and ſignes, & wonders, be done by the name of thy holy child Ieſus.

31 And as ſoone as they had prayed, the place moued where they were aſſembled togeather, and they al filled with the holy ghoſt, and they ſpake the worde of God boldly.

32 And the multitude of them that beleeued, were of one hart, & of one ſoule: Neither ſaid any of them, that ought of the thinges whiche he poſſeſſed was his owne, but they had al thinges common.

33 And with great power gaue the apoſtles witneſſe of the reſurrection of the Lord Ieſu, and great grace was with them al.

34 Neither was there any among them that lacked: For as many as were poſſeſſours of landes, or houſes, ſolde them, and brought the price of the thinges that were ſolde, 35 And layde it downe at the Apoſtles feete: And diſtribution was made vnto euery man according as he had neede.

36 And Ioſes, whiche was alſo called of the Apoſtles Barnabas (that is to ſay by interprete it, the ſonne of conſolation) being a Leuite, and of the countrey of Cypers, 37 Hauing lande, ſolde it, and brought the money, and layd it downe at the Apoſtles feete.

¶ The.v. Chapter.

12. Myracles are done by the Apoſtles. 34. The ſentence of Gamaliel.

BVT a certayne man named Ananias, with Sapphira his wyfe, ſolde a poſſeſſion,

2 And kept away part of the price, his wyfe alſo being of counſell, and brought a certaine part, and laide it downe at the Apoſtles feete.

3 But Peter ſayd, Ananias, howe is it that Satan hath filled thyne hart, to lye vnto the holy ghoſt, and keepe away part of the price of the lande?

4 Whiles it remayned, was it not thine owne? and after it was ſolde, was it not in thine owne power? why haſt thou conceiued this thing in thine hart? thou haſt not lyed vnto men, but vnto God.

5 Ananias hearyng theſe wordes, fell downe, & gaue vp the ghoſt: And great feare came on al them that hearde theſe thinges.

6 And the young men roſe vp, & put him apart, and caried him out, and buryed him.

7 And it came to paſſe, that as it were about the ſpace of three houres after, his wife came in, not knowing that which was done.

8 And Peter ſayde vnto her, Tel me, ſolde ye not the lande for ſo muche? And ſhe ſayde, Yea, for ſo muche.

9 Then Peter ſaid vnto her, Why haue ye agreed togeather to tempt the ſpirite of the Lord? beholde, the feete of them which haue buried thy huſbande, are at the doore, and ſhal cary thee out.

10 Then fel ſhe downe ſtrayght way at his feete, and yeelded vp the ghoſt: And the young men came in, and founde her dead, and caried her out, and buried her by her huſbande.

11 And great feare came vpon al the churche, & vpon as many as heard theſe thinges.

12 And by the handes of the Apoſtles, were many ſignes & wonders ſhewed among the people. (And they were altogeather with one accorde in Solomons porche.

The Epiſtle on S. Bartholomewe the Apoſtle.

13 And of other durſt no man ioyne himſelfe to them: neuertheleſſe the people magnified them.

14 The number of them that beleeued in the Lord, both of men and women, grewe more and more.)

15 Inſomuche that they brought the ſicke into the ſtreetes, and laid them on beds and couches, that at the leaſt way, the a ſhadowe of Peter when he came by, might ſhadowe ſome of them.

a. God at the firſt publiſhyng of his Goſpel, wrought wonders by theſe things that ſeemed trifles to the vvorlde, vvhiche thinges as they vvere done for a time, ſo nowv the like muſt not be looked for.

16 There came alſo a multitude of the cities round about, vnto Hieruſalem, bringing ſicke folkes, and them which were vexed with vncleane ſpirites: and they were healed euery one.

17 Then the cheefe prieſt roſe vp, & all they that were with him (which is the ſecte of the Sadducees) & were ful of indignation, 18 And layde handes on the Apoſtles, and put them in the common priſon.

19 But the angel of the Lord by night opened the priſon doores, and brought them forth, and ſayde, 20 Goe, and ſtande & ſpeake in the temple to the people al the wordes of this lyfe.

21 And when they heard that, they entred into the temple early in the morning, and taught, but the cheefe priest came, and they that were with him, and called a counsel togeather, & al the elders of the children of Israel: & sent to the prison to fetch them.

22 But when the officers came, & found them not in the prison, they returned, & told,

23 Saying, The prison truely found we shut with al diligence, & the kepers standing without before the doores, but when we had opened, we founde no man within.

24 Then when the cheefe priest, and the captayne of the temple, and the high priestes heard these thinges, they doubted of them whereunto this would growe.

25 Then came one and shewed them, saying, Beholde, the men that ye put in prison, are standing in the temple, and teaching the people.

26 Then went the captaine of the temple with the officers, and brought them without violence: (For they feared the people, lest they should haue ben stoned.)

27 And when they had brought them, they set them before the counsell. And the cheefe priest asked them, 28 Saying, || Did not we straytghtly commaund you that ye should not teache in this name? And beholde, ye haue filled Hierusalem with your doctrine, and intende to bring b this mans blood vpon vs.

29 Then Peter and the other Apostles answeared, and sayde, We ought more to obey God then men.

30 The God of our fathers rayled vp Iesus, whom ye slue, and hanged on tree.

31 Hym hath GOD lyft vp with his right hande, to be a prince and a sauiour, for to geue repentance to Israel, and forgeuenesse of sinnes.

32 And we are recordes of these things whiche we say, and so is also the holy ghost, whō God hath geuen to them that obey him.

33 When they heard that, they claue asunder, and sought meanes to slea them.

34 Then stoode there vp one in the counsel, a Pharisee, named Gamaliel, a doctour of lawe, had in reputation among al the people, and commaunded to put the apostles foorth a litle space, 35 And said vnto them, Ye men of Israel, take heede to your selues, what ye entende to do as touching these men.

36 For before these dayes rose vp one Theudas, reporting him selfe to be some great man, to whom a number of men, about a foure hundred, ioyned them selues: whiche was slayne, and they all whiche a beleeued him were scattered abrode, and brought to nought.

37 After this man arose vp one Iudas of Galilee, in the dayes of tribute, and drue away muche people after hym: he also perished, and all, euen as many as obeyed hym, were scattered abrode.

38 And nowe I say vnto you, refrayne your selues from these men, and let them alone: for yf this counsel or this worke be of men, it wyl come to nought.

39 But and yf it be of God, ye can not destroy it, lest haply ye be founde to stryue against God.

40 And to hym they agreed: and when they had called the apostles, & beaten them, they cōmaunded that they should not speake in the name of Iesu, and let them goe.

41 And they departed from the face of the counsell, reioycyng that they were counted worthy to suffer shame for his name.

42 And dayly in the temple, and in euery house, they ceassed not to teach and preach Iesus Christe.

3. Seuen deacons are ordeyned in the Churche.
11. Steuen is accused.

AND in those dayes, when the number of the disciples grewe, there arose a grudge among the Greekes against the Hebrues, because theyr widdowes were despised in the dayly ministerie.

2 Then the twelue called the multitude of the disciples togeather, and sayde, It is not good that we shoulde leaue the worde of God, and serue tables.

3 Wherefore brethren, looke ye out among you seuen men of honest report, and ful of the holy ghost, and wyshome, to whom we may commit this busyneſſe.

4 But we wil geue our selues continually to prayer, and to the ministerie of the worde.

5 And the saying pleased the whole multitude: || and they chose Steuen, a man full of fayth and of the holy ghost, and Philip, and Prochorus, and Nicanor, and Timon, and Permenas, and Nicholas a conuert of Antioche.

6 These they set before the Apostles: and when they had prayed, they layde their handes on them.

7 And the worde of God encreased, and the number of the disciples multiplied in Hierusalem greatly, and a great company of the priestes were obedient to the fayth.

8 And Steuen ful of fayth and power, did great wonders and myracles among the people.

11 Then they priuily prepared men, which ſayd, b We haue heard him ſpeake blaſphemous woordes agaynſt Moſes, and agaynſt God.

12 And they mooued the people, and the elders, and the ſcribes, and came vpon him, and caught him, and brought him to the counſel:

13 And brought forth falſe witneſſes, which ſaid, This man ceaſſeth not to ſpeake blaſphemous woords againſt this holy place, and the lawe.

14 For we heard hym ſay, that this Ieſus of Nazareth ſhal deſtroy this place, and ſhall change the ordinances whiche Moſes gaue vs.

15 And all that ſate in the counſel, looking ſtedfaſtly on him, ſawe his face as it had been the face of an angel.

2. Steuen maketh anſwere to his accuſation. 51. rebuketh the harde necked Ieuves, 54. & is ſtoned to death.

THen ſayde the cheefe prieſt, Are theſe thinges ſo?

2 And he ſayde, Ye men, brethren, and fathers, hearken: The God of glory appeared vnto our father Abraham, when he was in Mesopotamia, before he dwelt in Charran,

3 And ſayde vnto him, Get thee out of thy countrey, and from thy kinrede, || & come into the lande which I ſhal ſhewe thee.

4 Then came he out of the lande of the Chaldeans, and dwelt in Charran: and from thence, when his father was dead, he brought him into this land wherein ye nowe dwel.

5 And he gaue him none inheritance in it, no not the breadth of a foote: and promiſed that he woulde geue it to him to poſſeſſe, and to his ſeede after him, when as yet he had no childe.

6 God verily ſpake on this wiſe, that his ſeede ſhould ſoiourne in a ſtrange lande, and that they ſhould keepe it in bondage, and entreate them euil foure hundred c yeeres.

7 And the nation to whom they ſhalbe in bondage, wyl I iudge, ſayde God: And after that ſhal they come forth, and ſerue me in this place.

b. Here appeareth an errour. For Abraham ſeemeth to be put in the text in the ſtede of Iacob. For Iacob bought the ſepulchre of Emor, and not Abraham, who bought before afeld of Ephron

17 But when the tyme of the promiſe drue nigh, whiche God had ſworne to Abraham, the people grewe and multiplied in Egypt:

27 But he that did his neighbour wrong, thrust hym away, saying, Who made thee a ruler, and a iudge ouer vs?

28 Wilt thou kyl me, as thou diddest the Egyptian yesterday?

‖Exod.3.2 30 ‖ And when fourtie yeeres were expired, there appeared to him e in the wildernesse of mount Sina, an angel of the Lorde in a flame of fyre in a bramble bushe.

32 Saying, I am the God of thy fathers, the God of Abraham, & the God of Isahac, and the God of Iacob. Then Moses trembled, and durst not beholde.

33 Then sayd the Lorde to him, Put of thy shoes from thy feete: for the place where thou standest, is holy grounde.

34 I haue seene, I haue seene the affliction of my people which is in Egypt, and I haue heard their groning, & am come downe to deliuer them: And nowe come, and I wyl send thee into Egypt.

d. God takes their offerings to be abominable, and vtterly none at all: for that they offered with dissembling hart and a wicked lyfe, and partly because they mingled togeather the seruice deuised by man with the true seruice of God. ‖Exod.25.40

57 Then they gaue a shoute with a loude voyce, and stopped their eares, and ran vpon him al at once,

58 And cast him out of the citie, and stoned him: and the witnesses layde downe their clothes at a young mans feete, whose name

59 And they stoned Steuen, callyng on, and saying, Lorde Iesu receyue my spirite.

60 And he kneeled downe, & cryed with a loude voyce, Lorde, lay not this sinne to theyr charge. And when he had thus spoken, he fel a sleepe.

¶ The. viii. Chapter.

1. The Apostles are scattered abroade. 38. Philip baptiseth the Eunuch.

AND Saul was consenting vnto his death: and at that tyme there was a great persecution agaynst the Churche which was at Hierusalem, and they were al scattered abrode throughout the regions of Iurie, and Samaria, except the Apostles.

2 And deuoute men carried Steuen together to his burial, and made great lamentation ouer hym.

3 As for Saul, he made hauocke of the Church, entryng into euery house, and drawyng out both men and women, dyd put them into pryson.

4 Therefore they that were scattered abrode, went euery where preaching the woorde of God.

5 Then came Philip into the citie of Samaria, and preached Christ vnto them.

6 And the people gaue heede vnto those thynges which Philip spake, with one accorde, hearyng and seeing the myracles which he dyd.

7 For vncleane spirites, crying with loude voyce, came out of many that were possessed with them: and many taken with paulsies, and many that halted, were healed.

8 And there was great ioy in that citie.

9 But there was a certaine man called Simon, whiche before tyme in the same citie vsed witchcraft, and bewitched the people of Samaria, saying that he was a man that coulde doo great thynges:

10 To whom they al gaue heede, from the least to the greatest, saying, This man is the great power of God.

11 And him they set muche by, because that of long tyme he had bewitched them with sorceries.

12 But when they beleeued Philips preachyng of the kingdome of God, and of the name of Iesus Christ, they were baptised, both men and women.

13 Then Simon him selfe beleeued also: and when he was baptised, he continued with Philip, and wondred, beholdyng the myracles and signes which were doone.

14 When the Apostles which were at Hierusalem, hearde say that Samaria had receiued the woord of God, they sent vnto them Peter and John.

15 Which when they were come downe, prayed for them that they might receiue the holy ghost.

16 (For as yet he was come downe vpon none of them: but they were baptised onely in the name of Christ Iesu.)

17 Then layed they their handes on them, and they receiued the holy ghost.

18 And when Simon saw that through layng on of the Apostles handes, the holy ghost was geuen, he offered them money.

19 Saying, Geue me also this power, that on whom so euer I put the handes, he maye receiue the holy ghost.

20 But Peter sayde vnto hym, Thy money perysh with thee, because thou hast thought that the gift of God may be obteyned with money.

21 Thou hast neyther part nor felowshyp in this businesse: for thy hart is not ryght in the syght of God.

22 Repent therefore of this thy wickednesse, & pray God, if perhaps the thought of thine hart may be forgeuen thee.

23 For I perceiue that thou art b in the gal of bytternesse, and in the bond of c iniquitie.

24 Then answeared Simon, and sayde, Pray ye to the Lord for me, that none of these thynges which ye haue spoken, fal on me.

25 And they, when they had testified & preached the woorde of the Lorde, returned toward Hierusalem, and preached the Gospel in many villages of the Samaritanes.

26 And the angel of the Lord spake vnto Philip, saying, Arise, & goe toward the South, vnto the way that goeth downe from Hierusalem vnto Gaza: which is desart.

27 And he arose, and went on: and behold a man of Ethiopia, an Eunuch, and of great auctoritie with Candace, Queene of the Ethiopians, and had the rule of al her treasure, whiche came to Hierusalem for to worshyp.

28 And as he returned home agayne, sitting in his charet, he read Esaias the prophet.

29 Then the spirite sayd vnto Philip, Come neare, & ioyne thee selfe to this charet.

30 And Philip ran thyther to hym, and heard hym reade the prophet Esaias, & sayd, Understandest thou what thou readest?

31 And he sayde, Howe can I, except some man should guyde me? And he desyred Philip that he would come vp, and syt with hym.

32 The tenor of the scripture whiche he read,

The Epistle on the Tuesday in whitsun weeke.

a. They that were baptised onely in the name of Christ, no doubt had receiued the holy ghoste sufficiently touching their saluation: but for further confirmation of Christes religion, nowe newelye set foorth, the manifest & vnwont giftes of the holy ghoste apeared among the Christians, by layeing on of the handes of the Apostles.

b. Thou art filled with melancoly & enuie. Thou wouldest haue dooings with the hyghest, other wyse thou canst not be quiet.

c. Through the desire of money and colourable couetousnes. Take heede ye symoniakes, that onely for lyuing enter into the ministerie.

‖Esai.53.7. lead was this, ‖ He was led as a sheepe to the slaughter, and like a lambe dumbe before the shearer: so opened not he his mouth.

33 In his humilitie, his iudgement is exalted: but who shal declare his generation? For his lyfe is taken from the earth.

34 And the Eunuch answeared Philip, and sayde, I pray thee of whom speaketh the prophete this? of hym selfe, or of some other man?

35 Then Philip opened his mouth, and began at the same scripture, and preached vnto hym Jesus.

36 And as they went on their way, they came vnto a certaine water: and the Eunuch sayde, See, here is water, what dooth let me to be baptised?

37 Philip sayde vnto hym, If thou beleeuest with al thyne hart, thou mayest. And he answeared, and sayd, I beleeue that Jesus Christ is the sonne of God.

38 And he commaunded the charret to stande styl: and they went downe both into the water, both Philip, and also the Eunuch: and he baptised hym.

39 And as soone as they were come out of the water, the spirite of the Lorde caught away Philip, that the Eunuche sawe him no more: and he went on his way reioycing.

40 But Philip was founde at Azotus: and he walked throughout the countrey, preachyng in al the cities, tyl he came to Cesarea.

‖Roma.9.3. The Epistle on the conuersion of saint Paul. a. Saul preached & blustred with rage aud crueltie against christes church, which declareth whereunto man is led by his rashe zeale, before he hath the true knowledge of god. ‖1 Cor.15.8.

AND ‖Saul a yet breathing out threatenynges and slaughter agaynst the disciples of the Lorde, went vnto the high priest,

2 And desyred of hym leters to carie to Damascus, to the synagogues, that if he founde any of this waye, whether they were men or women, he might bryng them bounde vnto Hierusalem.

3 And when he iourneyed, it came to passe, that as he was come nygh to Damascus, sodaynely there shyned rounde about him a lyght from heauen.

4 And he fel to the earth, and hearde a voyce saying vnto hym, ‖ Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me?

5 And he sayde, Who art thou Lorde? And the Lord sayde, I am Jesus whom thou persecutest: It is harde for thee to kicke agaynst the prickes.

6 And he both trembling and astonied, sayde, Lorde, what wylt thou haue me to doo? And the Lorde sayde vnto hym, Aryse, and goe into the citie, and it shalbe tolde thee what thou must doo.

7 The menne also which iourneyed with hym, stoode amazed, b hearyng a voyce, but seeyng no man.

8 And Saul arose from the earth, and when his eyes were opened, he sawe no man: but they led hym by the hand, and brought hym into Damascus.

9 And he was three dayes without syght, and neyther dyd eate nor drinke.

10 And there was a certaine disciple at Damascus, named Ananias: and to him sayd the Lorde in a vision, Ananias. And he sayde, Behold, I am here Lord.

11 And the Lorde sayd vnto hym, Arise, and goe into the streete, which is called Straight, and seeke in the house of Judas, after one called Saul, of Tarsus: for beholde he prayeth, 12 And hath seene in a vision, a man named Ananias comming in to hym, and putting his handes on hym, that he myght receyue his syght.

13 Then Ananias answeared, Lord, I haue heard by many of this man, howe much euyl he hath doone to thy saintes at Hierusalem:

14 And here he hath aucthoritie of the high priestes, to bynd al that cal on thy name.

15 The Lorde sayde vnto him, Goe thy way: for he is a chosen vessell vnto me, to beare my name before the Gentiles, and kynges, and the children of Israel.

16 For I wyl shewe hym howe great thinges he must suffer for my names sake.

17 And Ananias went his way, and entred into the house, & put his handes on hym, and sayde, Brother Saul, the Lord (euen Jesus that appeared vnto thee in the waye as thou camest) hath sent me, that thou mightest receiue thy syght, and be fylled with the holy ghost.

18 And immediatly there fel from his eyes as it had ben scales, & he receyued syght forthwith, and arose, and was baptised.

19 And when he had receyued meate, he was comforted. Then was Paul certayne dayes with the disciples which were at Damascus.

20 And straightwaye he preached Christ, in the synagogues, that he is the sonne of God.

21 But all that heard hym, were amazed, and sayde, Is not this he that destroyed them which called on this name in Hierusalem, and came hyther for that intent, that he myght bryng them bounde vnto the high priestes.

22 But Saul increased the more in strength,

b. No marue though weake & corrupte flesshe was astonied at heauenly thinges, and at the talke of God, when it came to passe that they heard a voyce, as is here is written & heard not the voyce, as is written in the .x. Chapter. For they heard the voyce, and vnderstoode it not.

24 But their layinge awayte was knowen of Saul: || and they watched the gates day and nyght to kyl him. Ac.11.32

25 Then the diſciples tooke him by nyght, and put him downe by the wall, and let him downe in a basket.

26 And when Saul was come to Hieruſalem, he aſſayed to couple him ſelfe to the diſciples, but they were al afrayde of him, & beleeued not that he was a diſciple.

27 But Barnabas toke him, & brought him to the apoſtles, & declared to them howe he had ſeene the Lorde in the way, and that he had ſpoken to him, and howe he had preached boldely at Damaſcus in the name of Ieſus.

28 And he was with them comming in, and goyng out at Hieruſalem, 29 Speakyng boldly in the name of the Lord Ieſus, & he ſpake and diſputed agaynſt the Grekes: but they went about to ſlay him.

30 Whiche when the brethren knewe, they brought him to Ceſarea, and ſent him forth to Tarſus.

31 Then had the Churches reſt thorowout al Iurie, and Galilee, and Samaria, and were edified, and walked in the feare of the Lorde, and multiplied by the comfort of the holy Ghoſt.

32 And it came to paſſe, as Peter walked thrughout al quarters, he came alſo to the ſaintes whiche dwelt at Lydda.

33 And there he founde a certayne man named Eneas, which had kept his bed eight yeeres, and was ſicke of the palſie.

34 And Peter ſayde vnto him, Eneas, Ieſus Chriſt maketh thee whole: aryſe, and make thy bed. And he aroſe immediatly.

35 And al that dwelt at Lydda and Saron, ſawe him, whiche turned to the Lorde.

36 There was alſo at Ioppa a certaine woman, a diſciple, named Tabitha, which by interpretation is called c Dorcas: the ſame was ful of good woorkes, and almes deedes, whiche ſhe dyd.

37 And it came to paſſe in thoſe dayes that ſhe was ſicke, & died: whō when they had waſhed, they layde her in an vpper chamber.

38 And for as muche as Lydda was nygh to Ioppa, and the diſciples had hearde that Peter was there, they ſent vnto him two men, deſyryng him that he would not be greeued to come to them.

39 Then Peter aroſe, and came with them: when he was come, they brought him into the vpper chamber: And al the wyddowes ſtoode round about him weepyng, and ſhewyng the coates and garmentes whiche Dorcas made whyle ſhe was with them.

40 And Peter put them all forth, and kneeled downe, and prayed, and turned him to the body, and ſayde, Tabitha, aryſe. And ſhe opened her eyes, and when ſhe ſawe Peter, ſhe ſate vp.

41 And Peter gaue her the hande, and lyft her vp: and when he had called the ſaintes and wyddowes, he deliuered her alyue.

42 And it was knowen thrughout all Ioppa, and many beleeued in the Lorde.

43 And it came to paſſe, that he taried many dayes in Ioppa, with one Simon a Tanner.

¶ The.x. Chapter.

11. The viſion that Peter ſawe. 17. He was ſent to Cornelius.

THere was a certayne man in Ceſarea, called Cornelius, a captayne of the bande, called the Italian bande,

2 A deuoute man, and one that feared GOD with al his houſholde, whiche gaue muche almes to the people, and prayed God alway.

3 The ſame ſawe by a viſion euidently, about the nienth houre of the day, an angell of God comming in to him, and ſaying vnto him, Cornelius.

4 And when he looked on him, he was afrayd, and ſayde, What is it Lord? And he ſayde vnto him, Thy a prayers and thyne almes are come vp into remembraunce before God.

a. The prayers and almes of Cornelius pleaſed GOD before he was baptiſed: but without fayth God can not be pleaſed. Cornelius therfore (as Bede truely noteth) had fayth, whereby his prayers and almes pleaſed god. For (ſaith he) he came not to faith thorow workes, but to workes thorowe fayth.

5 And nowe ſende men to Ioppa, and cal for one Simon, whoſe ſyrname is Peter.

6 He lodgeth with one Simon a Tanner, whoſe houſe is by the ſea ſyde: He ſhall tell thee what thou oughteſt to doo.

7 And when the angel whiche ſpake vnto Cornelius, was departed, he called two of his houſholde ſeruantes, and a deuout ſouldier of them that wayted on him,

8 And told them al the matter, and ſent them to Ioppa.

9 On the morowe as they went on their iourney, and drewe nygh vnto the citie, Peter went vp into the higheſt part of the houſe to pray, about the ſyxth houre.

10 And whē he waxed hungry, he would haue eaten: But whyle they made redye, he fel into a traunce,

11 And

11 And he ſeeth b heauen opened, and a certayne veſſel come downe vnto him, as it had been a great ſheete, knytte at the foure corners, and let downe to the earth:

12 Wherin were al maner of foure footed beaſtes of the earth, and wylde beaſtes, and ſuche as creepe, and foules of the ayre.

13 And there came a voyce to him, Riſe Peter, kyl, and eate.

14 But Peter ſayde, Not ſo Lorde: for I haue neuer eaten anye thyng that is common or vncleane.

15 And the voice ſpake vnto him againe the ſeconde tyme, What God hath cleanſed, that c cal not thou common.

16 This was done thryſe: and the veſſel was receyued vp agayne into heauen.

17 Nowe while Peter doubted in him ſelfe what this viſion whiche he had ſeene ſhould meane: beholde, the men whiche were ſent from Cornelius, had made enquiraunce for Simons houſe, & ſtoode before the dooze, 18 And called, and aſked whether Simon, whiche was ſyrnamed Peter, were lodged there.

19 While Peter thought on the viſion, the ſpirite ſayde vnto him, Behold, three men ſeeke thee.

20 Aryſe therefore, and get thee downe, and goe with them, doubtyng nothyng: for I haue ſent them.

21 Then Peter went downe to the men whiche were ſent vnto him from Cornelius, and ſayde, Beholde, I am he whom ye ſeeke: what is the cauſe wherefore ye are come?

22 And they ſayde, Cornelius the captayne, a iuſt man, and one that feareth God, and of good repoꝛte among all the people of the Iewes, was warned by an holy angel, to ſende for thee into his houſe, and to heare woꝛdes of thee.

8 And the angel sayde vnto hym, Gyrde thee selfe, and bynde on thy sandales. And so he dyd. And he sayth vnto hym, Cast thy garment about thee, and folowe me.

39. Paul & Barnabas fallyng at stryfe, breake company.

AND certaine men which came downe from Iurie, taught the brethren, and sayde, Except ye be circumcised after the manner of Moses, ye can not be saued. || Gen. 3. 2.

2 So when there was risen dissention and disputing, not a litle vnto Paul & Barnabas against them, they determined that Paul and Barnabas, and certayne other of them, shoulde goe vp to Hierusalem vnto the Apostles and Elders, about this question.

3 And after they were brought on their way by the Churche, they passed through Phenice and Samaria, declaring the conuersation of the Gentiles: and they brought great ioy vnto al the brethren.

4 And when they were come to Hierusalem, they were receiued of the Churche, and of the Apostles, and elders, and they declared all thinges that God had done with them.

5 Then rose vp certayne of the sect of the Pharisees whiche did beleeue, saying that it was needeful to circumcise them, and to commaunde to keepe the lawe of Moses.

6 And the apostles and elders came togeather for to consyder of this matter.

7 And when there had ben muche disputing, Peter rose vp, and saide vnto them, || Ye men and brethren, ye knowe howe that a good while agoe, God did choose among vs, that the gentiles by my mouth shoulde heare the worde of the Gospell, and beleeue. || Acte. 10. 20. and. 11. 13.

8 And God, which knoweth the hartes, bare them witnesse, and gaue vnto them the holy ghost, euen as he dyd vnto vs:

9 || And put no difference betweene vs and them, purifyng their hartes by fayth. || Acte. 10. 43. 1. Cor. 1. 1. Math. 23. 4.

10 Nowe therfore why tempt ye God, to put on the disciples neckes the a yoke, whiche

a. He meaneth the holy lawe, and not the ceremonies only, and calleth it a yoke not able to be borne, because no man, not the most holyest and perfectest that euer was (Christe only excepted) was able to perfourme the same in all poyntes, both outwardly according to the letter, and inwardly according to the spirite.

which neither our fathers nor we were able to beare?

11 But we beleeue that throughe the grace of the Lorde Iesus Christe, we shalbe saued, euen as they.

12 Then al the multitude kept silence, and gaue audience to Barnabas and Paul, whiche tolde what signes and wonders God had shewed among the Gentiles by them.

13 And when they helde their peace, James answeared, saying, Men & brethren, hearken vnto me.

14 Simeon tolde howe God at the beginning did visite, to receiue of the Gentiles a people in his name.

15 And to this agree the wordes of the prophetes, as it is written,

16 ||After this I wyl returne, and wyl builde agayne the b tabernacle of Dauid, whiche is fallen downe: and that whiche is fallen in decay of it, wil I builde againe, and I wil set it vp:

17 That the residue of men might seeke after the Lorde, and all the Gentiles vpon whom my name is called, sayth the Lorde, which doth al these thinges.

18 Knowen vnto GOD are al his workes from the beginning of the worlde.

19 Wherefore my sentence is, that we trouble not them whiche from among the gentiles are turned to God:

20 But that we write vnto them, that they abstayne them selues from fylthynesse of idolles, and from fornication, and from strangled, and from blood.

21 For Moses of olde time hath in euery citie them that preache him in the synagogues, when he is read euery Sabboth day.

22 Then pleased it the Apostles and Elders, with the whole church, to send chosen men of their owne company to Antioch, with Paul and Barnabas: That is, Iudas, whose surname was Barsabas, and Silas, whiche were cheefe men among the brethren, 23 And wrote letters by them after this manner, The Apostles, and Elders, and brethren, send greeting vnto the brethren, which are of the gentiles in Antiochia, Syria, and Cilicia.

24 Forasmuch as we haue heard that certayne whiche departed from vs, haue troubled you with wordes, and cumbred your myndes, saying, Ye must be circumcised, and keepe the lawe, to whom we gaue no suche commaundement:

25 It seemed therefore to vs a good thyng, when we were come together with one accorde, to sende chosen men vnto you, with our beloued Barnabas and Paul,

26 Men that haue ieoparded their lines for the name of our Lorde Iesu Christe.

27 We haue sent therefore Iudas and Silas, which shal also tel you the same thinges by mouth.

28 For it seemed good to the holy ghost and to vs, to lay vpon you no greater burden then these necessary thynges.

29 That is to say, That ye abstayne from thinges offered to idols, and from blood, and from strangled, and from fornication: from which if ye keepe your selues, ye shal do wel. So fare ye wel.

30 Nowe therefore, when they were departed, they came to Antioche: and when they had gathered the multitude together, they deliuered the Epistle.

31 Whiche when they had read, they reioyced of the consolation.

32 And Iudas and Silas, beyng prophetes also them selues, exhorted the brethren with many wordes, and strengthed them:

33 And after they had taried there a space, they were let goe in peace of the brethren vnto the apostles.

34 Notwithstanding, it pleased Silas to abide there stil.

35 Paul also and Barnabas continued in Antioche, teaching and preaching the worde of the Lord, with other many also.

36 But after a certaine space, Paul said vnto Barnabas, Let vs goe agayne and visite our brethren in euerye citie where we haue vttered the worde of the Lorde, and knowe and see howe they do.

37 And Barnabas gaue counsel to take with them John, whose syrname was Marke.

38 But Paul woulde not take hym vnto their company, whiche departed from them from Pamphylia, and went not with them to the worke.

39 And c the contention was so sharpe betweene them, that they departed asunder one from the other, and so Barnabas tooke Marke, and sayled vnto Cypers.

40 And Paul chose Silas, and departed, beyng committed of the brethren vnto the grace of God.

41 And he went throughe Syria and Cilicia, stablishyng the churches.

The.xvi. Chapter.

many sonne which was a Jewesse, and beleeued: but his father was a Greke.

2 Which was well reported of the brethren that were at Lystra and Iconium.

3 Paul would that he should goe forth with him, and tooke and circumcised hym, because of the Jewes whiche were in those quarters: for they knewe al that his father was a Greke.

4 And as they went through the cities, they deliuered them the decrees for to keepe, that were || ordeyned of the Apostles and elders which were at Hierusalem. Iacob.15.28

5 And so were the Churches stablished in the fayth, and encreased in number dayly.

6 Nowe when they had gone throughout Phrygia, and the region of Galatia, and were forbidden of the holy ghost to preache the woorde in Asia,

7 They comming to Mysia, sought to goe into Bithynia: but the spirite suffred them not.

8 And they passing through Mysia, came downe to Troada.

9 And a vision appeared to Paul in the night, There stood a man of Macedonia, and prayed him, saying, Come into Macedonia, and helpe vs.

10 And after he had seene the vision, immediatly we prepared to goe into Macedonia, gathering by conference, that the Lord had called vs for to preach the Gospel vnto them.

11 Then we being caryed from Troada, came with a straight course to Samothracia, and the next day to Neapolis:

12 And from thence to Philippos, whiche is the cheefe citie in the parties of Macedonia, and a free citie: and we were in that citie abyding certayne dayes.

13 And on the day of the Sabbothes we went out of the citie, besides a riuer, where prayer was wont to be made, and we sate downe, and spake vnto the women which resorted thyther.

14 And a certayne woman named Lydia, a seller of purple, of the citie of the Thyatirians, whiche worshipped God, gaue vs audience: Whose hart the Lorde opened, that she attended vnto the thinges whiche were spoken of Paul.

15 And when she was baptised, and her houshold, she besought vs, saying, If ye haue iudged me to be faythful to the Lorde, come into my house, and abyde there. And she constrayned vs.

16 And it came to passe, as we went to prayer, a certaine damsel possessed with a spirite of a soothsaying, met vs: which brought her masters muche vantage with soothsaying.

17 The same followed Paul and vs, and cryed, saying, These men are the seruantes of the most high God, which shewe vnto vs the way of saluation.

18 And this did she many dayes: But Paul not content, turned about, and sayde to the spirite, I commaunde thee in the name of Iesu Christe, that thou come out of her. And he came out the same houre.

19 And when her maisters sawe that the hope of their gaines was gone, they caught Paul and Silas, and drewe them into the market place, vnto the rulers,

20 And brought them to the officers, saying, These men being Jewes, doo exceedingly trouble our citie:

21 And preache ordinances, which are not lawful for vs to receiue, neither to obserue, seeing we are Romans.

22 And the people ran agaynst them, & the officers rent their clothes, and commaunded || to beate them with roddes. || 1.Cor.1.25

23 And when they had layde many stripes vpon them, they cast them into prison, commaunding the gayler of the prison to keepe them diligently. 1.Thes.2.2

24 Which when he had receiued such commaundement, thrust them into the inner prison, and made theyr feete fast in the stockes.

25 And at midnight, Paul and Silas prayed and lauded God: and the prisoners heard them.

26 And soddaynely there was a great earthquake, so that the fundation of the prison was shaken: & immediatly al the doores opened, and euery mans bandes were loosed.

27 When the keeper of the prison waked out of his sleepe, & sawe the prison doores open, he drue out his swoord, and would haue killed him selfe, supposyng that the prisoners had ben fled.

28 But Paul cryed with a loude voice, saying, Doo thee selfe no harme, for we are all here.

29 Then he called for a light, and sprang in, and came trembling, and fel downe before Paul and Silas, 30 And brought them out, and sayde, Syrs, what must I doo to be saued?

31 And they said, Beleeue on the Lorde Iesus Christe, and thou shalt be saued, and thy houshold.

32 And they spake vnto him the woorde of the Lorde, and to all that were in his house.

33 And he tooke them the same houre of the night, and washed their woundes, and was baptised him selfe, and all they of his houshold straightway.

34 And when he had brought them into his house, he set meate before them, and ioyed that he with all his houshold beleeued on God.

35 And when it was day, the officers sent the sergeantes, saying, Let those men goe.

36 And the keeper of the prison told this saying to Paul, The officers haue sent word to loose you: Now therefore, geat you hence, and goe in peace.

37 Then sayde Paul vnto them, They haue beaten vs openly vncondemned, being Romans, and haue cast vs into prison, nowe doo they thrust vs out priuily? Nay verily: but let them come themselues, and fetche vs out.

38 And the sergeantes told these words vnto the officers: and they feared when they heard that they were Romans.

39 And they came and besought them, and brought them out, and desyred them to depart out of the citie.

40 And they went out of the prison, and entred into the house of || Lydia, and when they had seene the brethren, they comforted them, and departed.

Paul commeth to Thessalonica, where the Iewes set the citie in an vprore.

AS they made their iourney through Amphypolis, and Apollonia, they came to Thessalonica, where was a synagogue of the Iewes.

2 And Paule, as his maner was, went in vnto them, and three sabboth daies disputed with them out of the scriptures:

3 Opening and alleaging, that Christ must needes haue suffered and risen againe from the dead: and that this is Christ Iesus which I preache vnto you.

4 And some of them beleeued, and ioyned with Paul and Silas, and of the deuout Grekes a great multitude, and of the cheefe women not a fewe.

5 But the Iewes which beleeued not, moued with enuie, tooke vnto them certaine vagabounds, and euil men, and gathered a company, and set all the citie on a roze, and made assault vnto the house of Iason, and sought to bring them out to the people.

6 And when they found them not, they drue Iason & certayne brethren vnto the heades of the citie, crying, These that haue troubled the world, are come hither also,

7 Whom Iason hath receiued priuily: & these all doo contrary to the decrees of Cesar, a saying that there is another kyng, one Iesus.

8 And they troubled the people, and the officers of the citie, when they heard these thinges.

9 And when they had taken sufficient suretie of Iason, and of the other, they let them goe.

10 And the brethren immediatly sent away Paul and Silas by night vnto Berea: whiche when they were come thyther, they entred into the synagogue of the Iewes.

11 These were the noblest of birth among them of Thessalonica, which receiued the woorde with al readinesse of minde, and searched the scriptures daily, whether those thinges were so.

12 Therefore many of them beleeued: also of honest women whiche were Grekes, and of men not a fewe.

13 But when the Iewes of Thessalonica had knowledge that the woorde of God was preached of Paul at Berea, they came thyther, and mooued the people.

14 And the immediatly the brethren sent away Paul, to goe as it were to the sea: but Silas and Timothens abode there styl.

15 And they that guided Paul, brought him vnto Athens, and receiued a commaundement vnto Silas and Timotheus, for to come to him with speede, and went their way.

16 While Paul waited for them at Athens, his spirite was mooued in him, whe he saw the citie geuen to worshipping of idols.

17 Therefore disputed he in the synagogue with the Iewes, and with the deuout persons, and in the market daily with them that came vnto him by chaunce.

18 Then certayne philosophers of the b Epicures, & of the c Stoickes, disputed with him: and some sayde, What wil this babler say? Other some, He seemeth to be a setter foorth of newe gods: because he preached vnto them Iesus, and the resurrection.

19 And they tooke him, & brought him into the streete of Mars, saying, May we know what this newe doctrine whereof thou speakest is?

20 For thou bringest certayne strange thinges to our eares, we would knowe therefore what these thinges meane.

21 (For al the Athenians and strangers which were there, had leasure to nothing els, but either to tell or to heare some newe thyng.)

22 Then Paul stoode in the middes of the streete of Mars, and sayd, Ye men of Athens, I perceiue that in al thinges ye are to superstitious.

23 For

a. Like quarelpiking they vsed agaynst Christ, & these be the weapons where by the worlde continually fighteth agaynst y members of Christ, treason and sedition.

b. The Epicures were a sect of learned men, which (being without the knowledge of god) held opinion, y ther was no lyfe or ioy after this lyfe, but that al mans felicitie did consist in the pleasures of this worlde.

c. The Stoickes were an other kinde of learned men, which likewyse wanting the knowledge of God, affirmed that mans whole felicitie & happinesse did consist in the qualities & vertues of the minde.

23 For as I passed by, and beheelde the manner how ye worshipp your gods, I found an aulter wherein was written, Unto an vnknowen God. Whom ye then ignorantlye worshipp, him shewe I vnto you.

24 ||God that made the worlde, and all that are in it, seeing that he is Lorde of heauen & earth, dwelleth not in temples made with handes:

25 ||Neyther is worshypped with mens handes, as though he needed of any thyng, seeing he him selfe geueth lyfe and breath to al euery where:

26 And hath made of one blood, al nations of men, for to dwell on al the face of the earth, and hath determined the times before appoynted, and also the bondes of theyr habitation:

27 That they should seeke the Lord, yf perhaps they might haue felt and founde him: though he be not farre from euery one of vs.

28 For in him we liue, and moue, and haue our beyng, as certayne of your owne Poets haue saide, For we are also his ofspring.

29 ||Forasmuche then as we are the ofspring of God, we ought not to thinke that the godhead is like vnto golde, siluer, or stone, grauen by art and mans deuice.

30 And the time of this ignorance God winked at, but nowe biddeth all men euery where to repent:

31 Because he hath appoynted a day in the which he wil iudge the worlde in righteousnesse, by that man whom he hath appointed, and hath offered faith to al men, in that he hath raised him from the dead.

32 And when they hearde of the resurrection from the dead, some mocked: & other said, We wil heare thee againe of this matter.

33 So Paul departed frō among them.

34 Howbeit, certaine men claue vnto hym, and beleeued: among the whiche was Dionys Areopagita, and a woman named Damaris, and other with them.

¶ The. xviii. Chapter.

1. Paul preacheth at Corinth. 24. Of Apollos, 26. Aquila, and Priscilla.

AFter these thinges, Paul departed from Athens, and came to Corinth,

2 And founde a certaine Iewe named ||Aquila, borne in Pontus, lately come from Italie with his wife Priscilla (because that Claudius had commaunded all Iewes to depart from Rome) & he came vnto them.

3 And because he was of the same craft, he abode with them, and wrought (for by theyr occupation they were tent makers.)

4 And he disputed in the synagogue euery Sabboth, and exhorted the Iewes and the Greekes.

5 And when Silas and Timotheus were come from Macedonia, Paul was constrained by the spirit to testifie to the Iewes that Iesus was Christ.

6 And when they said contrary, & blasphemed, || he shooke his raiment, and sayde vnto them, Your blood be a vpon your owne heades: from henceforth wyll I goe blameles vnto the gentiles.

7 And he departed thence, and entred into a certaine mans house, named Justus, a worshypper of God, whose house ioyned hard to the synagogue.

8 ||And one Crispus, the cheefe ruler of the synagogue, beleeued on the Lord with al his housholde: and many of the Corinthians hearyng, beleeued, and were baptised.

9 Then spake the Lord to Paul in the night by a vision: Be not afraid, but speake, and holde not thy peace.

10 For I am with thee, and no man shal inuade thee, to hurt thee: For I haue muche people in this citie.

11 And he continued there a yeere and sixe monethes, teaching the worde of God among them.

12 And when Gallio was the deputie of Achaia, the Iewes made insurrection with one accorde agaynst Paul, and brought him to the iudgement seate, 13 Saying, This felowe counselleth men to worshyp God contrary to the lawe.

14 And whe Paul now was about to open his mouth, Gallio saide vnto the Iewes, If it were a matter of wrong, or an euill deede, O ye Iewes, reason woulde that I shoulde heare with you:

15 But yf it be a question of woordes and names, or of your lawe, looke ye to it your selues: for I wyl be no iudge of suche matters.

16 And he draue them from the iudgement seate.

17 Then al the Greekes toke Sosthenes the cheefe ruler of the Synagogue, & smote hym before the iudgement seate: and Gallio cared for none of those thinges.

18 And Paul after this tarped there yet a good while, and then tooke his leaue of the brethren, and sayled thence into Syria, (Aquila and Priscilla accompanying hym.) And he shore his head in b Cenchrea: for he had a vowe.

b. Cenchrea is a hauen at Corinth, where Paul takyng ship, did sheare his head, accordyng to his vowe. For according to the lawe of Moses, they that vowed them selues to God, were commaunded to suffer theyr heare to growe as long as they woulde continue Nazarites, and afterwarde to sheare it, and to burne it. 23 And when he had taryed there a while, he departed, and went ouer all the countrey of Galatia and Phrygia by order, strengthening al the disciples.

||1.Cor.1.12 24 ||And a certayne Iewe named Apollos, borne at Alexandria, came to Ephesus, an eloquent man, and mighty in the scriptures.

26 And the same began to speake boldly in the synagogue: Whom when Aquila and Priscilla had heard, they tooke him vnto them, and c expounded vnto hym the way of God perfectly.

c. Apollo beyng a wittie & a learned man, was not ashamed to be taught and instructed in the doctrine of Christe, of a poore craftes man and his wyfe.

27 And when he was disposed to goe into Achaia, the brethren wrote, exhorting the disciples to receiue him: Whiche when he was come, helped them muche whiche had beleeued through grace.

28 For he ouercame the Iewes myghtily, and that openly, shewyng by the scriptures that Iesus was that Christe.

¶ The.xix. Chapter.

1. Of Baptisme. 6. Of the holy ghost geuen by Paules handes. 9. The Iewes blaspheme the doctrine of Paul.

AND it came to passe, that while Apollos was at Corinth, Paul passed thorowe the vpper coastes, and came to Ephesus, and founde certayne disciples, a. By the holy ghost, here he meaneth the visible graces of the holy spirite.

2 And said vnto them, Haue ye receiued the a holy ghost synce ye beleued? And they said vnto him, We haue not heard whether there be any holy ghost or no.

b. By this place, Iohns baptisme signifieth Iohns doctrine, whiche therefore is so called, for that he sealed his doctrine with the seale of baptisme in them that beleeued.

3 And he saide vnto them, Vnto what then were ye baptised? And they said, Vnto b Iohns baptisme.

4 Then sayd Paul, Iohn verily baptised with the baptisme of repentance, saying vnto the people, that they shoulde beleue on him whiche shoulde come after him, that is, on Christe Iesus.

5 When they heard this, they were baptised in c the name of the Lorde Iesus.

c. They that were baptised were not baptised with water, beyng before baptised of Iohn with water: but they were baptised with visible gyftes of the holy ghost whiche saint Luke declareth howe it was, writeth that it was by the laying on of saint Paules handes.

6 And when Paul had laide his handes vpon them, the holy ghost came on them, and they spake with tongues, and prophesied.

7 And al the men were about twelue.

8 And he went into the synagogue, and spake boldly for the space of three monethes, disputing and perswading those things that apparteyne to the kingdome of God.

9 But when diuers waxed hard harted, and beleeued not, but spake euyl of the way of the Lorde, and that before the multitude, he departed from them, and separated the disciples: and he disputed dayly in the scoole of one called Tyrannus.

10 And this continued by the space of two yeeres, so that all they whiche dwelt in Asia, heard the word of the Lord Iesus, both Iewes and Greekes.

11 And God wrought special myracles by the handes of Paul:

12 So that from his body were brought vnto the sicke, napkins, and partlets, and the diseases departed from them, and the euyl spirites went out of them.

13 Then certayne of the vagabounde Iewes, exorcistes, tooke vpon them to call ouer them which had euyl spirites, the name of the Lorde Iesus, saying, We adiure you by Iesus whom Paul preacheth.

14 And there was seuen sonnes of one Sceua a Iewe, and cheefe of the priestes, whiche dyd so.

15 And the euill spirite answeared and sayde, Iesus I knowe, and Paul I knowe, but who are ye?

16 And the man in whom the euyll spirite was, ranne on them, and ouercame them, and preuailed against them, so that they fled out of that house naked and wounded.

17 And this was knowen to al the Iewes and Greekes also whiche dwelt at Ephesus, and feare came on them all, and the name of the Lorde Iesus was magnified.

18 And many that beleeued, came, and confessed, and shewed their workes.

19 Many also of them whiche vsed curious craftes, brought their bookes, and burned them before all men: and they counted the price of them, and founde it fiftie thousande peeces of siluer.

20 So mightily grewe the worde of God, and preuayled.

21 After these thinges were ended, Paul purposed in the spirite, when he had passed ouer Macedonia and Achaia, to goe to Hierusalem, saying, After I haue ben there, I must also see Rome.

22 So sent he into Macedonia two of the that ministred vnto hym, Timotheus and Erastus, Craftus, but he him selfe remayned in Asia for a season.

23 And the same time there arose no litle a doo about that way.

24 For a certaine man, named Demetrius, a siluer smith, which made siluer shrines for Diana, ministred no smal gayne vnto the craftes men:

25 Whom he called togeather, with the workmen of like occupation, and sayd, Syrs, ye knowe that by this craft we haue aduantage.

26 Moreouer, ye see and heare, that not alone at Ephesus, but almost throughout al Asia, this Paul hath perswaded and turned away much people, saying that they be no goods which are made with handes.

27 So that not only this our craft commeth into peril to be set at nought: but also that the temple of the great goddesse Diana should be dispised, & her magnificence should be destroyed, whom all Asia and the worlde worshippeth.

28 And when they heard these sayings, they were ful of wrath, and cried out, saying, Great is Diana of the Ephesians.

29 And all the citie was on a roze, and they rushed into the cõmon hal, with one assent, and caught Gaius and Aristarcus, men of Macedonia, Paules companions.

30 When Paul would haue entred in vnto the people, the disciples suffered him not.

31 But certayne of the cheefe of Asia, which were his freendes, sent vnto him, desyring him that he would not presse into the common hal.

32 Some therefore cryed one thing, and some another: & the assemblie was al out of quiet, & the more part knewe not wherefore they were come togeather.

33 And certayne of the people drue Alexander out of the multitude, the Iewes thrusting him forwardes. And Alexander beckened with the hande, and would haue geuen the people an answeare.

34 But when they knewe that he was a Iewe, there arose a shoute almost for the space of two houres, of al men, crying, Great is Diana of the Ephesians.

35 And when the towne clarke had pacified the people, he sayde, Ye men of Ephesus, what man is it that knoweth not howe that the citie of the Ephesians is * the temple keeper of the great goddesse Diana, and of the image which came downe from Iupiter?

* Some reade a worshipper.

36 Seeyng then that these thinges can not be spoken against, ye ought to be quiet, and to doo nothing rashly.

37 For ye haue brought hither these men which are neither robbers of Churches, nor yet blasphemers of your goddesse.

38 Wherefore if Demetrius, and the craftes men which are with him, haue a matter against any man, the law is open, & there are deputies, let them accuse one another.

39 But if ye enquire any thing concernyng other matters, it shalbe determined in a lawful assembly.

40 For we are in ieopardie to be accused of this dayes vprore, forasmuch as there is no cause wherby we may geue a rekening of this concourse of people.

41 And when he had thus spoken, he let the assembly depart.

¶ The xx. Chapter.

1. Paul goeth into Macedonia and Grecia, 7. he celebrateth the Lordes supper, & preacheth.

AND after the vprore was ceassed, Paul called the disciples, and tooke his leaue of them, and departed, for to goe into Macedonia:

2 And when he had gone ouer those partes, and had geuen them a long exhortation, he came into Greece,

3 And there abode three monethes: and when the Iewes layde wayte for him, as he was about to sayle into Syria, he purposed to returne through Macedonia.

4 And there accompanyed him into Asia Sopater of Berea: and of the Thessalonians Aristarcus, and Secundus, and Gaius of Derbe, and Timotheus: and out of Asia Tychicus and Trophimus.

5 These goyng before, tarryed vs at Troas:

6 And we sailed away from Philippos, after the daies of sweete bread, and came vnto them to Troas in fyue dayes, where we abode seuen dayes.

7 And vpon one of the sabboth dayes, when the disciples came togeather for to || breake bread, Paul reasoned with them, || Acts.2.46 redy to depart on the morowe, and continued the talke vnto midnight.

8 And there were many lights in an vpper chamber where they were geathered togeather.

9 And there sate in a window a certaine young man named Eutichus, beyng fallen into a deepe sleepe, and as Paul was long reasoning, he was the more ouercome with sleepe, and fel downe from the thirde loft, and was taken vp dead.

10 But when Paul went downe, he fel on him, and imbraced him, and sayde, Make nothing a doo: for his lyfe is in him.

11 When he therefore was cõe vp againe, and had broken bread and eaten, and talked a long while, euen tyl the morning, so he departed.

12 And they brought the young man aliue, and were not a litle comforted.

13 And we went afore to ship, and sayled vnto Asson, there to receiue Paul: for so had he appointed, mynding him selfe to goe a foote.

14 And when he was come to vs to Asson, we tooke him in, and came to Mitylene.

15 And we sayled thence, and came the next day ouer against Chios, and the next day we arriued at Samos, and taried at Trogyllium: the next day we came to Miletum.

16 For Paul had determined to sayle ouer by Ephesus, because he would not spend the time in Asia: for he hasted, if it were possible for him, to be at Hierusalem the day of Pentecost.

17 And from Miletum he sent to Ephesus, and called the elders of the Churche.

18 Which when they were come to him, he sayd vnto them, Ye knowe from the fyrste day that I came into Asia, after what maner I haue ben with you at al seasons,

19 Seruing the Lorde with al humblenesse of mynde, and with many teares, and temptations, whiche came vnto me by the layinges of wayte of the Iewes:

20 And howe I kept backe nothing that was profytable vnto you, but haue shewed you, and haue taught you openly and throweout euery house:

21 Witnessing both to the Iewes and also to the Greekes, the repentance that is toward God, and the fayth which is towarde our Lord Iesus Christe.

22 And nowe beholde, I goe bounde a in the spirite vnto Hierusalem, not knowyng the thinges that shal come vnto me:

23 But that the holy ghost witnesseth in euery citie, saying that bondes and troubles abyde me.

24 But none of these things moue me, neither count I my lyfe deare vnto mee selfe, so that I might fulfyl my course with ioy, and the ministerie whiche I haue receyued of the Lorde Iesu, to testifye the Gospel of the grace of God.

25 And nowe beholde, I am sure that hencefoorth ye al, among whom I haue gone preaching the kingdome of God, shal see my face no more.

26 Wherfore, I take you to record this day, that I am pure from the blood of al me.

27 For I haue kept nothing backe, but haue shewed you al the counsel of God.

28 Take heede therefore vnto your selues, and to all the flocke, ouer the which the holy ghost hath made you ouerseers, to rule the Churche of God, which he hath purchased b with his owne blood.

29 For I knowe this, that after my departing, shall greeuous woolues enter in among you, not sparing the flocke.

30 Also of your owne selues shal men aryse, speaking peruerse thinges, to c drawe away disciples after them.

31 Therefore watch, & remember that by the space of three yeeres I ceassed not to warne euery one night and day with teares.

32 And nowe herewyth, I commend you to God, and to the worde of his grace, which is able to builde further, and to geue you an inheritaunce among all them which are sanctified.

33 I haue desired no mans siluer, or gold, or vesture.

34 Yea, ye your selues knowe, that these handes haue ministred vnto my necessities, and to them that were with me.

35 I haue shewed you al thinges, howe that so labouryng ye ought to helpe the weake, and to remember the woordes of the Lord Iesu (howe that he sayde) || It is more blessed to geue, then to receiue.

36 And when he had thus spoken, he kneeled downe, and prayed with them al.

37 And they all wept sore, and fell on Paules necke, and kissed him, 38 Sorowyng most of al for the woordes which he spake, that they shoulde see his face no more: And they accompanied him vnto the ship.

The xxi. Chapter.

1. Pauls iourney by ship. 8. Of Philip the Euangelist, 10. and Agabus the prophete.

AND when it came to passe that we had lanched foorth, and were departed from them, we came with a straight course vnto Choos, and the day folowing vnto the Rhodes, and from thence vnto Patara.

2 And when we had found a ship sayling vnto Phenice, we went aboord, and set forth.

3 Now when Cyprus began to appeare vnto vs, we leaft it on the leaft hand, and sayled into Syria, and came vnto Tyre: for there the shippe vnladed the burden.

4 And when we had founde disciples, we taried there seuen dayes: who sayde to Paul through the spirite, that he shoulde not goe vp to Hierusalem.

5 And when the dayes were ended, we departed, and went our way, and they all brought vs on our way, with wiues and children, tyl we were come out of the citie

6 And when we had taken our leaue one of another, we tooke shyp, and they returned home agayne.

7 When we had fulfilled the course from Tyre, we went downe to Ptolomaida, and saluted the brethren, and abode with them one day.

8 And the next daye, we that were of Paules company, departed, & came vnto Cesarea, and we entred into the house of Philip the Euangelist (||which was one of the seuen) and abode with hym.

Acts.6.5.

9 And the same man had foure daughters, virgins, which did prophesie.

10 And as we tarryed there a good many of dayes, there came a certayne prophete from Iurie, named Agabus.

11 And when he was come vnto vs, he tooke Paules gyrdle, and bounde his owne hands and feete, and sayd, Thus sayth the holy ghost, So shal the Iewes at Hierusalem binde the man that oweth this girdle, and shal deliuer hym into the handes of the Gentiles.

12 And when we hearde these thynges, both we and other whiche were of the same place, besought hym, that he would not goe vp to Hierusalem.

13 Then Paul answeared, What doo ye weeping and vexing mine hart? for I am ready not to be bounde onely, but also to dye at Hierusalem for the name of the Lorde Iesus.

14 And when we could not turne his mynde, we ceassed, saying, The wyl of the Lorde be fulfilled.

15 And after those dayes we tooke vp our burdens, and went vp to Hierusalem.

16 There went with vs also certayne of the disciples of Cesarea, and brought with them one Mnason of Cyprus, an olde disciple, with whom we should lodge.

17 And when we were come to Hierusalem, the brethren receiued vs gladly.

18 And on the morowe Paul went in with vs vnto a James, and al the elders came togeather.

a This Iames was the Lordes brother the sonne of Mary, which was the father of the glorified virgin: Whiche Iames afterward was Bishop of Hierusalem.

19 And when he had saluted them, he told by order al things that God had wrought among the Gentiles by his ministery.

20 And when they heard it they glorified the Lorde, and sayde vnto hym, Thou seest brother, howe many thousand Iewes there are which beleeue, and they are al earnest folowers of the lawe.

21 And they are enformed of thee, that thou teachest al the Iewes, which are among the Gentiles, to forsake Moses, saying that they ought not to circumcise their children, neither to walke after the customes.

22 What is it therefore, the multitude must needes come togeather: for they shall heare that thou art come.

23 Doo therefore this that we say to thee: We haue foure men which haue a vowe on them, 24 Them take, & purifie thee selfe with them, and doo cost on them, that they maye shaue their heades: || and al shal knowe that those thynges which they haue heard concernyng thee, are nothyng, but that thou thee selfe also walkest and keepest the lawe.

|| Num. 6.18.

25 As touching the Gentiles which beleeue, || we haue written and concluded, that they obserue no suche thyng, saue onely that they keepe them selues from thinges offered to idols, and from blood, and from strangled, and from fornication.

|| Acte. 15.20

26 Then Paul tooke the men, and the next day purifying hym selfe with them, entred into the temple, || declaryng the accomplishment of the dayes of the purification, vntyl that an offeryng should be offered for euery one of them.

|| Num. 6.13

27 And when the seuen dayes were almost ended, the Iewes which were of Asia, when they sawe hym in the temple, mooued al the people, and layd handes on hym,

28 Crying, Menne of Israel, helpe: this is the man that teacheth al men euery where agaynst the people, and the lawe, and this place: he hath also brought Grekes into the temple, & hath polluted this holy place.

29 (For they had seene before with hym in the citie, Trophimus an Ephesian, whom they supposed that Paul had brought into the temple.)

30 And al the citie was mooued, and the people swarmed togeather: and they tooke Paul, and drewe hym out of the temple: and foorthwith the doores were shut.

31 And as they went about to kyl hym, tydinges came vnto the high captayne of the souldiers, that al Hierusalem was in an vproare.

32 Whiche immediately tooke b souldiers, and vnder captaines, and ranne downe vnto them, & when they saw the cheefe captayne and the souldiers, they leaft smytyng of Paul.

b God often tymes appoynteth his magistrates to deliuer his faythful ministers from al dangers of their enimies.

33 Then the cheefe captaine came neare, and tooke hym, & commaunded hym to be bound with two chaines, and demaunded who he was, and what he had doone.

34 And some cryed one thing, some another, among the people: & when he coulde not knowe the certayntie for the rage, he commaunded him to be caried into the castle.

35 And

35 And when he came vpon the stayres, it was so that he was borne of the souldiers for the violence of the people.

36 For the multitude of the people folowed after, crying, Away with hym.

37 And when Paul began to be carried into the castle, he said vnto the high captaine, May I speake vnto thee? Who sayde, Canst thou speake Greeke?

‖ Actes.5.36. 38 ‖ Art thou not that Egyptian which before these dayes madest an vprore, and ledest out into the wyldernesse foure thousande men that were murderers?

40 And when he had geuen him licence, Paul stood on the stayres, and beckened with the hande vnto the people: and when there was made a great silence, he spake vnto them in the Hebrue tongue, saying.

¶ The.xxii. Chapter.

3. Paul rendereth an account of his lyfe and doctrine. 25. He escapeth the vvhyppe, by reason he vvas a citizen of Rome.

MEn, brethren, and fathers, heare ye myne answeare whiche I make vnto you.

2 (And when they hearde that he spake in the Hebrue tongue to them, they kept the more silence: and he sayth,)

3 I am verily a man which am a Jewe, borne in Tarsus a citie in Cilicia, and yet brought vp in this citie at the feete of Gamaliel, and taught accordyng to the perfect manner of the lawe of the fathers, and was zelous towardes God, as ye al are this same day.

‖ Act.9.8. 4 And ‖ I persecuted this way vnto the death, byndyng and deliuering into prysons both men and women,

5 As also the cheefe priest dooth beare me witnesse, and al the estate of the elders: of whom also I receyued letters vnto the brethren, and went to Damascus, to bryng them which were there bounde vnto Hierusalem, for to be punished.

6 And it came to passe, that as I made my iourney, and was come nygh vnto Damascus about noone, sodaynely there shone from heauen a great light round about me:

7 And I fel vnto the earth, and hearde a voyce saying vnto me, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me?

8 And I answeared, who art thou Lord? And he sayde vnto me, I am Jesus of Nazareth a whom thou persecutest.

9 And they that were with me, sawe bodyly the lyght, & were afrayd: but they heard not the voyce of hym that spake to me.

10 And I sayd, What shal I doo Lord? And the Lorde sayde vnto me, Aryse, and goe into Damascus: and there it shalbe told thee of al thinges whiche are appoynted for thee to doo.

11 And when I sawe nothing for the brightnesse of the lyght, beyng led by the hande of them that weare with me, I came into Damascus.

12 And one Ananias, a deuout man as pertaynyng to the lawe, hauyng a good report of al the Jewes whiche there dwelt, 13 Came vnto me, and stoode, and sayde vnto me, Brother Saul, receyue thy syght. And the same houre I looked vp vpon hym.

14 And he said, The God of our fathers hath ordeined thee before, that thou shouldest knowe his wyll, and see that iust one, & shouldest heare the voyce of his mouth.

15 For thou shalt be his witnesse vnto al men, of those thynges which thou hast seene and heard.

16 And now, why tarriest thou? Aryse, and be baptised, and washe away thy sinnes, in callyng on the name of the Lorde.

17 And it came to passe, that when I was come agayne to Hierusalem, and prayed in the temple, I was in a traunce, 18 And sawe hym saying vnto me, Make hast, & get thee quickly out of Hierusalem: for they wyll not receiue thy witnesse concernyng me.

19 And I sayde, Lorde, they knowe that ‖ I prysoned, and beat in euery synagogue them that beleeued on thee. ‖ Actes.8.

20 And when the blood of thy witnesse Steuen was shed, ‖ I also was standyng by, ‖ Actes.7. and consenting vnto his death, and kept the rayment of them that slue hym.

21 And he said vnto me, Depart: for I wyl sende thee farre hence vnto the Gentiles.

22 And they gaue him audience vnto this woorde, and then lyft vp their voyces, and sayd, Away with suche a felovve from the earth: for it is no reason that he should liue.

23 And as they cryed, and cast of their clothes, and threwe dust into the ayre, 24 The cheefe captayne commaunded hym to be brought into the castle, and bade that he shoulde be scourged, and examined: that he myght knowe wherefore they cryed soon hym.

25 And as they bounde hym with thongues, Paul sayde vnto the Centurion that stoode by, Is it lawful for you to scourge a man that is b Romane, and vncondemned?

26 When

a. Jesus was now in heauen, & could not be persecuted of Paul. But the persecution which Paul exercised agaynst the faythful being his members, Christe counted it as donne to hym selfe.

b. He was borne at Rome, but Tarsus the citizens where enioy the priuiledge of citie of Ro and were c ted as Rom 26 When the Centurion heard that, he went and tolde the cheefe captayne, sayyng, Take heede what thou doest, for this man is a Romane.

27 Then the cheefe captayne came, and sayd vnto him, Tel me, art thou a Romane? He sayde, Yea.

28 And the cheefe captayne answeared, With a great summe obteyned I this freedome. And Paul sayde, I was free borne.

29 Then straightway departed from him they whiche should haue examined him: and the cheefe captayne also was afrayde after he knewe that he was a Romane, and because he had bounde him.

30 On the morowe, because he woulde haue knowen the certaintie wherfore he was accused of the Iewes, he loosed him from his bandes, and commaunded the high priestes and all the counsayle to come together, and brought Paul forth, & set him before them.

¶ The. xxiii. Chapter.

1. Paul commeth before the counsaile. 2. Ananias causeth him to be stricken.

AND Paul earnestly beholdyng the counsayle, sayde, Men and brethren, I haue lyued in al good conscience before God vntyl this day.

2 And the high priest Ananias cõmaunded them that stoode by, to smyte him on the mouth.

3 Then sayde Paul vnto him, God shal smyte thee thou a paynted wal: for sittest thou and iudgest me after the lawe, & commaundest me to be smytten contrary to the lawe?

4 And they that stoode by, said, Reuilest thou Gods high priest?

5 Then sayd Paul, I wyst not brethren, b that he was the high priest: For it is written, ‖ Thou shalt not curse the ruler of thy people.

6 But when Paul perceyued that the one part were Saducees, and the other Pharisees, he cried out in the counsayle, ‖ Men and brethren, I am a Pharisee, the sonne of a Pharisee: of the hope and resurrection of the dead I am iudged.

7 And when he had so sayde, there arose a debate betwene the Pharisees and the Saducees: and the multitude was diuided.

8 ‖ For the Saducees say that there is no resurrection, neyther angel, nor spirit: but the Pharisees confesse both.

9 And there arose a great crye: and whē the Scribes whiche were of the Pharisees part arose, they stroue, sayyng, We fynde no euyl in this man: but yf a spirite or an angel hath spoken to him, let vs not stryue agaynst God.

10 And when there arose a great debate, the cheefe captayne fearyng lest Paul should haue ben pluckt a sunder of them, commaunded the souldiers to goe downe, and to take him from among them, and to bryng him into the castle.

11 And the nyght folowyng, the Lorde stoode by him, and sayde, Be of good cheare Paul: for as thou hast testified of me in Ierusalem, so must thou beare witnesse also at Rome.

12 And when it was day, certayne of the Iewes geathered them selues togeather, and made a c vowe, sayyng that they woulde neyther eate nor drynke tyll they had kylled Paul.

13 And they were more then fourtie men, whiche had made this conspiracie.

14 And they came to the cheefe priestes and elders, and sayde, We haue bounde our selues with a vowe, that we wil eate nothing vntyl we haue slayne Paul.

15 Nowe therefore geue ye knowledge to the cheefe captayne, and to the counsayle, that he bryng him forth vnto you to morowe, as though ye woulde knowe something more perfectly of him: and we, or euer he come neare, are redy to kil him.

16 And when Paules systers sonne hearde of their layyng awayte, he went and entred into the castle, and tolde Paul.

17 And Paul called one of the vnder captaynes vnto him, and sayde, Bryng this young man vnto the high captayne: for he hath a certayne thyng to shewe him.

18 And he tooke him, and brought him to the high captayne, and sayde, Paul the prisoner called me vnto him, and prayed me to bryng this young man vnto thee, whiche hath a certayne matter to shewe thee.

19 Then the high captayne tooke him by the hande, and went with him out of the way, & asked him, What is it that thou hast to tel me?

20 And he sayde, The Iewes are determined to desyre thee, that thou wouldest bryng forth Paul to morowe into the counsayle, as though they woulde enquyre somewhat of him more perfectly.

21 But folowe not thou their myndes: for there lye in wayte for him of them moe then fourtie men, whiche haue bounde them selues with a vowe, that they wyl neyther eate nor drynke, tyl they haue killed him: and nowe are they redy, and looke for a promyse from thee.

22 The cheefe captaine the let the young man man depart, and charged him, See thou tell it out to no man, that thou hast shewed these thynges to me.

23 And he called vnto him two vnder captaynes, saying, Make redie two hundred souldiers to goe to Cesarea, and horsemen threescore and ten, and spearemen two hundred, at the thyrde houre of the nyght:

24 And deliuer them beastes, that they may set Paul on, and bring him safe vnto Felix the high deputie.

25 And he wrote a letter after this maner,

26 Claudius Lysias, vnto the moste mightie ruler Felix, sendeth greetynges.

27 This man was taken of the Iewes, and shoulde haue been killed of them: Then came I with an armie, and rescued him, and perceyued that he was a Romane:

28 And when I woulde haue knowen the cause wherefore they accused him, I brought him foorth into their counsayle.

29 Whom I perceyued to be accused of questions of their lawe: but hauing nothing layde to his charge woorthie of death, or of bondes.

30 And when it was shewed me howe that the Iewes layde wayte for the man, I sent him straightway to thee, and gaue commaundement to his accusers, that the things whiche they haue agaynst him, they shoulde tel before thee. Farewel.

31 Then the souldiers, as it was commaunded them, toke Paul, and brought him by night to Antipatridis.

32 On the morowe, they left the horsemen to goe with him, and returned vnto the castle.

33 Which when they came to Cesarea, and deliuered the Epistle to the deputie, presented Paul also before him.

34 And when the deputie had read the letter, he asked of what Prouince he was. And when he vnderstoode that he was of Cilicia:

35 I wyl heare thee, said he, when thine accusers are come also. And he commaunded him to be kept in Herodes iudgement hal.

¶ The .xxiiii. Chapter.

Paul beyng accused, answereth for his lyfe and doctrine.

AND after fyue dayes, Ananias the high priest descended, with the elders, and with a certayne orator, named Tertullus, which appeared before the deputie agaynst Paul.

2 And when Paul was called foorth, Tertullus began to accuse him, saying, Seeing that we haue a obteined great quietnesse by the meanes of thee, and that many good things are done vnto this nation through thy prouidence,

3 That allow we euer, and in al places, moste noble Felix, with al thankes.

4 Notwithstanding, that I be not tedious vnto thee, I pray thee, that thou wouldest heare vs of thy curtesie a fewe wooordes.

5 For we haue founde this man a pestilent felow, and a mouer of debate vnto al the Iewes in the whole worlde, and a maintayner of the secte of the Nazarites.

6 Whiche also hath gone about to pollute the temple, whom we tooke, and woulde haue iudged accordyng to our lawe.

7 But the high captayne Lysias came vpon vs, and with great violence tooke him away out of our handes,

8 Commaundyng his accusers to come vnto thee, of whom thou maiest, yf thou wylt enquyre, knowe the certaynties of all these thynges whereof we accuse him.

9 And the Iewes likewise affyrmed, saying that these thynges were so.

10 Then Paul, after that the deputie him selfe had beckened vnto him that he should speake, answered, With a more quiet minde doo I answeare for mee selfe, for as muche as I vnderstande that thou hast been of many yeeres a iudge vnto this nation:

11 Because that thou mayst know, that there are yet but twelue dayes, since I went vp to Hierusalem for to worshyp.

12 And they neyther founde me in the temple disputing with any man, eyther raysyng vp the people, neyther in ỹ synagogues, nor in the citie:

13 Neyther can they proue the things whereof they accuse me.

14 But this I confesse vnto thee, that after the way whiche they call b heresie, so worshyp I the God of my fathers, beleuing al thynges whiche are written in the lawe & the prophetes, 15 And haue hope towardes God, that the resurrection of the dead, which they them selues looke for also, shalbe both of the iust and vniust.

16 And herein studie I, to haue alway a cleare conscience towarde God, and towarde men.

17 Nowe after many yeeres, I came and brought almes to my nation, and offrynges:

18 ‖ In the whiche they founde me purified in the temple, neither with multitude, nor yet with vnquietnesse.

19 Howbeit, there were certaine Iewes out of Asia,

20 Which ought to be here e present before thee, and accuse me, if they had ought agaynst me.

21 Or els let these same here say, if they haue founde any euyl dooyng in me whyle I stand here in the counsayle.

22 Except it be for this one voyce, that I cried standing among them, || That of the resurrection from the dead, am I iudged of you this day.

23 And when Felix heard these thynges, he deferred them: for he knewe very wel of that way, and sayde, When Lysias the captayne is come downe, I wyl knowe the vttermost of your matter.

24 And he commaunded an vnder captaine to keepe Paul, and to let him haue rest, and that he should forbid none of his acquaintance to minister vnto hym, or to come vnto hym.

25 And after certayne dayes, when Felix came with his wyfe Drusilla, which was a Jewesse, he called foorth Paul, and hearde him of the fayth which is toward Christ.

26 And as he reasoned of righteousnesse, temperance, and iudgement to come, Felix d trembled, and answeared, Goe thy way for this time, when I haue a conuenient season, I wyl sende for thee.

27 He hoped also that money shoulde haue ben geuen hym of Paul, that he might loose him: wherefore he sent for him the oftener, and communed with hym.

28 But after two yeeres, Portius Festus came into Felix roome: and Felix willyng to shewe the Jewes a pleasure, left Paul bounde.

¶ The xxv. Chapter.

1. The Iewes accuse Paul before Festus. 8. He answeareth for hym selfe.

THEN when Festus was come into the prouince, after three dayes he assended from Cesarea to Hierusalem.

2 Then enfourmed him the high priest, and the cheefe of the Jewes, agaynst Paul, and they besought hym,

3 And desyred fauour agaynst hym, that he woulde sende for hym to Hierusalem, laying wayte in the way to kyl hym.

4 But Festus answeared, that Paul shoulde be kept at Cesarea, and that he hym selfe woulde depart shortly thyther.

5 Let them therefore, sayde he, whiche among you are able, come downe with vs, & accuse hym, if there be any fault in this man.

6 And when he had tarried among them more then ten dayes, he went downe vnto Cesarea, and the next day sate downe in the iudgement seate, & commaunded Paul to be brought.

7 Who beyng come, the Jewes whiche were come from Hierusalem, stoode about hym, and layde many and greeuous complayntes agaynst Paul, which they coulde not a prooue,

8 While he answeared for hym selfe that neyther agaynst the lawe of the Jewes, neyther agaynst the temple, nor yet agaynst Caesar, haue I offended any thyng at al.

9 But Festus wyllyng to doo the Jewes a pleasure, answeared Paul and sayd, Wylt thou goe vp to Hierusalem, and there be iudged of these thynges before me?

10 Then sayde Paul, I stande at Caesars iudgement seate, where I ought to be iudged, to the Jewes haue I done no wrong, as thou very wel knowest.

11 For if I doo any wrong, or haue committed any thyng woorthy of death, I refuse not to dye: but if there be none of these thinges whereof they accuse me, no man may deliuer me vnto them. I appeale vnto b Caesar.

12 Then spake Festus with the counsayle, and answeared, Hast thou appealed vnto Caesar? vnto Caesar shalt thou goe.

13 And after certaine dayes, king Agrippa, and Bernice, came vnto Cesarea, to salute Festus.

14 And when they had ben there a good season, Festus rehearsed Paules cause vnto the king, sayeing, There is a certaine man leaft in bondes of Felix.

15 About whom, when I came to Hierusalem, the high priests and the elders of the Jewes enfourmed me, and desyred to haue iudgement agaynst hym.

16 To whom I answeared, It is not the maner of the Romans, for fauour to deliuer any man that he shoulde perysshe, before that he whiche is accused, haue the accusers face to face, and haue licence to answeare for him self, concerning the crime laid agaynst hym.

17 Therefore when they were come thyther, without any delay, on the morow I sate on the iudgment seate, and commaunded the man to be brought foorth.

18 Against whom, when the accusers stoode vp, they brought none accusation of suche thinges as I supposed:

19 But had certaine questions against hym of their owne superstition, and of one Jesus, which was dead, whom Paul affirmed to be alyue.

20 And because I doubted of such maner of questions, I asked hym whether he would goe to Hierusalem, and there be iudged of these matters.

21 But

a. Whiles Paul lyued vnder the lawe like other Iewes, his conuersation was perfect and notable, and after his conuertion vnto Christe, he became a more notable example of innocencie: but it is a common case, that the seruants of god are euyl spoken of for their wel dooyng.

b. The iniquitie of ỹ Iudge, who contrary to equitie, wylling to pleasure the Iewes, deuised howe to betray Paul, draue Paule to appeale, which is the vttermost remedie for suche as by wrong iudgement are oppressed: and this appellation by gods prouidence, was a meane that Paule shoulde testifie of Christe at Rome also.

21 But when Paul had appealed to be kept vnto the knowledge of Augustus, I commaunded hym to be kept, tyl I might sende hym to Caesar.

22 Then Agrippa sayde vnto Festus, I woulde also heare the man mee selfe. To morowe sayde he, thou shalt heare hym.

23 And on the morowe when Agrippa was come and Bernice, with great pompe, and was entred into the counsaile house, with the cheefe captaynes, and cheefe men of the citie, at Festus commaundement was Paul brought foorth.

24 And Festus sayde, King Agrippa, and al men whiche are here present with vs, ye see this man, about whom al the multitude of the Iewes haue intreated me, both at Hierusalem, and also here, crying that he ought not to lyue any longer.

25 Yet founde I nothyng woorthy of death that he had committed: Neuertheless, seeing that he hath appealed to Augustus, I haue determined to sende hym, 26 Of whom I haue no certayne thyng to wryte vnto my Lorde: Wherefore I haue brought hym foorth before you, and specially before thee, O king Agrippa, that after examination had, I might haue somewhat to wryte.

27 For me thynketh it vnreasonable for to sende a prysoner, and not to shewe the causes whiche are layde agaynst hym.

¶ The.xxvi. Chapter.

1. King Agrippa heareth Paul. 25. Paules modest answeare against the iniurie of Festus.

THen Agrippa sayde vnto Paul, Thou art permitted to speake for thee selfe. Then Paul stretched foorth the hande, and answeared for hym selfe.

2 I thynke mee selfe happy, king Agrippa, because I shal answeare this day before thee of al the thynges whereof I am accused of the Iewes:

3 Namely, because thou art expert in al customes and questions which are among a the Iewes: wherfore I beseech thee to heare me patiently.

4 My lyfe that I haue led of a chylde, which was at the first among mine owne nation at Hierusalem, knowe al the Iewes,

5 Which knew me from the beginning, (if they would testifie) that after the most straitest sect of our b religion, I lyued a Pharisee.

6 And nowe I stande, and am iudged for the hope of the promise made of God vnto our fathers:

7 Vnto which promise our twelue trybes instantly seruyng God day and nyght, hope to come: For which hopes sake, king Agrippa, I am accused of the Iewes.

8 Why should it be thought a thing incredible vnto you, that God rayseth the dead?

9 I also verily thought in mee selfe, that I ought to doo many contrary thinges, cleane agaynst the name of Iesus of Nazareth:

10 ‖ Which thing I also did in Hierusalem, and many of the Saintes dyd I shut vp in prison, hauyng receyued auctoritie of the hygh priestes, and when they were put to death, I gaue the sentence. ‖ Actes.8.

11 And I punished them oft in euery synagogue, & compelled them to blaspheme, and was yet more mad vpon them, and persecuted them euen vnto strange cities.

12 ‖ About which thinges as I went to Damascus, with auctoritie and commission of the hygh priestes, ‖ Actes.9.

13 Euen at myddaye, O king, I sawe in the way a lyght from heauen, aboue the brightnesse of the sunne, shine round about me, & them which iourneyed with me.

14 And when we were al fallen to the earth, I hearde a voyce speakyng vnto me in the Hebrue tongue, and saying, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me? It is hard for thee to kicke against the prickes.

15 And I said, Who art thou Lorde? And he said, I am Iesus whom thou persecutest.

16 But ryse and stande vpon thy feete, for I haue appeared vnto thee for this purpose, to make thee a minister & a witnesse, both of these thinges which thou hast seene, and of those thinges in the which I wyl appeare vnto thee,

17 Deliuering thee from the people, and from the Gentiles, vnto whom now I send thee, 18 To open their eyes, that they may be turned from darkenesse to lyght, and from the power of Satan vnto God, that they may receyue forgeuenesse of sinnes, and inheritance among them which are sanctified by fayth that is in me.

19 Wherfore, O king Agrippa, I was not disobedient vnto the heauenly vision:

20 But shewed first vnto them of Damascus, and at Hierusalem, and throughout al the coastes of Iurie, and then to the Gentiles, that they should repent and turne to God, and doo such woorkes as become them that repent.

21 For this cause the Iewes caught me in the temple, and went about to kyl me.

22 Seeyng therfore that I haue obteyned helpe of God, I continue vnto this day, witnessyng both to small and great, saying none

a. He knewe muche, but he fayled in the ryght applying of his knolege, as they doo which be wyse in their owne conceites only, and haue the zeale of God, but not accordyng to knowledge.

b. He taketh the secte of the Pharisees to be perfectest, because their doctrine was better then the other sectes. The Saduces denied the resurrection of the dead. The Essens glorying in straytnesse of lyfe, litle regarde true doctrine.

none other thinges then those which the prophetes and Moses did saye shulde come:

23 That Christe shulde suffer, and that he shoulde be the fyrst that shoulde ryse from the dead, and shoulde shewe lyght vnto the people, and to the Gentiles.

24 And as he thus spake for him selfe, Festus sayde with a loude voyce, Paul, thou art beside thee c selfe, muche learning doeth make thee mad.

25 But he sayde, I am not mad, moste noble Festus, but speake foorth the woordes of trueth and soberneſſe.

26 For the kyng knoweth of these thinges, before whom also I speake freely, neyther beleeue I, that any of these thynges are hydde from him, for this thing was not done in a corner.

27 Kyng Agrippa, beleeuest thou the prophetes? I wote well that thou beleeuest.

28 Then Agrippa sayde vnto Paul, Somewhat thou perswadest d me to be a Christian.

29 And Paul sayde, I woulde to God, that not only thou, but also all that heare me to day, were both somewhat, & also in a great deale suche as I am, except these bondes.

30 And when he had thus spoken, the kyng rose vp, and the deputie, and Bernice, and they that sate with them.

31 And when they were gone aparte, they talked betweene them selues, saying, This man doeth nothing woorthie of death, or of bondes.

32 Then sayde Agrippa vnto Festus, This man myght haue been let loose, yf he had not appealed vnto Caesar.

Festus beginneth to frame with Pauls oration, & saying nothing for hym against yet woulde not yeeld vnto their clamorous condemning it as wicked and superstitious: For such sayings are to be cumbred with godly matters, and specially all suche as the that vnderstande them not therewith he sawe a great light, but was soone driuen vnto silence that hearde his sermon, for ỹ time he seemed conuynded, but after returned to their former trade.

¶ The. xxvii. Chapter.

1. Paul shypped towarde Rome. 3. Iulius the captayne entreateth him curteously.

AND when it was concluded that we shoulde saple into Italie, they delyuered both Paul and certayne other prysoners, vnto one named Julius, an vnder captayne of Augustus bande.

Gal.11.22

2 ‖ And we entred into a shyp of Adramyttium, and loosed from lande, appoynted to saile by the coastes of Asia, one Aristarchus out of Macedonia, of the countrey of Thessalonica, tarrying styll with vs.

3 And the nexte day we came to Sidon: And Julius curteously entreated Paul, and gaue him libertie to goe vnto his freendes, and to refreshe him selfe.

4 And when we had launched from thence, we sayled harde by Cypers, because the wyndes were contrary.

5 And when we had sailed ouer the sea of Cilicia and Pamphylia, we came to Myra a citie whiche is in Lycia,

6 And there the vnder captayne founde a shyp of Alexandria saylyng into Italie, and he put vs therein.

7 And when we had sayled slowly many dayes, and scarse were come ouer against Guidum, because the wynde withstoode vs, we sayled harde by * Candie, ouer against Salmone, * or, Creta, which was an hygh hyll of Candie.

8 And with much woorke sayled beyond it, and came vnto a place which is called the Fayre hauens, nygh whervnto was the citie of Lasea.

9 When muche tyme was spent, and when saylyng was nowe iepardous, because also that the fast was nowe alredy past, Paul put them in remembraunce,

10 And sayde vnto them, Syrs, I perceyue that this voyage wyl be with hurt and much domage, not of the ladyng & shyp only, but also of our lyues.

11 Neuertheless, the vnder captayne beleeued the gouernour and the maister of the shyp, more then those thynges whiche were spoken of Paul.

12 And because the hauen was not commodious to wynter in, many tooke counsaile to departe thence, yf by any meanes they myght atteyne to Phenice, and there to winter, whiche is an hauen of Candie, and lyeth towarde the Southwest and Northwest wynde.

13 And when the South wynde blewe softly, they supposing that they had obteyned their purpose, loosed vnto Asson, and sayled past Candie.

14 But not long after, there arose agaynst their purpose a flawe of wynde out of the Northeast, which is called Euroclydon.

15 And when the shyp was caught, and coulde not resyst the wynde, we let her goe, & were dryuen with the weather.

16 But we were carried into an Ile, whiche is called Clauda, & had much woorke to come by a boate, 17 Whiche they tooke vp, & vsed helpe, and made fast the shyp, fearyng lest they shoulde fal into the Syrtes: and so they let downe a * vessel, and were carried.

* Some reade, the sayles.

18 The nexte day when we were tossed with an exceedyng tempest, they lyghted the shyp:

19 And the thyrde day we cast out with our owne handes the tackelyng of the shyp.

20 And when neyther the Sunne nor Starres in many dayes appeared, & no smal tempest lay vpon vs, al hope that we shoulde be saued was then taken away.

21 But after long abstinence, Paul stoode foorth in the myddes of them, & sayde, Syrs, Syrs, ye shoulde haue hearkened vnto me, and not haue loosed from Candie, & to haue gayned vnto vs this harme and losse.

22 And nowe I exhort you to be of good cheare: for there shalbe no losse of any mans lyfe among you, but of the shyp.

23 For there stood by me this night the angel of God, whose I am, & whom I serue, 24 Saying, Feare not Paul, thou must be brought before Caesar, and loe, God hath geuen thee a all them that saile with thee.

a. The graces and blessynges whiche god geueth to his children, profyte many times the enimies, which are vnworthie to receyue the fruite thereof.

25 Wherefore syrs be of good cheare: for I beleeue God, that it shalbe euen as it was tolde me.

26 Howbeit, we must be cast into a certayne Ilande.

27 But when the fourtienth night was come, as we were sailing in Adria about midnight, the shypmen deemed that they drewe neare to some countrey:

28 And sounded, and founde it twentye fadomes: and when they had gone a litle further, they sounded agayne, and founde it fyfteene fadomes.

29 Then fearyng lest we shoulde haue fallen on some rocke, they caste foure ankers out of the sterne, and wyshed for the day.

30 And as the shypmen were about to flee out of the shyp, when they had let downe the boat into ỹ sea, vnder a colour as though they woulde haue cast ankers out of the forepyppe, 31 Paul sayde to the vnder captayne, & to the souldiers, Excepte these abyde in the shyp, ye b can not be saued.

b. Paul would vse suchmeanes as God had ordeyned, lest he should seme to haue tempted him.

32 Then the souldiers cut of the rope of the boate, and let it fal away.

33 And when the day began to appeare, Paul besought them al to take meate, saying, This is the fourtienth day that ye haue tarried and continued fastyng, receyuyng nothyng at al.

34 Wherefore, I pray you to take meate, for this no doubt is for your health, for there shall not c an heare fall from the head of any of you.

c. By this Hebrue speache is meant, that they shoulde be in al poynts safe & sounde.

35 And when he had thus spoken, he tooke bread, and gaue thanks to God in presence of them al: and when he had broken it, he began to eate.

36 Then were they al of good cheare, & they also tooke meate.

37 And we were altogether in the ship, two hundred, threescore, and syxteene soules.

38 And when they had eaten enough, they lyghted the shyp, & cast out the wheate into the sea.

39 And when it was day, they knewe not the land: but they spied a certayne hauen with a banke, into the which they were minded, yf it were possible, to thrust in the shyp.

40 And when they had taken vp the ankers, they committed themselues vnto the sea, and loosed the rudder bandes, and hoysed vp the mayne sayle to the wynde, and drewe to lande.

a. or, the Shyp.

41 And when they fel into a place which had the sea on both sydes, they thrust in the shyp, and the forepart stucke fast & moued not, but the hynder parte brake with the violence of the waues.

42 And the souldiers counsayle was to kyll the prysoners, lest any of them, when he had swomme out, shoulde runne away.

43 But the vnder captayne, wyllyng to saue Paul, kept them from their purpose, & commaunded that they whiche could swym, should cast them selues fyrst into the sea, and scape to lande:

44 And the other, some on boordes, and some on broken peeces of the shyp: and so it came to passe, that they escaped al safe to lande.

11 And after three monethes we departed in a shippe of Alexandria, which had wintred in the Ile, whose badge was d Castor and Pollux.

12 And when we came to Syracusa, we tarryed there three dayes.

13 And from thence we fet a compasse, and came to Rhegium, and after one day the South winde blewe, and we came the next day to Puteolus:

14 Where we founde brethren, and were desired to tary with them seuen dayes: and so we came toward Rome.

15 And from thence, when the brethren heard of vs, they came to meete vs at Appii forum, and at the three tauernes: When Paul sawe them, he thanked GOD, and waxed bolde.

16 And when we came to Rome, the vnder captayne deliuered the prisoners to the chiefe captaine of the host: but Paul was suffered to dwell by him selfe, with a souldier that kept him.

17 And it came to passe, that after three dayes, Paul called ỹ cheefe of the Iewes togaether. And whē they were come togeather, he saide vnto them, Men & brethren, though I haue committed nothing against the people or lawes of the fathers, yet was I deliuered prisoner from Hierusalem into the handes of the Romanes.

18 Whiche when they had examined me, woulde haue let me goe, because there was no cause of death in me.

19 But when the Iewes spake contrarie, I was constrayned to appeale vnto Caesar, not that I had ought to accuse my nation of.

20 For this cause then haue I called for you, euen to see you, and to speake with you: because that for the e hope of Israel I am bounde with this chayne.

21 And they sayde vnto him, We neyther receiued letters out of Iurie concerning thee, neyther any of the brethren that came, shewed or spake any harme of thee.

22 But we wyl heare of thee what thou thynkest: for as concerning this sect, we knowe that euery where it is spoken against.

23 And when they had appoynted hym a day, there came many to him in his lodgyng, to whom he expounded and testified the kingdome of God, perswading them concerning Iesus, both out of the lawe of Moses, and out of the prophetes, euen from morning to nyght.

24 And some were perswaded in the thynges which were spoken, and some beleeued not.

25 And when they agreed not among them selues, they departed, after that Paul had spoken one woorde, that is to say, Well spake the holy ghost by Esaias the prophete, vnto our fathers,

26 Saying, || Goe vnto this people, and say, With your eares shal ye heare, and shall not vnderstande, and with your eyes shall ye see, and not perceiue.

27 For the hart of this people is waxed grosse, and their eares are dul of hearing, and their eyes haue they closed, lest they shoulde see with their eyes, & heare with their eares, and vnderstande with their hartes, and shoulde be conuerted, and I shoulde heale them.

28 Be it knowen therfore vnto you, that this saluation of God is sent vnto the Gentiles, and they shal heare it.

29 And when he had sayd these woordes, the Iewes departed, and had great reasoning among them selues.

30 And Paul dwelt two yeeres full in his owne hyred house, and receiued all that came in vnto hym, 31 Preachyng the kyngdome of God, and teachyng those thinges whiche concerne the Lorde Iesus Christe, with al confidence, no man forbiddyng hym.

The begynnyng of the first vniuersall persecution of Christians, the tenth yeere of Nero.

After that Saint Paul had preached the Gospel of Christe, both in the East and West, about seuen and thirtie yeeres, he was in the last yeere of Nero the Emperour beheaded at Rome with the swoorde.

The Epistle of the Apostle Saint Paul to the Romanes.

¶ The first Chapter.

1. Paul sheweth to whom and to what purpose he is called. 16. What the Gospel is. 18. The vengeance of God upon the wicked. 20. The use of the creatures. 24. The ingratitude and punishment of the wicked.

PAUL the seruaunt of Iesus Christe, a called to be an Apostle, seuered into the Gospel of God,

2 Whiche he had promised afore by his Prophetes in the holy scriptures

3 Of his sonne, whiche was made of the seede of Dauid after the flesshe:

4 And hath been declared to be the sonne of b God, with power after the spirite that sanctifieth, by ꝑ resurrection from the dead, of Iesus Christe our Lorde:

5 By whom we haue receiued grace and apostleship, that obedience might be geuen vnto the fayth in his name among all heathen,

6 Among whom, ye are also the called of Iesus Christe:

7 To all that be in Rome, beloued of God, saintes by calling: Grace to you, and peace from God our father, and the Lord Iesus Christe.

8 First verely I thanke my God thorowe Iesus Christ for you al, that your fayth is published throughout al the worlde.

9 For GOD is my witnesse, whom I serue with my spirite in the Gospel of his sonne, that without ceassing I make mention of you:

10 Praying alwayes in my prayers, that by some meane at the last, one time or other, I might take a prosperous iourney by the wyll of God, to come vnto you.

11 For I long to see you, that I might bestowe among you some spirituall gyft, that ye might be stablished.

12 That is, that I myght haue consolation together with you, eche with others fayth, yours and mine.

13 I would that ye shoulde knowe brethren, howe that I haue oftentymes purposed to come vnto you (and haue been let hytherto) that I might haue some fruite also among you, as among other of the Gentiles.

14 I am debter both to the Greekes, and to the c barbarous, both to the wyse, and to the vnwyse.

15 So that as muche as in me is, I am redy to preache the Gospel to you that are at Rome also.

16 For I am not ashamed of the Gospel of Christe, because it is the power of God vnto saluation to al that beleeue, to the Iewe first, and also to the Greeke.

17 For by it is the righteousnesse of God opened from fayth to fayth. As it is written, The iust shal liue by fayth.

18 For the wrath of God d is reuealed from heauen, against al vngodlinesse and vnrighteousnesse of men, which e withhold the trueth in vnrighteousnesse.

19 For that that may be knowen of God, is manifest among them, because God hath shewed it vnto them.

20 For his inuisible thinges, being vnderstanded by his woorkes, through the creation of the worlde, are seene, that is, both his eternall power and Godhead, so that they are without excuse:

21 Because that when they knewe God, notwithstanding they glorified hym not as God, neyther were thankfull; but waxed full of vanities in their imaginations, and their foolishe hart was blinded.

22 When they counted them selues wyse, they became fooles:

23 And turned the glory of the incorruptible God vnto an image, made not only after the similitude of a corruptible man, but also, of byrdes, and foure footed beastes, and of creeping beastes.

24 Wherfore God gaue them vp to vncleannesse, through the lustes of their owne harts, that their owne bodyes should be defiled among them selues.

25 Which changed his f trueth for a lie, and woorshipped and serued the creature, more then the creator, whiche is to be praysed for euer, Amen.

26 Wherefore God gaue them vp vnto shamefull lustes, for euen their women dyd change the naturall vse, into that whiche is agaynst nature.

27 And likewyse also, the men left the naturall vse of the woman, and burnt in their a By this he declareth that he came not in to the office of the Apostleship by his owne arrogancie, but by the callyng of God, whereby he differeth fro the false Apostles.

b Three maner of wayes doth he vseth to declare Christe to be declared the sonne of God. First, by power and working of miracles. Secondly, by the holy ghost appearing in visible signes. Thirdly, by his resurrection from the dead.

c Al those that were not Iewes, by a common vword were called Heathen. And here they are deuided into Greekes and barbarous. By Greekes, he vnderstandeth those that were learned, ciuill, and of good liuinging vp. By barbarous, he meaneth rude and sauage people, with vvho no man could well haue to do.

d. Whiche appearance the vvorlde knovveth nothing of. For in the sight of God all men are godlesse, sinners, and the children of vvrath, & when they knovv any thing of God, yet they be nought, because they neyther thanke him, nor serue him, and therefore plagues are povvred vpon them from heauen.

e. They hold the trueth in vnrighteousnesse, the vvhiche vnderstande the trueth, and doo not expresse the same in their deedes and lyfe.

f. By his trueth here he vnderstandeth ỹ glory of God, and his true religiõ and a lye he calleth idolles, because the idolaters vvent about to take avvay from vvood & stone that vvhiche they vvere, thinking them to be neyther vvood nor stone, but attributed to them that that they vvere not, that is, diuine povver and nature.

luſtes one with another, and men with men wrought filthyneſſe, and receiued in them ſelues the rewarde of theyr errour (as it was accordyng.)

28 And as they regarded not to knowe God: euen ſo God deliuered them vp vnto a lewde minde, that they ſhoulde doo thoſe thinges whiche were not comely:

29 Being full of all vnrighteouſneſſe, fornication, craftineſſe, couetouſneſſe, malitiouſneſſe, ful of enuie, murder, debate, decept, euil conditioned, whiſperers,

30 Backbiters, haters of God, deſpitefull, proude, boaſters, deuyſers vp of euyll thynges, diſobedient to father and mother:

31 Without vnderſtanding, couenaunt breakers, without naturall affection, truice breakers, vnmercifull.

32 The which knowyng the righteouſneſſe of God (how that they whiche commit ſuch thinges, are woorthy of death) not only doo the ſame, but alſo haue pleaſure in them that doo them.

¶ The.ii. Chapter.

1. Gods iudgement vpon the hypocrites. 13. All men are ſinners.

THerefore art thou inexculable, O man, whoſoeuer || thou be that a iudgeſt: For in that ſame wherein thou iudgeſt another, thou condemneſt thee ſelfe. For thou that iudgeſt, dooeſt euen the ſelfe ſame thinges.

2 But we are ſure that the iudgement of God is accordyng to the trueth, againſt them which commit ſuche thinges.

3 Thinkeſt thou this, O thou man that iudgeſt them which doo ſuche thynges, and doeſt the ſame thee ſelfe that thou ſhalt eſcape the iudgement of God?

4 Eyther deſpiſeſt thou the richeſſe of his goodneſſe, and patience, and long ſufferance, not knowyng that the goodneſſe of God leadeth thee to repentance?

5 But thou, after thy ſtubburneſſe and hart that can not repent, heapeſt vnto thee ſelfe wrath, againſt the day of wrath and declaration of the righteous iudgement of God:

6 || Which wyl rewarde euery man accordyng to his b deedes:

7 To them which by continuing in wel dooing ſeeke for glory, and honour, and immortalitie, eternall lyfe.

8 But vnto them that are contentious, and doo not obey the trueth, but obey vnrighteouſneſſe ſhall come indignation and wrath.

9 Tribulation, and anguiſhe, vpon euery ſoule of man that dooth euyll, of the Iewe firſt, and alſo of the Greeke:

10 But glory, and honour, and peace, to euery man that doth good, to the Iewe firſt, and alſo to the Greeke.

11 || For there is no reſpect of perſons with God. ||2.Par.19.7 Actes.10.34

12 For whoſoeuer hath ſinned without lawe, ſhal alſo periſhe without lawe: and as many as haue ſinned in the lawe, ſhalbe iudged by the lawe,

13 (For in the ſight of God, || the heaters of the lawe are not righteous: but the dooers of the lawe ſhalbe iuſtifyed. ||Iames.1.22

14 For when the Gentiles which haue not the lawe, doo of nature the thinges conteyned in the lawe: they hauyng not the law, are a lawe vnto them ſelues.

15 Whiche ſhewe the woorkes of the lawe written in their hartes, their conſcience bearing them witneſſe, and their thoughtes accuſing one another, or excuſing,)

16 At the day when God ſhal iudge the ſecretes of men, by Ieſus Chriſte, according to my c Goſpel.

17 Beholde, thou art called a Iewe, & reſteſt in the lawe, & makeſt thy boaſt of god,

18 And knoweſt his wyl, and alloweſt the thinges that be excellent, inſourmed by the lawe:

19 And beleeueſt that thou thee ſelfe art a guide of the blinde, a light of them vvhiche are in darkneſſe, 20 An inſourmer of them whiche lacke diſcretion, a teacher of the vnlearned: which haſt the fourme of knowledge, and of the trueth in the lawe.

21 Thou therefore which teacheſt another, teacheſt not thee ſelfe? Thou preacheſt a man ſhould not ſteale, yet ſtealeſt thou?

22 Thou that ſayeſt a man ſhoulde not commit adulterie, breakeſt thou wedlocke? Thou abhorreſt idolles, and yet committeſt ſacrilege?

23 Thou that makeſt thy boaſt of the lawe, throughe breaking the lawe diſhonoureſt thou God?

24 For the name of God is euil ſpoken of among the Gentiles throughe you, as it is written,

25 For circumciſion verely auayleth, yf thou keepe the lawe: but if thou be a breaker of the lawe, thy circumciſion is made vncircumciſion.

26 Therefore, yf the e vncircumciſion keepe the ordinances of the lawe, ſhal not his vncircumciſion be counted for circumciſion?

27 And

¶ Math.17.1. a. S. Paul ſpeaketh here againſt thoſe mē only, who being them ſelues filled with al wickedneſſe, and impietie, yet be of a lother moſt buſie and curious in noting & reprehending other mens faultes: not of any godly zeale, but to iuſtifie them ſelues, & ſo bring other men into hatred and contempt.

||Mat.16.27. b. Not that our woorkes be of ſuche merite yͤ they deſerue reward: but the ſcriptures vſe this kinde of ſpeaking, that thereby it may prouoke and ſtirre vp men vnto good liuing, whereby good woorkes our fayth may be more appeare. Whiche God of his free grace dooth rewarde.

c. It is his goſpel, both for yͤ feruent loue & zeale that he beareth to it, and alſo for the great paines that he hath taken in ſetteyng foorth yͤ ſame. d. He awaketh yͤ Iewes which were a ſleepe through a certayne ſecuritie and confidence in the lawe.

c. By this word he meaneth all the people, of vvhat countrey or nation ſoeuer they be, vvhichhaue not receiued the ſigne of circumciſion, accordyng to the lawe of Moſes.

¶ Pſal. 9

27 And shal not vncircumcision whiche is by nature, yf it keepe the lawe, iudge thee, whiche being vnder the letter and circumcision, dooest transgresse the lawe?

28 For he is not a Iewe, whiche is a Ievve outward. Neither is that circumcision, which is outward in the flesshe.

29 But he is a Iewe, which is one inwardly, and the circumcision of the hart, which consisteth in the spirite, and not in the letter is circumcision whose praise is not of men, but of God.

openly.

secretly.

¶ The.iii. Chapter.

1. The Ievves have a prerogatiue. 24. All are iustified by grace through fayth, and not through vvoorkes.

WHat preferment then hath the Iewe? or what profite is there of circumcision?

2 Muche euery way. First, for because that vnto them were committed the wooꝛdes of God.

3 What then though some of them dyd not beleeue? Shall their vnbeleefe make the a fayth of God without effect?

4 God forbid: Yea let God be true, and euery man a lyer, as it is written, That thou mightest be iustifyed in thy sayinges, and ouercome when thou art iudged.

5 But yf our vnrighteousnesse setteth foorth the righteousnesse of God, what shall we say? Is God vnrighteous which taketh vengeance? (I speake after the maner of men,)

6 God forbid: for howe then shall God iudge the woꝛlde?

7 For yf the trueth of God hath moꝛe abounded thꝛough my lye vnto his gloꝛye, why am I as yet iudged as a synner?

8 And not rather (as we be slaunderously repoꝛted, and as some affirme that we say) let vs doo euyl, that good may come thereof? whose damnation is iust.

9 What then, are we better then they? No, in no wyse: for we haue before accused both Iewes and gentiles, that they are all vnder sinne:

10 As it is written, || There is none righteous, no not one:

11 ||There is none that vnderstandeth, there is none that seeketh after God.

12 They are all gone out of the way, they are all become vnpꝛofitable, there is none that doeth good, no not one.

13 Their thꝛote is an open sepulchre, with their tongues they haue deceyued, the poyson of Aspes is vnder their lyppes.

14 ||Whose mouth is ful of cursing and bitternesse:

15 ||Their feete are swift to shed blood.

16 ||Hartes greefe and miserie are in theyr wayes.

17 And the way of peace haue they not knowen.

18 ||There is no feare of God before their eyes.

19 Nowe we knowe that what thinges so euer the lawe sayth, it sayth it to them which are vnder the lawe: that euery mouth may be stopped, and that al the woꝛlde may be indangered to God.

20 Because that by the deedes of the b lawe, there shal no flesshe be iustified in his sight: For by the lawe commeth the knowledge of sinne.

21 ||But now the righteousnesse of God without the lawe is made manifest, beyng witnessed by the lawe and the pꝛophetes.

22 The righteousnesse of God commeth by the fayth of Iesus Chꝛiste, vnto al, & vpon al them that beleeue. There is no difference:

23 For all haue sinned, and haue neede of the gloꝛy of God,

24 But are iustified freely by his grace, thꝛough the redemption that is in Chꝛiste Iesu:

25 Whom God hath set foꝛth to be a c pꝛopitiation, thꝛough fayth in his blood, to declare his ryghteousnesse, by the foꝛgeuyng of the sinnes that are past, 26 Whiche God dyd suffer, to shewe at this tyme his ryghteousnesse: that he myght be iust, and the iustifier of hym whiche beleeueth on Iesus.

27 Where is then thy boasting? It is excluded. By what lawe? Of woorkes? Nay: but by the lawe of fayth.

28 Therefore, we holde that a man is iustified by faith, without the deedes of the law.

29 Is he the God of the Iewes onely? Is he not also of the gentiles? Yes, euen of the gentiles also.

30 For it is one God which shall iustifie the circumcision by d fayth, and vncircumcision thꝛough fayth.

31 Doo we then destroy the law thꝛough fayth? God forbid: but we rather mainteyne the lawe.

¶ The.iii. Chapter.

7. Iustification is the free gift of God, as it appeareth by Dauid and Abraham, 13. and also by the office of lavve and fayth.

WHat shall we say then that Abꝛaham our father, as pertayning to the flesh, dyd fynde?

2 For if Abꝛaham were iustifyed by woorkes, then hath he wherein to boast, but not before God.

|Prou. 1.16. Esai.59.7. |Psal.16.1.

|Psal.36.2.

b. He includeth here the whole lawe, both the ceremonial and moral, whose workes can not iustifie, because they be imperfect in al men. ||Rom.2.17.

c. Which is a pacifyng of Gods displeasure. That wheras we were somtime, bondslaues to sinne, god made his only sonne Christ Iesus a sacrifice for our sinnes, to reconcile vs agayne by fayth into Gods fauour.

d. Meanyng that the Iewe and the gentile are both iustified by one meanes, which is by fayth.

||Gen. 15. 6. Galat. 3. 6. Iames. 2. 23.

3 For what sayth the scripture? || Abraham beleeued God, and it was counted vnto hym for righteousnesse.

4 To hym that woorketh, is the reward not reckened of grace, but of duetie.

5 To him that woorketh a not, but beleeueth on him that iustifieth the b vngodly, his fayth is counted for righteousnesse.

a That is, which meaneth not to obteyne salvation through worthynesse of his woorkes.

b. God is sayde to iustifie the vngodly, because he pardoneth his sinnes, and of a wicked man, maketh him good.

6 Euen as Dauid describeth the blessednesse of the man vnto whom God imputeth righteousnesse without woorkes:

7 Saying, || Blessed are they whose vnrighteousnesse are forgeuen, & whose sinnes are couered.

||Psal. 32. 1. The Epistle on Newe yeeres day.

8 Blessed is that man to whom the Lord wyll not impute sinne.

9 Came this blessednesse then vpon the circumcision only, or vpon the vncircumcision also? For we say that fayth was reckened to Abraham for righteousnesse.

10 Howe was it then reckened? when he was in the circumcision, or vvhen he vvas in the vncircumcision? Not in the circumcision, but in vncircumcision.

||Gen. 17. 11.

11 ||And he receiued the signe of circumcision, as the c seale of the righteousnesse of fayth, whiche he had yet being vncircumcised: that he should be the father of all them that beleeue, though they be not circumcised, that righteousnesse might be imputed vnto them also.

c. So was Abrahams circumcision called, because thereby was sealed the righteousnesse that through fayth was imputed to him before his circumcision.

12 And that he myght be father of circumcision, not vnto them onely which came of the circumcised, but vnto them also that walke in the steppes of the fayth that was in our father Abraham, before the tyme of circumcision.

13 For the promise that he shoulde be the heyre of the world, vvas not to Abraham, or to his seede through the law, but through the righteousnesse of fayth.

14 For if they whiche are of the lawe be heyres, then is fayth but vayne, and the promise made of none effect:

||Gene. 17. 4.

15 Because the lawe causeth wrath: For where no lawe is, there is no transgression.

d. In the creation of the worlde this appeared. For when he commaunded any thing to be, foorthwith it was.

16 Therefore by fayth is the inheritance geuen that it might be by grace, that the promise might be sure to al the seede, not to that onely whiche is of the lawe, but to that also which is of the fayth of Abraham, whiche is the father of vs al.

17 (As it is written, ||I haue made thee a father of many nations) before God whom ye beleeued, whiche restoreth the dead vnto lyfe, and calleth those thinges which be not, as d though they were.

e. That is, which beleeued and hoped for those things which God did promise, when as to mans reason they were without hope.

18 Who contrarie to hope, e beleeued in hope, that he shoulde be the father of many nations: according to that whiche was spoken, || So shal thy seede be.

||Gene. 15. 5.

19 And he fainted not in the fayth, nor consydered his owne body nowe dead, when he was almost an hundred yeeres olde, neyther yet the f deadnesse of Saraes wombe.

f. For that she was past childe bearyng.

20 He stackered not at the promise of God through vnbeleefe: but was strong in fayth, geuing glory to God.

21 And being ful certified, that what he had promised, he was able also to performe.

22 And therfore was it reckened to him for righteousnesse.

23 Neuertheless, it is not written for hym onely, that it was reckened to him:

24 But also for vs, to whom it shalbe reckened, so that we beleeue on him that raysed vp Iesus our Lorde from the dead, 25 Which was deliuered for our sinnes, and was raysed agayne for our iustification.

¶ The .v. Chapter.

I. The fruite of fayth. 12. From vvhence commeth death, and from vvhence lyfe.

THerefore being iustifyed by fayth, we are at a peace with God, through our Lorde Iesus Christe:

a. By peace, whiche is the fruite of fayth, is meant the incredible and most constant ioy of minde, our consciences being quiet, & established in Gods grace.

2 || By whom also we haue had an entrance by fayth, vnto this grace wherein we stande, and reioyce in hope of the glory of God.

||Ephes. 2. 23.

3 Not that onely: || but also we reioyce in tribulations, knowing that tribulation woorketh patience:

4 Patience proofe, proofe hope:

||Iames. 1. 3.

5 And hope maketh not b ashamed, because the loue of GOD is shed abrode in our hartes by the holy ghost, whiche is geuen vnto vs.

b. Both for that the hope of the godly is not disapointed of that whiche they hope for, & also for that they are not ashamed of any afflictiō in this worlde, as the worldly minded be: but cōstantly abyde without shame, whatsoeuer trouble God doth sende to them.

6 For when we were yet weake, accordyng to the tyme, Christe dyed for the vngodly.

7 Nowe scarce wyll any man dye for the righteous: Yet peraduenture for the good some man durst dye.

8 But God setteth out his loue towarde vs, seeyng that whyle we were yet sinners, Christe dyed for vs.

9 Muche more then nowe, we that are iustified by his blood, shalbe saued frō wrath through hym.

10 For if when we were enimies, we were reconciled to God by the death of his sonne: muche more, seeing we are reconciled, we shalbe saued by his lyfe.

11 Not onely so, but we also ioy in God, through thrꝛough our Lorde Jesus Chꝛiste, by whom we haue nowe receyued the attonement.

12 Wherefoꝛe, as by one man sinne entred into the worlde, and death by sinne: euen so, death entred into al men, inasmuche as al haue sinned.

13 Foꝛ vnto the lawe was sinne in the worlde: but sinne is not imputed when there is no lawe.

14 Neuertheleſſe, death raigned from Adam to Moses, ouer them also that had not sinned with lyke transgression as dyd Adam, whiche is the figure of him that was to come.

15 But not as the sinne, so is the free gyft. Foꝛ if thrꝛough the synne of one many be dead: muche moꝛe the grace of God, and the gyft by grace, which is by one man Jesus Chꝛiste, hath abounded vnto many.

16 And not as by one that sinned euen so the gyft, foꝛ the sinne entred by one offence into condemnation: but the gyft c of many sinnes into iustification.

17 Foꝛ if by the sinne of one, death raigned by the meanes of one, muche moꝛe they which receyue abundance of grace and of the gyft of rygh teousnesse, shal raigne in lyfe by the meanes of one, Jesus Chꝛiste.

18 Likewise then, as by the sinne of one synne came on al men to condemnation: euen so, by the rygh teousnesse of one good came vpon all men to the rygh teousnesse of lyfe.

19 Foꝛ as by one mans disobedience many became sinners: so by the obedience of one, shal many be made rygh teous.

20 But the lawe in the meane tyme entred in, that sinne should increase. But where sinne was plenteous, grace was moꝛe plenteous.

21 That as sinne hath raigned vnto death: euen so might grace raigne thrꝛough rygh teousnesse vnto eternal lyfe, by Jesus Chꝛiste our Lorde.

¶ The. vi. Chapter.

Newenesse of lyfe folowyth iustification, to the whiche he exhorteth.

WHat shal we say then? Shal we continue in sinne, that grace may abounde? God forbyd.

2 Howe shal we that are dead a to sinne, lyue any longer therein?

3 Knowe ye not, that al we which haue ben baptised into Jesus Chꝛiste, haue ben baptised b into his death.

4 We are buried then with him by baptisme into his death, that lykewyse as Chꝛiste was rayſed vp from the dead by the glory of the father: euen so, we also should walke in newenesse of lyfe.

5 Foꝛ if we be graft togeather by the lykenesse of his death: euen so shal we be partakers of the resurrection:

6 Knowing this, that our olde man is crucified with him also, that the body of sinne might vtterly be destroyed, that henceforth we shoulde not serue sinne.

7 Foꝛ he that is dead, is iustified from sinne.

8 And if we be dead with Chꝛiste, we beleeue that we shal also lyue with him:

9 Knowing that Chꝛiste being rayſed from the dead, dyeth no moꝛe, death hath no moꝛe power ouer him.

10 Foꝛ as touching that he dyed, he dyed concerning sinne once: And as touchyng that he lyueth, he lyueth vnto God.

11 Likewise recken your selues to be dead vnto sinne: but alyue vnto God, thorowe Jesus Chꝛiste our Lorde.

12 Let not sinne raigne therefoꝛe in your moꝛtal body, that ye shoulde thereunto obey by the lustes of it.

13 Neyther geue ye your members "as instrumentes of vnrighteousnesse vnto sinne: but geue your selues vnto God, as they that are alyue from the dead, and your members "as instrumentes of righteousnesse vnto God.

"oꝛ, vveapons.

"oꝛ, vveapons.

14 Foꝛ synne shal not haue power ouer you, because ye are not vnder the c lawe, but vnder grace.

15 What then? Shal we sinne, because we are not vnder the lawe, but vnder grace? God forbyd.

16 ‖Knowe ye not how that to whom so euer ye commit your selues as seruantes to obey, his seruantes ye are to whom ye obey: whether it be of sinne vnto death, oꝛ of obedience vnto rygh teousnesse?

17 But God be thanked, that ye were the seruantes of sinne: but ye haue obeyed with hart the fourme of doctrine, into the which ye were brought vnto.

18 Being then made free from sinne, ye are become the seruantes of rygh teousnesse.

19 I speake after d the maner of men, because of the infirmitie of your flesshe. Foꝛ as ye haue geuen your members seruantes to vncleanesse and iniquitie, vnto iniquitie: euen so nowe geue your members seruantes to rygh teousnesse, vnto holynesse.

20 Foꝛ when ye were the seruantes of sinne, ye were free from rygh teousnesse.

c. That is, vnder the curse of the lawe, whose office is to accuse and condemne: bnt vnder grace, whereby we haue forgeuenesse of our sinnes, and are sanctified by the holy ghost into the newenesse of lyfe.

‖Joh. 8. 34.

d. Men vse to speake gently to their frendes, and not to exact so much as they might, but so farre foorth as reason requyreth.

21 What fruite had ye then in those thinges, whereof ye are nowe ashamed? For the ende of those thinges, is death.

22 But nowe ye being made free from sinne, and made the seruantes of God, haue your fruite vnto holinesse, and the end euerlasting lyfe.

23 For the rewarde of sinne is death: but the gyft of God is eternal lyfe, through Iesus Christe our Lorde.

¶ The. vii. Chapter.

The fight betweene the lawe of the flesshe, and the lawe of the spirite.

a. Before the comming of Christe, al men were married and bounde to the lawe, which dyd then none other seruice but disclosed their sinne and wyckednesse, forcyng them to seeke helpe for theyr sinne els where. Nowe then the lawe beyng abolished for her imperfection, and they clensed through Gods grace, are spoused vnto Christe theyr newe husband, hym to serue in newenesse of lyfe.

KNowe ye not brethren (for I speake to them that knowe the a lawe) howe that the lawe hath power ouer a man, as long as he lyueth?

2 For the woman whiche hath an husband, is bound by the law to her husband, as long as he lyueth: but if ỳ husband be dead, she is loosed from the lawe of her husbande.

3 So then if while her husband lyueth, she couple her selfe with another man, she shalbe "counted a wedlocke breaker: but if her husbande be dead, she is free from the lawe, so that she is no wedlocke breaker, though she couple her selfe with another man.

" Or, called.

b. Because the body of Christe is made an offering and a sacrifice for our sinnes, whereby God is pleased, and his wrath appeased: and for Christes sake the holy ghost is geuen to al beleeuers, whereby the power of sinne is in vs dayly weakened: we are counted dead to the lawe, for that the lawe hath no dominion ouer vs.

4 Euen so, ye also my brethren, are dead concerning the lawe by the b body of Christ, that ye shoulde be coupled to another, who is rayled from the dead, that we shoulde bryng foorth fruite vnto God.

5 For when we were in the flesshe, the lustes of sinne whiche were by the lawe wrought in our members, to bring foorth fruite vnto death.

6 But nowe are we deliuered from the lawe, & dead vnto it wherevnto we were in bondage, that we should serue in newenesse of spirite, and not in the oldenesse of the letter.

7 What shal we say then? Is the lawe sinne? God forbyd. Neuertheless I knewe not sinne, but by the lawe: For I had not knowen lust, except the lawe had sayd, Thou shalt not lust.

8 But sinne taking occasion by the commaundement, wrought in me all maner of concupiscence. For without the lawe sinne was dead.

9 I once lyued without lawe: but when the commaundement came, sinne reuiued,

10 And I was dead: and the very same commaundement which was ordeyned vnto lyfe, was founde to be vnto me an occasion of death.

11 For sinne taking occasion by the commaundement, hath deceyued me, and by the same slue me.

12 Wherefore the lawe is holy, and the commaundement holy, and iust, and good.

13 Was that then whiche was good, made death vnto me? God forbid. But sinne, that sinne might appeare, by that which was good to worke death in me: that sinne by the commaundement might be out of measure sinful.

14 For we knowe that the lawe is spiritual: but I am carnal, solde vnder c sinne.

c. Lyke as bond men are violétly thrust hurled and tossed moyled. as it pleaseth their cruel maisters. So are we thorowe heapes of sinnes drawen to many euyl dooyngs, which we doo neyther like nor allow 15 For that which I doo, I alowe not: for what I woulde, that doo I not: but what I hate, that doo I.

16 If I doo nowe that which I woulde not, I consent vnto the lawe that it is good.

17 Nowe then, it is not I that doo it: but sinne that dwelleth in me.

18 For I knowe, that in me (that is to say in my flesshe) dwelleth no good thyng. For to wyl, is present with me: but I finde no meanes to perfourme that which is good.

19 For the good that I would, doo I not: but the euyl which I would not, that doo I.

20 And if I doo that I would not, then is it not I any longer that doeth it, but sinne that dwelleth in me.

d. It is called the body of sinne, for that it is an whole lumpe of sinne, roting and tormenting the whole man and plucking hym from God wherby plagues and miseries are heaped on and man lyueth as he were in the middest of death.

21 I finde then by the lawe, that when I woulde doo good, euyl is present with me.

22 For I delite in the lawe of God, after the inwarde man.

23 But I see another lawe in my members, rebelling against the lawe of my mind, and subduing me vnto the lawe of sinne, which is in my members.

24 O wretched man that I am: who shal deliuer me from the d body of this death?

25 I thanke God through Iesus Christ our Lorde. So then, with the minde I my selfe serue the lawe of GOD: but with the flesshe, the lawe of sinne.

¶ The. viii. Chapter.

1. The assurance of the faythful. 6. The fruites of the holy ghost.

a. The lawe of the spirite and the lawe of sinne, is here taken improperly for the power and strength of the lawe and of sinne: and it is called the spirite of lyfe, bicause it quickeneth and geueth lyfe.

THere is then no damnation to them which are in Christe Iesu, which walke not after the flesshe, but after the spirite.

2 For the lawe of the a spirite of lyfe, through Iesus Christe, hath made me free from the lawe of sinne and death.

3 For what the lawe coulde not doo, in as much as it was weake through the flesshe, God hauing sent his owne sonne, in the similitude of sinful flesshe, euen by sinne, b condemned sinne in the flesshe:

b. God thorowe the sacrifice of his sonne, vvhiche Christ his onely sonne offered vpon the crosse in his flesshe, hath condemned & abolished sinne vvhich raigned in our mortal flesshe.

4 That

4 That the righteousnesse of the lawe myght be fulfylled in vs, whiche walke not after the flesshe, but after the spirite.

5 For they that are carnal, are c carnally mynded: but they that are spirituall, are spiritually mynded.

6 To be carnally minded, is death: but to be spiritually mynded, is lyfe and peace:

7 Because that the fleshly minde is enmitie agaynst God: for it is not obedient to the Lawe of God, neyther can be.

8 So then, they that are in the flesh, can not please God.

9 But ye are not in the flesshe, but in the spirite, yf so be that the spirite of God dwell in you. Yf any man haue not the spirite of Christe, the same is none of his.

10 And if Christe be in you, the body is dead because of d sinne: but the spirite is lyfe for ryghteousnesse sake.

11 But yf the spirite of hym that rayled vp Iesus from the dead, dwell in you: euen he that rayled vp Christ from the dead, shal also quicken your mortal bodyes, because that his spirite dwelleth in you.

12 Therefore brethren, we are detters, not to the flesshe, to lyue after the flesshe.

13 For yf ye liue after the flesshe, ye shall dye: but yf ye through the spirite, doo mortifie the deedes of the body, ye shall lyue.

14 For as many as are led by the spirite of God, they are the sonnes God.

15 For ye haue not receyued the spirit of bondage agayne to feare: but ye haue receiued the spirite of adoption, whereby we crye, Abba, father.

16 The spirite it selfe beareth witnesse to our spirite, that we are the sonnes of God.

16 Yf we be sonnes, then are we also heyres, the heyres of GOD, and ioynt heyres with Christ: so that we suffer togeather, that we may be also glorifyed togeather.

18 For I am certaynely e perswaded, that the afflictions of this tyme, are not worthy of the glory whiche shalbe shewed vpon vs.

19 For the earnest expectation of the creature abydeth, lokyng when the sonnes of God shal appeare:

20 Because the f creature is subiect to vanitie, not wyllyng, but for hym which hath subdued the same in hope.

21 For the creature it selfe shalbe made free from the bondage of corruption, into the glorious libertie of the sonnes of God.

22 For we knowe that euery creature groneth with vs also, & trauayleth in payne with vs, euen vnto this tyme.

23 Not onely they, but we also whiche haue the first fruites of the spirit, and we our selues mourne in our selues, waytyng for the adoption, euen the deliuerance of our body.

24 For we are saued by hope: But hope that is seene, is no hope. For howe can a man hope for that whiche he seeth?

25 But and yf we hope for that we see not, then do we with patience abyde for it.

26 Lykewyse, the spirite also helpeth our infirmities. For we knowe not what to desyre as we ought: but the spirit it selfe maketh great g intercession for vs, with grones, whiche can not be expressed.

27 And he that searcheth the hartes, knoweth what is the meanyng of the spirite: for he maketh intercession for the saintes, according to the pleasure of God.

28 For we know that all thinges worke for the best, vnto them that loue God, to them whiche also are called of purpose.

29 For those whiche he knewe before, he also dyd predestinate, that they should be lyke fashioned vnto the shape of his sonne, that he might be the fyrst begotten among many brethren.

30 Moreouer, whom he did predestinate, them also he called: and whom he called, them also he iustified: and whom he iustified, them also he glorified.

31 What shal we then say to these thinges? Yf God be on our side, who can be agaynst vs?

32 Whiche spared not his owne sonne, but gaue hym for vs all: howe shall he not with him also geue vs all thynges?

33 Who shal lay any thing to the charge of Gods chosen? It is God that iustifieth:

34 Who is he that condemneth? It is Christe whiche dyed, yea rather whiche is rayled agayne, whiche is also on the ryght hande of God, and maketh intercession for vs.

35 Who shall separate vs from the loue of Christe? Shal tribulation, or anguishe, or persecution, eyther hunger, either nakednesse, eyther perill, eyther sworde?

36 (As it is written, || For thy sake are we killed all day long, and are counted as sheepe for the slaughter.) || Psal. 43. 23.

37 Neuertheless, in all these thynges we ouercome, through hym that loued vs.

38 For I am sure, that neyther death, neyther lyfe, neyther angels, nor rule, neyther power, neyther things present, neither things to come,

39 Neyther heygth, nor deapth, neyther any other creature, shalbe able to separate vs from the loue of GOD, which is in Christe Iesu our Lorde.

g. The right fourme & affection of prayer, commeth by the holy ghost, who maketh intercession for vs, not that he prayeth and mourneth: but that he so stirreth our harts, that we lift the vp to heauen earnestly and fernestly, which is the true prayer.

¶ The

The.ix. Chapter.

Paul declareth his feruent loue towarde his nation.

||1.Cor.15.7. I Say the trueth in Christe, I lye not (my conscience also bearyng me witnesse by the holy ghost)

2 That I haue great heauynesse, and continuall sorowe in my hart.

3 For I haue wished mee selfe to be cursed from a Christe, for my brethren, my kinsmen as partayneth to the flesshe,

a. He saw the losse & destructiō of his whole nation, fallyng so far frō Gods true religiō, he cōsydered how sore god should be dishonored, whē his woonderful benefites & blessings, bestowed vpō his people, shoulde take none effect, but vtterly be defaced, which so mightylye mooued him, that he wished rather to be cut of from Christe, then those thynges should come to passe.

4 Whiche are the Israelites: to whom partayneth the adoption, and the glory, and the couenauntes, and the lawe that was geuen, and the seruice of GOD, and the promises:

5 Of whom are the fathers, and of whom as concernyng the flesshe Christe came which is God, in all thinges to be praysed for euer, Amen.

6 And it can not be, that the woorde of God hath taken none effect. For they are not al Israelites, whiche are of Israel:

7 Neyther are they al children, that are the seede of Abraham: but in Isahac shal thy seede be called.

8 That is to say, They whiche are the children of the flesh, these are not the children of God: but they whiche be the children of promise, are counted the seede.

9 For this is the woorde of promise, ||About this tyme wyll I come, and Sara shall haue a sonne.

||Gen.18.10.

||Gen.25.21.

10 Not onely this, but also ||Rebecca was with childe by one, euen by our father Isahac.

11 For yer the children were borne, when they had neyther doone good, neyther badde, (that the purpose of GOD by b election myght stande: not by the reason of woorkes, but by the caller)

b. The wyl & purpose of god, is the cause of the election & reprobatiō. For his mercye and calling through Christe, are the meanes of saluation, and the withdrawing of his mercye, is the cause of dānation.

12 It was sayd vnto her, The elder shal serue the younger.

13 As it is written, Iacob haue I loued, but Esau haue I hated.

14 What shall we say then? is there any vnryghteousnesse with GOD? God forbyd.

15 For he sayth to Moses, I wyl shewe mercy, to whom so euer I shewe mercy: and wyll haue compassion, on whom so euer I haue compassion.

16 So then election is not of the wyller, nor of the runner: but of GOD that taketh mercy.

17 For the scripture sayth vnto Pharao, || Euen for this same purpose haue I stirred thee vp, that I myght shew my power in thee, and that my name myght be declared throughout all the worlde.

||Exod.9.16.

18 So hath he mercy on whom he wyl, and whom he wyll he hardeneth.

19 Thou wylt say then vnto me, Why then blameth he vs yet? For who hath resisted his wyll?

20 But O man, what art thou whiche disputest with God? || Shall the woorke say to the woorkeman, Why hast thou made me on this fashion?

||Esai.45.9.

21 || Hath not the Potter power ouer the clay, euen of the same lumpe to make one vessel vnto honour, & another vnto dishonour?

||Wisd.15.7. Iere.18.6.

22 What if God, wyllyng to shewe his wrath, and to make his power knowen, suffered with long patience the vesselles of wrath ordeyned to destruction:

23 To declare the riches of his glorie on the vessels of mercy, whiche he had prepared vnto glory?

24 Whom also he called, I meane vs, not of the Iewes onely, but also of the Gentiles.

25 As he sayth also in Osee, || I wyll call them my people, whiche were not my people: and her beloued, whiche was not beloued.

||Osee.2.25. 1.Pet.2.10.

26 || And it shall come to passe, that in the place where it was sayde vnto them, Ye are not my people: there shall they be called the children of the lyuyng God.

||Osee.1.10.

27 And Esaias cryeth concernyng Israel, || Though the number of the children of Israel be as the sande of the sea, yet but a remnant shalbe saued.

||Esai.10.22.

28 For he finisheth the c woorde, and maketh it short in ryghteousnesse: for a short woorde wyll the Lorde make on earth.

29 And as Esaias sayd before, Except the Lord of Sabaoth had left vs a seede, we had been made as Sodoma, and had been lykened to Gomorrha.

30 What shall we say then? That the Gentiles which followed not ryghteousnesse, haue obteyned ryghteousnesse: euen the righteousnesse which commeth of fayth:

31 But Israel which followed the lawe of ryghteousnesse, hath not atteyned to the lawe of ryghteousnesse.

32 Wherefore? Because they sought it not by fayth, but as it were by the woorkes of the lawe: For they haue stumbled at the stumblyng stone, 33 As it is written, Beholde, I put in e Sion a stumbling stone, and a rocke of offence: and who so euer beleeueth on hym, shal not be confounded.

¶ The. x. Chapter.

BRethren, my hartes desyre and prayer to God for Israel is, that they might be saued.

2 For I beare them recorde, that they haue a a zeale of God: but not according to knowledge.

3 For they being ignorant of Gods ryghteousnesse, and goeing about to stablishe their b owne ryghteousnesse, haue not ben obedient vnto the ryghteousnesse of God.

4 For Christe is the ende of the lawe, c for ryghteousnesse to all that beleeue.

5 For Moses writeth of the righteousnesse which is of the lawe, howe that the man which doeth those things, shal lyue by them.

6 But the ryghteousnesse whiche is of fayth, speaketh on this wyse: Say not thou in thine hart, Who shal ascende into d heauen? That is, to fetch Christ downe from aboue.

7 Eyther who shall descende into the deepe? That is, to fetche vp Christe agayne from the dead.

8 But what sayth he, The woorde is nygh thee, euen in thy mouth, and in thy hart. This same is the woorde of fayth, whiche we preache.

9 For if thou shalt knowledge with thy mouth the Lorde Iesus, and shalt beleeue in thine hart that GOD rayled hym from the dead, thou shalt be saued.

10 For with the hart man beleeueth vnto ryghteousnesse, and with the mouth confession is made vnto saluation.

11 For the scripture sayth, Whosoeuer beleeueth on him, shal not be confounded.

12 There is no difference betweene the Iewe and the Greeke: for the same Lorde ouer al, is riche vnto all that call vpon him.

13 For who so euer shal cal on the name of the Lorde, shalbe saued.

14 Howe then shal they cal on hym, on whom they haue not beleeued? Howe shall they beleeue on him, of whom they haue not heard? Howe shall they heare without a preacher?

15 And howe shal they preache, except they be sent? As it is written, Howe beautiful are the feete of them which bring good tidinges of peace, and bring good tydinges of good thinges?

16 But they haue not all obeyed the Gospel: for Esaias sayth, Lorde, who hath beleeued our sayinges?

17 So then fayth commeth by hearing, and hearing commeth by the woorde of God.

18 But (I aske) haue they not heard? No doubt, their sounde went out into all landes, and their woordes into the endes of the worlde.

19 But I demaunde whether Israel dyd knowe, or not? First Moses sayth, ||I wyll prouoke you to enuie by them that are no people, and by a foolishe nation I wyl anger you. ||Deut.32.21

20 And Esaias is bolde, and sayth, ||I haue ben founde of them that sought me not: I haue ben made manifest vnto them that asked not after me. ||Esai.65.1.

21 But agaynst Israel he sayth, ||All day long haue I stretched out my handes vnto a people that beleeueth not, but speaketh agaynst me. ||Esai.65.12.

¶ The xi. Chapter.

29. GOD repenteth hym not of his gyftes.

33. The depth of Gods iudgementes.

ISay then, hath God cast away his people? God forbid. For I also am an Israelite, of the seede of Abraham, of the tribe of Beniamin.

2 God hath not cast away his people whiche he knewe before. Wote ye not what the scripture sayth of Elias? howe he maketh intercession to God agaynst Israel,

3 ||Saying, Lorde, they haue kylled thy prophetes, and dygged downe thine a aulters: and I am lefte alone, and they seeke my lyfe. ||1.kin.19.10

4 But what sayth the answeare of God vnto hym? I haue reserued vnto mee selfe seuen thousande men, which haue not bowed the knee to the image of Baal.

5 Euen so at this time there is a remnant, according to the election of grace.

6 If it be of grace, then is it not nowe of workes: for then grace is no more grace. But if it be of workes, then is it nowe no grace, for then worke is no more worke.

7 What then? Israel hath not obteyned that whiche he seeketh for, but the election hath obteyned it, the remnant hath ben *blynded.

8 (According as it is written, || God hath geuen them the spirite of b remorse: eyes, that they shoulde not see, and eares, that they shoulde not heare) euen vnto this day. ||Esai.29.10. Math.13.14.

9 And Dauid sayth, Let their table be made a snare, and a trap, and a stumbling stocke, and a recompence vnto them.

10 Let their eyes be *blynded, that they see not, and bowe thou downe their backe alway.

11 I say then, Haue they therfore stumbled, that they shoulde fal? God forbid: but through their fal, saluation is come vnto the c Gentiles, for to prouoke them withal.

12 Nowe if the fall of them, be the riches of the worlde, and the minishing of them, the riches of the Gentiles: How much more more their fulnesse?

13 For I speake to you gentiles, in as much as I am the Apostle of the gentiles, I magnifie mine office, 14 If by any meane I may prouoke them which are my flesshe, and might saue some of them.

15 For if the casting away of them, be the reconciling of the worlde, what shal the receyuing of them be, but life from the dead?

16 For if the first fruites be holy, the whole lumpe also is holy. And if the roote be holy, the branches also.

17 And if some of the branches be broken d of, and thou being a wylde Olyue tree, wast graft in among them, and made partaker of the roote & fatnesse of the Olyue tree:

18 Boast not thee selfe against the branches. For if thou boast thee selfe, thou bearest not the roote, but the roote thee.

19 Thou wylt say then, The branches are broken of, that I might be graft in.

20 Wel: because of vnbeleefe they were broken of, and thou stoodest stedfast in fayth. Be not high minded, but feare.

21 For seeing that God spared not the natural branches, take heede lest it come to passe, that he spare not thee.

22 Beholde therefore the kindnesse and rigorousnesse of God: on them which fel, rigorousnesse: but towardes thee, kyndnesse, if thou continue in kyndnesse: or els thou also shalt be hewen of.

23 And they, if they bide not styl in vnbeleefe, shalbe grafted in: for God is of power to graffe them in agayne.

24 For if thou were cut out of a natural wylde Olyue tree, and were grafted, contrarie to nature, in a true Olyue tree: howe much more shal these whiche be the natural branches, be graffed in their owne Olyue tree?

25 For I woulde not, brethren, that ye shoulde be ignorant of this mysterie (lest ye shoulde be wyse in your owne conceytes) that partly [a] blyndnesse is happened in Israel, vntyl the fulnesse of the gentiles be come in.

26 And so al Israel shalbe saued, as it is wrytten: ‖ There shal come out of Sion he that doeth deliuer, and shall turne away vngodlinesse from Jacob.

27 And this is my couenant vnto them ‖ when I shal take away their sinnes.

28 As concerning the Gospel, they are enimies for your sakes: but as touching the election, they are loued for the fathers sakes.

29 For the free gyftes and callyng of God, are without repentance.

30 For as ye in tyme past haue not beleeued God, yet haue ye nowe obteyned mercie through their vnbeleefe:

31 Euen so nowe haue they not [a] beleeued the mercie shewed vnto you, that they also may obteyne mercie.

32 For God hath shut vp all nations in vnbeleefe, that he might haue mercie on al.

33 O the deepenesse of the riches both of the wisedome and knowledge of GOD: howe vnsearchable are his iudgementes, and his wayes past finding out?

34 For ‖ who hath knowen the minde of the Lorde? Or who hath ben his counseller?

35 Eyther who hath geuen vnto hym first, e and he shalbe recompenced agayne?

36 For of him, and through him, and for him, are al thinges: to whom be glory for euer. Amen.

d. These broken branches, were the vnbeleeuing Iewes, which for theyr vnbeleefe, were cut of from the promise of god, in whose steede was the wylde Olyue, that is, the Gentiles, grafted thorow fayth.

How we euery man shoulde walke in his seueral callyng.

I Beseeche you therefore brethren, by the mercifulnesse of God, that ye [a] geue vp your bodies a quicke a sacrifice, holy, acceptable vnto God, which is your reasonable seruice.

2 And be not ye fashioned lyke vnto this b worlde: but be ye changed in your shape, by the renuing of your mynde, that ye may proue what is the good, and acceptable, and perfect wyl of God.

3 For I say, through the grace geuen vnto me, to euery man that is among you, that no man esteeme of him selfe more then he ought to esteeme: but so esteeme hym selfe that he behaue him selfe discretely, accordyng as GOD hath dealt to euery man the measure of fayth.

The Epistle on the fourde sunday in Aduent.

LEt a man so esteeme of vs as the ministers of Chzistе, and dispolers of the secretes of God.

2 Furthermoze, it is requyzed in the dispolers, that a man be founde faythful.

3 With me it is but a very small thyng that I shoulde be iudged of you, eyther of mans iudgement: yea, I iudge not a myne owne selfe.

a. Whether haue great gyftes or litle fewe or many.

4 Foz I knowe nothing by mee selfe, yet am I not therby iustified: but he that iudgeth me, is the Lozde.

5 || Therefoze iudge nothing befoze the tyme, vntyl the Lozde come, who wyl lighten the hidden thinges of darkenesse, and open the counsels of the hartes: and then shall euery man haue pzayse of God.

|| Math. 7. 1. Rom. 2. 1.

6 And these thinges bzethzen, I haue figuratiuely applied vnto mee selfe and to Apollos, foz your sakes: that ye might learne by vs, not to be wyse aboue that whiche is wzitten, that you swel not one agaynst another foz any mans cause.

7 Foz who b separateth thee? And what hast thou that thou hast not receiued? If thou hast receiued it, why doest thou glozy as though thou haddest not receiued it?

b. To wit, from other men, and preferreth them.

8 Nowe ye are ful, nowe ye are ryche, ye haue raigned as kynges without vs, and I woulde to GOD ye did raigne, that we also might raigne with you.

9 Foz me thynketh that GOD hath set foozth vs whiche are the last apostles, as it were men appoynted to death. Foz we are made a gasing stocke vnto the wozlde, and to angels, and to men.

10 We are c fooles foz Chzistes sake, but ye are wyse in Chziste. We are weake, but ye are strong: Ye are honourable, but we are dispised.

c. By this bitter tauntyng & abiecting hym selfe, and exalting the Corinthians, he maketh them ashamed of their vayne glorie.

11 Euen vnto this * tyme we both hunger and thirste, and are naked, and are buffeted, and haue no certayne dwellyng place,

* Or, houre.

12 || And labour, woozkyng with our owne handes: being reuiled, we blesse: being persecuted, we suffer it:

|| Actes. 20. 34. 1. Thess. 2. 9. 2. Thess. 3. 8.

13 || Being defamed, we pzay: we are made as the fylthynesse of the wozlde, and are the offcourynge of all thinges vnto this day.

|| Mat. 5. 44.

14 I wzyte not these thinges to shame you, but as my beloued sonnes I warne you.

15 Foz though ye haue ten thousand instructours in Chzistе, yet haue ye not many fathers: Foz in Chzist Jesus I haue begotten you thzough the Gospel.

16 Wherfoze I desyze you, be ye folowers of me.

17 Foz this cause haue I sent vnto you Timotheus, whiche is my beloued sonne, and faythfull in the Lozde, who shall put you in remembzance of my wayes whiche be in Chzistе, as I teache euery where in al Churches.

18 Some are swollen, as though I woulde come no more at you:
19 ||But I wil come to you shortly||if the Lorde wil, and wil knowe, not the wordes of them which are swollen, but the power.
20 For the kingdome of God is not in worde, but in d power.
21 What wyll ye? Shall I come vnto you with a rodde, or in loue, and in the spirite of meekenesse?

¶ The.v.Chapter.

1. He reproueth sharply their negligence in punishing him that had committed incest, 3. wylling them to excommunicate hym, 7. to imbrace puritie, 9. and flee vvickedneſſe.

THere goeth a common saying, that there is fornication among you, and suche fornication as is not named among the a Gentiles: that one shoulde haue his fathers wyfe.
2 And ye are puffed vp, and haue not rather sorowed, that he that hath doone this deede, might be taken away frō among you.
3 || For I verely, as absent in body, but present in spirite, haue determined alredy, as though I were present, that he that hath so doone this deede,
4 In the name of our lord Iesus Christ, you being gathered togeather, and my spi-rite with you, with the power of the Lord Jesus Christe,
5 || To deliuer suche a one vnto Satan for the destruction of the flesh, that the spi-rite may be saued in the day of the Lorde Iesus.
6 Your glorying is not b good. || Know ye not that a little leauen leaueneth the whole lumpe?
7 Purge out therefore the olde leauen, that ye may be a newe lumpe, as ye are vnleauened. For euen Christe our Passeouer is " offered vp for vs.
8 Therefore let vs keepe holy day, not with olde leauen, neither with the leauen of malitiousnesse & wickednesse: but with the vnleauened bread of purenesse and trueth.
9 I wrote vnto you in an Epistle, that ye should not companie with fornicatours.
10 I dyd not meane not at al with the fornicatours of this worlde, or with the cou-etous, or extortioners, or with idolaters: for then must ye needes haue gone out of the worlde.
11 But nowe this I write vnto you, not to companie togeather, yf any that is called a brother be a fornicatour, or couetous, or a worshipper of idols, or a rayler, or a drun-karde, or an extortioner: with him that is suche, not to eate.
12 For what haue I to doo to iudge the that are without? doo not ye iudge them that are within?
13 Them that are without, God shall iudge. And ye shall put away from among you that wicked person.

¶ The.vi. Chapter.

7. Christians ought rather to suffer. 12. He reproueth the abusing of christian libertie. 15. and sheweth that vve ought to serue God purely, both in body and soule.

DAre any of you, hauing businesse " with another, be iudged vnder the a vniust, and not rather vnder the saintes?
2 Doo ye not knowe that the saintes shal iudge the world? If the world shalbe iudged by you, are ye vnworthy to iudge the smallest matters?
3 Know ye not how that we shal iudge the angels? Howe muche more, thynges that pertayne to this lyfe?
4 If then ye haue iudgement of thinges pertayning to this lyfe, set vp them to iudge which are least esteemed in the Churche.
5 I speake it to your shame. Is it so that there is not a wyse man among you? no not one that shalbe able to iudge betweene his brethren?
6 But brother goeth to lawe with brother, and that vnder the vnbeleeuers?
7 Nowe therefore, there is vtterly a " fault among you, because ye goe to lawe
one with another: || Why rather suffer ye not wrong? why rather suffer ye not harme?
8 Nay, || ye your selues doo wrong, and doo harme, and that to your brethren.
9 Know ye not that the vnrighteous shal not inherite the kingdome of God? Be not deceiued: neither fornicatours, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor effeminate, nor abusers of them selues with mankinde,
10 Nor theeues, nor couetous, nor drunkardes, nor reuilers, nor " pillers, shall inherite the kingdome of God.
11 || And some such like you were: but ye are washed, but ye are sanctified, but ye are iustified in the name of the Lorde Iesus, and by the spirite of our God.
12 All thinges are lawfull vnto me, but all thinges are not profitable: al thinges are lawfull for me, but I wyll not be brought vnder the b power of any.
13 Meates for the belly, & the belly for meates: but god shal destroy both it & them.
Nowe the body is not for c fornication, but for the Lorde: and the Lorde for the body.
14 And God both hath rayſed vp the lord, || and also shal rayse vs vp by his power.
15 Know ye not that your bodyes are the members of Chriſte? Shall I then take the members of Chriſte, and make them the members of an harlot? God forbid.

16 What, knowe ye not that he whiche is coupled with an harlot, is one body*? ||For two (ſaith he) ſhalbe one fleſhe.

17 But he that is coupled vnto the lord, is one ſpirite.

18 Flee fornication: Euery ſinne that a man dooth, is without the body: but he that committeth fornication, ſinneth againſt his owne body.

19 What, ||knowe ye not that your body is the temple of the holy ghoſt whiche is in you, whom ye haue of God, and ye are not d your owne?

20 || For ye are bought with a price: therefore glorifye God in your body, and in your ſpirite, whiche are goddes.

¶ The. vii. Chapter.

The Apoſtle anſwereth to certayne queſtions whiche the Corinthians deſyred to knowe.

NOwe as concernyng the thinges wherof ye wrote vnto me: It is a good for a man not to touche a woman.

2 Neuertheleſſe, to auoyde fornication, let euery man haue his owne wyfe, and let euery woman haue her owne husband.

3 || Let the husband geue vnto the wyfe due benevolence: Likewyſe alſo the wyfe vnto the husband.

4 The wyfe hath not the power of her owne body, but the husband: And likewyſe alſo the husbande hath not the power of his owne body, but the wyfe.

5 Defraude you not the one the other, except it be with both your conſentes for a time, that ye may geue your ſelues to faſting and prayer: and afterwarde come togeather againe, that Satan tempt you not for your incontinencie.

6 This I ſay * of fauour, and b not of commaundement.

7 For I would that all men were euen as I mee ſelfe: but euery man hath his proper gift of God, one after this maner, another after that.

8 I ſay therefore to the vnmaried and widdowes, it is good for them yf they abide euen as I:

9 But yf they can not abſteyne, let them marrie: for it is better to marrie then to burne.

10 ¶ Vnto the married commaunde, not I, but the Lorde, || Let not the wyfe depart from her husband:

11 But and yf ſhe depart, let her remaine vnmaried, or be reconciled to her husbande agayne: And let not the husband put away his wyfe.

12 But to the remnant ſpeake I, not the Lorde, If any brother haue a wyfe that beleeueth not, and ſhe conſent to dwell with him, let him not put her away.

13 And the woman whiche hath to her husbande an infidell, and he conſent to dwell with her, let her not put him away.

14 For the vnbeleeuing husbande is ſanctified by the wyfe, and the vnbeleeuing wyfe is ſanctified by the husbande: els were your children vncleane, but nowe are they c holy.

15 But yf the vnbeleeuing depart, let him depart. A brother or a ſiſter is not made ſubiect in ſuche thinges: but God hath called vs in peace.

16 For howe knoweſt thou, O woman, whether thou ſhalt ſaue thy husband? or how knoweſt thou, O man, whether thou ſhalt ſaue thy wyfe?

17 But as God hath diſtributed to euery man, as the Lorde hath called euery one, ſo let him walke, and ſo ordeyne I in all Churches.

18 Is any man called being circumciſed? let him not adde vncircumciſion: Is any called in vncircumciſion, let him not be circumciſed.

19 ¶ Circumciſion is nothing, and vncircumciſion is nothing, but the keeping of the commaundementes of God.

20 || Let euery man abide in the ſame calling wherein he was called.

21 Art thou called a ſeruant? care not for it: neuertheleſſe, yf thou maieſt be made free, vſe it rather.

22 For he that is called in the Lorde being a ſeruant, is the Lordes free man: likewyſe alſo he that is called beyng free, is chriſtes ſeruant.

23 || Ye are bought with a price, be not ye the ſeruantes of men.

24 Brethren, let euery man wherein he is called, therein abide d with God.

25 Nowe concernyng virgins, I haue no commaundement of the Lorde: yet geue I counſel, as one that hath obteyned mercie of the Lorde to be faythfull.

26 I ſuppoſe therefore that it is good for the preſent neceſſitie, that I ſay it is good for a man ſo to be.

27 Art thou bound vnto a wyfe? ſeeke not to be looſed. Art thou looſed from a wyfe? ſeeke not a wyfe.

28 But & yf thou marry, thou haſt not ſinned, & yf a virgin marry, ſhe hath not ſinned: neuertheleſſe, ſuch ſhal haue trouble in the the fleshe: but [a] I beare with you.

29 But this say I brethren, because the tyme is short: it remayneth that they also whiche haue wyues, be as though they had none:

30 And they that weepe, as though they wept not: and they that reioyce, as though they reioyced not: & they that bye, as though they possessed not:

31 And they that vse this worlde, as not abusing it: for the fashion of this worlde goeth away.

32 I would haue you without care. He that is vnmarried, careth for the thinges that belong to the Lorde, howe he may please the Lorde:

33 But he that hath married, careth for the thinges that are of the worlde, howe he may please his wyfe.

34 There is difference betweene a virgin and a wyfe: the vnmaried woman careth for the thinges that are of the Lord, that she may be holy both in body and in spirite: but she that is maried, careth for the thinges that pertayne to the worlde, howe she may please her husbande.

35 This speake I for your profite: not that I may cast a snare vppon you, but for comelynesse sake, and sitting fast vnto the Lorde without separation.

36 But if any man thinke that it is vncomely for his virgin if she passe the tyme of marryage, [c] and neede so requyre, let hym doo what he wyl, he sinneth not: let them be married.

37 Neuertheless, he that standeth stedfast in his hart, hauing no neede, but hath power ouer his owne wyl, and hath so decreed in his hart that he wyll keepe his virgin, doeth wel.

38 So then he that geueth in marryage doeth wel: but he that geueth not in marryage, doeth better.

39 ||The wyfe is bounde to the [b] lawe as long as her husbande liueth: but yf her husbande be dead, she is at libertie to be married to whom she wyl, onely in the Lorde.

40 But she is happier if she so abide, after my iudgement: ||and I thinke verely that I haue the spirite of God.

¶ The. viii. Chapter.

He rebuketh them that vse theyr libertie to the slander of other, in goyng to the idolatrous sacrifices.

AS touching thinges offered vnto idols, we knowe that we al haue knowledge. Knowledge maketh a man swel: but charitie edifieth.

2 If any man thinke that he knoweth any thyng, he knoweth nothyng yet as he ought to knowe.

3 But if any man loue God, the same is [a] knowen of hym.

4 As concerning therefore the eatyng of those thinges that are offered in sacrifice vnto idols, we knowe that an idoll is nothing in the worlde, and that there is none other God but one.

5 And though there be that are called gods, whether in heauen or in earth (as there be goddes many, and [a] lordes many:)

6 Yet vnto vs is there but one GOD, vvhiche is the father, of whom are al thinges, and we in him, ||and one Lord Jesus Christ, by whom are al thinges, and we by hym.

7 But there is not in euery man that knowledge: For some hauing conscience of the idol vnto this houre, eate as a thing offered vnto idols, and their conscience beyng weake, is defyled.

8 But meate doeth not commende to God: For neyther if we eate, haue we the more: neither if we eate not haue we the lesse.

9 But take heede lest by any meanes this libertie of yours become a stumbling to them that are weake.

10 For if any man see thee whiche hast knowledge, sit at meate in the idols temple: shall not the conscience of him whiche is weake, be [b] boldened to eate those thinges whiche are offered to idols, 11 And through thy knowledge shall the [c] weake brother perishe, for whom Christ dyed?

12 But when ye sinne so agaynst the brethren, and wound their weake conscience, ye sinne agaynst Christe.

13 Wherfore, ||if meate offende my brother, I wyl eate no flesshe whyle the worlde standeth, lest I shoulde offende my brother.

¶ The. ix. Chapter.

He exhorteth ther by his example to vse theyr libertie to the edification of others.

AM I not an apostle? am I not free? haue I not seene Jesus Christe our Lorde? Are not ye my worke in the Lorde?

2 If I be not an apostle vnto other, yet doubtlesse am I vnto you: for the [a] seale of mine apostleshyp are ye in the Lorde.

3 Myne answeare to them that aske me, is this,

4 Haue we not power to eate and to drynke?

a. I neede no further declaration, but the woorkes that I haue wrought among you.

5 Haue we not power to leade about a b sister a woman, aswel as other apostles, and as the brethren of the Lorde and Cephas?

6 Is the libertie of not labouring taken from me and Barnabas onely?

7 Who goeth a warfare any time at his owne cost? who planteth a vineyarde, and eateth not of the fruite thereof? or who feedeth a flocke, and eateth not of the mylke of the flocke?

8 Say I these thinges after the maner of men? or sayth not the lawe the same also?

9 For it is written in the lawe of Moses, Thou shalt not moosel the mouth of the oxe that treadeth out the corne. Doeth God take care for oxen?

10 Either sayth he it not altogeather for our sakes? For our sakes no doubt this is written: that he which eareth, shoulde eare in hope: and that he whiche threshеth in hope, shoulde be partaker of his hope.

11 If we haue sowen vnto you spiritual thinges, is it a great thing if we shall reape your carnal thinges?

12 If others be partaker of their power ouer you, wherefore are not we rather? Nerertheless, we haue not vsed this power: but suffer all thinges, lest we shoulde hinder the Gospel of Christe.

13 Doo ye not knowe that they whiche minister about holy thinges, eate of the thinges of the temple? and they which wayte at the aulter, are partakers with the aulter?

14 Euen so hath the Lorde ordeyned, that they which preache the Gospel, shoulde lyue of the Gospel.

15 But I haue vsed none of these thinges. Neuertheless, I wrote not these thynges, that it shoulde be so done vnto me: For it were better for me to dye, then that any man shoulde make my "reioycing vayne.

16 For if I preache the Gospel, I haue nothing to "reioyce of: for necessitie is layde vpon me. But woo is vnto me if I preache not the Gospel.

17 For if I doo this thing with a good wyl, I haue a reward: but if against my wyl, the c dispensation is committed vnto me.

18 What is my rewarde then? Verely that when I preach the Gospel, I may make the Gospel of Christe free, that I misuse not mine auctoritie in the Gospel.

19 For though I be free from all men, yet haue I made mee selfe seruant vnto all men, that I might winne the more.

20 Vnto the Iewes, I became as a Iewe, that I might winne the Iewes: to them that are vnder the lawe, as vnder the lawe, that I might winne them that are vnder the lawe:

21 To them that are without lawe, as without lawe (when I was not without lawe as pertayning to the law of God, but was in the lawe of Christ) that I might winne them that are without lawe.

22 To the weake became I as weake, that I might winne the weake: I am made al thinges to al men, that I might by all meanes saue some.

23 And this I doo for the Gospels sake, that I might be partaker thereof.

24 Knowe ye not, that they which runne in a race, runne al, but one receyueth the rewarde? So runne, that ye may obteyne.

25 Euery man that prooueth maisteries, abstayneth from al thinges: and they doo it to obteyne a corruptible crowne, but we to obteyne an incorruptible crowne.

26 I therefore so runne, not as at an vncertayne thing: so fight I, not as one that beateth the ayre:

27 But I tame my d body, and bryng it into subiection: lest by any meanes that when I haue preached to other, I mee selfe shoulde be a cast away.

¶ The. v. Chapter.

1. He soareth them vnto the examples of the Iewes, that they put not their trust carnally in the graces of God, 14. exhorteth them to flee al idolatrie, 23. and offence of their neighbour.

BRethren, I woulde not that ye should be ignorant, howe that all our fathers were vnder the cloude, and al passed through the sea:

2 And were al baptised "vnto Moses in the cloude, and in the sea:

3 And did al eate of the same a spiritual meate:

4 And did al drinke of the same spiritual drinke: (For they dranke of that spirituall rocke that followed them: and that rocke was b Christe.)

5 But in many of them had God no delyght: for they were ouerthrowen in the wyldernesse.

6 These thinges verely are our ensamples, that we shoulde not be lusters after euyl thinges, as they also lusted.

7 Neither be ye idolaters, as vvere some of them, as it is written, ||The people sate downe to eate & drynke, and rose vp to play.

8 Neither let vs commit fornication, as some of them committed "fornication, and fel in one day three and twentie thousande.

12 Wherefore, let hym that thinketh he standeth, take heede lest he fall.

13 There hath no temptation take you, but such as foloweth the nature of man: but God is faythfull, whiche shall not suffer you to be tempted aboue that you are able: but shall with the temptation make a way to escape, that ye may be able to beare it.

15 I speake as vnto them whiche haue discretion: iudge ye what I say.

16 The cuppe of blessyng whiche we blesse, is it not the partakyng of the blood of Christ? The breed which we breake, is it not the partaking of the body of Christe?

17 For we that are many, are one bread, and one body, in as much as we all are partakers of one bread.

18 Beholde Israel whiche is after the flesche: are not they whiche eate of the sacrifices, partakers of the aulter?

19 What say I then? that the idoll is any thyng? or that it whiche is offered in sacrifice to idols is any thyng?

20 But thus I say that the thinges which the Gentiles offer in sacrifice, they offer to deuyls, and not to GOD: And I woulde not that ye should haue d felowshyp with the deuylles.

31 ‖ Whether therfore ye eate or drinke, or whatsoeuer ye doo, doo all to the glory of God.

32 See that ye geue none offence, neyther to the Iewes, nor yet to the Grecians, neyther to the Churche of God.

33 Euen as I please all men in al thinges, not seekyng myne owne profite, but the profite of many, that they may be saued.

¶ The. xi. Chapter.

1. He rebuketh the abuses which were crept in to their Churche, 4. as touchyng prayer, or propheſyng, 18. and minisstryng the Lordes supper, 23. bringing them agayne to the first institution therof.

3 ‖ But I wyl that ye know, that Christ is the head of euery man: and the man is the womans head, and God is Christes head.

‖ Ephes. 5. 23

4 Euery man praying or prophesying, hauyng any thyng on his head, shameth his head.

5 But euery woma that prayeth or prophesieth bare headed, dishonesteth her head: for that is euen all one as yf she were shaue.

6 If the woman be not couered, let her also be shorne: yf it be a shame for a woman to be shorne, or shaue, let her be couered.

7 A man ought not to couer his head, ‖ for as much as he is the image and glory of God: but the woman is the glory of the man.

‖ Gen. 1. 26. Colos. 3. 10.

a. Something to couer her head in signe of subiection.

11 Neuertheles, neyther is the man without the woman, neyther the woman without the man, in the Lorde.

12 For as the woman is of the man, euē so is the man also by the woman, but al thinges of God.

13 Iudge in your selues, whether it be comely that a woman pray vnto GOD bare headed?

14 Doth not nature it selfe teach you, that it is a shame for a man, if he haue long heare?

15 But yf a woman haue long heare, it is a prayse for her: for her heare is geuen her for a couerynge.

16 Yf any man lust to stryue, we haue no such custome, neither the churches of god.

17 This I warne you of, and commend not, that ye come together for the better, but for the woorse.

The Epistle on Thursday next before Easter.

18 For fyrst of all, when ye come together in the church, I heare that there be dissentions among you, and I partly beleeue it.

19 For there must be also heresies amog you, that they whiche are "approoued among you, myght be knowen.

"or, tryed.

20 When ye come together therfore into one place, "you can not eate the Lordes supper:

"or, this is not to eate.

21 For euery one preuenteth other, in eating his owne supper: and one is hungrie, and another is dronken.

22 What, haue ye not houses to eate & to drynke in? Or despise ye the church of God, and shame them that haue not? What shal I say vnto you, shall I prayse you? in this I prayse you not.

23 That whiche I delinered vnto you, I receiued of the Lord, that the Lorde Jesus the same night in the whiche he was betrayed, tooke bread:

24 And when he had geuen thankes, he brake it, and sayd, || Take ye, eate ye, this is my body whiche is broken for you: this do ye in the remembrance of me.

||Mat. 26. 26
Mark. 14. 22
Luke. 22. 17.

25 After the same maner also he tooke the cuppe when he had supped, saying, This cuppe is the newe Testament in my blood: this do ye, as oft as ye drynke it, in remembrance of me.

26 For as often as ye eate this bread, and drynke this cup, ye doo shewe the Lordes death tyll he come.

27 Wherfore, who so euer shal eate this bread, and drynke this cuppe of the Lorde b vnwoorthyly, shalbe gyltie of the body and blood of the Lorde.

b. By perueryting the true & pure vse of the same.

28 || But let a man examine hym selfe, and so let hym eate of this bread, and drynke of this cuppe.

||2. Cor. 13. 1.

29 For he that eateth and drynketh vnwoorthyly, eateth and drynketh damnation vnto hym c self, makyng no difference of the Lordes body.

c. But as though these holy mysteries of the Lordes body and blood were common meates, so without reuerence he commeth vnto them.

30 For this cause many are weake and sicke among you, and many sleepe.

"or, punyshed.

31 For yf we woulde iudge our selues, we shoulde not be "iudged.

"or, punyshed,

32 But when we are "iudged, we are "chastened of the Lorde, that we shoulde not be damned with the worlde.

"or, instructed.

33 Wherefore my brethren, when ye come together to eate, tarry one for another.

34 Yf any man hunger, let hym eate at home, that ye come not together vnto condemnation. The rest wyl I set in order, when I come.

¶ The. xii. Chapter.

1. The diuersitie of the giftes of the holy ghost, ought to be vsed to the edifiyng of Christes Churche, 12. as the members of mans body serue to the vse one of another.

The Epistle on the fourth Sunday after Trinitie.

COncernyng spirituall giftes brethren, I woulde not haue you ignorant.

2 Ye know that ye were gentiles, caryed away vnto dumbe idolles, euen as ye were a led.

a. By Satans suggestion.

3 Wherefore I declare vnto you, that || no man speakyng by the spirite of GOD "defyeth Jesus: || also no man can say "that Jesus is the Lorde, but by the holy ghost.

||Mark. 9. 39
"or, calleth Iesus accursed.
||John. 13. 1
Philip. 2. 10
"Some read the Lord Iesus.

4 There are diuersities of gyftes, but it is the selfe same spirite.

5 And there are differences of administrations, but it is the selfe same Lorde.

6 And there are diuers maners of operations, but it is the selfe same GOD, whiche worketh al in all.

7 The manifestation of the spirite, is geuen to euery man to profite withall:

8 For to one is geuen by the spirite the woord of wysedome, to another the woorde of knowledge by the same spirite:

9 To another is geuen fayth by the same spirite, to another the gyft of healyng by the same spirite:

10 To another power to do miracles, to another b prophesie, to another discerning of spirites, to another diuers kindes of tongues, to another the interpretation of tongues.

b. Meaning the declaration of gods mysteries.

11 || But these all woorketh euen that one and the selfe same spirite, diuidyng to euery man seuerally euen as he wyll.

||Rom. 12. 3
Ephes. 4. 8.

12 For as the body is one, and hath many members, and al the members of that one body, beyng many, are one body: euen so is Christe also.

13 For by one spirite are we al baptised into one body, whether we be Jewes or Gentiles, whether we be bonde or free: and haue al dronke of one spirite.

14 For the body is not one member, but many.

15 Yf the foote doo say, Because I am not the hande, I am not of the body: is it therefore not of the body?

16 And yf the eare doo say, Because I am not the eye, I am not of the body: is it therefore not of the body?

17 Yf all the body were an eye, where were then the hearyng? Yf al were hearing, where where were the smelling?

18 But nowe hath God set the members, euery one of them seuerall in the body, as it hath pleased him.

19 If they were al one member, where were the body?

20 Nowe are there many members, yet but one body.

21 And the eye can not say vnto the hand, I haue no neede of thee: nor againe, the head to the feete, I haue no neede of you.

22 Yea rather a great deale those members of the body whiche seeme to be more feeble, are necessarie:

23 And vpon those members of the body whiche we thinke to be lesse honourable, we owe d more honour: and our vncomely partes haue more comelinesse.

24 For our comely members neede it not: But GOD hath tempered the body togeather, hauing geuen the more honour to that part which lacked,

25 That there should be no strife in the body: but that the members should haue the same care one for another.

26 And if one member suffer, all the members suffer with it. If one member be honoured, all the members reioyce with it.

27 Ye are the body of Christe, & members e in part.

28 ¶ And God hath ordeyned some in the Churche, first Apostles, secondarily Prophetes, thirdly Teachers, then them that doo myracles: after that, ỹ giftes of healing, helpers, gouerners, "diuersities of tongues.

29 Are all, apostles? are al, prophetes? are al, teachers? are all, doers of myracles?

30 Haue all the giftes of healing? doo all speake with tongues? doo all interprete?

31 Couet after the best giftes: And yet shewe I vnto you a more excellent way.

¶ The.xiii. Chapter.

Because loue is the fountayne and rule of edifiyng the Churche, he setteth foorth the nature, office, and prayse thereof.

THough I speake with the tongues of men, and of a angels, and haue not charitie, I am as sounding brasse, or as a tynckling Cymbale.

2 And though I haue prophesie, and vnderstande al secretes, and all knowledge: yea if I haue al fayth, so that I can remooue mountaynes, and haue not charitie, I am nothyng.

3 And though I bestowe all my goodes to feede the poore, and though I geue my body that I shoulde be burned, and haue not charitie, it profiteth me nothyng.

4 Charitie suffereth long, and is curteous: Charitie enuieth not, charitie doeth not frowardly, "swelleth not,

5 Dealeth not dishonestly, seeketh not her owne, is not bytter, thynketh not euyl,

6 Reioyceth not in iniquitie, but reioyceth in the trueth:

7 Suffereth all thinges, beleeueth all things, hopeth al things, endureth al things.

8 Though that prophesiynges fayle, eyther tongues ceasse, or knowledge vanishe away, yet charitie falleth neuer away.

9 For our knowledge is "vnperfect, and our prophesiyng is vnperfect:

10 But when that whiche is perfect is come, then that whiche is vnperfect shalbe done away.

11 When I was a chylde, I spake as a chylde, I vnderstoode as a chylde, I imagined as a chylde: but as soone as I was a man, I put away chyldishnesse.

12 Nowe we see in a b glasse, euen in a darke speakyng: but then shal vve see face to face. Nowe I knowe vnperfectly: but then shall I knowe, euen as I am knowen.

13 Now abydeth fayth, hope, & charitie, these three, but the cheefe of these is charitie.

a. or, is not puffe vp.

a. or, in part.

b. The mysteries of God.

¶ The xiiii. Chapter.

1. He exhorteth to charitie, commendeth the gift of tongues, and other spirituall giftes. 5. But cheefely prophecying.

FOlowe after charitie, and couet spirituall giftes: but most cheefely that ye may prophecie.

2 For he that speaketh with an vnknowen tongue, speaketh not vnto men, but vnto God: For no man a heareth hym: Howbeit, in the spirite he speaketh mysteries.

3 But he that prophesieth, speaketh vnto men to edifiyng, and exhortation, and comforte.

4 He that speaketh with an vnknowen tongue, edifyeth hym selfe: but he that prophecieth, edifyeth the Churche.

5 I woulde that ye all spake with b tongues, but rather that ye prophecied: For greater is he that prophecieth, then he that speaketh with tongues, except he expound it, that the Churche may receiue edifiyng.

6 Nowe brethren, if I come vnto you speakyng with tongues, what shall I profite you, except I shall speake to you eyther by reuelation, or by knowledge, or by prophecyng, or by doctrine?

7 And euen thinges without lyfe, geuyng sounde, whether it be a pype, or an harpe, except they geue a distinction in the sounes, howe

a. Vnderstandeth hym.

b. Tongue, in this place and such lyke, signifieth not the instrument that we speake with, but proprietie of some language that the hearer vnderstandeth not without an interpreter.

howe shall it be knowen what is piped or harped?

8 For yf the Trumpe geue an vncertaine sound, who shalbe prepared to ỹ warre?

9 So likewyse you, except ye vtter woordes by the tongue easie to be vnderstoode, howe shal it be knowen what is spoken? For ye shal speake in the b ayre.

b. Your words shalbe lost, for ye shal neither glorifie God thereby, nor profyte man.

10 There are happily so many kindes of voyces in the worlde, and none of them are without signification.

11 Therefore yf I knowe not the meaning of the voyce, I shalbe vnto him that speaketh an aliant, and he that speaketh shalbe an aliant vnto me.

12 Euen so ye, for as much as ye couet spirituall gifies, seeke that ye may excel, vnto the edifying of the Churche.

13 Wherefore, let him that speaketh with tongue, pray that he may interprete.

14 For yf I pray with an vnknowen tongue, my spirite prayeth, but my vnderstanding is vnfruitfull.

15 What is it then? I wyll pray with the spirite, and wyl pray with the vnderstanding also: I wyl c sing with the spirite, and will sing with the vnderstanding also.

c. Or geue thankes by singyng.

16 For when thou shalt blesse with the spirite, howe shall he that a occupieth the roome of the vnlearned say Amen at thy geuing of thankes, seeing he vnderstandeth not what thou sayest?

a. Or, filleth.

17 Thou verily geuest thankes well, but the other is not edified.

18 I thanke my God, I speake with tongues more then ye al.

19 Yet had I rather in the Churche to speake fyue woordes with my vnderstanding, that by my voyce I might teache other also, then tenne thousand woords in an vnknowen tongue.

20 Brethren, be not chyldren in vnderstanding: howbeit, as concernyng nought-inesse be ye chyldren, but in vnderstanding be perfect.

21 In the lawe it is written, || With men of sundry tongues and sundry lyppes, wyl I speake vnto this people: and yet for al that, wyl they not heare me, sayth the Lorde.

||Esai.28.11.

22 Wherefore tongues are for a signe, not to them that beleeue, but to them that beleeue not: but prophesying serueth not for them that beleeue not, but for them whiche beleeue.

23 If therefore all the Church be come together into one place, and al speake with tongues, and there come in they that are vnlearned, or they whiche beleeue not, wyl they not say that ye are madde?

24 But if al prophesie, and there come in one that beleeueth not, or one vnlearned: he is rebuked of al men, he is iudged of al men.

25 And so are the secretes of his hart made manifest, and so hauing fallen downe on his face, he wyl worshyp God, saying that God is in you of a trueth.

26 Howe is it then brethren? When ye come together, euery one of you hath a Psalme, hath a doctrine, hath a tongue, hath a reuelation, hath an interpretation: Let all thynges be done vnto edifying.

27 If any man speake with tongue, let it be by two, or at the most by three, and that by course, and let one interprete.

28 But if there be no interpreter, let hym keepe silence in the Church, and let him speake to hym selfe, and to God.

29 Let the prophetes speake two or three, and let the other iudge.

30 If any reuelation be made to another that sitteth by, let the fyrst holde his peace.

31 For ye may all prophecie one by one, that al may learne, and al may be comforted.

32 And the d spirites of the prophetes are subiect to the prophetes.

d. That is, the doctrine that they do bring as beyng put in minde by the spirite of God.

33 For God is not the authour of confusion, but of peace, as in all Churches of the saintes.

||1. Tim.2. 12.

34 ||Let your women keepe silence in the Churches: for it is not permitted vnto them to speake, but they are commaunded to be vnder obedience, ||as sayth the lawe.

||Gen.3.16.

35 If they wyl learne any thyng, let thē aske their husbandes at home: For it is a shame for women to speake in the Churche.

36 Sprong the word of God from you? eyther came it vnto you onely?

37 If any man thinke hym selfe to be a prophete, eyther spirituall, let hym know that the thynges that I write vnto you, are the commaundementes of the Lorde.

38 But yf any man be ignorant, let him be ignorant.

39 Wherefore brethren, couet to prophecie, and forbid not to speake with tongues.

40 Let all thynges be doone honestly, and in order.

¶ The. xv. Chapter.

1. He proueth the resurrection of the dead, 3. and first that Christ is ryssen.

MOreouer, ||brethren, I declare vnto you, the Gospell whiche I preached vnto you, whiche also ye haue receiued, and wherein ye haue a continued,

The Epistle on the xi. Sunday after Trinitie.

||Galat.1.11.

a. Or, stoode.

2 By the whiche also ye are saued, yf ye keepe the doctrine whiche I preached vnto you, except ye haue beleeued in vayne.

3 For

3 For I deliuered vnto you first of all, that whiche also I a receiued, howe that Christe dyed for our sinnes, according to the scriptures:

4 ||And that he was buryed, and that he arose the thirde day, according to the scriptures:

5 ||And that he was seene of Cephas, then of the twelue:

6 After that he was seene of moe then fyue hundred brethren at once: of whiche, the more part remayne vnto this day, and some are fallen asleepe.

7 And after that he was seene of Iames, then of al the Apostles.

8 ||And last of al he was seene of me, as of one borne out of due tyme.

9 For I am the least of the Apostles, which am not worthy to be called an Apostle, because I persecuted the church of God.

10 ||But by the grace of God, I am that I am, and his grace whiche is in me, was not vaine: but I laboured more abundantly then they al, yet not I, but the grace of God whiche is with me.

11 Therefore, whether it were I or they, so we preache, and so haue ye beleeued.

12 If Christ be preached, howe that he rose from the dead: howe say some among you, that there is no resurrection of the dead?

13 If there be no rising of the dead, then is Christe not risen.

14 If Christe be not risen, then is our preaching vayne, & your fayth is also b vayne.

15 Yea, and we are founde false witnesses of God, because we haue testified of God, how that he raysed vp Christ: whom he raised not vp, if so be that the dead rise not.

16 For if the dead rise not, then is not Christe risen.

17 If it be so that Christe is not risen, then is your fayth vayne, ye are yet in your sinnes.

18 But also they whiche are fallen a sleepe in Christe, are perished.

19 If in this life onely we haue hope in Christ, then are we of al men most miserable.

20 But nowe is Christe risen from the dead, he is become the c first fruites of them that sleapt.

21 For since by man came death, euen so by man came the resurrection of the dead.

22 For as by "Adam al dye, euen so "by Christe shall all d be made alyue, 23 But euery man in his owne order. The first fruites is Christ, afterward, they that are Christes at his commyng.

24 Then commeth the ende, when he shal haue deliuered vp the kingdome to God the father, when he shal haue put down al rule, and al authoritie, and power.

25 For he must raigne ||tyl he hal haue put al his enimies vnder his feete. ||Psal.110.1. Actes.2.34. Hebr.1.13.

26 The last enimie that shalbe destroyed, is death.

27 ||For he hath put downe al thynges vnder his feete: But when he sayth, Al thinges are put vnder hym, it is manifest that he is excepted whiche dyd put al thinges vnder hym. ||Psalm. 8.7. Hebr.2.8.

28 When al thinges shalbe subdued vnto hym, then shal the sonne also him selfe be subiect vnto him that put al thinges vnder him, that God may be al in al.

29 Els what shal they doo which are baptised for the dead, if the dead rise not at all? Why are they then baptised for the dead?

30 And why stande we in ieopardie euery houre?

31 I protest by our reioycing whiche I haue in Christe Iesus our Lord, I die dayly.

32 If I haue fought with beastes at Ephesus, after the e maner of men, what auantageth it me, if the dead rise not? ||Let vs eate and drynke, for to morowe we dye.

33 Be ye not deceyued: Euyl woordes corrupt good maners.

34 Awake to righteousnesse, and sinne not: for some haue not the knowledge of God, I speake this to your shame.

35 But some man wyl say, Howe are the dead raysed vp? With what body doo they come?

36 Thou "foole, that which thou sowest, is not quickened, except it dye.

37 And that whiche thou sowest, thou sowest not that body that shalbe, but bare corne, it may chaunce of wheate, or of some other corne.

38 But God geueth it a body, as it hath pleased hym, & to euery seede his owne body.

39 Al flesh, is not "the same flesh, but there is one maner of flesh of men, another flesh of beastes, another of fishes, and another of byrdes.

40 There are also celestial bodies, & bodies terrestrial: but the glory of the celestial is one, and the glory of the terrestrial another.

41 There is one glory of the f sunne, and another glory of the moone, and another glory of the starres: For one starre differeth from another starre in glory.

42 So is the resurrection of the dead. It is sowen in corruption, it riseth in incorruption.

43 It is sowen in g dishonour, it ryseth in honour. It is sowen in weakenesse, it ryseth in power.

44 It is sowen a natural body, it ryseth a spiritual body: There is a natural body, and there is a spiritual body.

45 And

30 If any reuelation be made to another that ſitteth by, let the fyrſt holde his peace.

31 For ye may all propheſie one by one, that al may learne, and al may be comforted.

32 And the d ſpirites of the prophetes are ſubiect to the prophetes.

d. That is, the doctrine that they do bryng as beyng put in minde by the ſpirite of God.

33 For God is not the authour of confuſion, but of peace, as in all Churches of the ſaintes.

34 ||Let your women keepe ſcilence in the Churches: for it is not permitted vnto them to ſpeake, but they are commaunded to be vnder obedience, ||as ſayth the lawe.

37 If any man thinke hym ſelfe to be a prophete, either ſpiritual, let hym know that the thynges that I write vnto you, are the commaundementes of the Lorde.

38 But yf any man be ignorant, let him be ignorant.

39 Wherefore brethren, couet to propheſie, and forbid not to ſpeake with tongues.

40 Let all thynges be doone honeſtly, and in order.

¶ The. xv. Chapter.

1. He proueth the reſurrection of the dead, 3. and firſt that Chriſt is ryſen.

MOreouer, ||brethren, I declare vnto you, the Goſpell whiche I preached vnto you, whiche alſo ye haue receiued, and wherein ye haue * continued,

The Epiſtle on the xi. Sunday after Trinitie.

||Galat. 1. 11.

* or, ſtoode.

2 By the whiche alſo ye are ſaued, yf ye keepe the doctrine whiche I preached vnto you, except ye haue beleeued in vayne.

3 For

3 For I deliuered vnto you first of all, that whiche also I a receiued, howe that Christe dyed for our sinnes, according to the scriptures:

4 ||And that he was buryed, and that he arose the thirde day, according to the scriptures:

5 ||And that he was seene of Cephas, then of the twelue:

6 After that he was seene of moe then fyue hundred brethren at once: of whiche, the more part remayne vnto this day, and some are fallen asleepe.

7 And after that he was seene of Iames, then of al the Apostles.

8 ||And last of al he was seene of me, as of one borne out of due tyme.

9 For I am the least of the Apostles, which am not woorthy to be called an Apostle, because I persecuted the church of God.

10 ||But by the grace of God, I am that I am, and his grace whiche is in me, was not vaine: but I laboured more abundantly then they al, yet not I, but the grace of God whiche is with me.

11 Therefore, whether it were I or they, so we preache, and so haue ye beleeued.

12 If Christ be preached, howe that he rose from the dead: howe say some among you, that there is no resurrection of the dead?

13 If there be no rising of the dead, then is Christe not risen.

14 If Christe be not risen, then is our preaching vayne, & your fayth is also b vayne.

15 Yea, and we are founde false witnesses of God, because we haue testified of God, how that he raysed vp Christ: whom he raised not vp, if so be that the dead rise not.

16 For if the dead rise not, then is not Christe risen.

17 If it be so that Christe is not risen, then is your fayth vayne, ye are yet in your sinnes.

18 But also they whiche are fallen a sleepe in Christe, are perished.

19 If in this life onely we haue hope in Christ, then are we of al men most miserable.

20 But nowe is Christe risen from the dead, he is become the c first fruites of them that sleapt.

21 For since by man came death, euen so by man came the resurrection of the dead.

22 For as by a Adam al dye, euen so a by Christe shall all d be made alyue, 23 But euery man in his owne order. The first fruites is Christ, afterward, they that are Christes at his commyng.

24 Then commeth the ende, when he shal haue deliuered vp the kingdome to God the father, when he shal haue put down al rule, and al authoritie, and power.

25 For he must raigne ||tyl he shal haue put al his enimies vnder his feete. ||Psal. 110.1. Actes. 2.34. Hebr. 1.13.

26 The last enimie that shalbe destroyed, is death.

27 ||For he hath put downe al thynges vnder his feete: But when he sayth, Al thinges are put vnder hym, it is manifest that he is excepted whiche dyd put al thinges vnder hym. ||Psalm. 8.7. Hebr. 2.8.

28 When al thinges shalbe subdued vnto hym, then shal the sonne also him selfe be subiect vnto him that put al thinges vnder him, that God may be al in al.

29 Els what shal they doo which are baptised for the dead, if the dead rise not at all? Why are they then baptised for the dead?

30 And why stande we in ieopardie euery houre?

31 I protest by our reioycing whiche I haue in Christe Iesus our Lord, I die dayly.

32 If I haue fought with beastes at Ephesus, after the e maner of men, what auantageth it me, if the dead rise not? ||Let vs eate and drynke, for to morowe we dye. ||Esai. 22.13.

33 Be ye not deceyued: Euyl woordes corrupt good maners.

34 Awake to righteousnesse, and sinne not: for some haue not the knowledge of God, I speake this to your shame.

35 But some man wyl say, Howe are the dead rayled vp? With what body doo they come?

36 Thou *foole, that which thou sowest, is not quickened, except it dye.

37 And that whiche thou sowest, thou sowest not that body that shalbe, but bare corne, it may chaunce of wheate, or of some other corne.

38 But God geueth it a body, as it hath pleased hym, & to euery seede his owne body.

39 Al flesh, is not *the same flesh, but there is one maner of flesh of men, another flesh of beastes, another of fishes, and another of byrdes.

40 There are also celestial bodies, & bodies terrestrial: but the glory of the celestial is one, and the glory of the terrestrial another.

41 There is one glory of the f sunne, and another glory of the moone, and another glory of the starres: For one starre differeth from another starre in glory.

42 So is the resurrection of the dead. It is sowen in corruption, it riseth in incorruption.

43 It is sowen in g dishonour, it ryseth in honour. It is sowen in weakenesse, it ryseth in power.

44 It is sowen a natural body, it ryseth a spiritual body: There is a natural body, and there is a spiritual body.

49 And as we haue borne the image of the earthie, we ſhal alſo beare the image of the heauenly.

The seconde Epistle of S. Paul the Apostle to the Corinthians.

¶ The first Chapter.

He declareth the great profite that commeth to the faythful by theyr afflictions.

PAul an Apostle of Iesu Christe, by the wyll of God, & brother Timotheus, vnto the Church of God, which is at Corinthus, with al ꝑ saintswhich are in al Achaia:

2 Grace be with you, and peace from God the father, and from the Lorde Iesus Christe.

1.i. 3. 3 ‖ Blessed be GOD the father of our ar.1. 3. Lorde Iesus Christe, which is the father of mercies, and the God of al comfort:

4 Which comforteth vs in all our tribulation, that we may be able to comfort them whiche are in all maner trouble, with the comfort wherewith we our selues are comforted of God.

5 For as the a afflictions of Christ are plenteous in vs: euen so is our consolation plenteous by Christe.

hiche I for or which ffereth 6 Whether we be troubled, it is for your consolation and saluation, whiche saluation is wrought by the suffering of the same afflictions whiche we also suffer: or whether we be comforted, it is for your consolation and saluation, and our hope of you is stedfast:

7 Knowyng that as ye are partakers of the afflictions, so ye shalbe partakers also of the consolation.

8 For we wolde not brethren, haue you ignorant, of our trouble whiche came vnto vs in Asia: that we were greeued out of measure, passing strength, in so muche that we were in great doubt, euen of lyfe.

9 But we receiued the sentence of death in our selues, that we should not put our trust in our selues, but in God, whiche rayseth the dead:

10 Who deliuered vs from so great a death, and doth deliuer: in whom we trust that hereafter also he wyl deliuer vs:

15.30 11 ‖ You also helpyng togeather by prayer for vs, that for the benefites bestowed vppon vs by the meanes of many persons, thanks may be geuē of many on our behalfe.

12 For our reioycing is this, the testimonie of our conscience, that in simplicitie & godly pureneſſe, not with fleshly wysedome, b but by the grace of God, we haue had our conuersation in the worlde, and most of all to youwardes.

b. Vsing that wysedome whiche God gaue me frō heauen.

13 For we write none other thinges vnto you then that ye reade, and also that ye acknowledge: and I trust ye shal acknowledge vnto the ende.

14 Euen as ye haue acknowledged vs partly, that we are your reioycing, euen as ye are c ours in the day of the d Lorde Iesus.

c. Because we haue won you to Christe.

15 And in this confidence was I mynded first to haue come vnto you, that ye might haue had * one pleasure more:

d. Which shal abolishe all worldly glory.

or, the seconde benefite.

16 And to passe by you into Macedonia, and to come agayne out of Macedonia vnto you, and to be led forth of you into Iurie.

17 When I therfore was thus minded, dyd I vse lyghtnesse? or minde I e carnally those thynges whiche I minde, that with me shoulde be yea yea, and nay nay?

e. Now to affirme one thing, & then to denie it, which is a signe of incōstancie.

18 Yea f God is faythful, for our preachyng to you, was not yea, and nay.

f. He taketh God to witnes, that he preacheth the trueth.

19 For Gods sonne Iesus Christ, which was preached among you by vs, euen by me, and Syluanus, and Timotheus, was not yea and nay, but in hym it was yea.

20 For all the promises of God in hym are yea, and are in hym, Amen, vnto the glory of God through vs.

21 And he whiche stablisheth vs with you in Christ, and hath annoynted vs, is God:

22 Which hath also sealed vs, and hath geuen the earnest of the spirite in our hartes.

23 I call GOD for a recorde vnto my soule, that to spare you, I came not as yet vnto Corinthus.

24 Not that we be lordes ouer your fayth, but are helpers of your ioy: for by fayth ye stande.

¶ The. ii. Chapter.

Paul reioyceth in God for the efficacie of his doctrine.

BUt I determined this in me selfe, that I woulde not come agayne to you in heauynesse.

2 For yf I make you sory, who is he that maketh me glad, but the same which is made a sory by me?

a. Which was geuen to Satan, but nowe doth repent.

3 And I wrote this same vnto you, lest when I came, I shoulde take heauynesse of of them of whom I ought to reioyce, hauing confidence in you al, that my ioy, is the ioy of you al.

4 For in great affliction and anguysh of hart, I wrote vnto you with many teares: not that ye should be made sorie, but that ye myght perceyue the loue whiche I haue most aboundantly vnto you.

5 But if any man hath caused sorowe, the same hath not made me sorie, but partly, lest I shulde ouergreeue you al.

6 It is sufficient vnto the same man that he was rebuked of many.

7 So that nowe contrariwyse ye ought rather to forgeue him, and comfort hym, lest that same person should be swalowed vp with ouermuch heauinesse.

8 Wherefore, I pray you, that you would confirme your loue towardes hym.

9 For to this ende also dyd I wryte, that I myght knowe the proofe of you, whether ye be obedient in al thinges.

10 To whom ye forgeue any thing, I forgeue also: For if I forgeue any thing, to whom I forgaue it, for your sakes forgaue I it in the b syght of Christe,

b. That is, truely & from myne hart, euē as in the presence of Christ.

11 Lest we shulde be circumuented of Satan: for we are not ignorant of his deuises.

12 Furthermore, whē I came to Troas, to preache Christes Gospell, and a doore was opened vnto me of the Lorde, 13 I had no rest in my spirite, because I founde not Titus my brother, but when I had taken my leaue of them, I went away into Macedonia.

14 Nowe thankes be vnto God, whiche alwayes causeth vs to triumph c in Christ, and openeth the sauour of his knowledge by vs in euery place.

c. In working mightily by vs, he maketh vs partakers of his victorie and triumphe.

15 For we are vnto God the sweete sauour of Christe in them that are saued, and in them which perishe.

16 To the one are vve the sauour of death, vnto death: and vnto the other, the sauour of lyfe, vnto lyfe: || And who is meete vnto these thynges?

¶ The.iii. Chapter.

Paul exalteth his apostleship agaynst the braggers of the false apostles.

10 For euen that which was glorified, was not glorified in this behalfe, because of the exceedyng glory.

11 For yf that whiche is put away was glorious: muche more that whiche remayneth, is glorious.

12 Seyng then that we haue such hope, we vse great boldnesse of speache:

¶ Therfore

THerefore, ſeeing that we haue ſuche a miniſterie, as we haue receiued mercie, we faint not:

2 But haue caſt from vs the clokes of vnhoneſtie, walking not in craftineſſe, neyther handling the woord of God deceitfully, but in opening of the trueth, commendyng our ſelues to euery mans conſcience in the ſight of God.

3 If our Goſpel be hidde, it is hidde in them that are loſt:

4 In whom the a God of this worlde hath blinded the mindes of them whiche beleeue not, leſt the light of the Goſpel of the glory of Chriſt ſhould ſhine vnto them, (whiche is the image of God.)

5 For we preache not our ſelues, but Chriſte Ieſus the Lord, and our ſelues your ſeruantes for Ieſus ſake.

6 For it is God that ||commaunded the light to ſhine out of darkneſſe, who hath ſhined in our hartes, for to gene the light of the knowledge of the glory of God, in the face of Ieſus Chriſte.

7 But we haue this treaſure in earthen veſſels, that the excellencie of the power may be Gods, and not of vs.

8 We are troubled on euery ſide, yet are we not "without ſhift: We are in pouertie, but not in extreme pouertie.

9 We are perſecuted, but are not forſaken therein: we are caſt downe, but we periſhe not:

10 We alwayes beare about in the body the dying of the Lorde Ieſus, that the lyfe of Ieſus might alſo be made manifeſt in our body.

11 For we whiche liue, are alwayes deliuered vnto death for Ieſus ſake, that the lyfe alſo of Ieſus might be made manifeſt in our mortall fleſhe.

12 So then, death woorketh in vs, but lyfe in you.

13 Seeing then that we haue the ſame ſpirite of faith, (accordyng as it is written, || I beleeued, and therefore haue I ſpoken:) We alſo beleeue, and therefore ſpeake:

14 Knowyng that he, which rayſed vp the Lorde Ieſus, ſhal rayſe vp vs alſo by the meanes of Ieſus, and ſhal ſet vs with you.

15 For al thinges "doo I for your ſakes, that the plenteous grace by thankeſgeuing of many, may redounde to the prayſe of God.

16 Wherefore we are not weeried: but though our outward man periſhe, yet the inward man is renued day by day.

17 For the momentanie b lightneſſe of our tribulation, prepareth an exceeding and an eternall weight of glory vnto vs:

18 Whyle we looke not on the thinges which are ſeene, but on the thinges whiche are not ſeene: for the things which are ſeene, are temporal: but the thinges which are not ſeene, are eternall.

¶ The. v. Chapter.

Paul proceedeth to declare the vtilitie that commeth by the croſſe.

FOr we knowe that yf our earthly a houſe of this tabernacle were deſtroyed, we haue a building of God, euen an habitation not made with handes, but eternall in heauen.

2 For therefore ſight we, deſiryng vppon our clothyng to be further clothed with our houſe whiche is from heauen:

3 If ſo be that we ||being clothed, ſhall not be founde naked.

4 For we that are in this tabernacle, ſigh, being burdened, becauſe we woulde not put of our clothing, but vpon the ſame put on more, that mortalitie might be ſwalowed vp of lyfe.

5 He that hath ordeyned vs for the ſelfe ſame thing is God, whiche hath alſo geuen vnto vs the earneſt of the ſpirite.

6 Therefore we are alway of good cheare, and knowe that as long as we are at home in ꝑ body, we are abſent from the lord.

7 (For we walke by fayth, not after outward appearance.)

8 Neuertheleſſe, we are of good comfort, and had rather to be abſent from the body, and to be preſent with the Lorde.

9 Wherefore, whether we be at home, or from home, we endeuour our ſelues to be accepted vnto him.

10 || For we muſt all appeare before the iudgement ſeate of Chriſte, that euery man may receiue the woorkes of his body, according to that he hath done, whether it be good or bad.

11 Knowing therefore the feare of the Lorde, we perſwade men, for we are b knowen well penough vnto God: I truſt alſo that we are knowen in your conſciences.

12 For we commende not our ſelues agayne vnto you, but geue you an occaſion to glory on our behalfe, that ye may haue ſomewhat againſt them which glorie in the face, and not in the hart.

13 For c yf we be to fervent, to GOD are we to feruent: Or yf we keepe meaſure, for your cauſe keepe vve meaſure.

14 For the loue of Chriſte conſtrayneth vs, becauſe we thus iudge, that yf one dyed for all, then were all dead.

c. The Greke ſoundeth thus. Whether we be out of wit, to God we be out of wit: Whether we be wyſe, to you we be wyſe.

ſtue, ſhoulde not hencefoorth liue vnto them ſelues, but vnto him whiche dyed for them, and roſe againe.

16 Wherefore hencefoorth know we no man after the d fleſhe: Inſomuche though we haue knowen Chriſt after the fleſhe, now yet hencefoorth knowe we him no more.

17 || Therefore yf any man be in Chriſt, he is a newe creature: Olde thinges are paſſed away, behold, al thinges are become new.

18 And all thinges are of God, whiche hath reconciled vs vnto him ſelfe by Ieſus Chriſte, and hath geuen to vs the miniſterie of reconciliation.

19 For God was in Chriſte, reconciling the worlde to him ſelfe, not imputing their ſinnes vnto them, and hath committed to vs the preaching of the attonement.

20 Nowe then are we meſſengers for Chriſte, euen as though God dyd beſeeche you through vs: ſo pray we you in Chriſtes ſtede, that ye be reconciled vnto God.

21 For he hath made him to be ſinne for vs, which knewe no ſinne, that we ſhoulde be made the righteouſneſſe of God in him.

¶ The.vi. Chapter.

An exhortation to Chriſtian lyfe.

The Epiſtle on the firſt ſunday in Lent.

WE alſo as helpers to hym exhort you, that ye receiue not the grace of God in vayne,

2 (For he ſaith, ||I haue heard thee in a time accepted, & in the day of ſaluation haue I ſuccoured thee: Behold, now is that a accepted time, behold, nowe is that day of ſaluation,)

3 Geuing no offence in any thing, that the miniſterie be not blamed:

4 But in al things behauing our ſelues as the miniſters of God, in much patience, in afflictions, in neceſſities, in anguiſhes,

5 In ſtripes, in priſonmentes, in ſtrikes, in labours, in watchinges, in faſtinges,

6 By pureneſſe, by knowledge, by long ſuffering, by kindneſſe, by the holy ghoſt, by loue vnfaigned:

7 By the woord of trueth, by the power of God, by the armour of righteouſneſſe of the right hand and on the left,

8 By honour and diſhonour, by euil repoꝛt & good repoꝛt, as deceiuers, and yet true,

9 As vnknowen, and yet knowen: as dying, and beholde we liue: as chaſtened, and not killed:

10 As ſoꝛowing, and yet alway merꝛy: as pooꝛe, and yet making many riche: as hauing nothing, and yet poſſeſſing all thinges.

11 O ye Corinthians, our b mouth is open vnto you, our hart is enlarged.

a. To wit, gods free mercie, wherin he hath poured foorth his infinite loue.

b. Signifying his moſt vehement affection.

12 Ye are not preſſed into a narrowe roome in vs, but are preſſed into a narrowe roome in your owne bowels.

13 Nowe for the ſame recompence (I ſpeake as vnto my children) be ye alſo c enlarged.

14 And "beare not ye the yoke together with the vnbeleeuers. For what felowſhip hath righteouſneſſe with vnrighteouſneſſe? oꝛ what communion hath lyght with darkneſſe?

15 Oꝛ what concoꝛde hath Chriſt with Belial? eyther what part hath he that beleeueth with an infidel?

16 Oꝛ what agreement the temple of God with idols? For ye are the temple of the liuing God, as ſaide God, ||I wyll dwell in them, and walke in them, and wyll be their God, and they ſhalbe my people.

17 || Therefore come out from among them, and be ye ſeparated from them (ſaith the Lord) and touche none vncleane thing, and I wyll receiue you,

18 And wyll be a father vnto you, and ye ſhalbe my ſonnes and daughters, ſaith the Lord almighty.

c. Shewe lyke affection towardes me.

"oꝛ, be not ye vnequally yoked.

¶ The.vii. Chapter.

He exhorteth them by the promyſe of God to keepe them ſelues pure.

HAuing therefore theſe promiſes (dearely beloued) let vs cleanſe our ſelues frō all fylthyneſſe of the fleſhe and a ſpirit, perfeting holineſſe in the feare of God.

2 "Receiue b vs: we haue wroꝛonged no man, we haue coꝛrupted no man, we haue defrauded no man.

3 I ſpeake not this to condemne you, for I haue ſhewed you before, that ye are in our hartes to dye and liue with you.

4 I vſe great boldneſſe of ſpeache towardes you, I gloꝛy greatly in you: I am filled with comfoꝛt, and am exceeding ioyous in all our tribulation.

5 For when we were come into Macedonia, our fleſhe had no reſt, but we were troubled on euery ſide: without were fightinges, within were feares.

6 Neuertheleſſe, God that comfoꝛteth the humble, comfoꝛted vs by the comming of Titus.

7 And not by his comming only, but alſo by the conſolation whiche he receiued of you, when he tolde vs your vehement deſyre, your weeping, your feruent minde towarde me: ſo that I reioyced the more.

8 For though I made you ſoꝛy with a letter, I repent not, though I dyd repent: For

a. That is, of body and ſoule. "oꝛ, vnderſtand.

b. To preache the Goſpel vnto you.

For I perceiue that the same Epistle made you sorie, though it were but for a season.

9 I nowe reioyce: not that ye were made sorie, but that ye were made sorry to repentance: For ye were made sorie to Godwarde, that in nothing ye might be hurt by vs.

||1.Pet.2.19 10 ||For godly sorowe, causeth repentance vnto saluation, not to be repented of: but the sorowe of the world causeth death.

11 For beholde, this selfe same thing that ye were made sorie to Godwarde, howe mucbe carefulnesse it hath wrought in you: yea vvhat clearing of your selues, yea vvhat indignation, yea vvhat feare, yea vvhat vehement desire, yea vvhat zeale, yea vvhat punishment? for in al thinges ye haue shewed your selues that ye were cleare in that matter.

12 Wherefore, though I wrote vnto you, I dyd it not for his cause that had doone the hurt, neither for his cause that was hurt: [a] but that your good minde to vswarde, might appeare among you in the sight of God.

13 Therefore we are comforted in your comfort: yea and exceedingly the more ioyed we for the ioy of Titus, because his spirite was refreshed by you all.

14 But yf I haue boasted any thyng vnto him of you, I haue not been shamed therein, for as we speake all thinges vnto you in trueth, euen so our boasting which I made vnto Titus, is founde a trueth.

15 And his [a] inwarde affection is more abundant toward you, while he remembreth the obedience of you all, howe with feare and trembling ye receiued him.

16 I reioyce that I haue confidence in you in all thinges.

a In asking god forgeuenesse.

¶ The. viii. Chapter.

1. By the example of the Macedonians, 9. and Christ, he exhorteth them to continue in releeuyng the poore saintes, commendyng theyr good beginnyng.

MOreouer, we doo you to wit brethren, of the grace of God, which was geuen in the Churches of Macedonia.

2 Howe that in much trial of affliction theyr ioy abounded, and theyr deepe pouertie abounded into the riches of their liberalitie.

3 For to theyr powers (I beare them recorde) yea and beyonde theyr powers, they vvere willyng of them selues:

4 Praying vs with great instance, that we woulde receyue this a grace and societie of the ministerie whiche is towarde the saintes.

a Grace here signifieth benefolence or liberalitie.

5 And this they dyd not as we looked for: but gaue theyr owne selues fyrst to the Lord, and after vnto vs by the wyl of God,

6 That we shoulde desyre Titus to accomplishe the same grace among you also, euen as he had begunne.

7 Nowe therefore as ye are plenteous in al thynges, in fayth, and in woorde, and in knowledge, & in al feruentnesse, and in loue, whiche ye haue to vs: euen so, see that ye be plenteous in this grace also.

8 This say I not by commaundement, but because of the feruentnesse of [a] other, and proouing the vnfaignednesse of your loue.

a or, reade, but through the feruentnesse of other, prouoking also the perfectnesse of your loue.

9 For ye knowe the grace of our Lorde Iesus Christ, that though he was riche, yet for your sakes he became poore, that ye through his pouertie might be made riche.

10 And I geue counsel herein: for this is expedient for you, which haue begunne not to doo onely, but also to wyl a peere agoe.

11 Nowe therefore perfourme to doo it also: that as there appeared in you a redynesse to wyll, euen so there may appeare a redynesse to perfourme, of that whiche ye haue.

12 For yf there be first a willing minde, it is accepted accordyng to that a man hath, and not accordyng to that he hath not.

13 Truely, not that other be set at ease, and you burdened:

14 But of lyke condition nowe at this tyme your abundance supplyeth their want, that their abundance also may supply your want, that there may be equalitie:

15 As it is written, ||He that had gathered much, had no thing ouer, and he that had gathered litle, had no lacke. ||Exod.16.18

16 Thankes be vnto God, whiche put the same earnest care for you in the hart of Titus.

17 Because he accepted the exhortation: and beyng the more careful, came of his owne accorde vnto you.

18 We haue sent with him that brother b whose prayse is in the Gospell throughout all the churches:

b. In preachyng the gospell. Some vnderstand Luke, other Barnabas.

19 (And not that onely, but he was also chosen of the churches to be a felowe with vs in our iourney, concernyng this [a] grace that is ministred by vs vnto the glory of the same Lorde, and declaration of your redy minde,) a or, beneficence.

20 Eschewing this, that any man should rebuke vs in this plenteous distribution that is ministred by vs:

21 Making prouision for c honest thinges, not onely in the sight of the Lorde, but also in the syght of men.

c. His wel doing is approoued before god and man.

22 We haue sent with them a brother of ours, whom we haue oftentimes prooued diligent in many thinges, but now much more diligent, for the great confidence *which I haue in you:

23 Whether any doo enquire of Titus, he is my felowe and helper concernyng you: or of other whiche are our brethren, they are the messengers of the Churches, and the glorie of Christe.

24 Wherefore, shewe ye vnto them the proofe of your loue, and of our boasting on your behalfe in the sight of the Churches.

*or, which he hath.

¶ The.ix. Chapter.

The cause of Titus and his companions comming to them.

FOR of the ministring to the saintes, it is superfluous for me to write vnto you:

2 For I knowe the redinesse of your minde, whereof I boast on your behalfe vnto them of Macedonia, that Achaia was prepared a yeere agoe: and *your zeale hath prouoked many.

*or, zeale in you.

3 Yet haue I sent the brethren, lest our boasting of you should be in vaine in this behalfe, that (as I haue saide) ye may be prepared.

4 Lest haply yf they of Macedonia come with me, and finde you vnprepared, we (I wyll not say you) shoulde be ashamed in this boldnesse of boasting.

5 Therefore I thought it necessarie to exhort the brethren, that they woulde come before vnto you, and prepare your forepromised beneficence, that it might be redie as a beneficence, and a not as an extortion.

a. That is, as a thing extorted, or violently wrong from you.

6 This yet I say he whiche soweth sparingly, shal reape sparingly: and he that soweth bountifully, shall reape bountifully.

7 ‖Euery man according as he purposeth in his hart, so let hym geue, not grudgingly, or of necessitie: ‖ for GOD loueth a cheareful geuer.

‖Rom. 12.8.

‖Eccl.35. 11

8 God is able to make you plentiful in al grace, that ye in al things hauing alwayes sufficient vnto the vttermost, may be plentiful in euery good woorke.

9 As it is written, ‖ He hath b dispersed abrode, he hath geuen to the poore, his righteousnesse remayneth for euer.

‖Psal 112.9.

b. Dauid speaketh of the man which feareth God, and loueth his neighbour.

10 Moreouer I beseeche hym that ministreth seede vnto the sower, to minister bread also for foode, and to multiplie your seede, and to encrease the fruites of your righteousnesse:

11 That in al thinges ye may be made ryche vnto al bountifulnesse, whiche causeth through vs thankes geuyng vnto God.

12 For the administration of this seruice, not onely supplieth the want of the saintes: but also is abundant by the thankes geuing of many vnto God,

13 (Whyles by the experiment of this ministration, they glorifie God for the obedience of your consenting to the Gospell of Christe, and for your liberal distribution to them, and to al men)

14 And by theyr prayers for you, whiche *long after you for the abundant grace of God in you.

*or, are greatly affectioned towarde you.

15 Thankes be vnto God, for his vnspeakeable gyft.

¶ The.x. Chapter.

He toucheth the false apostles, and defendeth his authoritie, exhortyng them to obedience.

I Paul mee selfe beseche you by the meekenesse and gentlenesse of Christe, whiche in presence am lowly among you: but am bolde towarde you beyng absent.

2 I beseech you that I may not neede to be bold when I am present, with that same boldnesse, wherwith I *am supposed to haue been bolde agaynst some, whiche repute vs as though we walked accordyng to the flesh.

*or, wherewith I meane to be bolde.

3 For walkyng in the flesh, yet we doo not warre accordyng to the flesh.

4 (For the weapons of our warfare are not carnall, but mightie through God, to the ouerthrowyng of strong holdes,)

5 Wherewith we ouerthrowe counsels, and euery high thing that is exalted agaynst the knowledge of GOD, and bryng into captiuitie al imagination to the obedience of Christe:

6 And hauyng in a redynesse wherewith to take vengeance on all disobedience, when your obedience is fulfylled.

7 Looke ye on thinges after the vtter appearance? If any man trust in hym selfe that he is Christes, let hym consyder this agayne of hym selfe, that as he is of Christe, euen so are we of Christe.

8 For though I shoulde boast somewhat more of our authoritie, whiche the Lorde hath geuen to vs for edification, and not for your destruction, I shoulde not be ashamed.

9 Lest I shoulde seeme as it were to make you afrayde by letters.

10 For the letters a (sayth he) are sore and strong: but his bodyly presence is weake, and his speache nothyng worth.

a. Meanyng a certayne man among them, which thus spake of Paul.

11 Let hym that is suche a one, thynke on this wyse, that as we are in woorde by letters when we are absent, suche also are we in deede when we are present.

12 For

12 For we dare not number or compare our selues with certaine whiche prayse them selues: neuertheleſſe, while they measure them selues with them selues, and compare them selues with them selues, they vnderstande not.

13 But we wyll not boast aboue measure: but according to the b measure of the rule which God hath distributed vnto vs, a measure to reache euen vnto you.

b That is, the gifts and vocation whiche God had geuen him to winne others by.

14 For we stretche not out our selues beyond measure, as though we reached not vnto you: For euen to you also haue we come with the Gospel of Christe:

15 Not boasting our selues out of measure in other mens labours: but hoping when your faith is encreased, to be magnified among you according to our measure abundantly,

16 That I may preache the Gospel in those regions which are beyonde you: and not glory of those thinges whiche by another mans measure are prepared alredy.

||Ier.9.24. 1.Cor.1.31.

17 ||But let him that glorieth, glory in the Lorde,

18 For he that commendeth him selfe, is not alowed, but whom the Lord commendeth.

¶ The.xi. Chapter.

1. He declareth his affection towarde them. 5. The excellencie of his ministerie. 9. And his diligence in the same.

WOulde to God ye couldе suffer a litle my foolishnesse, & in deede suffer me.

2 For I am ielous ouer you with godly ielousie: For I haue coupled you to one man, to present you a chaste virgin vnto Christe.

3 But I feare lest by any meanes, that as the ||serpent beguiled Eue thorough his subtiltie, euen so your mindes should be corrupted from the singlenesse that is towarde Christe.

||Gene.3.4.

4 For if he that commeth, preacheth another a Iesus, whom we haue not preached: or if ye receiue another spirite whom ye haue not receiued: eyther another Gospel whiche ye haue not receiued, you would well haue suffered him.

a That is, more perfect doctrine concerning Iesus Christe.

5 Verely, I suppose that I was not behinde the cheefe apostles.

6 But though I be rude in speaking, yet not in knowledge: but in all thinges among you we haue been well knowen to the vttermost.

7 Haue I committed an offence because I submitted mee selfe, that ye might be exalted, because I preached to you the Gospel of God freely?

8 I robbed other Churches, taking wages of them to doo you seruice.

9 And when I was present with you, and had neede, ||I was chargeable to no man by my idlenesse: for that which was lacking vnto me, the brethren which came from Macedonia supplied: and in all thinges I haue kept mee selfe not chargeable to you, and so wyll I keepe mee selfe.

||2.Co.12.13

10 b The trueth of Christe is in me, that this boasting shal not be shut vp against mee in the regions of Achaia.

b Let not the trueth of Christ be thought to be in me, yf I suffer my ioy to be shut vp, which I haue conceiued of Grecia.

11 Wherefore? because I loue not you? God knoweth.

12 But what I doo, that wyll I doo, that I may cut away occasion from them whiche desire occasion: that they might be found like vnto vs, in that wherin they glory.

13 For such false apostles, are deceitful woorkers, transformed into the Apostles of Christe.

14 And no marueyle: for Satan him selfe is transformed into an angel of lyght.

15 Therefore it is no great thing if that his ministers also be transformed as the ministers of righteousnesse: whose end shal be according to their woorkes.

16 I say againe, Let no man thinke that I am foolishe: or els euen now take ye me as a foole, that I also may boast mee selfe a litle.

17 That I speake, I speake it not after the c Lorde, but as it were foolishly in this boldnesse of boasting.

c. In this earth he had respect to the Lorde: but this fashion of boasting seemed accordyng to man, whereunto they compelled him.

18 Seeing that many glorye after the flesshe, I wyll glory also.

19 For ye suffer fooles gladly, seeing ye your selues are wyse.

20 For ye suffer, yf a man bring you into bondage, yf a man deuoure, yf a man take, yf a man exalt him selfe, yf a man smite you on the face.

The Epistle on Sexagesima Sunday.

21 I speake concerning reproche, as though we had ben weake: Howebeit, wherin so euer any man is bold (I speake foolishly) I am bolde also.

23 They are the ministers of Christe, (I speake as a foole) I am more, in labours more abundantly, in stripes aboue measure, in prison more plenteously, in deathes d oft.

d. In the present daunger of death.

24 Of the Iewes fiue times receiued I fourtie stripes saue one.

27 In labour & trauaile, in watchinges often, in hunger and thirst, in fastinges often, in colde and nakednesse, 28 Besides the thinges which outwardly come vnto me: the trouble whiche priuilie conspireth against me dayly, is the care of al the Churches.

29 Who is weake, and I am not weake? who is offended, and I burne not?

30 If I must needes glory, I wyl glory of the things that concerne mine infirmities.

31 The God and father of our Lord Iesus Christe, whiche is blessed for euermore, knoweth that I lye not.

¶ The.xii. Chapter.

1. He reioyceth in preferment, 5. but chefely in his humblenesse.

IT is not expedient doubtlesse for me to glorie, I wyl come to visions and reuelations of the Lorde.

‖ Actes.9.3.

2 ‖ For I knewe a man in a Christe aboue fourtiene yeeres agoe (whether in the body I can not tel, or whether out of the body I can not tel, god knoweth) taken vp into the thirde b heauen:

a. That is, Christiã, or I speake in Christe.

b. That is to say, into the highest heauen.

3 And I knewe the same man (whether in the body, or out of the body, I can not tell, God knoweth,)

4 How that he was taken vp into c paradise, and heard vnspeakeable wordes, which is not lawfull for man to vtter.

c. Mans infyrmitie was not able to declare them, neyther were they shewed vnto him for that ende.

5 Of suche a man wyll I glory, yet of mee self wyl I not glory, but in myne infyrmities.

a. or, thyng.

6 For though I woulde desire to glory of them I shall not be a foole, for I wyll say the trueth, but I nowe refraine, lest any man should thinke of me aboue that which he seeth me to be, or that he heareth of me.

7 And lest I should be exalted out of measure through the abundance of the reuelations, there was geuen to me a pricke to the flesshe, the messengers of Satan to buffet me, because I shoulde not be exalted out of measure.

8 For this thing besought I the Lorde thryse, that it might depart from me.

9 And he saide vnto me, My grace is sufficient for thee: for my strength is made perfect in weakenesse. Most gladly therefore I wyll rather glory in my infirmities, that the power of Christe might dwell in me.

10 Therefore haue I delectation in infirmities, in rebukes, in necessities, in persecutions, in anguishes for Christes sake: For when I am weake, then am I strong.

11 I am become a foole in glorying, ye haue compelled me: for I ought to haue ben commended of you. For nothing was I inferiour vnto the cheefe apostles, though I be nothing.

12 Truely the signes of an apostle were wrought among you, in al patience, in signes, and woonders, and mightie deedes.

13 For what is it wherein ye were inferiour vnto other Churches, except it be that I was not chargeable vnto you by my idlenesse: forgeue me this wrong.

14 Beholde, nowe the third time I am redy to come vnto you, and yet wyll I not be chargeable vnto you by my idlenesse. For I seeke not yours, but you. For the children ought not to lay vp for the parentes, but the parentes for the children.

15 I wil very gladly spend, & wil be spent for your soules, though the more aboundantly I loue you, the lesse I be loued agayne.

16 But be it, that I was not chargeable vnto you: d neuertheless, being craftie, I caught you with guile.

d. Thus said his aduersaries, that though he tooke it not by him selfe, yet he dyd it by the meanes of others.

17 Did I pill you by any of them whom I sent vnto you?

18 I desyred Titus, and with hym I sent a brother: Dyd Titus defraude you of any thing? Haue we not walked in the same spirite? not in the same steppes?

19 Agayne, thinke you that we excuse our selues vnto you? We speake in Christe in the sight of God: but we doo all things dearely beloued for your edifying.

20 For I feare lest when I come, I shal not finde you suche as I woulde, and that I shalbe founde vnto you, suche as ye woulde not: lest there be debates, enuyings, wrathes, strifes, backbitings, whisperings, swellings, and seditions:

21 And that when I come againe, my God hyng me lowe among you, and I shall bewayle many of them whiche haue sinned alredy, and haue not repented of the vncleannesse, and fornication, and wantonnesse which they haue committed.

2 I tolde you before, and tell you before, as though I had been present with you the seconde time, so write I nowe being absent, to them which in time past haue sinned, and to all other: that yf I come againe, I will not spare,

3 Seeing that ye seeke experience of Christe which speaketh in me, which to you ward is not weake, but is mightie in you.

4 For though he was crucifyed of weakenesse, yet liueth he of the power of God: And we also are weake in him, but we shall liue with him by the might of GOD towarde you.

5 ||Examine your selues whether ye are in ỹ fayth: Proue your owne selues. Knowe ye not your owne selues howe that Iesus Christe is in you? except ye be reprobates. ||1. Co. 11. 22

6 But I trust that ye shall knowe that we are not reprobates.

7 Truely I pray to GOD that ye doo none euil, not that we should seeme approued, but that ye should doo that whiche is honest, though we be as [a] reprobates.

[a] In that he humbled hym selfe, and tooke vpon him the fourme of a seruant.

8 For we can doo nothing against the trueth, but for the trueth.

9 For we are glad when we are weake, & ye are strong. Truely this also we wishe, euen your perfection.

10 Therefore write I these thinges being absent, lest being present, I shoulde vse sharpnesse, according to the power which the Lorde hath geuen me to edification, and not to destruction.

11 Finally brethren, farewell, be perfect, be of good comfort, be of one minde, liue in peace, and the God of loue and peace shalbe with you.

12 Greete one another in an holy kisse.

13 All the saintes salute you.

5 To whom be glory for euer and euer, Amen.

[a] Which is the corrupt life of man without Christe.

6 I marueyle that ye are so soone turned from him that had called you in the grace of Christe, vnto another Gospel:

7 Whiche is not another Gospel, but that there be some which trouble you, and intende to peruert the Gospel of Christe.

8 Neuertheles though we, or an angel from heauen, preache any other Gospel vnto you, then that whiche we haue preached vnto you, let him be accursed.

9 As we sayde before, so say I nowe agayne, Yf any man preache any other Gospel vnto you, then that ye haue receiued, let him be accursed.

10 Do I nowe perswade men, or God? Other do I seeke to please men? For yf I yet pleased men, I shoulde not be the seruant of Christe.

11 ||I certifie you, brethren, that the Gospel whiche was preached of me, is not after man. ||1. Cor. 15. 1.

12 For I neither receiued it of man, neither was I taught it, but by the reuelation of Iesus Christe.

13 For ye haue hearde of my conuersation in tyme past, ||in the Iewes religiõ, how that beyond measure I persecuted the church of God, and spoyled it: ||Actes. 9. 1.

14 And profited in the Iewes religion aboue many of my [a] companyons in myne owne nation, beyng a verye feruent maintener of the [b] traditions of my fathers.

15 But when it pleased God, which separated me from my mothers wombe, and called me by his grace,

[a] or, myne age. [b] That is, of the law of god, which was geuen to the auncient fathers.

16 To reuele his sonne by me, that I shoulde by the Gospel preache him among the heathen: immediatly I communed not with c flesshe and blood:

a. That is, with any man, as though I had neede of his counsel to approue my doctrine.

17 Neither went I vp to Hierusalem, to them whiche were apostles before me: but went my wayes into Arabia, and came againe vnto Damascus.

18 Then after three yeeres, I went vp to Hierusalem to see Peter, and abode with him fifteene dayes.

19 But other of the Apostles sawe I none, saue James the Lordes brother.

20 The thinges therfore which I write vnto you, beholde, before God I lye not.

21 Afterwarde I came into the coastes of Cyria and Cilicia, and was vnknowen in face vnto the Churches of Iurie whiche were in Christe:

22 But they had heard onely, that he which persecuted vs in times past, now pre-acheth the d faith, which before he destroyed.

d. That is, the Gospel, whiche is the doctrine of fayth.

23 And they glorified God in me.

¶ The .ii. Chapter.

1. Confyrmyng his apostleship to be of God, 3. he sheweth why Titus was not circumcised.

THen fourteene yeeres after, I went vp againe to Hierusalem with Barnabas, and tooke Titus with me.

2 I went vp by reuelation, and I declared vnto them the Gospel whiche I preache among the Gentiles: but priuately with them which were esteemed the cheefe: lest by any meanes I shoulde runne, or had runne in vayne.

3 But neither Titus which was with me, being a Greeke, was compelled to be circumcised:

4 And that because of incommers, being false brethren, whiche came in priuily to spie out our libertie which we haue in Christ Iesu, that they myght bryng vs into bondage.

e. or, moment.

5 To whom, no not for an e houre, we gaue place by subiection, that the trueth of the Gospel might continue with you.

a. Albeit, they had ben conuersant with Christ afore-tyme.

b. That is, they taught me not: but approoued my doctrine perfect in al poyntes.

6 Of them whiche seemed to be somewhat (what they a were in tymes passed it maketh no matter to me, || God accepteth no mans person:) for they which seemed cheefe, b added nothing to me.

7 But contrariwise, when they sawe that the gospel of the vncircumcision was committed vnto me, as the gospel of the circumcision was committed vnto Peter:

8 (For he that was mightie in Peter to the apostleship of the circumcision, the same was mightie in me towarde the Gentiles:)

|| Deut. 10. 17. Iob. 34. 19.

9 When they perceyued the grace that was geuen vnto me, then James, Cephas, and Iohn, which seemed to be pyllers, gaue to me and Barnabas the ryght handes of felowshyp: that we shoulde be apostles vnto the Heathen, and they vnto the circumcision.

10 Onely a that we shoulde remember the poore: wherein also I was diligent to doo the same.

a. they admonished.

11 But when Peter was come to Anti-oche, I withstoode hym c to the face, because he was to be blamed.

c. Meanyng before al men.

12 For before that certayne came from James, he did eate with the Gentiles: but when they were come, he withdrewe, and separated hym selfe, fearing them which were of the circumcision.

13 And the other Iewes dissembled lykewise with him: insomuche that Barnabas also was brought into theyr simulation.

14 But when I sawe that they went not the ryght way to the trueth of the gospel,
I sayde vnto Peter before them all, If thou beyng a Iewe, lyuest after the maner of the Gentiles, and not as doo the Iewes: Why compellest thou the Gentiles to lyue as doo the Iewes?

15 We which are Iewes by nature, and not c sinners of the Gentiles,

c. For so the Iewes called the Gentiles in reproche.

16 Know that a man is not iustified by the deedes of the lawe, but by the fayth of Iesus Christe: and we haue beleeued on Jesus Christe, that we myght be iustified by the fayth of Christe, and not by the deedes of the lawe: because by the deedes of the lawe, no flesshe shalbe iustified.

|| Rom. 3. 19.

17 || If then whyle we seeke to be made ryghteous by Christe, we our selues also are founde sinners: is therefore Christe the minister of sinne? God forbyd.

18 For yf I buylde agayne the thinges whiche I destroyed, then make I mee selfe a trespasser.

19 For I, through the lawe, am dead to the lawe, that I myght lyue vnto God: I am crucified with Christe.

20 Neuertheles, I lyue: yet nowe not
I, but Christ liueth in me: and the life which I nowe lyue in the flesshe, I lyue by the fayth of the sonne of GOD, whiche loued me, and gaue hym selfe for me.

21 I reiect not the grace of God: For yf righteousnesse come of the lawe, then Christe is dead in vayne.

¶ The .iii. Chapter.

1. He rebuketh them sharpely, 2. and proueth by diuers reasons, that iustification is by fayth.

O Foolishe Galathians, who hath bewitched you, that ye shoulde not obey the trueth: to whom Iesus Christ was before a described before the eyes, and among you crucified?

a. To whom Christe was so lyuely preached, as if his lyuely image were set before your eyes, or els had ben crucified among you.

2 This onely woulde I learne of you, whether ye receyued the spirite by the deedes of the lawe, or by the hearing of the fayth?

3 Are ye suche fooles, that after ye haue begunne in the spirite, ye woulde nowe ende in the flesshe?

4 Haue ye suffered so great thinges in vayne? If it be yet in vayne.

5 He therefore that ministreth to you the spirite, and worketh myracles among you, doeth he it through the deedes of the lawe, or by hearyng of the fayth?

‖Gene. 15. 6. Rom. 4. 3. Iames. 2. 23.

6 ‖Euen as Abraham beleeued GOD, and it was alcribed to him for righteousnesse.

7 Knowe ye therefore, that they whiche are of fayth, the same are the chyldren of Abraham.

‖Gene. 21. 3. Eccle. 44. 20.

8 For the scripture seeing afore hande that God would iustifie the Heathen through fayth, shewed before hande glad tydinges vnto Abraham, saying, ‖In thee shal all nations be blessed.

9 So then, they which be of fayth, are blessed with the faythfull Abraham.

b. Whiche thynke to be iustified by the.

10 For as many as are of the b deedes of the lawe, are vnder the curse: for it is written, ‖ Cursed is euery one that continueth not in all thinges whiche are written in the booke of the lawe, to doo them.

‖Deu. 27. 26

‖Habacuc. 2. 4. Rom. 1. 17.

11 But that no man is iustified by the lawe in the sight of God, it is euident: ‖ for the iust shal lyue by fayth.

‖Leuit. 18. 5.

12 And the lawe is not of fayth: ‖ but the man that doeth them, shal lyue in them.

13 Christe hath redeemed vs from the curse of the lawe, being made a curse for vs: For it is written, ‖ Cursed is euery one that hangeth on tree:

‖Deu. 21. 23.

c. I wyl vse a common example, that you may be ashamed to attribute lesse vnto God, then to suche couenantes, whiche one man maketh to another.

14 That the blessing of Abraham might come on the Gentiles through Iesus Christ, that we might receyue the promise of the spirite through fayth.

15 Brethren c I speake after the maner of men, ‖ though it be but a mans testament, yet if it be alowed, no man reiecteth it, or addeth thereto.

‖Heb. 9. 17. Gen. 17. 7.

16 *‖To Abraham e his seede were the promises made. He sayth not, To the seedes, as of many: but, To thy seede, as of one, which is Christe.

*The Epistle on the. xvii. sunday after trinitie.

17 This I say, that the lawe which began afterwarde beyonde f foure hundred and thirtie yeeres, doeth not disanull the testament that was confirmed afore of God vnto Christewarde, to make the promise of none effect.

18 For if the inheritance be of the lawe, then not nowe of promise. But God gaue the inheritance vnto Abraham by promise.

19 Wherefore then serueth the lawe? It was added because of transgressions, tyl the seede shoulde come to whom the promise was made: and it was ordeyned by angels in the hande of a mediatour.

e. the lawe.

20 A mediatour is not a mediatour of one, but God is d one.

d. Constant and alwayes lyke hym selfe.

21 Is the lawe then agaynst the promise of God? God forbyd. For if there had ben a lawe geuen which coulde haue geuen life, then no doubt righteousnesse should haue ben by the lawe.

22 ‖But the scripture hath concluded al vnder sinne, that the promise by the fayth of Iesus Christe shoulde be geuen vnto them that beleeue.

‖Rom. 3. 4.

23 But before fayth came, we were kept vnder the lawe, and were shut vp vnto the fayth which shoulde afterwarde be reuealed.

24 ‖Wherefore the lawe was our scoolemaister vnto Christ, that we shoulde be iustified by fayth.

‖Rom. 10. 4.

25 But after that fayth is come, we are no longer vnder a scoolemaister.

26 For ye are al the chyldren of God by fayth in Christe Iesus.

27 ‖For e al ye that are baptised, haue put on Christe.

‖Rom. 6. 3. e Some reade, al ye that are baptised into Christe, haue put on Christ.

28 There is no Iewe, neyther Greeke, there is neyther bond, nor free, there is neyther male nor female: for ye are all one in Christ Iesus.

29 If ye be Christes, then are ye Abrahams seede, and heyres accordyng to the promise.

¶ The. iiii. Chapter.

He sheweth wherefore the ceremonies were ordeyned, which beyng shadowes, must end when Christ the trueth commeth.

AND I say, That the heyre as long as he is a chylde, differeth nothing from a seruant, though he be Lorde of al.

The Epistle on the seconde sunday after Christmas.

2 But is vnder tutours & gouernours, vntyl the tyme appointed of the father.

3 Euen so we, when we were chyldren, were in bondage vnder the a rudimentes of the worlde:

a. That is, the lawe, which before be called a scoolemaister.

4 But when the fulnesse of the tyme was come, God sent his sonne made of a woman, and made vnder the lawe,

5 To redeeme them that were vnder the lawe, ‖ that we might receyue the aoption of chyldren.

‖Rom. 8. 15.

6 Because

6 Because ye are sonnes, GOD hath sent forth the b spirit of his sonne into your hartes, crying, c Abba father.

7 Wherefore thou art no more a seruant, but a sonne: if thou be a sonne, thou art also an heyre of God, through Christe.

8 Notwithstanding, when ye d knewe not God, ye dyd seruice vnto them which by nature are no goddes.

9 But nowe after that ye haue knowen God, yea rather are knowen of God, howe turne ye agayne vnto the weake and beggerly rudimentes, whereunto agayne ye desyre afreshe to be in bondage.

10 Ye obserue dayes, and monethes, and tymes, and yeeres.

11 I am in feare of you, lest I haue bestowed on you labour in vayne.

12 Brethren, I beseche you, be as I am for I am as ye are: Ye haue not iniured me at al.

13 Ye knowe howe through infirmitie of the flesshe, I preached the Gospel vnto you at the first:

14 e And my temptation which was in my flesshe ye despised not, neyther abhorred: but receyued me as an angel of God, euen as Christ Iesus.

15 What is then your felicitie? for I beare you recorde, that if it had ben possible, ye would haue plucked out your owne eyes, and haue geuen them to me.

16 Am I therefore become your enimie, because I tel you the trueth?

17 They are ielous ouer you f amisse: Yea, they intende to exclude g you, that ye should be feruent to them warde.

18 It is good alwayes to be zelous in a good thing, and not onely when I am present with you.

19 My litle children, of whom I trauayle in byrth againe, vntyl Christ be h fashioned in you.

20 But I desyre to be present with you nowe, and to change my voyce: for I stande in doubt of you.

21 Tel me, ye that desyre to be vnder the lawe, doo ye not heare the lawe?

22 For it is written that Abraham had two sonnes: ||the one by a bond mayde, ||the other by a free woman.

23 But he whiche was of the bond woman, was borne after the flesshe: but he which was of the free woman was borne by promise.

24 Which thinges are spoken by i an allegorie: for these are two testamentes: the one from the mount Sina, whiche gendereth vnto bondage, which is Agar:

25 For * Agar is the mount Sina in Arabia, and bordereth vpon the citie which is nowe called Hierusalem, and is in bondage, with her children.

26 But ||Hierusalem which is aboue, is free, which is the mother of vs al. ||Esai.45.2.

27 For it is written, || Reioyce thou barren that bearest no children, breake forth and crye, thou that trauaylest not: for the desolate hath many moe children then she whiche hath an husbande. ||Esai.54.1.

28 But brethren, we are || after Isahac the children of promise.

29 But as then he that was borne after the flesshe, persecuted hym that was borne after the spirite: euen so is it nowe. ||Rom.9.8.

30 Neuertheles, what sayth the scripture? || Put away the bondwoman and her sonne: for the sonne of the bondwoman shall in no wyse be heyre with the sonne of the free woman. ||Gene.21.10

31 So then brethren, we are not children of the bondwoman, but of the free.

¶ The .v. Chapter.

2. He laboureth to drawe them away from circumcision, 7. and sheweth them the battayle betwixt the spirit and the flesshe, and the fruites of them both.

STande || fast therefore in the libertie wherewith Christ hath made vs free, and be not intangled " agayne with the yoke of bondage. ||Actes.15.1.

" Or, contrary-wyse.

2 Beholde, I Paul say vnto you, that if ye be a circumcised, Christe shal profite you nothyng.

3 For I testifie agayne to euery man which is circumcised, that he is a detter to doo the whole lawe.

4 Christe is become but vayne to you, as many of you as are iustified by the lawe, are fallen from grace.

5 For we through the spirite, wayte for the hope of ryghteousnesse by fayth.

6 For in Iesus Christe, neither is circumcision any thing woorth, neither yet vncircumcision: but fayth, which woorketh by loue.

7 Ye dyd runne wel, who was a let vnto you, that ye shoulde not obey the trueth?

8 This perswasion commeth not of him that called you.

9 ||A litle leauen leaueneth the whole lumpe of dowe. ||1.Cor.5.6.

10 I haue trust towarde you in the Lord, that ye wyl be none otherwise mynded: but he that troubleth you, shal beare iudgement, what so euer he be.

11 And brethren, if I yet preach circumcision, why doo I yet suffer persecution? Then is the slaunder of the crosse ceased.

12 I

a. For we are of the Churche of Christe, whiche is our mother, and not of the synagogue, whiche is seruaunt vnder the lawe.

b. For our adoption vnto Christ sealed by him.

c. He instructeth both Iewes and Gentiles to call God their father in euery language, so that none are excepted.

d. When ye receyued the Gospel, ye were idolaters, therfore it is shame for you to refuse libertie and become seruantes, yea and seeyng the Iewes desyre to be out of their fellowshyp.

e. That is, the troubles and vexations whiche God sent to trye me whyle I was among you.

f. For they are but ambitious.

g. They would turne you from me, that you might folowe them.

h. And imprinted so in your hartes, that ye loue none other.

The Epistle on the fourth sunday in Lent.

||Gen.16.15. ||Gene.21.1.

i. By an allegorie, that is, another thyng is meant.

* Or, reade, for Sina is a mount in Arabia.

12 I wolde to GOD they were cut of which trouble you.

13 For brethren, ye haue been called vnto libertie: onely || let not libertie be an occasion to the flesshe, but by loue serue one an other.

14 For all the lawe is fulfylled in one woorde which is this, || Thou shalt loue thy neyghbour as thee selfe.

15 If ye byte and deuoure one another, take heede lest ye be consumed one of another.

16 ||Then I say, walke in the spirite, and ye shal not fulfyll the lust of the flesshe.

17 For the flesshe lusteth contrary to the spirite, and the spirite contrary to the flesshe:
these are contrary one to the other, so that ye can not do what ye woulde.

18 But and yf ye be led of the spirite, then are ye not vnder the lawe.

19 The deedes of the flesh are manifest, which are these, aduulterie, fornication, vn-cleannesse, wantonnesse,

20 Worshipping of images, witchcraft, hatred, variance, emulations, wrath, strife, se-ditions, sectes,

21 Enuyinges, murders, dronkennesse, gluttonies, and such like, of the which I tell you before, as I haue tolde you in tyme past, that euen they which do such thynges, shal not inherite the kyngdome of God.

22 But the fruite of the spirite is, loue, ioy, peace, long sufferyng, gentlenesse, goodnesse, fayth,

23 Meekenesse, temperance: agaynst such there is no lawe.

24 They truely that are Christes, b haue crucified the flesshe, with the affections and lustes.

25 If we lyue in the spirite, let vs also walke in the spirite.

26 Let vs not be desyrous of vayne glorie, prouokyng one another, enuying one another.

¶ The.vi. Chapter.

1. He exhorteth them to vse gentlenesse towarde the weake, 2. and to shewe their brotherly loue and modestie, 6. also to prouide for their ministers.

BRethren, yf a man be preuented in any faulte, ye which are spirituall, restore such a one in the spirite of meekenesse, considering thee selfe, lest thou also be tempte-ted.

2 Beare ye one anothers burden, and so fulfyll the lawe of Christe.

3 For if any man seeme to him selfe that he is some what, when he is nothing, the same deceiueth hym selfe in his owne fantasie.

4 But let euery man proue his owne woorke: and then shall he haue a reioycyng onely in his owne selfe, and not in another.

5 ||For euery man shall beare his owne burden.

6 Let him that is taught in the woorde, minister vnto hym that teacheth hym, in all good thynges.

7 Be not deceiued, God is not mocked:
for whatsoeuer a man soweth, that shall he also reape.

8 For he that soweth in his flesshe, shal of the flesh reape corruption: but he that soweth into the spirite, shall of the spirite reape lyfe euerlastyng.

9 Let vs not be weerie in well doyng: for in due season we shall reape, yf we faynt not.

10 Whyle we haue therefore tyme, let vs doo good vnto al men, specially vnto them which are of the houshold of fayth.

11 Se see howe large a letter I haue written vnto you with myne owne hande.

12 As many as desyre with outward appearance to please b carnally, the same constrayne you to be circumcised: onely lest they shoulde suffer persecution for the crosse of Christe.

13 For they them selues which are circumcised, keepe not the lawe: but desyre to haue you circumcised, that they myght glory in your flesshe.

14 God forbyd that I shoulde glory, but in the crosse of our Lorde Iesus Christ, whereby the b worlde is crucified vnto me, and I vnto the worlde.

15 For in Christe Iesu neyther circumcision auayleth any thyng, nor uncircumcisiō, but a newe creature.

16 And as many as walke accordyng to this rule, peace be on them, and mercy, and vpon the c Israel that is of God.

17 From henceforth let no man put me to busynesse: for I beare in my body the markes of the Lorde Iesus.

18 Brethren, the grace of our Lord Ie-sus Christe be with your spirite, Amen.

||Ephes. 6. 11 2 In the whiche in tyme passed ye walked, || according to the course of this worlde, after the gouernour that ruleth in the ayre, the spirite that nowe worketh in the children of disobedience.

3 Among whom we al had our conuersation also in tyme past in the lustes of our flesshe, fulfyllyng the wyll of the flesshe, and of the minde, and a were by nature the children of wrath, euen as other:

a. Not by creation, but by Adams transgression, and so by byrth.

4 But God which is riche in mercy, for his great loue wherewith he loued vs,

5 Euen

5 Euen when we were dead by sinnes, hath quickened vs togeather with Christ, by whose grace ye are saued,

6 And hath rayled vs vp togeather, and made vs sit togeather in heauenly thinges in Christ Iesus.

7 That in ages to come he might shewe the exceedyng riches of his grace, in his kindnesse to vswarde, through Christ Iesus.

8 For by grace are ye made safe through fayth, and that not of your selues: it is the gyft of God, 9 Not of workes, lest any man shoulde boast hym selfe.

10 For we are his workmanshyp, created in Christ Iesus vnto good workes, which God hath before ordeyned, that we shoulde walke in them.

11 Wherefore remember that ye beyng in tyme passed Gentiles in the flesshe, called vncircumcision of that whiche is called circumcision in the flesshe, made by handes:

12 That at that tyme ye were without Christ, beyng aliantes from the common wealth of Israel, and strangers from the || Testamentes of promise, hauyng no hope, and without God in this worlde.

13 But nowe in Christ Iesus, ye which sometyme were farre of, are made nygh by the blood of Christ.

14 For he is our peace, whiche hath made both one: and hath broken downe the b middle wal that was a stop betwene vs,

15 Takyng away in his flesshe the hatred, euen the ||law of commaundements conteyned in ordinances, for to make of twayne one newe man in him selfe, so making peace:

16 And that ye myght reconcile both vnto God in one body through his crosse, and slue hatred thereby:

17 And came and preached the glad tydynges of peace to you whiche were farre of, and to them that were nygh.

18 For through hym we haue both an entrance in one spirite vnto the father.

19 Nowe therfore, ye are no moze straungers and foreyners: but felowe citizens with the saintes, and of the housholde of God,

20 And are buylt vpon the fundation of the Apostles and Prophetes, Iesus Christe him selfe beyng the head corner stone, 21 In whom all the buyldyng coupled togeather, groweth vnto an holy temple in the Lorde.

22 In whom also ye are buylded togeather for an habitation of God through the spirite.

¶ The iij. Chapter.

1. He sheweth the cause of his imprisonment,
13. and desyreth them not to faynt because of his trouble.

FOr this cause I Paul am a prysoner of Iesus Christ for you heathen:

The Epistle on the Epiphanie.

2 If ye haue hearde of the dispensation of the grace of God, which is geuen me to youwarde:

3 For by reuelation shewed God the a mysterie vnto me (as I wrote afore in fewe woordes,

4 Whereby when ye reade, ye may vnderstande my knowledge in the mysterie of Christe.)

5 Which mysterie in other ages was not opened vnto the sonnes of men, as it is nowe reuealed vnto his holy Apostles and Prophetes by the spirite:

6 That the Gentiles shoulde be inheritours also, and of the same body, and partakers of his promise in Christe by the Gospel:

7 Wherefore I was made a minister, according to the gyft of the grace of God, whiche is geuen vnto me || after the workyng of his power.

||Ephe. 1. 19.

8 Vnto me which am lesse then the lest of all saintes is this grace geuen, that I shoulde preache among the Gentiles the vnsearchable riches of Christ,

9 And bring to light to al men what the felowshyp of the mysterie is, which from the beginning of the worlde hath ben hyd in God, which made al things through Iesus Christ:

10 To the intent that nowe vnto the rulers and powers in heauenly thynges might be knowen by the b Churche, the very manifolde wysedome of God,

11 According to the eternall purpose which he wrought in Christ Iesus our Lord:

12 By whom we haue boldnesse and entrance in the confidence by fayth of hym.

13 ¶ Wherfore I desyre that ye faint not for my tribulations for you, whiche is your glory.

14 For this cause I bowe my knees vnto the father of our Lorde Iesus Christ, 15 Of whom all the familie in heauen and earth is named:

16 That he would graunt you according to the riches of his glory, to be strengthed with might by his spirite in the inner man,

17 That Christe may dwell in your hartes by fayth: that ye being rooted and grounded in loue,

18 Might be able to comprehende with al saintes, what is the breadth, and length, and depth, and heyght:

19 And to knowe the loue of Christe, which excelleth al knowledge, that ye might be filled with al fulnesse of God.

20 Vnto him that is able to doo exceeding abundantly aboue al that we aske or thinke, a. Mysterie is that secrete hydden purpose of saluation through Christ.

b. The church beyng geathered of so many kyndes of people, is an example or a glasse for the angels to beholde the wysedome of God in, who hath turned their particuler discordes, into an vniuersall concorde, and of ỹ synagogue of bondage, hath made the Church of freedome.

¶ The Epistle on the. xvi. sunday after trinitie.

21 Be glory in the churche by Christe Iesus throughout al ages, worlde without ende, Amen.

¶ The iiii. Chapter.

He exhorteth them vnto meekenesse, long sufferyng, and vnto loue and peace.

*The Epistle on the.xvi. sunday after trinitie.

I Therefore a prysoner * in the Lorde exhort you, that ye walke worthie of the vocation wherewith ye are called,

a. or, for the Lordes cause.

2 With al lowlinesse and meekenesse, with long sufferyng, forbearing one another in loue,

3 Endeuouring to keepe the vnitie of the spirite in the bond of peace.

4 One body, and one a spirite, euen as ye are called in one hope of your calling.

a. So that ye can not dissent one from another, seeyng the spirite whiche joyneth you in one body can not dissent from hym selfe.

5 One Lorde, one fayth, one baptisme.

6 One God and father of al, whiche is aboue al, and through al, and in you al.

7 But || vnto euery one of vs is geuen grace, according to the measure of the gyft of Christe.

9 (But that he ascended, what is it but that he also descended first into the lower partes of the earth?

||1 Cor. 11. 11

10 ||He that descended, is euen the same also that ascended vp farre aboue al heauens, to fulfyl all thynges.)

||1. Co. 12. 28

11 ||And he gaue some Apostles, and some prophetes, and some Euangelistes, and some Shepheardes, and Teachers,

12 To the gathering together of the saintes, into the woorke of ministration, into the edifying of the body of Christ:

13 Tyl we al meete together into the vnitie of fayth and knowledge of the sonne of God, vnto a perfect man, vnto the measure of the age of the fulnesse of Christe:

14 That we henceforth be no more chyldren, wauering and carryed about with euery wynde of doctrine, and in the wylinesse of men, in craftinesse, to the laying b wayte of deceyte.

b. Whereby they laye in wayte to destroye.

15 But folowing trueth in loue, let vs growe vp into hym in al thinges whiche is the head euen Christe:

16 In whom al the body being conueniently coupled, and knit together by euery ioynt, yeelding nourishment according to the effectual power in the measure of c euery part, maketh encrease of the body, vnto the edifying of it selfe in loue.

c. That is, wherewith one ministreth to another.

17 This I say therefore, and testifie in the Lorde, that ye henceforth walke not ||as other Gentiles walke, in vanitie of theyr mynde:

*The Epistle on the.xix. sunday after trinitie.

||Rom. 1. 21

18 Darkened in cogitation, beyng alienated from the lyfe of God, by the ignorance that is in them by the * blyndnesse of theyr hartes.

* or, hardnesse

19 Which being past d feelyng, haue geuen themselues ouer vnto wantonnesse, to worke al vncleannesse with greedinesse.

d. The Greke woorde doeth signifie such to be obdurate, hart, and hath not the feelyng of repentance.

20 But ye haue not so learned Christ.

21 If so be that ye haue heard hym, and haue ben taught in him, as the trueth is in Iesus,

22 To lay downe ||according to the former conuersation, the e olde man, whiche is corrupt according to the lustes of errour:

||Coloss. 3. 8.

e That is, the natural corruption that is in vs.

23 To be renued in the spirite of your mynde,

24 And to put on that newe man, which after God is shapen in righteousnesse, and holinesse of trueth.

25 ||Wherefore, putting away lying, speake euery man trueth vnto his neyghbour: for as muche as we are members one of another.

||Rom. 6 4. Colloss. 3. 8.

26 ||Be ye f angrie, and synne not: let not the sunne goe downe vpon your wrath.

||Psal. 4. 5.

f. If so be that ye be angry so moderate your affection, that ye burst not out into an euyl woorke, but be soone appeased.

27 Neyther geue place to the deuyl.

28 Let hym that stoole, steale no more: but let hym rather labour, woorking with his handes the thyng which is good, that he may geue vnto him that needeth.

29 Let no fylthie communication proceede out of your mouth, but that whiche is good to edifie withal, as oft as neede is, that it may minister grace vnto the hearers.

30 And g greeue not the holy spirite of God, by whom ye are sealed vnto the day of redemption.

g. So behaue your selues, that the holy ghost may wyl lyngly dwel in you, and geue hym no occasion to depart for sorowe, by your abusing of Gods graces.

31 Let al bitternesse, and stercenesse, and wrath, and cryng, and euyl speaking, be put away from you, with all noughtinesse.

32 Be ye curteous one another, merciful, forgeuing one another, euen as God for Christes sake hath forgeuen you.

¶ The v Chapter.

He entreateth of corporal marryages, and of the spirituall bee vvixt Christ and his Churche.

BE ye therefore folowers of God, as deare chyldren:

*The Epistle on the.iii. sunday in Lent.

2 ||And walke ye in loue, euen as Christ hath loued vs, and hath geuen hym selfe for vs, an offering and a sacrifice of a sweete smellyng sauour to God.

||John. 13. 24

||Col. 3. 5.

3 ||But fornication, and all vncleannesse, or couetousnesse, let it not be once named among you, as it becommeth saintes:

4 Neither

4 Neyther ſylthynesse, neyther fooliſhe talkyng, neyther ieſting, which are not comely: but rather geuyng of thankes.
5 For this ye knowe, that no whoremon-ger, neyther vncleane perſon, nor couetous perſon, whiche is a worſhipper of images, hath any inheritance in the kyngdome of Chriſte, and of God.
6 ‖ Let no man deceiue you with vayne woordes: For because of ſuche thynges commeth the wrath of God vpon the chyldren of diſobedience.
7 Be not ye therfore companions of the.
8 For ye were ſometymes darkneſſe, but nowe are ye lyght in the Lorde: Walke as chyldren of lyght.
9 (For the fruite of the ſpirite is in all goodneſſe, and ryghteouſneſſe, and trueth, 10 Approuyng what is acceptable vnto
the Lorde.)
11 And haue no felowſhip with the vn-fruitful workes of darkneſſe, but rather euen rebuke them.
12 For it is ſhame euen to name thoſe
thinges which are done of them in ſecrete.
13 But all thynges when they are [a] rebuked, are made manifeſt of the lyght: For al that which doth make manifeſt, is lyght.
14 Wherefore he ſayth, ‖ Awake thou that ſleepeſt, and ſtande vp from the dead: and Chriſte ſhall geue thee lyght.
15 Take heede therefore that ye walke
circumſpectly: not as vnwyſe, ‖ but as wiſe, 16 Redeemyng the tyme, becauſe the dayes are euyll.
17 ‖ Wherefore be ye not vnwyſe, but vnderſtandyng what the wyll of the Lorde is.
18 And be not dronke with wyne, wher-in is exceſſe: but be fylled with the ſpirite, 19 Speakyng vnto your ſelues in pſalmes, and hymnes, and ſpirituall ſongues, ſingyng and makyng melodie to the Lorde in your hartes:
20 Geuyng thankes alwayes for all thinges vnto God and the father, in the name of our Lorde Ieſus Chriſte:
21 Submitting your ſelues one to another in the feare of God.
22 ‖ Wiues ſubmit your ſelues vnto your owne huſbandes, as vnto the Lorde:
23 For the huſbande is the head of the wyfe, euē as Chriſt is the head of the church, and he is the ſauiour of the body.
24 But as the churche is ſubiect vnto
Chriſte, lykewyſe the wynes to their owne huſbandes in all thinges.
25 ‖ Ye huſbandes loue your wynes, euen as Chriſte alſo loued the churche, and gaue hym ſelfe for it,
26 To ſanctifie it, when he had cleanſed
it in the [b] fountayne of water in the woord:
27 That he myght preſent it vnto hym ſelfe a glorious churche, not hauyng ſpot or wrinckle, or any ſuch thing: but that it ſhould be holy, and without blame.
28 So ought men to loue their wynes as their owne bodyes: he that loueth his wife, loueth hym ſelfe.
29 For no man euer yet hated his owne fleſhe: but nouriſheth and cheriſheth it, euen as the Lorde the churche 30 For we are members of his body, of his fleſhe, and of his bones.
31 ‖ For this cauſe ſhal a man leaue father and mother, and ſhalbe ioyned vnto his wyfe, and two ſhalbe made one fleſhe.
32 This is a great ſecret: but I ſpeake of Chriſte and of the Churche.
33 Therefore euery one of you doo ye ſo:
Let euery one of you loue his wife euen as hym ſelfe, and let the wyfe reuerence her huſbande.

b. Baptiſme is a token that God hath conſecrated the church to hym ſelfe, & made it holy by his woord: that is, his promiſe of free iuſtificatiō in Chriſte.

1. How chyldren ſhould behaue them ſelues toward their fathers and mothers. 4. Lykewyſe parentes toward their chyldren, 5. ſeruantes toward their maiſters, 9. maiſters toward their ſeruantes.

CHyldren, ‖ obey your parentes in the Lorde: For this is right.
2 ‖ Honour thy father and mother, (whiche is the firſt commaundement in promiſe,)
3 That thou mayeſt proſper, and lyue long on earth.
4 Fathers, prouoke not your chyldren to wrath: but bryng them vp in inſtruction and informacion of the Lorde,
5 ‖ Seruantes obey them that are your bodyly maiſters with feare and tremblyng, in ſyngleneſſe of your hart, as vnto Chriſte.
6 Not with ſeruice vnto the eye, as men pleaſers: but as the ſeruantes of Chriſte, doyng the wyll of God from the hart,
7 With good wyl ſeruyng the Lord, and not men:
8 Knowing that whatſoeuer good thing any man doth, that ſhall he receiue agayne of the Lord, whether he be bonde or free.
9 And ye maiſters doo the ſame thynges vnto them, putting away threatninges: ‖ knowyng that your maiſter alſo is in heauen, neither is reſpect of perſon with hym.

The Epistle of S. Paul the Apostle to the Philippians.

¶ The first Chapter.

1. S. Paul discouereth his hart towarde them, 3. by his thankes geuing, 4. prayers, 6. and wysshes for their fayth and saluation.

PAul and Timotheus the seruantes of Iesus Christ, to all the saintes in Christ Iesus, which are at Philippos, with the bysshops and deacons:

2 Grace be vnto you, and peace from God our father, and from the Lorde Iesus Christe.

3 ||I thanke my God with all remembrance of you:

4 (Alwayes in all my prayer for al you, makyng prayer with gladnesse:)

5 For your felowshyp in the gospel, from the fyrst a day vntyll nowe:

6 Beyng perswaded of the same thyng, that he whiche hath begun a good woorke in you, wyl perfourme it vntyl the day of Iesus Christ:

7 As it becommeth me to iudge this of you all, because I haue you in my hart, and in my bondes, in the defence and confirmation of the Gospel, you all beyng partakers of my b grace.

8 For God is my recorde howe greatly I long after you all in the c bowels of Iesus Christe.

9 And this I pray, that your loue maye abound yet more and more in knowledge, and in all vnderstandyng:

10 That ye may discerne thinges that differ: that ye may be pure & without offence tyll the day of Christe, 11 Beyng fylled with the fruites of righteousnesse, whiche are by Iesus Christe, vnto the glorie and prayse of God.

12 But I woulde ye should vnderstand, brethren, that the thinges whiche came vnto me, hath come rather vnto the furtherance of the Gospell.

13 So that my d bondes in Christe are manifest throughout all the iudgement hal, and in al other places.

14 And many of the brethren in the Lord, being incouraged through my bondes, dare more plentifully speake the woord without feare.

15 Some preache Christe of enuy and strife, and some of good wyl:

16 The one preache Christ of strife, not sincerely, supposing to adde more affliction to my bondes:

17 But the others of loue, knowing that

I

a. That ye receiued the gospel.

b. Of this peculier benefite to suffer for Christes sake.

c. That is, from the very hart roote of Iesus Christe.

d. Whiche I susteyne for Christes cause.

I am set to the defence of the Gospel.

18 What then? so that Chriſt be preached any maner of way, whether it be by pretence, or by trueth, I ioy therein, and wil ioy.

19 For I knowe that this shal turne to my saluation through your prayer, and ministring of the spirite of Iesus Chriſte, 20 According to my earnest expectation and my hope, that in nothing I shalbe ashamed: but that with al boldnesse, as alwayes, so nowe also Chriſte shalbe magnified in my body, whether it be by life, or by death.

21 For Chriſte is to me lyfe, and death is to me aduantage.

22 But whether to liue in the flesh, this be the fruite of my labour, and what I shall chooſe, I wote not.

23 For I am in a straite betwixt two, hauing a deſire to depart, and to be with Chriſte, which is much farre better.

24 Neuertheleſſe, to abide in the *flesh is more needefull for you.

25 And this I am sure of, that I shall abide and continue with you all, for your furtherance and ioy of faith:

26 That your reioycing may be the more abundant in Iesus Chriſte for me, by my comming to you againe.

27 Only let your conuerſation ‖ be as it becommeth the Gospel of Chriſte, that whether I come and see you, or els be absent, I may yet heare of your matters, that ye continue in one spirite, in one soule, holding together in defence of the faith of the Gospel.

28 And in nothing fearing your aduerſaries, which is to them a token of perdition: but to you of saluation, and c that of God.

29 For vnto you it is geuen for Chriſte, not only this to beleeue on him: but also this, to suffer for his sake, 30 Hauing the same fight which ye saw in me, and nowe heare in me.

3 Let nothing be done through ſtrife or vayne glory, but in meekeneſſe euery man eſteeme one the other better then him ſelfe.

4 Looke not euery man on his owne thinges, but euery man also on the thinges of others.

The.iii.Chapter.

1. He warneth them to beware of falſe teachers, 3. againſt whom he ſetteth Chriſt.

MOreouer my brethren, reioyce in the Lord. It greeueth me not to write the ſame thinges often to you, for to you it is a ſure thing.

a. Which barke againſt the true doctrine, to fyll their bellyes.

2 Beware of a dogges, beware of euyll workers, beware of b conciſion.

b S. Paul here alludeth vnto circumciſion by ſemblance of a like woord, becauſe that they who craked thereof, dyd rather cauſe aſciſme, diuiſion, or cutting & tearing in ſunder, then an accord in the Churche.

3 For we are the circumciſion, whiche worſhip God in the ſpirite, and reioyce in Chriſte Jeſus, and haue no confidence in the fleſhe.

4 Though I might alſo haue confidence in the fleſhe. If any other man thinketh that he hath whereof he might truſt in the fleſhe, I more:

||2.Co.11.22.

6 Concerning feruentneſſe, perſecuting the Churche: touching the righteouſneſſe which is in the lawe, I was blameleſſe.

7 But c what thinges that were vantage vnto me, thoſe I counted loſſe for Chriſtes ſake.

8 Yea, I thinke al thinges but loſſe for the excellencie of the knowledge of Chriſte Jeſus my Lorde: for whoſe ſake I haue loſt al thinges, and doo iudge them but d doung, that I may winne Chriſte, c or, pelfe, or chaffe.

9 And be found in him, not hauing mine owne righteouſneſſe, whiche is of the lawe: but that whiche is through the fayth of Chriſte, the righteouſneſſe whiche commeth of God through fayth:

10 That I may knowe him, and the power of his reſurrection, and the felowſhip of his paſſions, being made conformable vnto his death, 11 e If by any meanes I might atteyne vnto the reſurrection of the dead.

d Aſſaying.

12 f Not as though I had already atteyned, either were already perfect: but I folow, if that I may comprehend, wherein alſo I am comprehended of Chriſte Jeſus.

e. Or, haue now taken ful poſſeſſion thereof, not that he doubted to atteyne vnto it, but becauſe he woulde declare the excellencie thereof.

13 Brethren, I count not mee ſelfe as yet that I haue atteyned: but this one thing I ſay, I forget thoſe thinges whiche are behinde, and endeuour mee ſelfe vnto thoſe thinges which are before.

14 And I preaſe toward the marke, for the price of the high calling of God in Chriſt Jeſus.

15 Let vs therefore, as many as be perfect, be thus minded: And if ye be otherwyſe minded, God ſhall reueale the ſame alſo vnto you.

16 Neuertheleſſe, vnto that whiche we haue atteyned vnto, || let vs proceede by one rule, that we may be of one accorde.

THerefore my brethren, dearely beloued and longed for, my ioy and crowne, ſo continue in the Lorde, my dearely beloued.

2 I pray Euodias, and beſeeche Syntiches, that they be of one accorde in the Lord.

6 Be carefull for nothing: but in all thinges let your petition be manifeſt vnto God, in prayer and ſupplication, with geuing of thankes.

7 And

7 And the peace of God which passeth al vnderstanding, shal b keepe your hartes and mindes through Christe Iesus.

b. From Satan, who seeketh to take from vs this peace of conscience.

8 Furthermore brethren, what so euer thynges are true, what so euer thinges are honest, what so euer thinges are iust, what so euer thynges are pure, what so euer thinges pertayne to loue, what so euer thinges are of honest report: if there be any vertue, and if there be * any prayse, thinke on these thynges:

*or, any thyng prayse worthy.

9 Whiche ye haue both learned, and receiued, and heard, & seene in me, those things doo: and the God of peace shalbe with you.

10 But I reioyce in the Lorde greatly, that nowe at the last ye are reuiued agayne to care for me, in that wherein ye were also careful, but ye lacked opportunitie.

c. That I was not able to endure my povertie.

11 I speake not because of c necessitie: for I haue learned, in what so euer estate I am, therewith to be content.

12 I knowe howe to be lowe, and I knowe howe to exceede: euery where and in all thynges I am instructed both to be full, and to be hungrie, both to haue plentie, and to suffer neede.

13 I can doo al thinges through Christ, which strengtheneth me.

14 Notwithstanding, ye haue wel done, that ye did communicate to my affliction.

15 Ye Philippians knowe also, that in the d beginning of the Gospel, when I departed from Macedonia, no Church communicated to me, as concerning geuing and receiuing, but ye onely.

d. When I first preached the Gospel vnto you.

16 For euen in Thessalonica ye sent once, and agayne vnto my necessitie.

17 Not that I desyre a gyft: but I desyre fruite abounding to your accompt.

18 But I haue receiued al, and haue plentie: I was euen fylled after that I had receiued of Epaphroditus the thynges whiche were sent from you, an odour of a sweete smel, a sacrifice acceptable, pleasant to God.

19 My God shal supplie al your neede through his riches in glory, in Christ Iesus.

20 Unto God and our father be glory for euermore.

21 Salute al the saintes in Christe Iesus: The brethren whiche are with me, greete you.

22 Al the saintes salute you, most of all they that are of Caesars householde.

23 The grace of our Lord Iesus Christ be with you al. Amen.

3. He geueth thankes vnto God for theyr fayth. 7. Confyrmyng the doctrine of Epaphras, 9. prayeth for the encrease of their fayth.

PAUL an Apostle of Iesus Christ, by the wil of God, and Timotheus ỹ brother,

2 To the saintes & faythful brethren, in Christ, which are at Colossa, grace be vnto you, and peace from God our father, and the Lorde Iesus Christe.

The Epistle on the .xxiii. sonday after trinitie.

3 We geue thankes to God and the father of our Lorde Iesus Christe, alwayes for you praying:

4 Since we heard of your fayth a in Christ Iesus, and of the loue which ye haue to al saintes:

a. For without Christe there is no fayth to be saued by, but onely a vayne opinion.

5 For the hopes sake which is layde vp for you in heauen, of which hope ye heard before in the worde of trueth of the Gospel.

6 Whiche is come vnto you euen as it is in al the worlde, and is fruiteful, as it is also in you, from the day ye heard of it, and knewe the grace of God in trueth.

7 As ye also learned of Epaphras our deare felowe seruant, whiche is for you a faythful minister of Christe:

8 Who also declared vnto vs your loue b in the spirite.

b. Whiche commeth of the holy ghost.

9 For this cause we also since the day we heard it, doo not cease to pray for you, and to desyre that ye might be fulfylled with knowledge of his wyl, in al wysedome and spiritual vnderstandyng:

10 || That ye might walke woorthie of the Lorde in al pleasyng, being fruiteful in al good workes, and encreasyng in the knowledge of God: ||Ephes.4. 1. Philip.1.27.

11 Strengthened with all might, therowe his glorious power, vnto all patience and long sufferyng with ioyfulnesse,

12 Geuing thankes vnto the father, whiche hath made vs meete to be partakers of the inheritance of the ſaintes in lyght:

13 Who hath delyuered vs from the power of darkeneſſe, and hath tranſlated vs into the kyngdome of his || deare ſonne:

14 In whom we haue redemption thorow his blood, euen the forgeueneſſe of ſinnes:

17 And he is before al thinges, and in hym al thinges conſyſt.

18 And he is the head of the body of the Churche: ||who is the beginning, the fyrſt borne from the dead, that in all thinges he might haue the preeminence:

23 If ye continue grounded & ſtabliſhed in the faith, and be not mooued away from the hope of the Goſpel, which ye haue heard howe it is preached to euery creature which is vnder heauen, whereof I Paul am made a miniſter.

24 Nowe reioyce I in my ſufferinges for you, and fulfyl that which is behynde of the afflictions of Chriſte in my fleſhe, for his bodies ſake, which is the Churche,

PAul and Siluanus and Timotheus, vnto the Churche of the Thessalonians vvhiche is in a God the father, and in the Lord Iesus Chriſte, Grace be vnto you, and peace from God our father, and the Lorde Iesus Chriſte.

4 Knowyng, brethren beloued, your election of God.

5 For our Gospel came not vnto you in woord only, but also in power, and in the holy ghost, and in much certaintie, as ye knowe after what maner we were among you for your sake.

6 And ye became folowers of vs, and of the Lorde, hauing receiued the woord in much affliction, with b ioy of the holy ghost:

b. To beleeue, and to be fully perswaded to haue the giftes of ỹ holy ghost, and ioyfully to suffer for Christes sake, are most certayne signes of our election.

7 So that ye were an ensample to all that beleeue in Macedonia and Achaia.

8 For from you sounded out the woorde of the Lorde, not only in Macedonia and Achaia: but also in euery place your fayth to Godward is spread abrode, so that we needе not to speake any thing.

9 For they them selues shewe of you, what maner of entring in we had vnto you, and howe ye turned to God from images, to serue the liuing and true God:

¶ The ij. Chapter.

a. He commendeth his diligence in preachyng, 13. and theyrs in obeying.

FOr ye your selues, brethren, know our entraunce in vnto you, that it was not in a vayne:

a. Not in outwarde shewe, and in pompe, but in trauel, and in the feare of God.

2 || But euen after that we had suffered before, and were shamefully entreated as ye knowe at Philippos, we were bolde in our God, to speake vnto you the Gospel of God, in muche striuing.

||Actes.16.22

3 For our exhortation was not of deceit, neither of vncleannesse, neither in guile:

4 But as we were alowed of God to be put in credite with the Gospell, euen so we speake, not as pleasing men, but God, which tryeth our hartes.

5 For neither at any time vsed we flattering wordes, as ye knowe, neither cloke of couetousnesse, God is recorde,

6 Neither sought we prayse of men, neither of you, nor yet of others:

7 When we myght haue ben in "authoritie, as the apostles of Christe, but were tender among you, euen as a b nurse cherysheth her children.

"Or, a burden.

b. He humbled hym selfe to support al things without all respect of lucre: euen as the tender mother whiche nurseth her children, and thynketh no office to vyle for her childrens sake.

8 So, beyng tenderly affected towarde you, our good will was to haue dealt vnto you, not the Gospel of God onlye, but also our owne soules: because ye were deare vnto vs.

9 For ye remember, brethren, our labour and trauayle: || for we labouryng nyght and day, because we would not be chargeable vnto any of you, preached vnto you the Gospel of God.

c. For it is not possible to auoyde the reproche of the wycked, which euer hate good doynges.

11 And ye knowe howe that as a father his children, so we haue exhorted, comforted, and besought euery one of you,

12 That ye would walke worthy of God, || who hath called you vnto his kyngdome and glory.

||Ephes.4.1.

13 For this cause thanke we God also without ceassing, because when ye had receiued the word of God whiche ye heard of vs, ye receiued it not as the worde of men (but as it is in deede) the worde of GOD, whiche effectuously worketh also in you that beleeue.

14 For ye, brethren, became followers of the churches of God, whiche in Iurie are in Christ Iesus: for ye also haue suffred like thinges of your countreymen, as they haue of the Iewes:

15 Who both killed the Lord Iesus, and their owne prophets, and haue persecuted vs: and God they pleale not, and are contrary to d al men:

d. And would hinder al men from their saluation.

16 And hynder vs to speake to the Gentiles, that they might be saued, to fulfil their sinnes alway. For the wrath of God is come on them to the vttermost.

17 Forasmuch, brethren, as we are kept from you for a short season, in person, not in hart, || we enforced the more to see you personally with great desyre.

||Rom.1.11.

18 And therefore we would haue come vnto you (euen I Paul) once and agayne: but Satan hyndered vs.

19 For what is our hope, or ioy, or crowne of reioycyng? Are e not ye it in the presence of our Lorde Iesus Christe at his comming?

e. Therefore I coulde not forgeat you, except I woulde forgeat mee, selfe.

20 Yea, ye are our glory and ioy.

¶ The iij. Chapter.

a. He sheweth howe greatly he was affectioned towarde them, both in that he sent Timotheus to them, 10. and also prayed for them.

WHerefore, synce we coulde no longer forbeare, we thought it good to remaine at Athens alone:

2 || And sent Timotheus, our brother and minister of God, and felowe labourer in the Gospel of Christe, to stablishe you, and to comfort you concerning your fayth:

||Actes.16.1.

3 That no man shoulde be moued in these afflictions: For ye your selues knowe that we are appoynted therevnto.

4 For verily when we were with you, we tolde you before, that we shoulde suffer tribulation: euen as it came to passe, and as ye knowe.

5 For this cause when I a could no longer forbeare, I sent him to knowe your fayth, lest by some meanes the tempter had tempted you, and our labour had ben vayne.

a. His great affection towarde the sely flocke.

6 But nowe lately when Timotheus came from you vnto vs, and brought vs good tidinges of your fayth and charitie, and howe that ye haue good remembraunce of vs alwayes, desyryng greatly to see vs, as we also to see you:

7 Therefore, brethren, we were comforted ouer you, in al our aduersitie and necessitie, because of your fayth:

8 For nowe we b liue, yf ye stande fast in the Lorde.

b. If ye remaine constant in fayth & true doctrine, I shall thynke that all myne afflictions be so many pleasures, and shalbe restored from death to lyfe.

||Rom.1.18.

9 For what thankes can we recompence to God agayne for you, for al the ioy wherewith we ioy for your sakes before our God?

10 || Praying night and day exceedingly to see you personally, and repayre the wantinges of your fayth?

11 Nowe God him selfe, and our father, and our Lorde Jesus Christe, guide our way vnto you.

12 And the Lorde increase you, & make you abounde in charitie one toward another, and towarde al men, euen as we also towarde you:

13 To stablishe your hartes vnblameable ||in holinesse before God and our father, in the comming of our Lorde Jesus Christe with al his saintes.

||2.Cor.1.8.

¶ The iiii. Chapter.

1. He exhorteth them to holynesse, 6. and innocencie, 9. loue, 11. labour, 13. and moderation in lamentyng for the dead.

The Epistle on the .iii. sunday in Lent.

FUrthermore we beleeche you brethren, and exhort you by the Lorde Jesus, that ye encrease more and more, as ye haue receyued of vs, howe ye ought to walke and to please God.

2 For ye know what commaundements we gaue you by the Lorde Jesus.

3 For this is the wyl of God, euen your "holynesse, ||a that ye shoulde abstayne from fornication:

"Or, sanctification.

||Rom.12.1. Ephel.5.27.

a. That is, that ye shoulde dedicate your selues wholy to God.

4 That euery one of you shoulde knowe howe to possesse his vessell in holynesse and honour:

5 Not in the lust of concupiscence, euen as the Gentiles which knowe not God.

6 ||That no man oppresse and defraude his brother in any matter, because that the Lorde is the auenger of al suche, as we also haue forewarned you, and testified.

||1.Cor.6.8.

7 ||For God hath not called vs vnto vncleannesse, but into holynesse.

||1.Cor.1.2.

8 He therefore that despyseth, despyseth not man, but God, who hath also geuen to you his holy spirite.

9 ||But as touching brotherly loue, ye neede not that I wryte vnto you: for ye are taught of God to loue one another.

||John.13.34. 1.John.1.8.

10 Yea, and that thing verily ye doo vnto al the brethren which are in all Macedonia: but we beleeche you brethren, that ye encrease more and more:

11 And that ye study to be quiet, and to doo your owne busines, and to worcke with your owne handes, as we commaunded you:

12 That ye may walke honestly towarde them that are without, and that ye may haue lacke of nothyng.

b. He doeth not condemne al kynde of sorowe, but that whiche proceedeth of infidelitie.

13 But I woulde not haue you to be ignorant, brethren, concernyng them whiche sleepe, that ye b sorowe not, euen as other which haue no hope.

14 For if we beleeue that Jesus dyed, and rose agayne, euen so them also whiche sleepe by Jesus, wyl God bryng with hym.

15 For this we say vnto you in the woorde of the Lorde: that we which ||lyue, whiche remayne vnto the comming of the Lorde, shal not preuent them whiche sleepe.

||1.Co.15.51

16 ||For the Lorde him selfe shall discende from heauen in a shout, and in the voyce of the Archangel, ||and in the trumpe of God: and the dead in Christ shal ryse fyrst.

||Mat.24.31. ||1.Co.15.52

17 Then we whiche lyue, whiche remaine, shalbe caught vp togeather with them in the cloudes, to meete the Lord in the ayre: and so shal we euer be with the Lorde.

18 Wherefore comfort your selues one another in these woordes.

¶ The v. Chapter.

He enformeth them of the day of iudgement, and commyng of the Lorde.

BUt of the times and seasons, brethren, ye haue no neede that I wryte vnto you.

2 ||For ye your selues knowe perfectly that the day of the Lorde so commeth, euen as a theefe in the nyght.

||Mat.24.44. 2.Pet.3.10. Apoc.3.3.

3 For when they shal say peace & safetie: then sodaynely destruction commeth vpon them, a as sorowe vpon a woman with childe, and they shall not escape in any wyse.

a. That is, sodenly and vnlooked for.

4 But ye brethren are not in darknesse, lest that day should ouertake you, as a theefe.

5 Ye are al the children of lyght, and the children of the day: We are not of the nyght, neyther of darknesse.

6 Therefore let vs not b sleepe, as doo other: but let vs watche, and be sober.

b. Here sleepe is taken for contempt of saluation, when men continue in sinnes, and wyl not awake to godlinesse.

7 For they that sleepe, sleepe in the nyght: and they that be dronken, are dronken in the nyght.

8 But let vs which are of the day, be sober, ||putting on the brest plate of fayth and charitie, and a helmet, the hope of saluation.

||Esai.59.17 Ephes.6.17.

9 For God hath not appointed vs to wrath: but to obteyne saluation by our Lord Jesus Christe, 10 Which dyed for vs, that whether we wake or sleepe, we shoulde lyue togeather with hym.

11 Wherefore, comfort your selues togeather, and edifie euery one another, euen as ye doo.

12 And we beleeche you, brethren, to knowe them which labour among you, and haue the ouersyght of you in the Lorde, and admonishe you:

13 That ye haue them in hygh reputation, in loue for their woorke: and be at peace among among your selues.

14 We exhort you, brethren, warne them that are vnruly, comfort the feeble minded, lift vp the weake, be patient towarde all men.

‖Math.5.44. 15 ‖See that none recompence euill for euill vnto any man: but euer followe that which is good, both among your selues, and to all men.

16 Reioyce euer.

21 Examine all thinges: hold fast that which is good.

22 Abstayne from al appearance of euill.

23 And the very God of peace sanctifie you throughout, And I pray God that your whole spirite, and soule, and body, may be preserued blamelesse in the comming of our Lorde Iesus Christe.

24 ‖ Faithfull is he whiche called you, whiche wyl also doo it. ‖1 Cor.1.9

25 Brethren, pray for vs.

26 Greete all the brethren in an holy kysse.

27 I charge you in the Lorde, that this Epistle be read vnto all the holy brethren.

28 The grace of our Lord Iesus Christ be with you, Amen.

¶ The first Epistle vnto the Thessalonians, written from Athens.

¶ The seconde Epistle of Saint Paul the Apostle to the Thessalonians.

¶ The fyrst Chapter.

2. He thanketh God for theyr fayth, loue, and patience. 11. He prayeth for the encrease of the same, 12. and sheweth what fruite shal come thereof.

PAul and Siluanus, and Timotheus, vnto the Churche of the Thessalonians, in God our father, and the Lorde Iesus Christe:

2 Grace vnto you, and peace from God our father, and the Lorde Iesus Christe.

‖1.Thes.1.2. 3 ‖We are bounde to thanke GOD alwayes for you, brethren, as it is meete, because that your fayth groweth exceedyngly, and the charitie of euery one of you towardes another aboundeth:

a. Which proceedeth of your fayth as a most notable fruite.

4 So that we our selues reioyce in you in the Churches of God, for your a patience and fayth in al your persecutions and tribulations that ye suffer.

b. The faythful by theyr afflictions, see as in a cleare glasse, the ende of Gods iust iudgement, when as they shal raigne with Christe which haue suffered with him: and the wicked shal feele his extreme wrath and vengeance. 5 Whiche is a b token of the righteous iudgement of God, that ye may be counted woorthie of the kyngdome of God, for which ye also suffer.

6 For it is a righteous thing with God, to recompence tribulation to them that trouble you:

7 And to you whiche are troubled, rest with vs, in the reuelation of the Lorde Iesus from heauen, with the angels of his power,

8 In flamyng fyre, rendryng vengeance vnto them that knowe not God, and that obey not the Gospell of our Lorde Iesus Christe,

9 Which shalbe punished with euerlasting damnation from the presence of the Lorde, and from the glory of his power:

10 When he shall come to be glorified in his saintes, and to be made marueylous in all them that beleeue (because our testimonie towarde you was beleeued) in that day.

11 Wherefore also we pray alwayes for you, that our God woulde make you woorthy of the callyng, and fulfyll all good pleasure of goodnesse in the c woorke of fayth in power:

c. Fayth is Gods wonderful worke in vs.

12 That the name of our Lorde Iesus Christ may be glorified in you, and ye in him, accordyng to the grace of our GOD, and the Lorde Iesus Christ.

¶ The.ii. Chapter.

3. He sheweth them that the day of the Lord shal not come, tyll the departyng of the fayth come first. 9. and the kingdome of Anti-Christ, 15. and therfore he exhorteth them not to be deceyued, but to stand stedfast in the thynges that he hath taught them.

WE beseech you, brethren, by the comming of our Lorde Iesus Christe, and by our assemblyng vnto hym,

2 That ye be not sodaynely moued from your mynde, nor be troubled, neyther by a spirite, nor by woorde, nor yet by letter,

2. As false reuelations or dreames.

as from vs, as though the day of Christe were at hand.

‖Ephe.5.6. 3 ‖ Let no man deceiue you by any meanes, for the Lorde shall not come, except there come a falling away first, and that that man of sinne be reuealed, the sonne of b perdition.

b. Who as he destroyeth other, shall be destroyed hym selfe.

4 Whiche is an aduersarie, and is exalted aboue all that is called God, or that is worshipped: so that he as God sitteth in the temple of God, shewyng him selfe that he is God.

5 Remember ye not, that when I was yet with you, I tolde you these thinges?

6 And nowe ye knowe what withholdeth, that he might be reuealed in his tyme.

7 For the mysterie of iniquitie doth alredy worke, only he which now letteth wyl let, vntill he be taken out of the way.

8 And then shal that wicked be reuealed, ‖Esai.11.4. ‖ whom the Lord shal consume with the spirite of his mouth, and shall destroy with the brightnesse of his comming:

9 Euen hym whose comming is after the working of Satan, in all power and signes, and wonders of lying,

10 And in al deceyuablenesse of vnrighteousnesse, in them that perishe: because they receiued not the loue of the trueth, that they might be saued.

11 And therefore God shall sende them strong delusion, that they shoulde beleeue lyes:

12 That all they might be damned which beleeued not the trueth, but had pleasure in vnrighteousnesse.

13 But we are bounde to geue thankes alway to God for you, brethren, beloued of the Lorde, because that God hath from the beginnyng chosen you to saluation, in sanctifying of the spirite, & in fayth of the trueth.

14 Whereunto he called you by our Gospel, to the obteynyng of the glory of the Lord Iesus Christe.

15 Therefore brethren stande fast, and holde the ordinaunces whiche ye haue ben taught, whether it were by our preachyng, or by our Epistle.

16 Our Lorde Iesus Christe, and God and our father whiche hath loued vs, & hath geuen vs euerlastyng consolation, and good hope in grace, 17 Comfort your hartes, and stablyshe you in al good saying and doyng.

¶ The.iij. Chapter.

He desyreth them to pray for hym, that the Gospel may prosper.

FVrthermore brethren, ‖ pray ye for vs, ‖Ephes.6.19. Colos.4.3. that the worde of the Lorde may haue free passage, and be glorified, euen as with you:

2 And that we may be deliuered from disordered and euyl men: For al men haue not a fayth.

a. Although they boast them selues thereof.

3 But the Lorde is faythful, which shal stablyshe you, and keepe you from euyl.

4 And we haue confidence in the Lorde to youwarde, that ye both do, and wyl do the thynges whiche we commaunde you.

5 And the Lorde guide your hartes to the loue of God, and to the pacient waytyng for Christe.

6 We commaunde you, brethren, in the name of our Lord Iesus Christ, that ye withdraw your selues from euery brother that walketh inordinately, and not after the b institution which he receiued of vs.

b. Which is to trauayle yf he wyl eate. ‖1.Cor.11.1. ‖ 1.Thess.4.11. ‖ Act.20.34. 1.Thess.2.9.

9 Not because we haue not authoritie, but to make our selues an ensample vnto you to folowe vs.

10 For when we were with you, this we warned you of, that yf any would not worke, the same shoulde not eate.

11 For we heare that there are some which walke among you inordinately, working not at all, but be busibodyes.

12 Them that are such, we commaund, and exhort by our Lorde Iesus Christe, that they working in quietnesse, eate their owne bread.

13 And ye, ‖ brethren, be not weery in well doyng. ‖ Galat.6.9.

15 Yet count hym not as an c enmie, but warne hym as a brother.

c. The end of excommunication, is, not to dryue from the Church such as haue fallen, but to win them to the Churche by amendement.

16 Nowe the very Lorde of peace, geue you peace alwayes, by al meanes. The Lord be with you al.

The .j. Epiſtle of S. Paul the Apoſtle vnto Timothie.

¶ The firſt Chapter.

He exhorteth Timothie to vvayte vpon his office, namely to ſee that nothyng be taught but Gods vvoorde.

PAul the Apoſtle of Ieſus Chriſt, by the commiſſion of God our ſauiour, and Lord Ieſus Chriſte vvhich is our hope,

2 Vnto || Timothie a naturall a ſonne in the fayth: Grace, mercy, and peace from God our father, and Ieſus Chriſt our Lorde.

3 As I beſought thee to abyde ſtyl at Epheſus, when I departed into Macedonia, ſo do that thou commaund ſome that they teach no other doctrine:

4 Neither geue heede to fables, and endleſſe genealogies, whiche breede queſtions, more then godly edifiyng, whiche is in fayth.

5 But the b ende of the commaundement, is charitie out of a pure hart, and of a good conſcience, and of fayth vnfaigned.

6 From the which thyngs, ſome hauing erred, haue turned vnto vayne iangelyng:

7 Couetyng to be doctours of the lawe, not vnderſtanding what they ſpeake, neyther whereof they affyrme.

8 But we knowe that the lawe is good, yf a man vſe it lawfully:

9 Knowyng this, that the lawe is not geuen vnto a righteous man, but vnto the lawleſſe and diſobedient, to the vngodly, and to ſynners, to vnholy, and vncleane, to murderers of fathers, and murderers of mothers, to manſlears,

10 To whoremongers, to them that defyle them ſelues with mankynde, to manſtealers, to lyers, to periured, and yf there be any other thyng that is contrary to wholeſome doctrine:

11 Accordyng to the Goſpel of the glory of the bleſſed God, whiche is committed vnto me.

12 And I thanke Chriſt Ieſus our lord, whiche hath made me ſtrong: for he counted me faithful, puttyng me into the miniſterie, 13 Who was before a blaſphemer, and an oppreſſour: But yet I obteyned mercie, becauſe I did it c ignorantly, in vnbeleefe.

14 Neuertheleſſe, the grace of our lord was exceedyng abundant, with fayth, and loue, whiche is in Chriſte Ieſus.

15 This is a faythful ſaying, and by al meanes worthy to be receiued, || that Chriſt Ieſus came into the worlde to ſaue ſynners, of whom I am cheefe. || Mat. 9.13. Mar. 2.17.

16 Notwithſtanding, for this cauſe was mercy ſhewed vnto me, that in me the fyrſte, Ieſus Chriſte might ſhewe al long ſuffryng, to the example of them whiche ſhoulde beleeue on him to lyfe euerlaſtyng.

17 d Nowe vnto the kyng euerlaſting, incorruptible, inuiſible, vnto God only wiſe, be honour and glorie for euer and euer. Amen.

18 This commaundement commit I vnto thee ſonne Timotheus, accordyng to the prophecies whiche went before vpon thee, that thou in them ſhouldeſt fyght a good fyght:

2. He declareth vvhat is the office of Ministers, 11. and as touchyng theyr familes. 15. The dignitie of the Church, 16. and the principall poynt of the heauenly doctrine.

THIS IS a faithful saying: Yf a man desyre the office of a Bishop, he desyreth a good woorke.

‖ Tit.1.6. 2 ‖ A Bishop therefore must be blameles, the husbande of one wyfe, watchyng, sober, comely apparelled, a louer of hospitalitie, apt to teache,

3 Not geuen to ouermuch wine, no striker, not greedy of filthy lucre: but gentle, abhorryng fyghting, abhorryng couetousnesse:

4 One that ruleth wel his owne house, hauing chyldren in subiection with al grauitie.

5 (For yf a man knowe not to rule his owne house, how shall he care for the Church of God?)

6 Not a yong scoller, lest he, beyng puffed vp, a fal into the condemnation of the deuyll.

7 He must also haue a good report of them whiche are without, lest he fall into the rebuke and snare of the deuyll.

8 Lykewyse must the " ministers be graue, not double tongued, not geuē to much wine, neyther greedy of filthy lucre:

9 b Holdyng the mysterie of the fayth in a pure conscience.

10 And let them firste be proued, then let them minister, being blameles.

11 Euen so must their wyues be graue, not euil speakers, sober, faithful in al things.

12 Let the deacons be the husbandes of one wyfe, and such as can rule their chyldren well, and their owne housholdes.

13 For they that haue ministred well, get them selues a good degree, and great libertie to speake in the fayth which is in Christe Iesus.

14 These thynges wryte I vnto thee, hopyng to come shortly vnto thee:

15 But yf I tarry long, that thou mayest know how thou oughtest to behaue thee selfe in the house of God, which is the church of the lyuyng God, the pyller and" ground of the trueth.

" Or, stay.

16 And without doubt, great is that mysterie of godlynesse: God was shewed manifestly in the flesh, was iustified in the spirit, was seene among the angels, was preached vnto the Gentiles, was beleeued on in the worlde, and was receiued vp in glory.

5 For it is sanctified by the woorde of God, and prayer.

6 If thou put the brethren in remembrance of these thinges, thou shalt be a good minister of Iesus Christe, whiche hast been nourished vp in the woordes of fayth, and of good doctrine, whiche thou hast continually folowed.

¶ The.ij.Epistle of Saint Paul to Timothie.

The first Chapter.

Paul exhorteth Timotheus to stedfastnesse and pacience in persecution, and to continue in the doctrine that he had taught hym.

PAul an Apostle of Jesus Christe by the wyll of god, a according to the promise of lyfe, which is in Christe Jesus.

2 To Timothie my dearely beloued sonne: grace, mercy, and peace from God the father, and Christe Jesus our Lorde.

3 I thanke God, ||whom I worship frō my forefathers in pure conscience, that without ceassing I haue remembrance of thee in my prayers nyght and day,

4 Greatly desyring to see thee, beyng myndfull of thy teares, that I may be fylled with ioy.

5 When I cal to remembrance the vnfayned fayth that is in thee, which dwelt first in thy graundmother Lois, and in thy mother Eunice, and I am assured that it dwelleth in thee also.

6 Wherfore I put thee in remembrance that thou b styre vp the gyft of GOD, whiche is in thee, by the puttyng on of my handes.

7 For God hath not geuē to vs the spirite of feare, but of power, and of loue, and of a sounde mynde.

8 Be not thou therefore ashamed of the testimonie of our Lorde, neyther of me his prisoner, but suffer thou aduersitie with the Gospel, accordyng to the power of God,

9 Who hath ‖ saued vs, and called vs with an holy callyng, not accordyng to our workes: but accordyng to his owne purpose and grace, whiche was geuen vs in Christe Iesus, ‖ before the worlde began:

10 But is nowe made manifest by the appearyng of our sauiour Iesus Christ, who hath put away death, and hath brought lyfe and immortalitie vnto lyght through the gospell:

11 ‖ Wherunto I am appoynted a preacher, and an Apostle, and a teacher of the Gentiles.

12 For the whiche cause I also suffer these thynges, neuertheles, I am not ashamed, for I know whom I haue beleeued, and I am perswaded that he is able to keepe that whiche I haue committed to hym agaynst that day.

13 See thou haue the paterne of wholesome wordes, which thou hast heard of me in fayth and loue, that is in Christe Iesus.

14 That ᵉ good thyng whiche was committed to thy keepyng, holde fast through the holy ghost which dwelleth in vs.

¶ The .ii. Chapter.

He exhorteth hym to be constant in trouble, to suffer manly, to abyde fast in the wholesome doctrine of our Lord Iesus Christ.

THou therefore my sonne, be strong in the grace that is in Christe Iesus.

2 And the thynges that thou hast heard of me by many witnesses, the same commit thou to faythfull men, whiche shalbe apt to teache other also.

3 Thou therefore suffer afflictions as a good souldier of Iesus Christe.

4 No man that warreth, entangleth hym selfe with the affayres of this lyfe, that he may please hym which hath chosen hym to be a souldier.

5 And yf a man also wrestle, yet is he not crowned, except he wrestle lawfully.

6 The labourynge husbandman ᵃ must fyrst be partaker of the fruites.

7 Consyder what I say: and the Lorde geue thee vnderstandyng in all thynges.

8 Remember that Iesus Christe, of the seede of Dauid, was raysed from the dead, accordyng to my Gospel:

9 Wherein I suffer trouble as an euyll doer, euen vnto bondes: but the worde of God is not bounde.

10 Therfore I suffer all thynges for the electes sakes, that they myght also obteyne the saluation which is in Christ Iesus, with eternall glorie.

11 It is a faythful saying: ‖ for yf we be dead with hym, we shall also lyue with hym:

12 If we be patient, we shal also raigne with hym: ‖ yf we deny hym, he also shall deny vs:

13 ‖ Yf we be vnfaythfull, he abydeth faythfull, he can not deny hym selfe.

14 Of these thinges put them in remembrance, testifie before the Lord, that they stryue not about wordes to no profite, but to the peruertyng of the hearers.

15 Studie to shewe thee selfe approued vnto God, a workeman not to be ashamed, rightly diuiding the worde of truth.

16 But prophane voyces of vanitie passe ouer: for they wyll encrease vnto greater vngodlynesse.

17 And their worde shal fret as doeth a canker: of whom is Hymeneus & Philetus, 18 Which about the trueth haue "erred, saying that the resurrectiō is past alredy, and do ouerthrowe the fayth of some.

19 But the strong fundation of GOD standeth styl, hauing this seale, ᵇ The Lord knoweth them that are his: and, Let euery one that nameth the name of Christe, depart from iniquitie.

20 But in a great house are not onely vessels of golde, and of syluer, but also of wood and of earth: some to honour, and some vnto dishonour.

21 Yf a man therefore purge hym selfe from these, he shalbe a vessell sanctified vnto honour, and meete for the vse of the Lorde, and prepared vnto euery good worke.

22 Lustes of youth auoyde: but folowe righteousnesse, fayth, charitie, peace, ‖ with them that cal on the Lord out of a pure hart.

24 And the seruant of the Lorde must not stryue: but be gentle vnto all men, apt to teache, sufferyng euyll.

25 In meekenesse instructyng them which are c contrary minded, yf God at any time wyl gyue them repentance, to the knowledge of the trueth:

26 And that they may come to them selues agayne, out of the snare of the deuyll, which are "taken c captiue of hym at his wyl.

2 And to our dearely beloued Apphia, and to Archippus our felow souldier, and to the Church in thy house:

3 ‖ Grace to you, and peace from God our father, and the Lorde Jesus Christe.

‖ 1. Cor. 1. 2. 2. Cor. 1. 3. Galat. 1. 3.

4 I thanke my God, making mention alwayes of thee in my prayers,

5 Hearing of thy loue and faith whiche thou hast towarde the Lorde Jesus, and toward al saintes:

6 That the a felowship of thy faith may be effectuall in the knowledge of euery good worke which is in you toward Christ Jesus.

7 For we haue great ioy and consolation in thy loue, because the bowels b of the saintes are refreshed by thee, brother.

8 Wherefore, though I might be much bolde in Christe, to enioyne thee that whiche is conuenient.

9 Yet for loues sake, I rather beseeche thee, being such a one as Paul the aged, and nowe also a prisoner of Jesus Christe.

10 I beseeche thee for my sonne ‖ Onesimus, whom I haue begotten in my bondes:

‖ Collos. 4. 9.

11 Which in time passed was to thee vnprofitable, but now profitable to thee & to me,

12 Whō I haue sent againe: thou therfore receiue him, that is, mine owne bowels,

13 Whom I would haue reteyned with me, that in thy steede he might haue ministred vnto me in the bondes of the Gospel:

14 But without thy minde would I do nothing, that thy benefite should not be as it were of necessitie, but wyllingly.

15 For happily he therefore departed for a season, that thou shouldest receiue him for euer:

16 Not nowe as a seruant, but aboue a seruant, a brother beloued, specially to me: but howe much more vnto thee, both in the flesshe, and in the Lorde?

17 If thou count me therefore a felowe, receiue him as me selfe.

18 If he haue iniured thee, or oweth thee ought that lay to my charge.

19 I Paul haue written it with myne owne hand, I wyl recompence it: albeit, I doo not say to thee howe thou owest vnto me euen thine owne selfe besides.

20 Yea brother, let me enioy this [b] pleasure of thee in the Lord: comfort my [c] bowels in the Lorde.

[b] Or, fruite. [c] Graunt me this benefite, whiche shalbe most acceptable vnto me & all other.

21 Trusting in thine obedience, I wrote vnto thee, knowyng that thou wylt also doo more then I say.

22 Moreouer, prepare me also a lodging: for I trust that through your prayers I shalbe geuen vnto you.

23 There salute thee Epaphras my felowe prisoner d in Christe Jesus,

d. That is, for Christes cause.

24 Marcus, Aristarcus, Demas, Lucas, my felowe labourers.

25 The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirite. Amen.

The Epistle of Saint Paul the Apostle to the Hebrues.

¶ The first Chapter.

1. He sheweth the excellencie of Christ, 4. aboue the angels. 7. and of their office.

The Epistle on Christmas day.

GOd which in time past, at sundry times, and in diuers manners spake vnto the fathers in the prophetes,

2 Hath in these a last daies spoken vnto vs in y sonne, whom he hath appointed heire of al things, by whom also he made the worlds.

a. So that now we haue no credite in any newe reuelations after hym.

3 ‖ Who being the brightnesse of the glory, & the very image of his substance, vpholding all things with the woord of his power, hauing by him self purged our sinnes, [a] hath sit on the right hand of the maiestie on high.

‖ Collos. 1. 15. Sapi. 7. 26.

[a] Or, sate.

4 Being so muche more excellent then the angels, as he hath by inheritance obteyned a more excellent name then they.

5 For vnto which of the angels saide he at any time, ‖ Thou art my sonne, this b day haue I begotten thee?

‖Psal.2.7.
b. Because he was at the time appoynted declared to the worlde.

6 And againe, I wil be to him a father, and he shalbe to me a sonne? And againe when he bringeth in the first begotten sonne into the worlde, he saith, ‖ And let all the angels of God worship him.

‖Psal.97.7.

‖Psal.104.4.

7 And vnto the angels he saith, ‖ He maketh his angels c spirites, and his ministers a flame of fyre:

c. He compareth the angels to the windes, which are here beneath as gods messengers.

8 But vnto the sonne he sayth, Thy seate, O God, shalbe for euer and euer: the scepter of thy kingdome is a scepter of righteousnesse.

9 Thou hast loued righteousnesse, and hated iniquitie: therefore GOD, euen thy God, hath annoynted thee with the oyle of gladnesse aboue thy felowes.

10 ‖ And, thou Lorde in the beginning hast laid the fundation of the earth, and the heauens are the worckes of thy handes:

‖Psa.102.26

11 They shal perishe, but thou endurest: and they al shal waxe old as doth a garment,

12 And as a vesture shalt thou fold them vp, and they shalbe chaunged: but thou art the same, and thy yeres shal not faile.

13 But vnto which of the angels saide he at any time, ‖ Sit on my right hande, till I make thine enimies thy footestoole?

‖Psal.110.1. 1.Co.15.25.

14 Are they not all ministring spirites, sent forth into ministerie for their sakes which shalbe heires of saluation?

¶ The.ii. Chapter.

He exhorteth vs to be obedient vnto the newe lawe, which Christ hath geuen vs.

WHerefore we ought to geue the more earnest heede to the thinges whiche we haue heard: lest at any a time we should let them slippe.

a. We must diligently keepe in memorie, the doctrine which we haue learned, lest lyke vessels full of chaps, we leake and runne out on euery part.

2 For yf the b worde spoken by angels, was stedfast, and euery transgression and disobedience receiued a iust recompence of rewarde:

b. As the Gospel is, whiche only offereth saluation.

3 How shall we escape yf we neglect so great saluation? whiche at the fyrst began to be preached of the Lorde, and was confyrmed vnto vsward by them that heard it, ‖Mar.16.20.

4 ‖ God bearing witnesse thereto both with signes and woonders also, and with diuers powers, and giftes of the holy ghost, according to his owne wyl.

5 For vnto the angels hath he not put in subiection the worlde to come, whereof we speake.

6 But one in a certaine place witnessed, saying, ‖ What is man, that thou art mindfull of him? or the sonne of man, that thou visitest him?

‖Psal.7.5.

7 Thou madest him for a litle whyle lower then the angels, thou hast crowned him with c glory and honour, and ‖ hast set him aboue the woorkes of thy handes.

c. In making him felow heire with Christe.

‖1.Co.15.17

8 Thou hast put all thinges in subiection vnder his feete. In that he put al things vnder him, he left nothing that is not put vnder him. But nowe we see not yet all thinges put vnder him.

9 ‖ But him that for a whyle was made lesse then the angels, we see that it was Iesus, who through the suffering of death, was crowned with glory & honour, that he by the grace of God, should taste of death for all.

‖Phi.1.8.

10 For it became him, for whom are all thinges, and by whom are all thinges, after he had brought many sonnes vnto glory, that he should make the captaine of their saluation perfect through afflictions.

11 For both he that sanctifieth, & they whiche are sanctified are al of one: for which cause, he is not ashamed to call them brethren, 12 Saying, ‖ I wyll declare thy name vnto my brethren, in the middes of ỹ Church wyl I prayse thee.

‖Psal.22.23.

13 And againe, I wyll put my trust in him. And againe, Beholde here am I, and the children which God hath geuen me.

14 Forasmuch then as the children are partakers of flesshe & blood, he also him selfe likewyse tooke part with them, ‖ that through death, he might expell him that hadde lordship ouer death, that is the deuil:

‖Osee.13.14. 1.Co.15.54.

15 And that he might deliuer them which through feare of death, were all their lyfe time in danger of bondage.

16 For he in no place taketh on him the d angels: but the seede of Abraham taketh he on him.

d. Not the nature of angels, but of men.

17 Wherefore in all thinges it became him to be made like vnto his brethren, that he might be mercifull, and a faythful high priest in thinges concernyng GOD, for to purge the peoples sinnes.

18 For in that he him selfe suffered, and was tempted, he is able to succour them that are tempted.

¶ The.iii. Chapter.

1. He requireth them to be obedient vnto the worde of Christ, 3. who is more worthy then Moses.

WHerefore holy brethren, partakers of the celestial calling, e consyder the apostle and high priest of our profession Christe Iesus,

e. Take heede to his woordes, and heare him.

2 Being faythfull to him that appointed him, as also ‖ Moses was faythfull in all his ‖Num.12.7.

his house.

3 For this man was counted worthy of more glorye then Moses, inasmuche as he which hath builded the house, hath more honour then the house.

4 For euery house is builded of some man, but he that builded al things, is God.

5 And Moses verely was faithfull in al his house, as a seruant, for a witnesse of those thinges whiche were to be spoken after:

6 But Christ as a sonne hath rule ouer his owne house: b whose house are we, yf we hold fast the confidence and the reioycing of that hope vnto the ende.

7 Wherefore, as the holy ghost sayth, || To day yf ye wyl heare his voyce,

8 Harden not your hartes, as in the prouocation in the day of temptation in the wildernesse:

9 Where your fathers tempted me, proued me, and saw my woorkes fourtie yeeres.

10 Wherefore I was greeued with this generation, and said, They do alway erre in hart, they verily haue not knowē my wayes.

11 So that I sware in my wrath, c If they shal enter into my rest.

12 Take heede brethren, lest at any time there be in any of you an euyll hart of vnbeleefe, to depart from the liuing God:

13 But exhort ye one another dayly, while it is called to day: lest any of you be hardened through the deceitfulnesse of sinne.

14 For we are made partakers of Christ, if we keepe sure vnto the ende d the begynning of the substance.

15 "So long as it is sayd, || To day yf ye will heare his voyce, harden not your hartes, as in the prouocation.

16 For some when they had hearde, did prouoke *: howbeit, not al that came out of Egypt by Moses.

17 But with whom was he displeased fourtie yeeres? Not with them that had sinned, whose carkasses fel in the desart?

18 And to whom sware he that they should not enter into his rest, but vnto them that were not obedient?

19 And we see that they could not enter in, because of vnbeleefe.

b. For in obeying the sonne, we are made the house of God.

||Psal.95.8.

c. Here note the Hebrue phrase, meaning that they shall not enter.

d. Whiche is, by fayth to imbrace and hold fast the true doctrine of Iesus Christe.

"or, vvhyle.

*the Lorde.

||Psal.95.8.

¶ The.iiii. Chapter.

2. The vvoord vvithout fayth is vnprofitable. 3. The sabboth or rest of the Christian. 6. Punyshment of vnbelesers. 12. The nature of the vvorde of God.

LEt vs feare therefore, lest at any tyme by forsaking the promise of entring into his rest, any of you shoulde seeme to be defrauded.

2 For vnto vs was the Gospel preached, as wel as vnto them: but the woorde whiche they hearde, did not profite them, not beyng coupled with faith to them that hearde.

3 For we which haue beleeued, do enter into his rest, as he said, || Euen as I haue swoorne in my wrath, yf a they shal enter into my rest: although the woorkes were made perfect from the fundation of the worlde.

4 For he spake in a certaine place of the seuenth day on this wyse: || And God dyd rest the seuenth day from al his woorkes.

5 And in this place agayne, If they shal enter into my rest.

6 Seeing therefore it foloweth that some must enter thereinto, and they to whom the Gospel was first preached entred not therein for vnbeleefe.

7 Againe, he appoynteth a certaine day, by to day, saying in Dauid after so long a time, (as it is sayd) ||To day yf ye wil heare his voyce, harden not your hartes.

8 For yf b Iesus had geuen them rest, then woulde he not afterwarde haue spoken of another day.

9 There remayneth therefore yet a rest to the people of God.

10 For he that is entred into his rest, hath ceassed also from his owne woorkes, as God dyd from his.

11 Let vs studie therefore to enter into that rest, lest any man fal "after the same example of disobedience.

12 For the woorde of God is quicke and myghtie in operation, and sharper then any two edged swoorde, and entreth through euen vnto the diuidyng asunder of the c soule and the d spirite, and of the ioyntes and the marowe, and is a discerner of the thoughtes and of the intentes of the hart.

13 Neyther is there any creature that is not manifest in the sight of him: but all thynges are naked and open vnto the eyes of hym of whom we speake.

14 Seeyng then that we haue a great hygh priest, whiche is entred into heauens, Iesus the sonne of God, let vs holde fast this confession.

15 For we haue not an high priest whiche can not be touched with the feelyng of our infirmities: but was in al poynts tempted like as we are, and yet without sinne.

16 Let vs therefore come boldly vnto the throne of grace, that we may obteyne mercy, and fynde grace to helpe in tyme of neede.

a. Although that God by his rest after the creation of his works, signified the spiritual rest of the faithful: yet he sware to geue rest in Chanaan, which was but a figure of the heauenly rest, & dured but for a tyme.

||Gen.2.5.

||Psal.95.8.

b. By Iesus, is meant Iosua.

"or, into.

c. Where the affections are.

d. Which conteyneth wyl & reason.

¶ The.v. Chapter.

He compareth Iesus Christ vvith the Leuitical priests, shevving vvherin they eyther agree, or dissent.

FOr euery high priest taken from among men, is ordeyned for men, in things pertey-nyng to God, to offer a gyftes, and sacrifices for sinne:

a. He sheweth that man can haue none accesse to God, without an high priest, because that of hym selfe he is prophane and vnclene.

2 Which can sufficiently haue compassion on the ignorant, and on them that erre out of the way, forasmuche as he him selfe also is compassed with infirmitie.

3 And for the same infirmitie he is bound to offer for sinnes, aswel for him selfe, as for the people.

4 And no man taketh the honour vnto hym selfe, but he that is called of God, || as was Aaron.

||1.Ch.23.13

5 Euen so, Christ also glorified not him selfe to be made the high priest: but he that sayde vnto hym, || Thou art my sonne, to day I haue begotten thee, gaue it hym.

||Psal.2.7.

6 As he sayth also in another place, || Thou art a priest for euer, after the order of Melchisedech.

||Psal.110.4

7 Which in the dayes of his flesshe, when he had offered vp prayers and supplications, with b strong crying and teares, vnto hym that was able to saue him from death, and was heard in that which he c feared:

b. He meaneth the most earnest prayer whiche Christe prayed in the garden where he sweat drops of blood.

c. Beyng in perplexitie, and fearing the horrours of death.

8 Though he were the sonne, yet learned he obedience, by these things whiche he suffered.

9 And being perfect, was made the auctour of eternal saluation vnto al them that obey hym:

10 And is called of God an high priest after the order of Melchisedech.

11 Of whom we haue many thinges to say, and harde to be vttered, seeing ye are dul of hearyng.

12 For when as concerning the time, ye ought to be teachers, yet haue ye neede agayne that we teache you the first principles of the beginning of the woorde of God, and are become suche as haue neede of mylke, and not of strong meate.

13 For euery one that vseth mylke, is vnexpert of the woorde of ryghteousnesse, for he is a babe.

14 But strong meate belongeth to them that are perfect, euen those which by reason of vse, haue their wyts exercised to discerne both good and euyl.

The. vi. Chapter.

1. He proceedeth in reprouyng them, and exhorteth them not to faynt, 13. but to be stedfast and patient, 18. forasmuche as God is sure in his promise.

THerefore leauing the doctrine of the beginning a of Christe, let vs goe forth vnto perfection, not laying agayne the fundation of repentance from dead workes, and of fayth towarde God, a. Whereby it may appeare, that you are fully perswaded of life euerlasting.

2 Of the doctrine of Baptismes, and of laying on of handes, and of resurrection of the dead, and of eternal iudgement.

3 And this wyl we do, yf God permyt.

4 || For it can not be that they whiche were once lighted, and haue tasted of the heauenly gift, and were become partakers of the holy ghost,

||Mat.12.45 2.Pet.2.20.

5 And haue tasted of the good woorde of God, and the powers of the worlde to come:

6 And they fal away, shoulde be renued agayne into repentance, crucifying to them selues the sonne of God a fresshe, and making a mocke of him.

7 For the earth which hath dronken in the rayne that commeth oft vpon it, & bryngeth foorth hearbes, meete for them by whom also it is tylled, receiueth blessyng of God:

8 But that grounde whiche beareth thornes and bryers, is reprooued, and is nigh vnto cursyng, whose ende is to be burned.

9 Neuertheless, deare freendes, we are perswaded better thinges of you, and thynges which accompany saluation, though we thus speake.

10 For GOD is not vnrighteous, to forgeat your worke and labour of loue, whiche ye haue shewed towarde his name, hauyng ministred to the saintes, and do minister.

11 Yea, and we desyre that euery one of you do shewe the same diligence, to the full assurance of hope vnto the ende, 12 That ye faynt not, but be folowers of b them, whiche through fayth and patience inherite the promises.

b. As the holy fathers, prophetes, & martyrs, that were before vs.

13 For when God made the promise to Abraham, because he coulde sweare by no greater, he sware by him selfe,

14 Saying, || Surely, blessyng, I wil blesse thee, and multiplying, I wyll multiplie thee.

||Gene. 12.2.

15 And so after that he had tarryed patiently, he obteyned the promise.

16 For men verily sweare by the greater, and an othe of confyrmation, is to them an ende of al stryfe.

17 Wherin God willing more c abundantly to shewe vnto the heyres of promyse the stablenesse of his counsayle, confyrmed by an othe:

c. Because of mans wickednesse, whiche wil not beleeue God, except he sweare.

18 That by d two immutable things, in which it was impossible for god to lye, we might haue a strong consolation, which haue fled to holde fast the hope layde before vs:

d. Gods word & othe, are two thinges in hym vnchangeable.

19 Which hope we holde as an anker of the soule both sure and stedfast, an entryng into that thing which is within the daile:

20 Whyther the forerunner is for vs entred, euen Iesus, after the order of Melchisedech made a priest for euer.

¶ The. vii. Chapter.

He compareth the priesthood of Christ vnto Melchisedech, 11. also Christes priesthood vnto the Leuites.

Gene.1.18 FOR this || Melchisedech king of Salem, priest of the most high God, who met Abraham returning from the slaughter of the kinges, and blessed him,

2 To whom also Abraham gaue tithe of al thinges: first being called by interpretation king of righteousnesse: and after that also, king of Salem, which is king of peace,

3 Without a father, without mother, without kin, hauing neither begynnyng of dayes, neither ende of lyfe, but likened vnto the sonne of GOD, continueth a priest for euer.

4 Nowe consyder howe great this man was, vnto whom also the patriarch Abraham || gaue tithe of the spoyles.

5 And verily they which are of the children of Leui, which receyue the office of the priesthood, haue a commaundement to take tithe of the people, according to the lawe, that is, of their brethren, though they came out of the loynes of Abraham.

6 But he whose kinrede is not counted among them, receiued tithe of Abraham, and blessed him that had the promises.

7 And without al controuersie, the lesse is blessed of the better.

8 And here men that dye, receiue tithes: but there he receyueth them of whom it is witnessed that he liueth.

9 And (to say the trueth) Leui also, which receiueth tithes, payed tithes in Abraham.

10 For he was yet in the loynes of his father, when Melchisedech met Abraham.

11 If therefore perfection was by the priesthood of the Leuites (For vnder that priesthood the people receiued the lawe) what needeth it furthermore that another priest should rise after the order of Melchisedech, and not to be called after the order of Aaron?

12 For if the priesthood be translated, of necessitie also there is made a translation of the lawe.

13 For he of whom these thinges are spoken, parteyneth vnto another tribe, of which no man gaue attendance at the aulter.

14 For it is euident that our Lord sprong out of Iuda, of which tribe spake Moses nothing concerning priesthood:

15 And it is yet a farre more euident thing, if after the similitude of Melchisedech there aryse another priest,

16 Which is not made after the law of the carnal commaundement, but after the power of the endlesse lyfe:

17 For he thus testifyeth, || Thou art a priest for euer, after the order of Melchisedech. || Psal.110.4 Hebr.5.6

18 For there is truely a disannullyng of the commaundement goyng before, for the weaknesse and vnprofytablenesse thereof.

19 For the lawe made nothing perfect, but was the bryngyng of a better hope, by the which we drawe nigh vnto God.

20 And in as much as that was not without an othe, (For those priestes were made without an othe:

21 But this priest with an othe, by him that sayd vnto him, || The Lorde sware, and wyl not repent him, thou art a priest for euer, after the order of Melchisedech,) || Psal.110.4

22 By so much was Iesus made a suretie of a better testament.

23 And among them many were made priestes, because they were forbidden by death to endure:

24 But this man, because he endureth euer, hath b an vnchangeable priesthood.

25 Wherefore he is able also euer to saue them to the vttermoste, that come vnto God by him, seeing he euer liueth, to make intercession for them.

26 For such an high priest became vs, which is holy, harmelesse, vndefyled, separate from sinners, and made higher then heauens.

27 Which needeth not daily, as those hygh priestes, to offer vp sacrifyce || first for his owne synnes, and then for the peoples: for that did he once, when he offered vp him selfe. ||Leuit.16.11

28 For the lawe maketh men hygh priestes which haue infyrmitie, but the woorde of the othe which was after the lawe maketh the sonne, whiche is perfect for euermore.

¶ The. viii. Chapter.

6. He preacheth the abolishing also of the Leuitical priesthood, as of the olde couenant, by the spirituall and euerlastyng priesthood of Christ. 8. and by the newe couenant.

NOW of the thinges which we haue spoken, this is the summe: We haue such an hygh priest, that sytteth on the right hande of the throne of the maiestie in the heauens,

2 A mynister of holy thinges, and of the ture tabernacle, which the Lord pight, and not man.

a. So called, because that Moses maketh no mention of his parentes or kinsfolkes, but as he had been sodaynly sent of God into the worlde, to be a figure of Christ, or euerlasting priest, & shortly taken out of ỹ world agayne. So Christ as touching his humanitie, had no father, and concerning his diuinitie, no mother.

b. Therefore al others are blasphemous that eyther make them selues his successours, or pretende any other sacrifyce.

||Num.18.21

3 For euery high priest is ordeyned to offer giftes and sacrifyces: Wherefore it is of necessitie, that this man haue somewhat also to offer.

4 For he were not a priest, yf he were on the earth, seeing that there are priestes, that according to the lawe offer giftes,

5 Who serue vnto the example and shadow of heauenly thinges, as Moses was admonished of God, when he was about to fynishe the tabernacle: || For see, sayth he, that thou make all thinges according to the paterne shewed to thee in the mount.

6 But nowe hath he obteined a more excellent office, by howe muche also he is the mediatour of a better [a] couenant, which was confyrmed in better promises.

7 For if that fyrst couenant had ben faultelesse, then should no place haue ben sought for the seconde.

8 For in rebuking them, he saith, || Behold, the dayes [a] come, sayth the Lorde, and I wyl fynishe vppon the house of Israel, and vppon the house [b] of Juda, a newe couenant:

9 Not like that, that I made with their fathers, in the day when I tooke them by the hande, to leade them out of the lande of Egypt: because they continued not in my couenant, and I regarded them not, sayth the Lorde.

10 For this is the couenaunt that I wil make with the house of Israel after those dayes, sayth the Lorde: geuing my lawes into their minde, and in their hart I wyl write them, and I wyl be to them a God, and they shalbe to me a people.

11 And they shal not [c] teach euery man his neighbour, and euery man his brother, saying, Knowe the Lorde: for al shal knowe me, from the litle of them, to the great of them.

12 For I wil be merciful to their vnrighteousnesse, and their sinnes and their iniquities wyl I thinke vpon no more.

13 In that he sayth a newe couenant, he hath worne out the fyrst: for that whiche is worne out and waxed olde, is redy to vanishe away.

¶ The.ix. Chapter.

1. Howe that the ceremonies and sacrifyces of the lawe are abolished, 11. by the eternitie and perfection of Christes sacrifice.

THe fyrst couenant then had verely [a] iustifying ordinances, seruinges of God, and worldly holynesse.

2 || For there was a tabernacle made, the fyrst tent wherein was the candelsticke, and the table, and the shewe bread, which is called holy.

3 But after the [a] seconde vayle, was the tabernacle, whiche is called holyest of al:

4 Which had the golden sencer, and the arke of the couenant ouerlayde rounde about with golde, wherein was the golden pot hauyng Manna, and || Aarons rode that had budded, and || the tables of the couenant:

5 || And ouer it the Cherubims of glory, shadowing the mercie seate: Of whiche thinges we can not nowe speake particularly.

6 When these thinges were thus ordeined, the priestes went alwayes into the fyrst tabernacle, accomplishing the seruice of God.

7 But into the seconde vvent the hygh priest alone, once euery yeere, not without blood, which he offered for him selfe, and for the ignorances of the people.

8 The holy ghost this signifying, that the [b] way of holy thinges, was not yet made manifest, whyle as yet the fyrst tabernacle was standing:

9 Which vvas a similitude for the tyme then present, in whiche were offered giftes, and sacrifises, that coulde not make the worshipper perfect as parteyning to the conscience,

10 With only meates and drinkes, and diuers washinges, and iustifyinges of the flesshe, whiche were layde vp vntyl the tyme of reformation.

11 But Christe beyng come an hygh priest of good thinges that shoulde be, by a greater & more perfect tabernacle, not made with handes, that is to say, not of this buildyng, 12 Neyther by the blood of Goates, & Calues: but by his owne blood he entred in once into the holy place, and found eternal redemption.

The Epistle on the vvednesday before Easter.

17 For a testament is confirmed when men are dead: for it is yet of no value, as long as he that made the testament is alyue.

18 For which cause also, neither the first testament was dedicated without blood.

19 For when Moses had spoken euery precept to al the people according to the law, takyng the blood of Calues, and of Goates, with water, and purple wool, and Hysope, he sprinckled both the booke it selfe, and al the people, 21 And likewyse he sprinckled with blood both the tabernacle, and al the vessels of the ministery.

22 And almost al thynges are by the lawe purged with blood, and without sheddyng of blood is no remission.

23 It is neede then that the paternes of heauenly thynges be purified with suche thyngs: but the heauenly things them selues be purified with better sacrifices then are thole.

24 For Christe is not entred into the holy places made with handes, vvhiche are paternes of true thynges: but into heauen it selfe, nowe to appeare in the syght of God for vs.

25 Not that he shoulde offer hym selfe d often, as the high priest entreth into the holy places, euery yeere in strange blood.

26 (For then must he haue often suffered since the fundation of the world:) but nowe once in the end of the world hath he appeared, to put away sinne, by the sacrifice of him selfe.

27 And as it is appointed vnto men once to dye, and after this the iudgement:

28 || Euen so Christe once offred to take away the sinnes of many, the seconde tyme shalbe seene without sinne, of them whiche wayte for hym vnto saluation.

2 For would not then those sacrifices haue ceassed to haue been offered, because that the offerers once purged, shoulde haue had no more conscience of sinnes?

3 Neuertheless, in those sacrifices is mention made of sinnes euery yeere.

||Iob.5.17.

b. He meaneth nowe of inward temptations, as of our disordred appetites, which cause vs to sinne.

bryngeth foorth sinne: and sinne, when it is finished, bryngeth foorth death.

16 Doo not erre my deare brethren.

17 Euery good c geuyng, and euery perfect gyft is from aboue, and commeth downe from the father of lightes, with whom is no variablenesse, neither shadowe of turnyng.

The Epistle on the .iii. Sunday after Easter

c. Seeyng all good thynges come of God, we ought not to make hym the auctheur of euyl.

‖Prou.17.17

18 Of his owne wyl begate he vs, with the woorde of trueth, that we shoulde be the first fruites of his creatures.

19 Wherefore my deare brethren, ‖ let euery man be swift to heare, slowe to speake, slowe to wrath.

20 For the wrath of man, woorketh not that which is rygheous before God.

21 Wherefore lay apart all filthinesse, and superfluitie of b noughtinesse, & receyue with meekenesse the woorde that is grafted in you, which is able to saue your soules.

b or, malitiousnesse.

22 And ‖ be ye doers of the woorde, & not hearers only, deceyuing your owne selues.

The Epistle on the .v. sunday after Easter.

23 For if any be a hearer of the woorde, and not a doer, he is lyke vnto a man beholding his bodily face in a d glasse.

‖Rom 2.13. Matth.7.21.

d. So Gods woorde is a glasse, wherein we must behold our selues, and become lyke vnto hym.

24 For he hath considered hym selfe, and is gone his wayes, and hath forgotten immediatly what his fashion was.

25 But who so looketh in the perfect lawe of libertie, and continueth therein, he beyng not a forgetfull hearer, but a doer of the woorke, shalbe blessed in his deede.

26 If any man among you seeme to be a deuout, and refrayneth not his tongue, but deceyueth his owne hart, this mans a deuotion is vayne.

a or, religious.

a or, religion.

27 Pure deuotion and vndefiled before God and the father, is this, To visite the fatherlesse & widowes in their aduersitie, and to keepe him selfe vnspotted of the worlde.

¶ The .ii. Chapter.

1. He forbydden to haue any respect of persons,
5. but to regarde the poore as well as the ryche.

MY brethren, ‖ haue not the fayth of our Lorde Iesus Christ the Lorde of glory, a with respect of persons.

‖Leui.19.15 Prou.24.24.

a. As esteeming fayth and religion by the outwarde appearance of men.

2 For if there come into your a companie a man wearyng a golde ryng, in goodly apparel, and there come in also a poore man, in vyle rayment:

a or, congregation.

3 And ye haue a respect to him that weareth the gay clothyng, and say vnto him, Sit thou here in a good place: and say to the poore, Stande thou there, or sit here vnder my footestoole:

4 Are ye not partial in your selues, and are made iudges of euyl thoughtes?

5 Hearken my deare beloued brethren, Hath not God chosen the poore of this worlde, that they myght be riche in fayth, and heyres of the kyngdome, which he promised to them that loue hym?

6 But ye haue despised the poore. Doo not riche men oppresse you by tyrannie, and drawe you before the iudgement seates?

7 Doo not they blaspheme that good b name, by the which ye are named?

b. The name of God and Christe, wherof you make profession: and in that they dishonour God, it is not meete that you his childrē shoulde honour them.

8 If ye fulfyl the royal lawe accordyng to the scripture, ‖ Thou shalt loue thy neighbour as thee selfe, ye doo wel:

‖ Mat.22.39. ‖ Leui.15.19.

9 But if ye regarde one person more then another, ye commit sinne, and are rebuked of the lawe as transgressours.

10 ‖ Who so euer shal keepe the whole law, & yet faile in one point, he is gylty of all.

11 For he that sayde, Doo not commit adulterie: sayde also, Doo not kyl. Though thou doo none adulterie, yet if thou kyl, thou art become a transgressour of the lawe.

12 So speake ye, and so doo, as they that shalbe iudged by the lawe c of libertie.

c. By the mercie of God whiche delyuereth vs from the curse of the lawe.

13 For he shal haue iudgement without mercie, that hath shewed no mercie: and mercie reioyceth against iudgement.

14 What profiteth it, my brethren, though a man say, he hath fayth, and hath not deedes? can fayth saue hym?

15 ‖ If a brother or a sister be naked, and destitute of dayly foode, ‖ Luke.3.11. 1.Ioh.3.17.

16 And one of you say vnto them, Depart in peace, be you warmed and fylled: notwithstanding, ye geue them not those thinges which are needeful to the body: what shal it profite?

17 Euen so fayth, if it haue not deedes, is dead in it selfe.

18 But some man wyl say, Thou hast fayth, and I haue deedes: shewe me thy fayth by thy d deedes, and I wyl shewe thee my fayth by my deedes.

d. Here deedes ar consydered, as ioyned with the true fayth.

19 Thou beleeuest that there is one God, thou doest wel: the deuyls also beleeue, and tremble.

20 But wylt thou knowe, O thou vayne man, that that fayth which is without woorkes, is dead?

21 Was not Abraham our father iustified through woorkes, when he had offered ‖ Isahac his sonne vpon the aulter?

‖ Gene.22.10

22 Seest thou not howe that fayth wrought with his deedes, and through the deedes was the fayth made perfect.

23 And the scripture was fulfylled, which sayth, ‖ Abraham beleeued God, and it was reputed vnto him for righteousnesse: and he was called the freende of God.

‖ Gene.15.6. Rom.4.3. Gala.3.6.

24 Ye se then, howe that of deedes a man is iustified, and not of fayth onely.

25 Lykewyse also, was not Rahab the harlot iustifyed through woorkes, || when she had receiued the messengers, & had sent them out another way?

26 For as the body without the spirite is deadreuen so fayth without woorkes is dead also.

|| Iosua. 2. 1.

¶ The. iii. Chapter.

a. He forbyddeth al ambition to seeke honour aboue our brethren. 3. He describeth the properte of the tongue.

MY brethren, be not many maisters, knowyng howe that we shall receiue the greater damnation.

2 For in many thynges we sinne al. || If a man sinne not in a woorde, the same is a perfect man, and able also to bridle all the body.

|| Eccles. 14. 1

a. He that is able to moderate his tōgue, hath attayned to an excellent vertue.

3 Beholde, we put bittes in the horses mouthes, that they may obey vs, & we turne about their whole body:

4 Beholde also the shyps, which though they be so great, & are driuen of fierce winds, yet are they turned about with a very small helme, whither so euer the lust of the gouernour wyll:

5 Euen so the tongue is a litle member also, and boasteth great thynges: behold how great a matter a litle fyre kyndeleth.

6 And the tongue is fyre, euen a worlde of wickednesse: so is the tongue set among our members, that it defileth the whole body, and b setteth on fyre the course of nature, and it is set on fyre of hell.

b. The intemperancie of the tongue is a flambe of hell fyre.

7 Al the nature of beastes, and of byrdes, and of serpentes, and thinges of the sea, is meeked and tamed of the nature of man:

8 But the tongue can no man tame, it is an vnruly euyll, full of deadly poyson:

9 Therewith blesse we our God and father: and therwith curse we men, which are made after the similitude of God.

10 Out of one mouth proceedeth blessing and cursing: My brethren, these thynges ought not so to be.

11 Doth a fountaine sende foorth at one hole sweete water, and bitter also?

12 Can the figge tree, my brethren, beare Oline beries? eyther a vine beare figges? so can no fountayne geue both salt water, and freshe also.

13 Who is a wyse man, and endued with knowledge among you? let hym shewe his woorkes out of good conuersation with meekenesse of wysdome.

14 But yf ye haue bitter enuying and stryfe in your hart, glory not, neyther be lyers agaynst the trueth.

15 For such wisdome descendeth not frō aboue: but is earthly, sensual, and deuilyshe.

16 For where enuying & stryfe is, there is confusion, and al maner of euyll woorkes.

17 But the wisdome that is from aboue, is first pure, then peaceable, gentle, and easie to be entreated, ful of mercy and good fruits, without iudging, without simulation.

18 Yea, and the fruite of ryghteousnesse is sowen in peace, of them that make peace.

¶ The. iiii. Chapter.

a. He exhorteth them to loue God, 7. and submit them selues to hym.

FRom whence commeth warres and fightynges among you? Came they not here hence, euen of your lustes that a fight in your members?

a. For the lawe of the mēbers cōtinually fighteth against the lawe of the minde.

2 Ye lust, and haue not: ye enuy, & haue indignation, and cannot obteyne: Ye fight and warre, ye haue not, because ye aske not.

3 Ye aske, & receiue not, because ye aske amysse, euen to consume it vpon your lustes.

4 Ye adulterers, and b adultresses, know you not how that the freendship of the worlde is enmitie with GOD? Whosoeuer therefore wyll be a freende of the worlde, is made the enimie of God.

b. He calleth adultrers here, after the maner of the scriptures, them which preferre the pleasures of the worlde, to the loue of God.

5 Either do ye thinke that the scripture sayth in vayne, The c spirite that dwelleth in vs, lusteth to enuie?

c. The imagination of mans hart, is wicked.

6 But the scripture offereth more grace, and therfore sayth, || God resisteth the proude, but geueth grace vnto the lowly.

|| 1. Pet. 5. 5. Prou. 3. 34.

7 Submit your selues therfore to God: but resist the deuyl, and he wyl flee from you.

8 Draw nigh to God, and he wyl draw nygh to you: cleanse your handes ye sinners, and purifye your hartes ye double minded.

9 Suffer afflictions, and mourne, and weepe: Let your laughter be turned to mournyng, and your ioy to heauynesse.

10 || Humble your selues in the sight of the Lorde, and he shal lyft you vp.

|| 1. Pet. 5. 6.

11 Backbyte not one another brethren: He that backbyteth his brother, and he that iudgeth his brother, backbyteth the lawe, and iudgeth the lawe: but and yf thou iudge the lawe, thou art not an obseruer of the law, but a iudge.

12 There is one lawe geuer, whiche is able to saue, and to destroy: || What art thou that iudgest another?

|| Rom. 14. 4.

13 Goe to nowe ye that say, d To day and to morowe let vs goe into suche a citie, and continue there a yeere, and buy, and sell, and wynne:

b. We ought to submit our selues to the prouidence of God.

14 (And

14 (And yet can not ye tell what shal happen on the morowe: For what thyng is your life? It is euen a vapour that appeareth for a litle tyme, and then he vanisheth away.)

‖1.Cor.4.19. 15 For that ye ought to say, ‖If the Lord wyll, and if we lyue, let vs do this, or that.

16 But nowe ye reioyce in your boastinges: All suche reioycing is euyll.

17 Therfore to hym that knoweth how to do good, and doth it not, to hym it is sinne.

¶ The. v. Chapter.

2. He threatneth the wycked rych men. 7. exhorteth vnto patience, 12. and to beware of swearyng.

GO to nowe ye ryche men, weepe, and howle for your miseries that shall come vpon you.

2 Your rychesse is corrupt, your garmentes are moth eaten:

3 Your golde and syluer is cankred, and the rust of them shalbe a witnesse agaynst you, and shall eate your flesshe as it were fyre. Ye haue heaped treasure together in the b last dayes.

a. And kindle the wrath of God agaynst you.

b. To suffer tyll the ende of the worlde.

4 Beholde, the hyre of the labourers which haue reaped downe your feelds, which hyre is of you kept backe by fraude, cryeth: and the cryes of them whiche haue reaped, are entred into the eares of the Lorde of Sabaoth.

5 Ye haue liued in pleasure on the earth, and been wanton: Ye haue nourished your hartes, as in a day of slaughter.

6 Ye haue condemned and kylled the iust, and he doth not resist you.

7 Be patient therefore brethren, vnto the comming of the Lorde. Beholde, the husbandman wayteth for the precious fruite of the earth, and hath long patience thereupon, vntyll he receiue the early and later rayne.

8 Be ye also patient, & stable your hartes: for the comming of the Lord draweth nygh.

9 Grudge not one agaynst another, brethren, lest ye be damned: beholde, the iudge standeth before the doore.

10 Take, my brethren, the prophetes for an example of suffering aduersitie, and of patience, which spake in the name of the Lorde.

11 Behold, we count them happy which endure. Ye haue heard of the patience of Iob, and haue seene the ende of the Lorde: For the Lorde is very pitifull and mercyful.

12 ‖But aboue al things, my brethren, sweare not, neither by the heauen, neyther by the earth, neither by any other othe: Let your c yea, be yea, and your nay, nay, lest you fall into condemnation.

‖Mat.5. 34

c. That which must be affirmed, affirme it simply, & without othes: lykewise that which must be denied. By this he taketh not from the magistrate his authoritie, who may require an othe for the maintenance of iustice, iudgement & trueth.

13 Is any among you afflicted? let hym pray. Is any merie? let hym sing psalmes.

14 Is any diseased among you? let hym call for the elders of the Churche, & let them pray for hym, and ‖annoynt hym with oyle in the name of the Lorde:

‖Mark.6.13.

15 And the prayer of fayth shal saue the sicke, and the Lorde shall rayse hym vp: and yf he haue committed sinnes, they shalbe forgeuen hym.

16 Knowledge your faultes one to another, and pray one for another, that ye may be healed: For the feruent prayer of a rygh teous man auayleth muche.

‖1.Reg.17.1 Luke.4.25.

17 ‖Elias was a man vnder infirmities euen as we are, & he prayed in his prayer that it myght not rayne: and it rayned not on the earth, by the space of three yeres and sixe monethes.

18 And he prayed agayne, and the heauen gaue rayne, and the earth brought forth her fruite.

‖Mat.18.1

19 ‖Brethren, if any of you do erre from the trueth, and an other conuert him,

20 Let the same knowe, that he whiche conuerteth the sinner from going astray out of his way, shall saue a soule from death, and shal hide the multitude of sinnes.

¶ The end of the Epistle of S. Iames.

¶ The. i. Epistle of S. Peter the Apostle.

The first Chapter.

2. He sheweth that through the abundant mercy of God, we are elect and regenerate to a lyuely hope, 7. and how fayth must be tryed.

a. Which were Iewes, to whō he was appointed to be an Apostle.

PEter an Apostle of Iesus Christe, to them that dwell here and there as strangers, throughout Pontus, Galatia, Cappadocia, Asia, and Bithynia:

b. The free election of God, is the efficient cause of our saluation: the materiall cause is Christes obedience: our sanctification is the formel cause: and the effectuall calling is the finall cause.

Grace and peace be multiplied vnto you.

3 Blessed be God the father of our Lord Iesus Christ, which accordyng to his abundant mercy begate vs agayne vnto a lyuely hope, by the ryssing of Iesus Christ from the dead,

4 To an inheritance vncorruptible, and vndefiled, and that fadeth not away, reserued in heauen for you,

5 Which are kept by the power of God through faith vnto saluation, redy to be shewed in the last tyme.

6 In the which ye reioyce, though now for a seasō (if neede require) ye are in heauinesse through manifolde temptations:

7 That the triall of your faith, beyng muche more precious then golde that perysheth, though it be tried with fyre, might be found to be vnto you vnto laude, honour, and glory, at the appearing of Iesus Christ,

8 Whom ye haue not seene, and yet loue him, in whom euen nowe though ye see him not, yet do ye beleeue him, and reioyce with ioy vnspeakeable and glorious:

9 Receiuing the end of your faith, euen the saluation of your soules.

10 Of which saluation haue the prophetes enquired & searched diligently, which prophesied of the grace that should come vnto you:

11 Searching when or what tyme the spirite of Christ which was in them shoulde signifie, which spirite testified before the passions that shoulde happen vnto Christe, and the glory that shoulde folowe after.

12 Vnto whiche prophetes it was also reuealed, that not vnto them selues, but vnto vs, they should minister the things which are nowe shewed vnto you of them, whiche by the holy ghost sent downe from heauen, haue in the Gospell preached vnto you, the thinges whiche the angels desire to beholde.

13 Wherefore gyrde vp the loynes of your mynde, be sober, and trust perfectly on the grace that is brought vnto you by the reuelation of Iesus Christe:

14 As obedient children, not fashioning your selues vnto the former lustes of your ignorance:

15 But as he which called you is holy, ‖ Luke.1.71. ‖ euen so be ye holy also in al maner of conuersation.

‖ Leuit.11.44 16 Because it is written, ‖ Be ye holy, for I am holy.

‖ Deut.10.27 Rom.2.11. Gala.2.6. 17 And if so be that ye cal on the father, ‖ which without respect of person iudgeth according to euery mans woorke, see that ye passe the tyme of your dwellyng here, in feare.

18 Forasmuch as ye know, how that ye were not redeemed with corruptible things, as siluer and golde, from your vayne conuersation, whiche ye receiued by the tradition of the fathers:

19 ‖ But with the precious blood of Christ, as of a lambe vndefiled, and without spot: ‖ Hebr.9.14. 1.Ioh.1.7. Apoc.1.5.

20 Which was ordeyned before ordayned, euen before the worlde was made, but was declared in the c last times for your sakes:

21 Which by his meanes do beleeue on God that raysed him vp from the dead, and gaue him glory, that ye might haue faith and hope towarde God:

22 Euen ye whiche haue purified your soules, through the spirite in obeying the trueth, ‖ with brotherly loue vnfaigned, see that ye loue one another with a pure hart feruently:

23 For ye are borne a new, not of corruptible seede: but of incorruptible, by the word of God, which liueth and lasteth for euer.

24 ‖ For al flesh is as grasse, and al the glory of man is as the floure of grasse: The grasse withereth, & the floure falleth away: ‖ Esai.40.6. Eccle.14.18. Iames.1.10.

25 But the word of the Lord endureth euer: And this is the worde whiche by the Gospel was preached vnto you.

c. When Christe appeared vnto the worlde, and when the Gospel was preached.

‖ Rom.12.10

The.ii. Chapter.

1. He exhorteth them to lay aside al vice, 4. shewyng that Christ is the fundation vvhereupon they builde.

WHerefore ‖ al " naughtinesse, and all guile, and faignednesse, and enuie, and backbyting layde aside, ‖ Rom. 6.4. Ephes.4.22. Colos. 3.8. Hebr.12.2.

" or, malitiousnesse.

2 As newe borne babes, desyre ye the mylke of the word, which is without deceit: that ye may growe therby vnto saluation,

3 If so be that ye haue tasted howe gracious the Lorde is:

4 To whom ye come as vnto a lyuyng stone, disalowed of men, but chosen of God, and precious.

5 And ye as liuely stones, be you made a spiritual house, an holy priesthood, for to offer vp spiritual sacrifice, acceptable to God by Iesus Christe.

6 Wherefore it is conteyned also in the scripture: ‖ Beholde, I put in Sion a stone to be layde in the cheefe corner, elect and precious, and he that beleeueth on hym, shall in no wise be confounded. ‖ Esai. 28.16 Rom. 9.33.

7 Vnto you therefore which beleeue, he is precious: but vnto them whiche beleeue not, ‖ the stone which the builders disalowed, the same is made the head of the corner: ‖ Psa.118.22 Matth.21.42. Act.4.12.

8 And a stone of stumblyng, and a rocke of offence, whiche stumble at the worde, and being disobedient, vnto the whiche thyng they were ordeyned.

‖Exo. 19.9. 9 But ye are a chosen generation, ‖ a royal priesthood, an holy nation, a peculier people: that ye shoulde shewe forth the vertues of him that called you out of darkenesse into his marueylous lyght.

‖Osee.2.23. Rom.9.25. 10 ‖ Whiche in time past were not a people, but are nowe the people of GOD: whiche sometime had not obteyned mercy, but nowe haue obteyned mercy.

The Epistle on the third Sunday after Easter

11 Dearely beloued, I beseche you as strangers & pilgrims, abstaine from ‖ fleshly lustes, whiche fight against the soule, ‖Galat.5.17. Rom. 13.14. ‖Mat.5.16. 12 And see that ye haue honest conuersation among the gentiles: that where as they backbite you as euill doers, ‖ they may by your good workes whiche they shall see, glorifie God in the day of visitation.

‖Rom. 13.1. 13 ‖ Submit your selues therfore vnto al manner ordinance of man for the Lordes sake: whether it be vnto the king, as hauing the preeminence.

14 Other vnto rulers, as vnto them that are sent by him for the punishment of euill doers, but for the laude of them that do wel.

15 For so is the wil of God, that with wel doing ye may stop the ignorance of foolishe men:

16 As free, and not as hauing the libertie for a cloke of noughtinesse, but euen as the seruantes of God.

‖Rom.12.10 17 Honour al men. ‖ Loue brotherly fellowship. Feare God. Honour the king.

‖Ephel.6.5. Colos.3.22. 18 ‖ Seruantes obey your maisters with al feare, not only if they be good & curteous, but also though they be frowarde.

The Epistle on the second Sunday after Easter

19 ‖ For it is thanke worthy, if a man for conscience towarde God endure greefe, and suffer wrong vndeserued.

‖ 1.Cor. 7.10 20 For what praise is it, if when ye be buffeted for your faultes ye shal take it paciently? But if when ye do wel, and suffer wrong, and shall take it paciently, then is there thanke with God.

21 For hereunto verily were ye called: for Christe also suffered " for vs, leauyng vs an ensample, that ye shoulde folowe his steppes.

"Some reade, for you.

‖Esai.53.9. 1.Iohn.3.5 22 ‖ Whiche did no sinne, neither was there guile founde in his mouth.

23 Which when he was reuiled, reuiled not againe: when he suffered, he threatned not, but committed the vengeance to him that iudgeth righteously.

‖Math. 8.17 Esai.53.5. 24 ‖ Whiche his owne selfe bare our sinnes in his body on the tree, that we being deliuered from sinne, shoulde liue vnto righteousnesse: by whose stripes ye were healed.

25 For ye were as sheepe going astray: but are nowe turned vnto the shepheard and byshop of your soules.

¶ The.iii. Chapter.

2. How vvyues ought to order them selues toward theyr husbands. 7. And in theyr apparel.

LIkewise ‖ ye wiues be in subiection to your husbandes, that euen they whiche obey not the worde, may without the worde be wonne, by the conuersation of the wiues:

‖Ephel.5.22 Colos.3. 18.

2 After that they haue beholden your chaste conuersation coupled with feare.

3 ‖ Whose apparell let it not be that whiche is outward, with brayded heare, and hanging on of golde, either in putting on of gorgeous apparel:

‖ 1.Tim.2.9.

4 But let the hyd man which is in the hart be without all corruption, of a meeke and quiet spirite, which spirite is before God a thing much set by.

5 For after this manner in the old time dyd the holy women also whiche trusted in God, tyre them selues, being obedient vnto their husbandes.

6 Euen as ‖ Sara obeyed Abraham, calling him lorde, whose daughters ye are as long as ye do well, and are not afraide for any terrour.

‖Gen. 13.10

7 ‖ Likewise ye husbandes, dwel with them according to knowledge, geuing honour vnto the wife, as vnto the weaker vessell, and as vnto them that are heires also of the grace of life, that your prayers be not hindered.

‖ 1.Cor.5.1.

8 In conclusion be ye all of one minde, hauing compassion one of another, loue as brethren, be pitiful, be curteous, "

The Epistle on the fifth Sunday after Trinitie.

" Meeke.

9 Not rendring euil for euil, or rebuke for rebuke: but contrariwise blessing, knowing that ye are thereunto called, euen that ye shoulde be a heyres of the blessing.

a. God hath made vs, when we were his enimies, heyres of his kingdome: & shall not we forgeue our brethren a smal fault?

10 For he that doth loue after lyfe, and loueth to see good dayes, let him refraine his tongue from euill, and his lippes that they speake no guile.

‖Esai. 1.16. 11 ‖ Let him eschew euil, and do good, let him seeke peace, and ensue it.

12 For the eyes of the Lorde are ouer the righteous, and his eares are open vnto theyr prayers: againe, the face of the Lorde is b ouer them that do euil.

b. To take vengeance on them.

13 Moreouer, who is it that wil harme you, if ye be followers of that which is good?

14 Yea, ‖ happie are ye if any trouble happen vnto you for righteousnesse sake, be not ye afraid for any terrour of them, neither be ye troubled:

‖Math. 5.10 Esai.8.12.

15 But

15 But sanctifye the Lord God in your hartes. Be redy alwayes to geue an answeare to euery man that asketh you a reason of the hope that is in you,

16 And that with meekenesse and feare, hauing a good conscience: that where as they backbite you as euyl doers, they may be ashamed that falsely accuse your good conuersation in Christ.

17 For it is better, if the wil of God be so, that ye suffer for well dooyng, then for euil dooyng.

18 ||For asmuch as Christ hath once suffered for synnes, the iust for the vniust, to bryng vs to God, and was killed as partenyng to the flesshe, but was quickened in the spirite.

19 In which spirite, he also went & preached vnto the spirites that were in prysion, 20 Whiche sometime had ben disobedient, when once the long suffering of God abode in the daies of Noe, while the arke was a preparyng; wherein fewe (that is to say) eyght soules were saued in the water.

21 To the which also the figure agreeth that nowe saueth vs, euen baptisme, (not the putting away the fylth of the flesshe, but in that a good conscience maketh request to God) by the resurrection of Jesus Christ:

22 Which is on the right hand of God, and is gone into heauen, angels, powers, and might subdued vnto him.

The Epistle on Easter Euen.

||Rom.5.6 Heb.9.15

a. He exhorteth men to ceasse from sinne. 7. to be sober, and apt to pray

FOR as much then as Christe hath suffered for vs in the flesshe, arme ye your selues lykewyse with the same mynde: for he whiche suffereth in the flesshe, ceaseth from synne:

2 That he henceforth shoulde liue, as muche tyme as remayneth in the flesshe, not after the lustes of men, but after the wyl of God.

||Ephe.4.23

3 ||For it is sufficient for vs that we haue spent the tyme that is past of the lyfe, after the wyl of the Gentiles, walking in wantonnesse, lustes, in excesse of wines, in excesse of eating, in excesse of drinking, and abominable idolatrie.

4 And it seemed to them a strange thing, that ye run not also with them vnto the same excesse of riot, and therefore speake they euil of you:

5 Whiche shal geue accomptes to him that is redy to iudge quicke and dead.

6 For vnto this purpose verily was the Gospell preached also vnto the a dead, that they shoulde be iudged lyke other men in the flesshe, but shoulde liue before God in the spirite.

7 The ende of all thinges is at hande. Be ye therefore sober, & watche vnto prayer.

8 But aboue all thinges haue feruent charitie among your selues: for charitie shal couer the multitude of sinnes.

9 Be ye harberours one to another, without grudging.

10 As euery man hath receyued the gift, euen so minister the same one to another, as good stewardes of the manyfolde grace of God.

11 If any man speake, let hym talke as the woorde of God: yf any man minister, let hym doo it as of the abilitie which God ministreth vnto hym, that God in all thinges may be glorifyed through Jesus Christe, to whom be prayse and dominion for euer and euer, Amen.

12 Dearely beloued, thinke it not strange concerning the fierie tryal, which thing is to trye you, as though some strange thing happened vnto you.

13 But reioyce, in as muche as ye are partakers of Christes passions: that when his glory appeareth, ye may be merry & glad.

14 ||If ye be rayled vppon for the name of Christe, happy are ye: for the spirite of glory and of God resteth vpon you: on their part he is euil spoken of, but on your part he is glorifyed.

||Mat.5.10

15 See that none of you be punished as a murderer, or as a theefe, or an euyl doer, or as a busye body in other mens matters.

16 If any man suffer as a Christian man, let him not be ashamed, but let him glorifye God on this behalfe.

17 For the time is (come) that iudgement must begin at the house of GOD. If it fyrst begin at vs, what shal the end be of them which beleeue not the Gospel of God?

18 And if the righteous scarsly be saued, where shall the vngodly and the synner appeare?

19 Wherefore, let them that are troubled according to the wil of God, commit the kepping of their soules to him with wel dooing, as vnto a faithful creator.

The Epistle on the Sunday after Assention day.

a. Although the wicked thinke this Gospel new, and vexe you that imbrace it, yet hath it ben preached to them of tyme past, which now are dead: to the intent that they might haue ben condemned or dead to sinne, the flesshe, & lyue so might haue liued to God in the spirite, which two are the effect of the Gospel.

¶ The v. Chapter.

The duetie of pastours is to feede the flocke of Christ, and what reward they shal haue if they be diligent.

a. By elders he vnderstandeth all them which preache, teache, or minister in the Churche.

THE a elders which are among you I exhort, which am also an elder, and a witnesse of the afflictions of Christe, and alſo a partaker of the glorie that ſhalbe opened:

2 Feede you Gods flocke which is committed vnto you, takyng the ouerſight of them, not as compelled thereto, but willingly: not for the delyre of fylthy lucre, but of a cheareful minde.

3 Not as though ye were Lordes ouer Gods heritage: but that ye be an enſample to the flocke.

4 And when the cheefe ſhepheарde ſhal appeare, ye ſhall receiue an incorruptible crowne of glorie.

The Epiſtle on the thyrd ſunday after Trinitie.

5 Likewiſe ye younger, ſubmit your ſelues vnto the elder: Submit your ſelues euery man one to another, decke your ſelues inwardly in lowlyneſſe of minde: || For God reſiſteth the proude, and geueth grace to the humble. ||Iames.4.6

6 ||Submit your ſelues therefore vnder the mighty hand of GOD, that he may exalt you when the time is come. ||Iames.4.10 Mat.6.25 Luke.12.24

7 Caſt all your care vppon him, for he careth for you.

8 Be ſober and watch: || for your aduerſary the deuil, as a roaring Lion walketh about, ſeeking whom he may deuoure. ||Luke.21.31

9 Whom reſiſt ſtedfaſt in the fayth: knowing that the ſame afflictions are accompliſhed in your brethren that are in the worlde.

10 But the God of all grace him ſelfe, which hath called vs vnto his eternal glorie by Chriſt Jeſus, after that ye haue ſuffered a litle affliction, make you perfect, ſettle, ſtrengthen, and ſtablith you.

11 To him be glorie and dominion for euer and euer, Amen.

12 By Syluanus a faithful brother, vnto you (as I ſuppoſe) I haue written briefely, exhortyng and teſtifying, howe that this is the true grace of GOD, wherein ye ſtande.

13 The Churche that is at Babylon elected together with you, ſaluteth you, and ſo doeth Marcus my ſonne.

14 || Greete ye one another with a kiſſe of charitie. Peace be with you al whiche are in Chriſt Jeſus, Amen. ||Rom.16.16 1.Cor.16.20

The ſecond Epiſtle of ſaint Peter.

¶ The fyrſt Chapter.

Foraſmuch as the power of God hath geuen them al thinges parteyning vnto lyfe, he exhorteth them to flee the corruption of worldly luſtes.

SImon Peter, a ſeruaunt and an Apoſtle of Jeſus Chriſt, to them which haue obteyned like pretious fayth with vs, through the righteouſneſſe of our God & Sauiour Jeſus Chriſte.

2 Grace and peace be multiplyed vnto you, through the knowledge of God, and of Jeſus our Lorde:

3 Accordyng as his godly power hath geuen vnto vs al things that parteine vnto life and a godlyneſſe, through the knowledge of him that hath called vs vnto glorie and vertue:

a. The ſumme of our ſaluation and religon is, to be led by Chriſt to the father, who calleth vs in the ſonne.

4 By the whiche are geuen vnto vs excellent and moſt great promiſes, that by the meanes thereof, ye might be partakers of the godly nature, yf ye flee the corruption of worldly luſt.

5 And hereunto geue all diligence, in your fayth miniſter vertue, in vertue knowledge,

6 In knowledge temperance, in temperaunce patience, in patience godlyneſſe,

7 In godlyneſſe, brotherly kyndneſſe, in brotherly kyndneſſe, charitie.

8 For yf theſe thinges be among you, & be plenteous, they make you that ye neyther ſhalbe idle, nor vnfruiteful in the knowledge of our Lorde Jeſus Chriſt.

9 But he that lacketh theſe thinges, is blind, and can not ſee farre of, & hath forgotten that he was purged from his old ſinnes.

10 Wherefore brethren, geue the more diligence for to make your callyng and election b ſure: for if ye doo ſuch thinges, ye ſhal neuer fal.

b. Albeit it be ſure in it ſelfe, foraſmuche as God can not change: yet we muſt confyrme it in our ſelues by the fruites of the ſpirite, knowing that the purpoſe of God electeth, calleth, ſanctifyeth and iuſtifyeth vs.

11 Yea and by this meanes an entring in ſhalbe miniſtred vnto you aboundantly, into the euerlaſting kyngdome of our Lorde and ſauiour Jeſus Chriſte.

12 Wherefore I will not be negligent to put you alwayes in remembrance of ſuche thinges, though ye knowe them your ſelues, and be ſtabliſhed in the preſent trueth.

13 Notwithſtanding I thinke it meete, as long as I am in this tabernacle, to ſtirre you vp, by putting you in remembrance:

14 Knowing that ſhortly I muſt put of this this my tabernacle, || euen as our Lorde Jesus Christe shewed me.

15 I will euer also gene my diligence, that ye may haue wherewith to stirre vp the remembrance of these thinges after my departing.

16 || For we haue not folowed deceitful fables, when we opened vnto you the power and comming of our Lord Jesus Christ, but with our eyes we sawe his maiestie:

17 Euen then verely when he receiued of God the father honour & glory, and when there came suche a voyce to hym from the excellent glory: || This is my deare beloued sonne in whom I deligh̄t.

18 This voyce we hearde come from heauen, when we were with him in the holy mount.

19 We haue also a ryght sure worde of prophesie, wherunto if ye take heede, as vnto a light that shineth in a darke place, ye do wel, vntil the day dawne, and the day starre arise in your hartes.

20 So that ye first knowe this, that no prophesie in the scripture is of any priuate [a] motion.

21 For the prophesie came not in olde tyme by the will of man: but holy men of God, spake as they were moued by the holy ghost.

The. ii. Chapter.

He prophesieth of false teachers, and sheweth their punyshment.

THere were false prophetes also among the people, euen as there shalbe false teachers among you, which priuily shal bring in damnable heresies, euen denying the Lord that hath bought them, and bring vpon them selues swift damnation.

2 And many shall folowe their damnable wayes, by whom the way of trueth shalbe euil spoken of:

3 And through couetousnesse shall they with faigned wordes make a marchandise of you, whose iudgement nowe of long time ceaseth not, and their damnation sleepeth not.

4 For if || God spared not the angels that sinned, but cast them downe into hel, and deliuered them into chaynes of darkenesse, to be kept vnto iudgement:

5 || Neither spared the olde world, but saued Noe the eight person, a preacher of righteousnesse, and brought in the flood vpon the worlde of the vngodly,

6 And turned their cities of || Sodome and Gomorrhe into ashes, ouerthrewe them, damned them, and made them an ensample vnto those that after should̄e liue vngodly:

7 And iust Lot, vexed with the vncleane conuersation of the wicked, deliuered he.

8 (For he beyng righteous, and dwellyng among them, in seeing and hearyng, vexed his righteous soule from day to day with their vnlawful deedes.)

9 The Lord knoweth howe to deliuer the godly out of temptation, and to reserue the vniust vnto the day of iudgement for to be punished.

10 But cheefely them that walke after the flesshe in the lust of vncleannesse, and despise aucthōritie. Presumptuous are they, and stande in their owne concept, whiche feare not to speake euil of them that excell in worshyp.

11 Whē the angels which are greater both in power & myght, geue not b raylyng iudgement agaynst them before the Lorde.

12 But these as bruite beastes, led with sensualitie, and made to be taken and destroyed, speake euil of the thinges that they vnderstande not, and shall perishe through their owne corruption:

13 And receiue the reward of vnrighteousnesse, they counte it pleasure to liue delitiously for a season: spots they are and blots, c delighting them selues in their deceiuings, in feastyng with you:

14 Hauyng eyes full of aduulterie, and that can not ceasse from sinne, layng bayte for vnstable soules: hartes they haue exercised with [b] robberie, they are cursed chyldren,

15 Which haue forsaken the right way, and are gone astray, folowyng the way of Balaam the sonne of Bosor, which loued the rewarde of vnrighteousnesse:

16 But was rebuked of his iniquitie. || The dumbe beast, & vsed to the yoke, speaking with mans voyce, forbad the madnesse of the prophete.

17 || These are welles without water, cloudes that are caryed with a tempest, to whom the myst of darkenesse is reserued for euer.

18 For whē they speake the great swelling wordes of vanitie, they entice through lustes with the bayte of wantonnesse of the flesshe, them that were cleane escaped from them, whiche are wrapped in errour:

19 Whyle they promise them libertie, wheras they them selues are the bondseruantes of corruption: || For of whom a man is ouercome, vnto the same is he brought in bondage.

20 || For if they, after they haue escaped

a. That is euidently seene in the Pope and his priestes, which by lyes and flatteries sel mens soules: so that it is certayne that he is not the successour of Simon Peter, but of Simon Magus.

b: Albeit the angels cōdemne the vice & iniquitie of wicked magistrates, yet they blame not the aucthōritie & power which is geuen them of God.

c. From your holy feasts, they sit as members of the churche, where as in deede they be but spots, and so deceiue you.

2. The true witnesse of the euerlastyng woorde of God. 7. The blood of Christe is the purgation of sinne. 11. No man is without sinne.

The Epistle on saint Iohn the Euangelist day.

THAT whiche was from the beginning, whiche we haue hearde, whiche we haue seene with our eyes, which we haue looked vpon, & our handes haue handled, of the woorde of lyfe:

2 (And the lyfe appeared, and we haue seene, and beare witnesse, and shewe vnto you that eternall lyfe which was with the father, and appeared vnto vs:)

3 That whiche we haue seene and heard, declare we vnto you, that ye also may haue a felowshyp with vs, and that our felowshyp may be with the father, & his sonne Iesus Chryste.

4 And these thinges wryte we vnto you, that your ioy may be ful.

5 And this is the tydinges whiche we haue hearde of hym, and declare vnto you, || that God is lyght, and in hym is no darknesse at al.

6 If we say that we haue felowshyp with him, and walke in darknesse, we lye, and dod not the trueth.

7 But yf we walke in the lyght, euen as he is in the lyght, then haue we felowshyp b one with another, || and the blood of Iesus Chryste his sonne cleanseth vs from all sinne.

8 || If we say that we haue no sinne, we deceyue our selues, and the trueth is not in vs.

9 If we knowledge our sinnes, he is faythful and iust to forgeue vs our sinnes, and to cleanse vs from al vnrighteousnesse.

10 If we say that we haue not sinned, we make him a lyer, and his woorde is not in vs.

¶ The.ii. Chapter.

1. Christ is our aduocate, 10. Of true loue, and howe it is tryed, 18. To beware of Antechryst.

MY litle children, these thinges wryte I vnto you, that ye synne not. And yf any man synne, we haue an aduocate with the father, Iesus Chryste the righteous.

2 And he is the attonement for our sinnes, not for our sinnes onely, but also for the sinnes of al the world.

3 And hereby we are sure that we a know him, if we keepe his commaundements.

4 He that sayth, I knowe him, and keepeth not his commaundementes, is a lyer, and the "veritie is not in him.

5 But who so keepeth his woord, in him is the loue of God perfect in deede: Hereby knowe we that we are in him.

6 He that saith he abideth in him, ought him selfe to walke, euen as he walked.

7 Brethren, I wryte no newe commaundement vnto you, but an olde commaundement which ye haue hearde from the begynnyng. The olde commaundement, is the woorde whiche ye haue heard from the begynning.

8 Agayne, a newe commaundement I wryte vnto you, that is true in him, & the same is true, also in you, for the darknesse is past, and the true light now shineth.

9 He that sayth howe that he is in the light, and yet hateth his brother, is in darknesse euen vntyl this time.

10 ||He that loueth his brother, abydeth in the light, and there is none occasion of euyl in him. || 1.Ioh.3.14

11 He that hateth his brother, is in darknesse, and walketh in darknesse: and can not tel whyther he goeth, because that darknesse hath blynded his eyes.

12 Babes I wryte vnto you, because your synnes are forgeuen you for his names sake.

13 I wryte vnto you fathers, because ye haue knowen him that is from the beginning. I wryte vnto you young men, because you haue ouercome the wicked.

14 I wryte to you litle children, because ye haue knowē the father. I haue written to you fathers, because ye haue knowen him that is from the beginning. I haue written vnto you young men, because ye are strong, and the woorde of God abydeth in you, and ye haue ouercome the wicked.

15 See that ye loue not the world, neyther the thinges that are in the worlde. If any man loue the world, the loue of the father is not in him.

16 For al that is in the world, as the lust of the flesshe, and the lust of the eyes, and the pride of lyfe, is not of the father, but of the worlde.

17 And the worlde passeth away, and the lust thereof: but he that fulfylleth the wyl of God, abydeth for euer.

18 Litle children, it is the last tyme: and as ye haue harde howe that antechriste shall come, euen nowe there are many antechristes: whereby we knowe that it is the last tyme.

19 They went out from vs, but they were not of vs: For yf they had been of vs, they wouldve no doubt haue continued with vs: But that it might appeare that they are not al of vs.

a For, this commeth to passe.

20 Neuertheles, ye haue an b oyntment of him that is holy, and ye knowe all thinges.

b The grace of the holy ghost.

21 I haue not written vnto you as though ye knew not the trueth: but because ye know it, and that no lye is of the trueth.

22 Who is a lyer, but he that denieth that Iesus is Christ? the same is antechrist, that denyeth the father and the sonne.

23 Who so euer denieth the sonne, the same hath not the father: But he that knowledgeth the sonne, hath the father also.

24 Let therefore abide in you, that same which ye heard from the beginning: yf that which ye haue harde from the beginning shal remayne in you, ye also shal continue in the sonne, and in the father.

25 And this is the promise that he hath promised vs, euen eternal lyfe.

26 These thinges haue I written vnto you, concerning them that deceiue you.

27 And the annoynting which ye haue receiued of him dwelleth in you: and ye needе not that any man teach you, but as the same c annoynting teacheth you of all thinges, and it is true, and not lying: and as it taught you, ye shal abyde in it.

c Christe communicateth him self vnto you, & teacheth you by the holy ghost and his ministers.

28 And nowe d babes, abide in him: that when he shal appeare, we may be bold, and not be ashamed e of him at his comming.

¶ The .iii. Chapter.

1. The singuler loue of GOD towarde vs, 7. and howe we agayne ought to loue one another.

BEholde what charitie the father hath shewed vs euen that we should be called the sonnes of God: for this cause the worlde knoweth vs not, because it hath not knowen him.

2 Dearely beloued, nowe are we the sonnes of God, and yet it doth not appeare what we shalbe: But we knowe that when he shal appeare, we shalbe lyke hym: for we shal see him as he is.

3 And euery man that hath this hope in him, purgeth him selfe, euē as he also is pure.

4 Who so euer committeth sinne, transgresseth also the law: for sinne is the transgression of the lawe.

5 And ye know that he appeared to ‖ take away our sinnes, and in him is no sinne. ‖Esai.53.5 1.Pet.2.22

6 As many as bide in him, sinne not: who so euer sinneth, hath not seene him, neither knowen him.

7 Babes, let no man deceiue you: he that doth ryghteousnes, is righteous, euen as he is righteous.

8 ‖He that committeth sinne, is of the deuil, for the deuil sinneth sence the beginning: For this purpose appeared the sonne of God, to loose the workes of the deuil. ‖Iohn.8.44

9 Who so euer is borne of God, sinneth not: for his seede remayneth in him, and he can not synne, because he is borne of God.

10 In this are the children of God knowen, and the children of the deuil: who so euer doth not righteousnesse, is not of God, neither he that loueth not his brother.

11 ‖ For this is the tydinges that ye harde from the beginning, that ye shoulde loue one another. ‖Iohn.13.34

14 We knowe that we are translated from death vnto lyfe, because we a loue the brethren: he that loueth not his brother, abydeth in death.

16 Hereby perceiue we loue, because he layd downe his lyfe for vs: and we ought to lay downe our lyues for the brethren.

17 ‖But who so hath this worldes good, and seeth his brother haue neede, and shutteth vp his compassion from him: howe dwelleth the loue of God in him? ‖Luke.3.11

18 My babes, let vs not loue in woorde, neither in tongue, but in deed, & in veritie.

19 Hereby we knowe that we are of the trueth, and shal assure our hartes before him.

1. Difference of spirytes, 2. howe the spirite of God may be knowen from the spirite of errour.

DEarely beloued, beleeue not euery spirite, but prooue the spirites whether they are of God, or not: for many false prophetes are gone out into the worlde.

2 Hereby shal ye know the spirit of God: Euerye spirite that confesseth that Iesus a Christ is come in the flesshe, is of God:

a. Who being very god came from his father, and tooke vpon hym our flesshe. He that confesseth or Preacheth this truely, hath the spirit of god, els not.

3 And euery spirite which confesseth not that Iesus Christ is come in the flesshe, is not of God, and this is that spirit of Antechrist, of whom ye haue heard howe that he should come: and euen nowe alredy is he in the worlde.

4 Little chyldren, ye are of God, and haue ouercome them: for greater is he that is in you, then he that is in the worlde.

5 They are of the world, therfore speake they of the worlde, and the worlde heareth them.

‖ Iohn.8.47. 6 ‖ We are of God, he that knoweth God, heareth vs: he that is not of God, heareth vs not. Hereby knowe we the spirite of veritie, and the spirite of errour.

The Epistle on the first sunday after Trinitie.

7 Dearely beloued, let vs loue one another, for loue commeth of God: and euery one that loueth, is borne of God, and knoweth God.

8 He that loueth not, knoweth not God: for God is loue.

‖ Iohn.3.16. 9 ‖ In this appeared the loue of God to vs warde, because God sent his onely begotten sonne into the worlde, that we myght lyue through hym.

10 Herein is loue, not that we loued God, but that he loued vs, & sent his sonne to be the agreement for our sinnes.

11 Dearely beloued, if God so loued vs, ‖ 1.Ioh.1.12. we ought also to loue one another.

‖ 1.Tim.6.16. 12 ‖ No man hath seene God at any time. If we loue one another, God dwelleth in vs, and his loue is perfect in vs.

13 Hereby knowe we that we dwel in hym, and he in vs: because he hath geuen vs of his spirite.

14 And we haue seene, and doo testifie that the father sent the sonne to be the sauiour of the worlde.

15 Who so euer confesseth that Iesus is the sonne of God, in hym dwelleth God, and he in God.

16 And we haue knowen and beleeued the loue that God hath to vs. God is loue, & he that dwelleth in loue, dwelleth in God, & God in hym.

17 Herein is the loue perfect in vs, that we should haue boldenesse in the day of iudgement: For as he is, euen so are we in this worlde.

18 There is no feare in loue, but perfect loue casteth out feare: for feare hath paynefulnesse. He that feareth, is not perfect in loue.

19 We loue hym, for he loued vs first.

20 If a man say, I loue God, & yet hate his brother, he is a lyer: For howe can he that loueth not his brother whom he hath seene, loue God whom he hath not seene?

21 ‖ And this commaundement haue we of hym, that he which loueth God, should loue his brother also. ‖ Iohn.13.34. and, 15.12.

The.v.Chapter.
Of the frutes of fayth.

WHo so euer beleeueth that Iesus is Christe, is borne of God: and euery one that loueth hym whiche begate, loueth hym also which is begotten of hym.

‖ Mat.12.37. 2 ‖ By this we know that we loue the children of God, when we loue God, & keepe his commaundementes.

3 For this is the loue of God, that we keepe his commaundementes: and ‖ his commaundementes are not greeuous. ‖ 1.Co.15.57

4 For al that is borne of God, ouercommeth the worlde: and this is the victorie that hath ouercomme the worlde, euen our fayth. The Epistle on the first sunday after Easter.

5 Who is it that ouercommeth the worlde, but he which beleeueth that Iesus is the sonne of God?

6 This Iesus Christe is he that came by water and a blood: not by water onely, but by water and blood: and it is the spirite that beareth witnesse, because the spirite is b trueth.

a. The water & blood that came out of his side, declare that we haue our sinnes washed by hym, and he hath made ful satisfaction for the same.

b which testifieth to our hartes, that we be the children of God.

7 For there are three which beare recorde in heauen, the father, the worde, and the holy ghost, and these three are one.

8 And there are three which beare record in in earth, the spirite, and water, and blood, & these three agree in one.

9 If we receiue the witnesse of men, the witnesse of God is greater: For this is the witnesse of God, which he testifieth of his son.

10 ||He that beleeueth on the sonne of God, hath the witnesse in hym selfe: He that beleeueth not God, hath made him a lier, because he beleeued not the recorde that God gaue of his sonne. ||Iohn.3.37.

11 And this is the record, that God hath geuen vnto vs eternal lyfe, and this lyfe is in his sonne.

12 He that hath the sonne, hath lyfe: & he that hath not the sonne of God, hath not lyfe.

13 These thynges haue I written vnto you that beleeue on the name of the sonne of God, that ye maye knowe that ye haue eternal lyfe, and that ye may beleeue on the name of the sonne of God.

14 And this is the trust that we haue in him: that ||if we aske any thyng according to his wyl, he heareth vs. ||1.Ioh.3.22

15 And if we knowe that he heare vs whatsoeuer we aske, we knowe that we haue the petitions that we desyre of hym.

16 If any man see his brother sinne a sinne whiche is not vnto death, he shal aske, and he shal geue hym life for them that sinne not vnto death. There is a sinne vnto death: I say not that ye shoulde pray for it. ||Mat.12.31 Mark.3.29.

17 ||All vnrighteousnesse is sinne: and there is sinne not vnto death.

18 We knowe that who so euer is borne of God, sinneth not: but he that is begotten of God, keepeth hym selfe, and that wicked toucheth hym not.

19 We knowe that we are of God, and the whole worlde lyeth in wickednesse.

20 We knowe that the sonne of God is come, and hath ||geuen vs a mynd to knowe hym which is true: and we are in him that is true, through his sonne Iesus Christe: This same is very God, and eternal lyfe. ||Luk.29.45.

21 Babes, keepe your selues from *Idols, Amen. *or, Images.

1. He wryteth vnto a certayne Ladye, 4. reioycing that her children walke in the trueth, 5. and exhorteth them vnto loue.

THE elder vnto the elect Lady and her children, whom I loue in the a trueth, and not I onely, but also al that haue knowen the trueth:

2 For the truethes sake which dwelleth in vs, and shalbe with vs for euer:

3 Grace be with you, mercy, and peace from God the father, and from the Lord Iesus Christe, the sonne of the father in b trueth and loue.

4 I reioyced greatly that I founde of thy children walking in c trueth, as we haue receyued a commaundement of the father.

5 And nowe I beseeche thee Lady, not as though I wrote a newe commaundement vnto thee: but that same which we haue had from the beginning, that we shoulde loue one another.

6 And this is the loue, that we shoulde walke after his commaundementes: This is the commaundement, that as ye haue hearde from the beginning, ye should walke in it.

7 For many deceiuers are entred into the worlde, whiche confesse not that Iesus Christ is come in the flesh. This is a deceiuer, and an Antechriste.

8 Looke on your selues, that we loose not that we haue wrought: but that we may haue a ful rewarde.

9 Who so euer transgresseth, and abydeth not in the doctrine of Christe, hath not God: He that endureth in the doctrine of Christ, hath both the father and the sonne.

10 If there come any vnto you, & bryng not this learning, ||him receyue not to house, neyther byd hym God speede. ||Rom.16.17

11 For he that biddeth him God speede, is partaker of his euyl deedes.

12 Hauyng many thynges to wryte vnto you, I wolde not wryte with paper and ynke: but I trust to come vnto you, and speake with you mouth to mouth, that our ioy may be ful.

13 The sonnes of thy elect sister greete thee, Amen.

a. According to godlynesse, and not with any worldly affections.

b. we can not receiue the grace of God, except we haue the true knowledge of him, of the whiche knowledge loue proceedeth.

2. He is glad of Gaius that he walketh in the trueth, 8. and exhorteth to be louyng vnto the poore Christen in their persecution.

THE elder vnto the welbeloued Gaius, whom I loue in the trueth.

2 Beloued, I wysshe in al thinges that thou prosperedst & faredst well, euen as thy soule prospereth.

3 For I reioyced greatly when the brethren came, and testified of the trueth that is in thee, how thou walkest in ꝑ trueth.

4 I haue no greater ioy, then for to heare howe that my sonnes walke a in veritie.

a That is, in godly conuersation, as they whiche haue both the knowledge and feare of God.

5 Beloued, thou doest faythfully what so euer thou doest to the brethren, and to strangers:

6 Whiche haue borne witnesse of thy charitie before the Churche: whom yf thou bryng forwardes on their iourney after a godly sort, thou shalt doo well.

7 Because that for his names sake they went forth, takyng nothyng of the Gentiles.

8 We therefore ought to receyue suche, that we myght be helpers to the trueth.

9 I wrote vnto the Churche: but Diotrephes whiche loueth to haue the preeminence among them, receyueth vs not.

10 Wherfore yf I come, I wyl declare his deedes whiche he doeth, iestyng on vs with malitious wordes: and not content therewith, neither he him selfe receyueth the brethren, and forbiddeth them that would, and thrusteth them out of the Churche.

11 Beloued, folowe not that whiche is euyl, but that whiche is good. He that doeth wel, is of God, but he that doeth euyll, hath not seene God.

12 Demetrius hath good reporte of all men, and of the trueth it selfe: Yea, and we our selues also beare record, and ye knowe that our record is true.

13 I had many thyngs to wryte: but I wyl not with ynke & penne wryte vnto thee.

14 I trust I shal shortly see thee, and we shal speake mouth to mouth. Peace be vnto thee. The louers salute thee. Greete our freendes by name.

The Epistle of Saint Iude.

Saint Iude admonisheth all Churches generally to take heede of deceyuers, whiche goe about to drawe away the hartes of the simple people from the trueth of God.

The Epistle of Saint Simon and Iude.

IUDE the seruant of Iesus Christ, the brother of Iames, to them whiche are called & sanctified in God the father, & preserued in Iesus Christe:

2 Mercie vnto you, and peace, and charitie be multiplied.

3 Beloued, when I gaue al diligence to wryte vnto you of the common saluation, it was needefull for me to wryte vnto you, exhortyng you that ye shoulde earnestly a contende for the fayth whiche was once geuen vnto the saintes.

a Against assaultes of Satan, and hereties.

4 For there are certayne vngodly men craftily crept in, whiche were before of olde ordeyned to this condemnation, turnyng the grace of our God vnto wantonnesse: and denyng God, whiche is the onely Lorde, and our Lorde Iesus Christe.

5 My mynde is therefore to put you in remembraunce hereof, for as much as ye once knowe this, howe that the Lorde after that he had delyuered the people out of Egypt, ‖ destroyed them which afterward beleeued not. ‖ Nu.14.37.

6 ‖ The angelles also whiche kept not their fyrst estate, but left their owne habitation, he hath reserued in euerlastyng chaines vnder darkenesse, vnto the iudgement of the great day. ‖ 2.Pet.2.4.

7 ‖ Euen as Sodome and Gomorrhe, and the cities about them, whiche in lyke manner defyled them selues with fornication, and folowed strange flesshe, are set forth for an ensample, and suffer the payne of eternall fyre. ‖ Gen.19.24

8 Lykewyse these beyng deceyued by dreames, defyle the flesshe, despyse rulers, and speake euyll of them that are in auctoritie.

9 Yet Michael the archangel, when he stroue against the deuil, & disputed about the body of Moses, durst not gene raylyng sentence, but sayde, The Lorde rebuke thee.

10 But

10 But these speake euyl of those thynges which they knowe not, and what thynges they knowe naturally, as beastes whiche are without reason, in those thynges they corrupt themselues.

11 Woe be vnto thē, for they haue gone in the way of ||Cain, and are vtterly geuen to the errour of ||Balaam for lucres sake, and haue perysshed in the gaynesaying of ||Core.

12 These are [a] spottes in your feastes of charitie, when they feast with you, without all feare feedyng themselues: cloudes they are without water, carried about of wyndes, [b] trees wythered at fruite gatheryng, and without fruite, twise dead, and plucked vp by the rootes:

13 They are the raging waues of the sea, fomyng out their owne shame: they are wandryng starres, to whom is reserued the myst of darknesse for euer.

14 Enoch the seuenth from Adam prophecied before of suche, saying, Beholde, the Lord shal come with thousandes of saintes, 15 To geue iudgement against al men, and to rebuke al that are vngodly among them, of al their vngodly deedes whiche they haue vngodly committed, and of al their cruel speakynges, which vngodly synners haue spoken agaynst him.

16 These are murmurers, complainers, walkyng after their owne lustes, || whose mouthes speake proude thynges, they haue men in great reuerēce because of aduantage. || Iud. 17. 18

17 But ye beloued, remember the woordes whiche were spoken before of the Apostles of our Lorde Iesus Chriſte.

18 How that they tolde you, || that there shoulde be mockers in the last tyme, whiche shoulde walke after their owne vngodly lustes. || 1. Tim. 4. 1. 2. Tim. 3. 1. 2. Pet. 2. 3.

19 These are makers of sects, sleshly, hauyng not the spirite.

20 But ye dearely beloued, edifie your selues in your most holy fayth, prayng in the holy ghost.

21 And keepe your selues in the loue of God, lookyng for the mercy of our Lord Iesus Chriſte vnto eternal lyfe, 22 And haue compassion of some, [a] separatyng them: [a] or, in puttyng differēce.

23 And other saue with feare, pullyng them out of the fyre: hatyng euen the garment spotted by the flesshe.

24 Vnto him that is able to keepe you free from sinne, and to present you faultlesse before the presence of his glory with ioy,

25 To God our sauiour which onely is wyse, be glory and maiestie, dominion, and power, nowe and euer. Amen.

tribulation, and in the kingdome and patience of Iesus Christ, was in the Ile that is called Parhmos, for the woorde of God, and for the witnessing of Iesus Christ.

'Or, sunday. 10 I was in the spirite on the 'Lordes day, and hearde behynde me a great voyce, as it had been the voyce of a trumpe, 11 Saying, I am Alpha and Omega, the first and the last: that thou seest wryte in a booke, and sende it vnto the seuen churches whiche are in Asia, vnto Ephesus, and vnto Smyrna, and vnto Pergamos, & vnto Thyatira, and vnto Sardis, and vnto Philadelphia, and vnto Laodicea.

12 And I turned backe to see the voyce that spake to me. And when I was turned, I sawe seuen golden candelsticks, 13 And in the middest of the seuen candlesticks, one like vnto the sonne of man, clothed with a garment downe to the feete, and gyrde about the pappes with a golden gyrdle.

14 His head and his heares were white, as whyte wool, and as snowe, and his eyes were as a flame of fire.

15 And his feete like vnto fine brasse, as though they burnt in a furnace: and his voice as the sounde of many waters.

16 And he had in his ryght hande seuen starres: and out of his mouth went a sharpe two edged swoorde: and his face shone euen as the sunne in his strength.

20 The misterye of the seuen starres which thou sawest in my ryght hande, and the seuen golden candlesticks. The seuen starres, are the Angels of the seuen Churches: and the seuen candlesticks which thou sawest, are the seuen Churches.

¶ The. ij. Chapter.

e. He exhorteth foure Churches, 5. to repentance, 10. to perseuerance, patience, and amendement, 14. 20. 23. as well by threatnynges, 7. 10. 17. 26. as by promises of rewarde.

VNto the angel of the Church of Ephesus, wryte, These thynges sayth he that holdeth the seuen starres in his ryght hande, and that walketh in the middes of the seuen golden candlesticks:

2 I knowe thy woorkes, and thy labour and patience, & howe thou canst not forbeare them whiche are euyll: and hast examined them whiche say they are apostles, and are not, and hast founde them lyers:

3 And hast suffered, and hast patience, and for my names sake hast laboured, & hast not fainted.

4 Neuertheles, I haue somewhat agaynst thee, because thou hast leaft thy first loue.

5 Remember therefore from whence thou art fallen, and repent, & doo the first woorkes: or els, I wyll come vnto thee shortly, and wyl remoone thy candelsticke out of his place, except thou repent.

6 But this thou hast, because thou hatest the deedes of the Nicolaitans, whiche deedes I also hate.

7 Let hym that hath an eare, heare what the spirite saith vnto the Churches: To hym that ouercommeth, wyl I geue to eate of the tree of lyfe, whiche is in the myddes of the paradise of God.

8 And vnto the Angel of the Church of Smyrna, wryte, These thinges saith he that is first and the last, whiche was dead, and is alyue: a. The eternal diuinitie of Iesus Christe, is here most playnly declared, with his manhood and victorie ouer death, to assure his, that they shal not be ouercome by death.

9 I knowe thy woorkes, and tribulation, and pouertie, (but thou art b riche:) and I know the blasphemie of them whiche cal them selues Iewes, and are not, but are the synagogue of Satan.

10 Feare none of those thinges whiche thou shalt suffer: behold, the deuyl shal cast some of you into prison to tempt you, and ye shall haue tribulation ten dayes: be thou faithfull vnto the death, and I wyl geue thee a crowne of lyfe. b In spiritual treasure.

11 Let hym that hath an eare, heare what the spirit sayth vnto the Churches. He that ouercommeth, shal not be hurt of the second death.

12 And to the angel of þ Church in Pergamos, wryte, These thinges saith he whiche hath the sharpe c swoorde with two edges.

13 I knowe thy woorkes, and where thou dwellest euen where Satans seate is, and that thou holdest fast my name, and hast not denied my fayth, euen in those dayes, when Antipas my faythfull martyr was slayne among you, where Satan dwelleth. c. The woorde of God is the swoorde with two edges.

14 But I haue a fewe thynges against thee, because thou hast there them that mainteine the doctrine of ||Balaam, which taught "Balac to put a stumbling blocke before the children of Israel, that they should eate of meat sacrificed vnto Idoles, and commit fornication. ||Nu. 24.14. "Some reade, taught in Balac.

15 Euen

15 Euen so hast thou them that maintayne the doctrine of the Nicolaitanes, which thyng I hate.

16 Repent, or els I wyl come vnto thee shortly, and wyl fyght agaynst them with the swoorde of my mouth.

17 Let hym that hath an eare, heare what the spirite sayth vnto the Churches. To hym that ouercommeth, wyl I geue to eate Manna that is hyd, and wyl geue hym a whyte stone, and in the stone a newe name written, whiche no man knoweth, sauing he that receyueth it.

18 And vnto the angel of the Church of Thyatira, wryte, These thynges sayth the sonne of GOD, who hath eyes lyke vnto a flame of fire, and his feete are lyke fyne brasse:

19 I knowe thy woorkes, and thy charitie, seruice, and fayth, and thy patience, and thy deedes, whiche are moe at the last then at the first.

20 Notwithstandyng, I haue a fewe thynges agaynst thee, because thou sufferest that woman Iesabel, whiche called her selfe a prophetisse, to teach, and to deceaue my seruants, to make them commit fornication, and to eate meate sacrificed vnto idols.

21 And I gaue her space to repent of her fornication, and she repented not.

22 Beholde, I wyl cast her into a bed, and them that commit fornication with her into great aduersitie, except they repent of theyr deedes.

23 And I wyl kyl her chyldren with death, and al the churches shal knowe that ‖ I am he whiche searcheth the reynes and hartes: and I wyl geue vnto euery one of you according to his woorkes. ‖ Iere.11.20. and.17.10.

24 Vnto you I saye, and vnto other of them of Thyatira, as many as haue not this learning, and which haue not knowen the deepenesse of Satan, as they say, I wyl put vpon you none other burden:

25 But that which ye haue already, hold fast tyl I come.

26 And whosoeuer ouercommeth, and keepeth my woorkes vnto the ende, to hym wyl I geue power ouer nations:

27 ‖ And he shal rule them with a rodde of Iron: and as the vessels of a potter shal they be broken to sheuers: ‖ Psalm.2.9.

28 Euen as I receaued of my father, so wyl I geue hym the morning starre.

29 Let hym that hath an eare, heare what the spirite sayth to the Churches.

¶ The.iii. Chapter.

He exhorteth the churches or ministers to the true profession of fayth, and to watchyng.

AND wryte vnto the angel of the Church that is at Sardis, These thinges sayth he that hath the seuen spirites of God, and the seuen starres, I knowe thy woorkes, how that thou hast a name that thou lyuest, and thou art dead.

2 Be awake, and strength the thinges whiche remayne, that are redye to dye: For I haue not founde thy woorkes perfect before God.

3 Remember therefore howe thou hast receiued and heard, and hold fast, and repent. ‖ If thou shalt not watche, I wyll come on thee as a theefe, and thou shalt not knowe what houre I wyl come vpon thee. ‖ 1.Thes.5.2. 2.Pete.3.10.

4 Thou hast a fewe names in Sardis, which haue not defiled their garmentes, and they shall walke with me in white: for they are woorthy.

5 He that ouercommeth, shalbe thus clothed in white araye, and I wyll not blot out his name out of the ‖ booke of lyfe: & I wyll confesse his name before my father, and before his angels. ‖ Apoc.20.12. Phillip.4.4.

6 Let hym that hath an eare, heare what the spirite sayth vnto the Churches.

7 And wryte vnto the angel of the Church of Philadelphia, These thinges saith he that is holy and true, which hath the key of Dauid, which openeth, and no man shutteth, and shutteth, and no man openeth.

8 I knowe thy woorkes: beholde, I haue set before thee an open doore, and no man can shut it: for thou hast a litle strength, and hast kept my sayinges, and hast not denyed my name.

9 Beholde, I wil make them of the synagogue of Satan, whiche call them selues Iewes, and are not, but doo lye: beholde, I wyll make them that they shall comme and woorshyp before thy feete, and shal knowe that I haue loued thee.

10 Because thou hast kept the woorde of my pacience, therefore I wyll keepe thee from the houre of temptation, which wyl come vpon all the worlde, to trye them that dwel vpon the earth.

11 Beholde, I come shortly, holde that fast which thou hast, that no man take awaye thy crowne.

12 Hym that ouercommeth, wyl I make a pyller in the temple of my God, and he shal goe no more out: and I wyl wryte vpon hym the name of my God, & the name of the citie of my God, whiche is newe Hierusalem, whiche commeth downe out of heauen from my God: and I wyl wryte vpon hym my newe name.

13 Let him that hath an eare, heare what the spirite sayth vnto the Churches.

14 And vnto the angell of the Churche whiche is in Laodicea, wryte, These thynges sayth Amen, the faythfull and true witnesse, the begynnyng of the creatures of God.

the dooze, I wyl come in to him, & wyl supper with him, and he with me.

graunt to syt with me in my throne, euen as I ouercame, and haue sytten with my father in his throne.

the spirite sayth vnto the Churches.

¶ The. iiij. Chapter.

1. The vision of the maiestie of God. 2. He seeth the throne, and one sitting vppon it, 8. and foure and twentie seates about it, with foure and twentie elders sitting vpon them, and foure beastes praysing God day and nyght.

The Epistle on Trinitie Sunday.

AFter this I looked, and beholde a dooze was open in heauen: and the fyrst voyce whiche I heard, was as it were of a trumpet, talking with me, which sayd, Come vp hyther, and I wyll shewe thee thynges whiche must be fulfylled hereafter.

2 And immediatly I was in the spirite:
and beholde, a throne was set in heauen, and one sate on the throne.

3 And he that sate, was to looke vppon lyke a Jasper stone, & a Sardine stone: and there was a raynebowe about the throne, in syght lyke vnto an Emeralde.

4 And about the throne were foure and twentie seates, and vppon the seates I sawe foure and twentie elders sytting, clothed in white rayment, and they had on their heades crownes of golde.

5 And out of the throne doo proceede lyghtenynges, and thundrynges, and voyces:
and there were seuen lampes of fyre burning before the throne, whiche are the seuen spi-rites of God.

6 And before the throne there was a sea of glasse, lyke vnto Crystal: and in the myddest of the throne, & round about the throne, were foure beastes ful of eyes before and behynde.

7 And the fyrste beast was lyke a Lion, and the seconde beast lyke a Calfe, and the thyrd beast had a face as a man, & the fourth beast was lyke a fleeyng Egle.

8 And the foure beasts had each of them syxe wynges about him, and they were full of eyes within, and they had no rest day neyther nyght, saying, Holy, holy, holy, lorde God al-myghtie, whiche was, and is, and is to come.

9 And when those beastes gaue glory, and honour, and thankes to him that sate on the throne, whiche lyueth for euer and euer,

10 The foure and twentie elders fell downe before him that sate on the throne, and worshypped him that lyueth for euer and euer, & cast their crownes before the throne, saying,

11 ‖ Thou art woorthie, O Lord, to re- ‖ Apoc. 5. 12.
ceyue glory, and honour, and power: for thou hast created al thynges, and for thy pleasures sake they are, and were created.

¶ The. v. Chapter.

1. He seeth the Lambe openyng the booke, 4. 14. and therfore the foure beastes, the foure and twentie elders, and the angels prayse the Lambe, and do him worship, 9. for their redemption, & other benefites.

AND I sawe in the right hande of him that sate on the throne, a booke wrytten within, and on the backside, sealed with seuen seales.

2 And I sawe a strong angel preachyng with a loude voyce, Who is woorthy to open the booke, and to loose the seales thereof?

3 And no man in heauen, nor in earth, neyther vnder the earth, was able to open the booke, neyther to looke thereon.

4 And I wept muche, because no man was found woorthie to open, and to reade the booke, neyther to looke thereon.

5 And one of the elders sayth vnto me, Weepe not: behold, that Lion that is of the tribe of Juda, the roote of Dauid, hath obteined to open the booke, and to loose the seuen seales thereof.

6 And I beheld, and loe, in the middes of the throne, and of the foure beastes, & in the middes

mids of the elders stood a Lambe as though he had been kylled, hauyng seuen hornes and seuen eyes, whiche are the seuen spirites of God, sent into al the earth.

7 And he came, and tooke the booke out of the ryght hande of him that sate vpon the throne.

8 And when he had taken the booke, the foure beastes and foure and twentie elders fell downe before the Lambe, hauyng euery one of them harpes and golden viales ful of odours, whiche are the prayers of saintes:

9 And they song a newe songue, saying, Thou art worthie to take the booke, and to open the seales thereof: for thou wast killed, and hast redeemed vs to God by thy blood, out of al kinrede, and tongue, and people, and nation:

10 And hast made vs vnto our GOD ‖ kynges and priestes, and we shal raigne on ‖ 1. Pet. 2. 9 the earth.

11 And I beheld, and I heard the voyce of many angelles about the throne, and about the beastes and the elders, and theyr thousande thousandes, 12 Saying with a loud voyce, Worthy is the Lambe that was kylled to receyue power, and riches, and wysedome, & strength, and honour, and glory, and blessyng.

13 And all the creatures whiche are in heauen, and on the earth, and vnder the earth, and in the sea, and al that are in them, heard I saying, Blessyng, honour, glory, & power be vnto him that sitteth vpon the throne, and vnto the Lambe for euermore.

14 And the foure beasts said, Amen. And the foure & twentie elders fel vppon their faces, & worshypped him that lyueth for euermore.

¶ The. vi. Chapter.

The Lambe openeth the syxe seales, and many thynges folow vpon the openyng thereof.

AND I sawe when the Lambe opened one of the seales, and I heard one of the foure beastes say, as it were the noyse of thunder, Come, and see.

2 And I sawe, and beholde there was a whyte horse, and he that sate on him had a bowe, and a crowne was geuen vnto him, and he went forth conquering, and for to ouercome.

3 And when he had opened the seconde seale, I heard the seconde beast say, Come, and see.

4 And there went out another horse that was redde: and power was geuen to him that sate theron to take peace from the earth, and that they shoulde kyl one another: and there was geuen vnto him a great sworde.

5 And when he had opened the thyrde seale, I heard the thyrd beast say, Come, and see. And I beheld, and loe, a blacke horse: and he that sate on him, had a payre of ballances in his hande.

6 And I heard a voyce in the myddes of the foure beastes say, A measure of wheate for a penie, and three measures of barley for a penie, and oyle and wyne see thou hurt not.

7 And when he had opened the fourth seale, I heard the voyce of the fourth beaste say, Come, and see.

8 And I looked, and behold a pale horse, and his name that sate on him was death, & hell folowed with him: and power was geuen vnto him ouer the fourth parte of the earth, to kyll with sworde, and with hunger, and with death, and with the beastes of the earth.

9 And whē he had opened the fifth seale, I sawe vnder the aulter the soules of them that were kylled for the worde of God, and for the testimonie whiche they had.

10 And they cryed with a loude voyce, saying, Howe long tarriest thou Lord holy & true, to iudge & to auenge our blood on them that dwel on the earth.

11 And long white garmentes were geuen vnto euery one of them, and it was sayde vnto them that they should rest yet for a litle season, vntyl their felowe seruantes, and their brethren that shoulde be kylled as they were, shoulde be fulfylled.

12 And I beheld when he had opened the syxth seale, & loe there was a great earthquake, and the sunne was as blacke as sackcloth made of heare, and the moone waxed al euen as blood.

13 And the starres of heauen fell vnto the earth, euen as a fygge tree casteth her vntymely fygges when she is shaken of a mighty wynde.

14 And heauen vanished away as a scrowle when it is rolled together, and all mountaynes and Iles were mooued out of their places.

15 And the kynges of the earth, and the great men, and the ryche men, and the cheefe captaynes, and the myghtie men, and euery bondman, and euery free man, hyde them selues in the dennes, and in the rockes of the hylles:

16 And sayde to the hylles and rockes, ‖ Fal on vs, and hide vs from the face of him that sytteth on the throne, & from the wrath of the Lambe: ‖ Esai. 2. 19. Osee. 10. 8. Luke. 23. 30

The. vii. Chapter.

3. 9. He seeth the seruantes of God sealed in their foreheads, out of al nations & people, 13. vvhiche though they suffer trouble, yet the lambe feedeth them, leadeth them to the fountaynes of liuyng vvater, 17. and God shal vvype avvay al teares from their eyes.

AND after that, I sawe foure angelles standyng on the foure corners of the earth, holdyng the foure windes of the earth, that the winde shoulde not blowe on the earth, neither on the sea, neither on any tree.

The Epistle on al saintes day.

2 And I sawe another angel assending from the rising of the sunne, hauing the seale of the liuing God: and he cried with a loude voyce to the foure angelles to whom power was geuen to hurt the earth and the sea,

3 Saying, Hurt not the earth, neyther the sea, neither the trees, til we shal haue sealed the seruantes of our GOD in their foreheades.

4 And I hearde the number of them which were sealed: and there were sealed an hundred and fourtie and foure thousande, of al the tribes of the children of Israel.

5 Of the tribe of Juda were sealed twelue thousande. Of the tribe of Ruben were sealed twelue thousand. Of the tribe of Gad were sealed twelue thousande.

6 Of the tribe of Aser were sealed twelue thousande. Of the tribe of Nephthali were sealed twelue thousand. Of the tribe of Manasses were sealed twelue thousande.

7 Of the tribe of Simeon were sealed twelue thousand. Of the tribe of Leui were sealed twelue thousand. Of the tribe of Issachar were sealed twelue thousande.

8 Of the tribe of Zabulon were sealed twelue thousande. Of the tribe of Joseph were sealed twelue thousand. Of the tribe of Beniamin were sealed twelue thousande.

9 After this I behelde, and loe a great multitude which no man could number, of al nations, and kinredes, and people, and tongues, stoode before the throne, and before the lambe, clothed with white garmentes, and Paulmes in their handes:

10 And cryed with a loude voyce, saying, Saluation be ascribed to hym that sitteth vpon the throne of our GOD, and vnto the lambe.

11 And al the angels stoode in the compasse of the throne, and of the elders, and of the foure beastes, and fell before the throne on their faces, and worshypped God,

12 Saying, Amen: Blessing, and glory, and wysedome, and thankes, and honour, and power, and might, be vnto our GOD for euermore, Amen.

13 And one of the elders answeared, saying vnto me, What are these whiche are arayed in white garments? and whence came they?

14 And I said vnto him, Lord, thou wotest. And he said to me, These are they whiche came out of great tribulation, and haue washed their long robes, and made them white by the blood of the lambe.

a. That is, the said long robes.

15 Therfore are they in the presence of the throne of GOD, and serue him day and night in his temple: and he that sytteth in the throne wil dwel among them.

16 ‖ They shal hunger no more, neither thyrst, neither shal the sunne light on them, neyther any heate. ‖ Esai. 49. 10.

17 For the lambe whiche is in the mides of the throne shall feede them, and shall leade them vnto liuing fountaynes of waters: ‖ and GOD shal wype away al teares from their eyes. ‖ Esai. 25. 8. Apoc. 21. 4.

The. viii. Chapter.

1. The seuenth seale is opened, there is silence in heauen. 6. The foure angels blovv their trumpets, and great plagues folovv vpon the earth.

AND when he had opened the seuenth seale, there was silence in heauen about the space of halfe an houre.

2 And I sawe the seuen angels whiche stoode before God, and to them were geuen seuen trumpets.

3 And another angel came and stoode before the aulter, hauing a golden censer, and many odours were geuen vnto hym, that he shoulde offer with the prayers of all saintes vpon the golden aulter which was before the throne.

4 And the smoke of the odours whiche came of the prayers of saintes, assended vp before God, out of the angels hande.

5 And the angel toke the censer, & filled it with fyre of the aulter, and cast it into the earth: and voyces were made, and thunderynges, and lightninges, and earthquake.

6 And the seuen angels which had the seuen trumpets, prepared them selues to blow.

7 The first angel blewe, and there was made hayle and fyre myngled with blood, and they were cast into the earth, and the third part of trees was burnt, and all greene grasse was burnt.

8 And the second angel blewe, and as it were a great mountayne burning with fyre was cast into the sea, and the thyrde part of the sea turned to blood.

9 And the thirde part of the creatures which were in the sea, and had life, dyed, and the third part of the shyps were destroyed.

10 And the third angel blew, and there fel a great starre from heauen, burning as it were a lampe, and it fel into the third part of the riuers, and into fountaynes of waters:

11 And the name of the starre is called Wormewood, and the thyrde part was turned to wormewood, and many men dyed of the waters, because they were made bytter.

12 And the fourth angel blewe, and the thirde part of the Sunne was smitten, & the thirde part of the Moone, and the third part of starres, that the third part of them should be darkened: and the day was smytten that the third part of it should not shine, and likewise the night.

13 And I beheld, and heard an angell fleeing through the middes of heauen, saying with a loude voyce, Wo, wo, wo to the inhabiters of the earth, because of the voyces to come of the trumpe of the three angels which the were yet to blowe.

The.ix. Chapter.

1. The first woe is past. 14. The foure angels that were bound are loosed. 18. And the thyrd part of men is killed.

AND the fifth angel blewe, and I sawe a starre fal from heauen vnto the earth: and to him was geuen the key of the bottomelesse pyt.

2 And he opened the bottomelesse pyt, and the smoke of the pyt arose, as the smoke of a great furnace, and the Sunne and the ayre were darkened, by the reason of the smoke of the pyt.

3 And there came out of the smoke locustes vpon the earth, and vnto them was geuen power, as the Scorpions of the earth haue power.

4 And it was commaunded them that they shoulde not hurt the grasse of the earth, neither any greene thing, neyther any tree: but only those men which haue not the seale of God in their foreheades.

5 And to them it was geuen that they shoulde not kyll them, but that they shoulde be vexed fiue monethes, and their payne was as the payne that commeth of a Scorpion, when he hath stricken a man.

6 || And in those dayes shall men seeke death, and shal not finde it, and shal desyre to dye, and death shal flee from them.

7 || And the similitude of the locustes was like vnto horses prepared vnto battaile, and on their heads were as it were crownes like vnto golde, and their faces were as it had ben the faces of men.

8 And they had heare as the heare of women, & their teeth were as the teeth of Lions.

9 And they had habergions, as it were habergions of iron, and the sounde of their wynges was as the sounde of charrets when many horses runne to battayle.

10 And they had tailes like vnto Scorpions, and there were stinges in their tailes: and their power was to hurt men fiue monethes.

11 And they had a king ouer them, which is the angel of the bottomlesse pit, whose name in the Hebrue tongue is Abaddon, but in the Greke tongue hath his name Appollyon, that is to say, a destroyer.

12 One woe is past, and beholde two woes come yet after this.

13 And the syxth angel blewe, and I heard a voyce from the foure hornes of the golden aulter, which is before God,

14 Saying to the sixth angel which had the trumpe, Loose the foure angels which are bounde in the great riuer Euphrates.

15 And the foure angels were loosed, which were prepared for an houre, and a day, and a moneth, and a yeere, for to slay the thirde part of men.

16 And the number of the horsemen of the armies were twentie thousande times ten thousande: and I heard the number of them.

17 And thus I sawe the horses in the vision, and them that sate on them, hauing fiery habergions of a Iacinct colour, and brymstone, and the heades of the horses were as the heades of Lions, and out of their mouthes commeth fourth fyre, and smoke, and brymstone.

18 And of these three was the third part of men kylled, that is to say, of the fyre, and of the smoke, and of the brymstone, which proceeded out of the mouthes of them.

19 For their powers be in their mouthes, and in their tayles: for their tayles were lyke vnto serpents, hauyng heades, and with them they do hurt.

20 And the remnant of the men which were not kylled by these plagues, repented not of the deedes of their handes, that they shoulde not worshyp deuyls, || and idolles of golde, and siluer, and brasse, and stone, and of wood, which neyther can see, neyther heare, neyther goe:

21 Also they repented not of their murders, and of their sorceries, neyther of their fornication, neyther of their theftes.

3. The angel hath the booke open. 6. he ſweareth there ſhalbe no more tyme. 9. he geueth the booke vnto Iohn, which eateth it vp.

AND I ſawe another myghty angel come downe from heauen, clothed with a cloude, and the rayneboive vpon his head: and his face as it were the ſunne, and his feete as it were pyllers of fyre.

2 And he had in his hand a litle booke open: and he put his right foote vpon the ſea, and his left foote on the earth:

3 And cried with a loude voice, as when a Lion roreth, and when he had cryed, ſeuen thunders vttered their voyces.

4 And when the ſeuen thunders had vttered their voyces, I was about to write: and I heard a voyce from heauen, ſaying vnto me, Seale vp thoſe thinges which the ſeuen thunders vttered, and wryte them not.

5 And the angel which I ſawe ſtande vpon the ſea, and vpon the earth, lyft vp his hande to heauen,

6 And ſware by him that liueth for euermore, which created heauen, and the thinges that therein are, and the earth, and the thinges that therein are, and the ſea, and the thinges which therein are, that there ſhould be no longer tyme.

7 But in the dayes of the voyce of the ſeuenth angel, when he ſhall begin to blowe, and the miniſterie of GOD ſhalbe fynished, as he declareth to his ſeruauntes the prophetes.

8 And the voice which I heard from heauen, ſpake vnto me agayne, and ſayde, Goe, and take the litle booke which is open in the hande of the angel which ſtandeth vpon the ſea, and vpon the earth.

9 And I went vnto the angel, and ſayde vnto hym, Geue me the litle booke. And he ſayde vnto me, Take it, and eate it vp, and it ſhal || make thy belly bytter, but it ſhalbe in thy mouth as ſweete as hony.

|| Ezech. 2. 9

10 And I tooke the litle booke out of the angels hand, and ate it vp, and it was in my mouth as ſweete as hony: and aſſoone as I had eaten it, my belly was bitter.

The xi. Chapter.

3. The temple is meaſured. 3. Two, witneſſes ſtyrred vp by the Lord, are murdered by the beaſt.

AND then was geuen me a reede lyke vnto a rodde, and the angel ſtoode by, ſaying, Ryſe and meate the temple of GOD, and the aulter, and them that woorſhip therein.

2 But the court which is without the temple caſt out, and meate it not: for it is geuen vnto the Gentiles, and the holy citie ſhal they treade vnder foote fourtie and two monethes.

3 And I wyl geue power vnto my two witneſſes, & they ſhal prophesie a thouſande, two hundred, and threeſcore dayes, clothed in ſackcloth.

4 Theſe are two Olyue trees, and two candleſtickes, ſtanding before the God of the earth.

5 And yf any man wyl hurt them, fyre proceedeth out of their mouthes, and conſumeth their enimies: and if any man wyl hurt them, this wyſe muſt he be killed.

6 Theſe haue power to ſhut heauen, that it rayne not in the dayes of their prophesying: and haue power ouer waters, to turne them to blood, and to ſmyte the earth with al maner plagues, as often as they wil.

7 And when they haue finiſhed their teſtimonie, the beaſt that commeth out of the bottomleſſe pit, ſhall make warre agaynſt them, and ſhall ouercome them, and kyll them.

8 And their bodies ſhall lye in the ſtreetes of the great citie, which ſpiritually is called Sodome & Egypt, where alſo our Lorde was crucifyed.

9 And they of the people, and kynredes, and tongues, and they of the nations, ſhal ſee their bodies three dayes and an halfe, and ſhall not ſuffer their bodyes to be put in graues.

10 And they that dwel vppon the earth ſhal reioyce ouer them, and be glad, and ſhal ſende gyftes one to another: for theſe two prophetes vexed them that dwelt on the earth.

11 And after three dayes and an halfe, the ſpirite of lyfe comming from God, entred into them: And they ſtoode vppon their feete, and great feare fel vpon them which ſawe them.

12 And they heard a great voyce from heauen, ſaying vnto them, Come vp hither. And they aſcended vp to heauen in a cloude, and their enimies ſawe them.

13 And the ſame houre was there a great earthquake, & the tenth part of the citie fel, & in the earthquake were ſlaine names of men ſeuen thouſand: & the remnant were afrayd, and gaue glory to the God of heauen.

14 The ſecond woe is paſt, & behold the chylde wo commeth anone.

15 And the seuenth angel blewe, and there were made great voices in heauen, saying, The kingdomes of this worlde are our Lordes, and his Christes, and he shal raigne for euermore.

16 And the .xxiiii. elders which sat before God on their seates, fel vpon their faces, and worshipped God, 17 Saying, We geue thee thankes, O Lorde God almighty, which art, and wast, & art to come: for thou hast receiued thy great might, and hast raigned.

18 And the nations were angry, and thy wrath is come, and the tyme of the dead that they shoulde be iudged, and that thou shouldest geue rewarde vnto thy seruauntes the Prophetes and Saintes, and to them that feare thy name, small and great, and shouldest destroy them which destroy the earth.

19 And the temple of God was opened in heauen, and there were seene in his temple the arke of his testament: & there folowed lightninges, and voyces, and thunderinges, and earthquake, and much hayle.

9 And the great Dragon, that olde serpent, called the deuil and Satanas, was cast out, whiche deceiueth al the worlde: and he was cast out into the earth, and his angels were cast out with him.

10 And I heard a loude voyce saying in heauen: Nowe is come saluation, and strength, and the kingdome of our GOD, and the power of his Christ: For the accuser of our brethren is cast downe, whiche accused them before our GOD day and night.

11 And they ouercame him by the blood of the lambe, and by the worde of his testimonie, and they loued not their liues vnto the death.

12 Therefore reioyce heauens, and ye that dwel in them. Wo to the inhabiters of the earth, and of the sea: for the deuil is come downe vnto you, which hath great wrath, because he knoweth that he hath but a shorte tyme.

13 And when the Dragon sawe that he was cast vnto the earth, he persecuted the woman which brought forth the man chylde.

14 And to the woman were geuen two winges of a great Eagle, that she might flee into the wildernesse into her place, where she is nourished for a time, and tymes, and halfe a time, from the face of the serpent.

15 And the serpent cast out of his mouth water after the woman, as it had ben a floode: that he might cause her to be caryed away of the flood.

16 And the earth holpe the woman, and the earth opened her mouth, and swalowed vp the riuer whiche the Dragon cast out of his mouth.

17 And the Dragon was wroth with the woman, and went and made warre with the remnant of her seede, which keepe the commaundementes of God, and haue the testimonie of Iesus Christe.

2 And the beast which I sawe, was like a Leoparde, and his feete were as the feete of a Beare, & his mouth as the mouth of a Lion: and the Dragon gaue him his power, and his seate, and great auctoritie.

3 And I sawe one of his heades as it were wounded to death, & his deadly wound was healed: and al the worlde wondred after the beast.

4 And they worshipped the Dragon which gaue power vnto the beast, and they worshipped the beast, saying, Who is lyke vnto the beast? Who is able to warre with hym?

5 And there was geuen vnto hym a mouth, speaking great thinges, and blasphemies, and power was geuen vnto hym, to do fourtie and two monethes.

6 And he opened his mouth vnto blasphemie agaynst GOD, to blaspheme his name, and his tabernacle, and them that dwel in heauen.

7 And it was geuen vnto him to make warre with the saintes, and to ouercome them: And power was geuen him ouer all kinredes, and tongues, and nations,

8 And al that dwel vpon the earth, shall worship him, whose names are not written in the booke of life of the lambe, which was killed from the begynning of the worlde.

9 If any man haue an eare, let hym heare.

10 || He that leadeth into captiuitie, shal goe into captiuitie: He that killeth with a sword, must be kylled with a sword. Here is the pacience and the fayth of the saintes. || Gene.9.6. Mat.26.5.

11 And I beheld another beast commyng vp out of the earth, and he had two hornes lyke a lambe, and he spake as did the Dragon.

12 And he doth all that the fyrst beast could do in his presence, and he causeth the earth and them whiche dwel therein to worshyp the fyrst beast, whose deadly wounde was healed.

13 And he doth great wonders, so that he maketh fyre come downe from heauen on the earth in the sight of men,

14 And deceiueth them that dwell on the earth, by the meanes of those signes whiche he had power to do in the sight of the beast, saying to them that dwel on the earth, that they should make an image to the beast whiche hath the wounde of a sword, and dyd lyue.

15 And he had power to geue a spirite vnto the image of the beast, that the image of the beast shoulde both speake, and shoulde cause that as many as would not worshyp the image of the beast, should be kylled.

16 And he causeth al, both smal & great, rich and poore, free and bonde, that he should geue them a marke in their right hande, or in their foreheades.

17 And that no man might buy or sell, saue he that had the marke, or the name of the beast, other the number of his name.

18 Here is wysdome. Let him that hath wyt, count the number of the beast: For it is the number of a man, and his number is sixe hundred threescore and sixe.

The. xiiii. Chapter.

1. The notable company of the lambe. 6. One announceth the Gospel. 8. Another, the fal of Babylon. 9. And the thyrd warneth to flee from the beast. 18. Of the Lordes haruest.

AND I looked, and loe a lambe stoode on the mount Sion, and with hym an hundred fourtie and foure thousande, hauyng his fathers name written in their foreheades. The Epistle on the Innocentes day.

2 And I heard a voyce from heauen as the sounde of many waters, and as the voyce of a great thunder: and I heard the voyce of harpers, harpyng with their harpes:

3 And they sung as it were a newe song before the throne, & before the foure beastes, and the elders, and no man could learne that song, but the hundred and fourtie and foure thousande, whiche were redeemed from the earth.

4 These are they which were not defiled with women, for they are virgins: These are they whiche folowe the lambe whyther soeuer he goeth: These were redeemed from men, beyng the first fruites vnto God, and to the lambe.

5 And in their mouth was founde no guile: for they are without spot before the throne of God.

6 And I sawe another angel flee in the middest of heauen, hauing the euerlastyng Gospel, to preache vnto them that dwell on the earth, and to al nations, and kynredes, and tongues, and people,

7 Saying with a loude voyce, || Feare God, and geue glory to hym, for the houre of his iudgement is come: || and worshyp hym that made heauen and earth, and the sea, and fountaynes of waters. || Psal.146.6 || Acte.14.15.

8 And there folowed another angel, saying, ||Babylon is fallen, is fallen, that great citie, for she made al nations drynke of the wine of the wrath of her fornication. || Esai.21.8. Iere.51.8.

9 And the thirde angel folowed them, saying with a loude voyce, If any man worshyp the beast and his image, and receiue his marke in his forehead, or in his hande,

10 The same shal drinke of the wine of the wrath of God ‖ powred out, of the pure wine wyche is powred in the cup of his wrath, and he shalbe punished in fyre and brymstone before the holy angelles, and before the lambe, 11 And the smoke of theyr torment ascendeth vp euermore: And they haue no rest day nor nyght which worship the beast and his image, and who so euer receiueth the print of his name.

12 Here is the patience of the saintes: Here are they that keepe the commaundements of God, and the fayth of Iesus.

13 And I heard a voyce from heauen, saying vnto me, Wryte, blessed are the dead, which hereafter dye in the Lorde. Euen so saith the spirit, that they may rest from their labour, and their workes folowe them.

14 And I looked, and beholde a white cloud, and vpon the cloud one sitting like vnto the sonne of man, hauing on his head a golden crowne, and in his hande a sharpe sickle.

15 And another angel came out of the temple crying with a loud voyce to him that sate on the cloud: ‖ Thrust in thy sickle and reape, for the tyme is come to reape, for the ‖ haruest of the earth is ‖ rype.

‖ Ioel. 3.23

‖ Mat. 13.39

‖ or, dryed.

16 And he that sate on the cloude thrust in his sickle on the earth, and the earth was reaped.

17 And another angel came out of the temple which is in heauen, hauing also a sharpe sickle.

18 And another angel came out from the aulter, which had power ouer fyre, and cried with a loud crye to hym that had the sharpe sickle, saying, Thrust in thy sharpe sickle, and gether the clusters of the vineyarde of the earth, for her grapes are rype.

19 And the angel thrust in his sharpe sickle on the earth, & cut downe the vineyard of the earth, and cast it into the great winefat of the wrath of God.

20 And the winefat was troden without the citie, and blood came out of the fat euen vnto the horse bridles, by the space of a thousande and fyre hundred furlonges.

¶ The. xv. Chapter.

The song of them that ouercome the beast.

AND I sawe another signe in heauen great and marueylous, seuen angels hauyng the seuen last plagues, for in them is fulfylled the wrath of God.

2 And I sawe as it were a glassie sea, mingled with fyre, and them that had gotten the victory of the beast, and of his image, and of his marke, and of the number of his name, stand on the glassie sea, hauyng the harpes of GOD.

3 And they syng the song of Moses the seruaunt of God, and the song of the lambe, saying, Great and marueylous are thy workes, Lorde God almighty, ‖ iust and true are thy wayes, thou king of saintes.

‖ Psal. 141.6

4 ‖ Who shal not feare thee, O Lorde, and glorifie thy name? for thou only art holy: And all Gentiles shall come, and worship before thee, for thy iudgementes are made manifest.

‖ Ieae. 10.7

5 And after that I looked, and beholde, the temple of the tabernacle of the testimony was open in heauen:

6 And the seuen angels came out of the temple, hauyng the seuen plagues, clothed in pure and bright linnen, and hauing their brestes gyrded with golden gyrdles.

7 And one of the foure beasts gaue vnto the seuen angels seuen golden vials, full of the wrath of God which liueth for euermore.

8 And the temple was full of the smoke of the glory of God, and of his power, and no man was able to enter into the temple, till the seuen plagues of the seuen angels were fulfylled.

¶ The. xvi. Chapter.

1. The angels powre out their vialles full of vvrath. 6. and vvhat plagues folovve thereof. 15. Admonition to take heede and vvatch.

AND I heard a great voyce out of the temple, saying to the seuen angels, Goe your wayes, powre out the vials of the wrath of God vpon the earth.

2 And the fyrst angel went, and powred out his vial vpon the earth, and there fel a noysome and a sore botche vpon the men which had the marke of the beast, and vpon them which worshipped his image.

3 And the second angel shed out his vial vpon the sea, and it turned as it were into the blood of a dead man: and euery liuyng thing dyed in the sea.

4 And the thirde angel shed out his vial vpon the riuers and fountaines of waters, & they turned to blood.

5 And I heard the angel of the waters say, Lord, which art, and wast, thou art righteous and that holy one, because thou hast geuen such iudgementes:

6 For they haue shed out the blood of saints and prophetes, and therefore hast thou geuen geuen them blood to drynke: for they are worthy.

7 And I heard another out of the aulter say, Euen so Lorde God almightie, true and ryghteous are thy iudgementes.

8 And the fourth angel powred out his vial on the Sunne, and power was geuen vnto hym to vexe men with feruent heate of fyre.

9 And men boyled in great heate, and blasphemed the name of God, which hath power ouer these plagues, and they repented not, to geue hym glory.

10 And the fifth angel powred out his vial vpon the seate of the beast, and his kingdome waxed darke, and they gnewe theyr tongues for sorowe, 11 And blasphemed the God of heauen, for theyr sorowes, and for theyr sores, and repented not of theyr deedes.

12 And the sixth angel powred out his vial vpon the great riuer Euphrates, and the water thereof dryed vp, that the waye of the kinges of the East shoulde be prepared.

13 And I sawe three vncleane spirites lyke frogges, come out of the mouth of the dragon, and out of the mouth of the beast, and out of the mouth of the false prophete.

14 For they are the spirites of deuyls worcking myracles, to goe out vnto the kings of the earth, and of the whole worlde, to gather them to the batayle of that great day of God almightie.

15 ‖ Beholde, I come as a theefe. Happy is he that watcheth, and keepeth his garments, lest he walke naked, and men see his filthynesse. ‖Mat.24.44. Luke.12.39.

16 And he gathered them togeather into a place, called in the Hebrue tongue Armagedon.

17 And the seuenth angel powred out his vial into the ayre: and there came a great voyce out of the temple of heauen, from the throne, saying, It is doone.

18 And there folowed voyces, thunderynges, and lightninges: & there was a great earthquake, such as was not since men were vpon the earth, so mightie an earthquake, and so great.

19 And the great citie was diuided into three partes, and the cities of the nations fell: And great Babylon came in remembrance before God, ‖ to geue vnto her the cup of the wine of the fiercenesse of his wrath. ‖Ier.25.15.

20 Euery Ile also fled away, and the mountaynes were not founde.

21 And there fel a great hayle, as it had ben talentes, out of heauen, vpon the men, & the men blasphemed God, because of the plague of the hayle: for the plague thereof was exceedyng great.

¶ The.xvii. Chapter.

1. The description of the great whoore,
8. and her sinnes, and punishement.

AND there came one of the seuen angels, which had the seuen vials, and talked with me, saying vnto me, Come, I wyl shewe vnto thee the iudgement of the greate whoore, that sytteth vppon many waters:

2 With whom haue committed fornication the kinges of the earth, and the inhabiters of the earth are dronken with the wine of her fornication.

3 So he carryed me away in the spirite into the wyldernesse: And I sawe a woman sit vpon a scarlet coloured beast, ful of names of blasphemie, hauing seuen heades, and ten hornes.

4 And the woman was arayed in purple and scarlet colour, and decked with golde, precious stone, and pearles, hauing a cup of gold in her hand, ful of abominations and filthynesse of her fornication.

5 And in her forehead was a name written, a mysterie, great Babylon, the mother of whoordome & abominations of the earth.

6 And I sawe the woman dronken with the blood of the saintes, and with the blood of the martyrs of Iesus: And when I sawe her, I woondred with great marueyle.

7 And the angel sayde vnto me, Wherefore marueylest thou? I wyl shewe thee the mysterie of the woman, and of the beast that beareth her, which hath seuen heades, and ten hornes.

8 And the beast that thou sawest, was, and is not, and shal assende out of the bottemlesse pit, and goeth into perdition, and they that dwel on the earth shal woonder (whose names are not wrytten in the booke of lyfe from the begynnyng of the world) when they behold the beast that was, and is not, and yet is.

9 And here is a meaning that hath wisedome. The seuen heades, are seuen mountaynes, on which the woman sitteth: They are also seuen kynges.

10 Fiue are fallen, and one is, and the other is not yet come: And when he commeth, he must continue a short space.

11 And the beast that was, and is not, is euen the eyght, and is one of the seuen, and goeth into destruction.

12 And the tenne hornes which thou sawest, are tenne kynges, which haue receyued no kyngdome as yet: but receiue power as kynges at one hourc with the beast.

13 These haue one mynd, and shal geue their power and strength vnto the beast.

14 These shal fyght with the Lambe, and the Lambe shall ouercome them: || For he is the Lorde of Lordes, and kyng of kynges, and they that are on his syde, are called, and chosen, and faythfull.

15 And he sayth vnto me, The waters which thou sawest where the whore sytteth, are people, & folke, and nations, and tongues.

16 And the ten hornes which thou sawest vpon the beast, are they that shal hate the whore, and shall make her desolate, and naked, and shall eate her flesh, and burne her with fyre.

17 For God hath put in their hartes to fulfyl his wyll, and to doo with one consent, for to geue their kyngdome vnto the beast, vntyl the woordes of God shalbe fulfylled.

18 And the woman which thou sawest, is that great citie which raigneth ouer the kynges of the earth.

|| 1. Ti. 6. 15. Apoca. 9. 16.

¶ The. xviii. Chapter.

3. 9. The louers of the vvorlde are sory for the fal of the vvhore of Babylon. 20. But they that be of God, haue cause to reioyce for her destruction.

AND after that, I sawe another angel come from heauen, hauyng great power, and the earth was lyghtened with his glorie.

2 And he cryed myghtyly with a strong voyce, saying, || Great Babylon is fallen, is fallen, and is become the habitation of deuylles, and the holde of al foule spirites, and a cage of al vncleane and hateful byrdes:

|| Esai. 21. 19 Ierem. 51. 8.

3 For all nations haue dronken of the wyne of the wrath of her fornication, and the kynges of the earth haue committed fornication with her, and the marchantes of the earth are waxed rych of the abundance of her pleasures.

4 And I heard another voyce from heauen say, Come away from her my people, that ye be not partakers of her sinnes, & that ye receyue not of her plagues.

5 For her sinnes are gone vp to heauen, and God hath remembred her wyckednesse.

6 Rewarde her euen as she rewarded you, and geue her double accordyng to her woorkes, and powre in double to her in the same cup which she fylled vnto you.

7 And as much as she glorified her selfe, and lyued wantonly, so much powre ye in for her of punishment and sorowe: for she sayde in her hart, I syt being a queene, || and am no wyddowe, and shal see no sorowe.

|| Esai. 47. 8.

8 Therefore shall her plagues come in one day, death, and sorowe, and hunger, and she shalbe vtterly brent with fyre, for strong is the Lorde which iudgeth her.

9 And they shal bewaile her, & the kings of the earth shall lament for her, which haue committed fornication with her, and haue lyued wantonly with her, when they shall see the smoke of her burnyng:

10 Standyng a farre of for feare of her punyshment, saying, Alas, alas, that great citie Babylon, that myghtie citie, for at one houre is thy iudgement come.

11 And the marchantes of the earth doo weepe and waile ouer her, for no man byeth their ware any more.

12 The ware of golde, and syluer, and precious stones, and of pearle, and raynes, & purple, and sylke, and scarlet, and al Thyine wood, and al maner vessels of yuorie, and al maner vessels of most precious wood, and of brasse, and iron, and marble,

13 And Cinamome, and odours, and ointmentes, and franckensence, and wyne, and oyle, and fyne floure, and wheate, & beastes, and sheepe, and horses, and charets, and bodyes and soules of men,

14 And the apples that thy soule lusted after, are departed from thee, and al thynges which were dayntie and had in price, are departed from thee, and thou shalt fynde them no more at all.

15 The marchantes of these thynges which were waxed ryche, shall stand a farre of from her, for feare of the punyshment of her, weepyng and waylyng,

16 And saying, Alas, alas, that great citie, that was clothed in raynes, and purple, and scarlet, and decked with gold, and precious stones, and pearles:

17 For at one houre so great ryches is come to nought. And euery shyp gouernour, and all they that occupie shyppes, and shyp-men, and as many as woorke in the sea, stood a farre of,

18 And cryed when they saw the smoke of her burnyng, saying, What citie is lyke vnto this great citie?

19 And they cast dust on their heades, & cryed, weepyng, and waylyng, and saying, Alas, alas, that great citie, wherein were made ryche al that had shyppes in the sea, by reason of her costlynesse, for at one houre is she made desolate.

20 Reioyce ouer her thou heauen, and ye holy apostles and prophetes, for God hath geuen your iudgement on her.

21 And a myghtie angell tooke vp a stone lyke a great mylstone, and cast it into the sea, saying, With suche violence shal that great citie Babylon be cast, and shalbe founde no more at al.

22 And the voyce of harpers, and muſitions, and of pipers, and trumpetters, ſhalbe heard no more at al in thee: and no craftes men, of whatſoeuer craft he be, ſhalbe founde any more in thee: and the ſounde of a mylſtone ſhal be heard no more at al in thee:

23 And the lyght of a candle ſhal ſhyne no more at al in thee, & the voice of the bryde-grome and of the bryde, ſhalbe heard no more at al in thee: for thy marchantes were the great men of the earth, and with thine enchauntment were deceyued al nations.

24 And in her was founde the blood of the prophetes, and of the ſaintes, and of al that were ſlayne vpon the earth.

¶ The .xix. Chapter.

Prayſes are geuen vnto God for iudging the vvhoore.

AND after theſe thynges, I heard a great voyce of muche people in heauen, ſaying, a Alleluia: ſaluation, and glory, and honour, & power, be aſcribed to the Lorde our God:

a. That is, prayſe ye god, becauſe that Antechriſt and al wickednesſe is taken out of the world.

2 For true and ryghteous are his iudgementes, for he hath iudged the great whoore whiche dyd corrupt the earth with her fornication, and hath throughly auenged the blood of his ſeruantes of her hande.

3 And agayne they ſayde, Alleluia: and her ſmoke roſe vp for euermore.

4 And the foure and twentie elders, and the foure beaſtes fel downe, and worſhipped God that ſate on the throne, ſaying, Amen, Alleluia.

5 And a voyce came out of the throne, ſaying, Prayſe our Lorde God al ye that are his ſeruantes, and ye that feare hym both ſmal and great.

6 And I heard as it were the voyce of muche people, euen as the voyce of many waters, and as the voyce of ſtrong thunderinges, ſaying, Alleluia: for the Lorde God omnipotent raigneth.

7 Let vs be glad and reioyce, and geue honour to him: for the marriage of the lambe is come, and his wyfe hath made her ſelfe redy.

8 And to her was graunted that ſhe ſhoulde be arayed with pure & goodly raynes: for the raines is the righteouſneſſe of ſaintes.

||Math.22.2 9 And he ſayde vnto me, Wryte, || Happy are they whiche are called vnto the ſupper of the lambes marriage. And he ſayde vnto me, Theſe are the true ſayinges of God.

10 And I fel at his feete to worſhyp hym: And he ſayde vnto me, See thou doo it not: for I am thy felowe ſeruant, & of thy brethren that haue the teſtimonie of Ieſus. Worſhyp God: for the teſtimonie of Ieſus, is the ſpirite of prophesie.

11 And I ſawe heauen open, and behold a white horſe, and he that ſate vpon him was called faythful and true, & in righteouſneſſe he doth iudge and make batayle.

12 His eyes were as a flame of fire, and on his head were many crownes, and he had a name written, that no man knewe but he him ſelfe.

13 ||And he was clothed with a veſture dypt in blood: and his name is called the woorde of God. || Eſai.63.3

14 And the armies whiche were in heauen folowed hym vpon white horſes, clothed with whyte and pure raynes.

15 And out of his mouth goeth a ſharpe ſwoorde, that with it he ſhould ſmite the heathen: ||And he ſhal rule them with a rod of Iron: & he treadeth the wineſat of the fierceneſſe and wrath of almyghtie God. || Pſal.2.15.

16 And he hath on his veſture, & on his thigh a name written, ||King of Kinges, and Lord of Lordes. ||1.Tim.6.15. Apoc.17.14.

17 And I ſawe an angel ſtand in the Sunne, and he cryed with a loude voyce, ſaying to al the foules that flee by the myddes of heauen, Come and gather your ſelues together vnto the ſupper of the great God:

18 That ye may eate the fleſh of kinges, and the fleſhe of hygh captaynes, & the fleſhe of myghtie men, and the fleſhe of horſes, and of them that ſyt on them, and the fleſhe of al free men, and bond men, and of ſmal and great.

19 And I ſawe the beaſt, and the kinges of the earth, and their armies geathered togeather, to make batalle againſt him that ſate on the horſe, and againſt his armie.

20 And the beaſt was taken, and with hym that falſe prophete that wrought myracles before him, with which he deceiued them that receiued the beaſtes marke, and them that worſhipped his Image. Theſe both were caſt quicke into a ponde of fire, burnyng with brymſtone.

21 And the remnant were ſlayne with the ſwoord of hym that ſate vpon the horſe, whiche ſwoorde proceeded out of his mouth: and all the foules were fylled with theyr fleſhe.

¶ The .xx. Chapter.

2. Satan beyng bound for a certayne tyme, 7. and after let looſe, vexeth the Church greeuouſly.

AND I ſawe an Angel come downe from heauen, hauyng the keye of the bottome bottomleſſe pytte, and a great chayne in his hande.

2 And he tooke the Dragon, that old ſerpent, whiche is the deuyl and Satanas, and he bounde hym a thouſande yeeres,

3 And caſt hym into the bottomleſſe pyt, and he ſhut hym vp, and ſet a ſeale on hym, that he ſhoulde deceyue the nations no moze, tyl the thouſande yeeres ſhoulde be fulfilled: and after that he muſt be looſed for a little ſeaſon.

4 And I ſawe thzones, and they ſate vpon them, and iudgement was geuen vnto them: and I ſawe the ſoules of them that were beheaded foz the witneſſe of Jeſus, and foz the woozde of God, and whiche had not woozſhypped the beaſt, neyther his image, neither had taken his marke vpon theyz foze-heades, oz in theyz hands, and they lyued and raigned with Chriſte a thouſande yeeres.

5 But the other of the dead men dyd not liue agayne, vntyl the thouſande yeeres were finiſhed. This is the firſt reſurrection.

6 Bleſſed and holy is he that hath parte in the firſt reſurrection: foz on ſuch the ſecond death hath no power, but they ſhalbe the prieſtes of God, and of Chriſt, and ſhal raigne with hym a thouſand yeeres.

7 And when the thouſand yeeres are expyzed, Satan ſhalbe looſed out of his pyſon:

9 And they went vp in the playne of the earth, and compaſſed the tentes of the ſaints about, and the beloued citie: and fyze came downe from God out of heauen, and deuoured them:

10 And the deuyl that deceiued them, was caſt into a lake of fire & bzimſtone, where the beaſt and the falſe pzophete ſhalbe tozmented day and nyght foz euermoze.

11 And I ſaw a great white thzone, and hym that ſate on it, from whoſe face fledde away both the earth and the heauen, & theyz place was no moze founde.

13 And the ſea gaue vp her dead which were in her: and death and hell deliuered vp the dead which were in them: and they were iudged euery man accozdyng to his deedes.

14 And death and hel were caſt into the lake of fire: this is the ſeconde death.

15 And who ſo euer was not found written in the booke of lyfe, was caſt into the lake of fyze.

2 And I John ſawe the holy citie new Hieruſalem, come downe from God out of heauen, pzepared as a bzyde garniſhed foz her huſbande.

3 And I hearde a great voyce out of heauen, ſaying, Beholde, the tabernacle of God is with men, and he wil dwel with them, and they ſhalbe his people, and God hym ſelfe ſhalbe with them, and be their God.

4 || And God ſhall wipe away all teares from their eyes, & there ſhalbe no moze death, neyther ſozowe, neyther cryng, neither ſhal there be any moze payne: foz the former thinges are gone. || Eſa. 45. 19. Apoc. 7. 17.

7 He that ouercommeth, ſhal inherite al thinges, and I wil be his God, and he ſhalbe my ſonne.

8 But the feareful, and vnbeleeuing, and the abominable, and murderers, and whoze-mongers, and ſozcerers, and Idolaters, and al lyers, ſhal haue their parte in the lake which burneth with fire and bzimſtone: whiche is the ſeconde death.

9 And there came vnto me one of the ſeuen angels, which had the ſeuen bials ful of the ſeuen laſt plagues, and talked with me, ſaying, Come hyther, I wyll ſhewe thee the bzyde, the lambes wyfe.

10 And he carried me away in the ſpirite to a great and hygh mountaine, and he ſhewed me the greate citie holy Hieruſalem, deſcendyng out of heauen from God,

11 Hauing the glozye of God: and her ſhynyng was like vnto a ſtone moſt pzecious, euen like a Jaſper, cleare as Cryſtal:

12 And had a wal great & high, and had twelue gates, and at the gates twelue angels, angelles, and names wrytten, whiche are the names of the twelue tribes of Israel.
